No one about the capital had the slightest idea these two amendments had been adopted, the compilers' division of the secretary of state's office being of that opinion, while canvassing the vote and announcing there was only a remote possibility that any of the proposed changes in the constitution had been approved. Examination of the complete returns revealed that Wayne county had delivered a majority of 58,141 for the labor amendment and others of the larger counties where there is a big labor vote had given similar majorities.

RECEIVED SEVEN NEW APPLICATIONS

Charlevoix Grange Holds Successful Meeting

Charlevoix Grange No. 1526 met in the I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening, December 6, with an attendance of 29. Seven new applications and two demits were received.

The lecture hour was taken up with remarks by members, song by Walter Black of Marion Grange and music by Arthur Weststaff and Bernice Crandall.

The next meeting will be held Monday evening, December 20, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

PLEASE REMEMBER THIS

It does not seem to be generally understood that the Courier makes a charge for all church and society advertising where an admission is charged or articles sold, rummage and bake sales, fairs, suppers, etc., seven cents per line.

The printing of a modern newspaper is a business proposition and it must be run on business lines. Everything to which an admission is charged will be construed as a money-making proposition and copy furnished by the parties interested will be considered as advertising matter and to be paid for as such.

The publishers reserve the right to print such articles as they think warranted as news matter and to give a free reading notice with paid display advertising.

Resolutions, cards of thanks and obituary poetry will be charged for at the rate of seven cents per line, 25 cents minimum.

AUTO LICENSE BUREAU OPEN

No Change From Rules and Regulations of Last Year

County Clerk Richard Lewis opened the Charlevoix county branch of the automobile license bureau December 1 and is now issuing the 1921 automobile license plates. He makes the following explanation as to license fees:

There will be no change in rates for 1921. A fee of 25 cents per horsepower, 35 cents per hundred weight for gas and steam cars, and $1 per horsepower for electric cars is charged.

In addition to the debate the high formation required last year, the operator's license number must be given when applying for the 1921 auto license. In case a car owner does not drive his own machine, the license number of his chauffeur is required.

Applications for truck licenses should be secured before weighing the machine, as the new blanks have a weight bill printed on the application, which should be signed by the weigh-master. This action has been resorted to in an effort to do away with the necessity of bringing a separate weight bill.

The only change in the chauffeur's blanks is that the chauffeur's employer's name and address is required.

In paying for the licenses, personal checks must be certified and made payable to Richard Lewis.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS SEAL SALE NOW ON

Seals Can Be Obtained From Business Houses of Charlevoix.

Anti-tuberculosis seals are on sale in nearly every business place in the city at one cent apiece. The local Child's Welfare committee has the sale in charge.

The committee are making an effort to dispose of seals to the amount of $100.00, two-thirds of the proceeds of which will remain in this community for local relief work. An unlimited amount of good can be accomplished by the sale of these seals, and the more that are sold, the more funds the committee will have in hand to do local relief work. It has been thought a free clinic might be advisable, as many cases that have not been brought to notice would be revealed in this manner.

There is no limit to the amount of seals one can buy. Let your own impulse dictate the number you buy, but also keep in mind the great amount of relief the money thus expended will bring about.

Seal your letters and Christmas packages with the seal of health.

FRIENDS REMIND HER OF BIRTHDAY

Mrs. E. A. Stewart Surprised on Her Birthday Anniversary.

Twelve friends and neighbors surprised Mrs. E. A. Stewart at her home on Mason street, Tuesday afternoon, December 7, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Stewart was presented with beautiful flowers, some of which came from her grandson, Stewart Stevenson of Lansing.

A bounteous dinner was served and after spending a pleasant afternoon together, the friends returned to their homes, wishing Mrs. Stewart many happy returns of the day.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS FRIDAY

Regular December Meeting at Home of Mrs. L. S. See.

The Charlevoix Historical Society will meet Friday evening, December 10, with Mrs. L. S. See. The following is the program:

E. B. WARD HEADS ASS'N COMMERCE

ASSOCIATION COMBINES BUSINESS AND PLEASURE.

Greatly Enjoys O. E. S. Banquet and Elect Officers for the Ensuing Year.

The Charlevoix Association of Commerce met with a good attendance in the Masonic Temple last Friday night, for two reasons: First, to enjoy a bounteous and supremely well-cooked banquet served as only the ladies of the Eastern Star know how to do those things; second, to elect officers for the ensuing year, this being the annual meeting.

That the banquet and the manner of serving had its good effect on the men in attendance was proven by subsequent events, the men chosen to head the organization and the several excellent talks.

Newly elected officers were:
E. B. Ward, president.
Charles E. See, vice president.
Robert Bridges, secretary and treasurer.

Better men could not have been elected and the community they serve can be well assured that these are men of sterling worth who are always working to further the industrial and business assets of the city.

Marion Center Grange.

Regular meeting of Marion Center Grange on Friday evening of this week. Election of officers and other business to transact. Members are urged to be present.

Notice to Officers, Teachers and Parents.

Compulsory Education Law (Act 200, 1905) Section 5979.

Every child between the ages of seven and sixteen must be in school EACH DAY OF THE WEEK as long as school is maintained in the district.

The following do not have to attend the public schools:

(a) Any child who is being taught in a private or parochial school.
(b) Any child who has passed the eighth grade and is regularly employed at some lawful work if physically able to do so. (See (g) and (h)).

(c) Any child who is physically unable to attend school, a physician's certificate being required if the truant officer demands it.

(d) Children over 14 years of age whose services are essential to the support of the parents, may be excused by the county commissioner or city superintendent if such children have completed the sixth grade. See (g) and (h).

(e) Children under nine years of age who reside more than two and one-half miles from the schoolhouse by the nearest traveled road;

(f) Any child claiming exemption from attending school under subdivisions (a) or (b) hereof, shall secure such permit as may be required under the statutes of Michigan covering the employment of minors, and shall be regularly employed at some lawful work if physically able to do so.

(h) The commissioner cannot excuse a child under (d) unless the board recommends it, and MAY NOT when the BOARD DOES NOT RECOMMEND. The superintendent of a graded district has no authority to excuse unless it is a city district.

The teacher must report absences to the county commissioner, who reports the cases to the truant officer. The latter SHALL, within 24 hours, give formal notice either BY PERSON or by REGISTERED MAIL to the parent or other person in parental relation that the child must be in school the following day provided with the necessary textbooks and be kept in school CONTINUOUSLY thereafter. The truant officer also notifies the teacher and it is his duty to see that the formal notice is complied with. If the notice is not complied with, the truant officer within three days after having that knowledge, MUST MAKE A COMPLAINT AGAINST THE PARENT OR PERSON IN PARENTAL CONTROL.

Upon conviction the guilty person is fined from $5.00 to $50.00, imprisoned from two to ninety days, or both, but the justice of peace or judge cannot suspend sentence. A DAY OF UNEXCUSED ABSENCE ANY TIME DURING THE YEAR CONSTITUTES A VIOLATION OF THIS NOTICE.

Children whose hearing or eyesight is defective come under the compulsory law, and if they cannot do school work at home, they must be sent to the state or private schools.

A truant officer has the powers of a DEPUTY SHERIFF in the exercise of his duties.

Failure of the teacher to make reports of absences is neglect of duty and would be grounds for the ANNUALMENT of his or her certificate.

The new law regarding children from 16 to 18 is effective only in cities of 5,000 or more. The law will be strictly enforced. Keep the children in school and save expense and trouble.

William Harrington, Truant Officer.—Adv. 491f.

CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

FIFTY-ONE CASES BOOKED ON CALENDAR.

Criminal Docket Largest on Record—Technical Error Causes Jury Discharge

The December term of the circuit court opened on Monday, December 5, with Judge F. W. Mayne presiding. The calendar contains 51 cases, 32 of which are criminal, the largest number of cases of that nature ever recorded in Charlevoix county.

Only two jury cases have been tried, the first being dismissed because of insufficient evidence, and the second, that of the People vs. Don Davis, for violation of the liquor law. Davis was convicted and sentenced to Ionia for not less than six months and not more than one year. There will be no more jury cases this term the jury being discharged through a technical error in drawing them.

Elver Sweet, who was tried for larceny and convicted some time ago, and put on probation, was sentenced to serve not less than six months and not more than five years at Ionia for not living up to the probation orders. His sentence carried a recommendation of the minimum penalty.

The calendar as compiled by the county clerk is as follows:

Criminal.

The People vs. William Boyle, violation of liquor law.

Coris Dexter vs. Charles O. Dexter, divorce.

D. C. LOVEDAY PASSES AWAY

Remains will be Brought to East Jordan for Burial

D. C. Loveday of East Jordan passed away at his winter home in Petersburg, Florida, Wednesday noon, December 1. His daughter, Miss Lnuisa, was spending the winter with him.

Mr. Loveday, who had passed the four-score milestone of years, had been failing in health since contracting influenza a year ago. He left East Jordan about a month ago for Florida and seemed to stand the journey quite well, but commenced to fail soon after his arrival there.

A letter from East Jordan to his son, W. A. Loveday of Lansing, states that the remains will be brought to East Jordan for burial. The funeral services will be held from the father's late home in that city probably the fore part of the coming week.

D. C. Loveday was affiliated with East Jordan's business interests for years. He was always an active worker in things pertaining to our city's welfare and his many friends here join with the son and daughter in mourning his departure.

Y. M. C. A. RELIEF FUNDS AVAILABLE

Eight Hundred Dollars in Hands of Local Committee.

Charlevoix's quota for distribution from the Y. M. C. A. to ex-soldiers and sailors, for educational purposes, is about $800.00.

This is money given by the people of this country to the Y. M. C. A. and unused during the war period. It will now be used to help educate the soldiers and sailors of the world war.

The distribution of the funds will be in the hands of a local committee composed of F. D. Wilkinson, Albert Staley, Ira Adams, May Stewart, Supt. Medcalf of Boyne City, H. A. Craig and others whose names have not yet been made public.

Applications for a part of this money by any ex-soldier or sailor, may be had by filling out the application blanks and making it plain to the committee that the expenditure would be a wise distribution of the funds. The committee has full power to distribute the money as the conditions arise.

Watch the papers for further announcement or call any member of the committee for information.

FELL AND BROKE BONE IN RIGHT ARM

Miss Isabel Mitchell Victim of Peculiar Accident

Miss Isabel Mitchell, bookkeeper at the office of the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., was a victim of a peculiar accident last Thursday morning.

She was on her way to work and had reached the corner of Mason and Bridge streets, when in some manner she slipped and fell, striking on her right arm in such a manner as to break the larger bone about an inch above the wrist.

On account of the absence of Charlevoix doctors, who were in attendance at a convention at Cadillac, she was obliged to go to the Petoskey hospital, where the fracture was reduced.

Miss Mitchell was right on the job later in the day and has not missed a day since, despite the painful injury to her arm.

We are contracting for 16 inch hard wood at $3.75. Need about 500 cords more. Argo Milling Co.—Adv. 491f.

DISTRIBUTE PLAY- GROUND MATERIAL

SCHOOL CHILDREN DESERVING OF GIFTS MADE

Points Chosen Nearest to School Locations—Request Filed for Larger Assortment

Through the courtesy of the Charlevoix Hardware Company in Charlevoix, Watson's Drug Store in Boyne City, and Meyer's General Store in Boyne Falls, it has been made possible for teachers to get the playground material without the delay which might have been necessary if it had awaited teachers' meetings or meetings of that kind.

For every school in the county, there is at least one good playground ball and one good bat. For the 16 schools having the highest enrollment in the county, there is either a basket ball or a volley ball. A request has been placed on file with the state athletic board for more basket balls or volley balls so that the small schools may also have the opportunity of the greater variety of ball games, and the request will probably be granted, even though there may be some delay. For the 11 schools next highest in enrollment an additional playground ball is being given, so that the boys and girls may each have a ball.

Circulars have been sent to the teachers telling them to which place they may call or send someone for their equipment. Teachers nearer to Charlevoix of course get theirs at the Charlevoix Hardware Company, those nearer to Boyne City at Watson's Drug Store, and those nearer to Boyne Falls at Meyer's general store, while those nearer to East Jordan get theirs at the school commissioner's office.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

Service Men Urged to Make Applications for Victory Medals

I am advised that a considerable number of the men entitled to Victory Medals have not made application for them, and I have been requested to urge all county, city and township authorities of the State, to do everything in their power to bring this matter to the attention of the men concerned.

Applications for Western Michigan should be sent to the Army Recruiting Officer at 211 Monroe Avenue, Grand Rapids, and those from Eastern Michigan should go to the corresponding officer at 215 Woodward Avenue, Detroit.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby request the officials above named to do what they can to stimulate the placing of applications for Victory Medals.

Albert E. Sleeper,
Governor

To the Taxpayers of the City of Charlevoix.

Notice is hereby given that the December tax roll of the City of Charlevoix has been delivered to me and that the taxes therein levied are payable at my office at any time on or before the 9th day of January, 1921, without charge for collection.

On all taxes remaining unpaid after the 9th day of January, a collection fee of 4 per cent will be charged and collected. John Cook, City Treasurer.—Adv. 491 f 2.

MISSING HUNTER IS LOCATED.

Archie Barle, Flint, is reported among men who hunted big game on upper Michigan this season to have found the tree of a watch hanging to a cove in the woods on the Tiquamenon river, the watch case containing a note written November 17, 1903, by Art Kaler, who became lost in the swamp along that river while hunting. The note reads: "I have been lost three days. I have shot three deer and placed the same kind of a note in each deer." Barle was attracted to the watch by the reflection like that of a mirror dazzling his eyes. The back of the watch was covered with rust and moss but the note was unimpaired. Many old-time upper peninsula hunters recall the disappearance of Kaler.

Saving the Tin.

After trying many other processes of recovering tin from old cans there is now, according to La Nature (Paris), a return to the old-fashioned method of boiling the scraps (well cleaned) in a solution containing an excess of free alkali and saltpeter. The tin is recovered as crystals of stannate of soda and the alkali and saltpeter can be used over and over again.

In Harmony

By ALDEN CHAPMAN

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

"A well intentioned, but helpless human being," commented Mrs. Dora Martin, a widow with two little children, and known generally as the most hosting and good-natured woman in town.

She had made a good wife; equally, a considerate and sensible mother. She had been a widow for five years. She had brought up her two children in a way that was acceptable to the cross-section of old folks in Glenville. Their little home was inviting outside, and neat and attractive within. However, more than once she had made the remark:

"It is pretty homesome without a man about the house," but there was nothing of the husband hunter about her. "For the sake of the children I may marry again," she had reflected, "but the right man has not come along yet."

One day, however, he seemed to appear. A stranger passing along the walk halted hesitatingly. He was seemingly about thirty-five years of age, well dressed.

"I am a neighbor, or likely to be," he observed, "second house beyond your place."

"Oh, I think I have heard of you!" replied Mrs. Martin in her open, spontaneous way. "You are Mr. Liscombe, are you not?"

"Why, yes," he assented, apparently pleased to hear his name thus familiarly spoken. "You see, the house and lot on the corner was part of some property bequeathed in bulk to relatives. In the division I selected it as my portion."

"Yes, I have heard that you intended to settle down here."

"I have about made up my mind to do that soon," said Victor Liscombe. "The longing for a home of my own has influenced me. I am a lawyer in the city, twenty miles away, a lonely, unmarried man, and the daily ride

There are Other Charlevoix People Similarly Situated

Can there be any stronger proof offered than the evidence of Charlevoix residents? After you have read the following, quietly answer the question.

Hubert Ackert, mason, 107 W. Garfield Ave., Charlevoix, says: "There was a constant ache in the small of my back and nights I couldn't get any sleep. My kidneys were very sluggish. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Metcalf's Drug Store and they fixed me up in fine shape and cured me."

grind of the day."

"Then your wife—I beg pardon, your mother or other relatives would keep your house for you—" began Mrs. Martin.

"I have not a living relation in the world that I know of," remarked Liscombe, "but there is an old lady, a former housekeeper of our family, a Mrs. Doane, who might be glad to come and take care of the house on the guarantee of a pension, and I have written to her. The people next door, the Eastons, have welcomed me in a friendly way, and have told me about you and your dear little ones. I am very fond of children, and I find myself so fortunate in the way of neighbors that I believe I shall be very comfortable and contented. But I am taking up your time. The Eastons are away, and I wanted to see if I could borrow a step ladder until I can order one."

Mrs. Martin led the way to a shed with a cheerful, accommodating "help yourself." If Liscombe had been attracted by her charming manner, his favorable opinion was enhanced as he stood within the structure. It held a full complement of garden tools, each one in its own place, clean and bright. Order and neatness were certainly characteristic of this most excellent neighbor. He selected one of the three step ladders, carried it away and returned about an hour later.

"I have got to trouble you again," he said. "You see, I am getting the house in order to furnish up, but I am dusting the wall paper and don't seem to make it work with a whisk broom."

"Oh, no, that scratches and annoys," explained Mrs. Martin. "I'll just come over and start you in right," and she selected a broom, over which she tied a soft towel, and a long handled duster, and devoted half an hour to teaching him.

It was two hours later when she looked over into the Easton yard that she made those forceful remarks as to the stupidity and impracticability of mankind in general. Before going away the Eastons had put out an early morning washing on the line. Liscombe had burned out the chimney of his new home. Clouds of soot had descended. The clothes were a streaked, soiled mass of grime. Mrs. Martin almost wept. She set her lips grimly, removed the line, washed over the soot clouded clothes and reset them.

"The Eastons would never speak to him again if they came home and discovered his neighborly act," soliloquized Mrs. Martin, "but I'll be patient with him and try and steer him clear of the pitfalls of inane house-keeping."

By the end of the week she had won the permanent good will of her misguided neighbor by her counsel and cooperation. It was then that Liscombe learned of the clothes washing incident.

"You noble woman! Shielding me from unutterable naughtiness," he spoke.

Bound to Make Good on Your Car

FIVE navies use Gould Storage Batteries for the same enduring qualities of Dreadnaught Plates that give power and long life to the Gould Starting Battery.

Hard plates, that hold the active material firmly, outlast soft plates, but only in the Dreadnaught Plates is this rugged hardness combined with high power delivery.

This durability is the result of direct control of all the factors of manufacturing—even to the production of the vitally important lead-oxide. Such care is found only in the Gould plant.

"But I'm never to get settled, I think. Mrs. Doane cannot come to be my housekeeper."

"And you are looking for another one?" inquired Mrs. Martin demurely.

"I've got her picked out," answered Liscombe, with audacity, "but I want her as a wife as well, and I'm afraid to ask her."

"Some city lady, I suppose?" remarked the country lady archly.

"Oh, no!" spoke Liscombe, softly, approaching nearer. "Mrs. Martin, would you change your name to 'Liscombe' if I asked you. I so love the children—and their mother, too!" he added in a great burst of honest sincerity, and she did not withdraw her hand from his loving clasp.

Stippling by Clock Work.

The stippling effect which many artists make use of in the working up of their pictures, especially those intended for reproduction, has been heretofore secured by laboriously going over the picture by hand, but the operation has been greatly simplified recently by the English invention of a stippling pen which is operated by a clock work motor. The work is done evenly and quickly.

RELIEVE THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER

In a period of six months Great Britain reduced her external debt in the neighborhood of $260,000,000. Her rapid recovery in economic standing should encourage the American people to believe that soon she will be able to make payments on interest due on her obligations, and thus relieve the American taxpayer to a corresponding degree. We must pay interest on the bonds we issued to raise money to loan to Great Britain. If Great Britain will pay interest on her debts to us, we can merely pass the money along to our own creditors.

SETTLED BY THE PEOPLE

"What will the Senate do with the League", is the question some ill-informed people are asking. It is not up to the Senate. The people decided that question when they decided by an unprecedented majority the man who said he favored going into the league. So far as the United States is concerned, the League question is settled. The Republicans stand pledged to promote peace and disarmament, but they are instructed by the people to keep the United States out of the League of Nations.

THE RIGHT TO WORK

In a free country there can be no monopoly of the right to work. Nor, in a stable government, can there be any failure of the government in the performance of its duty to protect its citizens in the exercise of their right to pursue legitimate occupations for the support of themselves and their families. The autocrat must go, whether in office or out—whether leader of a political organization or of a labor organization.

BUT THEY DON'T THROW

The radical labor union leaders declare that they are menaced by the reds who are "boring from within". Well, then, why don't they throw the rascals out?

"GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS."
"More business in government and less government in business." That is the policy epigrammatically forecast by the president-elect. It is a policy conspicuously demanded by the logic and the lessons of current developments; lessons which may well be pondered by those who glibly and thoughtlessly propose still further governmental incursions into the domain of industry and commerce. Is there a housing problem? "Let the government taken hold of it, and provide houses for all," is the cocksure advice of some. Is there a scarcity of coal? "Nationalize the coal mines!" is the cry. Apparently some men not only cannot remember what has happened in the last two or three years, but also cannot discern the signs of the times at the present moment.

There was a scarcity of shipping, as there is now of houses and coal, and the government went into the business. The result, as we point out elsewhere, is heart-sickening. Let us quote the New York Times, of all authorities one of the most favorable to the administration:

Doubtless there was much minor grafting. Scamp work was often foisted off on the government and exorbitant prices charged it. But the main thing that causes depression and chagrin is the evidence of floundering incompetence. The government seemed unable to build the necessary business structure for the great work it took in hand. The system was more vicious than any of the men connected with it. Direction was feeble and vacillating. Inspection was limping. Checking and auditing were almost unknown. Coordination of labor was sadly lacking. These faults, added to misfortunes some of which were perhaps unavoidable, will compel the writing-off of vast losses in this whole governmental undertaking.

That is a picture of government in business; drawn as favorably as possible. We have already commented upon some of the further details that have been disclosed. The mind sickens at them. They are "government in business." That, praises be! is what Senator Harding purposes that we shall have less of; as much less as possible.

"Look here, upon this picture, and on this." Here is an account, from the news of the day, of what "less government in business" means; to wit, what business does when it is rid of government intrusion and meddling.

The railroads of the country have saved $2,500,000,000 since their return to private ownership through increased efficiency in loading cars. That amount would have had to be spent for new equipment if shippers and the roads, by adding a few tons to each carload, had not increased the effectiveness of present equipment to the equivalent of 500,000 new cars. Greater despatch in the moving of cars has resulted in a further increase in efficiency equal to 400,000 more cars.

That is "less government in business," and that is the sort of thing that the president-elect purposes to promote.

The two pictures are to be commended in the careful inspection and study of all who are tempted to seek in government ownership or operation relief from some unsatisfactory business conditions. Granted that we are in urgent need of ampler housing, and of ampler supplies of coal at lower prices. Should we be likely to secure them through such processes as those of the Federal Shipping Board? We are not so case-hardened in partisanship as to imagine that all that "floundering incompetence" occurred solely because of the Democratic administration. Doubtless the administration could and should have done far better than it did; or far less badly. But the real evil lies deeper than in mere party control. It is intrinsic, basic; in the very system itself. There is no sounder principle, for the integrity of the government and for the prosperity of business—which means the prosperity of the people—than that of the president-elect: "Less Government in Business."

It is said that Secretary Daniels will recommend the construction of the largest navy in the world on the ground that the failure of the United States to enter the league of nations makes this necessary. Isn't it about time for the ancient mariner of Raleigh to cease pulling that rather redolent campaign stuff?

The intelligence displayed by Samuel Gompers in trying to make it appear during the last presidential campaign that a vote for Harding was a vote to repudiate organized labor is now quite apparent.

Speaking of the self-determination of peoples, the determination of France and England to select a Greek king without reference to the wishes of the Greeks is worthy of honorable mention.

A Stockholm cablegram says that President Wilson is to be given the Nobel peace prize for 1920. He ought to have had that in 1916, the year he kept us out of war.

Why worry about Democratic leadership? The Democratic party already is longer on leaders than it is on followers.

CULL POOR LAYERS IN FALL

All Hens and Pullets Which Are Slow to Mature Should Be Fattened and Marketed.

In culling out the poor layers in the fall and breeding only from good laying hens during the hatching season you have the surest and quickest way of increasing your egg production. Cull the poultry flock this fall. All hens and pullets which are slow to mature should be culled and sent to market. Keep only early maturing pullets, late molters, heavy eaters and cull and sell all birds that have been sick, hurt or that are weak in vigor and vitality.

PAY ATTENTION TO ORCHARDS

In Numerous Instances Soils Have Lost Humus as Result of Rains or Bare Cultivation.

While people today perhaps give more attention to their orchards than they did years ago, yet many do not give enough attention. As the country has been settled, land brought into cultivation and old farms worn, the fertility has fallen in many instances.

In the first place many of the orchard soils have lost humus, others have fallen in plant food as a result of heavy crops, washing rains or bare cultivation.

The Maceabee ladies will hold a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, December 3rd and 4th, in the Washburn building.—Adv. 4712.

Fossils.

Though historical geology and the study of ancient life depend chiefly on fossils, the term has been very vaguely and loosely applied. As a precise definition, a writer in Science proposes: "A fossil is an object which indicates former existence of an organism which has been buried and preserved by geological causes, previous to historic time." The mastodon preserved in the asphalt is a fossil, a leaf buried in the gutter is not; and a truly petrified organism may not be a fossil.

The Backward Bird.

The hummingbird performs a number of its duty duties in a backward or upside down manner. When the hummingbird flies, it rests its head in the mud on the bottom of a shallow stream, and while it strikes the insects out of the water it takes both a backward and an upside-down view of the world about it.

By Another Name.
Under the name of "Sail on all," pretorium was burned to ground in Rome in the days of Pliny.

INGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Charges for Seed Handling

The following prices for handling, cleaning and selling medium, mammoth, and alsike clover seed shipped to the seed department are as near cost as can be estimated. Any surplus at the end of the year will be prorated back to those consigning seed.

1. Unloading, storage; 15c per bag first month or fraction thereof. Insurance, weighing; 8c per bag for each additional month or fraction thereof.

2. Cleaning; 35c per bushel first run and 20c for each run thereafter.

3. Removing buckhorn $1 per bushel. Uncleaned seed containing buckhorn will require one run at 35c which adding the $1 charge totals $1.35.

4. Necessary cartage at cost; 75c per trip for 1,000 lbs. or less, 10c per cwt. on over than 1,000 lb. lots.

5. Switching charge on carlots at cost.

6. Selling charge at 75c per bushel.

7. For handling seed cleaned before shipment to Farm Bureau: Charges same as above wherever same treatment is required. However, for seed cleaned locally containing buckhorn the total cleaning charges will be covered by the $1 per bushel for removing the buckhorn. Seed cleaned locally containing no buckhorn, we find usually requires one or two runs to put it in the best market condition. Charge same as No. 2 above.

As a rule the total expense of handling the seed will be less if the seed is consigned to us just as it comes from the threshing machine for we usually have to clean it once or twice anyway to put it in a finished condition. Moreover often-times a single lot of uncleaned seed comes in that shows two different grades. In this case the lot is divided into these grades before cleaning. Thus the lower grade is not permitted to bring down the value of the better seed as often happens when cleaned locally.

Let's suppose you consign 20 bushel uncleaned seed of quality that will make prime to be sold within one month of receipt. Today's Toledo market (Nov. 24, 1920) for prime medium clover seed is $11.65. The handling charges on it would be:

Item No. 1 (see above).

For 1 month, per bu. . . . $.06

Item No. 2 (see above).

Two runs, per bushel.55

Item No. 4 (see above).

Per bushel.036

Item No. 7 (see above).

Dividing grades.75

Total. $1.496

or, for seed practically free of buckhorn and of a quality that would make prime, the total costs of handling and sale after arrival at Lansing would be about $1.50 per bushel. $11.65 minus $1.50 equals $10.15, your net price.

Watch Toledo market quotations, you will see that this is much less of a spread than you have been accustomed to, even deducting 50c per bushel local handling charge and 15c per bushel freight. Prime seed has been quoted at $13.25 or better until the last few days.

If seed contains much buckhorn there would be an additional charge of $1 per bushel less 20c (as the 2nd run would be eliminated), totaling a charge of $2.30 per bushel for this type of seed. The value of your seed containing buckhorn would be increased more than the cost of removal.

Seed Department

Buckhorn removing machinery of most modern and efficient type is being installed for operation in about 30 days. The present machine removes most of the buckhorn but the new equipment will remove 99 per cent or more present in any sample.

F. C. Mock, who has had 14 years experience in the seed business with well known firms comes to this department taking the place of R. V. Tanner, now assistant secretary. Mr. Mock is an experienced judge of seed, both in the rough and after cleaning and is an expert on handling cleaning machinery. He will be a great asset to the department in handling the vast volume of clover seed now being shipped.

Two cars of Grimm alfalfa are rolling to Michigan. Germination tests are being run and unless there is a smaller percentage of hard seed than usual this Grimm will be taken into the warehouse where it will be scrubbed and recleaned. Shipment will then be made immediately with sight draft attached to bill of lading. We don't know when the seed will get here from Idaho but purchasers should be in a position to accept shipments after December 15 although not all will be shipped at that time.

Clover Seed

Maximum service can be rendered to those who consign seed for sale giving a month or more for its disposal, although so many orders are now coming in that we can make quick sales for those who desire it. If you want to benefit by the present low prices of Timothy, place orders now for February delivery.

Fertilizer

It is advisable to start assembling orders now. Full details of the fertilizer proposition will be printed in a special bulletin early in the future. In the meantime, it is advisable to start assembling orders. We must make this purchase not later than December 15. Goods must be cured three months before shipping.

Wool Pool

Situation still very quiet. Demand for yard goods from retail dealers very light. Public waiting for decline in prices. It is predicted that retailers are holding up prices until after holiday shopping. It is expected after the first of the year demand will be better which should stimulate activity of wool trade. A few cars of low grade were sold to make room in warehouses. Farmers are still requesting to hold and their ideas will be fully considered. Total amount assembled to date is 3,607,502 total amount graded is 1,545,312.

Purchasing Department

Signed orders from your office must accompany your instructions to us. If you want order blanks advise us. We want to give you service. We all lose if you don't ask for information and service. Let us all boost and make the Michigan state and county farm bureaus the most successful organizations of their kind in existence.

ARSENIC—Just a reminder. Signed orders must be in our office for White Arsenic not later than Dec. 10.

BRAN—Market just a little easier. Sandstone Brack $37 to $38 del. Sandstone Midds $37 to $38 del. Cotton Seed Meal Prime, 43 per cent protein, $45 to $46 del. Pure Old Process Oil Meal, 33 per cent protein, $50 to $50.50 f. o. b. Toledo.

SALT—Can furnish in straight or mixed cars, medium or fine in barrels, or same grade in 100 lb. sacks, wholesale prices. Can quote promptly for December shipment. Wire for market.

CLAY DRAIN TILE—We deal with one of the best manufacturers in Michigan. The quality is what you have been looking for. A bright red color, practically free from limestone. Samples at our office for inspection. All f. o. b. Michigan factory.

4 inch $28.25 per M.
5 inch $38.25 per M.
6 inch $51.00 per M.
8 inch $82.95 per M.
10 inch $133.50 per M.
12 inch $153.50 per M.
Assemble orders for Dec., Jan. or Feb. shipment.

FLLOUR—Market continues weak and lower prices; fluctuating rapidly. Please for quotations. Some predict market at bottom. Reports say farmers have practically stopped selling wheat. Flour quotations today below cost of production.

COAL—Market continues weak. Weather conditions will govern conditions from now on. We offer limited tonnage of W. V. and Ky. Domestic Lump, quality you want, burns to white ashes and will stack in bins.
Illinois 6 in. lump $6.50 f. o. b. mines.

It takes from two to four weeks after orders are placed before coal will arrive for the transportation is slow. Cold weather would retard the movement somewhat. We advise anticipation of requirements. Hope to have something definite on hand coal next week.

Elevator Exchange

Business has been quiet this week on account of declining markets and Thanksgiving.

New Haven Farm Bureau Local sent in its signed contract, totaling $3 on hand. Other associations are reorganizing on a co-operative basis, changing by-laws, etc., preparing to join.

Arthur Bailey, manager of the Farm Bureau of Chippewa county, appeared before the last meeting of the Board of Control and stated that they would guarantee at least 1,000 cars of hay to the farm bureau. The Thumb district also has a large volume. J. S. Bateman, of Baltimore, is now in charge of the new hay department. He has had 8 years experience in the hay business and comes highly recommended.

The Light Cure

You can catch more bugs in light than in darkness. Somewhere in the dark between farmer and consumer somebody is adding a whacking big un-earned increase to food and clothing prices. Honest retailers and wholesalers are powerless to prevent it. But—if the searchlight could be turned on these little-understood, in-between transactions, factors like wasted labor, unequal distribution and reckless speculation would stand out in bold relief. To cure these evils, the light method is advocated by your

COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By farm cost accounting, Farm Bureaus will ascertain actual production costs, as a means of selling at prices fairer to both producer and consumer.

By knowledge of world markets, Farm Bureaus will avoid overproduction of one crop and underproduction of another, with resulting market glut and scarcity.

By fostering cooperative marketing, Farm Bureaus will eliminate speculators and other parasites of the present distribution system.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN believes in these searchlight methods and advises its local readers to join your County Farm Bureau and wholeheartedly support it and the great American Farm Bureau Federation with which it is affiliated.

VOTE ON PARO-CHIAL AMENDMENT
Out of 964,516 Votes, 353,819 were for the Amendment

The Courier has been asked several times to publish the result of the election results on the parochial school amendment. The statement has been widely made that the vote for it was in the ratio of 4 to 6 against, or 40 per cent. We have not published these statements because we knew that no one knew the result exactly or could know it until the state canvassing board had completed the count. This has now been done and it shows that out of 964, 516 votes, 353,819 were for the amendment. This is 36 2-3 per cent.

Elected Their Officers.

The regular meeting of the Ladies
Auxiliary of the Marion Center Grange was held Thursday last at the home of Mrs. Emmet Coulter. It was an all-day meeting and seventeen members were in attendance. At the election of officers, the following persons were chosen: President, Mrs.
Frank Smith; vice president, Mrs.
Wm. Withers; secretary, Mrs. James Meggison; treasurer, Mrs. Emmet Coulter. The January meeting, an all-day session, will be held with Mrs.
Peter Block, with the usual pot luck dinner.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

The greatest peculiarity of this year's hunting season is the great number of women who have gone into the woods with their husbands. Thus, even, if the men fail to bag any deer, they need not starve, since an experienced wife can nearly always bring down a can of baked beans at a single shot.

A large tract of forest land in Emmet county comprising about 8,000 acres will become a state forest reservation known as the Lake Michigan forest reserve if the plans of the state public domain commission are carried out. The commission will ask the state during the coming year to set apart the tract as a reservation. The land is covered with second growth timber, much of it being of the best quality. Some of the best timber is to be cut during the present winter according to reports reaching the domain office at Lansing. If the Emmet county tract is set aside as a state preserve Michigan will have nine such tracts owned by the state.

Flour having dropped 40 per cent last January, bakers in different Michigan cities are now beginning to announce a cut of two cents a loaf in the price of bread. The poor mill service, of course, prevented them from getting the news of the drop earlier. And the same thing accounts for the fact that they received only about 25 per cent of the news at one time.

Perry Gish of Petoskey has been lodged in the Emmet county jail charged with conspiring to aid in the escape of Robert Johnson, colored, and George Near, the former of whom recently was captured at Goshen, Ind.

The escape of Johnson and Near was sensational, they having in some manner procured a saw with which they sawed off a bar in a south window near their cells. They used putty to muffle the sounds made by the saw and squeezed through an aperture so small that at first sight it seems almost unbelievable that a full sized man could pass his body through. The men must have fallen to the ground head first.

Governor-elect Groesbeck worked in a mill from the age of 13 to 17, just when he was starting out in life so that they say his career to date, has led from the saw mill to the law mill.

"If every one would drink three glasses of milk a day," argues the Hart Courier-Tribune, "how it would increase the market for milk, which would again create greater herds, which would increase fertility of the farms, and the country would become richer and healthier thereby. Do it." In fact, according to this kind of economics, all we need do in order to have more stuff to use, is simply use more stuff. So, let us all try to do our bit, even if it does mean a good deal of hardship and sacrifice.

A Muskegon woman has left the half of her $75,000 estate to her maid. If the maid has been employed during the last few years, we presume she already had the other half.

An interesting collection of high-class leather manufactured by a Manistee tanning company is on display in a show window in that city. Let's see—leather—leather—what do they use that for?

An evangelist at Manistee discussed before a large audience of young people the question, "How to Get a Wife." Recently, of course, the only sensible way to get one has been with a house and lot attached.

AT THE MOVIES

"Stop Thief!" the Goldwyn picture which comes to the Palace theatre Wednesday, Dec. 15 is said to be one of the best comedy vehicles ever interpreted by Tom Moore. As a legitimate stage offering, "Stop Thief!" made record runs and delighted audiences wherever it was presented. As a picture it has doubled its interest, and is a progression of ridiculous incidents from start to finish.

More funny things happen in the 48 hours within which the play is supposed to take place than would be thought humanly possible. Tom Moore and Hazel Daly as the thieves disguised as maid and detective, enter the orderly house of the Carrs, where a wedding is pending, and turn it into a chaos of confusion during which valuables disappear and reappear in the most unexplainable manner.

While it is true in these days of super-star pictures, that "the star" the thing, nevertheless the average motion picture lover, keenly alert as to the quality of the production as a whole, keeps a watchful eye open for the actors who are seen in support of their favorite. Any attempt on the part of the producer to reduce the cost of the picture by giving the star an inferior supporting cast is met by a vigorous protest.

In Constance Binney's second Reelart picture, "The Stolen Kiss," which is to head an attractive program at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday Dec. 11 and 12 no efforts have been spared to invest the production with a group of players worthy of interpreting the adaptation of Lucille VanSlyke's whimsical story, "Little Miss By-the-Day." The character of the story, which in book form is running into several editions as one of the popular novels of the year just past, required for its proper transfer to the screen an assembly of expert character delineators, and in full recognition of this fact the Reelart concern has chosen Rodney LaRoue, Frank Losee, George Backus, Robert Schable, James Everett, Edna Davies, and others similarly well known to support Miss Binney.

White Elephant.
Isn't it a pity that a man never can dispose of his motor experience for as much as it cost him?

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the performance of the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Albert J. Shockley and Ellen A. Shockley to B. P. Wilkinson, of Charlevoix, Michigan, dated April 22nd, 1918, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 23rd day of April, 1918, in liber 54 of mortgages, page 391, containing a power of sale, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice, the sum of Six Hundred Ten dollars and forty cents, and the sum of One Hundred Nine dollars taxes assessed against the lands described in said mortgage and paid by said mortgagee, and an attorney fee of fifteen dollars provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, the undersigned will on the 12th day of February, A. D. 1921, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the East front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place in which the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage and taxes paid as aforesaid, with interest at seven per cent from the date hereof and all legal costs and said attorney fee, the said premises being described as follows: All of certain pieces or parcels of land situate in the City of Charlevoix, in the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: First par-

J. H. Elzinga sold a Chevrolet, model F-B, to Charlevoix parties last week.

Mrs. A. L. Ely was at Traverse City on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Routley of Bellaire were Ellsworth visitors one day last week.

John Brown is combining business with pleasure in a trip to Grand Rapids this week.

George Klooster is on a business trip to Grand Rapids, Muskegon and other southern Michigan points.

Nick Dekkings left last week for Dayton, Ohio, in charge of a string of potato cars belonging to the Ellsworth Produce Co.

Mrs. Madill announces a meeting of the Ladies Aid society at her home on Thursday afternoon, December 16. She asks everyone to attend.

Johnnie, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sutton, is much improved over his condition of last week. The little chap has been very ill.

D. E. Clow is in Pittsburg with a string of potato cars shipped by the Farmers' Warehouse. Mrs. E. R. Harris is attending the store during Mr. Clow's absence.

Work on the M. E. church is being rapidly pushed forward. A new cement floor has been laid, the basement lathed and plastered and a new chimney is being erected.

Harold Clow of Mill City, Oregon, who has been spending the past two months with his brother, D. E. Clow, and family, left last week for Big Rapids to enroll for the winter course at Ferris Institute.

Mrs. I. Herring was taken seriously ill last Saturday afternoon and is now under the care of Dr. Moorman of Central Lake. Her condition at this time is much improved however, and her many friends hope and look for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Drenth were called to Grand Rapids last week by a telegram announcing the serious illness of their daughter, Mrs. John Hultsing. No word has been received here since their arrival in Grand Rapids so it is thought that Mrs. Hultsing is on the gain.

John Stephan, a former resident of Ellsworth, died at a Lansing hospital at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, November 30, after an illness covering nearly four years. He leaves a wife formerly Miss Louise Hillman of Ellsworth and four children, three boys and a girl the oldest of whom is but twelve years of age, to mourn his loss.

Application blanks and license tags for dog taxes are now in the hands of Township Treasurer Geo. Heller, and may be secured from him upon application. The tax is $3.00 for males $4.00 for females and $2.00 for unsexed. A kennel tax of $15.00 for ten dogs or less and $20.00 for more than ten. The law also provides that all dogs over four months old must wear a license tag and all tax must be paid before January 10, 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and family were at G. Steel's for supper Sunday.

Mr. Brooks has been working on Mr. Steel's house during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Steel and Mr. and Mrs. F. Brooks went to Eastport to church Sunday.

Mrs. F. Mason is on the sick list this week. Her mother, Mrs. Glinzer, is staying with them.

Mrs. G. Steel and Mrs. F. Brooks were visitors at the L. McDowell home one day last week.

Her Nice Neighborhood.

Bernice, aged six years, had just started to school and was in the first grade. She also was very proud because of her progress. I recently visited her home and asked her mother if I could take her for a stroll in the park. While walking along a little boy about her size passed us, at the same time giving Bernice a friendly smile, who returned it, saying to me: "Aunt Jane, don't you think he's a nice neighborhood?"—Exchange.

"Grand Old Party."

The term "Grand Old Man" was applied to Mr. Gladstone in 1882, and is accredited to John Bright, who used it in a speech that year in Northampton, England. In America the phrase was appropriated and changed by members of the Republican party, who affectionately called it the "Grand Old Party." This at once became a newspaper slogan and in the headlines was shortened to "G. O. P."

Philanthropy Under the Ban.

In Burnham it is rather a suspicious thing to give money for a charitable object. It is supposed to mean that the donor has been very wicked and that he is desirous of making amends.

SCHOOL PLAY

WELL ATTENDED

Teachers and Pupils Deserve Credit for Excellent Work

Eighty-six dollars and seventy cents were the proceeds derived from the school entertainment and box social given at the Blue hall on Friday evening of last week and the teachers and pupils wish to thank the people of Ellsworth and vicinity for their attendance and co-operation in making the affair a success.

About forty of the pupils as well as the entire teaching corps took part in the entertainment program and produced more laughs than have been loosened up since the last time William Jennings Bryan announced himself as a candidate for president.

Sousa, Karyl and Pryor were shoved into the discard by Hero Brat, who as a leader of the high school zebra orchestra, demonstrated marked ability along musical lines. The "goblins" drill, by members of the intermediate room, and a song and encore by the girls' glee club, furnished a splendid appetizer for the main play which was entitled "Scenes at the Union Depot," and was perfectly natural even to the newsstand and candy counter, presided over by Theodore Bradford and "Tony the Boot-black" finely acted by Edward Torgn.

Mrs. Trissey, as Mrs. Larkins, the old lady always found at a station a half-day early for her train, was true to life, as was the college boys and girls, Indians, negroes, etc., which usually help to constitute the travelling public and help to keep the railroads from entering the hands of the receivers.

John Peebles, acting the part of Mr. Armstrong, a bereaved widower, with five small children was a shining star and gave promise of eventually becoming an ideal family man. Howard Griffin as the station master was an exact reproduction of the gentleman who announces the trains at the Grand Rapids union station, and Miss Alberta Keebe as "Mrs. Hummer," who endeavors to send a four-page letter by wire for twenty-five cents was above reproach.

Although less than three weeks were taken in rehearsals, very little prompting was needed and every one in the program entered into the spirit of the occasion as if they enjoyed the affair as much as did the spectators.

The money derived was used in payment for the school piano and those who took part either by doing the work or by spending their money for entrance fees may know the work was in a good cause.

Mr. Fred White says, "Don't Idle Because You Only See One Rat." "I did, pretty soon I found my cellar full. They ate my potatoes. After trying RAT-SNAP I got 5 dead rats. The rest later. They pass up the potatoes to eat RAT-SNAP." If there are rats around your place follow Mr. White's example. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by

NORWOOD RESIDENT DIED MONDAY

Charles Moorehouse Passes Away After Severe Illness.

Charles Moorehouse, for 12 years a much loved resident of Norwood, passed away after an illness of several weeks, at his home near Norwood, Monday morning.

Mr. Moorehouse was well known in Charlevoix and vicinity. He held the office of superintendent of Norwood Sunday school, and also filled the office of treasurer of Norwood school for several years.

He leaves as his immediate family one son, Samuel J., and his wife, also a brother in Vermont and one in Echo township, Antrim county. Mr. Moorehouse was of a quiet, lovable, Christian disposition and made friends wherever he went, always having a kind word and cheery smile for everyone.

The many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Funeral services will be held from Norwood M. E. church, Thursday morning at 10:00 a. m., interment in Norwood cemetery.

We are contracting for 16 inch hard wood at $3.75. Need about 500 cords more. Argo Milling Co.—Adv. 491f.

Wool goods for winter, you will need them now. Just what you need in stock. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 441f.

MARRIED MONDAY NOVEMBER 29

Mrs. Lilly Black and Mr. Jasper Hubbel of Marion Township

A quiet wedding took place at the farm home of Jasper Hubbel, just south of the city, on Monday, November 29, at 8:00 p. m., when Mrs. Lilly Black became the wife of Mr. Hubbel.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chas. E. Rice of the Baptist church, only a few of the immediate friends of the contracting parties witnessing the ceremony.

The bride has for many years lived at her farm home in Marion township and might be called one of the pioneer residents of that section. Mr. Hubbel came to Charlevoix about two years ago from Clare and purchased the McLean property, just south of the city, and is a brother of Mrs. C. R. Munyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbel will reside on the farm of the bride.

HOSPITAL DAY FOR PATIENTS

Gifts of Delicacies Requested by Women of City.

Hospital day for the patients of the Charlevoix hospital has been set by the women of the city for Wednesday, December 15. A glass of jelly, jar of fruit or other delicacies are asked for and it is hoped that enough of these small contributions will be brought in to make the idea a success.

Gifts can be left at the office of the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., or may be taken direct to the hospital, where between the hours of 2:00 and 4:00 p. m. every courtesy will be shown the donors. This combines a worth-while Christmas giving and an opportunity to be shown through our hospital, one of the finest anywhere.

Remember—the date is Wednesday, December 15.

CITY SCHOOL TAX HIGHEST IN YEARS

Tax Roll in Hands of City Treasurer John Cook

The toll for the collection of state and county taxes, which is now in the hands of City Treasurer John Cook, disposes the rate to be $27.94 on each $1,000 valuation.

The tax is divided as follows:
State tax $ 3.94
County tax 6.00
School tax 12.00
County Road tax 3.00
County Sinking Fund 3.00

Total $27.94

In 1919 the school rate was $10, and it will be noted in the current year the rate has been increased to $12, an increase of $2 per thousand and over last year's. January 9 is the last day of payment of these taxes at the office of the city treasurer.

HIKERS REACH CITY WEDNESDAY

ON 400 MILE JOURNEY FROM CHICAGO TO PETOSKEY.

Ellsworth Man Walks Entire Distance on $200 Wager—Two Days to the Good.

Joha Aardema of Ellsworth, walking from Chicago to Petoskey on a $200.00 wager, reached Charlevoix Wednesday about three o'clock on the last lap of his 400 mile hike.

Aardema was accompanied as far as Ellsworth by A. Seveirna, a resident of that village. They left Chicago, Monday morning, December 6, and walked until three o'clock the next morning. They arrived at Grand Rapids, Thursday, the fourth day of their journey, leaving Grand Rapids Friday morning at 6:30 and walked to Stanwood by nine o'clock Friday evening, a distance of 47 miles.

On the way up from Grand Rapids they made the hike by easy stages, arriving in this city Wednesday afternoon, with three days of the allotted time to spare, and but 17 miles to travel. At four o'clock Aardema left this city, and expects to reach Petoskey some time during the evening, or possibly Thursday morning.

Tuesday's hike was from Central Lake to the home of his brother-in-law, Fred Boss of Barnard. They left the Mackinaw Trail at Kalkaska, and had found good roads up to that point with the exception of a short stretch between Stanwood and Morley. From Kalkaska they report the roads not so good as further south.

The hike is the result of a wager between Aardema and a Chicago friend, who is a physician. Aardema had been a member of the Chicago police force, and under a change of political leadership, had been laid off, but will be reinstated on his return to that city. In a conversation with his physician friend, he made the remark that he would like to visit his people at Ellsworth. His friend informed him that if he ever reached a point that far from Chicago, he would never get back. Aardema stated he would walk back if it was necessary, and thus the wager was made. Aardema agreeing to walk the entire distance from Chicago to Petoskey in 14 days. He won the wage without trouble, with at least 48 hours to the good.

Aardema carried a small grip containing a change of footwear and underclothes. He stated, at the time he called at this office, that lodgings and meals had amounted to over $40.00 on the trip, over double the railroad fare from Chicago, with stop-overs included.

WORDS THAT ARE HARD TO SPELL.

Those who consider themselves expert spellers may be interested in the result of a series of old-fashioned spelling bees held in a popular summer resort of North Caro-which are most difficult for persons with the average education to spell.

By almost unanimous consent "eleemosynary" was given the stellar position, 91 per

"Connoisseur" wrecked the

TO SANTA CLAUS

By James Whitcomb Riley.

O Santa Claus—our own since infancy—
Most tangible of all the Gods that be,
As first we scampered to thee now, as then,
Take us as children to thy heart again.

Be wholly good to us, just as of old;
As a pleased father, let thine arms unfold
Us, homed within the haven of thy love,
And all the cheer and wholesomeness thereof.

Thou lone reality, when O, so long
Life's unrealities have wrought us wrongs;
Ambition hath allured us, fame likewise
And all that promised honor in men's eyes.

Throughout the world's evasions, wiles and shifts
Thou only biddest stable as thy gifts:
A grateful king re-ruleth from thy lap,
Crowned with a little soldier-cap.

A mighty general—a nation's pride—
Thou givest again a rocking-horse to ride,
And wildly glad he groweth as the grim
Old jurist with the drum thou givest him:

The sculptor's chisel, at thy mirth's command,
Is as a whistle in his boy's hand;
The painter's model fadeth utterly,
And there thou standest, and he painteth thee:—

Most like a winter pippin, sound and fine
And tingling-red that ripe old face of thine,
Set in thy frosty beard of cheek and chin
As midst the snows the thaws of spring set in.

Ho! Santa Claus—our own since infancy—
Most tangible of all the Gods that be!—
As first we scampered to thee—now, as then,
Take us as children to thy heart again.

for Veterans.

Petitions designed to obtain for every soldier, marine, sailor or nurse who went to war from Michigan, a bonus from the state, of $15 a month for every month they served, up to a $250 maximum, and recommending a $25,000,000 bond issue to raise the money, were placed in circulation on Monday of last week.

Thirteen states have granted bonuses to date. Massachusetts did so while the war was on. North Dakota voted all veterans a bonus and set the maximum at $500. All the New England states, New York,
New Jersey, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Washington have given bonuses in varying amounts.

The Veterans' Bonus club of Michigan, which is directing the effort in this state, has set its objective at 85,000 names on the petitions by Dec. 15. If they lack that number on that day an attempt will be made to introduce a bill at the coming session of the legislature.

Work on the petitions, however, will be continued, so that if the legislature withholds approval, the bonus question can be put before the voters in the April elections as an initiative measure.

Sentiment for such a bonus gains weight with many persons not only because Michigan only would be doing what numerous states have done, but the old Thirty-third regiment of the Michigan National guard long has been thought deserving of some concrete reward for its protracted service. The Thirty-third, it will be remembered, was called into service
July 1, 1916, and shipped to the Mexican border, and was in continuous service from that time until after the world war armistice.

The petition calls for payment of $15 a month for every month of service up to six months after the armistice was signed, asks the creation of a world war veterans' commission to administer the act, and provides for a world war veterans' loan sinking fund for the purpose of liquidating the proposed $25,000,000 bond issue, which would be retired, according to the proposed bill, within twenty-five years.

The bonus committee is to establish headquarters in a Detroit hotel.

STATE GRANGE NOW IN SESSION

Annual Meeting Being Held in Grand Rapids This Week.

The annual meeting of the State Grange is being held in Grand Rapids this week and grangers from all sections of the state are in attendance.

John C. Ketcham, master of the state grange for the past eight years, has resigned and A. B. Cook of Owosso, was nominated to succeed him.
Ketcham in his retirement address, rapped the various forms of present laws and suggested many changes.

On the important committees, E.
B. Ward, representing the Charlevoix Grange, was appointed chairman of the good roads committee, and Ralph Wiltse of Ellsworth, was named as a member of the resolutions committee.

See Chas. Ray in the "Pinch Hitter," at the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday.—Adv. 5011.

UNCOVERED SNEEZE ONLY COSTS YOU $100.

The price of an "uncovered sneeze" in Detroit is $100.00.
That is the maximum fine that may be imposed under an ordinance passed by the city council at the instigation of the Detroit department of health.

The ordinance was passed to compel persons who sneeze in public to cover their faces with handkerchiefs during the sneeze and the step was taken to prevent spread of influenza. If a violator is without funds to pay a fine he may be sent to jail for 90 days.

One hundred thousand leaflets that warn the public against sneezing are being distributed by the health department.

12,000 STATE DRAFT DESERTERS

LIST WILL BE PUBLISHED SOON
IN NEWSPAPERS.

Many Enlisted Men Will Find Names on List Because of Failure to Clear Up Registration.

Michigan's list of draft deserters soon to be published in all newspapers contain approximately 12,000 names.

It is expected that the majority of these persons will turn out to be only technical violators of the draft law, but the size of the list emphasizes the importance of every registrant clearing up his status in the draft if there is any doubt about it. Communications should be addressed to the adjutant general of the army at Washington, D. C.

No time has been set for the publication of this list as it is desired to make as many corrections as possible before it is printed. Printed lists of the draft evaders will then be furnished the newspapers, American Legion posts and state officials. Michigan's list is now at Washington but will be in the hands of newspapers several days before it is released.

As an indication of mistakes that have been made, Col. J. S. Bersay, head of the state military department, has pointed out that five officers of the 32nd division who served overseas, were found to be technical violators of the draft. The majority of the errors seems to have occurred when registered men entered military service voluntarily and failed to notify their draft boards.

Men who were in military service and who did not register are not included in the list. However, any person who thinks his name might possibly be on the roll of evaders, should outline his movements during the war period and state his case completely to the adjutant general.

The list will be published with the understanding that many are not willful violators but at the same time it is desired to reduce the number as low as possible.

DEATH COMES AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Mrs. Naomi Pant of Hayes Township
Dies in Hospital.

Mrs. Naomi Pant, a resident of Hayes township for the past seven years, died at the Petoskey hospital on Sunday last, after an extended illness.

Deceased was born in 1879 and before coming to Charlevoix county, lived in Ohio. She is survived by two daughters, Ruth and May. The cause of her death was a complication of diseases. She was taken ill some time ago and recently removed to the hospital at Petoskey where it was thought that better medical attention and care could be given her. For a time she seemed somewhat improved, but later began to fail until death relieved her of her sufferings.

The remains were brought to this city and taken to the home of Roy Pant, from which place the funeral was held Tuesday. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

W. C. T. U. HOLD INSPIRING MEETING

Topics of Interest to Mothers Were Brought Up and Discussed.

The W. C. T. U. meeting, held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Usher last Friday afternoon, was of unusual interest. The topic, "Child Welfare," resolved itself into a conference.
Mrs. R. B. Armstrong gave some very helpful suggestions along this line of obligations of parents to their children.

One fact brought out in the discussion was that children should be at home evenings, or be accompanied by parents to places of amusement.
Other phases of the topic were cooperation of parents and school, religious training in the home, Sunday movies, Audobon work to alleviate the slaying of birds.

Other questions of interest to mothers were brought into this conference which were helpful.

The Near East Relief work was presented by the president, Mrs. Jennie Aleox. The Anna Shaw Memorial and the endowment of the Women's Home at Grand Rapids was presented, action being deferred until a later date.

The advancing of the local dues will be determined at the February meeting.

The committee on supper given on December 8th reported the net proceeds to be $38.61. The meeting adjourned at a late hour, all feeling it had been most beneficial and inspiring.

TEACHERS ASK STATE HALF PAY

PLANS UNDER WAY TO AMEND PENSION LAW.

State Will Be Asked to Pay One-half of Pension for Retired Teachers.

Plans for a campaign in favor of the proposed act to amend the Teachers' Retirement Fund law so that the state will pay at least half of the pensions of retired public school teachers have been laid by members of the Federation of Teachers' club and the Retirement Fund Board.

The act as now drawn, would provide pensions ranging from $100 to $600 a year, depending on the previous salaries of the teachers affected.

Thomas E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction, proposed that all retiring teachers receive the same amount yearly. It is understood this change will be made.

Under the present law teachers must serve 25 years to benefit from the fund, although all must contribute to it. Those who retire after a few years of service receive no benefit from the fund nor their own compulsory contribution to it. The new bill would return contributions with 4 per cent interest.

The present law permits teachers

NORWOOD.

At the funeral last Thursday the Norwood school paid a loving tribute to the memory of our departed brother, Charles Moorehouse, each child as they passed placing a spray of beautiful flowers on the casket. Rev. A. B. Clark of Barnard, spoke beautiful words in memory of the Christian character of Mr. Moorehouse, and his efficient work in the church and Sunday school. Rev. Clark's words of love touched the hearts of those who knew and appreciated Mr. Moorehouse, and his very efficient work in the Sunday school.

The lake shore at the end of "Maple avenue (?) " presents a much better appearance since the lumber and rubbish has been removed.

Merrill Richardson has been very ill with a bad case of quinsy, but we are glad to report is much better at this writing.

Mrs. Charles Moorehouse and son, Samuel, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hewitt.

Rev. and Mrs. Hewitt were called to Petoskey and other towns on business the last of the week.

Prayer meeting and Sunday school have been discontinued for an indefinite time, because of the terrible condition of the M. E. church, which is a menace to the health of the children as well as grown-ups. We understand Dr. Hewitt has offered to advance funds for the thorough repairing of the church.

The social given by the Ladies aid at the hall Friday evening was well attended, over $25.00 being taken in.

Frank Holeccheck arrived home from Detroit last Thursday.

George Whitely spent the week end with friends in East Jordan.

Frank Holeccheck drove to Boyne City Sunday.

Tony and Glenn Holeccheck spent the week end at their homes in Norwood.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Who was Timothy, and can you tell me on what date was his Epistle written?

A. The First Epistle to Timothy—there has been much dispute as to when this Epistle was written. Internal as well as external evidence leads us to adopt the later date assigned A. D. 64. During a missionary tour subsequent to St. Paul's first imprisonment at Rome, St. Timothy was a native of Lystra. His father was a gentile and his mother, Eunice, a devout Jewess. By the latter, assisted by her mother, Lois, Timothy had been well reared in the Hebrew faith and he was one of the first of St. Paul's converts to Christianity. St. Paul ordained him to the ministry and subsequent made him bishop of Ephesus. This Epistle is a pastoral charge, instructing Timothy in the duties of his office.

The Second Epistle to Timothy was written while St. Paul was a prisoner at Rome, during his second captivity, just before his martyrdom.

Q. I have never been able to understand just what Christ meant in the Parable of the Lost Piece of Money. It has never been explained to my satisfaction. Can you tell me what does the Woman of this Parable mean, also the money? I certainly will thank you for an answer to this question.

A. The church is the organ by which the Holy Spirit does its work of mercy. In this parable the church is personified as a woman; the piece of money is the soul, stamped with the image of the great King (Gen. 1:27). As the silver, gold or copper, was with that of the emperor or other ruler. The candle is the word of God, held forth by the church, and by whose light sinners are found, and each one is precious in the Lord's eyes as the silver money is to the merchant. The Woman sweeps the house when searching for the lost piece, and raises the dust of selfish ease, and calls out such remarks as those in Acts, where it is said the Apostles were charged with having turned the world upside down, as the church is always doing when searching for sinners. The woman confesses that she lost the piece of silver, as if she had contributed to the loss through negligence, and called her female friends together. See Ruth 4:14, 17; Prov. 4:3, and it is supposed by some commentators that they were the angels. In the Epistles to the Corinthians, the term angel is applied to certain redeemed members of the church. In the book of Job it is said that "Sons of God" shouted for joy and sang together at the creation, and in the parable of the Lost Sheep that there is joy in Heaven over a repentant sinner; so in this parable there is rejoicing, but it is here on the earth. Some suppose that the joy here referred to is in a group of the invisible angels who were sent into the earth to minister to the heirs of salvation, and who long to a higher race. There are several thoughts which group around this lesson. The lighted candle is peculiar to this parable, and indicates that the church needs help—the help of truth, which the light signifies—for the search. The candle is the Word. The image of the golden candlestick and its mystic explanation are familiar with the students of the Old Testament, among the furniture of the Tabernacle and the Temple, and candles and candlesticks are used also in the Revelation of John. The Spirit is the maker of the word, and its light the truth, and is therefore the true searcher, the church or the woman being only means to the end. "Christ is the light of the world," and therefore He it is who searches for and finds the lost pieces from the spiritual treasury. Sweeping the dust away that may have covered the piece of silver was necessary as a part of the process of finding it. Whether covered by dust or hidden by tarnishing, the searcher must still sweep. It was silver that was lost, and although more useful when restored, yet no more worth than before. Those who are inclined to mysticism see in the lighted candle a symbol of the divine incarnation; the glory which the Saviour had within shining through the fleshly covering which only partially concealed it. The light of the candle and the Divine Glory still illuminate the world.

Q. How old was St. Paul when he died?

A. St. Paul was beheaded A. D. 67, during the persecutions of Nero, when between 63 and 67 years of age. There has been much discussion as to the chronology of St. Paul's life. Without entering into the question, I have taken the dates as they appear in the standard editions of the Bible. It is possible and I think probable that two years should be subtracted from each date given.

Q. How can it be preached or believed that man is lost as you and many other preachers contend, when the truth of the matter is, the Scriptures plainly tell us, in Romans, that we are married to Christ. I would like to have you explain this if it can be done.

A. You no doubt refer to Rom 7:4. We must distinguish in scripture between a figure or illustrations, and a doctrine. No doctrine is based on a single passage. Much error and fanaticism arise from so doing. In Romans 7, Paul is illustrating the doctrine of law and grace and the figure he is using is that of marriage. The contrast is between the fruitlessness of the law and fruit brought forth through Christ unto God. John, in Revelation 19:7, 9, reveals the time of the marriage of Christ to the Church, the bride. Paul in 2 Corinthians 11:2, reveals the churches present relation to Christ—that of betrothal.

unusually busy day. Meditating over the crime wave he hurried home to his fireside. A voice from the kitchen hailed him as he entered, "did you shut the barn door?" Out into the cold and rainy night he dashed, muttering as he ran. Back to the business district there to mount Lizzy, his trusty steed who had grown sold in waiting. Back home he drove and this time the barn door banged behind him.

The most enthusiastic meeting of the directors of the Emmet County Agricultural society in several years was held Monday of last week at the city hall in Petoskey, at which time plans were made for the 1921 fair, officers elected and the dates of the next fair set. The dates are September 6, 7, 8, and 9.

Eleven directors were present and everyone expressed confidence that the people of the county would vote for the purchase of the fair grounds when the matter comes up at the spring election next April. With the fair grounds owned by the county the way, they say, will be open for rearrangement of the grounds, improvement to buildings and the building up of the biggest and best fair in Northern Michigan.

President Homer Perry, Harbor Springs, believes that the next fair will be a record-breaker. Officers are already at work to make it so, he declares, and everything points that way. Mr. Perry says that there is most favorable sentiment all over the county for the purchase of the present grounds at the option price of $2,500, which includes all the buildings, grand stand, race track fences etc.

The Antrim Iron Co. of Mancelona has bought the Rugg water power plant, located on Rapid river about ten miles southwest of Mancelona, and a wire power line is being built to connect with the company's works in Mancelona. The Rugg plant was formerly used to furnish electricity to Kalkaska, but was recently acquired by the Elk Electric Co., of Elk Rapids. The water power will be considerably increased by the installation of a new turbine water wheel.

EXCELLENT HOLIDAY DISPLAY

ELLSWORTH MERCHANTS ARE READY FOR XMAS SHOPPERS

Stores Throughout Village Filled With Useful Suggestions For Those Who Will Soon Shop

Xmas as a rule, comes but once each year and as this year is no exception to the rule, the merchants of Ellsworth are all dressed up, as are their stores, and are prepared to give customers, both old and new, a real taste of city shopping as regards variety and quality.

It is the usual custom in towns and cities, no matter what their size, to spend a small fortune in crepe paper, Xmas bills and such junk for decorative purposes and the amount so spent is added to the price of the goods, together with a heavy rate of interest, and June, or whoever the customer may be, pays the freight.

The merchants of Ellsworth, however, are this year dispensing with this beautiful, but costly and useless fol-de-rol, and in its stead are decorating with a splendid, up-to-date line of such articles as not only make appropriate Xmas gifts, but are marked down to as near pre-war prices that there is no need of a single person awaking on Xmas morning minus some souvenir of Santa's visit. This also applies to married persons.

It's seldom that a shopper from out of town has either the time or the inclination to visit each and every store just to admire the articles offered for sale, but they may this year sit by the fire-side and make a partial decision by reading the following, and then with their mind practically made up, to do their Xmas shopping early and with good judgment.

First, check over your wants in the line handled by W. A. Boss. Mr. Boss started in business on May 19, 1903, and has been on the job continuously for nearly eighteen years, and during that time has gained a reputation for honesty and fair dealing second to none in northern Michigan. His line is shelf and heavy hardware, with farm implements, gas engines, etc., and for a special holiday line has added for this year a fine line of sleds, skis, skates, flashlights and pocket knives for the youngsters, serviceable aluminum and white ware, for mother, with blankets, robes and such articles which are sure to bring a happy smile to the face of dear old dad. "Mr. Boss himself is on the job twelve hours out of every twenty-four and six days of the week, and will show every courtesy to each and every caller.

Kloster and Son are next in line having been in business here since May 1st 1910 and as is the case with Mr. Boss, known favorably in a business way far and near. His holiday specials for this year are easy to look at and restful to the eye. They consist of useful gifts for young and old, such as caps, belts and sweaters, ladies and gents gloves, toilet sets, purses, plain and fancy vases and dishes and an especially up to date line of ladies and childrens waists and skirts. This added to a standard line of suits and overcoats and the like, and a strictly fresh line of groceries make the big store by the railroad one of the best in the country.

The Wallace Weiss Department Store must also be visited. Mr. Weiss is not Irish as his name leads us to think, but is never-the-less one of the towns most up to date and successful business men. Starting in Ellsworth in a modest way nine years ago, he now owns one of the largest stocks of general merchandise north of Traverse City and has added for the holiday trade this year a fine display of toilet sets, hand painted cups and saucers, china sets, together with oriental fruit and salad dishes which must be seen to be appreciated. As an added attraction for holiday buyers, Mr. Weiss' ninth annual reduced price sale is in full swing and he announces that all holiday goods will be sold on the cut rate plan together with his immense line of staple and fancy groceries, boots, shoes and other clothing.

D. E. Clow and Co. is another store which must not be forgotten on your trip for Xmas bargains. Mr. Clow has a stock of groceries and dry goods which while not large is perhaps as fresh and complete as any in this section of the country. Mr. Clow is making a special effort on Xmas goods this year, an assortment of caps, sweaters and ties in addition to candles and nuts for the little folks being his contribution. However he will be glad to fill your basket with the very best in groceries for your Xmas dinner and at prices on a par with the larger stores. Give Mr. Clow a call on your tour of the town and we can assure you a hearty welcome.

The Ellsworth Drug Co. under the able management of Art Gidley, is fully equipped this year to supply your wants in the line of toilet articles, perfumes, waters, hoods, candles both box goods and bulk, kodaks and supplies and in fact any article usually carried in stock by an up to date drug store. A full line of staple drugs are always on hand and one who is looking for any article in Mr. Gidley's line will do well to drop in always assured of courteous treatment.

The restaurant and lunch room owned and operated by Albert Parsons, feature bulk and box candy and cigars, cigarettes and tobacco and what is more appreciated by father or brother than a box of cigars or a few packages of "fags". Remember also that the recipient of such a gift may reciprocate by taking home for you a delicious box of fresh candies.

The Ellsworth Garage have but recently received a supply of motor-meters and spot lights and these make a useful and almost necessary part of the equipment for any car owner. Even if you do not feel financially able to present some loved one with a new car as a Xmas gift, something such as a new tire, bumper or something of that nature will be appropriate.

Van, of the New Orient, always plans on a bounteous Christmas dinner and it is sometimes well to surprise the wife by taking her out to dinner as you used to do before you hypnotized her into changing her name for yours. If so be it that you decide on such a course, phone the hotel and then work up an appetite, for you will surely be pleased with the spread at Van's place.

You might also step in and talk matters over at the Citizens' Bank, and make your arrangements for the New Year's business, while a visit at the Ellsworth Produce Co.'s warehouse and the warehouse of the Marketing Association will probably be to your advantage.

All business places in Ellsworth will be closed on Christmas day, some of them being open for a while in the forenoon, so it will be well for you to make your purchases on Friday.

TEACHERS ASK STATE HALF PAY

to benefit from the fund in case they have served the necessary five years, although they retire in their prime.

Under the proposed measure no one could receive a pension until 60 years of age.

The present fund, Johnson says, is insolvent from an insurance standpoint because it pensions teachers qualified by service regardless of what they have paid in to the fund.

It is desirable, he believes, that these teachers be pensioned, but the state should provide the money, because the payments of teachers now in service cannot be expected to care for those who have not paid their share to the fund.

The new plan provides these new advantages, from the teachers' standpoint: Gives pensions to all that have reached the age of 60 years and have taught 30 years, 15 of which have been in Michigan school; increases the annuity, but the increase, whether flat or graded, has not been fully determined; provides for disability of teachers in case the disability occurs after 15 years of service, return payments to younger teachers that marry or enter other professions, returns payments of teachers that die before qualifying for annuity; teachers' contributions in fund separate from appropriations provided by the state.

While being taken from Petoskey to a state institution in Lansing on Monday, an Indian jumped from a fast moving train between Ellsworth is reported.

The ward asked permission of his through the aperture and dropped to the ground. How he could escape without being injured or killed is a mystery.

The Nation wants service. That is its mandate to those whom it has elected to power and place. It is disheartened over years of blundering and plundering. It is weary of incompetence and resentful of graft. It has never begrudged millions or billions, if honestly expended for needful and right works. It may justly begrudge a single copper that is squandered, drunken-sinor fashion, or that is stolen by some greedy grafter amassing private gain out of the public need. The revelations of the Shipping Board, of the Aviation service, of the whole War Department, of other departments and activities of the administration, especially during the war, have driven the people to disgust and to revolt. They want no more of it. They want their work done, their business transacted, their government administered, with honesty, with economy, with efficiency.

This is one of the meanings of that majority of seven million votes. It is one of the salient facts which the victorious party will do well uneasily to bear in mind.

The result of election was a command to service, not an invitation to spoils. There will of course be sweeping changes in the heads of departments and bureaus; for which, thank God! We shall have no more Burlesons or Barkers or Sir Josephuses to manhandle and bedevil the great executive departments. There will also be dismissals from the rank and file, of the tens of thousands who were taken on in war time and were perhaps needed then, but who are now superfluous, performing no other activities than to hold down chairs and draw their pay. The business of the nation must be put upon a business basis.

But every change that is made, every dismissal and every appointment, high or low, must be made with a view primarily to rendering good service to the nation; not one, we trust, for the mere sake of apportioning the "spoils of victory." Too far away ever to return are the days when, immediately upon the installation of a new administration, "Adios, get your axe!" was the unrebuked call to action. Nearer in years, yet surely impossible of repetition, are those in which a great officer of state could send out an inquiry for paying places which might be given to "deserving Democrats." It was only four years ago, but we must hope that it can never be nearer, when a Civil Service Commissioner refused to permit inspection of public records for fear that their contents might embarrass the president who was seeking re-election. Such doings must never again be known in the United States.

It is not to be supposed, and indeed it is not to be desired, that an Administration will fill offices generally with members of the opposing party. But it can be expected and it is to be required that it will fill them primarily for the sake of good service to the public. That is required by sound public moral. It is also accordant with the best interests of the party. More than a few of the shrewdest political leaders have confessed that patronage and spoils are on the whole sources of dissatisfaction and weakness rather than of strength. Certainly they are such, and deserve to be such, when they involve sacrifice of public interests. There never was a time in our country's history when it was more essential than now that its work should be well done.

THE SAFE AND SANE CHRISTMAS.

The safe and sane Fourth of July is an accepted institution in most communities, but the safe and sane Christmas lags. The explosive toy and the inflammable Christmas decorations are still popular in spite of bitter experience.

Christmas is the day of days which should be kept free from every avoidable calamity, to be held from youth to old age, in so far as is possible, as the one anniversary around which unclouded recollections cling. This means that nothing should be brought to its celebration which is known to be fraught with danger.

Fireproof decorations are many, beautiful and durable. If any other kind are used, it should be only where they can be absolutely protected from heat or flame. As for the toys which would be dangerous in young hands, why purchase them at all? There are plenty of others to delight the most exacting child, and heaven is full of days in which they can experiment with electricity and steam and gunpowder.

"Santa Claus, not the doctor or the undertaker, is the Christmas saint," as one state firewarden suggests. The wording of the suggestion may be gruesome, but the spirit of it is the very spirit of Christmas, for it is a plea for the safety and happiness of little children.

President Wilson said he would confine himself to a declaration of faith and put it up to Congress to provide the ways and means, which after the muss he has made is rather a neat way of ringing the door bell and leaving the other boys to explain the situation or take the hooting.

The administration organs have quit abusing Senator Lodge for the moment in order to denounce the Argentine league of nations delegate who objected to merely sitting on the bleachers while the most favored nations played the game and took the gate receipts.

Gabrielle d'Annunzio, the favorite son of Piume, is the only survivor of the World war who didn't get his fill of fighting before the armistice was signed.

President Wilson won most of the moral victories at Paris, but the latest returns indicate that Great Britain got more promising sites for oil wells.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Fertilizer Special.
It is estimated that 100,000 tons of commercial fertilizer will be used on the 1921 spring crops in Michigan.

Fertilizer should be cured at least three months before shipping. Our order for this commodity should be placed without further delay.

Price that we can buy at depends considerably on the volume of our purchase.

On the recommendation of good authority on the subject we have decided to have the following grades manufactured for us.

3-8-6. 2-12-0.
2-8-10. 0-12-2.
2-12-2. 16 per cent phosphate.

2-10-4. Bone Meal.
0-8-10.

In these formulas the first figure stands for the parts of ammonia, the second figure stands for parts of available phosphoric acid and the third stands for the parts of potash.

All of the above grades are considered high analysis fertilizers and although somewhat higher in price than some on the market, they are really cheaper in the end for the farmers to buy, as it is a recognized fact that the greater the total number of units of plant food the less the cost per unit. We believe that these formulas will meet with all the requirements of Michigan farmers even though their methods of farming are various.

So many factors effect crops, of which the fertilizers are but one, that it is almost impossible to make specific recommendations as to what formula should be used for any one crop. The farmer must learn for himself from simple experiments what fertilizers yield a profit under his system of farming. The following recommendations, which are very general, are sanctioned by the M. A. C. However, as indicated above, the consumer is in the best position to know his own needs.

An important point to be considered before purchasing fertilizers is that farm produce is at a lower level than it has been in the last four years, while fertilizers have maintained their high level. It is therefore evident that fertilizing practices which have proved profitable under war conditions may not give returns at the present time. It is not recommended that the use of fertilizers be

LEGAL NOTICES

Probate Notice.

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix: At a session of said court, held at the Probate office in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 8th day of December, A. D. 1920.

Present: Servetus A. Correll, Probate Judge.
In the matter of the estate of Thomas M. Stroud, deceased.

The above estate having been admitted to probate and Eugene E. Stroud appointed administrator thereof. It is ordered that four months from this date be allowed for creditors to present their claims against said estate, and that such claims will be heard by said court on Monday, the 2nd day of May, A. D. 1921, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the probate office in the City of Charlevoix. It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in this county.

Servetus A. Correll,
Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the performance of the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Albert J. Shockley and Ellen A. Shockley to B. P. Wilkinson, of Charlevoix, Michigan, dated April 22nd, 1918, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 23rd day of April, 1918, in Liber 54 of mortgages, page 391, containing a power of sale, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice, the sum of Six Hundred Ten dollars and forty cents, and the sum of One Hundred Nine dollars taxes assessed against the lands described in said mortgage and paid by said mortgagee, and an attorney fee of fifteen dollars provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, the undersigned will on the 12th day of February, A. D. 1921, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the East front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place in which the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage and taxes paid as aforesaid, with interest at seven per cent from the date hereof and all legal costs and said attorney fee, the said premises being described as follows: All of certain pieces or parcels of land situate in the City of Charlevoix, in the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: First parcel commencing thirty-nine rods (39) west of northeast corner of section thirty-four (34), in town (34) thirty-four north, in range eight (8) west and two rods south of north section line at a stake; thence west seventy-three rods (73); thence south thirteen rods (13); thence east seventy-three rods (73); thence north thirteen rods (13) to place of beginning. Second parcel, commencing two rods south of north quarter post of the above said section; thence south thirteen rods (13); thence east forty-eight rods (48); thence north thirteen rods (13); thence west forty-eight rods (48) to place of beginning.

Dated November 16th, 1920.
B. P. Wilkinson, Mortgagee.
A. L. Fitch, Attorney for Mortgagee, Charlevoix, Michigan. 45113

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date the 3th day of September 1911, executed by Louise A. Rodgers to Alexander M. Ross, to secure the payment of $800.00 and the interest thereon at seven per cent per annum, and which said mortgage is recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, in Liber 48 of Mortgages on page 335; and said mortgage having been on the 26th day of October 1920, duly assigned by the said Alexander M. Ross to James W. Nowland, and which said assignment was recorded in Liber 55 of Mortgages on page 53; by the nonpayment of the note and interest thereon, secured by said mortgage, the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is Eight Hundred Thirty-four (834.00) Dollars.

Notice is therefore hereby given, no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now claimed to be due upon said mortgage or any part thereof, that the premises described in said mortgage to-wit: Commencing at a point 1849 feet west of the quarter (¼) post between Sections 23 and 24 in Township thirty-four North, Range eight west, thence south three hundred and thirty feet (330); thence west five hundred and twenty-eight (528) feet; thence north three hundred and thirty (330) feet; thence east five hundred twenty-eight (528) feet to the place of commencement; containing four acres of land, located on the west half of the south-east quarter of Township thirty-three, Township thirty-four north, Range eight west, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the 11th day of February 1921, to satisfy the amount due on said note secured by said mortgage and the expenses of sale including an attorney fee of Twenty-five Dollars provided for in said mortgage.

Efforts to Check Immigration.

There is an agreement in Washington that immigration must be checked. Ole Hansen, the "hero of Seattle," told a congressional committee, upon his return from Europe, that "everybody from everywhere in Europe wants to come to the United States." Mr. Hansen's statement was broad enough to be called large, but it undoubtedly expressed the situation in its true aspect.

Senators and representatives have bills all prepared to drop into the legislative hopper the minute the grinding begins. The Bureau of Immigration of the Department of Labor will recommend the congress that all immigration, except of persons who come of "compelling necessity," be suspended for a period of at least a year.

The American Federation of Labor is insistent on speedy legislation, on the ground that an influx of cheap labor will further upset our industrial relations. While this is an important phase of the situation, still the more imperative element—as one hears it talked in Washington—concerns the further strain that promiscuous immigration is placing on our Americanization work, and the ideal of "America for Americans."

Extremists are proposing that immigration be stopped entirely. There is no danger of this being done. But it does seem certain that the bars will be closed down tighter than they ever have been before.

Odor from the Shipping Board.

The investigation of the affairs of the shipping board has been bringing to light a lot of unpleasant disclosures. Charges of graft are plentiful enough, but beyond some special petty instances they do not appear to have been sustained. What really has developed is indisputable proof of gross inefficiency in methods, and rank favoritism in awarding contracts to favorites, who made immense profits out of their transactions with the government.

The shipping board has evidently been picked as "the goat," and it remains to be seen whether the reason will finally be tagged onto some great commercial or financial interest that has as its prime object the discrediting of an American merchant marine. It would not be surprising.

There has been no end of boasting on the part of members of the present administration that "this was one great war in which there was no scandal." The shipping board is proving an exception. Yet, everybody knows that the aircraft fiasco was even worse than anything that has been fastened onto the shipping board. Everyone knows, as well, that the system of "cost, plus ten per cent," produced scores of rphers who enriched themselves at the expense of the public treasury. There is a scandal hanging to mostly every activity that had to do with the war; and the peculiar thing about it all is that most people simply want to "forget it," and charge up all shortcomings to the "immediate necessity" that existed to acquire full production at any price.

The Desire to Invest.

Secretary of the Treasury Houston has been having considerable to say about the attitude of the American public with reference to investing in public securities, and he asserts that "the treasury is committed to the continued sale of government savings securities." A new series of one and twenty-five dollar notes are being arranged to fill the demand which was discovered when war savings stamps were put out. Liberty bonds are also being pushed, and the treasury says that with reduced prices for commodities and lower money rates, the market price for government securities is bound to appreciate.

The liberty bonds salesmen were sewing more seed than they anticipated when they conducted their "rallies." While it is true that a great many people converted their bonds into cash, and cleaned up their transactions, it is equally true that fully as many more learned for the first time the great value that comes from "saving" and "thrifting." From buying Liberty bonds many have branched off into the field of securities. It is said that in the electrical field alone there are 1,200,000 investors. Local concerns, like street railways, lighting systems and waterworks, have proven attractive, and the investing spirit has induced a great many conservative people of meagre means to join the ranks of their home "capitalists"—and usually the results have been satisfying.

More of That "State's Rights" Stuff.

Only a short time ago some of the wise dissenters figured it out that prohibition was a matter which should be settled by "the states;" and it was only a little while later that the same vigorous argument of "state's rights" was put forward with regard to woman's suffrage. Within the past week or two "state's rights" have been brought into the foreground by the action of a number of states seeking to upset the operation of the transportation act within their borders. These states have avowed their intention of "protect" their residents and give them advantages over those of other states. State officials have put that theory into practice over the head of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but congress has given the commission the power to assert its judgment. The commission in making its decision in the Illinois intrastate rate cases, held that lower passenger fares for intrastate travel in Illinois than charged for interstate travel, subjects interstate travelers and points outside of Illinois to undue prejudice and disadvantage, and constitutes an unjust discrimination against interstate commerce. The carriers have been ordered to increase their passenger fares in the state of Illinois to bring them up to the level of interstate fares. The same methods are being applied to other states. Injunction proceedings in states like New York to prevent enforcing the interstate fares will result in the question of authority being taken to the higher courts.

The contentions are not new, and congress dealt with this phase of matters in framing and enacting the transportation act. Way back in the days when the constitution of the United States was being enacted the question of state's rights was determined, and the constitution made it impossible for one state to levy discriminating laws against another state, or to collect duties in the name of the state.

After a dozen years debate on the railroad question congress decided that federal administration that would treat all states and all parties alike, should govern; and the affairs of the railroads were taken up on that basis. The present dissent of the states is interesting—just as all attempts are that seek to enforce "state's rights" in opposition to the federal government. But history does not disclose that the government has as yet had to back up when it has run against a conflict of this kind.

Importance of Gas.

The annual production of artificial gas for fuel and light today is about eight hundred billion cubic feet, the gas traveling through 70,000 miles of mains, or nearly enough to encircle the equator three times, serving a population of nearly 55,000,000. While gas for lighting dates back nearly 100 years, it has been a standard domestic fuel, particularly in the cities, for less than 40 years. Gas companies have had difficulty recently due to the exceptionally high costs of coal, labor and materials entering into production of the product.

The Situation With the Farmers.

Some of the returning statesmen to Washington are laying the blame of the cheaper prices of grains and produce to the gambling operation on exchanges like the Chicago Board of Trade, and they are threatening to enact laws that will prevent "gambling in produce." Another scheme is to resurrect the war finance plan, and to attempt extensive financing of the agricultural interests. It seems very likely that congress will devise some kind of methods to help the farmers, but what these methods will be no statesman has as yet been able to say.

WEEDS ARE VEXING PROBLEM

One of Principal Reasons Is That Farmers Have Permitted Plants to Spread Over Land.

One of the principal reasons why weeds are such a serious problem on many farms these days is that farmers and land owners failed to keep a close watch of fields for new weeds and to have them identified before they had spread over such large areas as to make their eradication costly.

Joy Riders on Farms.

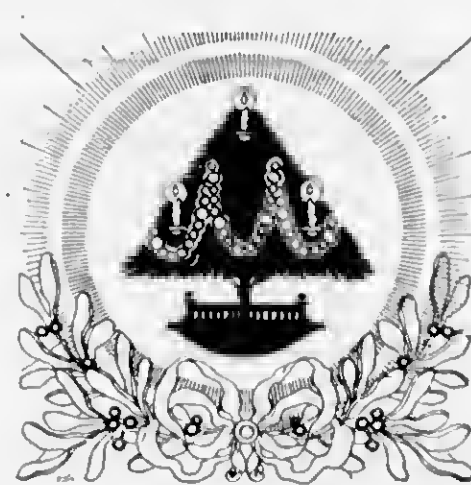

The day when the city dweller could be looked on as a joy rider and could be accused of wishing roads for his personal benefit and enjoyment has passed, for there are more joy riders living on the farms than in the cities.

Service Is Requirement.

Modern roads are being built or planned with service as the primary requirement. The interests of both the business man and the farmer are served in the comprehensive programs for road work now under way.

discontinued, but the necessity of careful consideration is apparent. Acid phosphate is almost sure to give good returns; nitrogen and potash may or not pay out. The user must decide for himself. When in doubt use acid phosphate.

The 3-8-6, 2-8-10, 2-10-4, 0-8-10 brands are high grade potato and vegetable fertilizers. These are excellent brands for potato and truck growers and should allow ample room for choice according to the ideas of the individual consumer. The 2-10-4 should give satisfactory results with sugar beets on the lighter soils and is well fitted for corn on soils requiring an application of potash. The 0-8-10 is a heavy potash fertilizer especially intended for muck soils.

The 2-12-2 is probably the best all round and nearest fool-proof complete fertilizer and has been used to a great extent throughout Michigan. It is usually applied to crops such as corn, wheat and oats on soils which have not been well manured or upon which legumes in regular rotation have not been grown. This formula should be a good buy. If by previous experience the farmer believes potash does not pay, the 2-12-0 can be used—a formula which is very frequently used on wheat and corn.

The 0-12-2 formula is commonly known as an alkaline fertilizer carrying only phosphoric acid and potash. It is suitable to use on legumes which are able to supply their own nitrogen and on fields covered by a rotation in which legumes frequently occur interspersed with liberal applications of barnyard manure.

The 16 per cent acid phosphate furnishes but one elemental plant food—namely, phosphoric acid. This element gives very apparent results on grain crops, especially wheat, which is a heavy phosphoric acid feeder. Much more acid phosphate is used than complete fertilizers. There is no question but what the 16 per cent gives good results in most instances, but the question arises whether it would not be advisable to use ammonia or potash or both in some instances where acid phosphate only has been used for the past three or four years.

Bone meal is the old-time favorite for top dressing pastures and meadows. The plant foods being rather slowly available, the plants are fed throughout the growing season. It can well be used wherever a slowly available fertilizer is desired.

Summarized briefly then, we can consider the 3-8-6, 2-8-10, 2-10-4, and 0-8-10 brands as potato and truck fertilizers to be used on crops where the cash return will justify a heavy investment in fertilizers. 2-10-4, 2-12-2, 2-12-0 can be grouped as general all round fertilizers which can be used on practically all of the grain crops. The 0-12-2 and 0-8-10 are special purpose fertilizers adapted to legumes and muck crops respectively. 16 per cent acid phosphate will meet all conditions where in the opinion of the users, ammonia and potash are not necessary.

Mr. Buell is Leaving.

Thomas B. Buell, manager of the Elevator Exchange, tendered his resignation a week ago to take effect immediately. Mr. Buell has taken the responsibility of the management of Mrs. Dorr D. Buell's farm and this combined with the management of his own farm and numerous business connections, he says, makes it impossible for him to continue with the Elevator Exchange. Directors of the departments expressed their regret at Mr. Buell's departure.

Elevator Exchange.

Very little grain and beans are moving as farmers are inclined to hold until after the New Year, expecting the banks to open up a little on loans which will materially strengthen the market.

Markets advanced last week, and the general tone is better in buying way than for some time, though the wholesale grocer is still not buying due to the ever declining bean market. Choice hand picked beans sold as low as $4.15 per cwt. f. o. b. shipping point in Michigan, a new low level.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

State Trunk Line Road No. 13-11, Section B, Melrose Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of County Road Commissioners of Charlevoix County, Charlevoix, Michigan, until 1:30 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, December 21st, 1920, by Frank F. Rogers, State Highway Commissioner, for improving 3.407 miles of road in Melrose Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan. The improvement will consist of shaping the sub-grade and surfacing to a width of sixteen (16) feet with base course gravel. Alternate proposals will be received for surfacing with base course stone.

Plans may be examined and instructions to bidders, specifications and proposal blanks obtained at the office of the Board of County Road Commissioners of Charlevoix County, Charlevoix, Michigan; at the district office of the State Highway Department, Haskins Block, Cadillac, Michigan; or at the office of the State Highway Department, Lansing, Michigan. Plans will be furnished by the undersigned upon request.

A certified check in the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars made payable to Frank F. Rogers, State Highway Commissioner, must accompany each proposal.

The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.

OBJECTS TO BEING MOVED

COURIER GETS IN WRONG WITH FITCH CLAN.

Shies at Having Lady Callers and Does Not Want Groceries Delivered at Business Office.

The Courier is in wrong again. This time it is with the Fitch clan. They object to our moving them around, and we plead guilty to the attempt. While we did not attempt to do this intentionally, we suppose we must shoulder the blame. Even if our informant mistated the real facts, and we moved the entire family instead of Mr. Fitch himself, we are still guilty of publishing a misleading and wrong statement.

Mr. Fitch's letter to the Courier follows:

December 20, 1921.

Editor Charlevoix Courier,
Charlevoix, Mich.

Dear Sir—In the last issue of the Courier appeared an item of "news" advising that the family of the writer had moved into winter quarters in the Bank building. I do not know who is responsible for this libel, but I want a retraction from someone. My law offices have been moved to the County Bank building, but my family still continues to reside at 404 Michigan avenue. You may have an idea that your error is of no consequence and I felt the same about it at first, but when the family groceries began to be delivered at my office, and since I have been compelled to receive Mrs. Fitch's callers there, it starts to get on my nerves. It may be that some dire necessity may sometime drive us to follow the example of those misguided souls who try to beat the coal man by hibernating in some converted office rooms, downtown, called flats, but until that time arrives, I wish your staff of reporters would not attempt to move us.

This occurrence prompts me to make an observation for the possible benefit of your readers, and particularly those who become non-residents soon after the close of the resort season. Winter has arrived after a Fall that was a perfect as the most critical weather crank could ask for. Nature has spread a beautiful mantle of snow over all. The beauty of it seems to escape many of us. We tramp around in this covering and snail it. Nature soon renews the covering and the process is repeated. True, nature is somewhat too lavish and generous about it at times, but how much better is a foot or so of snow than six inches of mud. Just observe the healthy, ruddy faces of the school children in this city and note the general health of the entire community. Remember when the influenza was rampant all over the world and this city had not a single original case of it. Why, I tell you this place should be a Winter Resort to which all people should come to get rid of their besetting ills. We should have slight patience with the thin-blooded, carping critic who goes shivering about when a flake of snow drops on the back of his neck, and who advertises this country as a land of perpetual snow and midnight sun. How often we hear that so-called joke about our having three seasons here, July, August and Winter. The editors of our newspapers, who are in a sense the spokesmen of the community so far as its reputation is concerned, should smite with a pen three feet long the publisher of such base slander.

I would like to say more, but I am too busy trying to get my work out of the way so as to get out and snowball somebody or take a hike in the woods. Merry Christmas, you old sinner, but quit trying to move my family around or your New Year won't be a happy one.

A. L. Fitch.

We make haste, dear reader, to correct the statement published, also to give timely warning to all lady callers to give Mr. Fitch's office in the County Bank building a wide berth, as we will not become responsible, in any manner whatsoever, for what he will say or do.

We hope he will live on the north side indefinitely, and that he will become so thick-skinned that, no matter how cold or severe the winters are, they will have no effect on him.

Telling the Story of His Life

NEW RULE TO BAR 'FIRST PAPER' MEN

Right to Vote Ceases After January
1, 1924, is the Warning.

A warning to all persons who have not become fully naturalized that they must complete their naturalization before January 1, 1924, if they wish to have a vote after that date, has been issued, inasmuch as it takes at least two years and 90 days in which to complete the process of naturalization. It is pointed out that prospective new citizens must have their first papers affirmed by June next year.

This warning is made necessary by the passage at the last election of an amendment to the state constitution providing certain changes in the law regarding the elective franchise under the amendment all voters who are now exercising the right of franchise by virtue of their first papers, will be denied a ballot after 1924 unless the have received also their final papers meanwhile.

Therefore no alien who wishes to become Americanized can succeed in his wishes if he does not immediately secure his first papers and press his citizenship claim through with the least possible delay. Second papers cannot be secured until two years after the first papers are issued, plus a 90 day notice. Less than 6 months remain in which to get first papers in order to become eligible to a vote.

CHARLEVOIX GRANGE ELECTS OFFICERS

E. B. Ward Again Chosen as Master
New Members Admitted

Besides the election of officers for the ensuing year, Charlevoix Grange balloted on 9 candidates and received several applications at its regular meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening. The officers elected were as follows:

Master, E. B. Ward.
Overseer, Ney Smith.
Lecturer, Mrs. May Bugbee.
Steward, L. E. Crandell.
Asst. Steward, A. J. Usher.
Chaplain, Catherine Himebauch.
Treasurer, J. H. Bugbee.
Secretary, Ella Usher.
Gate Keeper, D. H. Alexander.
Ceres, Jennie Genett.
Pomona, Annie Ward.
Flora, Adel Nowland.
L. A. S. Mary Crandell.

The Charlevoix Grange has completed one of the best years since it started, both in increase of membership, but also in interest and work accomplished.

Christmas Entertainment.

The Norwood church will give a Christmas entertainment Friday evening, December 24th. There will be a fine program and a tree to which the public is cordially invited. The church has recently been repaired and the committee promises it will be well heated. In spite of the snow storm the Sunday school was well attended last Sunday, and the officers trust it will continue.

MARRIED SATURDAY AT M. E. PARSONAGE

Miss Elva Jefferies and Mr. Roy D.
France.

Miss Elva Jefferies and Mr. Roy D. France were quietly married Saturday evening of last week at 6:00 p. m., by the Rev. Henry Candler, at the M. E. parsonage. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cury. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jefferies, and has grown to womanhood in Charlevoix. For the past year she has been in the employ of M. A. Levinson & Co., and by her courteous and obliging manner has made close friends with the patrons of the store.

The groom, Mr. France, is one of the employees at this office, coming here the first time about six years ago, and the second time about a year ago. His former home was in Petoskey, but in the future he will make his permanent home in this city.

The Courier with numerous friends of the bride and groom extend sincere congratulations.

Bureau Opened at County Seat for Benefit of People.

County Clerk Richard Lewis reports that many residents of Charlevoix county are sending direct to Lansing for their automobile licenses, and that the Lansing officials have written him about the matter, asking why these people do not apply for their licenses at the office established for their benefit and accommodation, right here at home.

It must be remembered by all that the bureau in County Clerk Lewis' office was established for the purpose of relieving the Lansing office of a large amount of work, besides making it possible for auto drivers to obtain their licenses in the shortest time possible.

The opening of this office has been given wide publicity by the newspapers of the county, and again we call the attention of our readers to the fact that you can obtain anything in the line of auto licenses from the office of the county clerk.

NEW OFFICIALS SOON TAKE JOBS

But Two Changes Take Place Among County Officials.

Monday morning, January 3, will find but two new faces among the county's officials; these being for the office of county road commissioner and representative.

Representative-elect Rollie L. Lev is will assume his duties as full-fledged representative of Charlevoix county in the state legislature, and soon thereafter will leave for his first official trip to Lansing.

The other change will be that of county road commissioner, where W. E. Byers assumes that office, succeeding O. D. Hammond, who has served the county two terms.

The public will be ably and efficiently served by those holding the offices of judge of probate, sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer and register of deeds, as these men retain their post for another term.

GRANGE BACKS STATE POLICE

REVERSES UNFAVORABLE VOTE OF YEAR AGO.

A. B. Cook of Owosso, Heads Grange
For Next Year—Mrs. Dora Stockman-Lecturer.

After spending the greater part of the afternoon discussing the work of the Michigan State constabulary, the Michigan State Grange Thursday afternoon passed a resolution indorsing this organization and urging its future maintenance. The vote on the endorsing motion was 115 to 104.

In the light of what had transpired a year ago the action of the grange is taken as a sweeping victory for the state constabulary. Last year a resolution directed against the police was presented and adopted.

Officers were elected as follows: A. B. Cook of Owosso, was chosen master, and other officers are: Overseer, C. H. Bramble, Lansing; lecturer, Mrs. Dora Stockman, Lansing; steward, T. E. Niles; assistant steward, W. H. Lovejoy; chaplain, Mrs. O. J. C. Woodman; treasurer, Frank Coward; kite keeper, Peter Klees; Ceres, Mrs. I. E. Corliss; Pomona, Mrs. E. E. Salisbury; Flora, Mrs. Maud Spaulding, and assistant steward, Mrs. W. H. Lovejoy.

J. H. Brown of Battle Creek, promoter of the Michigan farmers' tour over West Michigan Pike last August and booster of a second tour over the same or similar route next August, attended the state convention. He predicts more than 150 farmers will make the tour next summer as nearly that number already have pledged their attendance.

The convention closed Friday evening with a banquet, at which were seated nearly five hundred grangers.

REMAINS BROUGHT HERE FOR BURIAL

Former Resident of City Dies at Home in Lansing

Mrs. D. O. Dennison, aged twenty six, died at her home in Lansing, Thursday, December 17, after an extended illness.

Her maiden name was Rose Nowland. She was born in 1891, and spent the early part of her life in or around Charlevoix.

She is survived by a husband, three children, Donald, Dona Marie and Barbara June, also six sisters, Mrs. H. Goatsrey, Mrs. Marion McDowell, Mrs. E. Kingsbury, Mrs. Henry Block and Miss Lela Nowland, both of this city.

The remains were brought here from Lansing, arriving on the afternoon train, Monday. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Tuesday at 1:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Henry Candler. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

Find 52 Gallon Barrel of Mash Near East Jordan.

Charles Novak, who claims his home near East Jordan, is now in the county jail, having been arrested on the charge of having alcoholic mash in his possession, says the East Jordan Herald.

Novak, who claims his home is in Muskegon and where he says he has a wife and family, recently located on a farm two miles west of East Jordan in South Arm township. Deputy Sheriff Cook became suspicious and made a raid on the premises, and found a 52 gallon barrel filled with an alcoholic mash. No still was found.

Novak was put under arrest and on Monday of last week, a hearing was held before Justice Blunt of East Jordan. He was bound over to circuit court for trial and taken to the county jail to await trial by Sheriff Weaver the same day.

SUCCESS.

It's doing your job the best you can
And being just to your fellow man;
It's making money, but holding friends,
And staying true to your aims and ends;
It's figuring how and learning why,
And looking forward and thinking high,
And dreaming a little and doing much;
It's always keeping in closest touch
With what is finest in word and deed;
It's being thorough, yet making speed;
It's struggling on with a will to win,
But taking loss with a cheerful grin;
It's sharing sorrow and work and mirth
And making better this good old earth;
It's serving, striving through strain and stress
It's doing your noblest—that's Success.

HAYES.

Merry Christmas to all.

Miss Delsie Howe spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Leo Allard of Charlevoix.

Peter Stogis expects to leave this week for Chicago, where he will spend the winter.

Mrs. Della Martin left Monday for Traverse City, where she will spend a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stuart Brock.

Christmas eve being Grange night, we hope there will be a large attendance and that everyone will try and have something for the Lecturer's hour.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Declaring that he was crazed with jealousy and did not know what he was doing when he shot his brother, William Babcock on Oct. 19, Gordon Babcock, Wolverine, pleaded guilty to felonious assault before Judge Keidan of Detroit. He was placed on probation for a period of two years.

Babcock went to Detroit from Wolverine, Mich., to see his brother, whom he suspected of sealing the affections of his sweetheart, Miss Bernice Shook, a school teacher in Owendale, Mich. He went to the brother's home, West Hancock avenue, Detroit, shot him five times and started to kill himself. Hearing his brother's cries for help, he threw away the pistol and ran to his assistance. He was waiting when detectives arrived to arrest him.

Terms of the probation are that Gordon return to the farm. He and his brother were friendly directly following the shooting.

Frank Miller of Rapid City, sixteen, was shot accidentally by the discharge of his shotgun while hunting in the woods near his home last week. He was standing with the butt of his gun on the ground and his hands over the muzzle, when the charge was exploded, badly shattering both hands. He was taken to the Johnson hospital at Traverse City. It is not known as yet whether the hands can be saved. Last month his brother, William, was shot accidentally in the face while hunting.

The plant of the Michigan Limestone and Chemical company at Rogers City closed down for the season last Wednesday noon, after what has been the greatest year, in the point of output of stone, for the company. Each year has shown a tremendous growth in the tonnage of stone pouring over the belts to the freighters as the plant has been improved upon and perfected in many details, all adding to its production facilities. The fall season has been very promising in the way of weather conditions and there is nothing to stop the output of stone were it not that the hants are ceasing to run.

Six Barrels of Potatoes for 99c.

On September 14, Mrs. Sarah S. Hancock, of Bridgeton, New Jersey, sold six barrels of No. 2 potatoes through a New York commission house for $1.50 a barrel—a total of $9.00. After deducting $2.10 for barrels, $3.51 for freight, $1.50 for cartage and $.90 for commission, the firm sent Mrs. Hancock what was left—99c.

Think of it! Six full barrels of food for only 99 cents!

The quick relief for such cases is direct cooperative marketing of vegetables, fruit, grain and livestock by the full carload.

Michigan potato growers saved $700,000.00 last year by letting a trained sales manager market their crop cooperatively. There is no longer any question as to whether it will work—fourteen thousand cooperative associations are working in the United States today.

There is a big, new force in the United States which advocates cooperation. It is the American Farm Bureau Federation. It also supports all other sound relief measures for farmers, such as cost accounting, knowledge of world markets and legislative reforms. You can help in the fight for these measures by becoming a member of your County Farm Bureau.

You can help, too, by reading that great national farm-service weekly, THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN. You will find it always in the thick of the farmer's fight—never neutral and never dull. A New Back for an Old One—How a Charlevoix Resident Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless, piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Charlevoix citizen:

Mrs. Frank Smith, 307 May St., says: "My kidneys were weak and irregular and there was a dull ache in my back. A few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills from Hines & Co.'s Drug Store cured me completely." 60c at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Snakes.

Snakes are classed as venomous, or those which lay eggs; and ovoviviparous, or those which bear living young from an egg which is hatched before or at the time it is laid. The egg-laying species of serpents generally belong to the constricting group, which kill their prey by squeezing it; while most all ovoviviparous serpents are species which take their prey with their mouths, and do not kill by constricting. For instance, the blacksnake belongs to the egg-laying group, while the copperhead snake produces living young instead of eggs.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Lansing December 11, 1920.

Seed Department.

Prepare to accept deliveries on Grimm alfalfa on arrival of shipment with sight draft attached to bill of lading after December 20. Two cars have arrived, the third will be loaded next week. This Grimm will be scarified, re-cleaned and shipped as soon as possible. This is fancy seed that will not only look good, but will give results. Already this department has purchased for Michigan alone 107,000 pounds, over one-third of the total Grimm production of the world this year, and with New York state have absorbed one-half of the total production. In addition, we have an option on 19,000 pounds of North Dakota Grimm, their entire surplus, at a price to sell at 73 cents per pound in quantity lots to counties having the seed contract. We are now trying to option the Idaho and South Dakota Grimm, not already purchased or contracted for by other parties. Limited amounts of Idaho Grimm can still be purchased at 65c f. o. b. Lansing. After the next car is shipped, price will undoubtedly be slightly higher, as seed will have to come by local freight and prices for genuine Grimm will not be less. Practically all reliable seed has left growers hands or is tied up.

Some odd lots of common South Dakota and Montana seed can be picked up at prices to sell around 27 to 30 cents for good quality, unscarified seed. Idaho common bought on our first purchase will cost Co-ops about 20 cents per pound for unscarified seed. Most alfalfa growers are holding for higher prices. We cannot guarantee the 20c price for future purchases, but some additional quantities can be bought at near this figure. It is improbable that you could ever get this quality seed as cheap again.

Timothy.

Seed, 99 per cent purity, can be purchased for January shipment at remarkably low prices. Dealers and growers find it hard to carry seed. Good purchases can be made for February shipment, but much better quotations can be obtained for early January delivery. We covered our present orders this week at prices for delivery considerably under quoted markets. While we may not be able to make quite as good buys every time, orders placed now for January shipment can be filled at attractive figures. On all deferred shipments of timothy, an advance of 75 cents per bushel is required. You can't go wrong placing timothy and alfalfa orders here for early January shipment.

Clover.

Market more active. Another car and a half of seed arrived this week. Much is high quality.

Prices for Michigan grown clover seed in quantity lots to county farm bureaus, co-operative associations, etc. Purity and germination tests made by Miss Bertha Hollister, state seed analyst. Prices f. o. b. Lansing, bags extra at cost. Prompt shipment. Michigan State Farm Bureau brand:

Medium Clover, grade 1, 50c per bushel above Toledo prime.

Medium Clover, grade 2, basis Toledo prime.

Mammoth Clover, grade 1, $1.50 per bushel above Toledo prime (medium).

Mammoth Clover, grade 2, $1.00 per bushel above Toledo prime (med).

Note: Growers guarantee is demanded from consignors of Mammoth.

Alsike, grade 1, 50 cents per bushel above Toledo prime.

Alsike, grade 2, basis Toledo prime.

Orders may be placed:

1. For prompt shipment above price basis, sight draft bill of lading.

2. For deferred shipments above price basis plus 1 per cent per month carrying charges (including insurance, interest and storage). At $13 per bushel this amounts to about 13 cents per bushel per month. On deferred shipments an advance of $1.50 per bushel must be placed with order.

In counties with seed contracts this applies when value of order exceeds four times deposit here. Instead of the 25 per cent additional advance of $1.50 per bushel will be sufficient.

3. Orders may be placed for deferred shipment at above relation to prime prices current at time of shipment. No advances necessary.

Retail price direct to farmer who does not have access to a local co-operative association or county seed department handling Farm Bureau Brand seed $1.00 per bushel more than above quotations.

Direct sales will not be made to farmers who have access to local co-operative associations that agree to handle exclusively farm bureau brands of seeds.

Orders from counties or associations will be filled in bag lots. If desired, the order may be put up in certain sized lots so is can be delivered without reweighing. An additional charge of 10 cents per bushel will be made.

Isabella, Kalkaska and Wexford counties are the latest in sign seed contracts.

Brn and Middlings.

We have been successful in booking many cars due to attractive low prices received. We are now operating with the largest in the business, all are anxious to get our orders.

Flour.

Market unsettled. If interested in a car for late December of January, ask for prices. Wheat market is a little stronger in past few days. Some mills advise buying. We feel that orders placed on a basis of market at time orders are booked will prove satisfactory. We agree the "bills" are trying their best to get the wheat market up. We feel market is entirely too low on basis of cost of production, but it looks as though all markets will work back to pre-war basis. Demand is light.

Cotton Seed Meal.

Market look bottom. There you are safe in placing orders. Reports indicate meal is now below cost of production. If you need a car in two or three weeks suggest sending in your signed orders. We will fill according to instructions. We received the following from the Montague-Rothbury Shipping Assn., Montague, Michigan:

"I am sure pleased to know you were successful in purchasing the car at a much lower price than quoted and gave us the benefit, which amounts to about $50 on this car. I assure you we appreciate this kind of a deal."

We receive many such letters. We hope to continue this service and receive more. This proves we are in immediate touch with the market, and if our members will give us the chance, we can please them.

This department believes the time has arrived when negotiations should be under way to get signed orders on binder twine. Suggest that you mention this commodity in your next bulletin. We soon will be in position to give full details in regard to this purchase.

Elevator Exchange.

All markets are very unsteady this week. General trend of rye market is downward. Large shipments of Canadian wheat are being rushed out before close of lake traffic. This may or may not have a depressing effect. Hay market very dull and drab. Beans are entirely too cheap, but we must have winter weather to help out on the market. Better prices in January likely.

Entered at Charlevoix Post Office as second class matter.

Speaking about the wholesale shifting of political power in Greece as well as America, many critics of President Wilson already see him as an obscure figure in our affairs. The reverse is more apt to be true if the president's health, after March 4th, is such that he can participate in public life. William Allen White, (republican), the celebrated Kansas editor, author and lecturer, gives what we believe to be a correct estimate of how history will deal with President Wilson:

"Every Republican paper in the United States and many democratic papers since the election have been pleased to lay the blame for the defeat of the democratic party at the president's door. Probably it is not flattery to say that he is the most neglected man in America today. With all the material power which his office gives him he is spiritually powerless. He who two years ago was the world's greatest spiritual leader today, seems to be with 'Nimrod and Tyre.' And yet there can be no doubt that the verdict of history on President Wilson will affirm his greatness. In great moments of crisis during the last eight years, President Wilson has risen to real heights and has done worthy and memorable things. His name will stand in history either as the sponsor of a great hope or the recorder of a high tide in human affairs from which important humanity has receded. He, the first of all world statesmen at the end of a ghastly world catastrophe, tried to make a settlement based upon justice, not on force, upon what should be rather than what could be. Either the League of Nations will rise during this century and work for peace on earth and good will among men or it will fail and its failure will herald in such an epoch of horror that humanity in its decay will look back to the glorious dream which this man dreamed at the beginning of the wreck of nations and crash of civilizations. In either event Wilson's name is safe. He inspired greatly; he strove with what strength he had and with what weapons God gave him. He lost; his powers were not sufficient for his task. His hand was not as strong as his heart. He called the spirits from the vast deep; but alas they did not come. His loss is mankind's loss. But even if he lost, he lost but losing won. He is not the first Moses left in the wilderness, even though he stood by the burning bush; nor the first Isaiah to preach righteousness vainly to a wicked and perverse generation."

Wonder how many million plurality Harding and Coolidge would have had to get in order to prevent certain misrepresentative bodies from passing resolutions declaring that the "moral" elements in America demand that we stick our fist into that European battle royal?

The Wilson administration presents to Congress estimates calling for vastly increased expenditures, but not to be outdone by himself, President Wilson at the same time transmits a message earnestly demanding economy and a reduction of taxes.

Forty political executions a day take place in Moscow. Just how tolerant a socialist would be of opposition if he were in control of the government is indicated by what socialists have been doing in Russian ever since they got the chance.

Every word that President-elect Harding has uttered since his election has confirmed the faith of the people in the sincerity, capacity and devotion of the newly chosen chief executive.

PEOPLES BANK IS SOON TO MOVE

Will Occupy New Building on Water Street Recently Purchased.

A. J. Maynard, vice president of the Traverse City State Bank, Traverse City, A. D. Crimmins, cashier of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, L. O. Bloomer, vice president of the Kalkaska State Bank, were in the city Friday transacting business relative to arranging for the moving of the People's State Bank into the new building on Water street purchased some time ago.

A. Maynard, president of the People's State Bank, stated while here that a complete set of new banking fixtures had been secured and would be installed in the new building within the next few weeks, the contract for building a modern burglar and fire proof vault had been given to a local contractor with instructions to begin work immediately. Mr. Maynard expressed himself as being very well satisfied with the business given the new bank during the short time it has been in operation and feels that with the complete modern equipment he has purchased for the new building, the people of Boyne City will have every reason to be proud of their new banking institution.—Boyne Citizen.

AT THE MOVIES

Doris May and Douglas MacLean will be the attraction at the Palace Theatre for two days beginning Saturday next, in a screen version of the stage play, "What's Your Husband Doing?" The picture is described as a rollicking comedy about young husbands and wives and a grand mix-up at a lively roadhouse.

Critics who have had an opportunity to obtain a pre-release view of the latest Universal-Jewel production, "The Virgin of Stamboul," starring Priscilla Dean, have been unstinted in their praise of this picturesque photodrama which will be thrown on the screen for two days at the Palace Theatre, December 31 and January 1st.

The story was written especially for Priscilla Dean by H. H. Van Loan, and it is said that he kept her vision before him constantly during the months he was at work on this colorful romance, the scenes of which are laid in Stamboul, the wickedness city in the world. The result is, from all accounts, that Van Loan has supplied Miss Dean with a role that permits her to exercise the thousand and one phases of her magnetic art.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The Initiative and Referendum.

We have heard a great deal in political life about the initiative and referendum, but there has not been very much concerning it published with regard to economic affairs of the country. Nevertheless it is quite probable that more real progress has been made in this direction in the industrial than in the political world. This is illustrated by the fact that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has just submitted referendum number 33 to the local business organizations throughout the country, which will vote upon the report of the Committee on Public Utilities of the National Chamber "regarding local transportation."

So much has been said and written about the condition in which the street railways of the country have been placed by the changed value of money and its purchasing power, and the inability of the lines to operate under the fares fixed in their franchises, that it is interesting to have a clear definition of the question, especially when it is in the hands of the understanding among business organizations in the United States. The United States Chamber of Commerce asserts that "every phase of the life of a community is affected by the success or failure of its traction lines in providing a service which is indispensable to the public. Careful regulation joined with concern for the business stability and success of traction lines should prevail in each city of the country. Adequacy of service at the lowest rate compatible with continued efficiency is the paramount consideration from the public point of view, and neither factor can be sacrificed to the other without public detriment."

This plain statement is supplemented by the report of the committee which at the outset declares: "The country's transportation system has been placed in a critical position by conditions over which operating companies had no control and for which the public had generally made no adequate provision." The committee then proceeds to define methods of a corrective nature. These remedies have in turn been subjected to local boards of trade and chambers of commerce, and the referendum will help to formulate means of relief for local transportation in all parts of the country in accordance with the suggestions that will have general applicability.

Straightening Out the Snarls.

The War Labor Board assumed to raise rates of pay for street railway employees. It also fixed the price of material and equipment which the companies had to pay—and in turn it "fixed" the companies, since it added all these burdens to their conditions, but could not increase the sources of their revenue. The president and the secretary of the treasury and all the rest of the high government officials wrote eloquent appeals in behalf of higher street car fare. Finally the president appointed the Federal Electric Railways Commission, which made a very exhaustive study of the electric railway industry, and recommended a basic plan for the re-establishment of the street railway industry throughout the United States.

The present referendum of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States seeks to further establish these basic ideas by bringing them home to the local communities. The committee report points out that among the problems affected by local transportation systems is the housing situation. It says: "The question is not only how to obtain housing but how to utilize it, and utilization in every instance turns upon the facilities for local transportation. To a house, either a new or an old, access to an efficient railway is quite as essential, for practical purposes, as sewer connections and a water supply." It is hard to gainsay these established facts.

What the Chamber Proposes.

In the referendum now being submitted to the business organizations of the country through the chamber of commerce of the United States eight questions are to be voted upon. After each question there is a space indicating the local opinion, favoring or opposing the suggestions. These suggestions, which have come down in the long official route, propound the following questions, stated in the affirmative, i. e.:

I. "Existing traction facilities should be conserved."

II. "The attitude now taken toward street railway problems should be based upon the present and future needs of the community."

III. "The attitude which is taken toward street railway problems should contemplate private ownership and operation."

IV. "Regulation should everywhere be instituted that will promptly follow changes in the situation of the companies rendering services of local transportation."

V. "Provision should be made against the consequences of unfair competition."

VI. "All burdens unrelated to the service should be removed from street railways."

VII. "Official responsibility should be definitely fixed for the application of regulation."

VIII. "Each company should seek to have available for the public at all times the facts as to the results of operation and should have resident responsible executives wholly conversant with local requirements."

Reconstruction of Rail Transportation.

Congress will doubtless be called upon to strengthen the transportation act, but in doing so it will find itself at a big advantage, since the relations between the public and the transportation lines were clearly defined in the Cummins-Esch measure. Mr. Alfred P. Thom, counsel of the Association of Railway Executives, traces the evolution of government regulation up to the passage of the law of 1920. This law, he says, "has its foundation in a new and larger view of the relationship of government to the instrumentality of the transportation which it undertakes to regulate." To this Mr. Thom adds: "The abandonment of the old and mistaken view that the responsibility of government, when it undertakes to regulate the business of transportation, is fully performed when it punishes its misdeeds and restricts its activities and opportunities, and the adoption of the new conception that the government's responsibility in regulation must extend to and embrace proper encouragement and protection, makes a new era in our legislative history and rises to the dignity of an economic triumph of popular government."

"It furnishes new assurance and gives fresh courage and hope to those who believe in the good sense and the spirit of wisdom and statesmanship which reside in the masses of the people and which will ultimately manifest themselves in the system of laws evolved out of public opinion."

The Water Power Commission.

There are about one hundred applications for license for water power projects on file with the Federal Water Power Commission, established by the passage of the Water Power act, rushed through in the closing hours of the last session of congress, and signed by President Wilson after it was thought that the time limit had expired, and following a howl of protest by business and industrial leaders. Not before any of the projects can be started it will be necessary for congress to make an appropriation of $500,000 to enable the commission to make an investigation of all the features connected with the projects, in order that they may be approved. It is estimated that it will cost an average of $100 a horse power to develop the project, and this will mean that these great sources of power that are to be created will add a billion dollars to the wealth of streams and the helpfulness of industry.

The biggest of the proposed projects are Niagara and the St. Lawrence rivers; the other are scattered from Maine to Alaska. The Ford Company contemplates a big project at Troy on the Hudson; and the Crown-Willamette Paper Company has a project for 7,200 horse power on the Willamette river. The Alabama Power company and the Southern California Edison company have immense projects for their respective localities.

ATTENTION TO PEACH SOILS

Loams Are Easily Impoverished and Will Deteriorate if Not Properly Maintained.

The best peach soils are the soils that are naturally easily impoverished. These are the loams, the sandy loams, the clay loams and the gravelly loams. Such soils usually produce well for a few years, but unless some attention is given to soil maintenance they will soon fail.

Prune Grape Vines.

Prune grape vines enough to give plenty of room for each vine so that light and air may get in around them. Most varieties are best in produce too much wood.

Robins.

Robins soon almost always to run along when they want to get any where. But now and then they take pretty strong lines that cover the ground much faster. When they can they lift their heads high as though they were very proud indeed to go at such a pace.

Especially Good Attractions For This Week

THURSDAY, DEC. 23—Paramount presents Bryant Washburn in "Why Smith Left Home," supported by an all star cast. Three hours married and he hadn't kissed her yet. He started to—then—a train wreck, a fire, an earthquake, a cloudburst tried to separate them. No Wonder Smith Left Home. Also a Roland comedy, "Rock A Bye Baby."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, DEC 25 and 26—Paramount-Artcraft presents Douglas MacLean and Doris May in "What's Your Husband Doing?" Their first picture was a riot—it was 23 1-2 Hours Leave. Hailed by press and public as the best comedy of the year. This, their second, is funnier than their first. Added attraction—Goldwyn presents Booth Tarkington Edgar's comedy, "Edgar's Sunday Courtship." Funny, honest to goodness kids. And they do with all the earnestness in the world the things kids do. We can personally say that this is one of the very best attractions we have put on this year.

TUESDAY, DEC. 28—Realart presents Alice Brady in "A Dark Lantern." This is not a play for children, but a strong, emotional drama for thinking men and women. Yes, the lantern was very dark until a brave woman lighted the fires within.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 29—Double attraction. Goldwyn presents Pauline Frederick in "Bonds of Love." And the 12th episode of the Vanishing Dagger, "An Evil Plot."

Coming, Friday and Saturday, December 31 and Jan. 1, the $500,000 super special "The Virgin of Stamboul." The year's most stupendous production, starring Priella Dean.

Coming, Sunday, Jan. 1, Ethel Clayton in "The Thirteenth Commandment."

Please Note: You can see a good picture every night next week excepting Monday night.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. What is the meaning of being baptised with fire as stated in the Bible? And can you please tell me into how many baptisms does a believer enter?

A. "With fire," Matt. 3:11, refers to the Spirit, but in His office as (1) the energizer of the believers service; (2) the purifier from evil within. Hence the exhortation (Thess. 5:19), "Quench not the Spirit." Where "quench" means literally, "put out the fire."

A great deal of confusion of mind concerning the word "baptism" disappears when we see that Christ was the subject of three fold baptism. First, He was baptised with water, (Luke 3:21); second, He was baptised with the Holy Ghost by the Father (Luke 3:22); and thirdly, He was baptised with death on the cross (Luke 12:50). Every believer is, in this dispensation, identified with Christ in the last two of these baptisms. The passage in Colossians 2:12; 1 Cor. 12:12; Matt. 20:22, 23; every believer "should be baptised with the first of these baptisms. Col. 2:12 refers to the identification of the believer with Christ in the first, and Rom. 6:4, 5, to the identification of the believer with Christ in the last of these baptisms.

Q. Can you tell me what is the right meaning Second Cor., 5th chapter and sixteenth verse, or what does it mean to know Christ after the flesh?

A. "After the flesh." An intellectual in the history of Christ, or the historical Christ, which is distinct from "believing on Him." The latter implies trust, dependence. Intellectual belief does not bring salvation, as belief with trust does to those who truly, with the heart as well as the mind, believe.

Q. Our pastor recently stated from the pulpit, "I don't believe in rattle-box religion, neither do I believe it necessary to make a fuss about religion if you have got it." Can you explain what "rattle-box" religion is? and do you think if a person is saved, and a Christian, they should keep still about it?

A. I cannot answer your question. The scriptures nowhere refer to "rattle box religion," such statements in a sermon are nonsensical.

As to the second statement to which you refer, and in answer to your question, I will say, the devil will bank his fires any time to go and listen to that kind of preaching. No sir, by no means is a man a Christian who claims to have accepted Jesus, and then remains silent. A Christian cannot be kept silent. You must link with your faith in Jesus, work or you are lost. James, 1:22, 23; James 2:17, 20, 21, 22, 24, 26.

Q. Can you explain to me what is the temple, as spoken about in First Corinthians, third chapter, 17th verse. I will thank you for an answer.

A. 1 Cor. 3:17 is to be interpreted literally. The "Temple of God" here is the Church. There were false teachers among the Corinthians, who not only lived loosely themselves, but advocated licentious practices in the church; and any who so corrupt, pollute, defile the Church of God, is in danger of destruction.

Q. Doctor, what would you recommend for a young man just beginning Bible study, in preparation for the ministry?

A. First, be sure you are soundly converted to Jesus Christ. Then read First Thessalonians. That epistle was written by Paul to young converts. It should be deeply studied. Afterwards take a thorough course in Galatians to establish yourself in the doctrines of grace, following with Philippians, which presents right Christian experience. After this take up Luke and John.

Q. Do you think that, giving suppers, selling of boxes, etc., and where kissing games are allowed, is a sinful way of raising money for the church, or the Lord's work?

A. Church suppers, box socials, teas, etc., for the raising of money are not explicitly forbidden, and therefore cannot be called sinful. But they are contrary to the Spirit of Scriptures, and would be wholly unnecessary of 1 Corinthians 16:2 were obeyed. Such expedients do not tend toward spirituality and the church which allows them becomes the butt of the ungodly. A converted hand in its own pocket is the biblical means of "raising" money for the Lord.

A Christian parent will not allow their children to enter into "kissing games," and an adult certainly would not do so unless mentally impaired.

Q. Doctor, I wish you to answer this question for me: How in the name of common sense can you expect worldly people as you preachers call them, to have faith in your churches when as a matter of truth

LEGAL NOTICES

Probate Notice.

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix: At a session of said court, held at the Probate office in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 8th day of December, A. D. 1920,

Present: Servetus A. Correll, Probate Judge.

In the matter of the estate of Thomas M. Stroud, deceased.

The above estate having been admitted to probate and Eugene E. Stroud appointed administrator thereof. It is ordered that four months from this date be allowed for creditors to present their claims against said estate, and that such claims will be heard by said court on Monday, the 2nd day of May, A. D. 1921, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the Probate office in the City of Charlevoix. It is further ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper published and circulated in this county.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date the 5th day of September 1911, executed by Louise A. Rodgers to Alexander M. Ross, to secure the payment of $800.00 and the interest thereon at seven per cent per annum, and which said mortgage is recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, in Liber 48 of mortgages on page 335; and said mortgage having been on the 26th day of October 1920, duly assigned by the said Alexander M. Ross to James W. Nowland, and which said assignment was recorded in Liber 55 of mortgages on page 53; by the non-payment of the note and interest thereon, secured by said mortgage, the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is Eight Hundred Thirty-four (834.00) Dollars.

Notice is therefore hereby given, no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now claimed to be due upon said mortgage or any part thereof, that the premises described in said mortgage to-wit: Commencing at a point 1849 feet west of the quarter (1/4) post between Sections 23 and 24 in Township thirty-four North, Range eight west; thence south three hundred and thirty feet (330); thence west five hundred and twenty-eight (528) feet; thence north three hundred and thirty (330) feet; thence east five hundred twenty-eight (528) feet to the place of commencement; Containing four acres of land, located on the west half of the southeast quarter of Section Twenty-three, Township thirty-four north, Range eight west, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the 11th day of February 1921, to satisfy the amount due on said note secured by said mortgage and the expenses of sale including an attorney fee of Twenty-five Dollars provided for in said mortgage.

GOSPEL QUESTION BOX.

Q. You know they are filled with hypocrites. And then, too, some preachers seem to think if a man has his name on the church records, and pays in a good amount of money, he is a Christian, when at the same time he goes out and lives like the devil. What do you think of such a man?

A. That there are hypocrites in the church, I shall not attempt to deny, but let me say to you sir, you had better get in the church and live right yourself and try to convert them, for Hell will be full of hypocrites, and you can better afford to spend a little time with them here in the church, than all eternity in Hell with them. What do I think of a man who has his name on a church book, pays a good amount of money into the church and lives a life of sin? I would liken him to Judas. Judas bought a ticket for Hell with thirty pieces of silver, about $15.95 of our money, and it wasn't a round trip ticket. Brother, God will not send the wind to drive our ships of life unless we clean up and have faith sufficient to lift our sails.

Q. In these days, is it not difficult for one to know what creed, or belief, to take a firm, sure stand?

A. No, it ought not to be, since the Holy scriptures give that foundation. No one who bows his whole being in obedience to the Bible has ever been put to shame, or made shipwreck of life.

Q. What is your opinion about the Roman Catholic church. Don't you think they are a draw-back to real Christianity?

A. This Question Box is not conducted for the purpose of throwing slurs at any church, or to cast reflections of an unkind nature on anybody. I have always maintained that no man is big enough to find fault with another's religious belief.

Q. I would like you to tell me what is the real difference between conversion and regeneration?

A. Conversion is the act of man in turning from sin to God through faith in Jesus Christ; regeneration, the response of God to conversion and is "the impartation of a new nature, even God's own nature" (Torrey) through the recreative power of the spirit. John 3:5, 6; 2 Cor. 5:17; R. V. 2 Peter 1:4. "Regeneration is God's act; conversion is ours" (Hodges).

Rate Live in Tree Tops.

Rats are vegetarian by choice, but they can readily adapt themselves to any conditions. In Hawaii, for instance, where they were chased baldly by the mongoose, they have acquired the habit of living in the tree tops, where they are free from their tormentors.

How We Got Collars.

It is about a hundred years since the collar came into being as a commercial proposition. It has been suggested that the backbone of teeth or claws, or string of beads, with which our early ancestors adorned themselves, was the forerunner of the modern collar.

Infinitesimal.

It's a very small part of the trouble in the world that is caused by keeping one's mouth shut. Boston Evening Transcript.

1920 DEER KILL SETS NEW MARK

More Venison Taken Than During the Longer Season.

Reports from the Straits of Mackinac give the number of deer shipped from Upper Michigan into the lower peninsula during the ten-day hunting season as 5,079. The 1919 total was given in express company's records as 4,809 during a 20-day season. In spite of the shortening of the season, 270 more deer were shipped out this year than last.

This year the count shows the shipments to include 2,290 does and fawns and 2,789 bucks.

Based on the estimate that one-third of the deer slaughtered in the up-state were killed by lower peninsula hunters, the total for the year—including those killed by upper peninsula residents, and non-residents of the state—would run over 15,000. Many sportsmen place the number as high as 20,000, however.

The season was by far the largest in upper peninsula history.

Wool goods for winter, you will need them now. Just what you need in stock. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 441f.

All services next Sunday as usual. A special offering will be taken in the Sunday school to be equally divided between the children of Armenia and the Methodist Children's Home in Detroit. All some prepared to give.

* Meeting of prayer and praise next Thursday night at 7:30.

WILL GIVE AID ON INCOME TAX REPORTS

Government to Assist in Making Out Tax Returns.

Extensive plans for aiding taxpayers in filing their income tax returns for the year 1920 are being made by the bureau of internal revenue. Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to assist in making out the forms. The date of their arrival and the location of their office will be announced. The services of government experts heretofore offered to city residents will be continued. Forms for filing 1920 returns of income will be sent by collectors to persons who last year filed a return. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a person from his obligation to file a return within the time prescribed. Copies may be obtained from offices of collectors of internal revenue, branch offices, postoffices and banks, and are expected to be available on or before January 1.

TAX EXEMPTIONS GOOD FOR 1 YEAR

Veterans and Widows Required to Make New Request.

All veterans and veterans' widows of the Mexican, Civil or Spanish American wars, who desire exemption from taxes as provided by law, are required under a new statute to file the claim for such exemptions with the assessor or the board of review each year and exemption is desired.

Heretofore it was only necessary to file the exemption claim once, which was good so long as the claimant owned the property on which the exemption was desired.

The law gives an exemption in taxes to such veterans or their widows up to a valuation of $1,000, after which the exemption is no longer operative. This means that property valued at over $1,000 will be assessed in excess of $1,000.

Spanish-American war veterans have recently been included in the list of those who may secure tax exemption.

AID TAXPAYERS FILING RETURNS

INCOME TAX MEN WILL ASSIST THOSE IN DOUBT.

Agent to Visit Every County in State to Explain Regulations Governing 1920 Tax.

Extensive plans for aiding taxpayers in filing income tax returns for 1920 are being made by the bureau of internal revenue. Revenue officers will visit every county in the United States to assist in making out the forms. The date of their arrival and the location of their offices will be announced through the press, or may be obtained on inquiry at offices of collectors of internal revenue and branch offices. The services of government experts heretofore offered to city residents will be continued.

Forms for filing 1920 returns will be sent by collectors to persons who last year filed a return. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a person from his obligation to file a return within the time prescribed. Copies may be obtained from offices of collectors of internal revenue, branch offices, post offices and banks, and are expected to be available on or before January 1.

Revenue officers assigned to the work of assisting taxpayers will be supplied with forms, concerning which and the various items of income to be included, they will be prepared to answer any and all questions. It has been demonstrated, however, that many questions may be eliminated if the taxpayer, before seeking the assistance of a revenue officer, will carefully study the instructions on the form.

The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1921. The tax, this year, as last, may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four installments, the first of which is due on or before March 15, the second on or before June 15, the third on or before September 15, and the fourth on or before December 15. The first installment must accompany the filing of the return.

Persons whose individual net income for 1920 was $5,000 and less should ask for Form 1040 A. Those whose individual net income was in excess of $5,000 should ask for Form 1040.

The bureau of internal revenue is urging taxpayers not to delay in the filing of their returns. Merchants and business men are casting up their accounts for the calendar year 1920. With the facts and figures necessary to make a correct return fresh in their minds, the making out of a form soon after January 1 will be an easier task, the bureau points out, than if delayed.

The requirements of the revenue act relating to returns for the year 1920 are the same as those for the year 1919. Every single person whose net income for 1920 was $1,000 or more and every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more must file a return. The exemptions are $1,000 for a single person and $2,000 for married persons and heads of families, plus an additional exemption of $200 for each person dependent upon the taxpayer for chief support if such person is under eighteen years of age and incapable of self support. A single person may claim an exemption of $2,000 as the head of a family if he is the sole support of one or more relatives living in the same house with him, and if he exercises control over household affairs. Deductions from gross income to which the taxpayer is entitled in arriving at net income are fully explained in the instructions on the forms.

The bureau is emphasizing this year that the requirement to file a return rests solely upon a person's marital status and the amount of his or her net income for the year 1920. Single persons whose net income was $1,000 or more and married persons whose net income was $2,000 or more must file a return regardless of whether their incomes are non-taxable by reason of their exemptions.

The normal tax rate for 1920 is four per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemption, and eight per cent on the remaining net income. The surtax rate which is computed without the benefit of the exemption, ranges from one per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent on the amount of net income in excess of $1,000,000.

For the information of taxpayers in filing their returns, there has been prepared by the bureau of internal revenue, a series of short articles on the income tax laws and 1920 regulations, the first of which will appear on January 3. Errors heretofore made have been noted, and the taxpayer is told now this year how they may be avoided.

PLEASANT CHRISTMAS AT MARION SCHOOL

Evening Program Held at School
Number Five

Extensive preparations were made by Marion School No. 5 for their Christmas program this year. Miss Clara Thorsen is the teacher in this school and with the aid of the entire district a Christmas program was arranged that was a grand success.

On Thursday evening, December 16th a Box Social was given under the auspices of the Loeb Farms which netted $42, which was turned over to the school to be applied upon the purchase of candy, fruit, nuts and books for the children.

Thursday night, December 23rd, the Christmas program was held at the school house. A beautifully decorated tree was of course the main attraction. The tree was lighted with electric lights and candles. There were about one-hundred persons present and it was a big night for the children. About seventy-five pounds of candy was distributed among them, also nuts and a crate of oranges, a gift from Mr. R. P. Sloan. That they may be able to spend many more Christmas events as happy as this one is the wish of the entire community.

Charlevoix Marbury Takes Coveted Honors at 1920 National Dairy Show Held at Chicago.

The following article has been taken from the Holstein-Friesian Register, a cattle publication which is recognized the world over as authority on Holstein-Friesian cattle. It consists of the pedigree of the senior yearly bull Charlevoix Marbury placed in the 1920 National Dairy Show at Chicago by the Loeb Farms, who carried off the blue ribbon honors. Although only two years old the Loeb herd is considered one of the best in the country and much is expected from them in cattle circles in the next few years.

Starting two years ago with a foundation herd of the cow Danish Guanabacoa De Kol 239802 (23.2 pounds and 29.9 pounds) three of her daughters, Petoskey Queen Pledge, Petoskey Revere Belle De Kol and Petoskey Butter Girl; Danish Pontiac Korndyke 322512 and her daughter Petoskey Sweet Friend 450485, the Loeb Farms, Charlevoix, Michigan, has made such progress in Holstein breeding activities that their senior yearling bull, Charlevoix Marbury 288868, was awarded the blue ribbon in his class at the 1920 National Dairy Show.

A winner at the National has the stamp of popular approval, especially when the ribbons are tied by so fair and experienced a judge as Mr. Moscrip; but from his picture which we present to our readers, it will be seen that Charlevoix Marbury deserved his award.

Handsome he undoubtedly is; but what has besides his type to pass along to his progeny?

Examination of his pedigree shows that he is backed by performance on both sides. His sire is King Walker of Colrain 137201, who has a 21-lb. daughter, Kolrain Ruby Walker, and is by King of the Black and Whites 83354 cut of Queen Walker Piete 189667 (29.11 lbs.) half-sister to Betsy Walker Colantha 31.99 lbs., Clara Colantha Clothilde 30.3 lbs., Lottie Walker Colantha 29.89 lbs. and to 26 proven bulls by the same sire.

The paternal grandsire of the young bull, King of the Black and Whites, has 43 A. R. O. daughters, the highest of which is Ruby Walker Piete 24. 29.4, and 26 proven sons, and is a descendant of the great King Segis 36168 (87 A. R. O. daughters) who has to his credit five grand-daughters with records of 1000 lbs. of butter and the century sire, King Segis Pontiac.

THE NEW YEAR

The New Year comes in the midnight hour
When the beautiful world is still,
And the moonlight falls in a silver stream
Over meadow and wood and hill.

We can not hear the tread of his feet,
For so silently comes he;
But the ringing bells the good news tell
As they sound over land and sea.

Where'er he steps new joys uprising,
And hopes, that were lost or dim,
Grow sweet and strong in the golden hours,
That he everywhere bears with him.

He brings us snow from the fleecy clouds;
He sends us the springtime showers;
He gladdens our world with the light of love
And fills its lap with flowers.

Some day, as softly as he came,
He will pass through the open door,
And we who sing at his coming now
Will never see him more.

—Marie Zetterberg.

bury is of most illustrious breeding, being out of Kolrain Alexander Korndyke 211567 (17.68 lbs. as a 3-yr.-old) whose sire, Pontiac Lundie Korndyke Prince 43201 (22 A. R. O. daughters), is a son of Pontiac Korndyke the century sire of the only double century bull of the breed, King of the Pontines 39037, who has 257 A. R. O. daughters, three with over 1000 lbs. of butter a year, 36 with from 500 lbs. to 974.7 lbs., 29 with from 30 to 44 lbs. and 140 above 20 lbs., besides having 150 proven sons.

It seems not too much to say that this young bull is the very concentration of productive ability made possible by years of careful selection and coupling; and that on such material Loeb Farms should be able to build most successfully in the future. They have as their herd bull Sir Pietertje Ormsby Mercedes 40th 132722, a 30-lb. sire, full brother to Queen Piete Ormsby Mercedes who made 1136 lbs. in a year in four year form. Semi-official testing is the rule and there are six animals in the herd that will soon finish with at least 1000 lbs., so the management expects. Evidently they feel at Loeb Farms that if a thing is worth doing at all it's worth doing well. Living up to that idea with painstaking zeal, they deserve and will undoubtedly achieve a full measure of success with their Holstein-Friesians.

BRADY'S RAT VS. WITHER'S CAT

Rodent Proves Victorious in Two Stirring Encounters.

The recent Dempsey-Willard contest had nothing on a spirited encounter that took place in the back room of the Brady meat market Tuesday of this week.

The Brady organization had captured a large, ferocious rat and placed him in a large crock, where he squealed forth a challenge to all the cats in the neighborhood.

It took some time for the first challenger to appear, but at last a large Tom cat was secured from Wither's restaurant and the battle started. From the first the cat was none too anxious, and each attempt to enter the stronghold of the rat ended disastrously, and after several attempts the cat retreated in full defeat. Possibly being a restaurant cat and used to T-bone steaks, the rat diet did not appear tempting enough and again the sight of Brady's sausage machine nearby may have kept the cat from putting up a better fight. At any event, the cat was licked and the rat still squealed his challenge.

The next victim was a mangy looking yellow cat which evidently issued from some scheduled corner in Emrey's express room. This cat certainly looked if he need a square meal, but failed to make one of the rat and the contest ended with the rat in as good shape as ever.

The Sloan "fish hound" was next on the list, and one look at the mangy rat was enough for him, and it remained for Mike Hamlin's famous "rat hound" to finish the job. Mike's dog took one lusty bite and all that remained of the rat was foot-prints.

The exact date of the next match has not been announced, but due to the success of the last, another encounter will probably be arranged in the near future. Ringside seats are on sale at the Brady Meat Market or Hamlin Bros. Grocery.

PLAN TO BREED LARGER TROUT

State Fish Commission to Build Up
Fish in Northern Michigan.

In an effort to build up the size of speckled trout in Michigan lakes and streams and retain the present sporting quality of these beautiful game fish, the Michigan fish commission has brought from Grand Coteau, Quebec, seventy-four thousand trout eggs and will use these trout for breeders at the hatchery at Petoskey says the Evening News.

The eggs were taken from trout weighing from four and one-half to eight pounds and the largest brook trout will be used with the new fish in breeding a larger sized brook trout for Michigan.

At the Petoskey hatchery are one million five hundred thousand speckled trout eggs and a similar amount of German brown trout eggs being hatched. Next week a million and a half more speckled trout eggs will be received at the Petoskey plant for hatching.

Work on the new building near Oden is rapidly nearing completion and the pools are dug and being allowed to settle during the winter. They will be concreted next spring, and the ground will then be beautified.

EXPRESS FEELINGS OF GRATITUDE

Dominican Sisters Appreciate Efforts of Those Who Helped

The Dominican Sister wish to extend their feelings of gratitude to the members of St. Mary's Parish for their kindness and generosity, also for co-operating with them in the work of the school. An honorable mention is due Mr. F. E. Carter, who so generously donated the Christmas candy for the children. They will always look with a kindly feeling toward their (sweet) benefactor.

MRS. R. L. LEWIS ENTERTAINS LADIES

Hostess at a Miscellaneous Shower in Honor of Miss Iddings.

Mrs. R. L. Lewis entertained Thursday of last week at her home on Park avenue, with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Horatio Iddings, who is to be a New Year's bride.

The house was tastefully arranged with evergreens, a huge Christmas tree completing the decorations, in which were attached long ribbons leading to the gifts hidden in various parts of the house.

The guests were the Misses Ruth and Bessie Hammett, Mrs. J. Crouter, Mrs. Dorothy Crouter, Mrs. H. L. Iddings, Mrs. Robert Bridge, Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, Mrs. Earl Young, Miss Iona Cotton, Dorothy Armstrong and Miss King, sister of Mrs. Lewis.

PRICE FAMILY ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

Charlevoix Folks Drive to Ironton and Enjoy the Outing.

Miss Horatio Iddings was again honored when Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Price entertained a number of young people from Charlevoix at their home at Ironton Wednesday evening of this week.

The guests who were the Misses Ruth and Bessie Hammett, Horatio Iddings, Mrs. Dorothy Crouter, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge, Clare Cartier, Richard Hammett, Jr., Harold Van Kirk and John Clark of Jonesville, made the trip in an open sleigh, arriving in the early afternoon. Dinner was served at night and after the usual good time the guests returned.

LOCALS START BASKET BALL

AMERICAN LEGION PLAYS MAN- CELONA DECEMBER 31ST.

Team Composed of Former College and High School Stars—Mancelona Has Fast Team

Friday night, December 31st, should be an interesting one for the Charlevoix public. It will not only usher in a brand new year but will also mark the appearance of a brand new basketball team and the first game of the season.

Charlevoix has always been noted for its basketball teams and the merits of these teams are well known throughout this section of the state. Last year the high school turned out a team which captured the championship of the northern part of the state and prospects for this year are equally as bright. There is no one in the city who is a basketball fan that has forgotten the "Herks", the Charlevoix independent team of a few seasons back that took tennis from all over the state in camp. From the stars of these teams the American Legion team representing Charlevoix will be picked.

It might be well to personally mention some of the individual players who will perform in Friday's game. Of the most recent stars will be Weststaff, center on last year's High School team. Those who have watched this man in action know that he is a hard center to beat. Another man of whom much is expected is Joe Sanford. Joe has been putting them in for Notre Dame College at South Bend for the past two years, and as Notre Dame is considered among the foremost athletic organizations in the United States, one of their players needs no further recommendation. Also among those appearing Friday night is Ned Durance, probably the best athlete ever turned out of Charlevoix High School. Ned was a mainstay on the "Herks" holding down a guard position during their championship years and for the past year has been playing with the fast Flint Independent team. Much is expected of Tuttle present coach of the High School team who has had four years experience on the Kalamazoo Western State Normal team. Others who will appear in the line-up are Edwards a former Albion College man, Percy Durance of the local High School, Lawrence Dillefson and Frank Poole, the old rough and ready.

DEATH TAKES OLD SETTLER

DR. LEVI LEWIS PASSES AWAY
AT AGE OF 81 YEARS.

Deceased Was First Physician in This Territory—Administered to Ill
Throughout Region.

The entire community received a severe shock Wednesday upon learning of the sudden death of Dr. Levi Lewis, for many years a resident of this city and one of the oldest pioneers of this region.

Dr. Lewis was one of the first physicians in this territory and of the old school. Long before roads connected the settlements of Northern Michigan, he was administering to the ills of the settlers of this region, making the long, tedious trips on horseback and undergoing much hardship in order that medical attention could be had by those suffering.

Trips as far south as Elk Rapids, and north to Little Traverse, now known as Harbor Springs, through the unbroken wilderness, were frequently made and in the country surrounding East Jordan and Boyne City, Dr. Lewis was a regular visitor. It is no wonder that one administering to his fellow men under these difficulties is well known and respected throughout this section of the state.

Death took Dr. Lewis at the age of eighty-one, the cause being bronchial trouble, from which he has been bothered for several years, but at the time of his death he had been ill less than twenty-four hours. Doctors were first called Tuesday night and the deceased passed away at 10:30 Wednesday morning, December 29.

Dr. Levi Lewis was born at Whitby, Canada, September 16, 1839, and received his medical education at that place. He began his medical practice in 1864, and first moved to Michigan in 1867, locating at St. Clair. During the winter of 1869-70 he moved to Charlevoix and has made this place his home since.

In 1871 he was united in marriage to Esther Jane Nelson, who died in this city December 25, 1898. Three living children survive this union. Dr. W. F. Lewis of Tustin, Mich., Edith Lewis Dipple of Grand Rapids, and R. L. Lewis of this city.

May 23, 1901, he was married to Margaret Henry, who survives him. Dr. Lewis was a Master Mason, being a life member. Several interesting points in his life are brought out. During his fifty-two years of residence here he was actively interested in public life. He built the opera house, which is still standing, also operated a drug store here in the early days. He owned the first buggy brought into this region and has always been an earnest worker in any movement that would be of betterment to the public.

The funeral will be held from the home of his son, R. L. Lewis, on Park avenue, either Saturday or Sunday, the exact date being undecided at the time we go to press, and will be under the auspices of the Masonic order. Interment in the family vault in Brookside cemetery.

LOCAL PHYSICIAN RECEIVES SENTENCE

Dr. G. W. King Given One Year and One Day.

Sentence was passed upon the case of Dr. G. W. King of this city, resulting from the trial held in the federal court at Grand Rapids a few weeks ago, where he was arraigned for violation of the Federal Drug act.

Twenty-two counts were presented against Dr. King, and he was convicted of being unable to account for about five ounces of narcotic and was sentenced to serve one year and a day at the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas.

EMREY FAMILY REUNION.

The R. A. Emrey home, in the Coulter house on Clinton street, was the scene of a good, old-fashioned family reunion Friday evening. A Christmas tree was fully enjoyed by the younger members of the family, after which a Christmas dinner was served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Preston and daughter, Betty of Petoskey, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey and children and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Emrey and son, Robert.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

December 24, 1920.

Seed Department.

Market steady with slight recession in clover and timothy yesterday. Question has been raised "why did the Seed Department base its prices on Toledo Prime?" Because Toledo is the world market criterion on clover seed. Not enough other states are doing what the Michigan State Farm Bureau is doing for its members and inasmuch as Michigan alone does not control enough of the commodity to establish stable yearly prices disregarding other markets, we follow the plan of charging 50 cents per bushel above Toledo Prime price on the day order is received for Farm Bureau No. 1 clover. On this basis we can successfully meet any competion on the same quality seed, and can assure a square deal to either the farmer who wishes to buy or the one who wishes to sell. In addition, the man who buys Farm Bureau Brand No. 1 clover knows he is getting Michigan grown seed, true to name, with purity and germination according to test made by state seed analyst.

Farm Bureau Brand No. 1 seed bears no relation to Toledo prime except on the price basis. Toledo prime is a more or less theoretical grade decided each year by Toledo Produce Exchange. Seed of either Mammoth or June varieties, Italian, Michigan or Podunk growth of high or low germination can be used to fill contract prime orders, providing it has proper external appearance. The farmer is forgotten in many other tricks of the trade in handling prime that space forbids us to outline.

Extract from letter received December 16, 1920, from A. J. Lown, manager of Millersburg Co-Op. Marketing Assn, who shipped a car of alsike to Seed department warehouse a month ago:

"The way you people have handled the clover seed we have shipped you has been very satisfactory with us. I am going to ship another car as soon as I can get it assembled. Please send 100 more bags. If at any time I can be of service to you or this end of the line, drop me a line and I will be Johnny on the spot." (Signed) A. J. Lown.

To us that kind of a letter is like saying "sic 'em" to a dog.

The ones who have placed their orders for Grimm and Common are going to get the cream of the crop and when shipments begin to reach destination in about 10 days to two weeks, those who want seed will wish they had ordered. Some Grimm can still be obtained from growing sections. In Idaho the seed is now selling for more than we paid and the best seed has left the country. However, if you want genuine Grimm we can get it but it will cost a little more than first orders, but don't let anyone fool you with quotations of cheap Grimm. Watch out for common alfalfa this year. Crop was near failure in Dakotas and Montana. Kansas has a large crop, poor quality, weathered seed. We can get it cheap if you insist. Idaho and Utah have a large crop of fine appearing seed, but if you want to get Dodder, you can sure get it there. Common seed bought is dodder free but it is a scarce article. However, we have two or three large lots of fine quality dodder free seed lined up. Nicholson will be in Idaho on Jan. 12, so can line up seed for any additional order. First purchase common will be billed at somewhere between 24 and 26 cents per pound, depending upon size of order and whether you want seed scarified or not. Those who have ordered common and want it at cheapest prices, notify, otherwise we will test germination and use discretion as to scarification or not.

Purchasing Department.

From November 24 to December 24 the Purchasing department handled 116 cars of commodities, including salt, fence posts, coal, cottonseed meal, oil meal, mixed feeds, flour, etc., with 134 cars in transit, making a grand total of 250 cars of actual filled orders. This does not include orders for fertilizer, insecticides, white arsenic and other commodities and held in our purchase files for future shipments, covering and additional 150 cars.

Flour.

Market unsettled to lower. We sell only highest grade flour on the market, and in position at all times to beat competition. If congress passes on the protective tariff rates imposed on agricultural products, look for higher markets. This is before congress today. The tariff rate on wheat is 30c per bushel and corn 15c per bushel. While this bill was agreed upon by the committee, some members oppose it.

Binder Twine.

Get your signed orders on this commodity with fertilizer orders and wool twine orders. Considerable saving can be made on all of these commodities and should be considered at this time.

Wire Fence.

We announce we have made arranged to handle the woven wire fence, smooth wire, barbed wire, nails and staples of the American Steel & Wire Co. Samples of wire fence furnished on request. Mill conditions make it necessary to order these goods now in order to meet farmers' spring requirements. Please make a list of material you can handle between now and June 1. Send it to us at your earliest convenience. We will quote prices. It is unnecessary to state destination and consignee to receive service from these people.

Cottonseed Meal.

Received information from the south about a special meeting of oil mill men, planters and others to set the price. However, there is nothing binding and no government supervision of any sort. This move is simply to check continued decline and prevent useless bankruptcy of planters. Market on this commodity is very low, and feel our members should keep their orders booked. If it is possible they will raise the market.

Elevator Exchange.

Fifty-four cars of hay and grain were handled by the Elevator Exchange during November and December. The amount of business done in that time was $250,455. The business of the Elevator Exchange to date has been an amount sufficient to pay back to the state farm bureau money received during its organization period.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Virgin of Stamboul," super special production, at the Palace Theatre, two days, Friday and Saturday.

Between a cruel and powerful sheik of Arabia and a daring American captain of the famous Black Horse Troop, a deadly feud arose for possession of Sari, the lovely, unveiled Virgin, beggar girl of the Stamboul streets. One she hated and dreaded—the other she almost loved. Then, one fateful day, she entered, unseen, a Turkish mosque, forbidden to women under penalty of death. There she saw a sight that froze the blood in her veins—that changed her in a moment from a care-free girl to a woman. What was the dreadful act Sari saw in the sacred mosque? who committed it, and why? What became of the Sheik and the American as a consequence of what she saw? Those are tremendous moments in "The Virgin of Stamboul." Don't miss them.

You will need them now and can save one-fourth the original cost if you buy Sweaters, Mackinaws, Coats and Pants of Benj. Brown. Adv. 52tf.

PUT IT UP TO HIM.

Write your congressman and ask him if when the next reapportionment is made he proposes to help reduce the representation in Congress and the electoral college of states where representative government actually exists, in order to provide thirty or forty members of the House and the electoral college for mythical constituencies of negroes and poor whites who are never permitted to get in sight of a ballot box, especially in view of the fact that in so doing he will be violating his oath to support a constitution which contains a mandatory provision for deduction of representation of states which reduce their voting population.

THE DAMAGE IS DONE.

Enacting an import tariff law now to save farmers is very much like shutting the stable door after the horse has escaped. Canadian wheat, Australian wool, Argentine meat and Oriental vegetable oils have been coming in at such a rate as to demoralize the market of the American producer, and an import duty now will be of only little help so far as this year's products are concerned. The farmers of the country now fully realize the disastrous nature of the free trade law the Democratic party wrote upon the statute books in 1913.

POPULAR ADVICE.

There are a lot of people who are at loss to understand the crime wave which has been steadily growing in strength for some years past. Possibly it had some of its inception in the remark of an eminent government official who wanted to "hang higher than Haman" certain substantial citizens who went to the national capital to confer with their duly chosen representatives concerning enactment of laws for the welfare of the country. Really, you know, in dealing with people who get in your way, there is little material difference between hanging and shooting.

FARMER FRISKED FOR IT.

Somewhat or other, the American farmers, who have just sustained a loss of about $3,500,000,000 in the value of their products, are not very enthusiastic over the proposal to cancel $10,000,000,000 of debts due from Europe to the United States. If European nations do not pay the debt, America must, and if America must, a large proportion of the burden will fall ultimately on the producer of raw materials.

A BELATED STUDY.

After March 1 President Wilson will occupy a private residence in Washington and observe how economy can be practiced in government service by men who know how.

EXPERTS IN ADVICE.

Most of the so-called "tax-experts" who offer advice to the ways and means committee are people who never paid many taxes.

That there is honor among thieves may be true, but as one reads of the way in which bootleggers are flimflamming each other he reaches the unalterable conclusion that there is no honor among the fraternity. There never was such an animal as an honorable booze vender. About ninety per cent of them have a name ending ski, wicz, or at least it is unpronounceable and indicates they are aliens, bolsheviks, anarchists or other "reds."

President Wilson has again sent the name of John Skelton Williams to a senate he knows will refuse to confirm him. John Skelton is about as qualified to fill the office of comptroller of currency as a Missouri mule would be to sing Caruso's roles in grand opera.

While this country is being reluked by aliens in spirit for its alleged selfishness and isolation, it is recorded that America is doing more to feed and clothe the suffering people of Europe than all of the European powers combined.

The governor of Alaska suggests in his report that when a man establishes an industry in Canada he is knighted, but in Alaska he is indicted. In other words its knight over there and good-night over here.

President Harding doesn't like jazz. We have recently added a constitutional amendment on wine, no other on women, and maybe now there will be a movement to have one on song.

The big excitement about the blue laws some obscenity proposed in Washington recently, gives a lot of editors and other people something to worry about that has no chance of happening.

The earthquake tremor in Argentina may have been a manifestation of the rage of that country at the manner in which her delegates to the league convention were treated.

There was apparently as much joy in Greece when her people got their king back as there will be in American when we get rid of ours.

ROAD BUILDING

PACIFIC COAST GOOD ROADS

Interest Centers Particularly in Highway Extending From California to Washington.

By HERBERT NUNN, State Highway Engineer of Oregon.

The Pacific coast is particularly interested in our national highway; that is the Pacific coast highway extending from California to Oregon and Washington. This when completed will have approximate length of some 1,400 miles, and the large part of it is now completed or nearing completion.

Mr. Fletcher of California stated to me that his state had completed 325 miles, extending from Los Angeles north to Sacramento, and we are now under contract to complete the road. Oregon now has under contract on this road some 400 miles of construction, all of which will be completed by the middle of next year. 200 miles of which will be paved and the rest macadam or gravel. Washington has completed this road to Seattle and next year its entire length will be complete.

I am unable to see at this time just how much money was expended during the year 1919 in the three states, but in Oregon approximately $7,000,000 was expended. The three states, however, are pretty well fixed financially.

California has a new bond issue for $10,000,000 and previously has expended some $23,000,000. Oregon has some $22,000,000 available and roads to cost $19,000,000 to $20,000,000 under construction. Washington has less money. They failed to carry the bond issue there this year, but have between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 available for next year.

The eastern connections with the Pacific highway are the Santa Fe trail, the Lincoln highway, and the Midland road. I think the Santa Fe is pretty well cared for. It connects with southern California. In Oregon we are connecting with the southern highway and with the Columbia river highway.

Labor conditions on the Pacific coast are about the same as in the East.

Improved Road in Oregon.

The pay is about $1.50 with $7.50 for teams. We don't expect better labor conditions next year. Material conditions are better. In Oregon we have sufficient local material and don't require much rail transportation. Washington is fixed similarly. So is northern California. Southern California is in worse condition as to transportation.

Importance only to producing food for the family. In the opinion of the United States department of agriculture, Farm management studies in the southern states indicate that the most profitable farms not only produce the necessary farm crops but have a surplus of them to sell, and that the live stock is usually of better quality and better grade on the farms producing a surplus than on farms where staple feeds are bought. These facts are brought out in a series of 16 tests formulated by the department of agriculture to show whether or not a farm is being efficiently managed.

The average farm family, made up of five adult persons or their equivalent, requires for its proper maintenance 2 cows, 40 fowls for furnish egg and poultry meat, and 1 pig for each adult person or his equivalent. Enough calves should be raised to replace each cow reaching the age of 8 years. This family live stock, it is calculated, will require 1 ton of corn and cob meal, 1,234 pounds of condensed meal, 55 bushels of corn, 40 bushels of oats, 4,200 pounds of cowpea hay, 2,100 pounds of oat hay, 4,200 pounds of corn roughage, green forage from 2 acres, and 4 acres of pasture or their equivalent. A fair provision to a head for work stock is 60 bushels of corn, 10 bushels of oats, and 3 tons of roughage. The arrangement of crops and pastures to meet these requirements are suggested in United States department of agriculture circular No. 83, "Testing Farms, in the South for Efficiency in Management."

HIGH SCHOOL GYM COLLAPSES

Old Gymnasium Building in Boyne City a Wreck.

We reproduce the following article from the Boyne Citizen, as many of our residents, especially those who have or are attending school, will be interested. The old building has been a landmark for years, and has housed many a crowd at athletic contests:

"Probably never before in the history of Boyne City—in fact we are told by old inhabitants that never before in the city's history—had so much snow fallen in a like period of time, as fell last week.

"It has necessitated the shoveling off of 'the beautiful' from roofs in order to relieve them of the tremendous weight. And Christmas morning, about five o'clock, the mass of snow on the roof of the gymnasium caused its downfall—the roof simply crumbled the sidewalks out and fell in upon the floor.

"Earlier in the evening the Gym had been visited by a merry crowd of basket ball players and fans, but fortunately they had concluded their practice and all gone home when the collapse came, or the city's Merry Christmas would have been sadly marred.

"City officials have done their best to cause the streets and sidewalks to be kept accessible to traffic, but Rapids, where they will visit friends and relatives. Miss Thelma will also impossible one."

THURSDAY, DEC. 30—Paramount presents Marguerite Clark in "Little Miss Hoover." Also Rowland comedy "Go As You Please."

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, DECEMBER 31 and JANUARY 1—Carl Laemmle presents the years most stupendous picture, the super special "Virgin of Stamboul." Six months in the making. Thousands of players in the mighty cast. Cost five hundred thousand dollars to produce. Simply magnificent in its far-flung sweep from Stamboul to the boundless deserts of Arabia. A picture that lifts you out of yourself with its living, throbbing, heart appeal, surrounded by all the splendor of the east. HUGE. A stupendous photo drama that fills the mind with emotions as huge as its wondrous pictures. Dramatic, in its lighter moments with delicious comedy as only Priscilla Dean can register it. We could tell you more, but better still, see this wonderful picture. Also a Hank Mann comedy, "Naughty Nurses." Special prices, children 15 cents and adults 30 cents, tax included.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 2—Paramount presents Ethel Clayton in "The 13th Commandment." This is one of Miss Clayton's latest and best pictures. Also a Kinogram News Reel.

How Many Congressmen Do We Need?

When the federal constitution was adopted it was provided that "the number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand" of the population. The fourteenth amendment says: "Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers."

Ten years ago there were 356 representatives. The census having been taken a reapportionment will be provided by congress, next spring. With respect to this forthcoming reapportionment the following facts will be admitted by any honest congressman: First, that the house of representatives is a lamentably inefficient organization. Second, that this condition is almost solely due to the size of the membership. Third, that the public business would be best served by a decrease of at least one-half of the membership of the house.

The writer witnessed the wire-pulling when the last reapportionment was made, following the 1910 census. Member after member in the house got up and protested against increasing the number of representatives above 356. While they were making their patriotic appeals, the "wire-pullers" figured out, state by state, on a basis which would give the Republicans, then in power, new members. Some states got one new representative—others more. Then the voters in the next election returned a democratic house. To provide for more room for these all the desks were removed from the chamber, and these were replaced with benches, a la English—to make room for 435 members.

Representative Hull advocates submitting to the states a constitutional amendment to limit the size of the house to 450 members. Hull's proposal is ridiculous on its face, as an honest congress that would put the interests of the country above political expediency would not need to be hog-tied by a constitutional amendment. Nevertheless there is merit in Hull's suggestion since its application would prevent congress from piling up the dead-wood in congressional membership above a certain limit.

The senate works efficiently because of its limited membership. The house gets worse and worse, and its members increase in numbers, and then each congressman goes back to the people to tell them of the great anxiety about "the public interest." Most of the members right now are more interested in fixing up the lines of their own districts in order to rid counties that went against them in the last election, and replacing them with counties that vote their way, than they are in making a better and more efficient house of representatives, which every mother's son of them knows can be bought about by providing a reapportionment with a greatly lessened number of congressmen, instead of more of them.

Service and Prices.
In the readjustment period the public seems to be showing a keen interest in securing the proper service from the railroads and the public utilities, while the price that they are paying for it is apparently a secondary consideration. It would be a mistake to interpret the above paragraph to imply that the public does not care what the necessities and conveniences cost them—whether the selling party be a public utility or a merchant—but it is a visible fact that the nation has taken on a more independent attitude as a result of the war, and a railroad company or a public utility that attempts to furnish an inferior service finds that it cannot get away with it. This new attitude of the public is reflected in just the same way in the small matters, and the merchant who sells second grade eggs does not need to wait very long before he finds that his store has only second grade customers left.

There has been no end of debate as to whether the manufacturers, the wholesalers, jobbers or retailers have been the greatest profiteers. The fact is that there have been too many overly avaricious concerns and people in all these classes. The public has had to stand for high prices, and just now while these prices are being hammered down that same public is insisting on quality in the rendering of service, as well as in quality in the merchandise and food products which it buys.

In the readjustment period it must not be forgotten that no class of business can operate under pre-war rates with after-war expenses that are 100 to 200 percent greater than in 1914. Therefore the readjustment prices do not contemplate pre-war prices or rates, but they do aim toward establishing a reasonable margin of profit upon everything that is bought and sold. It does not matter whether this be railroad fares, the price of electric lights of power, gas, telephones or shoes and stockings.

Out of the war labor has progressed and the fact that a higher rate of service is demanded by the public than ever before has created a demand for competent labor, which in turn demands salaries and wages commensurate with the service that it renders. You have in these facts a basic condition which the American public not only accepts, but which it has made, and insists upon keeping. In these firmly established relations there are found reasons which every one has recognized, as well as various reasons why prices of all kinds must remain higher than in past years.

Slightly Behind the Times.
A number of different states are endeavoring to perpetuate cheap railroad fare. The administrative and legal authorities of all states know that congress assumed government control of the railroads in passing the transportation act by which the roads were returned to private ownership.

There is no question that congress had this right, and it was a step that was taken after a dozen years of violent discussion. In order to carry out this policy the Interstate Commerce Commission was clothed with administrative powers to fix interstate rates. This power was conferred in such a manner as to meet all the obstructive objections that had been urged in the past by different states. Therefore the attempts of a number of states to perpetuate a cheaper rate within their borders than rates in effect in adjoining states is merely the resurrection of an effort that was made defunct when the present railroad law was enacted. These efforts to secure favoritism do not contain any element that is new, and the courts passed upon these questions so long ago that Congress had no difficulty whatever in thoroughly fastening the loose buttons when federal control was made a fact. The theory of the relation between the government and the railroads is simple enough, since it merely contemplates an absolutely equal basis of rates for all people in all states, with favors for none, so arranged that the act re-

RED RASPBERRIES IN GARDEN

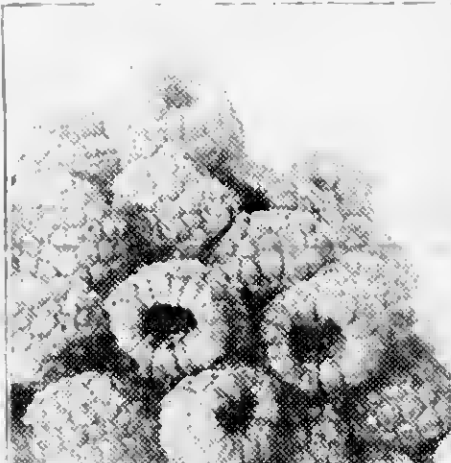

Grown in Hills and Tied to Stakes They Are Easily Kept Clear of Weeds and Grass.

1. Raspberries for home use give best results when grown in hills and tied to stakes. Grown in this way they are easily kept within bounds and the grass and weeds are kept under control. Set three plants in a hill four or five feet apart. The object of setting three plants rather than one is to secure a good growth of canes and a crop of fruit the second year.

2. Set the canes one-half to two inches in diameter and five to six feet apart. Tie the center of each hill to a stake in the spring, and the canes are kept in place with a heavy cord near the top. The ends of the canes may be fastened a bit or cut off just above the top of the stakes. Five or six stakes are enough for each hill. The plants need frequent cultivation during the spring and early summer until the fruit is harvested. One gets a larger yield of fruit, bigger berries and avoids all dirty fruit by stake- ing.

After the bushes are done bearing, the old canes should be cut off and removed. In a commercial plantation this is sold in time to do this before the new spring. Removing the old canes gives the new growth a better chance to develop. If your canes are already planted in rows, it is difficult to stake them, but the same result may be achieved by setting a few posts and stretching a wire along the row at a height of three and one-half to four feet. Some growers use two wires and train the canes between them.

Black and purple raspberries and dewberries are commonly grown on a wire trellis although stakes can be used for the same purpose. The black and purple raspberries propagate from the tips of the current season's growth. Along in August and September these canes bend over to the ground and the tip will take root. Sometimes it is necessary to cover them with a little earth. The red raspberries propagate from suckers.

Handicapped by Height.

As a rule very tall persons are said to be over-sensitive about their height to such a degree that it often proves a handicap in the way of their success in life. A notable instance of this character was the nine-foot giant of Russia, Marlow, who made a fine living by exhibiting himself, yet he was the most miserable person on account of his height.

PROMINENT YOUNG PEOPLE MARRY

Both Bride and Groom Well Known—Congratulations Extended.

Merian Best and Miss Ethel Smith were quietly married at 5:30 o'clock last Friday evening at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. E. E. Clark officiat- ing. The young people were attend- ed by Roscoe G. Smith and Miss Ruth Chelles, the former being a cousin of the bride.

Mr. Best is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Best and is one of the communities finest young men. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith and is well known and highly respected by all who know her. She is primary teacher in the Ellsworth schools, a position she has held for the past two years.

The happy couple will reside in town until the close of the school year at least and their plans after that time will be made later.

turns will pay to stockholders of American railroads a percentage up- on their investments equal, and not greater, than that which big and little industries and mercantile establish- ments demand as their compensation for doing business.

Another Burlesonsque Exhibit.

The report of Postmaster Gen- eral Burleson for the fiscal year 1920 shows a deficit of $17,270,482, the second largest deficit ever known in the post office department. Mr. Burleson blames the deficit upon con- gress, claiming that it was due to the war bonus paid to postal employ- ees under congressional order. In effect, Burleson wanted the post office employees of the country to work for wages that meant starva- tion, and when congress had the good sense to rule otherwise, Burleson lacked the gray matter necessary to put his house in order to meet the new conditions.

It seems quite useless to discuss Mr. Burleson. It is better worth while to congratulate the country upon the fact that the post office de- partment has succeeded in spite of him. It is a further source of grat- ification that he will take his um- brella and rubbers and his old-fash- ioned victoria and remove himself from the realms of post office life within a few short weeks.

Shutting Off Immigration.

Congress is clamping the lid down on indiscriminate immigration, and the flood of foreigners who have been rushing to our shores is to be check- ed for at least a year. The immi- grants to be admitted will come here under very stringent regulations, the chief of which will be that they will joinrelatives who are already Amer- ican citizens. Here we have a con- dition where our own citizens stand as sponsors for foreigners who are permitted to land upon our shores. Obviously the proper thing to do is to close the ports of the United States to immigrants until conditions in this country have resumed a nor- mal status. Then they can be open- ed upon terms which will insure the admission of only those foreigners who come with a high respect for the American government and its insti- tutions and with a desire to become American citizens.

INTEREST IN FARM MOTORS

Government Schools Give Special In- struction in Operation of Trac- tors and Trucks.

The government is calling attention to the increased use of automobiles and motor trucks on the farm, has laid its finger on the one big factor that is going to not only make farm- ing an attractive business proposition, but will increase the number of produc- tive farms and make life on the farm more attractive.

The government schools teach men how to operate farm tractors success- fully, thus creating a new business or profession, that of the farm mechi- nical operating expert—a man who can take hold of the production activities of the farm and through the correct operation of tractors, motor trucks and other motor-driven implements and ap- pliances can double and treble the pro- duction and distribution of farm prod- ucts.

The automobile insures quick in- dividual transportation from one field to another on the farm, or from the farm to the nearest shipping point or city. The motor truck likewise insures eco- nomical and dependable transporta- tion of produce and live stock, from farm to shipping point or city. With the tractor insuring equal efficiency in production of farm produce, the farmer of today will be the equal of his city brother in the matter of em- ploying time, labor and cost saving equipment that not only increases pro- duction but makes the actual work more attractive and remunerative.

Without a doubt, the farmer of a few years hence will employ motor- driven equipment on nearly the same Building and repair work is at a standstill in many places on account of contractors not being able to secure material. Again we say, get what you want right now.

We have a good stock of Lime and Cement at present, but do not know when we can get another supply. Ce- ment plants are closed down and freight shipments are slow, if you are even able to buy the material. Better lay in what you need out of the present supply.

VALUE OF HORSES ON FARM

Total Estimated at $1,993,000,000, or Just a Little Below Figures on Cows

Even though it may be true that the motor-driven vehicle has begun to put the farm horse "on the run" there is no evidence that he has developed much speed and his total value still compares favorably with other classes of farm animals. On January 1, 1920, the bureau of estimates of the United States department of agriculture estimated the total value of horses on farms in this country at $1,993,000,000, or just a little below the value of milk cows, which was $2,022,000,000.

SWINE DURING HOT WEATHER

Fattening Pigs Will Not Suffer From Heat If Given Plenty of Water and Ample Shade.

Fattening pigs require some attention in hot weather, but usually pigs weighing 100 to 150 pounds or more will not suffer from the heat or die if given plenty of cool water and protection from the sun. A concrete hog wallow is quite sanitary and if built in the overflow from a spring it keeps clear with the inflow of clean water. On hot days pigs will lie on the concrete feeding floor in the hog barn during the heat of the day and forage in the rape during the cool of the morning and evening.

Deafness That Isolates.

Deafness does not necessarily spell stupidity, although a great many people seem to think so. There are many number of clever, intelligent people of good education and broad views who through illness or accident become hard of hearing or partially deaf. Isolation is the hardest thing a partially deaf person has to contend with, and when one is denied general intercourse with others one is apt to grow selfish and self-centered.

ANOTHER CHARLEVOIX PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

Egbert Carpenter, One of the First Business Men of City—Funeral Held Wednesday Forenoon.

Again the citizens of Charlevoix are called upon to mourn the loss of one of their pioneer residents, Egbert Carpenter, a man who has been a familiar figure in the community for the past forty-seven years.

Mr. Carpenter came to Charlevoix in 1871, forty-seven years ago, when Charlevoix was but a small hamlet, merely a small clearing in the woods. Shortly after his arrival he formed a partnership with S. M. See, and for some time conducted a general store. Later he disposed of his interests and became a member of the firm Carpenter, Bartholomew & Co., in the same line of business. He continued in this business for a number of years then disposed of this store to his son-in-law, Byron W. Miller. Since that time he has continued to reside here, although not being actively engaged in business.

For a number of years he lived at the corner of State and Clinton streets, some 10 years ago selling this property to the city for the present library site. He spent thirty-nine winters in Port Orange, Florida, and up to a year ago made his yearly pilgrimage to the sunny south.

Egbert Carpenter was born February 28, 1833, at Black River, New York. He spent his boyhood days there and in 1874 came to Charlevoix. He was united in marriage June 2, 1855, to Ruth Brown, who died in this city in 1912. To this union were born four daughters, three of whom survive him, Mrs. B. W. Miller and Mrs. F. G. Hines of this city, and Mrs. Jones McCrorey of Greenville, South Carolina.

Deceased was a member of the Masonic order, and also served during the entire four years of the civil war. Of late years, although in feeble health, he was about the city, visiting his close friends and mingling with the public as much as possible. For the past year he has gradually failed, until stricken with a slight attack of asthma Sunday, he passed away at 6:00 a. m. Monday.

The funeral services were held from his late home, 201 Clinton St., Wednesday at 10:00 a. m., under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, members of the G. A. R. acting as honorary escort. Rev. Henry Candler officiating. Remains were laid to rest in the family lot at Brookside cemetery.

OLD SETTLER MOVES TO BELLAIRE

Charlevoix Loses One of Its Best Known Citizens.

In the removal of Frank W. Smith to Bellaire on Thursday of this week, Charlevoix and vicinity loses one of its earliest pioneers and a man who is well known throughout this section.

Mr. Smith sold his farm near Adams lake last week and in the deal took over some Bellaire property, and will remove with his wife to that city where they will conduct a restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been lifelong residents of this section, having lived here for 56 years. Their removal is to be regretted and a large circle of friends wish them luck in a good measure in their new location.

Charlevoix fans are looking forward to many more exciting contests in the future.

FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

MAKE PLANS FOR INTERESTING MEETING JAN. 28.

Every Mother in the City is Invited to Attend and Also to Become a Club Member.

The Charlevoix Federation of Women's Clubs are planning the next public meeting for January 28th, at which time the different committees will give a report of work done. A very interesting and instructive program will be given, which will be helpful to every mother who is privileged to attend.

The historical committee is trying to secure the history of every organization in the city, to place the same on file in our public library. Our growing citizens should be taught to know and appreciate the commonwealth in which they live.

It is the essence of patriotism to gather together the fragments of history in each locality and to perpetuate the principles of the noble men and women who, through their efforts of sacrifice and love, have made our community so pleasant a place to live in. The churches, fraternal societies, study clubs, etc., have through leaders and faithful members, made their contributions to our community life, and think you it will be any inspiration to our growing citizens to read over the efforts and accomplishments of those gone before? To this end is need of a systematic effort to discover, collect and properly care for all such data. The Federation Historical committee solicit your cooperation to this end. The civic committee have formulated plans for a community room or comfort station, to co-operate with the city board of health in establishing the same.

Federation work is community work in the interest of education, civics, history, homes and child welfare. Women not affiliated with the clubs of the city may become a member of the Federation by paying to Miss Addie Holly the prescribed fees at the office of Earl Young.

The committees of the federation are: Educational, historical, civics, citizenship, audubon, organization, press and program.

LICENSE PLATES MUST BE ON CARS

Drivers of Automobiles Must Have 1921 License Plates

Friday was the last day that the orange and black automobile license plate of 1920 was legal. Beginning Saturday, drivers who have not purchased and do not display the black and white 1921 plates will be technical law breakers.

The licenses for the new year are now on sale at the county clerk's office.

Thus far the demand has been light as many motorists have put off buying the plates as long as possible owing to their availability and also because of the bad weather. The license fee will remain the same until half the year is gone, so no money will be saved by waiting until spring; but many feel there is no need for buying the plates until they can be used.

WHAT WILL THE NEW YEAR BRING YOU?

Will the new year bring you sorrow or joy, wealth or poverty, success or failure, weal or woe. Will you come out of the experiences of 1921 a better man or woman, or will you allow those experiences to make you more narrow, more hard, more unkind? Will you make many new friends during the new year or will you crawl a little farther into your shell and be content to let the world go by unnoticed? Will you contribute to worthy causes; will you give of your time and energy to aid in the doing of necessary public work; or will you live for self alone and work for self alone?

Now we suspect that what the new year brings you will depend largely upon no none but yourself, upon your attitude toward life. For after all, happiness or unhappiness depends not upon worldly possessions or upon worldly position, but upon one's state of mind. The tramp who trudges along the country road asking for alms at various farm houses is often happier than the prince in his palace, especially since our last war put such a discount upon palaces. If you make up your mind in advance that the world is against you, that other people are more highly favored than you are, that there is no use trying, that misery is your lot, you are quite likely not only to be miserable yourself, but to make every one around you miserable also in just the measure that they allow you to do so. Why not take a brace this year in your spirit? Why not develop for yourself a joyous creed? No one else can develop and put into operation such a creed for you. You must develop it yourself and you must put it into practice yourself.

We might, however, in the confines of this article, suggest a few ideas some of which might be of value to you in working it out:

"I am an optimist. I believe that life holds for me much of beauty, of joy and of opportunity.

"I also believe that I have my definite place in the world, that I have my own particular work in the world that no one else can do as well as I. I intend to find that work and to do it to the best of my ability.

"I fully realize that my own happiness depends upon the measure of service which I may render to those around me; that no man may live for himself alone and get much out of life that selfishness, long practiced, brings with it, its own misery.

"I enjoy good health. I possess a physical body most marvelously constructed and most wondrously complicated. If I would do my part of the work of the world, I must keep my physical body clean, I must obey the laws of health, I must be temperate in all things.

"I possess a keen mind. I must keep it clean by excluding from it everything that tends to corrupt it, to make it less efficient, less worthy. I must feed my mind with good thoughts. I must study good books, I must broaden my mind with as good a general education as I can obtain.

"I have been given certain talents, frees gifts to me alone, which I may develop and use with pleasure and profit to myself and to others. True, the development of those talents may demand hard and arduous labor, a certain amount of uninteresting drudgery, but I cannot afford to allow them to slough themselves away because I do not use them.

"I have a definite plan for my life; I aim to accomplish something worth while; I intend to occupy an honored place in the general scheme of existence. And while I shall take needed relaxation and a certain amount of pleasure, I shall not allow the pursuit of pleasure alone to interfere with more serious things.

"I realize that I am only one of many, a small part of the general Divine plan. I owe a certain degree of homage to my Creator and I shall endeavor to fulfill my obligations to Him by making the most of myself as He planned that I should; by helping those less fortunate around me; by doing all the good I can; not for praise or personal satisfaction, but because it is the right thing to do.

"I am determined to look upon the bright side of things; to make the best of conditions; to learn from the adversity which befalls me the lesson which is contained in it, to profit from my past mistakes, to regard the future without fear and with a clear vision because I am determined to do my best and that is the most that anyone can do."

We offer these suggestions as a few of the many things which you or I or anyone may see fit to embody in his creed. Every man's creed must be made to fit the man himself. He must make it for himself. No one can make it for him.

What will the New Year bring you? Well, really it depends largely upon you.

MONTHLY BANQUET AND MEETING

Association of Commerce Meets on Friday Evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce will be held in the Masonic Temple on Friday evening of this week, at the usual hour.

This meeting is held largely for the purpose of allowing committee reports to be made and the closing up of 1920 business, thus doing away with the work of the past year before the newly elected officers assume their work.

As a number of these committees have not reported, it is expected some interesting reports will be made with recommendations of value to the city and its future.

The banquet will be in charge of the ladies of the Eastern Star, who have given such excellent service at past meetings. The price has been reduced from $1.00 to 75 cents per plate, and it is hoped every member will be in attendance.

FINE AND PRISON FOR MOONSHINER

East Jordan Man Given $200 Fine And Prison Sentence

Charles Novak, who on December 12 was arrested at his rented home near East Jordan by Sheriff Weaver and who was arraigned before an East Jordan justice and bound over to the circuit court, was brought before Judge Mayne on Monday of last week and pleaded guilty to a charge of manufacturing, having in his possession, and keeping for sale intoxicating liquor.

Novak, whose real home is in Muskegon, and who has in that city a wife and five children, was furnished a thousand dollar certified check as bail by the Catholic church of his town, but he insisted on entering his plea of guilty and was sentenced by Judge Mayne to pay a fine of $200 and to serve six months to one year in Ionia prison.

The corn mash which Novak manufactured in an old paris preen barrel, a sample of which was sent to Ann Arbor for analysis, was found to contain 14 per cent kick.

LIVE SNAKE ON NEW YEAR'S DAY

Wilbur Spidel Finds One on Charlevoix-East Jordan Road.

If the finding of a live snake on New Year's day can be construed as a weather sign, northern Michigan will have an open winter (whether open at top or where we are unable to say), at least this is the prediction of the "old timers" who know, and believe they do.

The snake in question was found on the East Jordan-Charlevoix road, in Evelyn township, by Wilbur Spidel, a short distance from his home. Mr. Spidel said that when he overtook the snake it was headed due north, its destination possibly being Beaver Island.

Mr. Spidel picked the snake up, placed it in a box, and on Monday brought it to the Courier office. It is now on exhibition in the show window at the Charlevoix Hardware Co. Take a look at it and satisfy yourself that it is a real snake, alive, and no fake. Bert Staley is an authority on snakes and will, if you allow him, give you an interesting half hour talk on the subject.

REBEKAHS AND ODD FELLOWS PLAN ON BIG TIME

Installation Ceremonies to Be Followed by a Play and Supper to Members of Order.

The local I. O. O. F. hall was the mecca for all Rebekahs and their husbands and members of the subordinate lodge and their wives Wednesday night of this week, when a joint installation of officers was held.

When the meeting was called to order practically ever seat in the hall was filled. First came the installation of officers, then a play by members of the Rebekahs, after which a fine supper was served in the dining room.

Mrs. Ella Shearer acted as installing officer for the Rebekah order, and Andrew Ross for the subordinate lodge. The excellent manner in which the work was put on is a credit to the installing officers of both orders. The officers installed are as follows:

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARIZING STORE

East Jordan Lads Bound Over to Circuit Court for Trial

On Wednesday night, Dec. 22, the Painter Grocery store on the West side at East Jordan was broken into, the front door being smashed in to gain access.

Some money was taken from the till and a quantity of cigarettes, tobacco, socks and mittens taken. Deputy Sheriff Cook was summoned and an investigation resulted in the arrest of Winifred Baringer, aged 21, and Harold Locke, aged 19.

The young men were taken before Justice Blount for a hearing on Tuesday of last week and the justice bound them over to the circuit court for trial.

Supervisors in Session.
The board of supervisors convened Monday for their regular January session. Little work has been accomplished as we go to press, but a full review of their activities will be published next week.

MISS IDDINGS A NEW YEAR'S BRIDE

UNITED IN MARRIAGE SATURDAY TO H. A. VANKIRK.

Ceremony Held at Home of Bride's Mother, Mrs. H. L. Iddings—Will Live at Tiffin, Ohio.

The prettiest event of the holiday season was given at the home of Mrs. Harvey Lee Iddings, on Park avenue, New Year's night, when a hundred folk gathered to witness the nuptial ceremony of Miss Horatia Gaie Iddings of this city and Mr. Harold A. Vankirk of Tiffin, Ohio.

The bride's mother and her brother, Mr. Gale, received the guests, assisted by Mr. Robert Morse and Mr. Ralph Price, who acted as ushers during the evening.

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock in the large west room which was attractively decorated in green and lighted only by candles. A large bowl of roses and narcissus gave a touch of simplicity and color. The bride's sister, Mrs. Constance Gaskin, preceded the processional with a rendering of Grieg's "Ich Liebe Dich," after which the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Robert Bridge and Perry Mason, announced the approach of the bridal party. The groom was accompanied by Mr. John G. Clark of Toledo, Ohio, as best man, and the bride by one attendant, her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Crouter, who as matron of honor, was attired in a pale blue evening dress and wore a corsage of pink roses. Little John Gaskin preceded the bride carrying the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride was beautiful in white satin on train of extreme, youthful simplicity. She carried a bride's bouquet of white rosebuds and maiden hair, and her veil was outlined in narcissus blossoms. She was accompanied to the altar by her uncle, Mr. Chas. B. Gale of Calumet, Mich.

The beautiful ring ceremony was used by Rev. Henry Candler and the bride and groom turned to accept the happy congratulations of their friends.

Mistress of ceremonies Mrs. Jennie E. Crouter ushered the guests into the dining room where refreshments were served by the Misses Katherine Fitch, Jean Swinton, Maxine Hansen, Phila Armstrong, Marian Sears, Helen Mason, Marjorie Myers, Hilma Myers, Kathryn Gaskin and Eleanor Finnican, young friends of the bride. The table was adorned with a bowl of pink carnations and narcissus, from which the bride's and groom's cake was served.

The happy couple left on the 9:00 o'clock train amidst a shower of hearty, best wishes. The bride's traveling suit was of brown duvetyne trimmed with squirrel and she wore a brown turban with a touch of blue. Later in the evening the rugs were rolled back and the guests enjoyed dancing and a general good time.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity of the young couple and their happiness is the wish of a host of friends.

The out of town guests were Mr. Chas. B. Gale of Calumet, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepard of Benton Harbor, grand-daughter, Margaret, Mr. John G. SNEATHENS HOLD WATCH PARTY

A Sum of Money Raised and Given to Ladies' Aid Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Sneathen entertained twenty-seven of their friends at a watch party New Year's eve at their home on Maple Leaf Farm, in Hayes township. Flineh, consequences and various other games were played during the evening.

Three couple participated in a wedding trip, much to the amusement of the others. A sum of money which was given to the Ladies' Aid society was realized from selling the fruit from the tree of life. A bountiful pot luck supper was served, after which the guests bade their host and hostess good-night amid many Happy New Years.

AT THE MOVIES

Coming, Dorothy Dalton in "Black is White," at the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday.

Dorothy Dalton gives new evidence of her right to be named among the most talented emotional actresses of the screen in "Black is White." In a role that requires her to delineate three distinctly different types of women she easily carries off the chief honors. The picture is from George Barr McCutcheon's novel.

Miss Dalton as Margaret Brood, retiring, modest, wife of Jim Brood, whose jealousy of her love for even their son finally influences her to leave him. Taking up her residence with Theresa, her invalid sister, Margaret takes advantage of a situation at the latter's death and becomes the gay butterfly adopted daughter of a French count. Here her husband meets her, but does not see in her his former wife. He falls in love with her and she marries him again in order to be near the son. After some difficulties happiness comes to them.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Doctor Hewitt: How can you convince me that there is any living god, or any heaven besides what we get right here on earth? I have you my prof that I have as much right to believe there is as you have to believe there is.

A. From your spelling, your questions, and the general tone of the remainder of your letter I have a right to assume that you are a profoundly ignorant man, and therefore you are deserving of sympathy. Of course you can continue in your ignorance; refuse to listen to those who do know Jesus and His wonderful saving power and redeeming love for you, or you can spend Eternity in hell. Kindly let me urge you to read the following Scriptures, Rom: 10: 3, 4; 1 Cor 6: 10, 20, 11 Peter 3: 7, 8, 9; John 3: 36. Rom 10: 9; 1 John 1: 7. Get on your knees and ask God to help you to understand what you read from His Holy Word, and then write me a personal letter and let me know how you are getting along. I shall remember you in prayer.

Q. My Dear Doctor Hewitt: Do you think it is a sin to belong to such lodges as the Odd Fellows, Masonic, etc., and do you think it is sinful for a Christian to read good novels? And do you think there is any particular harm for one to play a quiet game of cards in their own home?

A. I am not against lodges; they do some good work in the world, but that doesn't save anyone for God. God is first and the lodge meeting second, "In the beginning God". That is the way the Bible starts out and it ought to be the way with every living being. Seek you first to God and everything else shall be added unto you. Christianity is addition; Sin is subtraction. Christianity is peace, joy, salvation, Heaven, health. Sin takes away peace, sobriety, and it steals one's happiness and health. You are robbing God when you spend time doing something that doesn't amount to anything, when you might do something for Christ. Did you ever know of anyone being converted at a lodge? Were I a member of a lodge and lodge meeting came on prayer meeting night I would be found at prayer meeting.

You are robbing God when you sit around reading trashy novels instead of the word of God.

The devil steals in very quietly many times and leaves a wound that mars one's whole life; Jesus can heal the wound, but, "The bird with a broken pinion never soars as high as again". Playing cards had their origin in the vilest places of infamy, and still used in the most sinful holes this side of hell. You say, "Quiet game of cards," it is just as great a sin to serve the devil quietly, as it is to serve him boldly.

Q. Is there something wrong with a young minister's heart, who in the pulpit can speak to his congregations about, "The imperfections of God"?

A. Your question is a serious one, and before answering same, will you please send me his exact words; and if you can remember, the text from which your pastor preached, after which I shall be very glad to answer your question in next week's issue. I can't imagine, or conceive of any, much less a minister, who would dare plute his lips, by referring to God as having "imperfections".

Q. Were the miracles purported to have been performed by Jesus put to a test, or, in other words, were the miracles of Christ substantiated by history.—E. C.

A. Yes, the history of Christ's ministry, and miracles performed are absolutely authentic. The miracles of the new Testament were rigidly investigated by both Jewish rulers and Roman magistrates. The Gospels and Acts are replete with the testimony of the one, and contemporaneous history substantiates the other. They were also corroborated by the testimony of enemies. There was the testimony of the Jews, who never recorded an imposture. John 11:42, and Acts 2:22. There was that of the pagans like Celsus of the second, Porphyry of the third and Julian of fourth century, all of whom seek to account for them on other than Christian grounds. There was the testimony of friends who became enemies, like Judas for example, who never declared themselves deceived. I refer you to Universal history volumes, III, IV, V.

Q. Where did Jesus establish his first church? What denomination represents that church at this date? In Mat. 16, Chap. 18 Ver. Jesus says, "And I say also unto thee that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." What church does he mean in this verse?—W. H. H.

A. Jesus established his first church in Jerusalem (the Apostolic church). Christ immediately before his ascension commanded his disciples to remain in Jerusalem until they should be endued with power from on high. Without the descent of the Spirit at Pentecost there would have been no impulsive power in Christianity. The organization of the church took place immediately after the remarkable scenes at Pentecost. Orders of ministers and lay members were established for the preaching of the gospel, the care of the needy, and the building up of the body of believers. "The practical life of the Christians was at once simple and beautiful. It was a type of all the essential qualities which Christ had taught and final salvation came only through His shed blood on the cross. "What Church did Jesus mean in Mat. 16:18? Note the preceding verses; Christ is asking Peter a question, Mat. 14:15. Note Peter's answer, 16:16. And you will find your question answered. Peter was the rock because he acknowledged Christ as the son of the living God; and upon him Christ the true Christian church shall be built. Of course you must understand that (church) in the original Greek word, in its larger signification, denotes an assembly, Acts 11:22, 39, 41. It is well to note that the word rendered "assembly", in these verses is the same which is elsewhere rendered church. "What denomination represents that church?" Only that church that preaches Jesus Christ and Him crucified, 1 Cor., 2:2; 1 Peter 1:18, 19. See Acts 20:28, (the church was purchased with His blood.) Heb. 9:22. As to what denomination best represents the genuine, pure Christianity, brought to this world through the shed blood of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, I prefer to leave to the Almighty and just God, our final judge.

Q. What is your belief in death-bed confessions? And what is your interpretation of the thief that saved the cross?—E. J.

A. I have but little confidence in death-bed confessions. A death-bed confession is burning the candle of life in the service of the devil, and in the last hour of life blowing the smoke in the face of God. Isaiah 55:6. "Not every one that saith Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, but him that doeth the will of my Father who art in Heaven." The thief saved on the cross, both from a scriptural, as well as a historic standpoint, we have a right to assume that the thief had never before in his life had an opportunity to be saved from sin. It is a different matter with (Continued on page 8)

Can Guessing Win?

Between the prices paid to the producer and by the consumer there is a staggering difference.

There is one way to assure both farmer and consumer a fair price for food—that is through careful Farm Cost Accounting. The Farm Bureaus are instituting a national campaign to hurry the Government investigation of the costs of actual food production and distribution. Once the whole problem has been carefully and publicly sifted, it will be possible to put prices on a basis of justice to both producer and consumer and to eliminate the unreasonable unearned profits that are made "in the dark."

Every farmer owes it to himself to further the cause by lending his individual support to the work of the Farm Bureau. There's only one sensible way to run the race for fair profits. Leave in the stable the willing but crippled mule, Farm Cost Guessing, and make the running on the thoroughbred, Farm Cost Accounting. It's the only way to win.

This conclusion is not a snap judgment by THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, but the result of careful study. Our editors and investigators travel 300,000 miles a year to study farm problems and to report the best farm opinions of the country. We voice the honest opinions of the American farmer. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains famous fiction, striking pictures, great cartoons, and lots of smiles—it comes 52 times in a year—but perhaps it is most appreciated for its practical helpfulness. It makes money for farmers. Only $1.00 for a year's subscription will prove it to you—send bill or check.

2 Mackinaws

During the month of January we are going to inaugurate week sales under a different plan than heretofore put before the public. The first sale starts on January 15 and continues until Saturday night January 22. The second sale starts Monday, January 24 and ends Saturday night January 29. During each of these sales we will give away absolutely free, an overcoat and a mackinaw. One overcoat and mackinaw during the first sale, and one of each during the second sale. Remember, an overcoat and mackinaw during each week's sale.

Our plan is this: During the first week's sale, the person who makes the 29th and 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more will be given free the overcoat and mackinaw described below. During the second week's sale, the person making the 29th and 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more will be given free, the overcoat and mackinaw described below. The only stipulation that we make is that the person who makes the 29th and 39th cash purchase, at either of the week sales, must be able to wear the prize coats themselves. If they don't fit you, they will be given to the 30th $1.00 purchaser, or so on until the person is found who can wear the coats given away.

First Sale Jan. 15 to Jan. 22

To the 29th cash purchase of $1.00 or more, a Buffalo Cloth Overcoat, well lined and made. The Overcoat we have sold regularly at.....$20.00

To the 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more a plaid wool Mackinaw, belted, good material and will give you excellent service, the kind we sell for.....$5.00

Second Sale Jan. 24 to Jan. 29

THE CHEAPEST WAY.

Why, when business wants to reach the public does it advertise instead of using some other means of communication with it?

The answer is obvious. Because it is the cheapest way of conveying its message. If there was a cheaper way for getting the same results, business would find it out, and would utilize it. That business is so generally committed to advertising is the proof of the pudding.

When an advertisement is placed, that is the end of the story. The advertiser does not alone buy space in the publication he does business with; he does not alone pay all the charges of getting his advertisement in type and on the press, he pays, also, for all the raw material used in making his announcement, and he pays for its distribution, either by carrier or mail, or both, as the case may be. He finds it more profitable to use the advertisement than some other form of publicity because, on the basis of results achieved, the advertisement is several times cheaper than any other alternative kind.

GROESBECK IS THE 28TH MAN

TO HOLD OFFICE OF GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN

Fred M. Warner Only Michigan Governor to Hold Three Successive Terms

Alex J. Groesbeck is the twenty-eighth man to become governor of the state of Michigan. Since Michigan became a state in 1835, a total of 42 gubernatorial terms have been served by the 27 persons who so far have held the highest honor bestowed by the state's voters.

Fred M. Warner, governor of the state of Michigan from 1905 to 1911, holds the distinction of being the only governor to serve three successive terms since Michigan became a state. The former governors of the state of Michigan under the 1835 constitution, with the years in which they were inaugurated are as follows:

Stevens Thompson Mason, 1835, 1838; William Woodbridge, 1840; John S. Barry, 1842, 1844; Alpheus Felch, 1846; Epaphroditus Ransom, 1848; John C. Barry, 1850.

The governors under the constitution of 1850 were as follows:

Robert McClelland, 1851, 1853; Kinsley S. Bingham, 1855, 1857; Moses Wisner, 1859; Austin Blair, 1861, 1863; Henry H. Crap, 1865, 1867; Henry P. Baldwin, 1869, 1871; John J. Bagley, 1873, 1875; Charles M. Crosswell, 1877, 1879; David H. Jerome, 1881; Josiah W. Begole, 1883; Russell A. Alger, 1885; Cyrus G. Luce, 1887, 1889; Edwin B. Winsans, 1891; John T. Rich, 1893, 1895; Hazen S. Pingree, 1897, 1899; Anron T. Bliss, 1901, 1903; Fred M. Warner, 1905, 1907, 1909.

Governors under the constitution of 1909 were:

Chase S. Osborn, 1911; Woodbridge N. Ferris, 1913, 1915; Albert E. Sleeper, 1917, 1919.

Territorial governors administered Michigan affairs from 1805 until 1835. Gen. William Hull, one of these governors, was court martialed in his third term at Albany, on Jan. 3, 1814, for his surrender of Detroit on Aug. 16, 1812, and sentenced to be shot. The sentence was remitted.

French-Canadian governors were in the governor's office in Michigan from 1603 until 1750. Twenty-eight men served during the period and they were succeeded by the British Canadian governors, eleven in number, who administered Michigan affairs from 1760 until 1792. Michigan was a part of the northwest territory from 1787 until 1800. Gen. Arthur St. Clair was territorial governor. During the next five years Gen. William Henry Harrison was governor of what was then the Indiana territory.

PRISONER MAKES HIS GET AWAY

Sheriff Weaver Returns, from Wisconsin Without Man

Recently the authorities at Marinette, Wisconsin, apprehended Louis Maddix, wanted by Charlevoix county officials on a charge of desertion. Sheriff Weaver was notified of Maddix's arrest and detention at Marinette, and upon receipt of the notice immediately left to secure the much wanted man.

Arriving in Marinette in the evening Sheriff Weaver called on the local officials, identified the prisoner as the man wanted and made arrangements to take him from the jail the following morning at an early hour for the purpose of bringing him back to this county.

Some little time after the identification Maddix requested the turnkey at the jail to get him a package of cigarettes, the turnkey complied with the request finding upon his return that Maddix, who was treated as a trusty, had taken French leave, during the turnkey's absence.

Sheriff Weaver was both surprised and exasperated when he was told of the escape, and spent some time assisting the local officers in a search for the missing man. As a result of confidence placed in the prisoner by local officials, Sheriff Weaver was obliged to return empty handed.

Wisconsin authorities are keeping up their search for the escaped prisoner and if successful will return the man to the jail in Marinette, but the treatment accorded that of a trusty will no doubt, be eliminated. —Enst Jordan Herald.

New Palace Theatre

Especially Good Attractions For This Week

THURSDAY, JANUARY 6th—Universal presents Anne Cornwall in "The Path She Chose." A real life picture with a punch in it. Also a one reel Rowland Comedy, "Doing Time."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JANUARY 8 and 9—Big Double attraction. Paramount-Artcraft presents Dorothy Dalton in "Black is White," produced by Thomas H. Ince. This is one of Miss Dalton's latest and best pictures. And one of the most unusual pictures of the year. Pathe presents Harold Lloyd in a two-reel comedy, "Haunted Spooks."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12th—Goldwyn presents Louis Bannison in "The Misfit Earl," and the 14th episode of the Vanishing Dagger, "Walls of Doom."

COMING SATURDAY and SUNDAY, JANUARY 15th and 16th—Constance Binney's big picture, "39 East."

COMING THURSDAY, JANUARY 13th—Chas. Ray in "Law of the North."

WILL CONTINUE GIVING AWAY SHOES

Each New Born Babe Presented Its First Pair of Shoes.

The Campbell Boot Shop announces that all 1921 new born babies of this community will receive a new pair of shoes free of charge.

In the past year of 1920, between 45 and 60 young citizens of Charlevoix and vicinity have each received a new pair of shoes by the above named firm.

The Campbell Boot Shop, which in the spring will be located the first door south of the First State Bank, in the present Myrtle Young & Son Insurance office building, wish to insure the children out right in life as to correct footwear.

Sale of winter goods at Benj. Brown's extended until all goods are disposed of. Adv. 52tf.

GRANGE INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

Members Enjoy Pot Luck Supper and Evening's Entertainment.

Charlevoix Grange No. 1526 met in the I. O. O. F. hall Monday night. Forty members were present and seven new candidates instructed in the first and second degrees. Several of last year's officers being absent, the newly elected officers were permitted to take the chairs, although they had not been regularly installed. Later in the evening a pot luck supper was served in the dining room after which the members enjoyed an hour of dancing.

Here's a Talk on Coal

READ IT!

(It's like a fashionable woman's dress—long enough to cover the points that ought to be covered and short enough to hold your attention.)

Some coals—for instance Jackson County, Ill. coal have over 16 per cent moisture.

Other coals—like Logan County, W. Va., coal have less than 1 per cent moisture.

You can afford to pay 15 per cent more for one than for the other and yet be ahead.

the man who has time and again heard the Gospel of Jesus Christ preached, and had the opportunity of reading God's Holy Word, and then in open rebellion rejected Him. One cannot fool with Jesus Christ. Its dangerous business.

Q. Whom do you consider the greatest of all the apostles?—T. C.

A. Paul towers far above all the apostles in the majesty of his character, the scope of his genius, the depth of his learning and the sublime quality of his labors. His call was to the Gentiles. He made three great missionary tours through Asia minor and southeastern Europe.

Q. What is the soul of man and can you define it for me?—N. G.

A. The soul is the principle of the unity of our spiritual bodily organization, the internal central unity of the functions of life. It is related to the body as form to matter. It can as little exist without body as form can exist separate from matter. Nor can the body exist without the soul; both develop and involve each other. The soul permeates in every molecule of the body. It is the vital, active principle in man, which perceives, remembers, reasons, loves, hopes, fears, compares, desires, resolves, adores, imagines and aspires after immortality. 1 Thess. 5:23. Where the soul is distinguished from the mind, heart and spirit; of the spiritual essence, as distinct from the body. Matt. 10:28.

Q. I do not know that the following question comes within the term "Gospel Questions," but I shall very greatly appreciate your opinion. If you feel you can give it. I am a Christian young lady, 19 years of age. I have for some time, been keeping company with a young man who is addicted to the tobacco habit and uses profanity. He has promised to reform when we are married. Do you think he will?—B. B.

A. I do not know your friend and therefore cannot say whether he will or will not reform. But my advice to you is, if your friend does not think enough of you to reform before you are married, he is not worthy of you and is not apt to reform after your marriage.

(Notice. The initials of those asking questions will be printed hereafter. Please keep your questions strictly within biblical lines.)

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

"A man hired out here this week at $1.50 a day and board," states the Port Austin Herald. "And a good cow sold at auction for $35.00. The man who saved his money now has a chance to make good by buying cows and hiring men to care for them. He will have cream on his strawberries and plenty of both."

The Michigan Farm Bureau believes that if the farmers of the state had winter work to be done, there would be a regular migration of young men from the city to the farm, but with the exception of the work of the old inferior maxillary on the Fried ham and potatoes, things are pretty quiet just now.

"Circumstantial evidence," remarks the Lake County Star, "is deadly. One of our citizens recently explained a purple ring around his eye by saying a stick of wood he was splitting hit him; but his wife says she splits all the wood when they have any, which they have not, and besides the ax was husted a year ago."

Chunks of ore brought back from north Russia by soldiers of the Polar Bear expedition have been assayed and found to be almost pure platinum. Nelson Nolf, of Harrietta, brought back several pounds of the glittering lead-like metal and it is believed he will realize about $18,000 on his find. One young man from Marion found a piece the size of a wheat kernel and received $6 for it. The soldiers found the ore on the Divina river, about 35 miles from Archangel. The metal was found while clearing a space for drilling. One Cadillac man used a piece of the ore for a door weight. Every time the door was jarred open several dollars were knocked off the platinum.

A Muskegon county farm hand who says he has received no wages for 27 years is suing to collect $3600 due him. There is justice in the claim, but still we can't help but believe that a man who has collected no wages for 27 years should not be trusted with such a large sum until he grows up.

WOMEN GIVE OUT.

Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Charlevoix woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Charlevoix women's experience.

Mrs. Chas. Myers, 207 Park Ave., Charlevoix, says: "I had trouble with my kidneys. My back ached continually. I bought a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Meten's Drug Store. They soon relieved the trouble."

Mrs. Myers gave the above statement October 5, 1916, and on May 4, 1920, she added: "The cure Doan's brought about has proven permanent."

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the performance of the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Albert J. Shuckley and Ellen A. Shuckley to B. P. Wilkinson, of Charlevoix, Michigan, dated April 22nd, 1918, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 23rd day of April, 1918, in liber 54 of mortgages, page 391, containing a power of sale, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice, the sum of Six Hundred Ten dollars and forty cents, and the sum of One Hundred Nine dollars taxes assessed against the lands described in said mortgage and paid by said mortgagee, and an attorney fee of fifteen dollars provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, the undersigned will on the 12th day of February, A. D. 1921, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the East front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place in which the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage and taxes paid as aforesaid, with interest at seven per cent from the date hereof and all legal costs and said attorney fee, the said premises being described as follows: All of certain pieces or parcels of land situated in the City of Charlevoix, in the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: First parcel commencing thirty-nine rods (39) west of northeast corner of section thirty-four (34), in town (34) thirty-four north, in range eight (8) west and two rods south of north section line at a stake; thence west seventy-three rods (73); thence south thirteen rods (13); thence east seventy-three rods (73); thence north thirteen rods (13) to place of beginning. Second parcel, commencing two rods south of north quarter post of the above said section; thence south thirteen rods (13); thence east forty-eight rods (48); thence north thirteen rods (13); thence west forty-eight rods (48) to place of beginning.

Dated November 10th, 1920.

POOR ROADS ARE HINDRANCE

Farmer Made Unable to Take Advantage of High Prices—Cost of Market News Wasted.

Today the farmer has wire communication facilities unsurpassed in the history of the United States. He knows, day by day, the fluctuating prices which prevail for his produce at the marketing points and knowing these things he can arrange to get his goods to market on the day when the price is the highest if the road is good. If the road is bad or impassable then much of the effort which has been expended in getting the news of market conditions to him is lost.

MONEY TO IMPROVE HIGHWAYS

Counties and States Appropriate $1,000,000,000 for Improvement of Local Roads.

Our counties and states have recognized the economic importance of road construction by appropriating more than $1,000,000,000 to local improvements. It is the nation's part to build and maintain highways, which are of national importance and which will serve to effect economy, facilitate interstate commerce and strengthen the national defense.

School re-opened on Monday of this week after a holiday vacation of one week.

Mrs. Taisey and children spent the holiday vacation with relatives at Big Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davey spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Bellaire.

Miss Josephine Brosche spent from Friday until Monday with her sister, Mrs. A. L. Ely.

The W. A. Boss residence is being replastered this week. F. O. Gillett is doing the work.

Geo. Heller is busy at present listening to nuthursts of profane language. He is collecting taxes.

A jolly sleigh load from Ellsworth attended the party at the Geo. Lord home on Friday evening of last week.

Jacob W. Drenth recently purchased the Wm. Drenth farm at Essex and took possession the first of the week.

Mrs. Anna Fulton of Elberta, Canada, arrived last week to visit her sister, Mrs. Donald Patterson and family.

August Pntmus returned to Grand Rapids on Monday morning of this week, after a two weeks visit with friends and relatives here.

Harold Clow of Mill City, Oregon, left for home on Saturday of last week, after an extended visit with his brother, D. E. Clow and family.

Gerritt Hennip was at Petoskey the first of the week to see his sister, Mrs. A. Speckman, who is recovering from an operation at Larkwood hospital.

Mrs. E. R. Harris is in charge of the D. E. Clow store while Mr. Clow is at Pittsburg with a string of potato cars for the Banks Township Marketing Association.

Special meetings at the Ilioness church began last Sunday evening and will continue until further notice. The meetings are in charge of the pastors, Rev. L. W. Struik, assisted by Rev. G. L. Manley.

DeWitt Patterson received a telegram from Detroit on Friday of last week informing him of a delay in resuming operations at the Ford plant, at which he is employed, until about the first of February.

Miss Beth Shrel of Mancelona arrived the first of the week to begin teaching school at Atwood, the teacher who started the term there having resigned. Miss Shrel is well known here, having taught several terms at the Essex school.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Weiss were agreeably surprised by about twenty of their friends and neighbors on Tuesday evening of last week, the occasion being their eleventh wedding anniversary, and an enjoyable evening was spent and light refreshments served before the party started for home.

Fire, which might easily have resulted seriously, was discovered at 3:00 a. m. last Friday in the woodshed of the New Orient hotel here, discovered luckily in time to be extinguished before it could reach the main part of the building. The cause is unknown, but is thought to have been spontaneous combustion caused by the heating of a pile of waste and rags. Employees of the hotel were awakened by smoke and investigation discovered the fire.

DEATH FOLLOWS

EXTENDED ILLNESS

Wesley Schultema Dies at Home of His Daughter Thursday.

Wesley Schultema was born in the Netherlands in 1840, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. I. Horrenga in Ellsworth, Thursday morning, December 30, 1920, aged 80 years, 10 months and 16 days, following an illness of more than one year.

He was married to Mary VanderLain while still in the old country, and at the age of 30 came to America, first settling in Muskegon, where he resided until about six years ago, at which time his wife having passed away, he came with his daughter to Ellsworth.

Mr. Schultema was the father of four children, three girls, Mrs. I. Horrenga of Ellsworth, Mrs. Paul DeLong and Mrs. Jensen of Muskegon, and one son, John Schultema of Muskegon. In addition he leaves 23 grand children and two great grand-children.

The funeral services were held from the house at one o'clock on the afternoon of January 3rd, and the remains were carried to their last resting place at Boss cemetery.

Deceased, although a feeble, old man when he came to Ellsworth, was of such a friendly, sunny disposition that he made many friends who will miss him greatly and his family have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

SETTING OUT STRAWBERRIES

August Planting Will Give Reasonably Good Yield Next Spring—Oats Make Good Mulch.

Many farmers last spring were not able to set out as many strawberries as they needed. It is not too late yet to set out plants that will bear fruit next year. August planting, although not giving as good results as spring planting, will yield a reasonably good crop next spring. The plants will not spread much, but they may be set closer in the row.

In some cases a small planting was made last spring. Now these spring set plants are large and have formed many runners and new plants, making wide and dense rows. Some of these new plants formed this summer may be lifted early in August and set out to be cultivated for a new patch. They will grow wonderfully fast and strong with good cultivation, and they will bear fruit next spring.

A good way, if you happen to have small flower pots or can secure some immediately, is to set the small pots up to the rim in the soil under runners where new plants are to form. The runners may be held directly over the pots with sharp-pointed sticks. As soon as the new plants have made a good root growth in the submerged small flower pots they are severed from the runners and the pots tilted when the new potted strawberry plants are ready to be set out in the permanent bed or row. Grown and set out in this way they are sure to live and grow right off without check, as their roots are protected with the ball of soil from the pot. This method is excellent for a small planting.

On farms where straw is scarce for winter mulching of the strawberry bed or patch, a good substitute for the artificial straw mulch can be had cheaply by sowing oats between the strawberry rows at the last summer cultivation, about the middle of August. The oats will make a tall and thick growth during the fall months, up to frost, when they will be killed, stalks and roots to fall down and cover the plants for a winter mulch.

It Has a Good Name.

In the yellow adobe's tongue, which John Burroughs has poetically styled "fawn lily," there is a twofold appropriateness of name, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington, for the erect leaves have well been likened to the ears of a startled deer, while the mottled colors, with a distinct fawn color more or less in evidence on the outside of the miniature yellow lines, easily suggest the name.

The Inheritance

By EVELYN LEE

(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union.)

"What a delightful mystery!" voiced pretty, vivacious Irene Barnes, but her dance, Ward Tresham, did not seem inclined to echo the sentiment.

"Neither Victor Read nor myself share your romantic views, Irene," was the somewhat spiritless reply. "If Uncle Bartelle planned purposely to put us through a period of uncertainty and suspense, wasting the best years of our lives in idle guesswork and waiting, he couldn't have done it more effectively."

"I don't see as to wasting and waiting, Ward," said Irene. "On the contrary, Mr. Bartelle seems to have blocked out a most reasonable and practical program for you two. Of course it means work, and you two have never done much of that, but when the year is over, if you go through the ordeal creditably, just think how the experience will benefit and uplift you. Of course you and Victor will start in at once."

"I suppose we will have to," responded Ward, but in a grudging tone. "We are not spongers, and haven't been discounting the future with hopes that Uncle Bartelle might die and leave us his fortune, but I must say he led us to believe that we could count on something substantial, no matter what happened."

"Yes, I think he has spoiled you two boys," said Irene severely. "He has certainly encouraged you to keep from solving your delicate white hands, and stay around his home like tender young children who might fall down and stub your toes if they did not have a guiding hand. Oh! I can scold when you deserve it, and I always tell the truth, and I advise you strictly to follow out the injunctions of your dead uncle, who was so good and kind to you."

Somewhat in the same way at that very hour Victor Read was reciting his woes to Mudge Steele. The two young men were like brothers instead of cousins, and the young ladies had been close girl chums for years. Mr. Bartelle had approved the double match, only for several months before his death he had seemed anxious to postpone it. His lawyer alone was aware of the fact that some unwise investments had almost beggared him.

Just after the funeral lawyer Marsh had called in the nephews for a confidential consultation. "I have some important but strange disclosures to make to you, young men," he said. "You will notice Mr. Bartelle's old safe in the corner of my office here. It is upon his written instructions that I have removed it. Its combination is in a sealed envelope in the bank safety deposit vault box, directed to be delivered to you one year to a day after his death. Until then the safe cannot be opened."

"But why did uncle go to all this circumlocution?" spoke Ward.

"Yes, and what is in the safe, to be guarded so mysteriously?" questioned Victor.

"He told me that I was to reveal these facts to you. He directed that both of you arrange to remove to Lupton, where, as you know, he owns the local furniture store and also a garage. You, Ward, are to take charge of the former as manager, and Victor, in a like capacity, the garage. He hopes you will work hard to make them pay; you are to have each drawing accounts of forty dollars per week and make monthly reports of the business to me. At the end of a year you are to open the safe."

"But all the property uncle owned?" said Ward.

"Yes, and his bonds and money," added Victor.

"Young men," replied Mr. Marsh seriously, "I would advise you not to bank on those former assets. To be plain, except for the old home and his two stores Mr. Bartelle left little of value. He was generous and loving to you while in life. Be diligent and show your respect for him now in following out his wishes."

"We'll do it!" cried Ward, stirred by a memory of the generous uncle.

It was hard for Ward and Victor to go forty miles away from old scenes and Irene and Mudge, and see them only every alternate Sunday on a flying home visit. It was harder still to set mind, energies and muscle at the unfinished task of real work and business responsibilities, but by the end of a month results showed. Ward was a natural-born salesman and had never guessed it until now. Victor, pleasant and popular, drew business to the garage. Mr. Marsh commended them cheerfully for the systematic manner in which they managed their respective enterprises.

An inkling of the fact that their lovers were not to inherit untold riches gave Irene and Mudge an economical and industrious impulse, and they set at work to plan for the future on a sensible scale.

And one year to the day after the death of Mr. Bartelle the safe in the lawyer's office was opened. It was empty, except for a single sheet of paper, which read:

"If Ward and Victor are the kind of boys I think they are, they will have proven themselves business men and will value even the little I have been able to save out of the wreck, the two stores and the old home."

"Wise old Uncle Bartelle!" commented Ward tenderly. "One year has made real business men of us, a more precious heritage than the fortunes we once expected."

PARING DOWN DESERTER LIST

ONE FOR MICHIGAN WILL CONTAIN ONLY 6,000

Men Whose Names are on List but Who are Not Deserters May Have Names Removed Michigan's list of draft deserters has been reduced from 12,000 names to about 6,000, according to advices received from Washington.

It is the ambition of the war department to apprehend all willful deserters through the publication of this list, but it now seems rather doubtful if this can be accomplished. The lists will be printed at Washington and grouped with respect to local boards. It is probable that newspapers will receive the list for boards and counties in which they are directly interested.

As far as actual deserters are concerned, however, all of those who are known to the authorities have either been arrested or exonerated. The names to be published will include those who are not known, for the most part, and it is doubtful if publication of their names in the districts where they registered will result in their apprehension.

Some counties in the state will have as few as half a dozen names on the list and these may include some who are only technical deserters. On the other hand it is likely that draft board number one in Detroit may have as many as a thousand names.

Many cases will have to go undecided. Take for instance the case of a young foreigner who was merely boarding in a Detroit household. He may have registered for the draft then disappeared and joined the Polish army by going to Canada for mobilization of the forces and thence overseas. His name will appear among the deserters and there will probably be no one to tell what became of him. Such a case would probably remain unsolved.

When the list reaches the newspapers, the publishers will be free to censor it and any person known not to be a willful deserter can have his name removed by the editor. It is likely that all papers will publish the list, but it is not probable that it will do much good in catching the real draft dodgers.

Stereopticon lecture next Sunday night at the Methodist Episcopal church. The subject is, "The World at Columbus." This picture illustrates the wonderful centenary celebration which was held two years ago at Columbus, Ohio. Services begin at 7:00 o'clock. Admission free.

A joint meeting of the official board and the Sunday school board was held at the church last Monday night. Preceding the business session a pot luck supper was served. About 40 persons were present. The report of the church treasurer, Earl Shapton, showed the church to be in excellent financial condition; all expenses are paid to date with several hundred dollars in the treasury. The matter of securing the services of an evangelist sometime this winter was favorably considered. Mrs. Auld the financial secretary, reported that the church debt is paid with the exception of $175.00; the greater part of this is under pledge.

Dr. F. F. McMillan was elected superintendent of the Sunday school and Mrs. Edward A. Stewart, assistant. It was voted to continue the joint sessions and pot luck suppers the first Monday of each month.

REDUCED PRICES ON Furniture, Rugs and Linoleum

Owing to reductions made by manufacturers and jobbers of Furniture, Rugs, etc. our prices will be materially reduced during the present month.

As the reductions have not been uniform on all lines, it will be necessary that we go through our stock and arrange prices according to the new prices made by the different manufacturers and jobbers.

Until we have had time to make these adjustments we shall make a straight 10 per cent Discount on all Furniture and 15 per cent on Rugs and Linoleum, these prices to take immediate effect.

While we have been reliably informed that there will be no further declines in prices, it will be our aim to reduce the prices on stock on hand whenever a reduction has been made by the manufacturers and jobbers.

You can always be assured that you will get the very lowest possible prices at all times.

Yours for Good Furniture at the Lowest Prices,

LAY PLANS FOR AN ACTIVE YEAR

CHARLEVOIX ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE MEET.

Newly Elected Officers Take Chair and Outline Plan of Year's Work—New Committees.

If the plans outlined at the meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce last Friday evening are carried out, the year 1921 will witness more activity along the lines of improvement and welfare of the city than in years gone by.

The meeting was opened by J. L. Crane, retiring president, who after a few remarks, turned the meeting over to E. B. Ward, the newly elected president. Mr. Ward gave a brief outline of his plans for the coming year. His statement that real things could be accomplished if each man did his part, has been demonstrated time and time again in associations of this kind. He asked each member to take upon themselves a responsibility—that responsibility consisting of making an effort along the lines of progress and the uplifting of the community in which we live.

That Charlevoix faces a new era of prosperity, no one can doubt. Prospects for the usual if not a better summer business is apparent. The next step to be taken is to provide facilities for enrolling a larger number of summer visitors than in previous years. Charlevoix is sadly lacking in this respect.

It has been stated, and from evidence produced, substantiated, that hundreds who desire to spend the summer here have been forced to seek other nearby resorts, Charlevoix not being able to accommodate them. This situation should be remedied—and at once. With a little effort on our part these needed accommodations can be provided.

Many matters of importance to the city were discussed and plans outlined to take care of them. A committee appointed to take this work in charge were appointed as follows.

NOTHING TO DO—JUST LOAFERS AROUND

That the farmer in winter is the most independent creature on earth, with nothing to do but to toast his feet in the oven, read the paper and eat mince pies, is denied by the Newberry News. "The industrious farmer," asserts this paper, "begins work long before the sun darts its rays across the horizon of the frigid lake or illuminates the crest of the distant hills. With his soul enshrouded in gloom, he proceeds to build a fire and soften his shoeleaves (gift of a sore-headed friend) with a sledgehammer. He then takes a lantern and shovels his way to the barn to feed the hogs. It is then time to feed the newly arrived calf, which seems to delight in titling a pail of milk over the tiller of the soil until he only needs to be stamped to pass for a package of oleomargarine. He crawls through a barbed-wire fence and digs the hay out of the snow, feeds the cows, cleans the stables, gathers up frozen chicks, chases a stray pig worth 35 cents four miles and does not catch it, doctors a sick horse, freezes his fingers, gets kicked by a one-eyed quadruped, and when the gloaming comes and quietness broods over the earth he has a single half-hour to meditate and wonder how he will pay his taxes."

DEATH TAKES MRS. TILLOTSON

STRICKEN SUNDAY BY ATTACK OF HEART FAILURE.

Was One of the Best Known Fraternal Lodge Workers in the State—Funeral Tuesday.

Mrs. David Tillotson, a resident of Charlevoix for over twenty-five years and one of the best known fraternal lodge workers in northern Michigan, died suddenly Sunday morning at her home, 104 Huriburt avenue, from heart failure.

Ella M. Ferguson was born September 22, 1859, at Lawton, Van Buren county, Michigan. At the age of eight years her parents moved to Ionia county, near Portland, and in 1875 from there to Harbor Springs, then known as Little Traverse.

She was united in marriage to David Tillotson in Harbor Springs, February 14, 1879, and moved from there to Charlevoix about twenty-five years ago and since that time has made this city her home.

Mrs. Tillotson was an active member of the order of Lady Macabees and Rebekahs of this city, and for a number of years has traveled the northern part of the state engaged in organization work, holding the office as district deputy.

About a month ago she gave up her organization work for a period of time, taking a much needed rest. She had been subject to attacks of heart trouble for a number of years. Her death is to be regretted and she will be greatly missed not only among the members of the order with whom she had been associated with for a number of years, but intimate friends in this city who knew her well.

She is survived by one brother, Edwin I. Ferguson of Harbor Springs, and a step-son, William Tillotson of near East Jordan.

Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Smith of the Congregational church officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

Died at Age of 91.

Thomas Wiggins, formerly of Canton, Ohio, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elmer Hibble, 120 Belvedere avenue, Sunday, January 9, at the age of 91 years. He came to Charlevoix in September of last year and has made his home here up to the time of his death. The remains were taken to his former home at Canton, Ohio, Tuesday, for burial.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS DOUBLE VICTORY

BOYS' AND GIRLS' TEAMS BOTH ARE WINNERS

Both Teams Play Brilliant Games and Win Approval of Spectators—The Schedule

The High School opened its 1921 basketball season with a double victory over Bellaire at the rink last Friday night, the girls winning 20-11, and the boys 33-10.

The girls victory was somewhat of a surprise to the visitors as they expected an easy time with this game, but when our forwards, Flanders and Meggison, got into action their dreams of victory soon vanished.

The boys victory was not the result of a sudden brilliant burst of basket shooting during any part of the game, but of speedy floor work, smooth team work and a constant superiority over the visitors, which was evident every second during the game.

Considering the fact that this was their first game and that Bellaire had already won from Traverse City Catholic high, the management is more optimistic in estimating their chances for a successful season. Charlevoix . . . R. F. . . R. Smith

CELEBRATE 14th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Friends Surprise Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thursday Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howard were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening, January 6th, when a party of friends arrived to remind them of their 14th wedding anniversary.

A pot luck supper was served at 6:30, after which Mr. and Mrs. Howard and a few of the guests participated in a mock wedding, Meyer A. Levison performing the ceremony. Mrs. Albin Smith was train bearer, Clarence Wood ring bearer and Ray Faulkner gave the bride away. The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Albin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Finucan, Mrs. Lou Comfort, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Cooper, Mrs. Dorothy Crouter, Mrs. Emrey Pierce, Miss Addie Holley, and the guest of honor, Mrs. John Ackert.

EASTERN STAR GIVE FINE SUPPER

Local Chapter Entertains Members of Their Families

The local chapter of the Eastern Stars gave a six-thirty dinner Wednesday evening of last week, for members and their families. The tables were prettily decorated with long strips of crimson crepe paper, while from the lights atrips of blue and white paper were hung. Eighty people sat at the first table. Later in the evening a victrola was brought up from S. M. See & Son and the remainder of the time was spent in dancing.

TAX IS PAID ON 925 DOGS

IN COUNTY FOR THE YEAR JUST CLOSED.

A Total of $2,893.30 Expended for Privilege of Owning a Dog—Good Work Done.

County Treasurer Charles H. Emrey has given out the following report of the amount of tax collected for dogs and the number of licenses sold in Charlevoix county during the year of 1920. This includes the amount collected by County Treasurer Emrey at his office, as well as the amount collected by the various township treasurers.

During the year 1920, a total number of 925 licenses were issued amounting in dollars and cents to $2,893.30.

This amount is divided as follows: Amount received from township and city treasurers, $1,277.30. Amount taken in by county treasurer derived from licenses he issued, $1,616.00.

In connection with the above amount, Treasurer Emrey received from city and township treasurers, from what is known as "old dog fund balances," $1,205.13, making a total of $4,098.43 received from the entire county to be credited to receipts from dog licenses.

There were approximately twenty-one dogs assessed in Charlevoix county during the year 1920 on whom the license were not paid. A report of the delinquents has been turned over the the prosecuting attorney and sheriff, and warrants are now being drawn to prosecute at least some of the offenders. Those who have not attended to the matter and secured licenses for their dogs as the law requires, may find it a rather expensive proposition now to square themselves with the county officials.

Great credit is due the officers of Charlevoix county for their work in collecting the dog tax. Few counties, if any, have made the number of collection as has Charlevoix. A glance at the above figures will show that but twenty-one dog owners have failed to comply with the law, and without doubt the number will be decreased during the present month, and may result in the collection of the license fee for every dog in the county.

The receipts derived from the dog tax collections are used to pay all just claims for live stock destroyed by dogs, and the balance is credited to the county general fund. During the year 1920 the total of live stock indemnities paid amounts to a trifle less than $1,000.

SHERIFF WEAVER ENTERTAINS BOARD

Serves Oyster Supper in the New Jail Friday Night.

Practically every member of the board of supervisors, several of the county officers and two innocent newspaper men were jailed for several hours last Friday night. No particular offense was charged against them other than their presence was wanted by Sheriff Weaver, who was host at an oyster supper, served in the north room, vacant at present, but later to be filled with cells and occupied by violators of the law.

The stunt pulled off by Sheriff Weaver met with the approval of those present, even if they were in his custody for the time being. A most enjoyable evening was spent. After the oysters had been disposed of and cigars lighted, E. B. Ward, acting as toast master, called upon each member for a short talk. Some talked, some told stories, other commented on various subjects.

At the close of the talk-fest each were reminded that an honor had been bestowed upon them, that of having ate the first meal served in the new jail. A remark that fully covers the situation is recalled and we heartily agree to it—that if our genial sheriff is as lavish with his "oats" in the future as at this event, it would take but little persuasion on his part to induce any member present on this occasion to again be his guest—under the same circumstances of course.

APPROVE BONDS OF INCOMING OFFICERS

Board of Supervisors Complete the Work of January Session.

Charlevoix's board of supervisors finished the work laid out for them during their January session on Saturday last, and adjourned, after spending practically the entire week closing up matters left over from the October session and approving the bonds of the incoming officers.

One matter for which the board is deserving of considerable credit, is their action in regard to safeguarding the dairy herds of Charlevoix county against tuberculosis. They will join with Emmet, Antrim and Grand Traverse counties; all four counties working in conjunction with the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, in an effort to prevent the spread of tuberculosis among dairy herds of the various counties. Persons so desiring can have their herds tested, the expense being divided equally between the four counties.

Provision was also made for additional clerk hire in the office of the county clerk and treasurer, due largely to the increased work that has been added to these officials under the new bookkeeping system recently installed.

The board also voted to refund the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce $1,000 which they expended in securing the site for the new state park at Horse Point, on the Boyne City, Charlevoix road.

SEN. BAKER DRAWS GOOD COMMITTEES

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE ON STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS

Also Member of Judiciary, Highway and Election—Chebogan Man To Be Kept Busy

Senator Herbert F. Baker, of the 29th district which includes Charlevoix county, drew excellent committee appointments from Lieutenant Governor Read, having been named chairman of normal schools, and member of the following committees: Judiciary, highway and elections.

The normal schools committee is the legislative committee which supervises recommendations for the four state normal schools located at Ypsilanti, Kalamazoo, Mt. Pleasant and Marquette.

The judiciary committee is the legal committee of the senate and is usually made up of attorneys. In naming Senator Baker (who is not a lawyer) Lieutenant Governor Read paid the senator from the 29th a high compliment.

The highway and also the election committee are considered strong and responsible appointments, and the able and fighting senator from Chebogan will be a busy man during the present legislative term.

LEGION TEAM YET UNDEFEATED

WINNER OF EVERY GAME PLAYED TO DATE

Win From Boyne City on Their Own Floor and Defeat Petoskey by Decisive Score

The Charlevoix Legion basket ball team has made an enviable record so far this season, the boys having won every game played. It appears to the spectator that no matter where they play, nor what odds they are up against, they play a brand of basket ball that places them at the long end of the score when the game is finished.

On Friday night of last week they defeated Boyne City Legion team on their own floor by a score of 16 to 8. The game was hotly contested, and is said to have been the roughest exhibition of basket ball witnessed for many a day. But the boys, by excellent team work, outplayed their opponents and demonstrated to them that there were a few points about the game they had yet to learn.

On Monday evening of this week they again won from the fast Petoskey Legion team by a score of 34 to 25, on the local floor. The game was the result of perfect team work and being aggressive from the very start. In the beginning of the first half Charlevoix threw three baskets, giving them a lead the Petoskey aggregation was unable to overcome.

V. Y. Tuttle played his first game as center with the local Legion team and in his position was certainly a credit to the team. His excellent work resulted in score after score for the home boys. He was pitted against Heemstra, Petoskey's center, considered to be one of the best outside of college teams, but easily out-jumped his opponent and from a spectator's point of view, played a classier game.

Weststaff was changed from his former position as center to forward, and while he was somewhat confused at first, he regained his confidence in the last half and scored three baskets.

Dittleson was taken out in the last half and Hammet played the third quarter, when he was replaced by Durance. Durance and Poole played their usual steady games. In fact, every man on the team played a game that brought words of commendation from the spectators.

The visitors were the fastest aggregation of players that the locals have been up against, and local fans are looking forward to the result of the return game being played at Petoskey this (Wednesday) evening.

The schedule for the next week is Tuesday evening, Harbor Springs vs. Charlevoix Legion. Thursday evening, Traverse City vs. Charlevoix Legion, both games to be played on the local floor. The games begin at 7:30. Turn out and encourage the boys. They need your help and will appreciate it.

Union Services at M. E. Church

All churches in the city will join in a union service at the M. E. church next Sunday evening, January 16, in a victory service for national prohibition. Rev. James Smith of the Congregational church will deliver the address.

THIRTEEN GEESSE HEADED NORTH

Now we have one on weather conditions that beats anything ever heard of and puts one over on the oldest inhabitant, says the Elk Rapids Progress in its issue of January 6. Fred Smith, Enrl Westlund, Archie Munro, and Mr. Westlund's son testify that Monday afternoon they saw a flock of thirteen wild geese come from over Elk Lake, flying low and headed north. Five persons saw the phenomenon—and it was surely a phenomenon. The witnesses swear that they were not laboring under any illusions and were not in any manner deluded. Beyond their own testimony they bring forward a lady to vouch for their truthfulness. As we have always been a radical believer in the rights and privileges of women, we succumb to their blandishments and consider the evidence conclusive and the case closed. Recollect this occurred on January 3rd, 1921.

AT THE MOVIES

Constance Binney, the charming Realart star, who will appear the latter part of this week at the Palace Theatre in the Rachel Crothers play, "32 East," first won the applause of the public as a dancer in "Oh, Lady, Lady." She has several opportunities to dance in her new picture as she had in "The Stolen Kiss."

Reynold Donay, a well known New York actor, is Miss Binney's leading man. The remainder of the cast is the same as in the stage version. John S. Robertson, of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" fame, was the director.

From church choir to comedy chorus—quite a step for the little country girl. But ministers' children are often high steppers. Don't miss the exquisite dances of Constance Binney in "32 East", the play in which she has starred for two solid years on the stage, and in which she has now been filmed. Coming to the

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S
GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Can you give me the date of England's first bible? The first bible in English language? The date of the first printed English New Testament?—R. L.

A. The "Old Latin", England's first bible, was made for the Roman Church in the second century. From it Jerome, in the fourth century, made the great version called "The Vulgate", which means "to make common or public". From this the Roman Catholic Duoy bible was made. The first English bible; John Wicliff, the great English reformer, born in 1320, was the first to translate the whole bible into the English language. It took him about 22 years and was made from the Latin Vulgate, the Hebrew and Greek originals being then practically unknown. Although only in hand-writing, many copies were made, several of which still exist.

The printed English New Testament. This was made by William Tyndale, one of the great Protestant reformers and a contemporary of Luther in 1525.

Q. Dear Doctor: Can you explain why the Scriptures do not agree with modern scientific discoveries?—M.B.

A. My dear Sir: The Bible is entirely consistent with the discoveries of science. Who taught Job that "He hangeth the world upon nothing?" Job 26:7. How beautifully this language adapts itself with other passages to the scientific facts not then known, that this globe is not supported on any other solid substance as the pagan mythologies even now teach, but is held in space by invisible forces of gravitation; that the revolution of the earth upon its axis is so absolutely regular that it has not for two thousand years varied the one hundredth part of a second; so that the day spring never fails nor lingers in the eastern sky.

"The host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured." Jer. 33:22. We may on a clear night, with the unaided eye see only 1,160 stars; but when the telescope began to be pointed toward the heavens by Galileo, less than three centuries ago; then for the first time men began to know that Jeremiah was right. Geology teaches a watery waste, whose dense vapors shut out the light. Moses affirms that, at first, the earth was formless and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep. Geology makes life to precede light, and the life develops beneath the deep. Moses presents the creative spirit as brooding over the great deep before God said, "Let there be light." Geology makes the atmosphere to form an expanse by lifting water vapors into the clouds, and so separating the fountains of waters above from those below. Moses affirms the same. Geology tells us that continents next lifted themselves from beneath the great deep and bore vegetation. Moses also declares that the dry land appeared and brought forth grass, herb and the tree, exactly correspondent to the three orders of primeval vegetation. Geology asserts that the heavens became cleared of clouds and the sun, moon and stars appeared. Moses does not say that God created all these heavenly bodies on the fourth creative day, but that they began to serve to divide the day and night and to become signs for seasons, days and years. Geology shows us sea monsters, reptiles and winged creatures. Moses likewise reveals the waters bringing forth moving and creeping creatures and fowl flying in expanse. Geology unfolds the race of quadruped mammals, and so Moses makes cattle and beasts of the earth to follow in the same order and on the sixth day of creation Geology brings man on the scene last of all and so does Moses. And so I might go on and on if space would permit, but let me say, Dear Brother, if you want real modern science study your Bible; and besides it contains the fountain of life for you.

Q. Would you say the Bible was genuine, or authentic, or both?—A.S.

A. A book is said to be "genuine" when it was written by the person whose name it bears, or in the case of an anonymous book, when it was written about the time it purports to have been written, and by the class of men to whom ascribed. A book is "authentic" when it relates matters of fact—when its contents are true. With these tests we can say that our Bible is both genuine and authentic; for it contains the books as they came from God-inspired writers.

Q. Can you tell me how long Noah was building the ark? What was the size of Noah's ark?—N. N. F.

A. The ark was under construction one hundred and twenty years. The ark was fifteen hundred feet long and two hundred and forty feet wide.

Q. I cannot believe that God would send one of His children to hell. How do you explain it when we are taught in His Holy Word that he is a God of love?—G. C.

A. God will not destroy one of His children, but you are not a child of God until you are born again, which means repentance of sin, believing, confessing and following Christ Jesus, God's Son, who by his shed blood purchased for all who will accept, a birthright into eternity. Don't go on thinking that God is not going to call this world to judgment. He is a God of mercy, but there is one thing we must keep in mind, He is also a God of justice. We are taught that if a man won't have grace he shall have judgment. You can have grace, mercy, love or you can have judgment and the curse of God. How do you get into a family? Join it? No, you are born into it; so, before you become a child of God's family you must be born of the Spirit, born again, born from above. Heb. 9:24. We should remember that Jesus does now appear in the presence of God for us. He has said if we would confess Him before men, He would confess us before the Father and before the Holy Angels. We represent Him here, and He pleads for us there. He is our representative in the Heavens and we are his representative in the earth; let's be true to Him. Please read: 1 John 3:10; Ephes. 4:13, 14, 15; Acts 13:10; Luke 13:27, 28; 1 Peter 1:23, 24, 25; John 3:6, 7, 16, 18; Heb. 2:3.

Q. Do you think that Christ's return to earth is near? Was the Kaiser or the Beast referred to in Revelation? And do you think that God had any part in the great war through which we have just passed?—P. H. W.

A. That the Kniser is more "beast" than human I have no doubt. No, I do not believe him to be the beast referred to in Revelation, but I do believe him to be the (Gog). Study carefully Ezekiel 38 and 39. The "Beast" is in Europe and will come into power again, for a time, at which time will come our last great war, "The Holy War", and the return to earth of our Lord, and Savior Christ Jesus. Yes, I believe the glorious second coming of Jesus is nearing. I believe I can see the prophecies of the recent great war. Get your Bible, turn to Jeremiah 25:15-33. Read these passages carefully and study them diligently. Yes I do believe God was in the war. God uses man to save man and He also uses man to punish man. He used Nebuchadnezzar, Cyrus, Titus and others to punish the Jews. He used the Jews, under Joshua, to punish the Canaanites and other tribes in the (Continued on page eight)

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALIST
Brings the Knowledge of their Organization and Experience in Their Successful Treatment
OF THOUSANDS OF CASES

Offers Services Free of Charge
The United Doctors is an organization of reputable, licensed physicians. They are all specialists in the treatment of certain diseases. They treat without surgical operations diseases of all internal organs, stomach, intestines, constipation, piles, liver, spleen, heart, nerves, skin, rheumatism, sciatica, goitre, tape-worm, leg ulcers and all long-standing, deep-seated diseases. Many years experience. The complete record of thousands of cases successfully treated prove that their methods are right. They were among the first to earn the name

"BLOODLESS SURGEONS"
Each staff member has at his command the knowledge and resources of the organization. Many people suffer from diseases that can be alleviated just because they cannot afford to go to high priced Specialists and Hospitals at a long distance from their homes. No community has a sufficient number suffering from these diseases to support special Hospitals for their treatment and cure. The United Doctors have solved the problem. Their highly trained specialists go to each community and will advise a proper course of treatment for the sufferers and instruct them how to take care of themselves at home. No matter what you have been told or the experience you had with other physicians, consult him on this visit. It costs nothing. If your case is incurable he will give you advice as may stay and relieve the disease. Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents or guardians.

Absolutely Free

To the person making the lucky purchases

A Buffalo Cloth Overcoat

A Dress Coat
2 Mackinaws

During the month of January we are going to inaugurate week sales under a different plan than heretofore put before the public. The first sale starts on January 15 and continues until Saturday night January 22. The second sale starts Monday, January 24 and ends Saturday night January 29. During each of these sales we will give away absolutely free, an overcoat and a mackinaw. One overcoat and mackinaw during the first sale, and one of each during the second sale. Remember, an overcoat and mackinaw during each week's sale.

Our plan is this: During the first week's sale, the person who makes the 29th and 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more will be given free the overcoat and mackinaw described below. During the second week's sale, the person making the 29th and 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more will be given free, the overcoat and mackinaw described below. The only stipulation that we make is that the person who makes the 29th and 39th cash purchase, at either of the week sales, must be able to wear the prize coats themselves. If they don't fit you, they will be given to the 30th $1.00 purchaser, or so on until the person is found who can wear the coats given away.

First Sale Jan. 15 to Jan. 22

To the 29th cash purchase of $1.00 or more, a Buffalo Cloth Overcoat, well lined and made. The Overcoat we have sold regularly at.....$20.00

To the 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more a plaid wool Mackinaw, belted, good material and will give you excellent service, the kind we sell for.....$5.00

Second Sale Jan. 24 to Jan. 29

To the 29th cash purchase of $1.00 or more, a Dark Grey Dress Overcoat, a fine garment that we have been selling for.....$16.00

To the 39th cash purchase of $1.00 or more, a Grey Mackinaw, blanket lined, leather trimmed sleeves and pockets, regular price.....$7.50

The sales will start on the 15th and end the evening of the 29th. The prizes will be placed on exhibition in our windows so you may see their real value. Someone will be the winner, maybe it will be you. When the person makes the winning purchase, they will be given the prize at once. And remember, we are still closing out our stock of heavy winter goods at one-fourth off.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

While an Albion policeman was on his beat and his wife absent at a club meeting, thieves backed a truck up to his front porch and removed a lot of apples, potatoes and a keg of cider from his cellar. Our police everywhere are becoming alarmed at the increase of crime, and think seriously of demanding the protection of the boy scouts.

Not only were 25 girls suspended from a Michigan Normal for ransacking a cottage where they went on an outing, but the rest of the girls in the school have been ordered to quit talking about the affair. No adequate reason has been given for inflicting the more cruel punishment on the innocent parties.

Men who attempted to rob a Saginaw grocery store and had pointed a revolver at the clerk, turned and fled when they saw the proprietor pick up a chair. It is not known whether they thought he meant to throw the chair at them, or meant to sit down and make out their bill.

Forty-five school children in two rural schools of Lenawee county were tested by a medical examiner and only one of them was found to be physically perfect. This crowding and undernourishment and bad sanitation and so on in the cities seem to be very serious for the children in the country.

The biggest tree in the Grand Traverse region has been felled on the Henry Wilhelm farm, south of Traverse City. It is an elm, from which 21 logs were cut, each 12 feet long. The logs scaled 8,000 feet.

The stump from which the tree was cut measured six feet across the smallest way, and the top of the butt log measured 52 inches across. The tree produced four 12-foot logs, and the limbs 17, the latter being larger than most of the trunk logs.

Lumbermen say that the tree was, without doubt, one of the largest ever cut in northern Michigan.

Jack in Garden.

Jack-in-the-pulpit, by nature a bog lover, is by no means as fastidious as the most of its clan, and a moist, slightly shaded spot in one corner of the yard will amply supply its demands, says the American Forestry association of Washington. This plant is a near relative of the cultivated calla, with purple and white or green and white striped blossoms—usually called flowers. The real flowers, though, are deep in the center of this showy dress, at the base of the central spadix and may be either fertile or sterile.

promised land. Germany has cultivated the scholastic infidelity known as "higher criticism", and flooded the world with a corrupting system of unbelief. France, in a rebound against Romish Priestcraft, has become steeped in infidelity. England has picked her manhood and womanhood (for shame) in beer and strong drink. Belgium oppressed and tortured the poor Congo natives but a few years ago. Turkey has murdered poor helpless Christians by the thousands; and our own dear America, "The land of the free and the home of the brave," what are we doing to carry the Gospel of Christ Jesus to these foreign lands? Nothing will still the tempest of war in the heart of man but the religion of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. What we need today are men with backbone, men who have the courage of their convictions, men who dare to preach the Gospel of Christ Jesus and live for him.

Q. Are we to understand that Christ taught Baptismal Regeneration in John 3:5 and Mat. 28:19?—V. L. N.

A. Christ in John 3:5 is teaching the necessity of Regeneration, (Baptismal Regeneration). But in Mat. 28:19, baptism of repentance; Jesus' disciples, baptised as did John "with the baptism of repentance" (Acts 19:4; Mat. 3:2) unto the kingdom at hand, since both John and Jesus and His disciples preached the kingdom of heaven as "at hand" Mat. 3:2-4:17; 10:5-7. But the preaching of Jesus and John, alike in message, "the kingdom of heaven is at hand", had this great distinction, that John's preaching was concerning "one who should come after him" while Jesus preached Himself as the one who had come. Doubtless the Jewish ministry of Jesus laid the foundation doctrines of the Grace to be preached to the whole world, but it required the death and resurrection of Jesus to give the facts upon which these doctrines could be preached (Rom. 3:24-26; 4:24; 5:9; 2 Cor. 5:18-21). Baptism "by water" was a new ordinance instituted for believers of this age, (this side the Cross) as a public witness to identification with Christ. Christian baptism has no reference to repentance, as a believer has already the changed mind concerning the person and work of Christ, but is a symbol of the believer's union with Christ, in His death and resurrection; but is not necessary to salvation. While "baptismal regeneration" is necessary, Eph. 4:5. In Titus 3:5 St. Paul says, "According to His mercy He saved us by the washing of regeneration, and the renewal of the Holy Ghost". Regeneration can occur but once, and constitutes the potential principle of effectual repentance and ultimate sanctification. Conversion in its first sense may in many cases be superfluous. The one great need of the world is the Holy Ghost. The one great need of the church is the Holy Ghost. The one great need of the individual; of your heart, and my heart, is the Holy Ghost. We may think we need many things, but we need nothing so much as we need the Holy Ghost. Read Mat. 3:11.

Q. What is the biblical definition of a miracle? And the character of miracles?

A. (Definition) It is an event compelling attention and awakening wonder; indicating superhuman power; accomplishing some practical work; and furnishing a sign of a divine message. (Character) Miracles are of two kinds, absolute and providential. An absolute miracle is one that is new and is a wonder in itself. A providential miracle is one that is not miraculous in itself, but in the circumstances attending its performance.

Highway Improvement

ROAD BUILDERS STUDY SOILS

Highway Engineers Expected to Obtain Important Information by Investigation.

An investigation which promises to place at the disposal of highway engineers important information regarding the relation of soils to highway durability has been undertaken by the bureau of public roads. United States department of agriculture. This work includes taking samples of soil at spots in the subgrade of a highway where the road has begun to fail, studying surrounding geological conditions to determine how moisture arrived in the subgrade, thus destroying its value; making laboratory tests to determine the physical characteristics of soils, and obtaining a scientific measure of the bearing value of soils. In this investigation it is proposed to obtain as much co-operation as possible from the various state highway departments. The bureau of soils is co-operating with the bureau of public roads in this work.

Preliminary investigation has been carried in Maryland on the Washington-Baltimore road, and will be extended beyond Baltimore and on other roads in Maryland. Progress has been made in the matter of laboratory tests, a number of samples of subgrade material and other samples already having been examined.

The federal highway engineers point out that soils differ widely in their ability to support loads, particularly when they are wet. Just why this is true and just what are the characteristics which make them different is little understood at present. It is in this field of investigation, of increasing importance because of the growing volume of heavy traffic, that the federal highway engineers expect to secure important information.

GOOD NAMES HELP TO FARMS

Add Attractiveness and Will Become Trade Mark—Farm Bureaus Are Assisting.

It would be a nice thing throughout the country if a larger percentage of the farmers would attach some distinctive names to their farms and have the names recorded at the courthouse. A good name for a farm adds to its attractiveness, and is a good advertisement, which will become more or less of a trade-mark as time progresses. A good many of the farm bureaus are taking the initiative in helping to suggest names for farms, and in this manner are getting the work started.

A-a-a-h—the Soothing Difference!

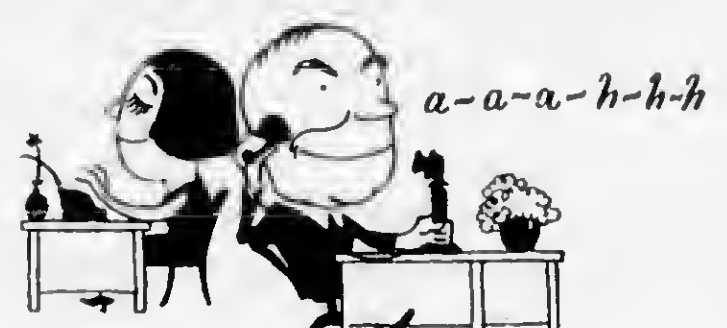

Long Distance Telephone Service has changed.

It used to be that calling forty miles was as trying to the temper as calling, say, an absent young son at dusk.

You waited an interminable length of time, the line clattered and sputtered, and when finally you did get your party you had to shout like mad to make yourself heard.

But Today—ah, the soothing difference!

Service is prompt, quiet, efficient. You can usually get cities outside the state in ten minutes—Michigan towns in less. And every word spoken in an ordinary tone is heard distinctly.

Have you realized that YOU can use toll service profitably in business and personal affairs?

Such affairs, you know, are best "put over" when they are talked over.

And Long Distance Service affords the quick, convenient, economical means of communication. Try it.

ELLSWORTH

J. E. Richards of Bellaire was in town on business one day last week.

W. L. Russell of Detroit, visited at the H. L. Dawson home several days last week.

George Thompson of Chestonia is visiting at the home of his son S. G. Thompson for a few days.

The Glenners held an all day session at the home of Mrs. Frank Peoles on Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Drenth left last week for a visit with friends at Chicago and Grand Rapids.

Miss Ladema Dawson visited friends at Elk Rapids and Kewadin from Saturday until Monday.

C. W. Fales has moved into town and is preparing to open his new general store on or about January the 29th.

Mrs. J. H. Elzinga and son Herbert are at home again after a six weeks visit with relatives at Henry, Ill., Oklahoma.

The furnace ordered some time ago for the Methodist church has been received and will be installed some time this week.

Several rigs from Atwood were moving the household goods belonging to Rev. Pickart of Atwood to the Ellsworth station the last of this week.

E. J. Chelles left last week for Pittsburg with potatoes from the farmer's warehouse. He expects to visit relatives at Detroit on his way home.

Skaters are getting in all of their spare time on the lake at present and report the ice as being the best for this sport of any time in recent years.

George and Melvin Bacon of Alma, Michigan arrived last week and are occupying the Art Barnes farm which their father recently purchased from F. H. Skow.

Mrs. Harry Taylor was taken to the Petoskey hospital last week suffering from blood poison in the hand, and at the hospital it was found necessary to amputate one finger. She is getting along nicely now however.

Miss Metta Rubingh has severed her connections with the Klooster & Sons store, where she has clerked for the past two years. She gives no reason for resigning but it is thought by many that she will soon sign a contract to net as general manager of a peachy little cobbler stone bungalow about two miles south-east of town.

About thirty couples enjoyed an old fashioned dancing party at the Blue hall on Friday evening of last week at which old fashioned tunes and an old fashioned good time was had by all. Lunch was served, or rather was supposed to be served, at midnight but at the supper hour it was discovered that while the older folks were making merry someone had started a crime wave in Ellsworth, raided the commissary department, and vanquished with the cops. Men from the sheriff's office are working on the case and it is expected that arrests may follow.

ATWOOD.

"Schopenhauer's Bible."

The "Unpack hat" is a Latin translation of the "Ipsid-shads" made by Anquell Duperron, from a Persian version of the Sanskrit original, which was published at Strassburg, in two volumes quarto, 1801-1802, under the title "Unpack hat, id est, Secretum Legendum." It consists of a group of treatises, expounding a general system of mystical pantheism, which arose as a development of the more theosophical element in the Vedas. It is believed that this influential Schopenhauer had a little in his writings.

Did Roosevelt Steal Panama

The Republic of Colombia insisted very zealously during the early days of President Wilson's regime in being reimbursed to the extent of about $20,000,000, because "Roosevelt stole Panama" from them. Henry M. Hill, a brilliant young man who was born and raised at Panama, recently came to Washington, and when he found that this issue was still alive, he proceeded to attack it vigorously. His argument leaves no doubt about his knowledge of the details of the history of his country. Mr. Hill in a statement entitled "The Independence of Panama," reviews the aversion of Spain in attempting to hold control over Central and South American peoples. "Two great principles of the evolution of the South American republics must be borne in mind," he says. First of these is, "that, in spite of some attempts to keep certain territory within the limits of some Republic by force, in general each territorial region has been permitted, in the end, to determine for itself the question of its union, with, or separation from, other territories, and (2) the general tendency has always been away from large republics and toward the development of local independence." Mr. Hill shows that the history of the United States of Colombia has been a striking illustration of this second principle, and taking up his own Panama as an illustration, he shows that it became independent of Spain as early as 1821 without the aid of Colombia, and that it afterwards joined with Colombia, "purely as an act of her own volition," and rendered material assistance to Colombia in establishing her independence. In 1830 Panama separated herself from Colombia, but returned to the union, but on a second occasion Panama remained separate from Colombia for nearly a year, when it returned to its place in the Colombian government following peace overtures that contained many promises which proved, according to Mr. Hill, to be "specious." In 1840 Panama again maintained her independence for two years, when she was again "enjoyed into reunion with Colombia."

There is a good old Yankee saying of "three times and out." Panama however, separated again from Colombia in 1860 but was compelled to return to Colombian control by force of arms. The people of Panama determined that when the time came they would strike for a permanent independence, and with an undaunted spirit they waited until the third of November, 1903, when for the fifth and last time they successfully proclaimed themselves as an independent government.

Mr. Hill says he is prepared to prove that the United States had no knowledge of the revolution for independence until it was an accomplished fact; but quite naturally his people at Panama were rejoiced beyond measure when the United States promptly made the independence of Panama certain and assured their position in the world through the recognition proclaimed by President Roosevelt. The statement is an interesting contribution to Panama history, and it serves to drive another nail in the famous claims of Colombia and its wailing plea for American millions.

1920 With the Railroads

An interesting summary of the railroad situation has been furnished by Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, in a statement reviewing the railroad situation for the year of 1920. Mr. Cuyler says that under private operation during the year, the railroads moved a larger gross tonnage than ever before, and also established new records in the amount of transportation gotten out of each car. These records, Mr. Cuyler says, were not achieved by the railroads alone but with the aid of shippers in unloading cars, and with "the day and night, rain or shine, work of hundreds of thousands of employees." There has been a great deal of discussion in the newspapers as to what course the railroads will pursue in their attempts to collect the six per cent return pledged to the railroads by the transportation act, in view of the fact that the earnings fall considerably short. Mr. Cuyler in speaking for the railroads sets this question at rest by the statement that "the railway executives realize that they are trustees of a great public interest in the reduction of railroad operating expense to the lowest possible figure, and every effort will be made during the coming year to accomplish this by further economies and efficiency."

It is a noteworthy achievement that the increased average movement per freight car per day has grown from 22.3 to 28.6 miles, while the increased average load per car has been brought up from 23.3 to 30 tons. Mr. Cuyler states that there has been a substantial reduction in the number of unserviceable locomotives while the accumulation of unmoved freight cars, which amounted to 103,237 on March 31, was brought down to 21,991 on December 3, of which only 6,386 were detained because of the inability of the railroads to move them. The relocation of box cars between the east and the west furnished another record of efficiency for the railroads. In addition the lines have moved the third highest coal production in the history of the country, and have made expenditures of over a half billion dollars in improving the maintenance of tracks, bridges, cars and locomotives; in addition to which they have contracted for additional and betterments, and for new freight cars and locomotives and for reconstruction work in sums hitherto unknown in railroad development.

"Private ownership and operation of the railroads as a measure of sound public policy," said Mr. Cuyler, in concluding his review, rests "largely upon its superior efficiency and economy. In my judgment the American railroad companies during the present year have justified, and during the coming year will make every effort to continue to justify, the support and confidence which public opinion, in justifying measure, has already accorded them."

Financial Relief in Disarmament

Whenever the Army and Navy appropriations are asked for Congress is usually so staggered by the amounts that it lends an attentive ear to arguments for disarmament. Senators Hiram Johnson and Senator Borah, the "irreconcilables," are among the enthusiasts favoring an agreement between Great Britain, Japan and the United States to limit the size of armament. At the same time the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva has taken action recommending to various governments the reduction of armaments.

Aside from all other considerations involving ideals and idealism, especial emphasis is laid upon the great burden of expense reflected in taxation throughout the world. It is plain that in our own country the income taxes would be reduced if disarmament could be achieved, because foreign countries would then be able to use some of the money they are spending for armament to pay America something of their big war debt of $10,000,000,000. Likewise, political economists state that an improved condition in European credit would follow, which would make itself shown in the rate of exchange in the different countries, thereby facilitating foreign trade. The economic benefits of disarmament are indisputably innumerable. In the last analysis Washington believes that if the thought of Europe could be turned from war and the people of those countries could be induced to direct all of their energies to productive purposes, that it would not be long before civilization would get on its feet again.

It seems a little strange that after the greatest war in history, as well as one of the greatest political upheavals ever known in the United States, that a new administration removed but a few weeks from assuming power, is still groping in the dark for a policy of less warfare, that will meet with hearty support in Congress.

Telephone Growth Amazing

The growth of the telephone since its invention only 40 years ago has been amazing. Today there are approximately 12,500,000 telephones in use in the United States and the messages carried total over twenty-two billion per year, or approximately 211 for each man, woman and child in the nation. There are nearly 30,000,000 miles of wire and this equipment cost the staggering total of two billions of dollars, about 700,000 individuals being owners of the securities.

CHARLEVOIX TAX CASE APPEALED

HIGH TRIBUNAL TO REVIEW
RECENT VERDICT

Million Dollar Estate Involved in United States District Court

Files in the $1,000,000 Augusta Dickel tax case have arrived in Washington for review by the supreme court, it is announced. The audit attracted wide attention when it was heard before District Judge C. W. Sessions. C. W. Sessions at Grand Rapids, Charlevoix county, died Sept. 16, 1916, just seventeen months after she had executed a trust conveyance of property worth $1,000,000 to the Detroit Trust Co. to be held for her heirs. Eight days before her death, congress passed the "estate tax law," imposing a revenue tax on the transfer of the estate of every person dying thereafter who made the transfer "in contemplation of death."

Collector of Internal Revenue E. J. Doyle of Grand Rapids, attempted to collect a tax said to have amounted to $59,136 on the Dickel transfer, but Victor E. Schwab, executor of the estate, brought suit for the money, claiming the government had no right to the tax.

The entire case hinged on the words "in contemplation of death" as contained in the law. The plaintiff maintained Mrs. Dickel had not made the transfer in contemplation of her own death, while Collector Doyle contended she had. A jury decided in favor of the government.

The circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati upheld the verdict and the case is now before the United States Supreme court.

PRETTY SWINDLER AGAIN HEARD FROM

Gets Away With Neat Sum From Muncie, Indiana, Merchants

The elusive Mrs. Josephine Stark, whom several merchants of Boyne City and Petoskey will remember as a hard-working check writer, is continuing her operations in other fields.

Several cash register machines in the above mentioned cities have worthless souvenirs of the penmanship of Mrs. Stark, who left during the height of the resort season, without leaving her address.

The Michigan Tradesman under the heading "Beware of Pleasing Personality Who Writes Checks" has the following comments:

"A clever check worker has operated successfully among our members at Muncie and this bulletin is sent to warn merchants to be on the lookout for her.

"She is described as being of good appearance, having dark hair and a pleasing personality. She is rather tall, well proportioned and a good talker.

"We are convinced that this is the same person who operated in Indianapolis two years ago and who since has operated successfully in St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Muncie, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and other points.

"The description tallies exactly, especially the part of the two children accompanying her.

"Be on the lookout for a woman of this description. Verify as far as possible and if there is the slightest doubt have her taken in custody, as the Muncie members are extremely anxious to get her and will identify her if apprehended. She is an expert crook."

WOMAN DIES IN TRAVERSE FIRE

Six Others Saved As Flames Cut Off
Their Escape by Stairways

One woman lost her life, another perhaps is fatally injured and Traverse City's largest business block is in ruins as the result of a fire which swept through the five-story Wilhelm block, Union and Front streets, last Friday night, causing a financial loss estimated at more than $150,000.

Miss Leone Way, aged twenty-two telephone operator, dropped four stories to her death when she was being pulled from the flaming building by means of a rope in the hands of firemen on the roof of the block.

Mrs. Dockerny, another apartment tenant of the fourth floor, was pulled from one of her rooms unconscious.

Through the valiant efforts of the fire department the lives of four children and two other women were saved. Mrs. Russell, city visiting nurse, was taken from the fifth floor by means of a rear fire escape. Mrs. P. McCool, a cripple woman, was rescued from her fourth-floor apartment by means of the same fire escape.

PROBATE JUDGE MAKES REPORT

OF BUSINESS TRANSACTED FOR
THE YEAR OF 1920

Ninety-four Cases Commenced Exclusive of Juvenile Division—
Makes Some Suggestions

Report of the Probate court of Charlevoix County: I submit the following as my annual report to the people of said county as the summary of the work of this court for the year ending December 31st, A. D. 1920. Ninety-four cases have been commenced in this court exclusive of the Juvenile Division, and are as follows: forty-three intestate estates have been begun, twenty-nine of which were in the regular course of probate and fourteen were the short method of procedure by determination of heirs. In addition to this, quite a number of intestate estates have been before the court for advice and adjustment by the heirs and parties interested, which have been settled without legal procedure. These cases involve only personal property of which heirs have possession and pay the funeral expenses, expenses of last sickness and outstanding obligations against the deceased and make distribution by general consent.

Nine wills have been admitted to probate without contest in any case. If we compare the number of testate estates with the number of intestate estates we see that only one person in five makes provision for the disposition of his estate by will. In some instances the heirs claim that the deceased has made a will but they are unable to find it. In other instances the efforts at making a will do not comply with the law, consequently are of no force and effect. To those making wills, I would say, deposit your will in a safety deposit box in the bank, or with some good reliable friend not interested therein, who has no motive in destroying the same, or you may deposit it with the probate court and get a receipt for the same in accordance with the law.

I would also suggest to all persons contemplating making wills, that they consult an attorney and have it properly drawn and executed. Five adult persons and one child have been admitted to the University Hospital for treatment; in every case during the year, the treatment has proved beneficial as far as has been reported. No deaths have resulted from operations or treatment for commitments this year.

Thirteen guardians have been appointed for minors, and three guardians for mentally incompetent persons. One other application was made for a guardian of a mentally incompetent and contested with the result that the petition was dismissed. Eight children have been adopted by residents of this county during the year.

Eleven petitions filed alleging insanity and asking commitment to the State Hospital for the insane. The petitions were dismissed in four cases, and order made admitting to the State Hospital in six cases and one seat to the Psychopathic Ward at Ann Arbor for observation.

An order was made admitting one person to the Michigan Home for the Feeble Minded at Lapeer which has not been carried out on account of the crowded condition of the home.

In the Juvenile division of the court twenty-seven children have appeared before the court either as delinquents or dependent children. In only four cases were the delinquents charged with offences of a serious nature or what might be classed as major offences, all others being minor offences. Where the offence was a loss or damage to property, on the property being restored or damages paid, they were returned to their parents on probation or the petitions dismissed as the court thought was for the best interest of all concerned. In every case before the court this year, the offender was in the first instance placed on probation before being sent to the Industrial School; in only two cases have the terms of the probation been violated, and the order revoked and the child sent to Lansing.

No girls have been sent to the Industrial Home at Adrian during the year.

Four estates were subject to inheritance tax, and the tax determined and paid amounting to $898.51.

The total expenses to the county in the insane hearings is $213.36 of which $57.20 will be refunded by Berrien county, as one of the patients was a legal resident of that county, but the visitation of insanity occurring while he is temporarily within this county must be heard and cared for by the county, and later reimbursed by the county of which he is a legal resident.

The expenses of the Juvenile Division are $13.20. This expense is for the board of children and witness fees for the people.

As I enter upon the third term of my official career, I feel to acknowledge my heartfelt gratitude to the people of the county for continuing me in this department of public affairs and I will repay you as far as in my power lies, by faithful and just administration.

S. A. Correll.

SUPERVISORS TO MEET IN JUNE

ANNUAL SESSION TO BE PROVIDED FOR BY NEW LAW

Business of This Meeting will be to Equalize State Tax—Work Usually Undertaken in Fall

Boards of supervisors in every Michigan county will be called upon to meet in June this year and every year thereafter for the purpose of equalizing the state tax, according to the terms of an amendment to be introduced into the legislature to the state board of equalization law.

Supervisors have heretofore held their equalization session in October but to meet the provisions of the state law this June meeting will now be necessary.

During the last session of the legislature, several amendments were introduced, but the one affecting the supervisors was overlooked. At the last session state valuation was provided for every year and on a basis of actual cash valuations.

The state board of equalization now comprises the state tax commission of three members; the auditor general and H. H. Halladay, head of the bureau of animal industry. This board is to meet on the third Monday in August every year. The duties of the board are "to examine data from county supervisors and hear representatives of the counties," thus requiring a session of the county boards in June.

The amendment to be introduced at this session will be chapter 15, section 5 of act 44 of 1911, and will provide for a session of the supervisors on the fourth Monday in June of every year.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES QUICKLY

GEORGE ANDERSON DIES OF CEREBRAL HEMORRAGE.

Had Been a Resident of Charlevoix for 45 Years—Stricken on Street.

George Anderson, a resident of Charlevoix county for 45 years, died of a cerebral hemorrhage Tuesday morning, January 18, while on his way to his property on Huribut avenue in company with William Black. He was stricken and compelled to halt twice while ascending south Bridge street hill, and upon reaching the top fell and was carried into the A. Alcox home, where he passed away before Dr. R. B. Armstrong, who had been summoned, could arrive.

Mr. Anderson was 67 years of age at the time of his death. He was born on the banks of the Canadian Thames, at Motherwell, Ontario, May 24, 1853, and lived there during his boyhood and young manhood. He was married to Sarah Elizabeth Shapton in 1876 at Avonorton, coming directly to Michigan and settling on a farm in the Barnard district. Dr. R. B. Armstrong bought the farm in the fall of 1909, and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson moved to this city, purchasing a home on the south side, where they have lived until the past few months. During the present winter they have made their home with their daughter, Mrs. Martin Block, on account of Mr. Anderson's poor health.

Deceased is survived by two children, Mrs. George Oldham of Hibbing, Minnesota, and Mrs. Martin Block of this city, also five sisters, Mrs. Christina Brown, Mrs. Adeline Brown and Miss Sarah Anderson of Motherwell, Ontario, Mrs. Mary Porteous of Mitchell, Ontario, and Mrs. Samuel Torgenson of Grand Forks, North Dakota, also a brother, Will Anderson of Spokane, Washington.

The date of the funeral will not be announced until the relatives have all been heard from, but it will be held from the M. E. church, of which he was a member, Rev. Henry Candler, officiating. Services at the cemetery will be conducted by the Masonic order.

CALL ISSUED FOR STATE CONVENTION

To be Held in Detroit on Thursday,
February 17

The republican state convention has been called for Thursday, February 17th, at Detroit, by action of the state central committee at a meeting held last Thursday. All county conventions are to be held on Monday, February 7th. The candidates to be named and to be voted for at the spring election, April 4th, are: Two justices of the supreme court, two members of the board of regents of the Michigan university, two members of the state board of agriculture, one member of the state board of education and a candidate for superintendent of public instruction and also the state highway commissioner.

Charlevoix is entitled to six delegates.

HIGH SCHOOL LOSES TO PETOSKEY

Home Team Plays in Hard Luck During Entire Game.

In a speedy and hotly contested game of basketball last Friday night the high school boys lost to Petoskey by a score of 15-10.

Ackert, star center, was decidedly off color, have been sent home sick in the afternoon before the game. This fact coupled with breaks of pure luck, which were always with the visitors, caused the big end of the score to be decidedly misplaced.

On account of the destruction of their gymnasium, the Boyne City high school has been obliged to cancel the remainder of its schedule. This left January 21st open on the local schedule, but the date is to be filled by Mancelona high school, and a good fast game is promised at the rink Friday night.

Meeting Postponed.

The Victory meeting planned for Sunday, January 16th, has been postponed to January 23rd, on account of the storm.

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank Xmas club will close in a few days. Join now. You will appreciate receiving a check at Xmas time. Adv. 22c.

STAMP OUT T. B. IN NORTH MICH.

FOUR COUNTIES UNITE IN ANTI-CAMPAIGN.

Work to be Handled Under the Direction of the State and Federal Departments

Four counties, Charlevoix, Antrim, Emmet and Grand Traverse have joined in a well-organized effort to stamp out tuberculosis from the dairy herds in these counties.

The work will be under the control of the state and federal authorities, on plans worked out with representatives of these departments, the county boards of supervisors and the county agents, co-operating.

The idea was first discussed at a meeting of stockmen at the Loeb Farms some months ago and was presented to the boards of supervisors at the October sessions by the county agents of the counties in question. Committees from the four boards met at the Loeb Farms and worked out complete plans of campaign and they were submitted to the supervisors at the January sessions, and approved.

A specially trained veterinary will be employed to test herds of cattle in the four counties, the expense being cared for through special appropriation from the supervisors. The four counties will become a unit for carrying on the work. Dairy men are agreeing to follow certain state and federal regulations regarding sanitation, etc., and to have their present herds tested and add only such stock as has been officially inspected by the veterinary.

Already enough local dairymen have been enlisted to keep the veterinary busy for some time, and to make the work worth while. Dairy men interested are asked to get in touch with any of the following county agents: K. K. Vinling, Petoskey; C. W. Wing, Boyne City; L. L. Drake, Bellaire; or Dr. J. P. Houston acting agent, Traverse City.

CITY'S LEADING INDUSTRY HIT

Something Always Taking the Joy
Out of Life.

"All dressed up and no place to go" might be applied to some of the local boys who enjoy sitting in a game of stud, two-pair or "rummy." State Police Paul Kutter threw a wrench in the "works" of Charlevoix's leading winter occupation last Friday night when he raided John Fagan's pool room and tobacco store. Kutter visited Fagan's place of business, sat around awhile, and then made a killing. The proprietor and five other men were caught red handed playing stud poker, and the sextet were placed under arrest and on the following morning were taken before Justice Collins, who fined them $10.00, with costs amounting to $4.50.

Since the raid one faces unknown dangers by merely making a suggestion, if the suggestion can be construed in any manner of starting a "quiet" little game. Even the slot machines have mysteriously disappeared and if it had not been for the storm on Sunday, an increased attendance at the various churches might have been apparent.

Reminds one of pre-election days when candidates for city offices, especially that of mayor, wend their way to the house of worship.

PLACED ON THREE IM- PORTANT COMMITTEES

Representative Lewis Well Placed for First Term

Rollie L. Lewis, state representative from Charlevoix county, drew some good and exceedingly flattering committee appointments when the committee assignments were made by Speaker of the House Warner last week, especially viewing the fact that this will be his first term as representative from this district.

Representative Lewis was named on the following committees: Air Traffic and Wireless Communication, Judiciary and Revision and Amendment of the Constitution.

EXTENSIVE CHANGES IN TELEPHONE OFFICE

Many Changes Being Made in Rooms Occupied by Local Exchange.

Extensive changes are under way at the local telephone exchange. The repair crew, under the supervision of J. Moreman, are moving the office into the room formerly occupied by O. A. Solomon, while the public room will occupy the old supply room. After today subscribers enter the first door at the front of the building to pay all telephone accounts.

The reason for this change is to enlarge the operating department and insure better ventilation throughout the entire building. The plans now are to remove the partition between the present office and the traffic room and swing the toll boards around to face the south. This will insure enough space to permit additional boards to be added to either the traffic or local switch-boards now installed.

This plan will greatly facilitate the summer service and allow the operators to work with a greater degree of comfort than was possible in the former congested department.

MEMBERSHIP MEET- ING NEXT FRIDAY

Charlevoix Co-Operative Association
Members to Meet.

There will be a membership meeting of the Charlevoix Co-Operative Association at the court house on Friday of this week, the meeting to be called to order at 1:00 p. m. sharp. The meeting will be a get-together affair, and subjects of importance to every member will be discussed. A speaker from the Cadillac headquarters will also be present.

KEEPING UP A GOOD AVERAGE

LEGION TEAM LOSES ONE AND WINS TWO GAMES.

Play the Crack Traverse City Team on Local Floor Thursday Night
—The Games Played.

The Charlevoix Legion basketball five played Petoskey on the latter's floor Wednesday night of last week, and were defeated 38-22. It was a first game from start to finish and both teams played good, clean ball.

Heemstra was Petoskey's star, although Mudgett and Kutter put up a good defence, while the local team concentrated on team work rather than individual honors. Petoskey had a larger court than the local team is accustomed to and the high temperature habitual to their gymnasium greatly handicapped the home boys.

From Petoskey the team went to Harbor Springs, where they played Thursday evening and won by the score of 13-20. Harbor Springs played a return game on the local floor Tuesday night and were defeated by a score of 24 to 7. The game was slow at the start and a majority of the scoring was done in the second half. The attendance was small and consequently little pep in the game.

Thursday night the local Legion team will meet the crack Traverse City team on the local floor. This game will probably be the fastest of the season and the boys are figuring on taking the visitors scalp.

In the Traverse City line up will be Bundy Brief, Hansen and Mason, three players who have a great reputation as basketball players throughout the state, especially in northern Michigan.

If there was ever a time when the local boys needed your help, it will be at this game. The game will start at 8:00 sharp. Be there and root for the home team.

After the game the boys will stage a dancing party in the bank hall.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET IN PETOSKEY

DINNER AND CONFERENCE TO BE WELL ATTENDED

Games Laws will be Discussed and Suggestions Offered—Many will Go From Charlevoix

Charlevoix will be well represented at a meeting of northern Michigan hunters to be held in Petoskey, Monday evening, January 31, at St. Francis hall.

Word from Petoskey states that the hall will be transformed into a wooded retreat and tables at which the dinner will be served will also be decorated in keeping with the event.

The program of talks will be one of the best ever presented at such a gathering in this region. Sportsmen from all nearby cities and towns are invited, and a special invitation has been extended members of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club to attend in a body, as well as local sportsmen not members of this organization.

The program, which will be of unusual interest to lovers of the outdoors, is as follows:

Toastmaster: "What are We Here For?" George W. McCabe.
Character Song: Jazzam-up Quartet.

"Why Men with Red Blood Should Organize." Frank Quinn.
"Is Fishing Worth a Dollar?" John Galster, Petoskey.

"How can We Measure a Buck's Horns?" Haok Swift, Harbor Springs.

"Why is a Game Warden Anyway?" Tom Bryant, Pellston.

"What Must a Sportsman Do to be Saved?" Harry Allburt, Petoskey.
"Furthest Game Bird Picture Slide Talk." J. H. McGillivray, State Game Department.

"Why are the Nights So Dark in the Ontonagon?" Myron Klase, Petoskey.

"Some kind of a song or dance" By quartette.
"What is the Difference Between a Hunter and a Sportsman?" Homer Sly.

"How can We Keep Our Cake and Eat It Too?" D. R. Jones, Deputy State Game Warden, Lansing.

"Why Do They make Pigeons of Clay?" "Doc" Van Leuven, Petoskey.

"How can Sportsmen Get Desired Results?" Albert Still, Jr., Detroit, Secretary Michigan Game Assn.

"Is Seven Inches Long Enough?" Ned Sargent, Levering.

"How can We Save Our Part-ridge?" A. L. Fitch, Charlevoix.

"How to change a Violator into a 'Regular Feller'." Chas. Peterson, Wolverine.

Moose Family Supper

Members of the local Moose order will give a family supper at the I. O. O. F. hall on Monday evening, January 24, at 6:30 p. m. Members and their families are invited.

A box social and dance will be given by the Lady Macabees at their hall Tuesday evening, February 1. Admission, 50c to gentlemen, ladies free. Coffee will be furnished. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 312.

The 1921 Xmas club at the State Bank will be the largest in its history. Are you a member, if not join now. Adv. 212

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALIST

Brings the Knowledge of their Organization and Experience in Their Successful Treatment OF THOUSANDS OF CASES
Office Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors is an organization of reputable, licensed physicians. They are all specialists in the treatment of certain diseases. They treat without surgical operations diseases of all internal organs, stomach, intestines, constipation, piles, liver, spleen, heart, nerves, skin, rheumatism, sciatica, goitre, tapeworm, leg ulcers and all long-standing, deep-seated diseases. Many years experience. The complete record of thousands of cases successfully treated prove that their methods are right. They were among the first to earn the name

"BLOODLESS SURGEONS"
Each staff member has at his command the knowledge and resources of the organization. Many people suffer from diseases that can be alleviated just because they cannot afford to go to high priced Specialists and Hospitals at a long distance from their homes. No community has a sufficient number suffering from these diseases to support special hospitals for their treatment and cure. The United Doctors have solved the problem. Their highly trained specialists go to each community and will advise a proper course of treatment for the sufferers and instruct them how to take care of themselves at home. No matter what you have been told of the experience you had with other physicians, consult him on this visit. It costs nothing. If your case is incurable he will give you advice as may stay and relieve the disease. Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents or guardians.

CORRESPONDENCE

CLARK DISTRICT.

We have all been enjoying our fine winter weather.

James Heeres purchased a team from Frank Richardson last week.

Half of our school term was up last Friday. We are wondering where all the time goes.

We enjoyed the Patron's Day gathering at the school house on Tuesday, January 11, and we elected Ethel Joliffe as our chairman for another meeting.

CLARK SCHOOL.

The third and fourth grades are very busy learning the multiplication table.

The first, second, third and fourth grades are learning some new games, and are enjoying them very much.

We are still enjoying our Community song books which we received early in the fall, and we are learning some new yells, too.

We all enjoyed our Patrons Day, and extend a very cordial invitation to the people to have another meeting soon. We will do everything we can to help them.

If you want money for Christmas join the County Bank Savings Club. It's a winner.

Mrs. Bowen Tells How Rat Almost Burned Her House Down.

"For two months I never went in our cellar, fearing a rat. One night in bed I smelled fire. Sure enough the rat had been nibbling at the matches. If I hadn't acted promptly my house would have been burned. Later we found the dead rat. RAT-SNAP killed it. It's great stuff." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by

In a Gambler's Market

A clerk's error, adding three ciphers to a thousand-bushel selling order, caused wheat to fall 8 1/4 points on the Chicago Board of Trade last October. It didn't change the world's wheat supply by a single grain or affect actual wheat needs by so much as a crust of bread, but every farmer whose wheat was marketed that day lost money as a result.

A short time before, the market was sent tumbling by a false cablegram announcing that France had a big harvest of wheat.

When a clerical error or baseless rumor can rob the farmer of millions, some remedy MUST be found.

A practical remedy is knowledge of world markets. Accurate information on all foreign crops can be gathered and given out. This would make supply known and demand steady.

The Farm Bureaus aim to prevent costly price fluctuations by this means. They believe in the "light cure" as a remedy for distribution evils. And you can help! If you are not a Farm Bureau member, join today.

In your individual effort to contribute toward the improvement of farm conditions, you will find THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN a powerful ally. With a large staff of editors and contributors covering every corner of the land—even studying foreign markets—THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN presents each angle of our national farm problems in the most helpful and interesting way. HOOKER LOSES VALUABLE HORSE

Breaks Leg When Team Runs Away
Thursday Forenoon.

M. B. Hooker & Son lost a valuable young horse last Thursday morning when the team ran away, going at a furious rate down State street and stopping in front of the Hammet residence on Park avenue.

The team were a well matched pair and had been worked but little, and the minute they left the barn begun to hit the high spots. They ran north on State street and when near the Episcopal church one stepped on the curb, breaking his front leg near the ankle. The other horse dragged it along, when in spite of the broken leg, it regained its feet and ran to Park avenue before falling again.

The horse was killed and Mr. Hooker figures his loss at about three hundred dollars.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Evangelist H. D. Kennedy will begin a series of special services lasting three or four weeks at the M.
E. church on February 6th. Dr.

Kennedy come very highly recommended. During the past two years he has conducted successful meetings in many of the larger towns and cities of Michigan. Mrs. Kennedy accompanies her husband and is an efficient worker in evangelistic meetings. A general evangelistic committee and sub-committees are being organized by the local church to have charge of the campaign.

On account of the severe storm the W. C. T. U. service, at which Rev. James Smith of the Congregational church was to deliver the address, was postponed until next Sunday night, January 23.

At the regular monthly missionary meeting, which met with Mrs. M. B.
Hooker last Wednesday afternoon, the Standard Berrers, a young people's missionary society recently organized by Mrs. Candler, gave a very interesting program, after which a pot luck supper was served.

The Literary and Sewing Club have postponed their annual meeting until next Wednesday, January 26th.
The meeting is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heise on Antrim street.

The pastor was unable to attend the service at Barnard last Sunday on account of the storm, but expects to be present Sunday.

All members of the church are asked to be present at the prayer service next Thursday to consider the coming evangelistic meetings.

FUNERAL HELD IN DETROIT MONDAY

Byron See was a Resident of Charlevoix Thirty Years Ago

Word was received by relatives here Monday of the death of Byron See of Detroit, a former resident of this city. Deceased lived here about thirty years ago and was a brother of the late S. M. See. Until recently he had made his home with his sister in Madison, Wisconsin.

He erected the building now occupied by L. P. Adams and for several years conducted a dry goods store.
He also built the house now owned and occupied by R. F. Sloan.

The funeral was held in Detroit
Monday.

INTERESTING BITS OF IN- FORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

"How times have changed since we were schoolboys. Seven boys were caught using tobacco in the schoolhouse and yard at Coleman last week, and brought up before the court.
How times do change. When we were boys we wouldn't have been caught."

"Do registered Duroc Jersey hogs enjoy chewing Beechnut chewing tobacco?" asks the Ionia Sentinel Standard, which has discovered a case for the W. C. T. U. "Just ask John King. He had been mending a leak spot in the roof of one of his hog houses two days ago, and when he came to the house found that his tobacco was gone from his hip pocket. Going back to the scene of his former activities he found one of his hogs just finishing up his new package of Beechnut with great relish—in fact there was not enough left to furnish a lunch."

While repairing a well on his farm recently, Frank Bartholomew of Excelior township, near Kalkaska, unearthed a very old coin. It was a half penny of United States' money

REDUCED PRICES ON Furniture, Rugs and Linoleum

Owing to reductions made by manufacturers and jobbers of Furniture, Rugs, etc.
our prices will be materially reduced during the present month.

As the reductions have not been uniform on all lines, it will be necessary that we go through our stock and arrange prices according to the new prices made by the different manufacturers and jobbers.

Until we have had time to make these adjustments we shall make a straight 10 per cent Discount on all Furniture and 15 per cent on Rugs and Linoleum, these prices to take immediate effect.

While we have been reliably informed that there will be no further declines in prices, it will be our aim to reduce the prices on stock on hand whenever a reduction has been made by the manufacturers and jobbers.

You can always be assured that you will get the very lowest possible prices at all times.

THERE ARE TWO THINGS TO CONSID- ER IN BUYING COAL

Heat units per ton.

Moisture you are buying.

Illustrating the first point—two years ago it was thought that the buildings of the University of Michigan could no longer be heated with the old heating plant.
It was too small. Finally it was decided to try with coal bought only after the heat units were determined, and then to buy only the best. You know what kind of a winter last winter was. Well, the buildings were heated during that period with less coal than the previous winter.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silvery polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the silvery sheen lasts as long as the ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers. All we ask is a trial. Use on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your car range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is entitled to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish. It is the only one that is made in America. Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Illinois.

The Black Silk Air-Dryer Iron Enamel on glass, enameled stoves, etc. Prevents rusting. The Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel, or brass. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the performance of the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Albert J. Shockley and Ellen A. Shockley to B. P. Wilkinson, of Charlevoix, Michigan, dated April 22nd, 1918, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 23rd day of April, 1918, in Liber 54 of mortgages, page 391, containing a power of sale, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice, the sum of Six Hundred Ten dollars and forty cents, and the sum of One Hundred Nine dollars taxes assessed against the lands described in said mortgage and paid by said mortgagee, and an attorney fee of five dollars provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in such case made and provided, the undersigned will on the 12th day of February, A. D. 1921, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the East front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place in which the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage and taxes paid as aforesaid, with interest at seven percent from the date hereof and all legal costs and said attorney fee, the said premises being described as follows: All of certain pieces or parcels of land situate in the City of Charlevoix, in the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, described as follows, to-wit: First parcel commencing thirty-nine rods (39) west of northeast corner of section thirty-four (34), in town (34) thirty-four north, in range eight (8) west and two rods south of north section line at a stake; thence west seventy-three rods (73); thence south thirteen rods (13); thence east seventy-three rods (73); thence north thirteen rods (13) to place of beginning. Second parcel, commencing two rods south of north quarter post of the above said section; thence south thirteen rods (13); thence east forty-eight rods (48); thence north thirteen rods (13); thence west forty-eight rods (48) to place of beginning.

Dated November 10th, 1920. B. P. Wilkinson, Mortgagee. A. L. Fitch, Attorney for Mortgagee. Charlevoix, Michigan. 45113

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage bearing date the 5th day of September, 1911, executed by Louise A. Rodgers to Alexander M. Ross, to secure the payment of $800.00 and the interest thereon at seven percent per annum, and which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, in Liber 48 of Mortgages on page 335; and said mortgage having been on the 26th day of October 1920, duly assigned by the said Alexander M. Ross to James W. Nowland, and which said assignment was recorded in Liber 55 of Mortgages on page 53; by the non-payment of the note and interest thereon, secured by said mortgage, the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is Eight Hundred Thirty-four ($834.00) Dollars.

Notice is therefore hereby given, no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now claimed to be due upon said mortgage or any part thereof, that the premises described in said mortgage to-wit: Commencing at a point 1849 feet west of the quarter (1/4) post between Sections 23 and 24 in Township thirty-four North, Range eight west; thence south three hundred and thirty feet (330); thence west five hundred and twenty-eight (528) feet; thence north three hundred and thirty (330) feet; thence east five hundred and twenty-eight (528) feet to the place of commencement; containing four acres of land, located on the west half of the southeast quarter of Section Twenty-three, Township thirty-four north, Range eight west, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of the 11th day of February 1921, to satisfy the amount due on said note secured by said mortgage and the expenses of sale including an attorney fee of Twenty-five Dollars provided for in said mortgage.

ELLSWORTH

Don't forget the barbecue Thursday, August 4, 1921.

N. P. Griffin of Phelps was in town the first of the week.

Ray Nelson made a business trip to Elkhart, Ind., last week.

Mrs. A. L. Ely was a Petoskey visitor on Friday of last week.

Ira Alward spent a part of last week with his brother at Norwood.

A. T. Jeffery of Charlevoix, was a business caller here one day this week.

Lynn Sheldon of Charlevoix, visited Ellsworth friends from Saturday until Monday.

Hugh Kinner of East Jordan, is visiting friends and relatives here for a few days.

Mr. Sedgeman of Flint is visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Cole.

J. H. and H. H. Elzinga are putting in a few days of this week on a fox hunting trip near Torch Lake.

Mt Routley was in Ellsworth last week and moved his household goods to Bellaire, where he expects to reside in the future.

George Bradford went south on Monday of this week in charge of a string of potato cars shipped by the Banks Marketing Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pangborn of Big Rapids, who have been visiting here for the past two weeks, left for home on Tuesday of this week.

Evert VanderArk and family left last week for Denver, Colorado, for the winter. They may decide to make their future home either there or in Washington or Oregon.

The high school orchestra held its first regular rehearsal on Monday evening of this week and gives promise of rapidly developing into a first class musical organization.

The force of men and teams engaged in hauling gravel from the Skow gravel pit onto the Ellsworth East Jordan road has been increased up to twelve or fourteen teams and the work is progressing rapidly.

Spearing fish through the ice has started here and hopes run high in the hearts of the local fishermen.

The largest fish taken so far is a 16 pound "musky," speared last week by Lyle Pangborn of Big Rapids.

This fish was taken on Six Mile Lake near the Dufore bridge. Fish weighing nearly 50 pounds have been taken in recent years from the Ellsworth lakes and there is no doubt but what there are others as large still roaming the waters.

Notice.

Saturday, January 20th, will be the last day on which dog tax can be paid to the township treasurer. After that date dog owners must go to Bellaire to pay their tax. Geo. Heller, Treasurer of Banks Township.---Adv. 311.

High Standards

One reason why this bank has become a large factor in the important financial and commercial affairs of Ellsworth and vicinity is,

That it has always maintained a high standard of ideals.

It has confined its business to strictly legitimate channels, and has always sought stability rather than large profits.

It has won the confidence of banks and business men.

It welcomes accounts, with business men and individuals who recognize the value of high standards in business.

SHOWS GROWTH OF NEARLY $100,000State Savings Bank Holds Meeting and Elects Officers.

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank was held in their banking office, Tuesday, January 11th. J. L. Crane, H. S. Harsha, A. A. Swinton, A. D. Crimmins, and John Burns were elected directors for the coming year.

The directors elect met immediately after the stockholders meeting and the following officers were elected: President, J. L. Crane; Vice-President, H. S. Harsha; Vice-President, A. A. Swinton; Cashier, A. D. Crimmins; Asst. Cashier, Archie Livingston.

The year just closed has been the most satisfactory in the history of the bank, a growth of nearly $100,000 in deposits is shown. The healthy increase in the bank's business evidences not only the prosperity of the city and its citizens, but also the confidence reposed in the bank.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The high school chorus class is working on an operetta called "The Windmills of Holland," which will be presented at the Palace Theatre in the near future. Watch for further announcements.

Charlevoix high school will hold a debate with the Newberry high school at Newberry Wednesday evening, January 19. The debating team consisting of Katherine Fitch, Jean Swinton, and Lyman Brown will leave Tuesday afternoon and will return Thursday afternoon. They will have the negative side of the question. "Resolved, That the adjustment of disputes between the employer and the employee should be made a part of the administration of justice."

Buster (in French): "But they said down below there—"

Mrs. Rotert: "Oh, I don't know what they say down below. I've never been there."

The high school was visited by several birds Monday morning. A cordial reception was given them by some of the pupils.

Mr. Hatch: "I want only a small photo."

Photographer: "Then you mustn't smile."

The basket ball team did well Friday night we'll admit, but we wish they had done better. Let's go, boys.

Wanted.

For Eleanor Finucan: An alarm clock.

For Maxine Hansen: A magic carpet (so she can get to English class on time.).

For Mrs. Rotert: A microphone.

"No Talking."

For Bob Burns: A photograph of, you know.

For Annabel Comfort: A box of chewing gum (so she need not worry when Miss Lombard makes her throw hers away).

Miss Verduin is starting a pine forest in the back of the seventh grade room. Don't ask any questions.

The new subjects offered in the H. S. curriculum are: Trigonometry, Mr. Hatch; Bible Study, Miss Catton; Advanced Civil Government, Mrs. Rose; Botany, Mr. Rice, and Algebra I, Mr. Hatch.

The Girl's Garment Making Club was organized by Florence Spidel. The club elected officers who are as follows: Pres., Anna Shearer; vice president, Pearl Harrington; secretary and treasurer, Gwen Genett.

The sixth grade in the training room have organized a Boy's and Girls' Club. The club has three big purposes: For educational, economical and social values. These clubs are being organized all over the state under the supervision of the M. A. C. We hope our club, will be a big success.

The Boy's Handicraft Club was organized by Earnest Galloway. The officers are as follows: President, Donald Swinton; vice president, Miles Russell; secretary and treasurer, Ted Powell.

The sixth grade in the training room, under the direction of Miss Wright, are studying letter writing. They will correspond with pupils in Gold Bar, Washington, and several other states.

MOVIES' INFLUENCE ON CHILDREN

MOVIE BUSINESS NOW FIFTH INDUSTRY IN COUNTRY

A Brief Review of Ellis P. Oberholtzer's Article in January World's Work

When Boss Tweed offered Thomas Nast $500,000 if he would stop cartooning him in Harper's Weekly, he showed his fear of the effectiveness of pictures in a good cause. Cartoon and caricature have played a big part both in aiding good causes and bad causes. They are usually more effective than words. But even the cartoons of Nast and McCutcheon do not compare in far reaching influence and effectiveness with the little celluloid rolls which daily find their way to even the remotest hamlets of America, are flashed upon the screen, and the next day pass on to another town.

Do what we may, say what we may, the movie is here and it has come to stay. A picture company which issues a good news reel a week boasts that it has 20,000,000 readers.

It is the claim of those in the movie business that theirs is the fourth or fifth industry in the country. They claim that one out of ten persons—men, women and children—go into picture houses daily. We export enough film to Europe, Asia, Africa, Latin America and the south seas in a year to girdle the earth twice, or a film 50,000 miles long. Is it not clear then that a business as big and far-reaching as this, one which daily touches the lives of one-tenth of our population, and which draws a larger patronage from the children than from any other class, must be able to exert an immense influence for good or evil?

Certain it is that within the last year there has been an enormous increase in crime and especially by young men and boys—really children.

In New York City alone $4,000,000 have been stolen within the last year, and 100 unsolved murders committed. Of those detected crimes involving hold-ups, highway robberies and murder in Detroit and generally, over 80 per cent have been committed by youths under 20 years of age, and a large percentage by those much younger.

What influence the movies exert toward crime cannot, of course, be fully known. If some it is claimed that the auto with its greater chance of escape has much to do with these crimes, but Ellis P. Oberholtzer, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Board of Motion Picture Censors, writing for the World's Work in January number, as an expert, attributes much of this crime to the vivid impressions produced on children's minds by movie pictures. He shows how the producers of movie pictures are influenced principally by the object of lining their own pockets and little or not at all by moral considerations or duty to the public. When young boys and girls sit day after day absorbing the vivid details of successful robbery, domestic infidelity, and vice of all kinds, they can not fail to form low ideals. When pictures which bear such suggestive titles as "The Devil's Daughter," "The Scarlet Woman," "The Mortal Sin," "The Courtisan," "The Libertine," "The Gutter Magdalen," "The Sin Woman," are flamboyantly advertised, their very titles are an appeal to all that is low and bad.

Even stories which might be decent in themselves often attempt to draw patronage by changing their real titles to something more suggestive. To illustrate, "The Gloriosa" when pictureized became "The Devil's Daughter," "The Song of the Madonna," "The Jewels of the Madonna," "The Sex Appeal," "The Admirable Crichton" is filmed as "Male and Female," Clyde Fitch's "The Bachelor," becomes "The Virtuous Vamp," and a story founded on "Du Barry" is "Passion." The pictures in these cases may be unobjectionable, but the appeal is low and a symptom of vile intent.

Nothing is more certain than that the movies have come to stay. They may fulfill a noble purpose and teach exalted lessons in a most effective way, if they are to do this, the present tendencies of movies throughout the United States must be radically reformed. This can be done in but one way and that is by the passage of rigid laws of inspection or censorship and the absolute stamping out of all which tends to the making of criminals and to what is vile, or immoral. We are enacting laws—more and more each year—to protect the bodies of men, women and children from the reckless or careless drivers of automobiles; are we not under far greater obligations to protect our children and the community generally from whatever is demoralizing and vicious in the movies?

DIED AT HOME IN CALIFORNIA

Nelson A. Jones a Former Resident of East Jordan

Nelson A. Jones of Oakland California, died very suddenly at his home about two weeks ago from heart failure.

Mr. Nelson will be remembered by old settlers of Charlevoix County as a former resident of East Jordan. He left this section 45 years ago and since that time has made his home in California, returning only once on a visit shortly before the death of his sister, Mrs. P. S. Brown, about twenty years ago.

ENGAGE SERVICES OF EXPERT

TO PROTECT INTEREST OF INCOME TAX PAYERS

Charlevoix State Savings Bank will Have Specialist Here on February Third and Fourth

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank announces that in keeping with its policy of service to residents of Charlevoix and vicinity, the services of an expert income tax accountant has been secured to assist in the preparation of individual and corporation tax statements for 1920.

Mr. Chetty of the Englehart Audit Company of Detroit, who is considered an authority on income tax matters, will be at the State Bank on Thursday and Friday, February 3rd and 4th. The services of Mr. Chetty, through the courtesy of the bank, will be free and the public is extended an invitation to avail themselves of this opportunity of having an income tax expert pass on their reports as to the correctness of form, before sending them in.

The making out of an income tax report is a difficult matter, even for corporations. The average individual or business man may be able to make out a report, but has little knowledge of exemptions, depreciation of holdings, etc., which he is entitled to and also which may mean a difference of many dollars to the tax payer. In obtaining the services of Mr. Chetty, the State Bank will afford each tax payer an opportunity to safeguard his interest, and pay a tax, if his volume of business or income calls for it, in the exact manner in which the government stipulates.

Mr. Crimmins, cashier of the bank stated today that on account of the numerous complex features regarding the tax law of which many people are unfamiliar, all single persons who have received incomes of $1,000 and married persons who have received $2,000 should arrange to see Mr. Chetty in regard to their tax returns. His time here of course will be limited, and it would be well to have as much data at hand as possible when you interview him. Also if possible, have a copy of the 1919 tax return for reference.

ED. DYZELSKA IS NOT GUILTY

Boys City Man's Confession Avers He Alone was Responsible

At the time of his confession, during his trial, while under observation at Ann Arbor, and to the judge when he was sentenced, John Everett Mills, the 18 year old adopted son of Robert Mills, maintained that he was advised and persuaded to poison his parents by Ed Dyzelska, a young polish man employed at the tannery, says the Boys City Citizen.

No amount of coaxing cross-questioning or threats could shake or change his determination to place a portion of the responsibility for his crime upon this young man and the county officials were sorely troubled as to their duty in the matter.

There now comes from the Jackson prison, where John is serving a life sentence, a number of pages of written confession in which he acknowledges that the responsibility for the act which caused the death of his mother, was all his own, and that Dyzelska took no part whatever in the matter.

LEGION TEAM AGAIN WINNER

DEFEATS TRAVERSE CITY K. C. TEAM FRIDAY NIGHT.

Will Play Cheney Phonograph Team of Grand Rapids at Date to Be Set Later—The Score.

The Charlevoix Legion basketball team again won when they played the Traverse City K. C. team on the local floor Thursday night of last week. Fans who expected to see a hard fought battle were somewhat disappointed to find that the home boys could walk away with the laurels with very little effort.

Charlevoix began scoring as soon as the whistle had blown and continued throughout the first half in the same speedy manner, making 12 baskets to Traverse City's 4. In the second half Manager Powers played substitutes and the local boys let up on their first burst of speed, and the game ended with a score of 31 to 35.

Horton was easily the star of the visiting team, scoring 9 baskets and one free throw, while Charlevoix's center, Tuttle, scored 18 baskets. Ned Durance and Weststaff were not up to their usual form, as they threw only four baskets each.

The line up was as follows:
Charlevoix Traverse City
Tuttle C. Rice
N. Durance R. F. Ott
Weststaff L. F. Horton
Poole R. G. Moblo
P. Durance L. G. Perket
Manager Powers has scheduled the Cheney Phonograph team of Grand Rapids for a February game, the exact date to be announced later.

BANDITS ROB BANK IN WOMAN'S CARE

Threatened with Quos as One Takes $300 From Till

The following dispatch which appears in the Detroit Free Press under date of January 22, will be of interest to friends of Mrs. LaLonde, who is mentioned in the item referred to:

"While Mrs. Madeline LaLonde, 831 Putnam avenue, was alone in the branch bank of the Society for Savings, 7739 Linwood avenue, three armed bandits, one of them a 'two-gun' man, entered at noon Friday, and escaped with $300.

"Leon J. Patterson, manager of the bank was at lunch. Mrs. LaLonde, bookkeeper, had just entered the cashier's cage from a back room, when the bandits entered. One of them pointed two revolvers at Mrs. LaLonde, she reported to the police, while one of his companions stood guard at the door and the third man climbed over the top of the cage and gathered up the money.

"After cutting the telephone wires the bandits ran to a waiting automobile that contained a driver and drove rapidly away."

Two Hundred Dollar Exemption Allowed for Dependents Under 18 Years of Age

Single persons, though required to file a return if their net income for 1920 was $1,000 or more, are, if they are the heads of families, granted a special exemption under the revenue laws. Such a person is defined by Treasury regulations as "a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." Such persons are allowed the exemption of $2,000 granted a married person. In addition they are allowed a credit of $200 for each dependent under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mental or physically defective.

Husband and Wife

A married person living with husband and wife can not claim an additional $2,000 exemption as the head of a family. His or her exemption is based upon the marital status, irrespective of the support of others living in the same household. The additional $200 credit for dependents does not apply to the husband or wife of a taxpayer. For example, if a married man supports a father who is incapable of self-support, he is entitled to the $200 credit for such person. If through force of circumstances he supports his wife away from home he is entitled to the $2,000 exemption allowed a married person, but not to a $200 credit for a dependent.

A son who has left home but who sends his mother more than one-half the sum required for her support is entitled to the $200 credit, provided the mother cannot support herself. Otherwise the amount must be considered as a gift and therefore the credit is not allowed. A son living at home and supporting his father, mother or other relative may claim the $2,000 exemption allowed the head of a family, but not the $200 credit unless such relative is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support.

Mrs. E. H. Goll Dead.

Mrs. Ernestine Krauschner Goll died at the age of 69 years, January 25, of cancer of the stomach. She was born in Germany, October 3, 1851, and was married there. The funeral will be held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gus Jerichow in Hayes township, Thursday, January 27.

H. S. Play Fast Soo Team.

Charlevoix basketball fans will be treated to what should be the fastest game of several seasons at the rink Thursday night of this week, when the high school boys meet the fast Sault Ste. Marie team. This is to be the big home game of the season. Don't miss it.

1920 ANNUAL CROP SUMMARY

AS REPORTED BY GOVERNMENT SPECIALISTS

Crops Grown in State Had Total Value of About 25 Per Cent Less Than Other Years.

Michigan again takes its usual creditable position as a crop producing state. The revision of 1920 estimates has been completed by the joint State and Federal crop reporting service under the supervision of Charles J. DeLand, Secretary of State and Verne H. Church, Agricultural Statistician of the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. A complete summary giving details by counties and the record for each leading crop for past years has been compiled and is now in the hands of the printer. The striking features of the report are that all but five crops are above the average production, and that the value of the State's crops on December 1 was one-third less than indicated on August 1.

The crops grown in Michigan during 1920 had a total value on December 1 of approximately 25 per cent less than those of the previous year, the estimates being $303,410,000 for 1920 and $406,107,000 for 1919. A tentative estimate, based upon the crop prospects and prevailing prices on August 1, 1920 indicated a production value of approximately $453,000,000, or a considerable increase over the previous year. Since that time there has been a marked decline in the price of practically every farm product resulting in a reduction of net value amounting to $150,000,000. The price of every crop included in the quantitative estimates is lower than one year ago, except rye which is two cents per bushel higher. With the exception of oats, peaches and pears the total value of each crop is less than in 1919, and the returns per acre are less for all crops except oats and barley which showed a slightly greater return for the year just closed.

On the other hand, the cost of farm labor was the highest on record. Men for employment by the month or year were scarce, and day labor was unobtainable in some sections. This condition, combined with a pronounced movement of men from the farms to the city, resulted in a less acreage of crops being grown and probably a greater waste than during the previous year. The acreage of principal crops in 1919 was 8,765,000; in 1920, the acreage of the same crops aggregated 8,378,000. Potatoes, sugar beets and clover seed had an increased acreage, corn and oats the same acreage, and all others a less acreage than in 1919.

The yields of corn and hay were the same as in 1919, while oats, barley, buckwheat, potatoes and clover seed showed increased yields per acre. Wheat, beans, rye and sugar beets had smaller yields than in the previous year. The crops showing a greater total production were oats, barley, potatoes, clover seed, apples, peaches and pears.

Compared with the average of the last 16 years, wheat, buckwheat, hay and clover seed show a less total production. All other crops were above the average. In view of the extraordinary conditions under which farmers have labored, this is a very creditable showing and demonstrates the advantage of diverse farming as generally practiced in Michigan. The state ranks twenty-first in land area and also in amount of land in farms, yet for the year just ended it ranks fourteenth in the value of its crops.

H. S. Fourth Debate.

The high school debating debate on the Michigan High School Debating League schedule will be held at the local high school building next Thursday evening, February 3, Charlevoix will defend the affirmative side against Traverse City the negative. The judges will be Supt. R. J. Sissons of Bellaire, Principal Haggar of Petoskey high school and Supt. M. R. Keyworth of East Jordan.

A baked goods sale will be held in the Masonic Building on Saturday January 29th, for the benefit of St. Mary's church. Hot lunch served at all hours. 25 cent. Adv. 411

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S

GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Dear Mr. Hewitt, does the soul leave the body immediately at the time of death, or does it remain with the body in the grave for a time? What is meant by the "resurrection of the body" as stated in the Bible? Is there a distinction to be made between the soul and the spirit, or are they one and the same?—P. H. W.

Q. At what time does the soul leave the body? Is it at the time the last breath leaves, or when the struggle first begins, as it is said and we know of several instances where one is said to be passing for some length of time? I don't know that my question is just plain, but what I mean is, after one is struck by death, as we term it, that the soul leaves or when the last breath is taken?—E. H.

A. The above are two questions so strikingly alike that I shall endeavor to give one answer for the two. "Does the soul leave the body at time of death?" Yes, it is the departure of the soul that causes the death of the physical. No, the soul does not remain with, neither does it linger about the body. Because the soul is immortal, it is naturally capable of understanding and reasoning about those things which are eternal and immortal. For as the body, because it is mortal, has its senses fitted to perceive fading, mortal things, so the soul which contemplates and reasons about immortal things, must necessarily be itself immortal and live forever. For those notions and speculations is has concerning immortality never forsake it, but, still continuing in it, are, as it were, an earnest and foretaste of its future eternity.

And from hence it comes to pass that it has naturally, and from itself, an apprehension and knowledge of God, without receiving it by the information and instruction of any one else. Cyprion, Irenaeus, Augustine, and all the venerable fathers of antiquity, concurred in the same doctrine. They contributed drops, at least, toward swelling the stream that was flowing on to the ocean of eternal truth. "O Man thou art immortal," and to unite, in some measure, in the ejaculation of Empedocles, "Farewell all earthly allies. I am henceforth no mortal being, but an immortal angel, ascending up into divinity, and reflecting upon that likeness of it which I find myself".

"Life forever runs its endless race, And, like a line, death but divides the space— A stop which can but for a moment last, A point between the present and the past."

The choicest, the rarest and most beautiful things of earth, the richest and loveliest forms of nature and art, are exhausted in any attempt to portray the indescribable blessedness, and bring it within the appreciation of the human soul. Study carefully Revelation. Reason may err but Revelation cannot. The former partially slips the bolt that hides the treasure—the latter throws wide open the door and bids man to go in to make himself rich forever. One softly whispers that the thinking principle in man may be eternal, as the years of God; the other loudly proclaims that it must live forever.

"Does the soul leave the body with the last breath?" No. I am of the opinion that it does not always do (Continued on page 8)

CLARION

Mrs. J. W. Colden was in Petoskey on Sunday.

Dr. G. F. Colden was a Petoskey caller on Friday.

H. T. Allen of Boyne Falls was a Clarion caller on Sunday.

Mr. N. C. Griswold and family have moved into rooms in the Hull house.

Miss Smith of Petoskey was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson one day last week.

WILSON TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU

Pass Resolutions Instructing Delegate to State Convention.

Wilson Township Farm Bureau held an instructive and profitable meeting the evening of January 21st. The meeting was called to order by President Brintnall. The attendance was 50, not including the children.

After a few remarks by the president, F. J. Korthase was called up to give a talk. Remarks were rendered on the needs of the farmer, also that the farmer has never taken his part in the political field.

W. F. Tindall explained how until the last few years the farmer had given his time to producing and never studied the need of a system of marketing. Lately many efforts are being made by the producer to stop speculation on farm produce and for a more economic handling.

County Agent Wing explained how the county agent was instructed and the method used to reach the farmers in the county. R. V. Otto gave a very interesting report on the dairy convention held at Lansing. He gave reasons why we should have a protective tariff on foreign produce, also that the farmers should form a closer relationship in their local as well as in the county at large, if they expect to get any good out of the organization.

Otto Kunert gave a talk on the pure fabric law.

The following motions were made to be sent to our representative for use at the state convention:

Moved and seconded that we ask for an amendment to the voters law that all who vote on the raising of public funds must be taxpayers.

Moved and seconded, that we favor the pure fabric law, i. e. all manufactured goods must be labeled as to what they contain.

Moved and seconded, that we favor a protective tariff on all foreign produce shipped into the U. S.

Moved and seconded, that we improve of the action taken by our agricultural agents and county representatives in regard to grass hopper control, i. e., we ask the state to refund half of all moneys raised and used for the control of grasshoppers to the county in which it was used.

"Resolved, That our county representative send to each local secretary a report of all meetings he attends."

Moved that we have our meeting date the last Wednesday of each month and that our next meeting be in the daytime with a pot luck dinner.

VICTORY MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Rev. James A. Smith's Address Was Well Received.

The Victory meeting at the M. E. church last Sunday evening was a decided success in every way. Rev. James A. Smith gave a very able address on "The Deeper Meaning of Victory," to a very appreciative audience.

American womanhood was given credit for their participation in all moral and religious movements of our commonwealth. The liquor traffic, Sabbath desecrations and questionable movies were given their just dues.

Rev. Smith is a very optimistic man. The note of confidence in the American womanhood and manhood, with the help of the all-powerful God, was the key-note of the address.

The W. C. T. U. are grateful to Rev. Smith and all others who contributed in any way to the celebration of the first anniversary of National prohibition in Charlevoix.

CARS ENCOUNTER DIFFICULT ROADS

Snow Drifts and Unbroken Roads Make Traveling Difficult

A Duplex 4-wheel drive truck reached this city late Wednesday afternoon of last week, on its way from Pontiac to Petoskey, where it will be delivered to Niell & Bigelow, a lumber concern operating east of that city.

The truck will be used for hauling logs from the woods to the banking grounds, and the driver stated the trip was rather difficult on account of heavy snow drifts and unbroken roads.

Sunday another car made its appearance here, being driven up from Ludington to points further north. The car was stuck several times in drifts and the driver was compelled to spend one night in the car on the road.

MANY PLAN TO ATTEND BANQUET

Local Sportsmen to Attend Meeting in a Body

Present indications are that a large number of Charlevoix hunters and sportsmen will be in attendance at the meeting of northern Michigan hunters to be held in St. Francis hall, Petoskey, Monday evening, January 31.

The program which was published in these columns last week is of more than usual interest, and as changes in the present game laws will probably come up for discussion, the local boys are desirous of expressing their views regarding them.

The committee in charge of the entertainment request all visitors to wear their hunting togs.

ASKS AUTO TAX CUT IN NORTH

Houghton Man Offers Bill to Reduce Tax On Account of Snow

Representative Robert B. MacDonald, of Houghton, where the snow now is seven feet on the level, says this condition is not conducive to the extensive use of automobiles in that section and he has introduced a bill to cut down the amount of automobile tax the people of northern counties must pay.

The bill is sent to the clerk's desk Thursday, provides that in all counties north of the counties of Mason, Lake, Osceola, Clare, Gladwin and Arenac, automobile owners shall only pay three-quarters the tax assessed against those in the lower counties, because their cars cannot be run in those northern counties in the winter months.

TOUCHED SAFE FOR $3,000 TAX FUNDS

Boyer City Young Man Now Languishes in Jail.

Walter Jones, 18 year old farm hand, is in the county jail charged with larceny in connection with the disappearance of $3,000 in tax funds from the city treasurer's office safe at Boyne City.

Jones, who is employed on the farm of City Treasurer Bailey, is said to have entered the drug store owned by Bailey, where the safe containing city funds is kept, took the money from the open safe and returned to the farm. Officers brought him back to Boyne City Sunday and said they obtained his confession. After a preliminary hearing he was bound over to circuit for trial.

Another Postoffice Scrap

Harbor Springs is planning on a referendum for the purpose of expressing the choice of the public for postmaster. A committee of five has called the referendum and the polls will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m., January 31. A number of local men are after the job.

Plan Half Day Closing

Petoskey merchants are planning on closing their places of business every Wednesday afternoon for a half holiday, between the dates of January 1 and May 1, the first of the half holidays to be on February 2. Practically every merchant in the city has agreed to close.

REDUCED PRICES ON Furniture, Rugs and Linoleum

Owing to reductions made by manufacturers and jobbers of Furniture, Rugs, etc. our prices will be materially reduced during the present month.

As the reductions have not been uniform on all lines, it will be necessary that we go through our stock and arrange prices according to the new prices made by the different manufacturers and jobbers.

Until we have had time to make these adjustments we shall make a straight 10 per cent Discount on all Furniture and 15 per cent on Rugs and Linoleum, these prices to take immediate effect.

While we have been reliably informed that there will be no further declines in prices, it will be our aim to reduce the prices on stock on hand whenever a reduction has been made by the manufacturers and jobbers.

You can always be assured that you will get the very lowest possible prices at all times.

AN ADVERTISING JINGLE.

There was an old geezer.

And he had a lot of sense.

He started up in business

On a dollar eighty cents.

The dollar was for stock and eighty for the adv.

Brought him three lovely dollars

In a day, by dad!

Well, he bought more goods

And a little more space

And he played that system

With a smile on his face.

The customers flocked

To his two-by-four

And soon he had to hustle

For a regular store.

Up on the square

Where people pass.

He gobbled up a corner

That was all plate glass.

He fixed up his windows

With the best he had

And told them all about it in a half-page adv.

He soon had 'em coming.

And he never, never quit.

And he wouldn't cut down on his ads one jil.

And he's kept things humming

In the town ever since.

And everybody calls him

The Merchant Prince.

Some say it's luck—

But that's all bunk.

Why, he was doing business

When the times were punk!

People have to purchase

And the geezer was wise

For he knew the way to get 'em

Was to advertise.

ALL SHOULD AID IN RAISING FUNDS

Near East Campaign Is Making Steady Progress.

The Near East campaign in Antrim county is making steady progress. The cause has been presented in every high school in the county. A committee is acting in every village.

A circular letter has been sent to every rural school teacher.

Antrim county's quota of $360.00 divided among a hundred people or organizations is $2.60 apiece. The amount thus distributed will not be a heavy burden upon a few. Everyone can help a little.

The plan is working. The Atwood school has taken three memberships at $3.60 apiece. The Mancelona schools are taking seven; the Mancelona Congregational church is taking five; the Ladies' Aid society at Clam Lake is taking five; the Camp Fire Girls at Central Lake are taking one membership. Ellsworth has taken several memberships and is planning a community entertainment. Some lodges are taking memberships. Several persons are also taking them.

We appeal to all to support your local committee which is pushing this needy cause. Help put Antrim county over the top. Language fails to describe the anguish and misery in the near East which your offerings will help to relieve.

R. C. Parshall, County Chairman.

DIED AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Bertha Kiebe Born in Germany 62 Years Ago.

Mrs. Bertha Kiebe, a resident of Montana until the first of August last year, died last Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. J. Cobb near Eastport.

Deceased was born in Germany 62 years ago and came to America when 25 years of age, settling at Belgrade, Montana, where she has resided until August of last year, when her husband having died eight years ago and her children being scattered, she came to Michigan.

Her health was poor for some time past, but her death was unlooked for up until about 48 hours before it occurred.

She leaves besides her daughter at whose home she died, two daughters, Elizabeth, a teacher in the Ellsworth schools and Elberta, a student at the same school; two sons in Washington, one in Kentucky and one in Tennessee.

The family have the sympathy of the neighborhood, both here and at Eastport.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our dear son, John Henry Gaunt, who departed this life one year ago, January 31, 1920. Gone but not forgotten. A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home that never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled the form his love had given, and though his body slumbers here, his soul is safe in Heaven.

Funeral of Mrs. Charles Ruggles Held Today.

Verna May Hoag was born at Leota, Michigan, in 1880, and died Monday, January 24, at the age of 40 years. When nine years old she moved with her parents to Kalamazoo, where she lived until her marriage to Charles Ruggles, April 13, 1915, when she came north and settled in Central Lake with her husband. Two and one-half years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles came to this city and have lived here up to the time of her death.

Mrs. Ruggles was a member of the Rebekah and Maccabee orders and an active worker in the Church of God. Her remains will be taken to Central Lake, today (Wednesday) where she will be buried.

She is survived by one brother, Lloyd Hoag of Bellaire, and her husband, Charles Ruggles.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The State Historical Commission has announced a prize essay contest which will take place during the winter. Any school in Michigan may enter the contest, and Charlevoix high school is planning to do its bit. The essays will be written upon the subject, "Lessons from Our Pioneers." We are accumulating a small reference library to be used in this work and would appreciate the loan of any books or material relating to the subject.

Miss Marian Saunders is assisting with the printing of the examination questions in the office this week.

Mr. Hatch is my teacher, I shall not pass.

He maketh me expose my ignorance before my class.

He maketh me to draw figures on the board for my good's sake.

Yea, though I study until midnight, I shall gain no Algebra.

For X's mother me and AB's sorry trouble me.

He prepareth puzzles for me in the presence of my class mates.

Surely zeros and conditions will follow me all the days of my life.

And I shall dwell in the class of Algebra forever.

Mrs. Armstrong visited the school Monday.

Miss Grace Francisco, who has been very ill the past week, is on the road to recovery.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting relief to thousands. Here is Charlevoix evidence of their merit.

Mrs. R.M. McKeel, 214 Mason St., Charlevoix, says: "I had kidney weakness. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they greatly benefited me." (Statement given October 26, 1911.)

On May 4, 1920, Mrs. McKeel said: "I haven't been bothered in any way with kidney complaint since Doan's cured me."

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

At a special meeting of the official board of the Methodist Episcopal church last Monday night, a general evangelistic committee and sub-committees were appointed in the interest of the evangelistic services which are to begin February 6, under the direction of Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Kennedy. Neighborhood prayer meetings in various parts of the city will begin next Friday, January 28, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. Everyone interested in the success of the evangelistic campaign is invited to attend the meeting most convenient for them. A large chorus choir is being organized to assist in the services.

Union meeting of the official board, and the Sunday school board next Monday night at the church. A pot luck supper will be served.

Regular monthly Missionary meeting Wednesday, February 2nd.

A large congregation enjoyed Rev. James Smith's earnest and practical address last Sunday night at the Victory meeting. According to Rev. Smith, there are some other institutions which must have a thorough house-cleaning or else go the way of the un-American saloon.

Will Bellinger is organizing an orchestra to assist in the Sunday school services.

After an absence of several weeks the pastor was greeted by a fine congregation last Sunday afternoon at Barnard M. E. church.

Prayer meeting Thursday night. Come and pray for the success of the coming meetings.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Morning worship and sermon at 10:30 a. m.
Subject of sermon, "The Great Adventure."

so, but that many times the soul catches a vision of the glories of Heaven and sees the faces of loved ones gone on before—before the final struggle from the physical to the spiritual body. Those who have frequented beds of death have observed the strength of this feeling in the dying saint and the power is exercised in producing submission. Those whose friends have mostly passed over on the other side find themselves living more there than here, and the hope of meeting them, and of looking upon them, and renewing the pleasure of intercourse, gives wings to desire and makes them long to join them, where the pleasure will no more be mixed with pain. "I shall meet my companion, my child, my friend," says the dying believer. "I see her—my mother," said an expiring believer in tremulous tones, as she passed from earth into Heaven. I had a beautiful experience at the bedside of my dying sister, who said, "There now, lay me down, it's so beautiful over here; it's just like snuffing out a candle in passing." Oh, yes, many do actually see the sweet face of Jesus before the final struggle with the physical.

Yes, there is a "distinction" between the soul and the spirit. The soul is the principle, the spirit is the power house of Holy knowledge. Read Isa. 11:2, John 14:26; 16:13; 1 Cor. 12-18. "Resurrection of the body; read 1 Cor. 15:44. "It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body." Not raised in the same body, but a spiritual body. The grave has no claim on the spiritual body. See 1 Cor. 15:55, 56.

"Less of the earth than we had last year,
Throbs in your veins and throbs in mine,

For the way to heaven is growing clear,
And the gates of the city fairer shine,
And the day that our latest treasures flee,
Wide will they open for you and me."

REGULATE HOURS OF CHILDREN

EXCESS FESTIVITIES A DETRIMENT TO YOUNG FOLKS

Committee Reports of Federation of Women's Clubs Reveal Large Amount of Work Done

The open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs was held in the court room last Wednesday afternoon, the general topic being "Child Welfare."

A paper on the "The Children of Our Day" brought out the fact that too many festivities, especially during the holiday vacations, were a detriment to our children in the schools and colleges. Late hours mean the wrecking of a life whether at the wash tub, bench, the banquet, or midnight ball. Sane parents should be interested enough in the health, strength and mentality of their offspring to regulate the hours of their children's social activities, so that stalwart men and women who will do for themselves, will be the intelligent leaders of the future.

The report of the committee will show some of the activities of the Federation since organization last March. There are over one hundred women now affiliated. The Civic committee are interested in helping to establish a comfort station, have held one meeting with the health board, and some plans have been hatched which will, with the cooperation of other interested parties, no doubt see the work accomplished.

The Citizenship and Law Enforcement committee reported 611 women voters registered and encouraged some activity in the coming city election. They also called attention to the law prohibiting minors visiting pool rooms and smoking cigarettes. The historical committee has filed the history of several organizations and more societies are now compiling such histories.

The Audubon committee has through its chairman, Mrs. Cornelia Bailey, done some very excellent work, having given a talk on bird lore to each of the ward schools and the plans are to give a talk in the central school in the spring.

The Press committee reports six notices in the papers, also two articles on federation work.

The Educational committee have under advisement the "Parent Teachers Club" organization.

The Shakespeare Club report the following for their work for this year. The study of Italian art, also Shakespeare plays, and two book reviews. The Club belongs to the National Shakespeare Club and the state, county, and city Federation of Women's Clubs. They have offered a prize for the best historical essay written in the local high school and show an interest in all work in the community that aims at progress.

The W. C. T. U. have been interested in community work by presenting a petition, endorsed by the Federation, to the board of education to include bible study in our public schools, also by posting the cigarette law in public places, decorating a float for the parade for the 4th of July. The raising of a fund of $305.00 for reconstruction work, Americanization, child welfare, world prohibition, women in industry and purity. Entertained the W. C. T. U. county convention in May. Held a Victory meeting in celebration of national prohibition, agitated the question of clean movies and Sunday closing.

The flower committee always remembers the sick with flowers or fruit, also furnished quilts, shoes, and other clothing for the needy in the community. The Union now has 77 active members.

If the womanhood of Charlevoix will become interested in the welfare of the community and stand together on all questions pertaining to the uplifting elements that should obtain much good can be done. A greater amount of interest is being taken in the city elections this year than in former years.

It ain't the guns nor the armament, nor funds that they can pay. But the close co-operation that makes them win the day.

It ain't the individual, nor the army as a whole, But the everlasting teamwork of every bloomin' soul.

Charles M. Sheldon gives as some causes of the "crime wave" in America the neglect of the homes in training the children to be good citizens. When thousands of families spend more time in going to places of amusement, learning the latest dances and eating banquets than they spend in studying the bible or instructing their children in the ways of good living, we may expect to see society on the edge of a volcano.

How would it do for this country to begin studying the ten commandments and the Sermon on the Mount, teaching some bible truths in our public schools? The cause of the "crime wave" is what it always has been—the throwing of the ten commandments on the scrap heap by the state, the church and the home. Religious Educational Committee

DEATH TAKES LOVING MOTHER

Friends Pay Last Respects to Mrs. Ernestine A. Goll

Friends paid their last respects to Mrs. Ernestine A. Goll, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gustav Jerichow of Hayes township, January 25, at the funeral held on Thursday of last week from the home of her daughter, Rev. Rice of the Baptist church officiating.

Deceased has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jerichow, for the past seven and one half years. She was born in Germany, October 3, 1851 and came to America July 7, 1893, first locating in St. Louis, Missouri, where she lived until 1893. She leaves to mourn their loss, two children, Mrs. Marie Jerichow of Hayes township and Frank Goll of New York City. She was 69 years, three months and 22 days old at the time of her death.

The remains were laid to rest in Brookside cemetery.

WIN FAST AND SNAPPY GAME

SOO BASKETEERS CARRY OFF LONG END OF SCORE.

Team Making the Last Score-Winner of the Game—Fine Exhibition of Basket Ball.

True to the most optimistic predictions, the Soo-Charlevoix high school basketball game at the rink last Thursday night was one of the fastest, snappiest games ever witnessed on the local floor.

The visitors started the scoring, maintained their lead and appeared to have the advantage throughout the first half, which ended 14-10 in their favor.

In the first three minutes of the second half, Charlevoix staged a come-back that surprised their own rooters and swept the visitors off their feet, capturing the lead which they maintained until the 17th minute of the half. For the remaining three minutes there was an even exchange of baskets, the lucky team the one to have made the last score when the whistle blew.

The line-up was as follows:

Charlevoix	Soo
Halverson	L. F. Henderson
Jones	R. F. Roach
Ackert	C. Bishop
Hammet	R. G. McNaughton
Brown	L. G. Campbell

Score
10 First Half 14
13 Second Half 10
Goals: Halverson 8, Jones 2, Ackert 1, Roach 5, Henderson 3, Bishop 1. Free throws: Halverson 1, Henderson 2.

The game was efficiently handled by Referee C. H. Lee of Petoskey.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF K. P. LODGE

CHARLEVOIX, PYTHIANS TO CELEBRATE OCCASION

First Michigan Lodge Was Founded in Detroit in 1871—Huge Meeting to Be Held in That City

An event that means much for the Knights of Pythias, will be the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order in Michigan. Olympic Lodge No. 1, was instituted in Detroit on March 14, 1871, and in honor of the founding of the first lodge the Grand Lodge at its recent session decreed that 1921 should be "Pythian Golden Jubilee Year," and all over the state of Michigan the Knights are planning to properly celebrate their half century of existence in Michigan.

In Detroit on March 14, a huge meeting is to be held in Orchestra Hall, at which the Supreme officers will be present, as well as all Grand officers. One of the principal speakers will be Governor Alex. Groesbeck, who is a Past Chancellor of Olympic Lodge No. 1.

In this city the local lodge is planning to hold a meeting sometime during the month of March and a committee has been named to prepare a fitting program.

The Knights of Pythias has a membership in Michigan of about 28,000, and in the Supreme Domain of nearly a million members. The first lodge of the order was organized in the city of Washington, on Feb. 19, 1864, by Justus H. Rathbone. It is a matter of history, however, that Rathbone first conceived the idea of a fraternal society, to be based on the historic friendship of Damon and Pythias, when he was a young man teaching school at Eagle Harbor, in the upper peninsula of Michigan. He wrote the ritual of the order at that time, so that the Michigan Pythians claim our state as the real birthplace of their order. The Knights have purchased the school house at Eagle Harbor and are preserving it as a memorial to Rathbone, the founder of the order that has accomplished much in the way of bringing men closer together in the bonds of friendship and brotherhood.

Pythians have a right to be proud of their membership, for as a matter of fact the Knights of Pythias have been leaders in every movement that tends to better citizenship. The Michigan Knights, the official organ of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, makes the claim that the Knights of Pythias has been first of all the great fraternities in these respects.

Great Record of K. P.

First to be granted a charter directly by Congress; first to build for real Americanism, by abolishing rituals in any foreign language and insisting on the use of only the English language in rituals and lodge work; first to ban saloon keepers and bar tenders from membership; first to offer a body of 50,000 trained men to the government in time of war, as was done in the Uniform Rank, trained in U. S. infantry tactics, when war was declared with Spain; first of the great fraternities to buy Liberty Bonds; first to provide a War Relief Fund for Pythians and families during the great war; first to adopt a really practical plan of aiding needy members, by adopting the Grand Lodge Relief Fund law, which has been so wonderfully successful. And finally, first of the real fraternities to recognize that a young man old enough to give his life for his country is old enough to be a good fraternalist, by adopting at its recent Supreme Lodge convention a law permitting young men of eighteen to become members.

WILL SERVE FISH SUPPER AT 6:30

Annual Monthly Meeting of Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

The regular monthly meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce will be held at the usual place on Friday evening of this week, and the ladies of the O. E. S. will serve a fish supper.

President E. B. Ward is quite anxious to have as many members present as possible, as at this time of year there are a number of important propositions which should be considered and action taken upon. The attendance at the last regular monthly meeting was good, and it is hoped that there will be an appreciable increase Friday night.

WE MEET ALL JUST DEMANDS

LOCAL DEMOCRAT TAKES EX-CEPTION TO JUNK SALE

Courier Carries Out Policy of Keeping Open Columns for Use of the Public.

We have received the following communication which is quite self-explanatory, and in accordance with our often announced policy of keeping open columns for the use of the public, so far as space permits, we gladly print same. It is our aim to see to it that no one is denied a reasonable demand for the use of the columns of the Courier to express honest opinions, and in deciding upon what is reasonable, we will go just as far as we can. The communication follows:

Charlevoix, Michigan,
February 1, 1921.
Editor Charlevoix Courier,
Charlevoix, Michigan.

Dear Sir—Since my talk with you last Friday I have given the matter of your publication in last week's paper of the so-called Junk Sale notice on the front page a great deal of thought, and my position as stated to you at that time is yet unchanged. I consider your publication of such an article extremely unfortunate and as a citizen cannot permit it to go unchallenged. Therefore, I ask that you give the accompanying statement the same space as given the article in question.

Yours truly,
R. F. Sloan.

To the Charlevoix Courier:
My spirit of true Americanism, and, I assume, that of the large majority of our residents, received a severe shock from your center front page lame effort at jest.

Your article headed "Democratic Junk Sale" over the printed signature of the president of the American people is, I believe, to the great majority of the thinking people, repulsive. I believe it savors of disloyalty and libel, and, in time of war, no less than treasonable.

If the author of this so-called Sale Notice is not subject to legal prosecution, then he is most assuredly subject to the condemnation of truly American people who believe in American ideals and fight to hold sacred the name of America's highest executive irrespective of parties. He is not a political candidate, but is the president of all true Americans who respect him as such.

"Charlevoix and vicinity is a part of this great America and has justified its high place and made its loyalty recognized in all war measures; its people are united and it is the best community of people in the world, and, yes, even such community is not spared ridicule for the publication in our midst of such perverted attempt at jest which is, in my judgment, libelous of our president. There is a misfit somewhere.

Charlevoix presents a picture of a true American man, bravery, of gentle appearance, well-balanced brain, and perfectly attired in truly American style. But alas! He is found to have a dagger under his coat and a resentful spirit, and the perfect specimen of manhood is destroyed. Shall it be? For God's and America's sake, let's remove the dagger and revengeful spirit and have the truly American man portray our community."

R. F. Sloan.

Probably there is little to be said in comment upon this communication. We realize that the sense of humor differs in individuals. That which may seem humorous to us, may to others seem, as Robert says, "a lame jest."

We must expect this, yet it is oftentimes the occasion—the application—which changes the viewpoint. To illustrate: Well do we recall, eight years ago or thereabouts, seeing our friend Robert going about the streets of this city exulting and splitting his sides with appreciative laughter as he exhibited cartoons and caricatures portraying the plight of the defeated G. O. P. and our then President William H. Taft. Nothing was then too raw and too obvious to be humorous to him. And then we were compelled to submit to an encore four years later. We had no idea then of charging him with disloyalty or libel, much less that great est of all crimes, TREASON.

Speak that last word softly. Somehow the shoe is on the other foot and how do we sympathize with one afflicted with SORE FEET

Times have changed and we must be charitable. It is in this spirit we meet this situation, but if there is something concealed in this communication, something proceeding from sources of personal prejudice on the part of others—as has been indicated to us—then we wish to say most pointedly that those who wish to engage in exchange with us will find us here and unafraid, but let there be no comparisons of loyalty to Americanism.

As a life-long Republican to a vanquished Democrat we again extend the olive branch of sympathy and peace, and—say Bob, if you will stay away from that auction sale, I will.

DELIGHTFUL BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY

Friends Gather to Remind Ernest Galloway of Occasion

Mrs. Plenny Genett and Mrs. William Supernaw entertained a number of the friends of Ernest Galloway at the latter's home on Antrim street, last Wednesday evening.

The time was spent in dancing, a victrola furnishing the music. At 11 o'clock light refreshments were served including a huge birthday cake, with 19 candles, which was the first lulling the guests had that the occasion was Mr. Galloway's birthday anniversary. The party left at midnight wishing Ernest many happy returns.

Guests were the Misses; Helen Webster, Nellie Allen, Mildred Cross, Eleanor Finnean, Margery Myers, Marion Saunders, Bernice Crandell, and Lola Genett, and the Messrs. Richard Paddock, Luther McCann, Martin Halverson, Verle Crandell, Alfred Jones, Allison Bugbee, and Arthur Westfall.

U. S. BEHIND ON EDUCATION

RANKS NINTH AMONG NATIONS HOUSE IS TOLD

Federal Department of Education Asked as Means of Placing the Country on Higher Level

The United States was declared to rank ninth among the nations of the world in general educational level of its people in a report of the house committee on education recommending passage of the Smith-Towner bill to establish a federal department of education with federal aid increasing educational facilities. The country is trailing behind "most of the world" the report said, from the standpoint of its educational advancement.

The proposed measures the only means, the report declared, of correcting the present inequality of educational opportunities among the various communities and preventing waste of public funds and inefficiency due to lack of co-ordination among federal agencies dealing with education.

Illiteracy is a national and not a sectional problem, the report said, in citing statistics to show it was almost equally prevalent in every section of the country.

"There is nothing of more importance in our scheme of government than the education of the people," it continued.

"Whatever else may be left out education cannot safely be excluded. If there is one thing that justifies a tax in the country it is that which strengthens our public schools."

SPORTSMEN FAVOR DOLLAR ROD LICENSE

Charlevoix Well Represented at the Petoskey Meeting.

Charlevoix was well represented at the sportsmen's banquet at Petoskey Monday evening, 28 being present from this city. In all over four hundred men were present from all parts of northern Michigan and St. Francis hall was filled to capacity.

The fishing license, proposed one buck law, limit of 25 seven-inch trout in one day, and other changes in the game laws were the topics of the evening, and every sportsman evidenced deep concern in the proposed new state regulations.

A committee composed of A. L. Fitch of Charlevoix, John L. A. Galloway of Petoskey, and Al. Weber of Cheboygan, were named to take up the matter of organization of sportsmen in all northern Michigan counties.

MACKINAC BOAT SERVICE TO END

D. & C. LINE WILL DROP LAKE HURON ROUTE

Mackinac Island and Huron Resorts Hard Hit by Decision—Seaman's Act Cause

A dispatch under date of January 28 says that the board of directors of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation company has definitely decided to discontinue the operation of boats on the Lake Huron division, Detroit to Mackinac Island.

The big combination freight and passenger steamers, City of Alpena II and the City of Mackinaw II will remain tied up to the docks in Detroit when the 1921 season of navigation opens.

This blow to the commerce of Detroit, following so closely upon the abandonment of one of its routes by Ashley and Dustin, is directly attributable to the onerous condition of the La Follette seaman's act, it is asserted by A. A. Schantz, president and general manager of the D. & C.

The La Follette act regulates the number of days lake boats may run, the number of miles they shall keep from shore, the size of crew, the numbers of passengers that may be carried, the number of lifeboats and all matters connected with the equipment and operation of American ocean and lake vessels.

The great trouble with the regulations laid down by the nation's lawmakers, Mr. Schantz says, is that the rules were made for deep draft ocean vessels which operate day and night for many days in succession and are applied without modification to shallow draft lake and river steamers that are seldom, if ever, out of sight of land which, as a rule, are tied up at the dock at least half of every 24 hours.

For the first time in forty years Detroit in 1921 will be without a single line of combination passenger and freight steamers to St. Ignace, Mackinac Island, Port Austin, Cheboygan, Alpena and way points along the Lake Huron shore.

The abandonment of the Lake Huron line by the Detroit & Cleveland company will stop the great flood of summer tourist travel from the eastern and southern states that has heretofore made Detroit the gateway to the northern summer resorts.

It will prove not only a great loss to Detroit hotels and business houses, but will be a blow to Mackinac Island and the numerous resorts of the northeastern as well as the northwestern part of Michigan.

Thousands of summer cottage owners from Port Huron to the straits will be discommoded and in many instances forced to abandon their favorite summer outing points.

During the summer season the Mackinac boats brought to Detroit thousands of tons of berries, vegetables, eggs and farm produce that was in transit only a few hours and consequently arrived fresh and in first-class condition.

On the up-bound trips the boats carried merchandise and large quantities of all kinds of package freight, and in many cases this business will be lost to Detroit wholesalers as the railroad service to many northern ports is slow and uncertain.

CIVIL WAR VETER- AN DIES IN CHICAGO

Remains Brought Here From Chicago for Burial

Adolphus Siminow was born June 19, 1845 at Grand Haven and died January 25, 1921 at the Marine Hospital at Chicago. He was married in 1872 to Alice Boyer of Hubersville, Pennsylvania at that place. Moved to Charlevoix thirty years ago and since that time have made their residence here.

Mr. Siminow was a veteran of the Civil War, a member of the Baxter Post, G. A. R., I. O. O. F. and the Macabees. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Siminow, and three children, Charles of Sheboygan, Wisconsin and Fred and Fannie, both of this city.

The funeral was held last Friday afternoon at 2:30 from their residence at 212 Mason street, Rev. Henry Candler officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

NOTICE
St. Mary's Altar Society will serve their annual church supper, March 17, Thursday. Watch for further announcements. adv 511

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS or any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE. All Druggists. Circulate free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

New Price on Fordson Tractors $655.00 Delivered to Your Farm

"This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new Tractor Plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality."

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the FORDSON Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery."

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive, and consequently our desire to place the FORDSON within the reach of all."

WILSON GRANGERS HOLD MEETING

Committee Appointments Made and Regular Business Transacted

Wilson Grange No. 719 met in regular session January 22 with the worthy master in the chair, all other officers being present with the exception of lecturer and Pomona.

Owing to the cement work not being completed it was decided to build temporary steps in front of the grange hall. There was also considerable discussion in regards to having an open meeting.

The following committee were appointed:

Finance, Geo. Jacquays, Frank Smith and Thomas Shepard.

Executive, A. R. Nowland, Stanley Hitchcock, Thomas Shepard.

Dance, Frank Smith and Frank Allen.

It was suggested that Robert Shepard be made a life member of Wilson grange, and the motion was unanimously carried.

Three candidates were initiated in the third and fourth degrees. Plans are advanced to organize a degree team.

After a short program the grange closed in form, forty-one members and seven visitors being present. "Every member get a member" is the slogan. Pot luck supper and a pleasant time assured at the next regular meeting.

GIVEN ONE AND ONE HALF FARE

Special Rates to Those Who Desire to Attend Convention.

Farm Bureau members attending the annual convention of the State Farm Bureau and Farmers' Week may do so for one and one half fare the round trip according to a statement received by C. W. Wing, county agent, from the state farm bureau.

To get this reduced fare the member will secure an identification certificate from Mr. Wing, which will be honored by the railway agents.

The delegate from Charlevoix county is Robert W. Paddock. At least five thousand persons are expected to be in East Lansing, between January 31st and February 4th, the dates of Farmers' Week. Twelve state farmers organizations will hold their conventions simultaneously. A group of the best speakers in the country will be present. An exhibit by the departments of M. A. C. and a grand pageant are among the special features.

FARM BUREAU HAS 97,000 MEMBERSHIP

Wonderful Increase in State During the Past Year

Since July 11, 1920, when the farm bureau membership was begun in Charlevoix county, the total membership of the state has increased from 74,000 to 97,000. This county's membership is at present 600.

Membership campaigns have been discontinued for the rest of the winter by the state farm bureau on account of bad roads and the higher cost of solicitation. The annual report of the organization work made before the state board of delegates at East Lansing, shows that 74,250 joined the county and state farm bureaus during the last year which, added to the 22,750 members who had joined a year ago, makes the grand total 97,000. Records show, according to the state farm bureau, that 83 per cent of all farmers visited beginning members. There are seven more counties yet to be canvassed three in the upper peninsula and four in the lower, and this work is expected to be done in the spring.

REDUCED PRICES ON Furniture, Rugs and Linoleum

Owing to reductions made by manufacturers and jobbers of Furniture, Rugs, etc. our prices will be materially reduced during the present month.

As the reductions have not been uniform on all lines, it will be necessary that we go through our stock and arrange prices according to the new prices made by the different manufacturers and jobbers.

Until we have had time to make these adjustments we shall make a straight 10 per cent Discount on all Furniture and 15 per cent on Rugs and Linoleum, these prices to take immediate effect.

While we have been reliably informed that there will be no further declines in prices, it will be our aim to reduce the prices on stock on hand whenever a reduction has been made by the manufacturers and jobbers.

You can always be assured that you will get the very lowest possible prices at all times.

ible for his nickname. Jim, the son, feeling that he had no desire for a business life, betook himself to his father's ranch in the west, which had never been a financial success.

Here he meets with underhanded opposition from the ranch foreman and a neighboring rancher, "Bull Elkins." And to make matters worse the villains with the aid of the foreman's sister scheme to turn a young lady and friend of Jim's sister, who has arrived at the ranch from the east, against her hero.

They are almost successful in their efforts, when fortune favors him, and he outwits his enemies, thus winning the young lady and his father's confidence.

Especially Good Attractions For This Week

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3—Thos. M. Ince presents Enid Bennett in "The False Road." A Paramount-Artaft picture. A heart-stirring tale of an underworld love made clean. Also a one-reel Rowland comedy.

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 5 and 6—Big double attraction. Paramount presents two old-time favorites, Wallace Reid in "Hawthorn of the U. S. A." (not a war picture) and Fatty Arbuckle in "Camping Out." "Hawthorn of U. S. A." is one of Reid's latest and best pictures supported by Lila Lee. "Camping Out" is one of Arbuckle's two-reel comedies. Don't miss this one.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9th—Universal presents Harry Carey in "Human Stuff." A western picture in which Harry Carey plays a romantic part. Many beautiful scenes of the west around which the plot of the story is woven. Also the final episode of the Vanishing Dagger, "Silver Lining." You will all want to see how the Vanishing Dagger ends.

COMING FEBRUARY 10—Chas. Ray in "String Beans."

COMING SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12—Wanda Hawley in "Her Beloved Villain."

ELLSWORTH

Lee Kinner of Detroit is visiting relatives here for a few days.

The Banks township board were in session on Monday of this week.

J. H. Elzinga was at Elk Rapids on business the first of this week.

John Powell of Bellaire, was in town on business one day last week.

Glenn Compton of Muskegon is visiting relatives here for a few days.

Elmer Herrington of Kewadin, has been visiting here for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Best visited relatives at Elk Rapids from Saturday until Monday.

Miss Kate Wilson of Bellaire, county school commissioner, was in Ellsworth on Saturday of last week.

Miss Ladern Dawson and Miss Esther Parsons were Charlevoix visitors on Saturday of last week.

Rev. Slee of Traverse City, was in Ellsworth Monday and Tuesday, attending the Methodist quarterly conference.

Several from Ellsworth attended the lecture course number given by the Central Lake high school last Tuesday night.

The special meetings which have been running at the Holiness church for the past three weeks closed with the services of last Friday.

Wm. Cole left on Tuesday of this week for Petoskey where he will receive treatment at the Lockwood hospital for stomach trouble.

J. M. Elzinga, Manager of the Banks Township Marketing Association, was called to Pittsburg last week on business connected with his firm.

Henry Van Eunen of Zeeland, Michigan, a former resident of this vicinity has been visiting friends here and at Atwood for the past week.

The township board have decided to gravel the road running from Ellsworth east to the Charlevoix county line, and the work will start the first of the coming week. Sleighs will be used if we get snow, and the work will be done with wagons in case there is no sleighing. This work will in no way interfere with the Charlevoix county work, as there is plenty of room on the grade for a sleigh road.

Somebody sent the editor of a leading county paper a few quarts of home brew. The same day he received for publication a wedding announcement and the notice of an action sale. Here is the result: "Wm. Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at my farm, one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves before a background of farm implements and other articles too numerous to mention, in the presence of about seventy guests including two milk cows, six mules, and one set of bob sleighs. Rev. Jackson tied the knot with about 200 feet of hay rope and the bride couple left on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with a good baby buggy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and about fifty chickens. Is it any wonder that the editor left town?"

BRADFORD VICTIM OF HOLD-UP MEN

Forced to Wire Home for Necessary Traveling Expenses.

Word was received last week from George Bradford, who was in Pittsburg with a string of potato cars for the Marketing Association, that he had been held up at the point of a gun and relieved of all his available cash.

He wired home for money. The particulars are as yet unknown. John Timmer had the same experience but managed to retain enough cash to get home.

The association passed resolutions that in the future none but gun-fighters would be allowed to make the trip, and D. E. Clow was the first to start. He made the trip safely, arriving home on Monday of this week and starting back again on the Tuesday morning train with a string of cars from the Central Lake station.

Are YOU One With Us?

One million, five hundred thousand farmers are united in a common cause through the American Farm Bureau Federation. They represent fifteen billion dollars' worth of our national wealth. That is more than the value of all the gold the world has produced in the last sixty years.

These are stupendous figures. Yet the impressive fact is not the size of the figures themselves, but the power they signify. The thoughts, the voices, the strength of one-fourth of the country's farmers joined in a single cause—farm progress! It is a tremendous force for good.

This force that is created by 1,500,000 determined farmers is making itself felt. It is speaking with too powerful a voice to be ignored, too well informed to be dismissed. Congress, capital, labor are having to listen to the farmer at last because the farmer has found a means of making himself heard. The Farm Bureau Federation has given him that means.

Fall in line! Join the Farm Bureau and help swell the mighty force that has enlisted under the Farm Bureau banner. Its objective is a secure and prosperous farming industry. Help it to guarantee that for you and the six million other farmers of this country.

Before the national body was organized THE COUNTRY GENTLE-MAN began to support the movement. Its aid has been continued because the editor believes in the soundness, the integrity and the wisdom of Farm Bureau policies and leadership. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN always is ready to support and encourage every move that is helpful to farming. That is the purpose of this big national weekly—to make farm life more livable and profitable. It does this through the medium of informative articles, inspiring editorials and practical suggestions.

You need THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN in your business, in your home life. And it costs only $1.00 a year—less than two cents for each of the fifty-two big issues. You can mail your subscription to us, inclosing a dollar bill, check or money order.

Make the Dairy Herd Pay

With the price of practically all farm products at its lowest ebb, it behooves the dairyman to see that his herd produces every pound of butterfat possible, and in preparing this for market, he must, if he profits, have a cream separator that extracts every ounce of butterfat from his milk. Otherwise he will be a big loser. We have

Delaval, Primrose, Sharpless and Viking Cream Separators

Every one of them are machines that have stood the test of use for years, and are guaranteed to do perfect work. You will not be asked to wait for the machine you desire to be ordered for we have them in stock for immediate delivery. Test out the machine you have. See if it is doing its work properly. If not, it will soon be of more loss than you imagine. Bring your cream troubles to us and we will aid you in solving them.

CELEBRATE GOLD- EN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Swinton
Married 50 Years.

"Seventy-five years old and still able to be up and around" is the comment made by George D. Swinton, who with his good wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at his home on Dixon avenue, Saturday in usual health and with their four children there to congratulate them on their long and useful life and the rounding up of so many years in the full possession of their mental faculties and bodily strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Swinton have been residents of Charlevoix since August, 1912. Prior to coming here they lived in Calumet, upper peninsula, where Mr. Swinton at the age of 17 years entered the employ of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co., continuing in their employ for over 41 years, acting during a greater part of this time as shaft superintendent. At six o'clock Saturday evening the event was celebrated by the anniversary supper, at which only the immediate members of the family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Swinton received many beautiful flowers as well as useful gifts from their many friends and children. Members of the family present were A. A. Swinton and family, R. Stanley Swinton, assistant professor at the University of Michigan, Dr. Andrew Swinton of Marquette, and Mrs. Harry Craig and husband of this city.

FARMER BURNS

SELF TO DEATH
Henry G. Truesdale Sets Fire to Wm. Key's Home Friday.

During a fit of insanity Friday afternoon Henry G. Truesdale, residing at the Wm. Key's farm home in Resort township, on the Charlevoix-Petoskey road, set fire to the house and burned himself to death in the flames. Mr. Truesdale had been suffering from illness caused by paralysis and had not had employment for many months. Mrs. Truesdale and Mr. and Mrs. Keyes report that the man had been despondent for some weeks and that on Friday he became violent.

He quarreled with his wife and drove her to the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Keyes on the first floor of the home. In the early afternoon he attempted to take the couple's young child from its mother, but failed to accomplish his purpose and returned to his room. Nothing was heard from him until neighbors discovered the building afire.

The charred remains of the insane man were found in the ruins after the fire had burned itself out. Several Charlevoix people witnessed the fire while on their way to Petoskey to attend the basketball game.

DEATH CLAIMS

CLARION WOMAN

Mrs. John E. Weaver Dies in Petoskey January 25

Mrs. Adah V. Weaver, wife of John E. Weaver, of Clarion, died in Petoskey Tuesday forenoon of last week from peritonitis following a serious operation. She was eighteen years, eight months and twenty-three days old and had resided at Clarion practically all of her life. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Colden of that place, and was well known in Petoskey, having attended school there.

Mrs. Weaver was married in New York city in May 1919, to John E. Weaver, who was then in the U. S. Navy. They returned to Clarion last summer. She had been in poor health for several months.

Besides her husband she leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colden of Clarion; her grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Durrah of the same place; three sisters, Mrs. Morrice Wheeler, Stamford, Cal.; Mrs. Donald Moreau, Pontiac; Mrs. Wilfred Wheeler, Denning, N. Mexico; and one brother, Paul Colden, Pontiac.

The funeral was held Thursday from the home at Clarion. Burial in the Clarion cemetery.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Revival services conducted by Evangelist H. D. Kennedy will begin in the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday morning, February 6th. Dr. Kennedy will preach morning and evening. A special chorus choir will assist in the services.

Last Sunday the orchestra played "Angelic," a sacred medley overture by H. O. Wheeler. The Sunday school orchestra has ten members at present, namely, Mrs. E. Johnson, and C. Hanshaw, 1st violin; Arthur Edwards, Freeman Coblenz, violin obbligato; Mrs. McMillan soprano saxophone; Earl Shapton, tenor saxophone; Dr. F. F. McMillan, tenor saxophone; L. C. Ihanna, banjo; Will Bellinger, director, 1st violin. Five new members are studying various instruments. Those wishing to join this orchestra see Will Bellinger.

Neighborhood prayer meetings are being held in various parts of the city; attend the one most convenient for you.

Sunday school and preaching service next Sunday afternoon as usual at the Bernard Methodist Episcopal church.

Evangelist Kennedy will arrive in the city next Friday and wants to meet the members of the choir at the church Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

ATTENDANCE IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Has Never Been Better Says Commissioner Stewart.

The attendance in the rural schools has never been better. One report after another comes to the commissioner marked "no absence at all." This would seem to indicate splendid health throughout the county, the best in years. Surely the weather man is kind indeed, for very little absence has been made necessary because of the weather. Spirit was never better and there is great demand for the little ribbon badges which are given this year in place of the certificates of former years. The children will receive the usual big diploma for a full year of perfect, punctual attendance.

To be sure, there is a little absence, very little. With a rural enrollment of nearly 1500, only 12 cases need to be placed in the hands of the county truant officer, Mr. Harrington. This is less than one percent unexcused, or more accurately, only one in one hundred twenty-five absent without due cause. Surely Mr. Harrington takes care of that one, but as one little teacher expressed it, on her report, when two cases of illness spoiled her perfect attendance record, "sorry that this had to be, but it couldn't be helped, as you can see. 'Skies cannot be always blue, not for me, and not for you.'"

LADIES' LITERARY AND SEWING CLUB

Hold Annual Meeting and Elect Their Officers.

The Ladies' Literary and Sewing Club of the M. E. church held their annual meeting Wednesday, January 26th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Heise.

The afternoon was spent in a business meeting of the club. Reports of officers and committees given show a good years work, both financially and socially. Then followed the election of officers.

At 6:30 a pot luck supper was served, the club entertaining their husbands. During the evening a fine program was given, the same being in charge of Mrs. Clarence Miller. After a social half hour all departed for their homes, wishing for the next annual feed.

The afternoon election resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. W. B. Marshall.
Vice president, Mrs. E. A. Stewart.
Secretary, Mrs. Edd Heise.
Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Sands.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The final contests in spelling, covering the work of the first semester, will be held in all English classes this week.

Thursday evening in the assembly room of the high school, will occur the fourth debate of the season's series. Charlevoix high school will debate with Traverse City high school and will for the first time represent the affirmative side of the question, which is: "Resolved, That Disputes Between Employers and Employees Should Be Settled by an Administration of Justice." The members of the debating team are: First speaker, Jean Swinton; second speaker, Katherine Fitch; third speaker, Lyman Brown. Everyone interested in the activities of the school should be present.

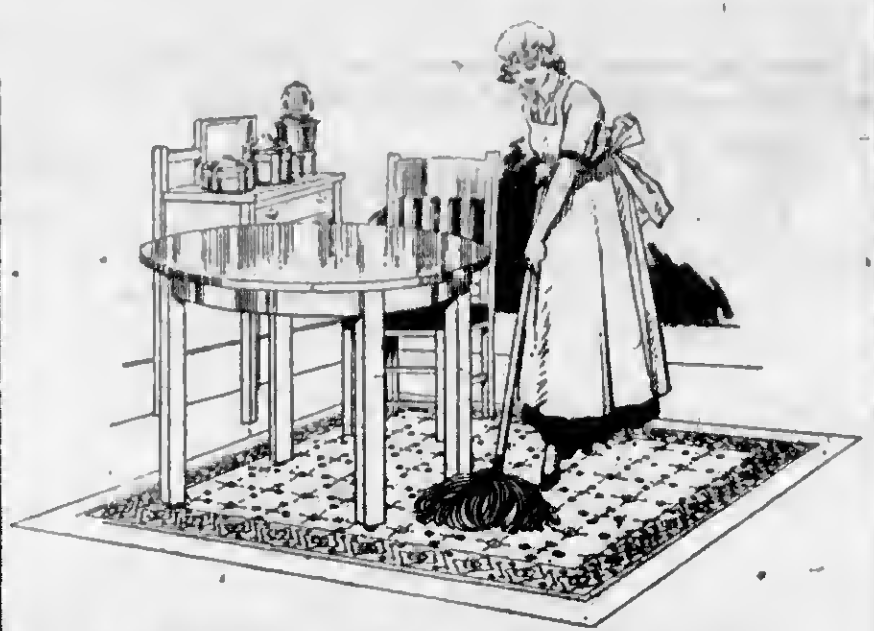

V. Y. Tuttle is a good instructor, both in and out of school. It is expected that his Ford will soon be able to skate alone.

The Junior class will serve ice cream and cake from the Domestic Science room, after the debate Thursday evening.

Ruth Solomon, county normal student, substituted in the kindergarten Monday.

Caught 28 Lake Trout.

Several local fishermen who spent Sunday on the ice on the South Arm report an excellent catch for one day even if that day was Sunday. They made the trip by auto and confessed to 28 trout and two lawyers.

CITY TO HAVE AVIATION FIELD

CHARLEVOIX TO BE RECOGNIZED
ED LANDING PLACE.

Roseville Aero Co. of Grand Rapids to Maintain One or More Planes
Here During Summer.

The Charlevoix Association of Commerce held one of its most successful and best attended meetings last Friday night since its organization. Indications are that both business men and citizens of Charlevoix have come to the realization that by united effort something worth while can be accomplished.

The meeting was called to order by President E. B. Ward after its members had been served one of the finest fish suppers imaginable. Minutes of the preceding meeting were read and adopted, reports of committees were asked for, and after the regular business was transacted, other matters of importance were discussed.

Arthur Rosenthal, president of the Roseville Aero Co. of Grand Rapids, and B. D. Coates, a director in the same company, were present and both gave short addresses.

Mr. Rosenthal covered the aeroplane proposition fully, explained its aims and objects, and stated that within the next ten years people would be coming to Charlevoix, not only by rail, water and auto, but by the air route.

He also stated Charlevoix had one of the best aviation fields in northern Michigan and that flying conditions here were far above the average of lake port towns. It is the intention of the Roseville Aero Co. to make Charlevoix one of its regular stations and maintain at least one machine here during the summer season.

The establishment of this field will place Charlevoix on the map as one of the regular landing places for aeroplanes, and it will also be recognized by the government as such. The matter is in the hands of the aviation committee of the Association of Commerce, who without doubt will make every effort to make the proposition a permanent one.

Another matter brought up was of the disastrous results to lake boats, both freight and passenger carriers, due to the enforcement of what is commonly known as the La Follet Seaman's Act. This act makes it impossible for boats above the 100-ton class to operate without financial loss.

Modification of the act as it applies to the great lakes passenger and package freight traffic is to be demanded by boards of commerce of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana and Minnesota as a result of a meeting in the Detroit Board of Commerce held by the inland waterways, port development and merchant marine committee of the board.

The campaign for a modification of the act, which is said to have proved ruinous to United States passenger and package freight shipping on the Great Lakes, is to be taken out of the hands of the individual vessel operators and become the campaign of all shippers in the Great Lakes region, through their commercial organizations.

A large congress is to be held in Detroit in April at which drafts of amendments to the Seaman's act will be adopted. A program of addresses is being prepared. Following the congress 100 or more men will go to Washington as a delegation from the Great Lakes to advocate their proposals the support of Congressmen and Senators, the United States engineers and the President.

Vessel operators have carried on a long but vain fight against certain provisions of the act, which they say was drafted without any consideration of inland shipping conditions.

It was said at the meeting that Great Lakes passenger and package freight traffic is made virtually impossible because each vessel is required to carry three watches, or shifts. This is true even on the trip from Detroit to Cleveland, where one shift works an hour and a half and where the other two shifts work three hours each, or a total of seven and a half hours for 24 hours' pay.

Don't forget that Thursday, February 10th, is the date for the next fortnightly dance at the Bank Hall. All who received invitations are requested to be present.—Adv. 611.

GRIM REAPER CALLS PIONEER RESIDENT

Mrs. Emma Saunders Dies at the Age of 72 Years.

Emma Burgess was born in Rirsteal, Norfolk, England, April 9th, 1848, and died February 4, 1921, at the age of 72 years, nine months and 26 days.

At the age of three she removed with her parents to Bomanville, Ontario, Canada. On March 24, 1868, she was united in marriage to Robert Saunders, to which union eight children were born, six of whom survive her; three sons, James, Jerry and Matthew, and a daughter, Mrs. Lina Brown of Charlevoix, Mrs. Hester Campbell of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Martha Durance of Detroit and 18 grand-children and seven great-grand children.

About thirty years ago she united with the Methodist church of Ironton and has since lived the life of a consistent Christian.

The funeral was held from the home of her son, Matthew Saunders, Sunday afternoon, Rev. James Smith of the Congregational church officiating.

POWER DAM IS WELL BUILT

ELECTRIC LIGHT CO. HAVE A FINE NEW PLANT.

Former Dam on Deer Creek Replaced
With a Modern Structure—Producing Current.

The following from the East Jordan Herald will be of interest to Charlevoix residents, inasmuch as the situation existing in the two cities are much alike. Our neighboring city fully realizes that electricity produced from water power can be sold to the consumer at a less price than that produced by steam, and in erecting their new power dam will benefit greatly by the difference in cost of same. The article is printed follows:

"Without question the greatest addition made to East Jordan's industrial sphere during the past year was that of the East Jordan Electric Light & Power company's new water-power equipment erected and installed on Deer Creek at the site of the old power dam which was washed out a number of years ago.

"Work of building the dam was started May 1st and East Jordan received its first 'juice' from the new power house about a fortnight ago. "The dam has been built for stability and will withstand a heavy head of water. In the cement work, over ten carloads of cement were used. The cement walls are 34 feet high, about 60 feet long, are eight feet thick at the base tapering to three feet at the top. Two 10-foot spillways are provided. Work on the dirt filling was started November 1st and continued with 12 to 14 teams up to January 15th, when heavy snow prevented further work. There is still about two months more work to complete the filling.

In the power house is a 300 k. w. General Electric generator, 2300 volt, three phase, 60 cycle. This generator weighs fifteen tons and the work of getting it out from the railroad to its location was no small matter. Power is derived from 20-inch Sampson horizontal turbines. At present the power and generator are belt connected, but as soon as a suitable foundation can be made, the generator will be moved over and connected direct with the power.

At present there is a working head of water of 20 to 22 feet, but this will be considerably increased in the spring. On a 32 foot head 500 horse power will be developed.

Owing to the winter months coming on, neither the dam itself nor power house are completed and the company's steam plant (and there is one better in the state) is being used about half the time to carry the heavier loads.

"The East Jordan Electric Light & Power Co. have expended a considerable amount in the erection of this plant, and both President C. S. Abbott and Superintendent L. G. Balch have worked untiringly to carry out the work."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our kind friends and neighbors for their help and sympathy during the long illness and death of our dear mother, and also to the singers, pastor and those who furnished flowers.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN.

We submit herewith a list of Bonds and Interest paid by the City Council during the years 1919 and 1920:

Bonds	Interest
Iron Swing Bridge	$ 8,000.00
Electric Light Extension	1,440.00
Water Works Refunding	2,375.00
Village Bridge Refunding	2,500.00
Electric Light Alteration	5,000.00
Electric Light Works (Bel- laire)	22,000.00
So. Bridge St. Paving	80.00
State Street Sewer	726.00
Nicholls & Ainslie St. Sewer ..	120.00
State Street Paving	1,376.00
Bridge-Street Paving	590.00
Mich. & Dixon Ave. Lighting ..	408.00
Burns, Burr & Crouter Avenue Sewer	167.20
East Lincoln & East Garfield Avenue Sewer	276.00

Total amount Bonds paid ..$8,744.10

Total amount Interest paid ..17,584.70

Total amount Bonds and Interest paid ..$56,328.80

The above statement shows what has been done during the past two years under a policy adopted by the Council for reducing our bonded indebtedness. Understand that this statement does not include payments made on Local Improvement Bonds, which are taken care of through special assessment, but does include bonds issued to defray that part of the cost of the improvement to be borne by the city at large, therefor payable out of general tax monies.

The total outstanding bonded indebtedness at the present, exclusive of local improvement bonds, is $144,909.05. Of this amount $106,500.00 is charged to and payable out of the earnings of the Electric Light and Water plants and $38,409.05 represents general bonds of which the bridge bonds constitute a large part and must be taken care of by general tax and payable out of the interest and sinking funds.

The charter permits a raising of a three mill tax for this interest and sinking fund, and it is the policy of the Council to maintain this fund strictly, so as to retire the bonds and pay the interest at maturity, thereby reducing our interest payments, which you will observe is a large annual sum.

No bonded indebtedness has been contracted during the past two years.

Respectfully submitted,

Finance Committee, G. C. Geneit, Chairman.

FOUR LOEB FARM HOLSTEINS LISTED

Included Among Reported Tests by Holstein-Friesian Association.

In the latest "Reported Tests of Holstein-Friesian Cows," published bi-weekly by Malcolm H. Gardner, Delavan, Wis., superintendent of advanced registry of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Loeb Farms of Charlevoix, Michigan, have several of their pure bred registered Holsteins listed.

Bessie Beets Saggis DeKol, is reported as having made at the age of five years and two months, an excellent record of 640.7 pounds of milk and 21.436 pounds of butter fat in seven days, equivalent to 26.79 lbs. of butter. Her record for thirty days is 2393.9 pounds of milk and 87.156 pounds of butter fat, equivalent to 108.94 pounds of butter.

Another cow, Kolrain Deane Funderne, is reported as having made at the age of five years and six months, a record of 440.1 pounds of milk and 20.208 pounds of butter fat in seven days, equivalent to 25.13 lbs. of butter.

Kolrain Funderne Netherland made at the age of five years and seven months, a record of 598.6 pounds of milk and 20.049 pounds of butter fat in seven days, equivalent to 25.06 pounds of butter. Her record for thirty days is 2087.6 pounds of milk and 75.318 pounds of butter fat, equivalent to 94.14 pounds of butter.

The fourth cow, Kolrain Ada Funderne, is reported as having made at the age of four years and ten months, a record of 447 pounds of milk and 20.321 pounds of butter in seven days, equivalent to 25.40 lbs. of butter.

Tests of this kind are supervised by one or more representatives from the dairy division of the College of Agriculture, present at each feeding and milking, to weigh the milk and test it for butter fat content. A duplicate sample of this milk is forwarded to the state college, where careful check is made before the record is reported.

H. S. HAD CLOSE CALL AT BELLAIRE

Won Bitterly Contested Game Only by 12-11 Score.

A field basket during the last 30 seconds of play was all that saved the high school team from inglorious defeat at Bellaire last Friday night.

It was a bitterly contested melee throughout, bearing no more resemblance to a basket ball game than a Dublin riot. Hostility of opponents and spectators, quarter size playing court, and an inefficient "home talent" official were the causes of the poor exhibition.

Sixteen fouls called on Charlevoix against three fouls called on Bellaire is sufficient evidence of what said official was trying to do.

The preliminary contest was played between the girls' teams of the two schools and won by Bellaire girls 12 to 9. This game was satisfactorily handled by Supt. Sisson of Bellaire.

Our teams appreciated the support given by about thirty enthusiastic rooters from Central Lake.

The last home game until March 18 will be played at the rink Friday night with Harbor Springs high school. This is to be a double header, the Legion playing Roynce City.

CITY WATER IS PRONOUNCED PURE

Such is the Report of State Board of Health

Some weeks ago our city officials received a request from the state board of health to furnish them with a sample of the city's drinking water for the purpose of chemical test as to its purity.

Last week a report of the analysis was received and the city's drinking purposes.

Charlevoix is one of the few cities in the state that has been entirely free for the past ten or twelve years from malaria or typhoid fever, and other contagious diseases, especially those whose cause could be traced to its drinking water.

SURPRISE PARTY AND POT-LUCK SUPPER

Friends Make Merry at the Lou Allard Home.

Friday, February 4, was the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Allard, and they had made preparations to invite a few of their friends to celebrate in a small way this occasion.

However, friends had this same purpose in mind, and while Mr. and Mrs. Allard were making these preparations, the other bunch were equally busy. The result was that about 35 arrived at the Allard home in a body and took complete possession. They were loaded down with "ents" and immediately began preparations for a feast.

When the Allards had recovered from their surprise they joined in with the bunch with the result that a most enjoyable evening was spent. Progressive pedro was indulged in, and later in the evening the floors were cleared and an old-fashioned dancing party held sway until a rather late hour.

The expression used on their departure was "the best ever."

STATE TO AID IN HOPPER FIGHT

LEGISLATION TO HAVE STATE PAY PART OF COST.

One Bill Would Provide for Half of Sum Spent by Counties to Be Paid Back.

Grasshopper legislation, based on surveys by the Michigan Agricultural college and the State Farm Bureau, made its appearance in the state legislature last week. The area covered by these pests has been greatly increased in recent years and grasshoppers are now regarded as a state problem.

Sentiment over the affected areas through the experience of several years is declared to have been solidified behind a combative program of poison. It has been suggested that state aid be provided up to one-half of the amount spent by each county in fighting the insects. Each county will be expected to certify to the auditor general the amounts it has expended, and the state official shall then draw his warrant for one-half of this amount, payable to the county, which in turn shall reimburse each township.

Upon completing the organization of the state department of agriculture this will probably be made the agent for the state in this fight.

In 1920 the grasshopper invasion amounted to a plague in most northern counties, including Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, Grand Traverse, Mason and Mecosta. Parts of Kent, Allegan and VanBuren were also affected.

Incomplete returns of appropriations for 1921 to fight this invasion includes: Charlevoix, $2,500; Emmet, $2,800; Cheboygan, $2,000; Mecosta, $1,000; Wexford, $2,500; Manistee, $6,000.

"Many farmers were afraid to put in seedlings last spring on account of the grasshoppers, but make assurances that if the campaign is to be ready this spring they will not be afraid to seed," says William Johnston, county agricultural agent in Wexford.

"We feel safe in placing the actual saving from our 1920 campaign against grasshoppers somewhere between $500,000 and $750,000," declares Carl H. Knopf, agricultural agent for Manistee county.

J. P. Houston, Grand Traverse farm agent, says that over half of the crops in his district were saved by the campaign last year, and K. K. Vining, Emmet county agent, places $75,000 as a modest statement of the saving effected in his county through the use of poison. "Beekeepers are not injured by the use of poison, Mr. Vining declares.

R. H. Pettit, professor of entomology at M. A. C., estimates that the spread of this grasshopper pest is close to forty miles a year. Ten years ago he says there were no unusual numbers of these insects anywhere in the state.

A Correction.

In last week's advertisement of the Northern Auto Co., the price of the Fordson Tractor appeared as $655. This was an error as the selling price of the tractor is $665.00. The error was overlooked in proof reading and we make this correction to the statement made.

POLITICAL POT BEGINS TO BOIL

CANDIDATES FOR CITY OFFICES
FILE PETITIONS.

Present Aldermen of all Three Wards
Candidates for Re-election—Outcome Hard to Determine.

Nineteenth hour filing of petitions of candidates for city offices has somewhat delayed the dopestera in expressing their opinions as to who will come out winner of the battle of ballots at the March 2nd primary.

Two have filed for the most important office of mayor, one for clerk, one for treasurer, two for justice of the peace and five for park commissioner. In the first ward but one candidate appears for alderman, but Andy Ross, former mayor, will oppose D. F. Meech for supervisor.

In the second ward two names have been filed for aldermanic honors, that of Arthur Bergeon, a resident of the city for many years, and Ira A. Adams. The name of Fred E. Cartier is the only one that appears for supervisor.

In the third ward Meyer Levinson ask for re-election as alderman, and Charles Carey will oppose E. B. Ward for supervisor. Names filed are as follows:

City Republican Ticket.
For mayor—Archie A. Swinton, Lyman E. Beitton.
For city clerk—Archie L. Livingston.
For city treasurer—John Cook.
For justice of the peace, full term—Emilia Stites, Wm. H. Collins.
For member board of park commissioners, full term—Minnie Cross, Sadie R. Faulkner, Harry L. Oldham.
For member board of park commissioners, short term—Richard C. Hammett.
For member board of park commissioners, to fill vacancy—Earl A. Young.

First Ward.
Alderman—Clarence Wood.
Supervisor—Darwin F. Meach, Andrew Ross.

Second Ward.
Alderman—Arthur Bergeon, Ira A. Adams.
Supervisor—Fred E. Cartier.

Third Ward.
Alderman—Meyer Levinson.
Supervisor—E. B. Ward, Charles Carey.

The ladies choice of office seems to be that of park commissioner, as this is the only office where names of our lady voters appear. With the exception of two of the five to file for this office, the right to vote and hold public office is but a recent privilege.

LEGION TEAM WINS FROM ELK RAPIDS

Little Difficulty Experienced in Overcoming Opponents.

The Charlevoix Legion had their usual run of luck Thursday evening of last week, when they walked away with the honors from Elk Rapids.

Our men were in excellent condition, although they have had very little practice recently. Poole scored three baskets and Durance one, while the remainder were distributed between Tuttle, center, and Westfall, forward.

The game started with Elk Rapids throwing a basket, but the local five were able to guard them from repeating their burst of speed and the first half ended with a score of 7-14 in our favor. The second half was faster, but the visitors were unable to get past our five-man defense and the game finished with Charlevoix 39 and Elk Rapids 9.

Richard Hammett was the referee.

POWER BOAT FOR FISH HATCHERY

One Soon to be Provided for Local Station

E. B. Waril, president of Charlevoix Association of Commerce, is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Frank D. Scott, stating that the bureau of Fisheries at Washington would soon assign a power boat for the use of the local hatchery.

The local hatchery has been in urgent need of a boat of this kind and the action of Congressman Scott in his effort to make this possible is to be commended.

PE-RU-NA
A Great Medicine

Mrs. M. J. Hiley, R. R. No. 1, Box 101, Charlevoix, Mich., writes:
"I have used Pe-ru-na and know it is good for colds, coughs and catarrh. It cures my stomach and I do not take cold when I use Pe-ru-na. It is a great medicine."

During the last few years, Pe-ru-na has been looked upon as the reliable medicine for catarrh of every description, whether it be of the nose and throat, stomach, bowels or other organs.

By keeping Pe-ru-na in the home for emergencies, serious ailments may frequently be prevented. Use before the grip or influenza hits.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surface.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS or any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

New Price on Fordson Tractors
$665.00
Delivered to Your Farm

"This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new Tractor Plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the FORDSON Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive, and consequently our desire to place the FORDSON within the reach of all."

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Is there any difference between Holiness, Righteousness, and Mercy?—G. T.

A. Fundamentally and scripturally, holiness and righteousness are the same. It is not altogether easy to define holiness. Thus Oehler, contrasting it with glory says, "Holiness is glory concealed; glory is holiness revealed." But this is a description, not a definition. Dr. Strong says, "Holiness is self affirming purity." I think holiness is the fullness of the glorious goodness of God, consistently held as the principle of His own action, and the only standard for His creatures, and I give this definition from a scriptural standpoint. Please read carefully and thoughtfully the following passages. Ex. 15:11, Lev. 11:44, Deut. 32:4, Jos. 24:19, 1 Sam. 2:2, Job. 6:10, Heb. 1:12, Matt. 5:48, Luke 1:49, John 17:11, 1 Peter 1:15, John 1:5, 2:20, Rev. 4:8, 6:10, 15:4. (Mercy) Mercy has been defined as that, "Eternal principle of God's nature which leads Him to seek the temporal good and eternal salvation of those who have opposed themselves to His will, even at the cost of infinite self-sacrifice."

Q. Dear Sir: I have been reading your Gospel Question Box and I think you are doing a lot of good. But now can you tell me, where did Cane get his wife?—G. H. I.

A. Thank you. I sincerely hope to be accomplishing some good. Cane got his wife from his father-in-law and you had not better be making inquiries about other men's wives, or you may get into trouble. You no doubt have heard someone ask this foolish question, "Where did Cane get his wife?" for bad you studied the bible you could readily answer the question yourself. The Bible says: "Cane went out from the presence of the Lord and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden. And Cane knew his wife; and she conceived and bare Enosh." Gen. 4:16, 17. What the Bible means by "knew" in this connection anyone can discover for himself by taking his concordance and looking it up. My dear Brother: You had better get something into that bean of yours of what your God says about your soul's salvation, and not be bothering yourself about Cane's wife; for when you come to die, Cane's wife will not interest you. "After death, then the judgment."

Q. What system of methods would you advise in preparing sermons; winning souls to Christ, or growth in membership of church and complete confidence of people? Do you think it necessary to give church entertainments as a means of interesting the public in church work? Doctor, I am not asking these questions out of curiosity, or for the mere desire of reading your answers. It is the light I want. Sincerely, yours in Christ, R. P.

A. My dear Brother: First be sure you have received the baptism of the Holy Ghost, and then be thine own self. Many a man has failed in his ministry when otherwise he would have been a glorious success, simply because he was not willing to take himself as God made him. The very individuality with which God has endowed us is the very thing which makes us worth hearing. What ludicrous results may be observed when men imitate with servility the doings of others. It is a sad mistake for a preacher to enter the pulpit with a strange monotone voice. The preacher should be himself, his best self, his consecrated self, his highest self. In so doing he will best prove his sincerity, honor his God, be a blessing to and hold the confidence of the people to whom he ministers. Piety in the pulpit must be accompanied by piety in the home. A certain quality of life is expected from the preacher by his people, and reasonably so too; he must see to it that he proves himself worthy of their confidence. We must tell the truth of God. If we have vowed to him; let us keep our vows. We must tell the truth to men. A clerical jester is sadly out of place both in the pulpit and out of it. There should be a difference between a cheap advertising medium for a circus and an ambassador from the court of heaven.

The choice of a text and a subject is not something that can be left to chance or to the whim of the preacher. We must not choose subjects above and beyond our ability to handle. Little ships must keep near the shore else they will be wrecked. Remember three general principles when choosing a text: the cycle of truth preached, the needs of the people, and one's own ability to present the subject. Stick to your text. If there ever was a time when biblical preachers are needed it is now. Some preachers are like boys swimming under water; you see them when they dive off the text, and then you see them when they hoh up again at the "Amen"; but all through the sermon you lose sight of them because they have gone in over their heads.

Visit your people and study their needs. I have never known a minister to be a soul-winner who refused to visit his people. Gather, in your imagination, the people around your desk as you consider what to preach about, and let their needs determine what shall be the nature of your text and sermon; (how many of them need to be saved?). Never attempt to prepare a sermon without prayer; ask God what He thinks about it; the Holy Spirit will give the answer.

(Entertainments) No, I do not believe in "church entertainments"; positively it is not necessary and will have a tendency to drive the people away from the church; away from Gospel thought. The kind of entertainment that God exacts from His church is Christian people leading a Sunday school endeavoring in a most prayerful, earnest manner, to shape young lives into service for the Master. A live prayer meeting with leaders who have been taught how to pray under the direction of the Holy Spirit, a well organized young people's society with topics of the most interesting character carefully arranged by the minister, and then on top of all this put your own dear self into your sermons with all the strength you possess and you will not want for people to hear you preach, and as sure as you are living, your church will go on the records of heaven: a soul-winning church.

Q. What is the real difference between a good moral man and a christian?—W. E.

A. The first is foolish and the latter wise. (Foolish) Matt. 7:26, Prov. 10:8, 1 Cor. 1:18, Luke 12:20, Rom. 1:21, 22, 23, Prov. 10:21. (Wise) 2 Peter 3:15, Prov. 11:30, Dan 12:3, Cor. 4:10, Tim. 3:15.

Q. I wish to thank you for the good myself and sister are getting from the "Question Box", and the help it has been to us in our study of God's word. Just one question, please. What colleges do you think best for biblical instruction?—G. M. S.

A. Your kind words of appreciation are gratefully received. I feel I am doing but little compared with the publishers of the Courier who are giving this rendering to the public gratis. It is they who are deserving of thanks. As christian schools, I can recommend: "The Moody Bible Institute, 153-163 Institute Place, Chicago, Ill.; The Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. I can give you by personal letter the address of several other christian colleges should you so desire.

Q. I am trying to live the life of a Christian, trying to serve Christ as best I can in my weak way, but many times lose faith, and how can one have faith, can you tell me, when people who profess to be Christians and even preachers do not practice what they preach? Don't you lose faith many times? I am a father and I want my children to be Christians; I know it's the only right way for anyone to live. But tell me, Doctor, what is faith and is it necessary for salvation?—J. C. B.

A. My dear Brother: Don't use the "weak way." I don't like that word "weak." Be strong in Christ Jesus; don't rely on yourself, neither on others for strength, but solely on Christ who never allows failure to come to those who have implicit faith in Him. Too many go to church on Sunday and instead of putting a dollar in the tray they put a penny. They are serving the Lord in their own "weak way," and when it comes to praying, or paying the preacher's salary, they have nothing to say; they are just serving the Lord in their own "weak way." You say, "I am trying to live the life of a Christian," then you have enlisted in Christ's army; you are a soldier of the Cross; now be a fighter, don't give one inch of ground to the devil. Never mind the preacher, don't look for the faults in others, but look to Jesus. "Don't I lose faith?" Yes, in people sometimes, but never in Christ Jesus; He is my strength and I will stick to Him; I will preach Christ and Him crucified in the very teeth of the devil and I don't care one iota what anyone thinks of my preaching. Remember, it does not matter what the world thinks, we obey God in all things. The soul that is full of faith says, "We are fully able to go up," though the rabble of unbelief clamors: "We can't." It utters the victorious hallelujahs which brings the walls of every frowning Jericho into the dust. He who has come into a fullness of faith drops all questioning and quibbling as to the complete inspiration and divine authority of the Scriptures; their very enigmas, difficulties and obscurities are accepted as significant; and what is incomprehensible in them is believed even more fully than what is clearly understood. Trust in the Lord and care nothing about results, is misleading. That would not be faith at all, for it belongs to faith to believe for something; it must anticipate results. Faith is always accompanied by effects. The effects possible to one are different from those possible to others. Saving faith compasses pardon, regeneration, witness of adoption, and entire sanctification; while faith in its fullness compasses a range of spiritual experiences and states not possible to a lower measure of faith. The man of faith is not backward in asking the Lord for great things, success crowns the man full of faith; he does not; his labor is not in vain; whatsoever he does prospers; fruit appears; results follow. Strip "Billy" Sunday of his faith, take from "Quipsy" Smith, Mel Trotter and other soul-winners their faith in Christ Jesus, and they would be a complete failure. Yes, faith in Christ Jesus is absolutely "necessary for salvation." But please remember, we must link work with faith, "Faith is a dead being alone." Faith, work and obedience are the golden links that bind us to Christ.

Q. Can you tell me if these words are found in the Bible? "Be sure your sins will find you out." I remember hearing them when a child.

Can you tell me if we are God's children before we are converted?—A. B.

A. "Be sure your sin will find you out." Yes, this passage of Scripture is found in Num. 32:23. Latter question answered in one of the recent issues.

Q. Do you believe the story of creation as recorded in the book of Genesis to be correct? I find it is not in accordance with modern Theology. What evidence have we to prove creation as recorded in Genesis is true?—R. C.

A. "Creation as recorded in Genesis," is absolutely true and anyone who denies it is a fit subject for the mental junk pile. Get out of that head of yours the word "modern" and get God and theology into your heart; theology treats of God and divine things, study theology with a reverence due God, and not the so-called modern ideas of men who have merely had a change of head, not a change of heart: "What evidence have we to prove creation as recorded in Genesis is true." We can say they are true upon the authority of God. He said so, and I challenge you, Sir, to produce one written word of the genius of man that will satisfactorily dispute it. "What evidence?" Life itself; your own self; what do you know about yourself? Have you studied anything about the architecture of your body? Before we commence to measure the infinite mind of God, with our little finite mind, had we not better study and answer a few of the following questions: Blood cells or corpuscles, in your body the number of which are thirty millions of millions. In other words an adult man has in his body

Owing to reductions made by manufacturers and jobbers of Furniture, Rugs, etc. our prices will be materially reduced during the present month.

As the reductions have not been uniform on all lines, it will be necessary that we go through our stock and arrange prices according to the new prices made by the different manufacturers and jobbers.

Until we have had time to make these adjustments we shall make a straight 10 per cent Discount on all Furniture and 15 per cent on Rugs and Linoleum, these prices to take immediate effect.

While we have been reliably informed that there will be no further declines in prices, is will be our aim to reduce the prices on stock on hand whenever a reduction has been made by the manufacturers and jobbers.

You can always be assured that you will get the very lowest possible prices at all times.

COST-PLUS AND COST-MINUS

Three young men planned and carried out the Omaha train robbery. They expected to steal a few thousand dollars. They got over three millions in securities, and about $100,000 in cash.

They got something else. Within three weeks after their exploit, all three of them were in the penitentiary. One of them is now engaged in making shoes at a salary of nothing-a-year. Another, on the same terms, is mending convicts' trousers. Another is wheeling rocks to a crusher.

And it was not the pinch of poverty which drove them to the crime. All of them were employed. The poorest paid among them was getting $150 a month. The combined incomes of the six members of the family of another of the trio was over $500 a month.

But they saw stealing and grafting and collusive-contract plundering of the best and most generous Government in the world going on all around them. They became infected with the contagion. It was bad for them.

They lost their minds. For surely no man in his right mind would stake his liberty and everything that made life worth living against the remote chance of winning a few thousands, encumbered with the perpetual terror of a policeman's hand on his shoulder. The odds were too great. None but a fool or a lunatic would take them. But they took them. Ergo, they were fools or lunatics.

Fools or lunatics, indeed! If they were bound to be criminals anyway, why did they not take a leaf or two out of the open books of the grafting, cash-plus criminals working successfully in broad daylight, wherever they might turn their eyes? Why did they not worm their way into some of the innumerable Government swindling rings? To be sure, the ringsters were a pretty contemptible pack of curs, far worse than the highwaymen and the train robbers. But their risk of punishment was practically nil. They are sprawling on the verandas of luxurious hotels in the tropics now, or leading gay lives in the white-light zones of the great cities. Contrast that with what their moral superiors of the underworld, the silly Omaha train plunderers, are doing—making shoes, mending old convict clothes, wheeling rocks in a penitentiary.

Fools or lunatics, indeed, to play the cost-minus game of robbery when the cost-plus game was wide open before them!

THE TOLL OF CARELESSNESS

There were 15,210 persons burned to death in this country last year. There were 17,041 people seriously injured in fires. And of those who died or who were injured 82 per cent were mothers and little children. And 92 per cent of all these fires that caused a financial loss of two millions of dollars a day were due to carelessness or neglect.

The facts come from the figures just presented at the National Fire Marshall's Convention by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. In the report it is stated that 889 homes are being burned every day, at a loss of $89,000, the origin of 65 per cent of the fires being from trivial and preventable causes, dropped matches, lighted cigarettes and cigars, for instance.

Perhaps the most significant statement made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters is that pertaining to school housing and we quote from the report:

Over 90 per cent of the school houses in the United States are veritable fire traps. No member of the board of education has done his duty until he has given every possible protection to the children entrusted in his care. By a careful survey of school buildings throughout the country it is found that the lesson learned in the Collinwood school fire has already been forgotten. Boards of education are elected to take care of, and are made responsible for, the educational system of our country, and the welfare of the pupils.

Like the toll from automobile accidents, that resulting from a fire is a terrible indictment of American carelessness. It is bad enough when we contemplate the responsibility which may be assessed to the individual, but it is even worse when we view the seriousness of the public neglect. Throughout the country there are thousands of theaters, schools and other buildings of a public character which are excessive fire hazards to human life. Not until the people view more seriously their duties to make the protection of life of prior claim to all other considerations will we commence to reduce the shocking record of their neglect.

WILSON'S EXPENSE SLIP.

President Wilson's expenses while negotiating the treaty of Versailles, which included the covenant of the league of nations, were $1,651,191, according to the president's final statement submitted to the senate. Of this sum the larger part was spent at the headquarters of the peace mission in the Hotel Crillon in Paris.

The report shows that the mission became so large that additional quarters were provided at other Paris hotels. The hire and laundry of linen alone at the several hostilities costing $64,969.

When the American mission left the Hotel Crillon the account showed $125,000 was paid the owners of the hotel for damages and breakage.

Some of the other larger items were: Travel and subsistence, $28,442; subsistence, $193,629; wages and employees at Hotel Crillon, $131,507; rents, $176,853; food, hotel and kitchen supplies, $283,560. Purchase of automobiles amounted to $14,602 and confidential expenses of presidential party, $17,534.

Salaries of members of the mission cost the government $200,871. Col. E. M. House and Henry White, members of the mission who were not officials of the government, received salaries of $1,000 a month. Most members of the mission received a per diem allowance of $4 for subsistence, but there was a special allowance of $25 a day for this purpose to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

That the southern Democratic Congressmen who stood up in the census committee and denied that the solid south disfranchises the negro could do this without laughing proves that they are as expert in controlling their facial expressions as they are in controlling elections.

While Secretary Daniels was buying coal for the navy at $4.50 a ton Secretary Baker was stocking up the army at $11 a ton, which proves that whatever may be said of Josephus actually, relatively he isn't half as big a sucker as Newt.

Lenine's latest is the electrification of Russia from central power plants fueled from peat bogs. Why not pipe Siberia with the political hot air now going to waste at Moscow and grow bananas enough to feed the world.

In view of the methods used in government construction at Muscle Shoals, the name of the dam for which $10,000,000 is asked there should be changed to Doughty.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Those who listened to evangelist Kennedy last Sunday are convinced that a preacher of exceptional ability has come among us. Dr. Kennedy is intensely dramatic in his presentation of the truths of the Gospel; he has a wonderful knowledge of the Bible and every message is steeped in quotations from God's Word.

The Congregational and Baptist churches have very kindly closed their Sunday evening services while the evangelistic campaign is in progress.

The evangelist asks that people do not criticize his sermons until they hear them. Thursday night the sermon subject will be "Coward, Hypocrites and Heroes." Subject for Friday night, "How to get a Wife." High school students are given a special invitation to this service.

Friday at 2:30 a Bible reading will be given and at 3:30 a great meeting will be held for all between the ages of 5 and 35—please note the ages—At this meeting a treat will be given which will be in the form of something good to eat.

The following program will be carried out next Sunday: at 10:30, subject, "A Second Chance," at 3 o'clock the subject will be "Abiding;" at 7 o'clock Dr. Kennedy will preach on "Love at First Sight." At the night service the evangelist will tell every young woman present the kind of a man she should marry. Don't miss this girls.

At three o'clock Sunday Mrs. Kennedy will address girls only, who have never been married, in the Congregational church. Mrs. Kennedy renders valuable assistance at all the services. Meetings will continue each night next week at 7:30. The Sunday night service is at 7 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. Henry Candler earnestly invites every man in Charlevoix to come and listen to Dr. Kennedy.

Pennies are said to be disappearing from circulation and the government is wondering what has become of them. Has the government thought how many of them are swallowed by babies?

CITY'S ICE HARVEST HAS BEEN STARTED

Thousands of Tons to Be Stored by Various Concerns

Monday marked the beginning of the annual ice harvest for Charlevoix and O. D. Hammond, who has the work in hand, is busily engaged in filling the various ice houses and storage buildings in the city for both private and public use.

The commencement of this work is somewhat later than in previous years. "Mr. Hammond states that he was about through at his time last year and that the quality of ice being stored was better.

However, Charlevoix can be thankful to have ice of any kind, as many cities in the southern part of the state will be unable to put up ice at all unless extreme cold weather prevails during the next month.

there is liberty—not formality and Churchianity.

Some church services are like a merry-go-round, going all the time, but when you get off you are just where you started.

Some folks are so proper that they never do anything.

Most folks want others to be just like them; if we were all just like them we would be as little account as they are.

Prayer is not coaxing God, but laying hold of God's willingness to do the thing He wants done.

Is it not wonderful that God should answer prayer; it would be wonderful if He did not after promising to do so.

A certain preacher is having a hard time of it. When he appears cheerful his congregation declares he is worldly, and when he is serious the members say he isn't human.

Just as one child in the family never amounts to much, so does one thought in a mind seldom accomplish much.

Nuggets from Kennedy's Sermons.

David killed the giant with a sling and a stone and was a warrior all his life but never tried it again. It was out of date.

Prayer is joining forces with God against Satan.

Those who make predictions that are worth reading, compile inventories of basic conditions. They add their knowledge that the United States is affluent in natural resources. Official statistics show conclusively that the country requires vast production, that the wheels of finance, industry, agriculture and society are rich in natural lubricants to produce good times under normal conditions. In other words, human and physical inventories show that our country is not only solvent, but literally rolling in wealth. The further fact is apparent, that the country was thrown entirely out of joint by the war. Those who have been competent to analyze the situation in its entirety agree that fundamental laws are at work, and that it is only a question of time when the bond investors who have found Uncle Sam's paper depreciated all the way from $1.80 to $1.13 on $100 bonds get a grain of comfort out of the fact that stocks of the great industrial institutions, such as steel, have dropped down to $83 a share. The U. S. Rubber is now about $47 a share and the queen of non-alcoholic booze, Coca-Cola is hitting the bumps considerably beneath $25. All these shares have a nominal par value of $100. The history of their "downfall" is identical to that recorded by hundreds of securities sold on and off the stock exchanges. The depression is noted on boards of trade where grains are traded in, and in a lesser degree in the stock yards. It is unnecessary to add that the slump has affected the shelves and profits of merchants and tradesmen, and the employment of more than 2,000,000 American citizens.

Voluntary Advice

In the industrial and economic tragedy of today, advice is looked upon as a pretty poor substitute for the more substantial necessities which the people of the country demand as their right. Political Washington is not taken over seriously throughout the land. Still, churches revise their list of pew holders because the devout brothers and sisters are unable to pay, even though their spirit of devotion and fidelity remain unquestioned. And lodges that thrive on brotherly love and fraternalism still continue to suspend their unfortunate members whose only offense against the constitution and laws of the order consists in the inability to pay annual dues.

In the face of these conditions which embitter men and women and cause many of them to inwardly entertain bolshevik ideas, we drift back to the old truism that "it takes money to make the mare go." Therefore, forward men and women are compelled to "look the world in the eye" and to obtain as practical a view as possible in answering the questions surrounding the problems of their future well-being. In such circumstances there is commonsense in heeding the opinions of those whose views on the industrial situation were quoted on the first page of the Literary Digest of January 8. The big advertising campaign in the interest of investments that is being carried on by Henry L. Doherty and company, one of the big concerns of the country, has voiced practically the same opinion as that reviewed by the Literary Digest.

"Our message is this," says the statement, "Perhaps never again will there be such bargains in investment securities as the market now offers and so we may say to all, and this means you—scrimp together all the money you can get without borrowing, and buy investment securities—and buy them now."

Exception might be taken to the use of this advice because it comes from Wall Street. Nevertheless, it epitomizes succinctly what all the others such as Mr. McAdoo, Secretary Houston and the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board have said.

The Return of Confidence

The security and investment market is not, as many people seem to think, an institution or enterprise directed from the National Capital, or in physical existence confined to New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Seattle or San Francisco. Neither does it belong exclusively to affairs of public utilities that are found in most every part of the country. It is an institution, and it spreads out as broadly as the post-office, and like the mail—it goes everywhere. Because some Liberty Bonds are now worth only $87 no one believes that Uncle Sam will eventually try to liquidate his securities at a discount. Recognizing the fact that the country is in the "dumps," a basic principle governs in all of the optimistic predictions that have been noted in the foregoing. The meaning of it all is that your local bank is safe, and so is your local merchant, and your local publisher, and your local government—all depending in the final analysis upon the supposition that in each of these institutions the element of human honesty sustains its average.

The Basis for Predictions

Those who make predictions that are worth reading, compile inventories of basic conditions. They add their knowledge that the United States is affluent in natural resources. Official statistics show conclusively that the country requires vast production, that the wheels of finance, industry, agriculture and society are rich in natural lubricants to produce good times under normal conditions. In other words, human and physical inventories show that our country is not only solvent, but literally rolling in wealth. The further fact is apparent, that the country was thrown entirely out of joint by the war. Those who have been competent to analyze the situation in its entirety agree that fundamental laws are at work, and that it is only a question of time when the country will again be on a sound and substantial basis.

There is but one outstanding difference in the analysis which they bring to the situation. Some authorities say that general conditions will right themselves in the spring. Others set the time a year later. Still others split the difference and say that the country will be back to normal next fall. All of these people agree that humanity does its business on a basis of confidence, and therefore, the period of distrust will have to be wiped out in every community before the country returns to good times, and to what President-elect Harding is pleased to refer to as "normalcy."

Appointments are Tied Up

The Republicans in Congress have effectually tied up all of President Wilson's appointments. A bare handful of them may get through, on account of some special consideration; but the vast majority of postoffice and other nominations will remain in pigeon holes until after March 4, when the republicans will use their prerogative of "taking care of their friends"—as usual.

Too Much Canadian Wheat

The Senate finance committee has agreed upon an emergency tariff of forty cents a bushel upon all imported wheat, in order to stem the stream of Canadian wheat that is pouring over the border, and adding to the distress of American farmers who are already in a serious plight because of the collapse of the grain market.

Packers Kick Against Government

The Federal Government has a lot of difficulty in suiting the packers, who have come to the point where they hop on Senators, Representatives and executive bureaus that oppose them. The Federal trade commission is the principle thorn in the side of the meat barons, and the packers find fault because a report of the commission was given wide distribution, particularly in international channels, even having been accompanied by a "form letter." "By this form letter," say the packers, "President Wilson was made to extend the invitation to foreign governments to take 'fundamental action' which the commission said was necessary to prevent international control of meat products by American packers."

Washington is hardly able to "see the point." Government is generally looked upon as something that does not need to be suppressed, even though it does become energetic enough to get out a "form letter" in an effort to "prevent international control of meat products."

As an example of insolence the packers are real bulls, as is evidenced by their most recent complaints against the Government.

twenty thousand times as many individual blood cells as there are people on the face of the earth. The blood cells are so small that three thousand five hundred are required to make a row an inch in length, yet their number is so great that they present a combined surface amounting to about thirty-two thousand square feet, more than two-thirds of an acre, and each of these little cells is a distinct living creature. It has its own individual life, it grows, works, breathes. Pause a moment, think, every six weeks every one of this vast multitude of living forms grows old and dies and must be replaced. In other words thirty millions of millions of blood cells must be created anew every six weeks. This requires the making of blood cells at the rate of seven hundred thousand millions daily or about thirty thousand millions every hour, five hundred millions every minute, or more than eight millions every second. Think of it. At every tick of the clock eight millions of blood cells die, and eight millions are created to take their place. Who is the creator? Who is the architect? In the presence of such an inconceivable creative activity, can we doubt the presence of an infinitely wise and beneficent Creator. "Great and marvelous are thy works, O Lord God Almighty." Rev. 15:3. See here, how does God keep disease from the body? How does He care for you? The leucocytes or white blood cells, suppose for example, a few germs are introduced into the tissues. Exactly what happens may be noted with a powerful microscope, and the revelation is truly astonishing. Watching closely one may see the white cells beginning to accumulate on the wall of the blood vessel just opposite where the germs have entered. The cells move more and more slowly, creeping carefully along, as though seeking the way. By and by the moving cells come to a stop. Then each cell begins to push a minute thread of its own tissue, thrusting it through the wall of the vessel. Little by little, the further end of the delicate filament which has been pushed through the wall grows larger and larger, while the portion of the cell within the vessel diminishes, and after a time each cell is found outside the vessel, and yet no openings are left behind. Once outside the vessel these wonderful body defenders, moving quickly here and there, quickly discover the germs and proceed at once to swallow them. If the germs are few in number, they may be in this way destroyed, for the white cells not only swallow germs, but they digest them. Thus God cares for you. Pause again, think! Who is the creator of all this? And so I might go on and take up that marvelous machine, your heart, and other equally as great creative work in your body. I could take lower animal life, plant life, etc. All, all confirm the records of Genesis are true. Please read and study Psalms 19:19.

"The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth His handywork."

"Consider the lilies of the field," said Christ. How they grow, they toll not, neither do they spin." Matt. 6:28. O, brother, put aside your ologies, isms, sisms and prisms and get down to business for Christ Jesus. In faith believing, lay hold on His wonderful promises.

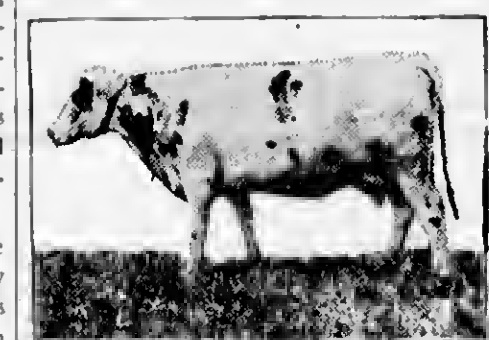

DAIRY POINTS

HOME SUPPLIES FROM FARM

Measured in Money Value Dairy Products Constitute Most Important Group of Foods.

Dairy products constitute the most important group of foods measured in money value, consumed by the average farm family. Milk cows are kept on practically all farms. The average farm family uses annually about 2,000 quarts of milk in the form of milk, butter, cheese or cream.

In dairy regions where milk is shipped or sold in creameries or cheese factories, practically all the butter and cheese used is bought instead of made on the farm, says the United States department of agriculture. Very few farmers buy whole milk. About four-fifths of the dairy products consumed by farmers are produced on the home farm.

In the South dairy products are used very freely. The common practice is to churn the whole milk for butter, producing a large quantity of buttermilk. The average annual consumption of butter per family is about 230 pounds in the South while for families in the North and West it is less than 150 pounds. It is not unusual for the average-sized family in the South to consume 2,000 quarts of buttermilk a year. Buttermilk is a cooling and healthful drink for that climate.

DRUGS INJURE DAIRY CATTLE

Iowa State College Experiments Show Decrease Rather Than Increase in Fat Production.

The use of drugs with the idea of increasing the fat production of test cows has been tried out by Iowa State College dairy section. In most cases it was found that drugs decreased rather than increased the fat production.

Such drugs as atropin, ephedrin, oil, pinitrin, clove, nuxvomium sulphate, nuxvomium and sodium chloride were tried and in all cases they were detrimental to the cows. All cows used were in good normal condition at the start of the tests and various sizes of doses were used.

In some cases it was found that the flow of milk and buttermilk was increased slightly but this soon fell off and in the end a decrease was noted.

Up to date no drug has been found that will increase and it is strongly advised by the dairy men not to resort to this method as it injures the cows and is not a fair way to gain a record.

WHEN MILK TEST IS HIGHEST

Faculty of Milking Off Fat Is Used in Pushing Cows for Short-Time Records.

In pushing cows for short-time records, this faculty of milking off the fat is used; that is, the cow is allowed to freshen in very fat condition and will test very high when her record is being made two or four weeks after freshening. There have been cases where cows have tested from two to three per cent higher during this period than the normal test for her lactation and this test would be much higher than during the last part of her lactation.

ELLSWORTH

E. A. Dean visited his son at Petoskey one day last week.

Henry Black was in East Jordan on business on Saturday of last week.

Ormy Neff of Charlevoix, visited at the Frank Wright home last Sunday.

Mrs. J. H. Elzinga and daughter, Cornelia, were Petoskey visitors the first of the week.

Several good sized muskies have been speared through the ice during the past few days.

Ruel Chellis is confined to his room in Detroit with a broken ankle, which he sustained in a fall last week.

Mrs. G. C. Townsend of Boyne City, spent Friday and Saturday of last week visiting friends here.

Ray Nelson was at East Jordan last Saturday night being initiated into the mysteries of the Masonic order.

Lee Kinner, who has been spending the past two weeks with relatives here, left the first of the week for East Jordan, where he will visit a few days before returning to his home in Detroit.

Twenty-five teams are busy this week hauling gravel onto the Ellsworth-East Jordan road. Eighteen of the teams are hauling for Charlevoix county and the balance are working for Banks township.

Wm. Cole underwent an operation at Lockwood hospital at Petoskey, on Tuesday of this week. Aside from a telephone report that his condition was fair at the close of the operation, nothing more was known at 2:30 this (Tuesday) afternoon.

Mrs. Tice Coeling of Grand Rapids, arrived last week to spend a few weeks with old friends here and at Atwood. Mr. Coeling will do carpenter work in this vicinity for a few weeks and they may be persuaded to make their future home somewhere in this vicinity.

Richard Allen is the name of the boy born on January 12th to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bushy, at their home at Suag King Koo, China. The parents are missionaries to China, having been in the Chinese mission field for about two years. Mrs. Bushy was formerly Miss Lillian Skov of Ellsworth.

The high school room have received a new eighteen dollar basket ball and the primary and intermediate room have received volley balls from the state athletic fund. The presentation was made last week by School Commissioner Kate Wilson, and came as a premium for the exceptionally good appearance of the school.

George Klooster, E. H. Boss, and D. E. Carpenter were the township delegates who attended the county convention held at Bellaire on Monday of this week and Thos. D. McGinnis, A. B. Doherty, Fitch R. Williams and Wm. Herlitz were the county delegates chosen to attend the state convention at Detroit.

A kitchen shower was given on Friday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. John Rubing, in honor of her daughter, Mattie. The young lady was the recipient of many useful articles and much useless advice and a general good time was had by all present. We might also add for the benefit of interested parties that two rolling pins, a frying pan and a potato masher were included among the gifts.

The community was shocked last week to hear of the death of Mrs. Isaac Neuman, which occurred early Thursday morning at her home on the old Cornwell farm, two and one-half miles south-east of town, following an illness of only a few days. The funeral services were held from the residence at 1:30 p. m. on Sunday, and burial was at the Central Lake cemetery. She leaves a husband and four children, who have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

The boys and girls basket ball teams of the Ellsworth school went to Atwood on Friday evening of last week and mixed with the teams from Atwood, being returned winners in both games. The score for the boys game was 49-13 and the girls was 10-3. The Atwood team was badly crippled by the absence of their regular forwards, LaDue and Hartwell, but put up a good game nevertheless. The locals expect to play Allen at Alden on Friday evening of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Deline received word on Monday of this week of the death last week of C. W. Bachmeister of Chicago. According to the message received by the Delines, Mr. Bachmeister's death occurred at the home of a brother at Toulon, Ill., and was caused by accidental shooting while out after rabbits. Particulars have not been received as yet. Deline has spent several winters here recently, returning to his home last fall after suffering a nervous breakdown. Mr. and Mrs. Bachmeister made many friends during their stay here and his death will come as a severe shock.

Dr. Dicken of East Jordan, was called to see Johnnie Beckman last Tuesday.

Glenn Compton of Muskegon, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miles.

Gilbert LaClair and son, Harry, of East Jordan, came out to their farm for hay Saturday.

Fred Monroe and family of Detroit, visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mohlo one day last week.

Mrs. Anna LaLonde and family were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hart in East Jordan.

Mrs. Frank Boyd and little sons were visiting a few days with Mrs. G. LaClair in East Jordan last week.

Manila Miles and Esther LaLonde spent the week end at East Jordan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart.

Mrs. A. Miles received word last week that her father, James Holber, was in Kemah, Texas, near Galveston. Frank St. John of East Jordan is with him.

ROCK ELM.

Elmer Jensen visited his parents over Sunday, going to East Jordan on Monday morning.

Mrs. Levi Metz went to Charlevoix, Saturday, for a few days visit at the home of her son, George Metz.

Miss Boyle and her pupils are preparing for the proper observance of Lincoln's and Washington's birthday.

(Too late for last week.)

Julia Walker was unable to attend school last week on account of illness.

Saturday evening, January 29th, some of Ben Smatts' friends dropped in unexpectedly by him to help him celebrate his birthday.

On Thursday morning of last week the roof of Arthur Walker's house took fire. Fortunately Mrs. Walker discovered it in time to call help before the fire was past control. Mr. and Mrs. Hirsman and other neighbors heard her calls and went to her assistance.

January 31st the patrons of our school met at the grange hall and after enjoying a bountiful pot luck dinner, listened to an interesting address by Miss Stewart, which was followed by a simple but entertaining program by the school. Mrs. Boyd Hipp was elected president for the ensuing year. All felt that the occasion had been profitable and enjoyable.

ATWOOD.

A number of people are entertaining colds at present.

Il. Klooster made a business trip to Petoskey the first of this week.

A nephew of Joe Sprik from Maniton has been looking up acquaintances here.

A number of young people enjoyed a skating party on Harwood lake last week.

Those in the habit of putting up ice every winter are talking of commencing next week.

Sam Vanlouten is helping Tyce Coeling get out timbers and frame the barn for Paul Veenstra.

Rollie Baumbach had the misfortune to break his hay baler while baling hay for George Parsons last week.

Gerrit Nicola and family moved back to the place known as the old VanDam place last week from Ellsworth.

Egg prices have hit the toboggan and owing to the waning of weather we do not look for curtailed production or higher prices.

The Christian Reform church here will endeavor to secure a minister at their next congregational meeting, from a trio consisting of three ministers of the denomination.

The practice basket ball game between Ellsworth and Atwood last Friday evening at the town hall was good from more than one point of view. The people attending were treated to a good exhibition of team work and fast foot work by the Ellsworth quintet, and the Atwood team found out a great many of their weak points. Score 47 to 13. The score was not a disappointment to Atwood, as not many here entertained the hope of even getting a point. The girls team were more evenly matched as to practice and former playing, and the visiting team won by a score of 1 to 2.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

A dynamite cap, supposed to have been hidden years ago in a clock, exploded Friday while Howard Brower, aged eleven, was playing with the time piece in the home of his parents near Petoskey. The explosion is reported to have torn one of his eyes and to have caused a serious wound in his abdomen. His parents claim no explosives had been brought into the home for years.

Charles Lake, former Cheboygan resident, but now agent for the Detroit & Mackinaw railway company at Millman, twenty-five miles west of Alpena, was shot from ambush last week and dangerously wounded. A bullet from a rifle entered Lake's right side and the man may die.

John Scott, a farmer of Wellington township, Alpena county, was arrested and is now in Montmorency county jail. Scott, it is declared, confessed after incriminating evidence had been found outside the station where the shooting took place.

While considerable money was in Lake's hands, it is not thought that the shooting was done with the intent of robbery, a personal feud being suspected.

A Crystal man has an account book used by his father, a boot and shoe maker, which shows that in 1834 he would travel from house to house and make a pair of shoes for 37 cents. Moreover, if one were offered a pair of the 1834 boots today, he would probably agree that 37 cents was about right.

"Butchering time is over with the farmers," reports the Niles Sentinel, "and fresh pork steak, sausage, spare ribs, etc., are prevalent on the well set tables of the rural districts."

Back to the farm, you wayward lad, Where father sits benevolent; Where spare ribs wait to help you pad.

Your own—and steak is prevalent.

The marshal at Baldwin when instructed by the village president to gather in stray animals found on the street and impound them in the lower part of the village hall, refused to do so on the ground that this was no fit place to keep animals. We once knew an enterprising village, though, where they cleaned up and made repairs for such an occasion.

A Pontiac citizen says that in making out his income tax last year he deducted, as a legitimate expense item the upkeep of his automobile, but learned that the deduction would not be allowed. We are just informed by our congressman, too, that our bill proposing that this upkeep expense should be taken care of by a law similar to that providing mothers' pensions, will probably die in committee.

FAIRVIEW, BANKS.

Sleighting is rather thin this week. Il. DeGroot is hauling buzz pules this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of Atwood visited at the Il. DeGroot home Tuesday.

Il. J. Timmer has started to contract sugar beets for the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. for the season of 1921.

H. J. Timmer returned from the southern part of the state Monday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. Nykamp of Zeeland, Michigan, and Frank Hockwater and daughter, Susan, of McBain, Michigan, who will visit here for a couple of weeks.

MILK-CREAM WEIGHTS

Skim milk weighs 8.62 pounds a gallon.

The foregoing figures were based on milk with a fat content of 2 1/4 per cent at 68 degrees temperature. Similar milk testing 3 per cent weighs 8.6 pounds.

Mixed milk and cream of 10 per cent butterfat content weighs 8.53 pounds.

The general rule is to estimate milk testing from 3 to 5 per cent as weighing 8.6 pounds a gallon.

RAISE PRODUCTION OF HERD

Permanent Advancement Can Only Be Made by Use of Purebred Bull of Good Ancestors.

The only way for everyone to have cows capable of producing a large flow of milk is by better breeding. By better breeding is meant the using of a purebred dairy bull which is a good individual from good breeding stock. It is only through the use of a good bull that any permanent advancement can be made in the production of the future herd.

JUSTIFIED IN MAKING A KICK

Reasons Why the Farmer is Voicing His Complaint.

The following explanation clipped from a recent issue of the Christian Herald will explain, no doubt, why the majority of farmers are "putting up a kick" on general conditions:

"People want to know why the farmers are making such a 'fuss,' as they call it. The city people, many of whom have no knowledge of country affairs, and do not reckon on anything much above their own skyscrapers, read the accounts in the papers about the farmers' grievances and wonder vaguely what is the matter. They have heard of the great prosperity of the farmer, of the big prices for wheat and corn and potatoes, and they do not understand the real trouble as it exists at the present, a trouble which if not met in the right way will result in serious conditions for all the people. For in the last analysis, all the people are dependent on the agricultural section for the very breath of life.

"Here are some reasons why the farmer is voicing his complaint at present:

"With transportation gone up from 33 and 1-3 per cent to 100 per cent, and the prices of all necessities like shoes, coal, gasoline and machinery advanced to almost prohibitive prices the farmer faces a market in which corn is down to 30 to 40 cents, $10 for hogs, $7 for cattle, 11 cents for cotton, and he must pay 10 cents a bushel to get his corn husked, $18 a ton for coal that a year ago was only $14, $10 for a hat, and $12 for a pair of shoes, although he gets only 65 cents for the hide out of which the shoes are made.

"There is a story going the rounds in a western state of a farmer who sent a car load of sheep to a city market and when the bill of lading for transportation of the car load was sent him, the charges were a little over the price the dealer paid for the sheep and the farmer was confronted with a bill to pay the buyer of the sheep. The farmer thereupon wrote to the buyer that he did not have any money, but if it was all right with the buyer he would send him some more sheep to balance the account.

"Farming is the United States' largest industry, producing every year over $20,000,000,000 of new wealth. Agriculture produces one-half the fund which supports the nation's population. Forty-five per cent of the entire population of this country is agricultural. In other words, nearly one-half of the population is dependent on agricultural prosperity. The farmer is the keystone of the arch of this nation's commercial prosperity. If he fails, the railroads cannot run, cities cannot exist, factories would close, the entire industrial world would come to a dread stop.

"The situation at the present time is so critical that congress is taking special measures through investigation and consultation with experts to determine the right measures to maintain the highest efficiency of agricultural power. When we once understand that we are all dependent on the farmer for existence, it seems like the greatest stupidity to continue to neglect the very source of national prosperity and life itself."

Make the Dairy Herd Pay

With the price of practically all farm products at its lowest ebb, it behooves the dairyman to see that his herd produces every pound of butterfat possible, and in preparing this for market, he must, if he profits, have a cream separator that extracts every ounce of butterfat from his milk. Otherwise he will be a big loser. We have

Delaval, Primrose, Sharpless and Viking Cream Separators

Every one of them are machines that have stood the test of use for years, and are guaranteed to do perfect work. You will not be asked to wait for the machine you desire to be ordered for we have them in stock for immediate delivery. Test out the machine you have. See if it is doing its work properly. If not, it will soon be of more loss than you imagine. Bring your cream troubles to us and we will aid you in solving them.

Why Advertising Pays

If people did not move away and some die—
If new generations did not grow up—
If competitors did not compete—
If people were not receptive to new ideas—
Then—
And only then—
Would there be no need for advertising.
Because of changing business conditions—
Fluctuations in wages—
And the natural aggressiveness and progressiveness of the normal man—
He is your prospective buyer today who could not use or afford your product yesterday.
These were the reasons pointed out recently by a well known sales manager of a large corporation on why it is imperative that advertising be CONSISTENT AND REGULAR.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

The introduction of a great mass of legislation and the careful consideration by committees of both houses of the bills and resolutions proposed and referred to them during the preceding four weeks marked the fifth week of the legislative session.

The activity of the solons is indicated by the fact that 94 bills were introduced during the week—ten more than the total for the first four weeks. Members of the lower house have introduced 131 bills to date, while the more conservative members of the senate have limited their proposals to 47.

The regular committees of both houses have been giving careful consideration to the various measures referred to them. Public hearings are being held on the bills that have aroused the greatest opposition. Some bills have already been reported out by these committees and are now up for general consideration by the committee of the whole.

The institutional committees have nearly completed their visits to the various state institutions and are now at work cutting to the bone the appropriation requests that have been presented to them. The liberal use of the knife in handling appropriation requests is necessitated by the serious financial condition of the state. That the utmost economy is imperative is indicated by the fact that the total budget requests have increased from $18,431,373.45 for the biennial period 1917-19 to $58,304,103.11 for the two years 1921-23 or an increase of some two hundred per cent.

Rep. James D. Jepson of Wayne, chairman of Ways and Means committee of the house, established a new record for the number of bills introduced when he sent up to the speaker's desk 31 appropriation bills en masse.

The program for reorganization of the state's administration along the lines proposed by Governor Groesbeck and favored by the State Farm Bureau, bids fair to be realized by this session of the legislature. Six bills embodying nearly all of the governor's suggestions have already been introduced. The bill providing for a uniform system of auditing claims against the state has already passed the senate by a unanimous vote and has been sent over to the house for their action. The bill providing for the creation of a State Administrative Board, consisting of seven elective officers of the state, was considerably amended at a joint meeting of the State Affairs committees of the two houses and as so amended was favorably considered by the committee of the whole of the senate and is now up for third reading by that body. The other four bills which provide for the creation of a State Industrial and Labor Department, State Department of Agriculture, Conservation Department, and for the transfer of vital statistics from the secretary of state's office to the office of the Commission of Health are now being considered by committees in the two houses.

Among the important legislation proposed during the week, was a bill providing for an 8-hour day with pay and one-half for overtime for workers in mines, mills, quarries, factories or manufacturing establishments. This bill was introduced by Rep. Holland of Gogebic and has already aroused strenuous opposition. The sentiment against the State Constabulary was crystallized by another bill introduced by Rep. Holland which would abolish this organization.

Profiteering and graft in municipal construction would largely be eliminated by the passage of a bill introduced by Sen. Davis of Vnn Buren which would prohibit the letting of state or municipal contracts to the so-called "cost-plus" basis.

More stringent regulations with reference to the bringing of sheep into Michigan are provided in a bill introduced by Rep. Read of Kalamazoo. This bill states in part, "it shall be unlawful to bring any sheep into the state between March 31st and October 1st of any year for breeding or grazing purposes, except by the written permission of the Commissioner of Animal Industry or State Veterinarian unless such sheep have been dipped at least once under government supervision." This bill has been favorably considered by the Agricultural Committee of the house and is now up for consideration by the committee of the whole of that body.

More just rates for auto licenses for less than a year are proposed in a bill introduced by Rep. MacDonald of Houghton. For motor vehicles registering between April 1st and September 1st, a tax of three-fourths of the regular rate would be collected and for the motor vehicles registering after September 1st, one-half the regular license would be charged.

State aid for fighting grasshoppers, as advocated by the State Farm Bureau, is provided in a bill introduced by Sen. Engel of Missaukee. This bill is entitled, "A bill authorizing the state to reimburse counties and townships in connection with the destruction of grasshoppers and similar pests, making an appropriation therefor, and providing a tax to meet the same."

An increase of the mill tax for the University of Michigan from 3-8 to 5-8 of a mill was proposed by Rep. Lennon of Genesee. Passage of this bill would increase by $1,120,000 the annual revenue of the University of Michigan.

A bill to prevent aliens from owning or having in their possession any shotguns, rifles, pistols, or other firearms was introduced by Rep. Lennon of Genesee. This bill is what is termed the "Alien Firearm Bill" and is closely modeled after laws in force in other states.

Excessive expenditures for highway repair purposes would be prevented by a bill introduced by Rep. Jensen of Delta. This bill would prohibit the State Highway Commissioner from expending during any calendar year in any township, more than one-half of one per cent of the assessed valuation of the township for repairs on any state reward road constructed prior to August 14th, 1913.

The old proposition of requiring all vehicles traveling on the public roads during the hours of darkness to carry lights, was revived by a bill introduced by Rep. Coleman of Calhoun. This bill would require all animal drawn vehicles, traveling on the public highways to carry lights showing plainly from the rear during the same hours as automobiles are now required to be lighted. A fine of not more than $25 or 10 days in jail is provided for violation of this measure. Similar proposals have been introduced at previous sessions but have never been favorably received.

COUNTIES BENEFITED BY FARRIER ACT

State is Now Paying Road Tax on State Lands.

The counties of Michigan that contain state lands, are now commencing to reap the benefit derived from a bill introduced in the state legislature of 1917 by N. G. Farrier, representing the Presque Isle district.

This bill which was enacted provides that the state be compelled to pay an annual tax of five cents an acre on all lands held by the state within any county where the lands are located. While the amount looks small it grows into hundreds of dollars in such counties as Montmorency, Alpena, Oscoda, Crawford, Presque Isle, Otsego, Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix and several other counties where the state holds large tracts. This money is placed in the county highway fund and is used for general road purposes. In Montmorency county the state will pay a tax of about fifteen hundred dollars this year. Alpena will get over a thousand, Presque Isle and Otsego a smaller amount and Oscoda and Crawford will receive considerable more.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Walter Ball Entertains in Honor of Her Daughter.

Mrs. Walter Ball entertained Tuesday evening at her home on Mason street in honor of her daughter, Carolyn. A six o'clock supper was served of which a birthday cake with the right number of candles received the most attention. The guests were Mrs. George Burns and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hammond, Edward Hammond, Margaret Hammond and Kenneth Jacobs.

Later in the evening nine couples with Mrs. Ball and Mr. and Mrs. Hammond as chaperons, danced at the bank ball until a late hour.

WOULD HELP BUSINESS IF ADOPTED

Michigan Hotel Keepers Should Have Information Bureau

Michigan hotel keepers in their recent convention decided that the best thing they could do for their business and for the welfare of the state was to prepare themselves to furnish definite and reliable information to inquiring tourists. They have not performed this service adequately in the past, they said; and, as the expression goes, they said something.

When a tourist inquires of a hotel clerk which is the best road to the next city, and is directed to a road which proves to be almost impassable, and possibly closed; when he asks which lake or stream offers the best fishing, and is sent to one which hasn't harbored a sizeable fish since Hlawatha; when he seeks to learn which region has the loveliest scenery and the finest air and the lowest general average of hay fever suffering, and gets a reply in terms vague if not misleading, he is apt to feel that he has received rather careless treatment, and will hardly be encouraged to come that way again.

It would pay a big return to our tourist hotels in money, if each of them employed a scout to travel about in a flivver, explore the roads, try the lakes and streams for what they will yield, view the scenery with an artistic eye, get acquainted with the accommodations and prices of other hotels in the region—and be ready at all times to furnish first hand information to every tourist who appeals for it.

SPECIAL MEETING OF POMONA GRANGE

Will Be Held With Pine Lake Grange March 2nd.

As a result of the recent meeting of the State Grange Extension Committee, held at Lansing, January 25, it was decided to hold a series of meetings at some centrally located and most accessible point in each county of the state for the purpose of outlining the extension work and give full details of the movement.

Frank L. Bird, master of Charlevoix county Pomona Grange, has called a meeting to be held with Pine Lake Grange, near Boyne City, for Wednesday, March 2. W. F. Tylor, of New Era, Michigan, one of the extension committee workers, will be present and explain how to put granges in Charlevoix county in position to maintain and build themselves up, which all grangers fully realize is the only way to secure permanent results.

A special invitation is extended to all officers and members of subordinate granges to attend this meeting. With this added stimulus, Charlevoix county granges should benefit greatly as the movement for increased membership in the county has added many names to the grange rosters.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The course in Bible study, which has been introduced for the first time into our H. S. curriculum, has met with a substantial response from the student body. The class which was offered as an elective for Juniors and Seniors, meets Mondays from 3:30 to 4:30, and 32 members are enrolled. The course includes among other things a series of lectures to be given by various citizens of Charlevoix, and promises to be very interesting and profitable.

Final spelling contests for first semester in the English department resulted in the following "highest records" in the classes:

Freshman, Edith Crandall, Sophomore, Jean Swinton, Eva Ostrum, Edith Struthers and Marguerite Brown.

Junior, Naomi Carpenter. Senior, Marjorie Myers.

The debate with Traverse City, which was held last Thursday evening, was very much enjoyed by all who were present and although Charlevoix was defeated by a two-thirds vote of the judges, we were proud of our debating team and they did splendid work. It was disappointing that the attendance of students and citizens was so very small. The final debate of the series will be with Newberry at Charlevoix soon, and we hope a much larger number will show their interest in this valuable feature of school work.

EQUALIZING COST OF ROADS

States Which Have Constructed Highways Should Be Given Credit for Improvements.

In some of the states where highway construction has been a part of the state policy for a period of years, much work has been done on highways which would naturally become a part of the national system. It is proposed that in these cases states or counties should be allowed compensation which will give them highway mileage equal in value to that constructed. Such highways would not be maintained by the government, but would be turned over to the state while the government undertook the cost of maintenance of the national system.

Register Wear on Material. Machines in the road testing laboratory of the engineering experiment station, Manhattan, register as much wear on road material in a few hours as would be registered by actual use in from 60 to 100 years.

Represent Liabilities. Roads that will not be of any service when the bonds that pay for them have matured represent liabilities instead of assets. Such costly waste should be, and in many places is being stopped.

ROAD MEET SATURDAY NIGHT

CALL BY THE COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS.

Proposed Change in Route of Dixie Highway to be Discussed—Important to Charlevoix.

A meeting has been called for Saturday evening, February 19, at the court house, by County Road Commissioners Byers, House and Courier, to discuss the proposed change of route in the road leading south of the city to the Antrim county line.

As originally laid out, the route covered what is known as the Norwood road, through Norwood, then easterly to what is known as the shore road through Antrim county. The proposition to be discussed is the proposed change in the route advocated by the state highway department.

This change eliminates Norwood entirely, as well as the shore road through Antrim county. The proposed change in the route is as follows: The Dixie Highway, as this road is officially known, direct north from Ennsport through Atwood to the county line near the Joliffe farm, thence west about 80 rods, thence north, joining the Norwood road near the home of Joe Sprick, thence over the original route to Charlevoix. The change will necessitate the building of about a mile of new road south from the Sprick farm to the county line.

The object of the meeting is to discuss the feasibility of the change of route. A member of the state highway department will be present and undoubtedly explain the reason why the state highway department advocates the proposed change.

Locally there has been considerable discussion over the matter, and the county road commissioners have decided to give all an opportunity to express their views at the public meeting to be held Saturday night. As this road is entitled to federal aid, which amounts to 50 per cent of the cost of building, it is quite important that the matter be decided at once if the present road building plans are continued this season.

American Legion Banquet

The Charlevoix American Legion held a banquet and general business meeting at Henley's restaurant, Monday evening, February 14th, at 7:30. A visiting member from southern Michigan gave a short talk on matters pertaining to Legion affairs and much enthusiasm was shown by the twenty local members present in planning their annual cabaret supper to be held soon.

PACKED COMMITTEES HINDER THE WORK

Charges that government bureau have withheld soldier relief by packing the committees of the American Legion with bureau employees who are members of the legion, were made last week at Washington before the legion executive committee by Abel Davis of Chicago, chairman of the hospitalization committee. "As a result of this, the work of the legion in soldier relief matters is handicapped," said Davis, who added "that at the Cleveland convention the bureau picked us to a frazzle in all matters relating to veteran relief and the legion wondered how it was done."

Former service men are being kept in private hospitals that are indescribably filthy and in which conditions are terrible he declared. He charged that after men were placed in such hospitals they were left without visit or inspection by representatives of the public health service.

He read reports of a hospital in Illinois, in which white and negro patients slept in the same room and that the pharmacy contained narcotics and drugs unlocked, and when asked if males used the same baths as females, the doctors in charge said the women only remained for two weeks at a time and did not take a bath. Service men are now being removed from this hospital.

A POOR WAY TO VENT YOUR SPITE

Shooting of Harry L. Oldham's Dog Work of a Sneak.

Some poor, misguided creature in human form, with mentality of a lesser degree than could be imagined among people of today, attempted and in fact, almost succeeded in killing the beautiful bird dog owned by Harry L. Oldham on Friday afternoon of last week.

The dog had been unleashed less than twenty minutes when he came back to the house with a bullet through his shoulders, another through his back, and the name plate on his collar smashed by the impact of another bullet. Had the bullet through his back been a half inch lower, it would have killed him instantly, but fortunately his injuries were not fatal.

The writer admits his inability to find words to express his feelings towards any man, or boy for that matter, who is so utterly devoid of feeling toward a dumb animal as to inflict injury upon them. If it was done for spite work, a prison term is too good for them. It shows a yellow streak in the person who does it, for whatever reason.

TO LAUNCH MARY ROEN

90-FOOT FREIGHTER LEAVES
WAYS NEXT WEEK.

Association of Commerce Plans Proper Observance of Event—Real Bottle-Will Be Used.

The freighter being built by Capt. John Roen in the yards on the south side of Round lake, is beginning to look like a real boat. The engines and boiler are in place and installation fast being completed. If everything goes all right the boat will be launched next week and the Charlevoix Association of Commerce is making plans for a proper observance of the event. The exact date cannot yet be set, but the public will be given sufficient notice.

It is planned to ask the business places to close for a short time and the schools will be requested to arrange to give the pupils an opportunity to attend.

The new boat is 90 feet long with 24 1-2 feet beam. She is planned to afford a large hold capacity and the largest deck room. The quarters for captain and crew will be up-to-date and commodious.

The industry of Capt. Roen is an asset to this community and the public interest taken is commendable. The launching should be a public event and every citizen should attend. It is planned that Capt. Wm. Finucan will be in charge of the ship, captains bridge, with Capt. Sanford as chief-of-staff, or 1st mate, whatever he chooses to call himself. President Ward of the Association announces that he has secured permission from the state police to break a real bottle, so that the christening will be regular and according to the time honored custom. The president does not say where the goods may be obtained.

VISITORS HAD NO CHANCE TO WIN

OUTPLAYED BY BOTH H. S. AND LEGION TEAMS

Big Game of the Season to be Played at Petoskey on Friday Night of This Week

In a fast and interesting game at the rink last Friday night the high school team won from Harbor Springs high school 16-9 after allowing the visitors to close the first half with a 7-6 lead.

The game was spectacular from the point of view of the spectators, yet neither team played quite up to their top-notch form. Milla Wilbur of Boyne City high school was the referee and handled the game to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The high school game at Petoskey Friday night is to be the big game of this section as far as the Charlevoix fans are concerned. Petoskey won the first contest at Charlevoix 15-10 and our boys are out to reverse the record this week and have a good chance to do so if well supported from the sidelines.

Unless the weather man decides to interfere it will be possible to drive and the boys are expecting support from at least 100 local fans. The south part of the east side and the south end of the gym downstairs will be reserved for the Charlevoix rooters. C. W. Dick of Traverse City high school will act as referee.

Come on you Charlevoix fans. Get out the old bus and drive over Friday night. HELP WIN THE PETOSKEY GAME.

The Charlevoix American Legion were the victors in a hotly-contested game with the Boyne City Legion on the local floor Friday evening of last week. Hostilities began with the visitors scoring 3 baskets but the local men were soon able to guard their gains and the final score ended with 41 points to the 28 for Boyne City. Manager Powers has secured a game with the Holland Y. M. C. A. basketball team, to be played on the local floor the evening of February 22 or 24, exact date to be announced later. This is a bunch of the fastest players in the state, having been defeated but a few times, and the local fans can look for a lively scrap from the time the whistle blows until the finish.

GUNMEN HOLD-UP HINES' DRUG STORE

Threaten to Shoot Cleora Smith—Obtain Nothing

With caps pulled low over their faces to hide their features, two men entered Hines & Co.'s drug store at about 6:10 Wednesday evening while Mr. Hines had stepped out for a few minutes, and demanded with drawn guns of 14-year old Cleora Smith the key to the safe. Although she knew where it was they were refused. "We'll shoot you," said one. "Go ahead," she replied. "You'll only have a murder on your hands."

Something other than the little girl's pluck must have caused them to desist, possibly a signal from the one stationed at the door, for after musing her up a bit they left without having obtained anything.

Miss Smith, as quickly as they had left, ran to the phone and reported it. Two men were soon under arrest by Sheriff Weaver but were released later. As yet no other suspects have been apprehended.

Two suspicious characters were seen lurking in the shadows of D. J. Eckinger's fishhouse only a short time before the hold-up by Mr. Eckinger. Presumably these were the two who entered the drug store. The description as nearly as could be ascertained in both places was identical. Apparently the men were middle aged.

Anyone seeing characters whose movements appear at all suspicious are urged to notify the officials at once. These two no doubt have gone. But in these days of crime and unemployment there may be others.

MAPLE-SUGAR TIME IS HERE

LOOK OVER YOUR OUTFIT AND REPLACE THAT WORN OUT

Ten to Fifteen Healthy Trees will be Sufficient to Take Care of Family Needs

Remember the days when you went to the maple sugar parties? Well, maple sugar time is here. The sugar and syrup industry is American and offers good commercial opportunities. Only the United States and Canada produce this much-prized product on a commercial scale, which is at once delicacy and a highly nutritious article of diet.

Warm days and cold nights are essential to a satisfactory flow, and the sugar contents many vary considerably from day to day. Tapping of sugar trees if done properly in no way injures the tree. Trees have been tapped for more than one hundred years and are still in good condition. The maple is well up among the leaders in American Forestry Association's vote for a national tree.

Tap early in the season, says a special bulletin, to obtain the earliest run which is usually the sweetest, and therefore the best producer. Makers have lost half and even more of their crops by not being prepared for the first run. In general, the association points out, the season is ready to open during the first or middle of February. In the southern section and later in the northern regions when the days are becoming warm—when the temperature goes above freezing during the day and at night below freezing. If the days are very bright and warm and sunny the sap will start with a rush but soon slacken, or if a high wind starts the flow is checked.

How to Bore
A thirteen thirty-second of an inch (13-32 inch) bit is often used. Its direction should be slightly upward into the tree, the slant allowing the hole to drain readily. With an ordinary tree the hole should not be over 1-2 to 2 inches deep at best. Apparatus for syrup and sugar making does not necessarily represent a large outlay. A number of sap spouts, either wooden or metal, are needed. The syrup is usually gathered in buckets.

From 10 to 15 trees usually will yield enough syrup for family use to make tapping worth while, and in many cases will afford a surplus which can be sold at a remunerative price. The flow of sap depends upon the age, condition, and habit of growth of the trees, also upon the character of the weather and condition of the soil during the sap-flowing season. In a good season a tree 15 inches in diameter will yield sufficient sap to make from 1 to 6 quarts of syrup, which in turn can be concentrated into 2 to 10 pounds of sugar. Larger trees under the same conditions will produce correspondingly large yields of syrup and sugar. All hard maple tree 8 inches or more in diameter, may be safely and profitably tapped for syrup and sugar production.

This industry is not confined to circumscribed areas in New England and New York. There are many "sugar bushes" throughout eastern and northern United States and Tennessee; west to northern Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota. A considerable number of maple trees of a sugar yielding species are found in Washington and Oregon.

PETOSKEY WOMAN SHOOT PROWLER

Wounds Negro Who Enters Home Early Sunday Morning.

Mrs. Ernest A. Cornell, South Emmet street, Petoskey, reported to the sheriff Monday forenoon that she had shot and badly wounded Walter Bannister, a negro, when the latter broke into her home at about 3:00 a. m. Sunday, and tried to break into her bedroom.

She declared that late in the night she heard some one in the basement, and that the person soon came to the main floor of the house. She called, asking the party to halt and getting no response opened fire. At the first shot she heard a scream and the man fell to the floor. A neighbor was called to the scene and the man allowed to get to his own home at 214 Wesley street.

She did not report the affair Sunday but by Monday she had become very nervous and expressed fear of being arrested for having shot the man, reported the case to the sheriff. The sheriff visited Bannister at his home and found that the bullet had pierced the man's stomach. So far he has not been placed under arrest.

SCHOOL PLAY STORY CONTEST

WINNER IN COUNTY OF RECENT CONTEST

Miss Gladys Anderson of Boyne Valley Writes Best Letter Submitted by Contestants

The rural schools of Charlevoix county entered the State Rural Play Story Contest conducted by the Athletic Department of the State Department of Public Instruction.

Regulations required that letters be written to the county commissioner of schools in ink, telling of the uses to which the playground material presented to the school had been put, of the joy the children had received from this equipment, of the desire of both parents and children for a further distribution of such material, and that the letters must indicate that both parents and children knew that the recreational equipment was purchased from the proceeds of the earnings of legalized boxing, and further that it has cost neither the county nor the state anything in an increase in taxes.

Papers were to be marked on originality, conciseness, penmanship and neatness, in the order named. All children writing must be attending the rural schools of the state and must be in the fifth grade or above. Five letters are selected in the order of excellence and sent to the state from every county entering the contest. The county sending in the five best letters will receive first prize of $150 worth of equipment. The county sending the five second best letters will receive $100 worth of equipment, and the county sending in the five third best letters will receive third prize of $50 worth of equipment.

The best letter written by any girl in the county was written by Gladys Anderson of No. 7 Boyne Valley. Gladys will receive her choice of a volley ball, a tennis racket, or an indoor ball and bat. The best letter written by any boy in the county was that written by Clarence Struthers of No. 6 Hayes. Clarence will have his choice of a regulation baseball and bat, a soccer ball or football. The five best letters in the county in the order of excellence were as follows: Gladys Anderson of No. 7 Boyne Valley, Clarence Struthers of No. 6 Hayes, Perry Dooze of Eveline No. 2, Anna Leu of Eveline No. 2 and Opal Macdonald of Eveline No. 2. The first three above named were eighth graders, but the last two were fifth and sixth graders respectively.

DICKEN'S CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

CLUB MEMBERS OBSERVE ST.
VALENTINE'S DAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell Host and Hostess—Fine Program Was Greatly Enjoyed.

One of the interesting social events arranged to observe St. Valentine's Day was the Dicken's Club banquet. This is an annual occasion and was celebrated with Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell as host and hostess.

At seven o'clock the guests were seated at the spacious table, appropriately decorated with hearts and flowers, a large bowl of tulips forming the center piece, the color scheme being red and white. Every detail showed the efficiency of the committee in charge.

After reading messages from absent members, Mrs. Frank Wilkinson, president of the Club, welcomed the guests, our husbands, with a witty toast touching upon the history of the day and of the Club.

Mr. Clarence Wood responded, "electrifying" his listeners and making them conscious of the fact that he is a wise counselor and much versed in "current" events.

As there is music wherever there is harmony," Mr. Frank Wilkinson sang, most acceptably, "When Pershing's Men Go Marching Into Picardy," responding with the encore: "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride." Mrs. Archie Livingston, always a favorite, sang Gounod's "Sing, Smile, Slumber." This number and the encore charmed her audience.

The nearness to the anniversary of the birthday of Charles Dickens was observed by the presentation of "The Cricket on the Hearth" by members of the Club. The social feature of the happy event preceded the reluctant departure of the congenial friends.

WILLIAMS MEMBER OF STATE LAW BOARD

Well Known Attorney Appointed by Gov. Grosbeck.

Fitch R. Williams, attorney, of Elk Rapids and Enst Jordan, has been appointed by Gov. Alex. Grosbeck as a member of the State Law Board. Friday's Grand Rapids Herald had this to say of the appointment:

"Fitch R. Williams of Elk Rapids, has been recommended to Gov. Grosbeck by members of the supreme court as successor to Charles W. Nichols of Lansing, resigned from the state board of law examiners." This is a recognition of Mr. Williams' ability and standing as a lawyer by the highest court of the state that places him among the leading legal lights and gives him a statewide reputation. As the appointment is made on the recommendation of the supreme court, and no other recommendations made, and the governor telegraphed him Friday asking if he would accept and he replied that he would, the appointment was made and received by Mr. Williams Saturday evening.

TALE ABOUT $43,675 AND ALSO A MORAL

As a sample of how the state has wasted money by lack of co-ordinating departments, an interesting situation has just been brought to attention.

Some years ago—ten or a dozen—the inspection of drugs for their purity was placed in the hands of the food and drug department, although the state board of pharmacy already had the same authority and exercised it.

It now develops that in that ten or a dozen years the food and drug department has kept two inspectors on the job and at a total cost of approximately $37,685 has secured two convictions for violation of the pure drugs act.

At the same time the state board of pharmacy has at a total cost of $6,000 in round figures secured 63 convictions for similar offenses.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

The Feeling Tribute of a Woman to

PE-RU-NA

READ HER LETTER--IT WILL DO YOU GOOD

"Peruna has been a Godsend to me. I feel safe in saying that it saved my life. I was all you down and miserable when I commenced taking Peruna, but on the road to recovery, now, I cannot thank you too much."

Mrs. CHARLES ANAPTON,

R. F. H. No. 1, Lagrange, Indiana.

A letter like this brings hope and the promise of health to every sick and suffering woman. Perhaps you know what it means to have your daily duties a misery, every movement an effort, stomach deranged, pain in the head, back and loins most of the time, nerve raw and quivering--not a moment day or night free from suffering. Do as Mrs. Anapton did. Take Peruna. Don't wait but start right away.

AT THE MOVIES

Charles Ray is again the bushy youth who develops into a world-healer in his new screen comedy, "Alarm Clock Andy," which is coming to the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday next. This time the star is Andy Gray, shy, stuttering salesman for an auto truck concern. Anxious to forge ahead in business, he strives to overcome his short-comings by patterning after the firm's star salesman, Blinky, who is really a fourflusher. Andy comes in contact by chance with Dodge, a big buyer of trucks. The latter is impressed with the boy's determination.

A lucky accident puts Andy "in soft" with his boss's pretty daughter and he follows her on his vacation to a summer resort. All the time he is masquerading under the name of Blinky, and when he again encounters Dodge and closes a big order with him, complications result thick and fast. Needless to say they are straightened out happily and Blinky meets his due reward. So does Andy.

The picture was produced by Thos. H. Ince for Paramount Arterraft release. George Webb, Millicent Fisher and Tom Guiso are in the supporting cast.

The glitter and glamour of the circus, which appeal to children of all ages from six to thirty, are one reason for the more than ordinary interest displayed in the coming of "Pink Tights" to the Palace Theatre on Wednesday, February 23. "Pink Tights" is a romance of the tented world, the tanbark ring and the "big top."

The featured players in this story are Gladys Walton as Mazie and Jack Dorian as the manager, with other excellent roles in the hands of Dave Dyas, Stanton Heck, Dorothy Webb, Ross Gert, Dan Cramm, Breese Eason, Jr., Martin Nohr and others. Reeve Eason directed the production.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Two young fellows under twenty-one years paid $10 each to a local justice for smoking cigarettes. Mancelona Herald. Should that law be enforced here the money collected would make a substantial addition to the library funds. That's a law in the statute books of Michigan, but neither the officers nor the boys appear to be aware that the legislature of Michigan ever enacted such a law; but it's a law of the state for the officers to enforce and minors to observe. If it isn't a good law, repeal it; while it is a law observe it and enforce it if it is not obeyed.—Elk Rapids Progress.

When a masked burglar poked his head through a kitchen window at Chelsen, presented a pistol, and demanded all the money in the house, he received a pan of boiling dish-water in the face and, it is said, "withdrew without further comment." In fact he evidently felt that he got away not a moment too soon, as the woman was hastily piling some dishes into the pan, and might have ordered him to wash them.

"Michigan?" says a comment quoted in an early history of the state. "Go to Michigan to shake with the ague and starve to death, the frogs piping a requiem at my funeral. Why, there is hardly an acre of farming land in the state. This we know, for we have it straight from the public statements. What do not starve or die from malarious diseases will freeze to death."

"The bell boy at the automobile show," raves the Pontiac Press, "will Nash his teeth if he has to Dodge Buick and Dord to Page Ford at the Cadillac."

A winter with no snow almost invariably brings about rains and cold weather later, most times just about when it is not wanted," comments a Pontiac man accompanied by business of crepe hanging.

A business men's volley ball league has started on its schedule at Cadillac with seven teams in the race and a big banquet at stake. The editor of the local paper is captain of the teams and we predict that the banquet at any rate, will be beaten to a frazzle.

A resident of Olivet has taken out a license for an automobile which is now running in its seventeenth year. The car is still in good sound condition, we understand, and the man will consider disposing of it if some manufacturer cares to trade in a new one of this year's vintage on it.

With a police force reduced, from 168 to 120 in 1920, Grand Rapids experienced a reduction in crime which gave it the lowest record of any city of its size in the country, but of course in many cities it has been found impossible to reduce the police force to that extent.

There is nothing like the spirit of compromise to assist two people in getting along peacefully together. We can all take a lesson from that Flint man who says he intended to buy a car, and he wanted a Ford, and his wife wanted a Cadillac, and finally, after a long discussion, they compromised on a Cadillac.

A deer was recently seen to enter the cemetery at Menistiquie and walk in a leisurely manner the whole length of the inclosure, nipping at the bushes on all sides as he went. It is said that the sexton offered his services, but the animal refused to disclose the name of the hunter he was looking for.

Homemade Ink.

Ralph Waldo Emerson used to make his own ink. Here is his favorite recipe: Pour a scant cupful of boiling water over one package of state-colored dye. When it is cool add one tablespoonful of vinegar.

Personal Preference.

A New York man sent his bride a kiss by wireless. So far as kissing is concerned we much prefer the old-fashioned method.

New Price on Fordson Tractors $665.00 Delivered to Your Farm

"This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new Tractor Plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality."

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the FORDSON Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery."

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive, and consequently our desire to place the FORDSON within the reach of all."

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S
GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Can you tell me why God, whom we are taught is a God of mercy and love, will permit pain and suffering? Why are some children born to suffer pain all their lives? I can not understand it all and have never heard it explained.—W. H. B.

A. Pain is a divine voice leading us away from wrong, telling us of right, and warning us of danger. Pain rightfully regarded is one of the greatest possible blessings to erring mortals. Suppose the hand could be thrust into the fire without feeling pain; what would be the natural consequences? Certainly the result would be such neglect to care for the body as would lead to its disfigurement, or actual destruction. The basic principle of God's method of disciplining and dealing with man is expressed axiomatically by Paul the Christian philosopher, in the words: "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Gal. 6:7.

The idea that God inflicts pain, or that pain is in any sense an arbitrary or retributive punishment, is a notion altogether foreign to a proper conception of God. Pain is a sentinel which stands ever ready to warn us of the evil consequences of wrong doing. Enormous evils have grown out of man's efforts to rid himself of pain without giving attention to its cause. The sowing that causes pain may have taken place many years before; indeed, the seed sowing may have been done several generations back, for the iniquities of the fathers are visited "upon the children of the third and fourth generations of them that hate God" and righteousness. Ex. 20:5. "The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge." Ex. 18:2. This is not an arbitrary principle but a working of the law of heredity. The son of the drunkard or of the tobacco user, of the glutton, or the man who has wasted his energies in youth by riotous living, must reap the harvest which the father has planted, for the reason that the father and the son are one being. The son's life is simply an extension of the father's life. A twig cut from a willow tree and planted in the ground becomes a new tree, but is simply an extension of the tree from which it was taken. So also the child is a bud from the parent stock, and bears the iniquities of his father just as long as he bears his likeness.

I have heard people say: "It doesn't hurt me to attend dances, I have never seen anything wrong with the dance hall." Or, "It doesn't hurt me to drink liquor." They knew they were telling a lie when they said it; so don't whip your children when they lie to you. You were to blame for it. The court records for 1919 of the United States show that over three thousand seven hundred divorcees came through the evils of the dance hall.

So those of you who rent your buildings for dance halls, or attend them; don't whine if "pain" comes to you or your children as a result. Exe. 18:1, 5, 9; Job. 33:27, 28. The divine mind is ever consistent in all its processes. Wheat always produces wheat, tobacco seed grows tobacco, thistle seed thistles. "Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles?" Matt. 7:16. A twig from an apple tree grafted into a thorn bush bears apples; a rosebud implanted upon an apple stem bears roses still; the rosebud grafted on the apple tree is still apart of the original stock, simply growing in a different place, but as much a part of it as before. The origin of suffering came from the sin of disobedience. Adam, though an individual dead, still lives in the race—the race is Adam. The whole human race is simply an extension of the first pair. Sin, pain, suffering came through Adam. Your question is an all-important one. Is my answer plain? I cannot take further space, but I shall be glad to give you any further help I can by personal letter.

Q. Can you please tell me where in the Bible, is the doctrine of the Trinity explicitly taught?

A. The Old Testament, without directly teaching the doctrine of the Trinity does teach a plurality in the God head (e. g., Gen. 1:26, 2:22, where "Elohim" is a plural noun) and intimates a Trinity (e. g., Isa. 6:3, etc.). The Trinity is necessarily implied in Luke 3:22. The Holy Spirit descends upon Jesus and the Father's voice from heaven declares the divine Sonship. The doctrine of the Trinity is explicitly taught in the baptismal formula; Matt. 28:19. The Trinity of God, the Godhead, is engaged in the question of our sanctification. See 1 Thes. 4:3, "For this is the will of God, even your sanctification." Read John 17:19, 20, 21. 1 Cor. 1:2, 30; 6:11. Eph. 5:26. Heb. 2:11; 10:10. Jude 1, by the spirit.

Q. Doctor Hewitt: I want to ask you a few questions and have them answered in the Courier. The first question is this: The first Corinthians 16 chapter and 22 verse, "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ let him be Anathema Maranatha." What does Paul mean by these words? Will you give me a 100 per cent answer? And cite some other Scripture to verify your answer.—M. K.

A. "Anathema Maranatha," literally, a thing suspended, translated from (Greek) "accursed." Generally such a vow respected only the idolatrous nations marked for destruction by a decree of Jehovah. Num. 21:2; Josh. 6:17. "Anathema" is translated "accursed" in the New Testament 4 times. Rom. 9:3; Ex. 32:32; 1 Cor. 12:3; Gal. 1:8. In other words what Paul means in 1 Cor. 16:22, is "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ he shall be accursed."

Q. Will you kindly answer in the Question Box what is meant by Matt. 20:18-19. I read there Jesus was delivered to the Gentiles to mock and to scourge and to crucify. Now I always thought the Jews crucified Him, but by that verse it looks as if they were Gentiles. I should be glad if you could tell me.—A. E.

A. You are correct in your thought. Jesus was crucified by the Jews. Our Savior tells us in Matt. 20:18, to which you refer that "Chief Priests" were Jews. What is meant in verse 19 is He was delivered to the Roman soldiers, who merely acted as officers to carry out the command of the Jews. Roman soldiers had an intense hatred and contempt of the seditious Jews led them to treat with great indignity a person whom they believed to be a peasant aiming at political power. Scourging always preceded crucifixion, but in addition to this torture they added the mockery of a royal insignia, crowning his head with thorns, giving him a reed as a scepter and assaulting him with blows and violence. Matt. 27:26-30; Mark 15:15-19; John 19:1-3. Read John 19:7, 12, 14, 15, 21, 23.

Q. What do you think of a pastor who encourages his daughter in taking dancing lessons? Do you consider it a sin for one who belongs to a church to attend card parties?—W. H. D.

A. He will go to hell if he dies before he's converted. For a church member to touch playing cards which had their origin in the vilest places of infamy this side of hell, is splitting in the face of Jesus Christ.

Q. Dear Doctor Hewitt: We are enjoying the Question Box very much. Is there any place in a church for a moving picture outfit? What is implied by being born again of the Spirit? Is there any such experience as being saved and sanctified? Is there such a thing as being saved and not sanctified? Is a person saved who does not enjoy the fullness of God's love in their hearts?—A. B. C.

A. Q. 1. "Moving picture outfit" in church is a crafty, modern, up-to-date, full-fledged machine of the devil and had its very beginning with the devil's own; and the cunning old devil is using these methods to pull the wool over the eyes of some of the spineless, high-browed dyed in the wool, hell-bound preachers and old skin-flint hypocrites in the church. I would like to get a crowd of such before me for about one hour and pour onto their pates the pure gospel of Jesus Christ. I defy any preacher to show me of one instance where a sermon has followed a moving picture shown in church that resulted in a single conversion. There are moving pictures that are instructive along historical lines, and that bring out good morals, but their place is not in the church. An address may be instructive and present for deep thought many splendid morals, but it cannot take the place of a Christian sermon. Too many preachers are attempting to give addresses instead of sermons. If you want your auto repaired you will not take it to a church but to a garage. If you are sick you will not go to a machinist but to a physician, although there are not a few who try every quack remedy first before going to a doctor. Christ hasn't any use for quacks, no man can fool with Him. If your soul is sick you will not go to moving picture operators, but you will go to the church that holds up Jesus Christ as the Savior of mankind. "There is no other name under heaven whereby man can be saved." Please read Rev. 3:15-16; 11 Cor. 6:14-18; 1 Peter 4:4; Titus 2:12; Matt. 7:21; Zec. 3:1; 1 Thes. 2:18.

Q. 2. Psalm 51:5, "Behold I was shapen in iniquity and in sin did my mother conceive me." Exactly, we learn here that this thing sin is inherent, innate, inborn, Original Sin. We see it in the babe three months old. Now don't mistake me. If your children pass away before they reach the years of accountability they are carried on divine wings to heaven. But when one has come to a knowledge of right and wrong, then they must accept God's provision for the new birth; purchased by the shed blood of His Son Christ Jesus. God says, "Walk in the Light." "Born of the Spirit" is to accept Christ Jesus as your savior. When this is done then God responds with the renewing of the Holy Spirit within you, and you become, "a new creature in Christ Jesus." "The old man," (the natural man) is dead, you no longer serve the lusts of the flesh; you serve the Holy Spirit of God the Father; you are now a child of God. "That which is flesh is flesh, and that which is spirit is spirit," said Christ.

Q. 3. Yes, there is such experience for every true christian. The words sanctified and sanctification appear or occur in the Bible no less than one hundred and fifty-two times, the words cleansing and purity occur no less than six hundred times; the words Holy and Holiness occur no less than six hundred and two times. These terms all have reference to this identical grace; representing different stages of experience in sanctification. When a man says that he does not believe in sanctification, he simply says he does not believe in the Bible. You cannot educate carnality out of man. I have seen people who move in the most polite society, men and women who are held high in rank and official positions, and stand high in the church and in the community, when carnality is in them they will give away to certain temptations, and give away to this thing in spite of themselves. Carnality is the devil's gun powder and if you are not sanctified he will get a match to it. "The pure in heart shall all see God." It requires purity in order to see purity. Read Titus 1:16. Having a pure heart you will see God in this world; see God in nature; God in people; God in His providences. You will have a new version of the scriptures. Whereas you were unable to see, you will now see since you are under the dictation of the Holy Spirit. Holiness line is the only line that runs through trains right into the Grand Central Union Depot of Heaven without change of cars. If you are on any other line you will have to change cars to Holiness line or as sure as you are living you will never make it. Without Holiness no man shall see the Lord. When a man does not want Holiness he wants sin. When a man is done with sin he wants Holiness. While I know to many people Holiness is not popular in this country it is exceedingly popular in the country to which we are going. Not one soul will get through the gates of heaven without the garments of Holiness on. I know there are not a few who will not agree with me, but I am giving you the Bible straight from the shoulder. The kind of christianity I bring to the world has a backbone in it for it's the word of God. Conversion is your willingness to put away sin and accept Jesus Christ. Sanctification is God's answer to your desire to become a christian. Conversion is your part; sanctification is God's part.

Q. 4. We should distinguish between sanctification and sanctification entire. Sanctification is the work of (Continued on page 7.)

REDUCED PRICES ON Furniture, Rugs and Linoleum

Owing to reductions made by manufacturers and jobbers of Furniture, Rugs, etc. our prices will be materially reduced during the present month.

As the reductions have not been uniform on all lines, it will be necessary that we go through our stock and arrange prices according to the new prices made by the different manufacturers and jobbers.

Until we have had time to make these adjustments we shall make a straight 10 per cent Discount on all Furniture and 15 per cent on Rugs and Linoleum, these prices to take immediate effect.

While we have been reliably informed that there will be no further declines in prices, it will be our aim to reduce the prices on hand whenever a reduction has been made by the manufacturers and jobbers.

You can always be assured that you will get the very lowest possible prices at all times.

INFANT NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

In a Fire Started by Another Child Playing With Matches.

The cries of an infant child at a crucial moment last Saturday noon saved itself from death by suffocation in a fire started by a four-year-old brother while playing with matches says the East Jordan Herald.

Last Saturday noon Fire Chief Adams noticed puffs of smoke coming from the windows of the second floor of the building owned by Miss A. M. Kneale, and in which her millinery store is located, the second floor being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellsey.

On investigation he found the front rooms ablaze and a little four-year-old boy crying in the hallway. The lad stated that while alone he had been playing with matches and started the blaze.

Chief Adams immediately ordered the chemical wagon brought down and started to close up the rooms to kill the blaze. It was at this time that an infant child, lying on a bed, commenced to cry. A few minutes later and it would have been suffocated as already the rooms were dense with smoke.

The chemical wagon responded promptly and the firemen extinguished the blaze without much financial loss.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR

Local Milling Concern Receives Order From Denmark

Many people are aware that a local product is in demand from practically all parts of the United States, and also orders are frequently received from foreign countries.

Last week the Argo Milling Co. received an order from Copenhagen, Denmark, for their famous Argo Northern Michigan Buckwheat Flour. This is but one of numerous orders received each year from foreign countries, while in the U. S. shipments are made to the extreme east, west and southern sections.

The Argo people make a specialty of buckwheat flour, and from the amount they handle and parts of the country the orders come from, the product must be of the A-1 class.

MAY SPEND SUMMER ON BURT LAKE

Rumored President-elect Harding Will Visit This Section.

The Cheboygan Tribune in a recent issue published the following item which will be of interest to residents of northern Michigan:

"It is rumored that the summer White House is to be located this year at Sagers, on the picturesque shores of Burt lake, Emmet county. As the story goes Judge Landis of Chicago, who for years has spent the summer at this place, has induced President-elect Harding to spend the coming summer there, and Mr. Landman, of the Michigan Central has also been instrumental in the matter."

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Subject, Thursday night, "The Only Way to be Saved." Special high school night.

Bible reading Friday at 2:30. Young people's rally at 3:30.

Subject Friday night, "Judas."

Sunday program: Morning subject, "Three Circles having One Center."

Night subject, "The Devil's cradles."

At three p. m. the evangelist will talk "How to get the man converted who will not come to church."

At the same hour Mrs. Kennedy will again talk to girls only in the Congregational church. Her meeting last Sunday was a great success, both in attendance and interest and the girls want to hear her again so she has consented to hold another meeting for them (unmarried girls). Her subject will be "The Ideal Woman." All girls of our town should hear this address and a large crowd is again looked for. Meetings will continue each night next week.

Notes From Kennedy's Sermons.

The most extraordinary occurrence that ever took place in Heaven or earth took place in favor of the human soul.

All other religions seek after God, but God is always seeking the lost.

If you do not believe in a personal devil, it's because you never tried to fight him.

Is there anyone in town who does not believe in a revival? I can tell you of another—the Devil.

Nine-tenths of all Christians were converted in a revival.

The devil's chief agent during a revival are unconverted church members.

No matter how brightly the fire burns, it needs shaking up every little while.

Every church needs a house-cleaning, not a touch-up and a varnish, but a burn-off and a thorough job.

Sparks from Kennedy's Anvil.

Critics never do much praying.

The Christian is the unconverted man's Bible he is reading you.

Professing Godliness and practicing Worldliness makes infidels.

The thing that is hurting the church today is not infidelity, but the worldliness of some of its members.

The devil has no happy old people.

A man is never doing anything himself when he is grumbling about others.

Christianity makes you happy and keeps you young in spirit. If you are not happy you may have religion, but it is not the Christian religion.

Especially Good Attractions For This Week

THURSDAY, FEB. 17—Arctcraft presents Robert Warwick in "Thou Art the Man." The game was smuggling gems. The place, the diamond fields of South Africa. The powers behind, a gang of thieves who stopped at no crime on the calendar. The victim—a big, two-fisted soldier of fortune, who went to jail for the girl he loved, and got the crooks in the end. Also a Rowland comedy, "Insulting the Sultan."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, FEB. 19th and 20th—Big double attraction. Paramount-Arctcraft presents Chas. Ray in "Alarm Clock Andy." His main-spring was right, but he always "run slow. Before he could stutter his sales talk, his prospects always ordered from somebody else. That was before the girl got to tinkering with his heart and wound him up tight. Then a four-flushing manager touched the spring of Andy's ire and ZING! You won't sleep while this show is running. A picture that stands for a good time. A laugh hit that never runs down. Pathe presents Harold Lloyd in his big two reel comedy, "Haunted Spooks."

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 23rd—Universal presents Gladys Walton in "Pink Tights." A big circus picture.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 23—Carl Lemmle presents Gladys Walton with Jack Perrin in a big circus picture, "Pink Tights." A romance of the big show. A drama of thrills and action with an abundance of good comedy and laughs aplenty. A picture for young and old. Also a two reel comedy.

COMING—Saturday, Feb. 26. Maurice Tourneur special picture, "The Life Line." A Paramount-Arctcraft special.

COMING—Thursday, March 3rd. Dorothy Dalton in "Market of Souls."

developed by the President-elect. Senator Harding admitted he was worn almost to a frazzle when the campaign was over; but by the time he got back from Panama he was again in fine condition. Evidently the conflicting opinions of the "thoughtful men" almost wore him out once more, and the reporters had stories about their difficulties in obtaining statements and interviews with him. They wondered about it a great deal and described his changed manner.

All of which might indicate, in the first place, that the new president found himself perplexed and out of patience because the "thoughtful men" thought in so many different kinds of ways that he will be obliged, after all, to depend almost entirely on his own thoughts in framing his policies. And having the same kind of "nerves" that the Creator has assigned to all other human beings, the new president, whom everybody knows, wants to be frank and straightforward, is likely to need a good many fishing trips in order to keep his vision clear and his judgment running straight. He is a man with a far more vigorous frame and constitution than Woodrow Wilson brought with him to the discharge of the affairs of the presidency, but it looks as though he will have to cultivate forbearance and patience a good deal before he will be able to find much happiness in his new task at the White House.

Unfortunately, neither Wilson nor Harding are so constituted that they will be able to "cuss 'em out" like Roosevelt, or "forget it" and be happy, according to the fashion of William Howard Taft.

Woodrow Wilson

The correspondent of—sat almost facing President Wilson for two hours on the occasion of the latter's first public appearance at the theatre, where John Drinkwater's play, "Abraham Lincoln" was produced. Rarely have I witnessed so great a change in a man in two short years, (or so wonderful a play). When the President came back from Paris for a few days during the progress of the Peace Conference, he headed a parade down Pennsylvania avenue, and his whole appearance was that of a man in splendid health and good fighting trim. On a great many occasions when he was seen in public in Washington during recent years the comment was always on his youthful and vigorous appearance. But the other night when he sat in full view of a Washington audience for the first time in sixteen months, he looked like a broken man. Doubtless both he and Mrs. Wilson were agreeably surprised when upon their appearance in the theatre, the audience rose and broke forth in spontaneous cheering. The faces of both the President and Mrs. Wilson showed their great pleasure at the enthusiastically friendly reception; and the President, who had become "scattered," arose heavily from his chair, and waved his right arm in friendly response. His left arm apparently hung quite useless at his side, and his manner indicated that the whole left side of his body from the shoulder down, was in a state of at least partial paralysis. All of Woodrow Wilson's pictures show him with quite a full head of hair, but the crown of his head is now quite bald. The features of the President are rather drawn, but when he arose to accept the greetings of his countrymen, the old "Wilson smile" was quite unchanged.

Secretary Tumulty, in his pre-election speech, described his Chief as a man who had grown old in two years. That was a brief but perfect description. Apparently the bulletins given out at the White House during the days of the illness of the President failed to tell even the half-truth concerning the serious condition of the Chief Executive.

Mr. Wilson will occupy his new residence in Washington after March 4, and it is given out that he expects to become almost a recluse for a period of at least six months. From all appearances he is on the slow road to recovery. But it is clear beyond all question that his days of leadership are over.

War Words

The war has brought out a lot of words that have been popular for a few weeks. "Normalcy" has been coined by the President-elect, and it is the latest. Since it is in only a few of the dictionaries, it is late enough—in more ways than one. A mathematical dictionary says normalcy relates to "the co-ordinates of the point of contact." Possibly it is a non-resembling kin to "enmouflage."

The investigators of the war have demonstrated the former ascendancy of "enmouflage" and now that "normalcy" is in high favor in official circles at Washington, all will wish for its success at least equal to that of its less deserving kinsmen in the family of forceful words.

"Normalcy," according to employers, seems to mean lower wages. Manufacturers figure that it means continued high prices, retailers interpret it to imply big profits, and the consumers think it means that things will be cheaper.

In the language of brass tacks, "normalcy" means the return of confidence based upon courage. It has something to do with meeting the demand for a billion dollars worth of new homes and houses by building them; and to put another billion dollars worth of electric railways, gas pipes, telephones and light wires, sewers, and other public utility improvements in operation to make possible a living in decent homes "far from the maddening crowd," since living, according to conditions of "normalcy" is among civilization's most urgent demands.

In the soft speech of politics in Washington where this article is written, it means intelligent use of the cheese-knife in slashing appropriations as they never have been slashed before; because "normalcy" must do a lot of subtracting on the tax bill to prove itself in successful operation in Federal and State administration of the public's affairs.

Henry Ford says that "men, who were laid off during the shutting down of industry are taken off their silk shirts and are drifting back to the farms." Henry occasionally pulls a good one, and if he is right in this instance, it is another victory for "normalcy." We all tip our aqua glasses to Senator Harding's new word.

The Luxury of Peace

Formal peace with Germany and Austria, and commercial treaties that will place the United States on the same economic basis as the European countries that are not technically at war with the former belligerents, will be among the first acts of the Harding administration.

The President-elect and his closest advisers doubtless hold to the purpose to "scrap" the Versailles agreement. But, while that document may not be acceptable as a basis for international affairs, there is no question but what the matter uppermost in importance to our future welfare, is the finding of a policy that will promise peace throughout the world. This is reflected in the passing by Congress, over the President's veto, of the bill to reduce the Army from 280,000 to 175,000 men, and the determination to reduce war expenses. Republican leader Mondell, in the House, has made a vigorous denunciation of the policy of perpetuating the burdens of war upon the taxpayers of the Nation during peace times.

Spending the Taxpayers' Money

The next time the "pork barrel" cry reaches your ears, just remind the critic that in a chart recently prepared by the Bureau of Standards that it is proved that during the last nine years, exclusive of war costs, all of the civil activities of the government represent less than one-third of the total expenditures. A speaker at an event where government expenditures was discussed a few nights ago, produced a dollar bill. He cut it almost in the middle—40 per cent to be exact, and held up the piece to represent the proportion of each taxpayer's dollar required for the Army, Navy, and for pensions and care of soldiers. The Legislative, Executive, and Judicial was represented by clipping 15 per cent off the dollar. Public works took eleven per cent. Rivers, harbors, public building and reclamation projects, and all the alleged "pork barrel" matters that represent permanent public improvements do not combine all told, the amount of any division of the military machine. The man who cut the one dollar bill had to pare it very fine to illustrate the expenses of Education, Public Health and Research.

A TALK WITH A CHARLEVOIX MAN

Mr. John McCall of 110 E. Upright Ave., Tells of an Interesting Experience

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Charlevoix man: "My kidneys were weak and irregular in action," says Mr. McCall. "Dizzy spells bothered me, too. I used Donn's Kidney Pills and they completely and permanently cured me of the trouble."

It is further ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in this county.

Servetus A. Correll,
Judge of Probate.

Wanted: A National Policeman

The farmer does not get enough money for the food he sells; but the consumer, who buys it, pays too much.

It is high time that Uncle Sam constituted himself a policeman to protect both producer and consumer. If he keeps the in-between boys from raiding the Public-Food melon patch, the producer will no longer have to put up with so small a return and, what is just as important, the public will not have to pay exorbitant prices for food

The Farm Bureaus, expressing the minds of the organized farmers of America, are setting out to convince Uncle Sam that he must act. It is only by national mobilization that the farmers can hope to secure action on this and other questions whose solution vitally affects the future of our farming industry. The Farm Bureau Movement deserves the support of each and every citizen.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, as the great national champion of progressive methods, is thoroughly in accord with the aims of the Farm Bureaus. Its vision is national: for in gathering the sound, helpful material which makes up its 52 big weekly issues its editors and contributors travel the country over in search of the latest news and the best opinion. Its editorial policy can therefore be accepted as fairly voicing the thought of the American farmer.

You want and need this national mirror of farm progress. It costs only $1.00 for a year. Many farmers say it's the best buy they ever made. Send a dollar bill or your check today.

Why Advertising Pays

If people did not move away and some die—
If new generations did not grow up—
If competitors did not compete—
If people were not receptive to new ideas—
Then—
And only then—
Would there be no need for advertising.
Because of changing business conditions—
Fluctuations in wages—
And the natural aggressiveness and progressiveness of the normal man—
He is your prospective buyer today who could not use or afford your product yesterday.
These were the reasons pointed out recently by a well known sales manager of a large corporation on why it is imperative that advertising be CONSISTENT AND REGULAR.

Township Treasurer Geo. Heller was in Bellaire on business on Monday of this week.

James Elzinga, T. E. Boss and Albert Harwood were at the county seat on business one day last week.

H. H. Elzinga killed a fox north of Norwood one day last week. Ask him to tell you about the day's hunt.

Henry Black spent last week at Lockwood hospital, Petoskey, taking treatment for blood poisoning in his arm.

Mrs. Floyd Turk of Petoskey, is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isa Alward.

The work of filling ice houses started this week and twelve to fifteen inch ice of a good quality is being secured.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Denny are the proud parents of twin daughters.

born early last Friday morning, at their home in Bellaire.

A box social is scheduled for Saturday evening of this week at the Pleasant View school house, and a general invitation is extended to all.

Wm. Cole, who underwent a serious operation at Lockwood hospital on Tuesday of last week, is getting along nicely, but will probably have to remain at the hospital for several weeks.

Bert DeGroot, who recently sold his farm south of town to Tony Kuiper, has purchased the Henry Vandenberg farm, west of Heller's corner, and is busy this week getting settled.

The Central Lake high school is closed this week on account of an outbreak of scarlet fever. John Ruis and Henry Elzinga are spending a few days at home for this reason.

A blaze at the Miller residence in the south end of town called out the volunteer fire fighters last Monday afternoon. Sparks from the chimney ignited the roof, but was discovered before serious damage was done.

The basket ball game which was to have been played by the locals with the Alden team on Friday evening of last week, was cancelled and the boys expect to play the East Jordan five at East Jordan on Friday night of this week, the game to take place at East Jordan.

WILDWOOD.

E. R. Wilson has rented the C. W. Fales farm for next season.

Mrs. Duncanson Crawford is spending a few days with relatives in East Jordan this week.

Eugene Best of Ellsworth drove through here the first of the week in quest of a house mover.

Uncle John Crawford has been laid up with a sprained foot for a few days, but is improving now.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Keister are packing their household goods preparatory to moving back to Ohio in a short time.

Miss Potter of the Mitchell schools spent the week end with her friend, Miss Cankins, our teacher here, at the E. R. Wilson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shaw, with their family including their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Janson Fancher, and little daughter, moved onto the Jim Wilson farm last week and will work the farm this summer.

MILES DISTRICT

Joseph Lalonde of East Jordan visited at the home of his niece, Mrs. A. Miles last Tuesday.

Mrs. B. Madill and daughter Bess, of Ellsworth, visited at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Miles last Thursday.

Henry and Jake Essenberg were at home with severe colds and grip last week.

James Heeres and Jake Essenberg swapped horses one day last week.

KEEP FLIES OFF LIVE STOCK

Mixture of Laundry Soap, Water, Crude Petroleum and Naphthalin is Recommended.

The following mixture is very effective in keeping flies off live stock and its cost is very small:

One pound of common laundry soap, four gallons of warm water, one gallon of crude petroleum and four ounces of powdered naphthalin.

Shave the soap in very thin slices into warm water and stir it until thoroughly dissolved. Put the naphthalin in the crude petroleum and stir until dissolved. Pour the soap and water into the petroleum and thoroughly mix them together.

RAISING REGISTERED CATTLE

Many Farmers Hesitate to Start With Pure-Bred Animals Because of Lack of Knowledge.

Many farmers would like to raise registered cattle, but because of their lack of knowledge of pedigrees or individuality, or both, hesitate to start with pure-bred animals. A safe way to start is to buy a few bred cows or heifers and grow in experience as the herd increases in numbers.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

The amount of concentrates fed can be greatly reduced if the sows have access to good pasture such as bluegrass, clover, alfalfa or rape.

Good pasture and considerable range for exercise not only lowers the cost of maintenance, but also serves to keep sows in healthy condition.

An old but correct statement that "the bull is half the herd" needs to be heeded more than ever, owing to the high prices of grain, labor and overhead expense connected with production.

Political Wisdom.

The conduct of a wise politician is ever suited to the present posture of affairs. Often by foregoing a part he saves the whole, and by yielding in a small matter secures a greater.

Plutarch

Snake's Power Over Birds.

The bureau of biological survey states that snakes do not charm birds in the understood sense of the word "charm." The instinctive fear that a bird or small animal, such as a rabbit, has for a snake paralyzes the muscles of the bird or animal and prevents its escaping from the snake.

GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

the Holy Spirit begun in regeneration by the inspiring love in the heart. Love is the element in which purity exists, (Jesus is love). Sanctification in short is putting this love this purity into action. A separation from this world; holiness complete. Sanctification Entire is perfect love; the spiritual growth into perfection. The purpose of sanctification is to bring the entire nature into harmony with the will of God. This is God's desire for us, and it should ever be the radiant purpose of a Christian life. "This is the will of God, even your sanctification" (1 Thess. 4:3; Heb. 10:9, 10). No, there is no such thing as being saved and not sanctified. Have you come to the place in life in which you can say, "Lord Thy will be done?" Can you sing with an earnest desire to have it done, "Sanctify me to thy service Lord, by the power of grace divine." If you cannot, then by no means are you saved, you may have had a conversion of the head but not of the heart. See 1 Cor. 2:11-12. No man can comprehend God by the wisdom of man. God is not found by mere human research. You might have all the wisdom of the ages; you might have all the knowledge the schools can impart, and yet be utterly destitute of the knowledge of God. God places no premium on ignorance, but the wisdom of the world cannot discover the things which are spiritual they are revealed. See Isa. 56:10-11; Eph. 2:15-16; Rom. 8:7; Eph. 3:16; Col. 1:27; Psa. 84:11; Rom. 1:20. If our lives are in harmony with the will of God then our prayers are heard by Him; as easily as our voices are heard by our fellow men by wireless telephone but if not in harmony our prayers will not go above our heads. God is not the Father of sinners, no sir, I have no sympathy with the new thought idea, "Fatherhood of God and common brotherhood of man," I will take the word of Jesus for it. John 8:44.

Q. 5. No, they are not. This is made plain in my answer to question number 4.

MUCH CRUSHED ROCK NEEDED

Program for Road Building in Minnesota Calls for 667,000 Tons of Material.

The proposed road-building program in Minnesota this year will require about 667,000 tons of crushed rock or gravel, or nearly 20,000 carloads of aggregate, according to information secured by the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture. The figures give some idea of the magnitude of the road-building program now being carried on in many states. Largely on account of a shortage of crushed stone or gravel 55 miles of road which were to have been built in 1919 were not completed. These roads are to be completed this year, while about 180 miles of new construction requiring crushed rock or gravel have been authorized. This makes a mileage of 250 scheduled for 1920.

With the RED LINE round the top

More farmers are wearing Goodrich Rubber Footwear today than ever before.

The reason for this tremendous increase in users is simple—Goodrich wears longer than other footwear, and farmers have found it out. Naturally, when a man buys a pair of Goodrich "Hi-Press" and they last so much longer and are so much more comfortable, and so materially cut down that big footwear bill—he's going to tell his friends.

More and more farmers are finding out that Goodrich won't leak, peel or come apart—it can't, for it is made in One Solid Piece—that's the Goodrich way.

Look for the Red Line round the Top when you buy. 60,000 dealers are now selling Goodrich.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Legislative halls and committee rooms have been the scene of much activity on the part of the law makers during the past week. While only about half as many bills were introduced as during the previous week, the committees of the two Houses have been taking up in detail the 230 bills which have been referred to them.

The desire of these committees to give the most careful consideration to the various measures before them is evidenced by the number of public hearings being held on controversial matters. While many bills will, no doubt, die in the pigeon holes of the various legislative committees, several measures have already been reported out and are receiving consideration in the Committee of the Whole of each branch of the Legislature.

General interest on the part of the people of the state in the legislation being considered by the present session is manifest in the presentation of some 120 lengthy petitions for or against various measures. The State Constabulary, teachers' retirement fund, censorship of motion pictures, and capital punishment are the subjects most numerous among these petitions. A majority of the petitions relative to the State Constabulary are favorable to the retention.

The joint committee of the two Houses empowered to investigate the activities of the Michigan Community Council Commission, especially with reference to the disposition of the Michigan Patriotic Fund, has made a preliminary survey of the situation and announces that a formal investigation will start Monday, February 14.

Investigation of conditions at the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia by Gov. Groesbeck and the committee from the House has disclosed inefficient and inadequate management, gross lack of consideration for the health and welfare of the inmates, and the practice of cruel punishments by some of the guards and prison officials, according to correspondents present at the investigation.

Conditions at Ionia and other state penal institutions have led Senator Smith of Detroit, chairman of the Senate Committee on Penal Institutions, to introduce a bill to prevent the infliction of all cruel and heartless punishments in the state penal institutions. This bill specifically prohibits the use of the "water cure," "bread and water diet," the use of the "circular door," hanging by the wrists, incarceration in dungeons, whipping, flogging, or any other form of cruel physical restraint or corporal punishment. The bill provides that the warden must keep a complete record of all punishments imposed.

Additional evidence of the determination of the legislators not to have their activities hampered in any way by the vicious activities of undesirable lobbyists was disclosed when Senator McRae of Alcona introduced a bill defining "legislative counsel and agents" and requiring them to obtain licenses from the Secretary of State.

Probably the most important and certainly the most bulky, bill introduced during the week was the measure providing for the reclassification of some 95 antiquated and inadequate statutes relative to incorporation and the enactment of one complete and inclusive corporation law. The 113 page bill was drafted by the Attorney General's office and introduced by Representative Lord of Detroit.

Buyers of wearing apparel and similar articles in Michigan would know what they are getting, if a bill introduced by Representative Henze of Dickinson should become a law. This measure is a sort of "state edition" of the proposed federal "Truth in Fabric" law and would provide that all cloth or clothing offered for sale in this state shall bear a label stating the amount of wool, cotton, silk, shoddy or other materials contained therein, specified by weight in pounds, ounces, or fractional parts thereof. All fur garments would be required to have a label showing the kind of fur; and the leather or rubber goods would have to be labeled to show whether or not they contained substitutes. A penalty of $50 to $500 or 10 to 90 days in jail would be provided.

The main appropriation bill introduced during the week was one providing $1,000,000 for the completion of the State Office Building. The Senate finance and appropriations committee raised the figure to $1,140,000.

W. C. T. U. RAISE ITS ANNUAL DUES

Hold Interesting Meeting at Home of Mrs. H. A. Carr.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Carr on Antrim street, last Friday afternoon. The committee on anti-cigarettes reported having passed the law in several cigar stores, churches and schools. The committee on Bible in the public schools report 31 students taking the course this semester. Better movies and Sunday closing is enlisted the attention of the people of the entire state of Michigan and other states as well. New legislation and law enforcement is only a matter of a short time. Shall Charlevoix be among the first of the Michigan towns to demand clean, educational pictures?

A short report of the second annual conference of national W. C. T. U. held in Chicago recently was read, in which Mrs. Deborah Livingston of Providence, R. I., said: "The greatest menace confronting the Republic today is lawlessness. The present generation needs to be taught a sacred appreciation of law enforcement and should be felt alike by rich and poor." The W. C. T. U. has a membership of 500,000 and hopes to increase to one million by 1924.

Mrs. Anson Webster had charge of a very interesting program. Moved prohibition is the aim of anti-liquor workers, and very interesting reports came from all countries. American must live up to the expectations of the countries who are looking to us for an example of right living. Ladies who have attended the city council meetings told how interesting the business routine was, and urged others to attend occasionally, to acquaint themselves with city welfare and city government. The annual dues were raised to 65 cents, a raise of ten cents per member.

MAN STRUCK BY TREE AND KILLED

Noah Howard of Boyne Falls Receives Fractured Skull.

Calvin Howard, about fifty years of age, and a well known and respected resident of near Boyne Falls, was fatally injured last Saturday morning of last week in the woods north of Boyne Falls, when struck by a limb of a tree he had just felled.

The injury consisted of a fractured skull, and after the accident Mr. Howard walked to the house, where he lost consciousness. He was rushed to a Petoskey hospital where he died Monday, having remained in a state of coma until the end.

For years Mr. Howard made his home on a farm near the Falls, moving to Benton Harbor a year ago. He returned in his old home about one week prior to the accident.

Mr. Howard is survived by a wife and six children.

CHEBOYGAN HAS LIQUOR RAIDS

STATE POLICE, SHERIFF AND FEDERAL OFFICERS BUSY.

Arrest Four for Violation of Liquor Law and Three for Operating Slot Machines.

Michigan state police, a federal prohibition enforcement officer and Sheriff Gebhardt, of Cheboygan county, staged a surprise clean-up in Cheboygan at about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon of last week, four men being placed under arrest for violation of the liquor law, and three for allowing slot machines to be operated in their places of business. One was taken for blocking the sidewalk with an automobile, and another for operating an automobile without displaying a 1921 license.

The officers raided the Hotel Columbia, Hotel Fisher, Senate Cafe, and the Lewis Piletier bar in the Ottawa block, the Richardson & Geroux pool room, the American house and Sherman's pool room.

The police claim to have secured wine in the place operated by James Clune, hootch in the place operated by Lewis Piletier, wine of pepsin in the Hotel Columbia, operated by Eugene LaFriniere, and whiskey in the Hotel Fisher operated by Frank Fisher. The proprietors were placed under $700 bond and are to have their hearing Feb. 16. The men arrested for operating slot machines were given their hearing Monday.

Federal Agent C. H. Anderson, Detroit, of the drug store department of the prohibition enforcement force, was in Cheboygan Saturday and assisted Corporal Kutter and his detachment of state police and Sheriff Gebhardt in the raid.

Corporal Kutter reports that news of the raids, traveling with considerable speed, reached many places ahead of the officers and that he believes liquor and slot machines were hurried to cover.

EARLY INDICATIONS OF SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Cincinnati Banker and Wife Writes to Engage Rooms.

The Courier is in receipt of a letter from a prominent banker of Cincinnati, Ohio, who is desirous of securing at this early date, suitable rooms for himself and wife for the month of August.

He wants a nicely furnished bedroom, with bath, first or second floor, located somewhere on the north side, preferably Michigan or Dixon avenue. If the people renting care to furnish first-class meals, it will be appreciated by these people, otherwise they will eat at some hotel or boarding place. They will even agree to take their breakfast at the place they room, and other meals elsewhere.

These people come well recommended and have numerous friends and relatives who spend the summer here each year, and can furnish the very best of references.

Who can accommodate them? Write full details of what you have, including location, price, whether you care to furnish meals or not, and send them to the Courier or Robert Bridge, secretary of Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

In doing this, please keep in mind that Charlevoix, as a resort, should make an effort to accommodate every person who desires to spend the summer here. In this case, we may add another permanent summer visitor to the hundreds who are now spending the season with us.

The school social held at the town hall Friday night was fairly well attended and the impromptu program very much enjoyed, several numbers deserving especial mention. The school netted $20, which will aid greatly toward the new Paramount machine purchased a short time ago. After the social came something for which the people of this community will be sorry for some time to come, and which we consider a disgrace and insult to the Christian people who contributed toward the evening's entertainment and also gave their support. We can only express our regret for these grave misdemeanors and trust that it may never occur in our community again.

LOST ONE GAME THEY WANTED

PLAYED EXCELLENT BALL BUT WERE LOSERS

Charlevoix H. S. Basketball Team Unable to Locate Basket in Petoskey Game.

Gloom so thick it cannot be penetrated hangs about the high school basketball supporters and players this week. The one game that they wanted to win, or at least hold to a close score, went disastrously against them when they lost at Petoskey last Friday night by a 21-10 score.

Equalling if not surpassing their opponent in team work and floor work in all but the last five minutes of the game, the story of their disaster is simply the fact that they were unable to locate the baskets. Had one-half of the throws that they earned by, excellent team work resulted in scores, the final result would have been as one sided in the other direction. C. W. Dick of Traverse City ably handled the game.

Charlevoix fans responded loyally to last week's call for support and were there 120 strong.

American Legion Defeated.
Locust fans witnessed one of the fastest games of the season at the rink Tuesday night, when the famous Holland Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Charlevoix Legion, with a score of 13-29.

The game started with the visitors scoring three baskets and holding their lead throughout the entire half. In the second half the local five got the lead in the first few minutes, but were unable to hold their gains, and the score was 7-14 when the whistle blew.

The Legion men were not up to their usual form, as they have had very little recent practice, while the Holland five just came here from Grand Rapids, where they defeated the Grand Rapids "Y." The visitors displayed the finest floor work and defense that has been witnessed on the local court this year.

LAUNCHING OF ROEN'S NEW BOAT

To Take Place Monday, Weather Permitting

The launching of John Roen's new 90-foot freighter will take place next Monday at 2:00 p. m., weather permitting. As the work on the boat is completed, weather conditions alone will prevent the launching ceremonies taking place.

By request of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, Charlevoix business houses will close for an hour or so, as will also the school, and all take part in the exercises, plans for which are now being made.

SUGAR ADVANCES $1.20 A HUNDRED

Those who failed to take advantage of special prices quoted on sugar by Charlevoix stores several days ago, missed something, according to latest market reports.

A few days ago beet sugar was being sold in Charlevoix at $8.35 a hundred pounds, and cane sugar at $7.50.

While large quantities were disposed of at that price, a great many people procrastinated with the belief that a still lower price would be forthcoming. It didn't come. The price came along alright, but it was higher. Last week sugar advanced $1.25 a hundred.

Contrary to the general belief that prices all along the line were due for still further pruning, market reports reveal several other advances, prominent among which is flour which has advanced 50 cents a barrel. During the last 10 days the price on rice has advanced $4.00 a carload, and there have been other advances.

According to those who have been following the market it is doubtful whether the price of sugar will drop again. Further advances are looked for. It is known that the big sugar companies have for some time been forced to dispose of their product at prices less than the cost of production.

HORACE WAKEFIELD DIED THURSDAY

Was Well Known Farmer of Marion Township

Horace Wakefield was born in Potsdam, New York, November 12, 1854, and died February 17, 1921, at the age of 66 years, 3 months, and 5 days from heart failure.

In 1885 he moved with his parents to Marion township, where he has resided up to the time of his death. He was united in marriage to Julia Newman about five years ago, after the death of his first wife, Lottie Withers Wakefield about 14 years ago. No children were born to this union.

The deceased is survived by one brother, Hiram Wakefield, of Minnesota, two sisters, Mrs. William Ross, of Minnesota, and Mary Wakefield, of St. Augustine, Florida, besides his wife.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from his home in Marion Rev. Pontius of the Church of God, officiating. Interment at Brookside.

WOULD HELP ENFORCE LAW

MAKE DRUNKS REVEAL SOURCE OF BOOZE SUPPLY.

Anti-Saloon Superintendent Thinks This the Way to Handle Present Situation.

If all the city and county officials from the constable to the circuit judge, would take full advantage of powers given them by the state prohibition law any county could be rid of liquor law violations in six weeks is the belief of one of Michigan's well known Anti-Saloon League superintendents.

"It is known," he said in a recent address, "that federal officers dare not take officials of some cities and counties into their confidence for fear violators will be tipped off."

"I find that a great many people who are anxious to see the liquor law enforced are ignorant of what the law is and so are led astray when local officials tell them we can't do anything; you'll have to go to the federal agents."

He declared that the state law provides specific ways in which its enforcement would be comparatively easy for local officers.

"Every drunken man arrested," he said, "should be brought into a justice court and made to tell where he procured his liquor. The law says that if the man refuses to divulge such information he may be sent to jail for contempt of court. I firmly believe that if the justice in any community would resort to this action a few times the 'drunks' would begin to 'cough up' information which would put the officers in a position to rid our cities of sources of booze."

"The law provides that when a man arrested for being drunk makes a statement telling where and from whom he got his liquor, that statement may be reduced to writing and used as an affidavit upon which a search warrant may legally be issued. Moonshiners, bootleggers and hard drink vendors would soon find their business mighty dangerous and unprofitable if a few of these cases were prosecuted to the limit in every community. But instead, it is the common practice to let a 'drunk' off with a fine or a light jail sentence just as though there had been no violation of the prohibition law in the background of the case."

PLAN TO BUILD COMFORT STATION

To Be Located at Corner of State and Mason Streets

If plans underway are completed Charlevoix will quite likely have a public comfort station and rest room before the present season is over.

A committee acting under the authority of the common council has received instructions to prepare specifications and receive bids on a building 18x24 feet, to be located on the property located at the corner of State and Mason streets, recently purchased by the city.

Work will commence as soon as the committee have the proposition in hand with regard to cost of erection. The matter has been in the hands of the public board of health, and if there is a possible chance, the building will be erected and furnished at the earliest date.

CROP REPORT FOR MICHIGAN

VALUE IS 25 PER CENT LESS THAN THAT OF 1919

An Increase Made in Acreage of Potatoes, Clover Seed and Sugar Beets

The crops grown in Michigan during 1920 had a total value on Dec. 1 of approximately 25 per cent less than those of the previous year, the estimates being $303,410,000 for 1920 and $406,107,000 for 1919, according to the 1920 crop report for Michigan just made public by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A tentative estimate based upon the crop prospects and prevailing prices on Aug. 1, 1920, indicated a production value of approximately $453,000,000, or a considerable increase over the previous year. Since that time there has been a marked decline in the price of practically every farm product resulting in a reduction of net value amounting to $150,000,000. The price of every crop included in the quantitative estimates is lower than one year ago, except rye which is two cents a bushel higher. With the exception of oats, peaches and pears the total value of each crop is less than in 1919, and the returns per acre are less for all crops except oats and barley which showed a slightly greater return for the year just closed.

On the other hand, the cost of farm labor was the highest on record. Men for employment by the month or year were scarce, and day labor was unobtainable in some sections. This condition combined with a pronounced movement of men from the farms to the city, resulted in a less acreage of crops being grown and probably a greater waste than during the previous year. The acreage of the principal crops in 1919 was 8,765,999; in 1920, the acreage of the same crops aggregated 8,378,000. Potatoes, sugar beets and clover seed had an increased acreage, corn and oats the same acreage, and all others a less acreage than in 1919.

The yields of corn and hay were the same as in 1919, while oats, barley, buckwheat, potatoes and clover seed showed increased yields per acre. Wheat, beans, rye, and sugar beets had smaller yields than in the previous year. The crops showing a greater total production were oats, barley, potatoes, clover seed, apples, peaches and pears.

Compared with the average of the last sixteen years, wheat, buckwheat, hay and clover seed show a less total production. All other crops were above the average. In view of the extraordinary conditions under which farmers have labored, this is a very creditable showing and demonstrates the advantage of diverse farming as generally practiced in Michigan. The state ranks twenty-first in land area and also in amount of land in farms, yet for the year just ended it ranked fourteenth in the value of its crops.

HARBOR MAN IS BADLY INJURED

Right Arm Crushed and Broken and Painful Bruises on Body.

Clynton LaMont, Harbor Springs, was badly injured Monday of last week, when he was caught in the machinery of a large tractor he was driving as the machine skidded and went over the embankment of West Hill, Harbor Springs. LaMont was using the tractor to haul logs to Harbor Springs for the Michigan Maple Block Co. of Petoskey. The tractor fell against a tree not far down the bank and was held there.

The injured man was caught in such a way that he was held suspended in the air by one arm. Dr. Frank, Harbor Springs, who witnessed the accident, secured other men and work was started to release the injured man. A ladder was placed under him to relieve the arm of the weight but it required some time to get the arm free from the machine. As soon as this was accomplished he was hurried to Petoskey hospital.

Here it was found the arm and hand were crushed, cut and bruised. The thumb had been torn off and the flesh about the wrist cut to pieces. The man was also bruised and injured about the body.

If you want a good heavy harness at a very moderate price. See Benj. Brown at once. adv 87f

FACULTY CHANGES IN RURAL SCHOOLS

HOFFMAN SCHOOL STILL WITHOUT A TEACHER

Shortage of Teachers is Becoming a Very Acute Problem—Should Hire Early

The Hoffman school of Hudson township was still without a teacher when the Christmas vacation was being declared in other schools and the children of the district had been facing since September the grave possibilities of losing an entire year of work. It was not that the Hoffman school was unwilling to pay the price. They could not afford it for their valuation is low and their school tax had already approached the six per cent mark, but they offered to pay any price up to ninety dollars. On January eighth Miss Ruth Smith of Boyne City accepted the school. Lucky indeed was the little district that Miss Smith had just come from the normal school at Kalamazoo with the intention of teaching the remainder of the year. She is making good and is putting forth a brave effort to give the boys and girls as much as possible in the second half of the school year.

Just after Miss Smith had been found for the Hoffman school, the county was confronted by the resignations of several teachers: Miss Florence Jones of Bay Shore, Miss Josie Hammond of South Arm, Miss Bernice M. DeHart of Boyne Valley, Mrs. Georgia Burnett of Hopyard, Mrs. Gladys Everts of Chandler, and Orthella Porter of Chandler. It has been a difficult task to fill these vacancies. Every application has been thoroughly investigated and it has been found that there are teachers available, but usually those whom nobody else wants. In that case Charlevoix does not want them either. It is better to have a school closed than to have a teacher who would work positive harm in the school room. Commissioners from surrounding counties are willing to help but they are facing the same problem and only one worthy applicant could be gained from an exchange of courtesies. Advertisements were placed in the daily papers but no response was received.

At last, however, the positions are cleared for and we have every reason to believe that good substantial teachers have been found. Mr. C. H. Dewey has returned to the county to accept the school at Bay Shore; Mrs. Lenoskey, formerly Miss Mary Weldy, accepted the Miles school but resigned at the end of a month and will be succeeded by Mrs. Esther Miles, also formerly a teacher of this county; Miss Orthella Porter has accepted the Harmon school, being transferred from Springvale to the present location; Miss Evelyn Shannon of Petoskey will arrive next week to take the Hopyard school; Miss Edith Sellers of Warsaw, Ind., has begun work in the Dana school in Chandler, and Mrs. Constance Gallup, formerly Miss Constance Weber, has agreed to complete the year of work in the Springvale school. She has been one of the very successful teachers of the county.

Six schools are transporting their children and find it very successful in its operation. The shortage of teachers is becoming a very acute problem and school boards are advised to hire early. If teachers are making fairly good it will be better to engage them for a second term if possible and gain thereby the benefit of the year of experience which they have already had in their respective districts. The chances of success in employing a stranger are sometimes less than fifty-fifty and the future should be a dead certainty when the future of boys and girls hangs in the balance.

FIRE DESTROYS SMALL TOOL SHED

Property Loss will Amount to Over $600.00

Between three and four o'clock Tuesday afternoon, fire was discovered in the combination tool shed and storage room at the farm of W. K. Straw, about two miles south of the city on the Marion Center road and within a few minutes the entire structure was a mass of flames. Prompt work on the part of the neighbors prevented the fire from reaching the big barn and house. It was even necessary to tear down a part of the building in order to save adjoining buildings.

The alarm was turned in to this city and the local department quickly responded, aiding materially in putting out the flames. A number of farm tools, stored in the building were destroyed as was a corn crib containing about 40 bushels of corn. The loss is estimated between $600 and $800.

It is thought the fire started from an ash barrel alongside the building.

MICHIGAN G. O. P. CHOOSES SLATE

SPRING ELECTION NOMINEES ARE NAMED.

Farm Board Members Only New Men on Ticket—Mrs. Sangster on Committee.

Speed marked the first "single session" Republican state convention of Michigan, held Thursday of last week in Detroit. In one hour and fifteen minutes, delegates selected the eight nominees to be voted on in the spring and wiped the slate clean of the usual routine.

The nominees are: Justices of the Supreme court—Joseph H. Moore, Joseph H. Steere and Howard Wiest.

Regents of the University—Victor M. Core and Walter H. Sawyer. Superintendent of public instruction—Thomas E. Johnson.

State highway commissioner—Frank F. Rogers. Member of state board of education—Fred A. Jeffers.

Members state board of agriculture—John A. Doelle and Melvin McPherson.

Burt H. Cady, Port Huron, was unanimously chosen chairman of the state central committee.

Members of the state central committee named by the convention are:

First district, William Gutman, John W. Smith, Letta Boardbridge; Second, Glen L. Williams, H. H. Corwin, Miss Mamie Osband; Third, Caroline Kleinstek, B. B. Gorman, J. H. Mustard; Fourth, A. B. ROOF FIRE RAZES PARSON'S HOME

Sparks From Chimney Cause of Another Blaze

About the middle of the afternoon of Thursday of last week, a fire was discovered on the roof of the James Parsons' home, on Belvedere avenue, and before it was subdued, a greater portion of the roof was destroyed.

The local fire department was on the ground within a few minutes after the alarm sounded, and by their excellent work prevented what otherwise would have resulted in a costly blaze.

As the fire was confined mostly to the roof, and fanned by a stiff west wind, the fire ladders had their hands full, especially as the fire ate its way into partitions.

The loss will amount to nearly $1,500, fully covered by insurance. Mr. Parsons was out of town when the fire took place and desires to express his appreciation to the fire department and citizens who by their quick and efficient work saved his home from probably a total loss.

LAKE TO OCEAN WILL SAVE U. S.

WOULD PREVENT NATION BEING "MAROONED."

Opening of Short Road to Sea Means the Very Existence of Middle Western States.

If this country is not to be marooned, it must have the short route to the sea, the way of the St. Lawrence, avers Charles P. Craig, executive director Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association.

"Six months ago, the railroads were staggering under a load they could not move, a third of last year's wheat crop was trying to get to market," said Mr. Craig. "We have recovered from the worst of that situation, but during that period we learned where the weak points were, and something about the limits of capacity."

"We know that one of the principal difficulties is in the terminal facilities of the Atlantic ports. There must be increased port facilities. In the port of New York, in order to provide facilities to take care of the present volume of business, the authorities estimate that at least two hundred million dollars must be spent. Probably half that sum would create and equip at least six of the chief lake ports, and when the St. Lawrence is open we will get a larger increase of terminal capacity, for less money, by developing lake ports, than we possibly can be confining ourselves to the seaboard."

"But what will the railroads do when the next advance in production comes? There is no more slack in the system, no reserve capacity. We must wait till the railroads can expand. Actually we can get the St. Lawrence open, and the lake ports running in less time and at less cost than the port of New York alone can rebuild and newly equip its terminal system."

"The delivery of farm products from the far west has been pretty well discouraged. It doesn't pay to ship a long distance. The rate advance is reducing the railroad system to hauling commodities from 25 miles, say up to five hundred, with an extreme range of about a thousand miles. If you have to go more than a thousand miles by rail unless your produce is highly concentrated, look out."

"Let us remind you that nowhere else in the world is there an attempt to carry on extensive production more than a thousand miles from the water base. If this country is not to be marooned, we must have the short road to the sea, and that will be ours when, following nature's hint, the way of the St. Lawrence is opened."

Harold and Raymond Stafford are putting up ice from Harwood Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Hewitt and Mrs. Guy Empey spent Tuesday in Charlevoix.

Several from Norwood attended the road meeting at Charlevoix Saturday morning.

We are glad to find our Mr. Everts back on the mail route after a prolonged absence due to tonsillitis.

The ladies' aid will meet again this week Wednesday with Mrs. Harold Stafford for another pot-luck dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. George Light visited at the P. E. Richardson and R. Wagner homes Tuesday.

Mrs. Jennett, Genevieve, Robert and Clifford spent Monday in Charlevoix. Robert and Genevieve went for medical attention.

The ladies' aid met with Mrs. F. E. Richardson last Wednesday for an all day session with a pot-luck dinner. There were fifteen ladies present and ample justice was done to the hountful dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Pierce were the recipients of a box of oranges persimmons, orange blossoms and rose buds from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmes and Mrs. Pierce of Charlevoix who are wintering in Florida. They were a treat to the eyes as well as to the appetite. People who are enjoying those wonderful lands of sunshine seldom realize how much such tokens of their thoughtfulness mean to others who are not in such a favorable climate.

Norwood hasn't lost the Dixie Highway neither does it look as if they would. Dr. Hewitt in his talk before the commissioners at the meeting held in Charlevoix Saturday morning threw some broad-siders and presented some facts which the state representative could not dispute and convinced the majority present that he knew what he was talking about. Mr. Hewitt in a recent interview was heard to say, "If the tax payers of the county will hold steady and not get excited over this federal aid proposition but will see to it that a careful investigation is made through government and state departments, and then work for another hearing before the commissioners, whom I believe, are disposed to be fair, I believe the result will be that the state trunk road will remain where it is."

CLARK SCHOOL NOTES

John Brock has been absent on account of illness.

We have just begun the study of orthography in the sixth and eighth grades.

The first second and third grades are learning a "merry-go-round" game and are enjoying it very much.

The wind last Wednesday blew out a big pane of glass from one of our windows but luckily it was not broken.

Sixth and eighth grades are planning to study "The Building of the Ship" together and have just sent for the poem and notes.

The sixth-grade has written letters to Miss Hansen of Forest City, Iowa, and we are very interested in carrying on a correspondence with them.

DAIRMEN

We have 3 tons of Buckwheat Bran—75 cents a hundred. 2 tons of Buckwheat Midds—$2 per hundred.

THREE BELLS DISTRICT

Mr. Winters of East Jordan was a Friday caller at the D. Gaunt home.

The big wind storm which struck this vicinity last Wednesday did slight damage.

The Lane family is improving from their case of tonsillitis they have had the past week.

South Arm is frozen over again since our thaw. The ice is much smoother this time than before.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt and Ralph and Mamie Gaunt skated to East Jordan Sunday evening to attend the revival meeting at the Church of God.

The sophomores of the East Jordan high school are writing a story this week about the school clock. Some of the students have real interesting stories.

EAST CHANDLER

Miss Mary Dunlop spent the week-end at the Snyder home.

William Townsend visited on Chandler Hill last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Burgess, Mrs. Eastwood and son Dalton were Vanderbilt callers last Monday.

Miss Sellers from Indiana has arrived to teach in the west Chandler district.

Miss Mary Dunlop visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes Thursday evening.

William Hughes took Mrs. Bernie Adams and daughter Doris to Boyne City last Monday to see a doctor. Rheumatism seems to be the cause of all her trouble.

Patron's Day was held here on Wednesday, February 16, with only a few present. A short program was prepared for the day after which a lunch was served. Miss Stewart gave us an interesting speech which was enjoyed by all.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT

There are some famous pedestrians in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Duffy were in Charlevoix on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott called at the Webb home at Ironton last Sunday.

Eight people of this neighborhood walked to Ironton to attend the services last Sunday.

Jack Jarline who has a position with the state highway department is home for a two weeks' vacation.

The children of the Mountain school had a valentine party. The older pupils made it and it consisted of songs, recitations, and a spell-down. Games were played and apples were then the refreshment.

BLACK SCHOOL NOTES

Tony Pokorney and Bessie Krehak were absent one day this week.

The primary pupils made valentines for their parents last week.

The pupils are having a good time skating on the pond noons and recesses.

We have finished the book "Pollyanna" for morning exercises this week.

The eighth grade is studying Enoch Arden. We have just finished the Gold Bug.

Last Friday, February 11, was celebrated in honor of Lincoln's birthday, with appropriate exercises.

The Black school attended a Valentine party at the Marion No. 5 school Monday afternoon, February 14. We enjoyed a sleigh ride going over and had a fine time at the party.

The afternoon was spent in playing games; the older grades from both schools playing volley ball in the basement while the younger pupils played pstairs. Then came the valentine box with lots of valentines for everyone, and refreshments served in the schoolroom. The pupils from the Black school started home at 4 o'clock. Everyone had a good time and we think the pupils of Marion No. 5 school are fine entertainers.

IRONTON

Cecil Ogden is on the sick list.

Mr. Webb who was on the sick list is improving.

C. W. Reber of Petoskey spent a few days in Ironton fishing.

The farm bureau will meet at the Grange hall Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mrs. Joe Clarke gave a shower at the Hummond home Saturday for Miss Anna Berry. A dozen ladies were present at the fine lunch that was served.

CLARKE DISTRICT

Mrs. Ed. Potter visited at the Warner home last Tuesday.

Dr. Hewitt and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jelliffe last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burns and Miss Charlotte Williams were visitors at the Ed. Boss home last Tuesday evening.

IMPROVED HIGHWAYS

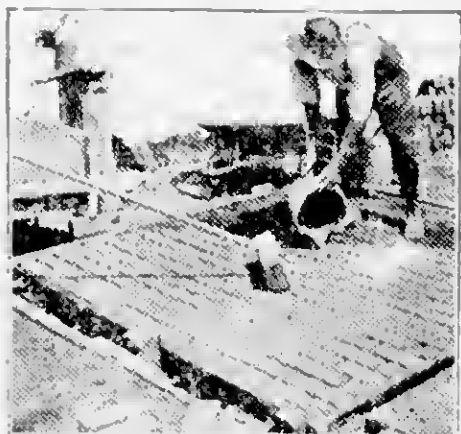

ADAMANT HIGHWAY IS NEEDED

Present Roads Won't Withstand Truck Traffic and Builders Must Plan Heavier Roads.

The time is near at hand when main line highways must be built more substantially than in the past, according to William A. Reish, chairman of the good roads committee of the Detroit Automobile club.

Because of the tremendous growth in commercial traffic on the highways the road builders must soon look ahead and plan for heavier roads.

The railroad strike, which caused industries and commercial houses throughout the country to resort to motor transport to move materials and finished products, helped to prove that our highways are inadequate as now constructed, said Mr. Reish. Even our most substantial roads showed the effects of this additional traffic and the more closely built thoroughfares began to deteriorate rapidly, in fact so fast that it was necessary for highway officials to exercise their rights under the state laws and limit the weight of loads.

The highways we have been building in recent years, even the permanent types are not heavy enough to carry the ever increasing commercial traffic. Engineers realize now that the roads must be considerably thicker or then at present and that they must be wider to give room for the additional vehicles being placed in service.

Another phase of the commercial traffic problem is that of tire equipment. It is going to be necessary to equip all trucks with pneumatic tires in order that the highways may be protected as much as possible. The pneumatic tire gets away from the constant pounding that is evident with solid tires. They absorb the shock on winter low mileage, and thereby save the pavement from the pounding of the heavy load and give longer life to the mechanism of the vehicle.

Experience is the only teacher and experience has shown to all the big road engineers of the country the folly of building a road road too light. The surfaces must be thicker in order to stand the shock of the heavy load passing over them.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

A Portland man, 81 years old, has in all his life spent only 50 cents on the repair of his teeth, and the whole act is still in excellent condition. He has never favored his teeth he says—except that he never took a chew of tobacco, smoked a cigar or drank a drop of liquor—but has used them on many occasions to bend wire and crack nuts. The "Bite-a-Nail" and the "Crack-a-Hickory-Nut-Every-Day movement" are expected to take the encouragement from the report.

When a Burr Oak man was struck by a train and knocked unconscious, his first words upon reviving were, "Where is my meerschaum pipe, the one I have used all my life?" and he refused all ministrations until the article was uncovered from the ditch. And yet there are some sentimentalists who claim that the dog is the most faithful animal!

It is said that 816 prisoners—a greater number than are now confined with the walls—have been released from the Ionia reformatory on parole during the past two years and that fully 25 per cent of those released violate the orders of the parole. It is barely possible that in some reformatories reform should begin at home.

For a newspaper man, this fellow must be rather nervous and easily disturbed. "Fred Withrow, of the advertising department," says C. D. M. in the Muskegon Chronicle, "came down the other morning, yesterday, we believe it was, complaining because he had to get up before six o'clock. When asked if he was sick, he simply replied, 'Oh, no, the firemen came up there and made so much noise I couldn't sleep. The roof burned off our house.'"

A citizen of Grand Ledge, visiting in Lansing, stepped inside the ropes where a building was being wrecked, when a policeman, noticing his full and flowing beard, suspected him of being a bolshevist, bent on mischief and hustled him to the police station. However, on closer examination of his beard, they found there was nothing in it.

"If all the farmers of these parts," says the Herald Times, of West Branch, "could get a dog like Teddy the canine with the human brain, they wouldn't be worried much about hired men and extra hands. Teddy is the only breathing soul that can make a cow do what it doesn't want to do." Still, take a good hired man that has been caught early and taught to hark and snap at a cow's heels, and we wouldn't trade him for any dog alive.

"The G. A. R. veteran, as usual, began his speech with a few reminiscences of the Civil War, and gradually worked his way through the succeeding periods of our history. One idea led to another until he finally hit upon the subject of graft.

"Graft is everywhere," he roared. "You will find it in our big business, in our senate, in our house of representatives—you will find it in our educational system." A pause and a hasty glance at his watch. "Ladies and gentlemen, I take pleasure in introducing to you Mr. Blank of the University of Michigan."

New Price on Fordson Tractors

$665.00

Delivered to Your Farm

"This price change has been made possible through lower costs of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new Tractor Plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore, giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased in being able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit within the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the FORDSON Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement made in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of land more productive, and consequently our desire to place the FORDSON within the reach of all."

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Dear Mr. Hewitt—I read with interest your explanation of the soul in the Courier of January 26, 1921.

Question: We are taught that the soul of man is immortal. How do you harmonize this with Eze. 18:4, and 1 Tim. 6:15-16, which teaches that only the righteous have immortal souls?—H. H.

A. In the passage to which you refer, Paul is expounding to Timothy the doctrine upon which rest the salvation of the people under his charge, and that the only source for their redemption; for God "only hath immortal life." God hath power to destroy immortal man, or he hath power to save.

Q. Dear Doctor Hewitt—At a public gathering recently the question arose as to what church you belonged, or what denomination. Would you mind telling me? Can a man belong to church and chew tobacco and play pool?—R. H. P.

A. I am a member of one church and an honorary member of another and hold credentials that when presented will permit me to work in any church of my choice. I love any church that preaches Jesus Christ and Him crucified. But inasmuch as I prefer to be classed as a common layman, living in the little burg of Charlevoix, I shall refrain from answering your question at this time. I count it just as much a privilege to be a resident of Charlevoix as when I was a resident of Chicago, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, Detroit, Tampa, Florida, or any other city in which I have lived and labored. Yes, a man can belong to church and chew tobacco, and play pool, but he would be a dirty church member and not a Christian. Can you imagine what kind of a church member a man would be who went about squirting tobacco juice, or who inhabited a pool room where foul-mouthed language is a common occurrence. Please read Rev. 22:11; 1 Cor. 7:1; James 1:21-25.

Dear Doctor Hewitt—What relationship does humanity sustain to God before we become the sons and daughters by regeneration or the new birth?

2. What is your opinion in reference to the second coming of Jesus Christ, as some say as we saw Him go away so shall we see Him come again. Would we think that He himself (Gen. 3:5) and to lay out his life at his own will and pleasure. This is in great contrast to prayer, "Give us this day our daily bread," which acknowledges a constant dependence on God. The Father granted the son's request, because he would not keep him at home against his will. The only true freedom is a freedom in God, all else being bondage to sin. Serving God is serving one master, but to depart from Him is to become a subject to the natural passions, which are many masters. After deciding to go away from home, a little while is spent in reflecting before actually setting out. This is the spiritual history of one who says that there is no God, and that he will set up an opinion for himself. His conduct is compared to that of men who forsake the fountain of living waters for broken cisterns that hold no water. (Jer. 17:13) In the long (six months) dry season of Palestine, a good cistern is very valuable, but a broken one is an infinite contrast to a fountain of sweet waters. The wanderer feels free at last. Free to think and act, but without sufficient knowledge or wisdom to avoid errors and shun vices, and the inevitable result was disaster. The famine in the land where the young man had wasted his fortune found him unprovided for evil days and therefore increased his misery. The Spirit famine among those who deny the existence of God means a want of truth, sincerity and love—the true nourishment of the soul. The love and care of parents and relative domestic affections, and the friendship of neighbors were absent, leaving the soul hungry—famishing. One other fact is noticed and which is as true now as it was then: when the young prodigal had spent his last piece of money, not one of those who had joined him in wasting his substance would lift a finger to help him in his need. Such boon companions in riotous living are the first to take themselves off when the prodigal's money is spent. He "joined himself to a citizen of that country," probably means that he tried to frame a new system of faith and belief in his apostate condition. To one who has been brought up in "fear of the Lord" the change to unbelief after maturity is literally wasting spiritual inheritance and substance, and the attempt to reconcile one's self to the new surroundings is difficult indeed. The temptation to "arise and go to my father" was irresistible, when he remembered how happy and contented he was when under the care of his spiritual father and possessed of riches of faith and belief. But the resolution to return was not taken until he had tried to reconcile himself to the ways of the world by entering into its service. This may mean that he entered into business because familiar with the ways craftily men succeed, the subtle snares that they lay for the unwary, the deceptions, frauds, and mean petty crimes that they practice who are bent upon accumulation of money, right or wrong, and that these are the husks that the swine feed upon. To fill the belly or the bank with husks is not to increase the riches of the soul. The man or the woman who grind dollars out of poor, hard working, starving humanity, does not grow in spiritual riches, of truth, honor, brotherly love, or charity. Such a person is indeed a citizen of "that far-off land," for away from the Heavenly Father's Home of love, grace, purity, and joy. A citizen of that country of apostasy is compelled to associate with those who delight—or at least pretend to delight—in speaking disrespectfully of all that was once held precious and lovely in the church. God and the angels, love and mercy, and all spiritual things are constantly held up to scorn and ridicule. Such revilings are the husks from which the kernel of life, truth and love has been stripped; and the more the soul tries to grow of such stuff, the more miserable it is, for the bondage becomes intolerable; it increases every moment. See Hahakuk 11:5, "enlargeth his desire as hell, and as death, and cannot be satisfied." Such a fall so low in guilt and misery, is an extreme case, but possible to any soul after the first downward step. Many poor souls are in a similar condition as that of the prodigal feeding of the husks of the devil, while Jesus is lovingly calling return to "my Father's house," where there is plenty—love, friendship, and at last a home in eternity for you, that is bright and fair, where your Heavenly Father is waiting to welcome you. John 14:1-3.

Q. My dear Doctor Hewitt: I don't think you realize the good you are accomplishing. I but recently came into a store where a group of men were earnestly discussing your writings. The readers of the Courier are thinking of spiritual things as they never thought before. My children are rather indifferent to religion—it grieves me, Doctor, what in your opinion is the best way to train a child to become a Christian? Why are so many children wayward, attend dances, and seem to have a desire to follow the ways of the world, when they have been brought up differently? Can you explain why teachers in Sunday school, professed Christians, have children who seemingly show no respect for religion? I shall appreciate your answer.

A. I have carefully investigated many families such as you refer to and to the majority of cases I find the trouble lies with the parents themselves. While it was true they had their names on the church books, they professed to be Christians, they gave liberally to the church, they had no family altar; they never gathered their little flock of dear souls about them and prayed to Jesus to guide their little footsteps in the way of righteousness; they could pray so loud in the church that they could be heard a block away, but the home, Oh, the home, the dearest spot in all the world; "Home Sweet Home," how Jesus was neglected in the home. I cannot refrain from asking you this question: Brother, is your home solid for Jesus; do you love Him? The study of an unfolding life at any time in its development always reveals two supreme facts; possibilities peculiar to that period, and self activity. The first principle of development combines these two supreme facts and gives us our nearest approach to a definition. "Life is a bundle of possibilities and self activities." Every possibility in life, unless it die out, must develop either upward or downward, toward the best or the worst. This development, whether in a plant or a boy depends upon what is given the life to work with and the use that is made with it, or, stated in more dignified terms, the development is a result of influences that come into a life and the response made to them by activity. Just as truly as physical life is nourished by life, so is the mental and spiritual. Standards of living, ideas, a sense of values, opinions, do not come from text books but fathers and mothers. A little child was heard to say, "What my mamma says is so, whether it is true or not." One writer has said, "God could not have Jesus in person everywhere, so he just made mothers." Growing out of this power of environment comes the problem of all philanthropic and religious work—how to overcome the influence of harmful surroundings. The need is obvious when the surroundings are vicious, yet the home does not need to be in the slums to injure a growing life. It only needs to be Christless. This may seem a very radical statement, but it is nevertheless true. Arresting the highest development is as truly an injury as giving a life wrong direction. Has not a plant been positively injured when its most beautiful possibilities are unrealized because of unfavorable conditions? The highest service permitted a Sunday school teacher is to pray effectually for the brooding spirit to rest upon the pupils of his class. The mother can do nothing which shall mean so much for the precious life in her arms as learning herself the secret of prevailing prayer, for, "If we ask anything according to His will He heareth us," and if we know that He heareth us, whatsoever we ask, we know we have the petitions which we have asked of Him." Therefore "O Lord, "Teach us to pray." A child will drink in the impressions which have the divine element. What they speak to the child only God knows. The picture of the "Good Shepherd," of "Jesus blessing little children," of the "Madonna and Child," perform their silent ministry to the young soul. In the eventide of a Sabbath day, a father was seated at the piano, while the two older children stood near, and a wee one of two and a half years listened from his mother's arms. The songs used in the Sunday school were sung one after the other, and then came the baby voice, "Papa, sing about God." Do you mean "Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord," he asked. "Yes, Daddie," was the answer, and in the hush of twilight the worship of the children blended with the angels, and who shall say they did not behold the Father's face?

SHALL THE U. P. DESERT MICHIGAN?

"Honestly now, were it up to you to decide, would you detach the upper peninsula from Michigan and make it a part of Wisconsin?" remarks the Houghton Mining Gazette.

Of course not.
The Herald-Lender believes that the "old song," "Michigan, My Michigan" has an increased depth of meaning to Michiganders, especially since the Badger state has had her hooks out for the Upper Peninsula, even in the face of the fact that the peninsula north of the straits has been occasionally slighted by the big end of the state below Mackinaw. We are all Wolverines up here and we intend to remain Wolverines in spite of the claim that somebody, a hundred years ago or so made a mistake in the map.

The Gazette then discusses the situation as follows:

"Even admitting that geographically the U. P. is closer to Wisconsin and is cut off from the lower peninsula by the straits of Mackinaw, you would not, if you are an average, loyal citizen of Michigan, vote for separation.

"In the first place sentiment would enter into your decision. You are a Michigander through and through by birth or by adoption. You are pleased to call Michigan your home; you are proud of the traditions and the strong industrial, agricultural and commercial position of this grand old state; in short, you love it.

"We are separated from the lower peninsula by the straits, it is true, and it is a long round about way to the seat of the state government, yet sectional lines no longer are drawn. There has grown up between the two peninsulas a strong attachment and an understanding not unlike that between twins; in fact, we are twins, and although one is bigger and stronger than the other no undue advantage is taken of the weaker member. We may differ at times as twins do, but underneath it all is a close association in spirit and purpose that cannot be denied.

"Yes, we are strong for old Michigan. And so are you. We have talked a lot about separation and building up a state of Superior of our own or of becoming a part of Wisconsin, but that's idle talk. Right down in our hearts we are not enthused over the joint resolution introduced in the Wisconsin legislature proposing that the 15 counties of the upper peninsula be asked to break away from Michigan and affiliate with the Badger state. We are, in fact, almost appalled by the very suggestion that we quit old Michigan.

"We do a lot of grumbling now and then, but there is friction at times in the best of families. But through long association we have come to understand each other's basic conditions and problems and seldom do we fail to ultimately arrive at satisfactory conclusions or agreements.

"We have our place politically in Michigan and in the affairs of state. Right now we have two important state offices, that of auditor general and attorney general, and representation on various boards and commissions as well. We have our proportionate share of political advantages and that alone speaks volumes of the lower peninsula's attitude towards us. Our state institutions are as carefully provided for, in accordance with their needs, as any in lower Michigan, and our schools and system of trunk line highways have received liberal consideration. We are in fact as well as in name a part of Michigan.

"And what advantage would be gained by becoming a part of Wisconsin? For many years it would be disadvantageous to us rather than otherwise. The groundwork would have to be done all over again. We would have to cultivate our friendships and form new associations.

It would take a long time to reach that degree of understanding we now have with the lower peninsula. And it would be a long time before we could assume our rightful place in Wisconsin affairs.

"Desert old Michigan? It would be too much like the breaking of home ties."

THE BELOVED LINCOLN

A story is told of Lincoln that one day about the time he was being defeated by Douglas for the United States senate, a stranger, carrying a gun, approached him on the village street and exclaimed:

"Hey, look out there, I'm going to shoot you!"

"Why shoot me?" drawled the somewhat surprised Lincoln.

"Cause," came the answer, "the man who gave me this gun said that if ever I found a man homelier than myself to shoot him."

"Well shoot away," replied Lincoln "If I am homelier than you I ought to be shot."

While the anecdote may be characterized as hyperbole, it does illustrate the Lincolnian trait of using comedy to strangle tragedy.

Even while a victim of the direst poverty, Lincoln learned the value of a smile and this together with the attribute of thrift, the latter learned in his early years because of its compelling necessity, he took with him to the White House where the seclusion of the backwoods gave way to fame which claimed the admiration of the world.

Lincoln's life an success, predicted on simple, sane, thrifty habits is an inspiration that ought to do much to counteract the spendthrift spirit of today.

"Individuals, like nations must make temperate use of the moment and foresee the exigencies of the future," said this most beloved of all Americans.

There is every reason why we should just now heed his advice; why we should determine to save regularly, spend intelligently and invest wisely. No safer or happier start along this line could be made than to systematically put a part of our income into government saving securities; thrift stamps, or treasury savings certificates—interest paying, value-increasing securities, safer than virgin gold because they are backed by all resources of the government saved to America and the world by Abraham Lincoln.

The latest decree of fashion is that enrrings shall be worn, from which doubting males may still be assured that women still have ears.

That's a good idea to exempt the president from the income tax. Any body condemned to that job deserves every cent he gets.

With Mr. Mellon head of the United States treasury, maybe the government will take its turn and cut an occasional melon.

More respect would be due to young Mr. Bergdoll if he had gone to Germany before the war.

It may be that prohibition has saved the country a billion dollars or so, but who got it?

DEATH CAUSED BY HEART FAILURE

Mrs. Sarah Squires Will be Buried at Kalamazoo

Sarah Shields was born in Antrim county, Ireland, 68 years ago and died February 23, 1921, after a brief illness, from heart failure.

When about three years of age, she with her parents came to America settling in Genesee county, New York state. In 1863 the family moved to Kalamazoo county where she lived until her marriage to Robert C. Squires of this city in 1865. Deceased was a member of the Catholic church and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John McHugh and Mrs. Mary Albertson, both of Kalamazoo, and one brother, Hugh Shields of Dexter, Michigan, from a family of eleven.

Funerals will be taken to Kalamazoo Friday for burial.

Kingstehen an Ancient City.

Kingstehen is one of the four largest towns of China. Technically it is not a city. It is a town, because it has no wall. In reality it is a busy industrial city, with a population of 300,000. Two-thirds of the people are directly engaged in the manufacture and sale of porcelain and pottery. Historically it dates back to the Han dynasty, 200 A. D. It is during this period that we find the first records of the production of porcelain in China, though earthenware vessels were probably produced some centuries earlier.

Norwood Residents Protest Against Change

Norwood and vicinity was well represented at the road meeting called by the county road commissioners, held at the court house on Saturday last.

The meeting was called to discuss the proposed change in the route of the federal aid road running south to the county line, the change leaving Norwood out entirely.

The subject was thoroughly covered and Norwood residents and property owners, almost to a man, put up a vigorous protest against the change of route.

The matter still remains in the air and another meeting at a future date will be called.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The Women Who Won Suffrage
In the early days of the Woodrow Wilson administration, visiting delegations of women demanding the right to vote, were given scant consideration at the White House. Even Mr. Bryan, then in high favor as premier cabinet officer, expressed little interest, and on one occasion said that "the country isn't ready to take up this issue." The persistent women who finally "got in" to see President Wilson were told that "Their issue was a matter for the states." Finally the national organization split in two factions, and among the group of "conservatives" who continued to remain patient with the dilatory politicians in administrative circles and in Congress, were the followers of Anna Howard Shaw and her successor, Mrs. Cotti. The "militant" group organized independently and under the leadership of Miss Alice Paul, took up the challenge of President Wilson to "concent public opinion," by picketing the White House one hour later. These women were dragged through the streets of Washington, thrown into prison, went on hunger strikes and were called all the vile names in the lexicon of unkind words for flaunting their banners in the capital and other public places. But through it all they remained fairly sweet.

But when the day of success and triumph came, the "militants" were recognized as the head of the movement, and little has been heard of the "conservatives." Alice Paul, who a year ago was called "a little slip of a woman," "an agitator," and things like that, was recognized by the powers that appointed the inaugural committees and similar important bodies. She seems, very suddenly, to have become like "the stone the builders refused, the headstone of the corner."

The other day a suffrage memorial to the three pioneers of the women's movement in the United States—Susan B. Anthony, Lucretia Mott, and Elizabeth Cady Stanton, was unveiled in the rotunda of the capitol of the United States. It was one of the most impressive ceremonies in the history of the entire women's movement, and it marked what is perhaps the final acceptance of the success of women's suffrage by the highest officials of the nation. Alice Paul and her followers, now swelled in numbers by reason of their successes, were the undisputed heads of suffrage representation in that great ceremony.

Washington, which hooted the "militants" now goes to tea and dinner at their headquarters, and admits that the meals are "fine." Suffragists who held aloof in the old days have concluded that Miss Paul's group should be "eulogized," and they seek to be included in the affairs of the National Women's party.

On the other hand the magnificent headquarters of the "conservatives" presided over by Mrs. Catt and her friends, has been closed, and the women have left the capital. Even the men in Congress who made the long-winded speeches about these women "hurting suffrage" are now saying, "You've got to hand it to them, they won."

Holding European Credits
The United States Treasury apparently acquired the habit of lending money to European nations during the war, and the Europeans evidently have grown to believe that there is a never-failing supply of American cash to be had for the asking. The Senate has told the Secretary of the Treasury that it disapproves of his purpose to add additional billions to the nine billions that has already been supplied to Europe. The same inquisitive Senate has been asking embarrassing questions that have brought out the fact that the Europeans are not paying either interest or principal on their loans; and at least one Government has suggested to the United States that all the indebtedness be cancelled—in other words, donated to them. The facts brought out also disclose that the Kerensky regime in Russia was loaned $416,000,000. Ever since Russia "popped," the Russian embassy has been kept up, and their minister has been supplied with lots of money, doubtless sent in from the United States treasury.

Those who accuse the United States with deserting its ideals for which we went into the war are still willing to admit that we continue to be over-generous with our dollars, particularly in view of the upset industrial and economic conditions at home. It is suggested that our financial policy with these foreign countries does more credit to the heart than the head of Secretary Houston and those who agree with his policy.

Seeking to Extend Rural Credit

Congress has given a lot of attention to means of extending credits to farmers, and one of the methods that it will be sought to pass next session is embodied in similar bills introduced by Representative McFadden in the House and Senator Kenyon in the Senate. These bills provide for the creation of two corporations by special Federal charters, namely, a rural credit society and a general insurance league.

The credit society would consist of one central bank with $25,000,000 capital to be furnished by the government without interest, and to be returned from the sinking fund created by the bill. There would be 48 branches, one for each state, with a capital of $50,000 dollars each, to be furnished by the insurance company accepting such Federal league charter. This stock would pay 6 per cent cumulative dividend and become a guaranty against the loss of the capital furnished by the government.

Farmers may organize any number of community associations, or "communes," with not less than seven members each. The "commune" stock will be in shares of $5 each and owned by farmer-members only. The members' interests will be represented by this "commune" stock instead of deposits and thus avoid the expensive machinery of deposit banking and broaden the market for productive farm credit paper.

Provision is made for commissionaires to negotiate with one of the six largest life insurance companies to induce one of them to accept the Federal charter and invest $7,500,000 in the credit society and elect its auditor and deputy auditors.

Uncle Sam Voices Optimism

The Federal Reserve Board in a statement just issued says that "better conditions in business have been manifesting themselves during the past month. They have been most obvious in the field of banking and finance. They have, however, also been of decided significance in industrial lines." The statement observes that while the process of readjustment is not complete, "it has proceeded far enough in a number of branches of business to prepare the way for new constructive work." Another significant paragraph in the resume of affairs says that retailers throughout the country "have undertaken to transfer to their customers some part at least of the benefit arising from reductions in cost at the point of production."

Impeaching Landis

A lot of good copy has been furnished the newspapers by reason of the impeachment of proceedings initiated in Congress against Federal Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, of Chicago. Landis first came into prominence by his $20,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil many years ago. Since that time he has remained in the limelight. It was his sentence of Victor Berger, the Milwaukee socialist and rejected congressman, that was set aside by the supreme court one month ago. Some people believe that Landis is erratic—anyway he seems the storm center of sensational happenings such as other Judges avoid.

His present principal offender is apparently based upon superficial affairs, and there is not much likelihood that the impeachment proceedings will get very far in Washington.

Party Postmasters

Republican politicians in Congress are looking for "ways and means" to pry loose the hold of Democratic postmasters throughout the country. The talk one hears in the Capitol is to the effect that the democrats have worked the "merit" system to such an extent that they have perpetuated members of their political faith in charge of the postoffice machinery of the country. But there is a big force in the new administration that desires to distribute plums among the faithful. In consequence postmaster-ships may not be regarded as a wholly sure thing.

Harvester Company Brands Story False

DURING the past month, reports have come to us that at farmers' meetings charges have been made, sometimes directly and sometimes indirectly, that this Company has adopted a policy of refusing to supply repair parts for old machines in order to compel the purchase of new ones. This statement is absolutely false. Such a policy has never been considered by this Company nor suggested to it.

Ordinarily we ignore such reports, because we have learned that any large company, no matter how fair and high principled, is subject at all times to unjust criticism. The facts are this Company has always recognized the importance of repair service and has used every effort to make IHC service the best. We believe we can truthfully say that the repair service furnished wherever this Company's goods are sold is equal if not superior to that furnished on any manufactured line.

We call attention to the fact that machinery "Fix-up Weeks," instead of being something new and originated by the farmers in 1921, as some seem to think, were really an outgrowth of the movement started by manufacturers and dealers' associations in connection with the Council of National Defense as a war conservation measure. Perhaps no other agency has done so much to promote "National Repair Weeks" as this Company.

The farmer needs machines which will be efficient and economical. If his old machines can be repaired so as to render efficient and economical service, he would be foolish to purchase new ones. Whether the farmer utilizes and repairs his old machines or buys new ones is a question for him to determine. But in making his decision, we give to every farmer who owns any IHC machines the assurance that a full stock of repair parts will always be provided by this Company.

Today, our repair stocks on the territory available for the farmers are 21 per cent greater than ever before at this time of the year. An average of a quarter million pounds of repairs are shipped from IHC factories for every working day in the year. Thirty million dollars' worth of repair parts are now ready, as insurance for the farmer when he needs this service.

In every International Harvester Works manufacturing orders call for repair parts first and even when furnishing them has meant cutting down production of new machines for which we had orders, repairs have always had preference.

At every one of our 91 branch houses trained men are on duty to see that all orders are filled and shipped promptly. Thousands of dealers scattered everywhere with an assortment of repairs in stock are always ready and willing to render every assistance.

This service which this Company has rendered through the years to those who have purchased its machines has been a matter of great pride to the Company, and is the foundation of the cordial good-will existing between it and its customers.

We feel it is due the Company and those who have purchased its machines that we give the widest publicity to the fact that this service of repairs will be maintained and improved, and that any charges to the contrary are untrue.

Why Advertising Pays

If people did not move away and some die—
If new generations did not grow up—
If competitors did not compete—
If people were not receptive to new ideas—
Then—
And only then—
Would there be no need for advertising.
Because of changing business conditions—
Fluctuations in wages—
And the natural aggressiveness and progressiveness of the normal man—
He is your prospective buyer today who could not use or afford your product yesterday.

These were the reasons pointed out recently by a well known sales manager of a large corporation on why it is imperative that advertising be CONSISTENT AND REGULAR.

ELLSWORTH

Miss Wieland of Detroit is expected home some time this week.

J. M. Elzinga was called to Cadillac on business the first of the week.

Mrs. A. L. Ely and Mrs. William Cole were Petoskey visitors the first of the week.

M. R. Nelson and daughter were in Charlevoix on business Tuesday of this week.

Don't forget the Grand Barbecue at Ellsworth, Thursday, August 4th. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Chellis entertained the Grange at their home on Tuesday of this week.

Rev. Sturk has been at Brethren, Michigan, for the past ten days assisting at special meetings.

Claude Fairman arrived from Chicago last week and is settled for the summer on his farm north-east of town.

Mrs. Richard Dennis and little son of Detroit are spending a few days with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Isaac Tornga is at home again after a visit of several weeks with friends at Grand Rapids and Holland.

Notices are out for the regular township caucuses which will be held at the Blue Store Hall on Tuesday, March 4, 1921.

Wully Dean of Petoskey arrived the first of the week to spend a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Denn.

William Cole is so much improved from the effects of his recent operation that it is expected that he will be brought home some time this week.

The box social given by the basket ball team at the Blue hall last Friday night was a financial success and the proceeds will be used for basket ball paraphernalia.

Reports of overturned silos and windmills and of broken windows came in thick and fast after the windstorm of last Thursday. Other silos and windmills were saved by being anchored with chains and cables, thus saving them from destruction.

The township has finished graveling on the East Jordan road and Charlevoix will finish some time this week. This will complete the first course of gravel from Ellsworth to the LaLonde hill with the exception of two or three short stretches which must have more grading before gravel can be placed.

Miss Ethel Smith and her Sunday school class were entertained at the J. Horrenga home on Tuesday evening of last week and on Friday evening about thirty ladies gathered at the same place for a farewell party for Mrs. Fanny Fisher. The evening was pleasantly spent in visiting and games and Mrs. Fisher was presented with a beautiful library table as a token of the esteem in which she is held in this vicinity.

ANTRIM CITY

(Too late for last week)

Mrs. Brooks is on the sick list this week.

Logan McDowell had his wood buzzed Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simon were visiting at F. Brooks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Stoll and family were visiting at C. L. Stott's Saturday night.

Clyde McGuire and Logan McDowell worked for Frank Mason one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumbach and family were visiting at her sister's, Mrs. Brower, at Eastport, Sunday.

Miss Grace Brooks and Miss Hazel Williams and Lester Brooks and Earl Baumbach were visiting at L. McDowell's Sunday.

Town Without Streets

The smallest dependency of France is the Ile d'Orléans, situated at the east of Belle Isle. Its population is 238, and the people do not speak French, but Celtic. Fishing is the principal industry, and all the inhabitants are provided with food at an inn managed by women. The town has no streets and the houses are mostly of mud.

ATWOOD

Maurice Henry bought two cows of Albert Brower.

Percy Empey sold a horse to Jake Youngdye last week.

Miss Lena Poll had a slight attack of pleurisy last week.

S. Bystra bought a team of colts of J. N. Empey of Norwood.

John Heeres bought a horse of Andrew Essenberg last week.

Ed. Hoffman of Zerland, Michigan, is visiting relatives here at present.

Abe Nowland has rented his place on shares to S. Bystra and son Cyrus.

J. Van Houten butchered a beef and Paul De Vries sold one last week.

Rev. Beute from Ellsworth will occupy the pulpit in the Holland church next Sunday.

A. W. Hartwell will be showing us dust soon. He has had his car overhauled and will be getting it from Ellsworth soon.

J. De Groot was in this locality Friday looking up cattle for his pasture for next season and also contracting for the purchase of some.

A bee of about ten of Gerrit Essenberg's neighbors helped him put the roof back on his chicken coop which had blown off during the windstorm of last Wednesday.

A basket ball game between Ellsworth and Atwood scheduled for March 4th will be played and it is hoped that the result will be a better game than the last one.

John Hoffman had the misfortune to lose a good horse while disking on the road last Wednesday. The horse severed an artery on a broken tile in a culvert and bled to death in a few hours.

At the Congregational meeting held last Wednesday the people of the Holland church here chose Rev. Heeres from the trio selected. The call has been extended him and everyone hopes he will accept.

The neighbors of George Parsons got together last Friday and filled the ice-house at his place. It will be used to keep the folks cool and for ice cream next summer. If we don't get ours filled we'll know where to get some.

Spring will soon be here and some of the farmers have already engaged their help for next summer. If nothing prevents Peter Berens will work for John Hoffman, Jake Essenberg and Jake Veenstra for Albert Elzinga, and John Heeres will work for his brother Jim Heeres again.

MILES DISTRICT

Little Jamie Addis has the chicken pox.

Clarence LaLonde went to Green River on business Saturday.

Alfred Raymond of Boyne City was a guest at the Moblo home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dett Evans are receiving a visit from their daughter of Detroit.

Miss Henrietta Ter Wee left for Grand Rapids last Thursday for an indefinite stay.

Miss Catherine Moblo of Charlevoix spent the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo. Miss Esther LaLonde is now visiting in Charlevoix at the home of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Withers.

Lawrence Addis who is attending the East Jordan high school was absent last week on account of illness.

Dr. Dicken of East Jordan was called to see Mrs. John Ter Wee who was ill last Tuesday. She is better at this writing.

The people in this neighborhood were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Wellington Baker in Ranney District last week.

Mrs. Eugene Miles and Mrs. Nellie Miles and baby Donald went to Alba Friday to visit their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Berenson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elshos and children of Grand Rapids have come to work on the farm of Mrs. Elshos brother, Mr. Geerdink. They are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ter Wee until their goods arrive.

RANNEY SCHOOL NOTES

We have made several posters for our hot lunch club.

We are proceeding nicely with our exhibit work for the contest next spring.

We will indulge in a little reading in honor of George Washington, Tuesday.

Leona Smith, Garth McKeage, and Russell Crawford have been neither absent nor tardy during the term.

Garth McKeage was given a surprise party on his eleventh birthday Friday last. A pot-luck supper was enjoyed.

The hot-lunch-club has recently purchased a new range. We don't agree with an oil stove—or else it doesn't with us.

Township school day will be held at South Arm Grange hall May 27, 1921. Everybody come and see the South Arm graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy will leave for Grand Rapids Wednesday, February 23, where they will visit the brother of Mrs. Murphy.

A dance is to be held at the South Arm Grange hall March 4, 1921, for the benefit of the hot lunch club of the Ranney school. Everybody come. Don't forget the date—Friday, March 4.

Mrs. Wellington Baker passed away at her home in this vicinity February 15, 1921. Death followed a brief illness. Funeral services were held at the house; burial in Jones cemetery.

The girls' sewing circle, under the supervision of Mrs. Waterman, met with Sadie and Anna Murphy and tied off their quilt a week ago last Saturday. A good time was enjoyed by all present.

Elmer Baker, president of the club has been absent because of the death of his mother. Lyle Smith, vice-president has been busy calling special meetings to elect officers, decide about a stove, plan to raise money, etc.

You may think we have hot lunch on the brain. We haven't. We're working hard too. The 3rd grade is studying on the arithmetic chart. Leona Smith can go over a page of addition in 18 seconds. Leslie Burns of the 4th grade can multiply a page in 11 seconds.

For the following two weeks we have the following officers: Cooks, Bae Keat and Leslie Burns; Housekeepers, Leona Smith, Mrs. Burns, and Basil Crawford; Kitchen Inspector, James Handy; Water Carriers, Lydia Martin, Ladie Murphy, Marian McKeage, and Anna Murphy.

With the RED LINE round the top

More farmers are wearing Goodrich Rubber Footwear today than ever before.

The reason for this tremendous increase in users is simple—Goodrich wears longer than other footwear, and farmers have found it out. Naturally, when a man buys a pair of Goodrich "Hi-Press" and they last so much longer and are so much more comfortable, and so materially cut down that big footwear bill—he's going to tell his friends.

More and more farmers are finding out that Goodrich won't leak, peel or come apart—it can't, for it is made in One Solid Piece—that's the Goodrich way.

Look for the Red Line round the Top when you buy. 60,000 dealers are now selling Goodrich.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Shadowed but not eclipsed by the State G. O. P. convention at Detroit, the past week witnessed important legislative progress at Lansing. The 100 per cent republican Legislature quite naturally grew restless with the approach of the big party convocation and so after a busy session on Wednesday morning, the solons effected their legislative desks and effected a hasty departure for the G. O. P. Mecca at Detroit.

The first two reorganization bills providing for the creation of a state administrative board and for uniform auditing of claims against the state were advanced through general orders and third reading in the House on Wednesday morning.

The House amended both these bills, although it was generally understood that such action would delay these measures by requiring that they be sent back for the concurrence of the Senate in these amendments before they could be represented to the Governor for his signature. These bills are regarded as fundamental to the other reorganization measures now being held in various committees.

The first bill to pass both houses and to be signed by the Governor was the emergency measure introduced by Rep. Byrum of Kent empowering the Governor to call special elections in certain cases. This bill is intended primarily to provide the machinery for a special election in Kent county to fill the vacancy which now exists in the circuit judgeship due to the appointment of Judge Weist to the supreme bench.

The bill prohibiting the marriage of a girl under sixteen years of age was reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Judiciary, and a like action was taken by the Public Health Committee of the Senate in regard to the bill requiring a medical examination of every man applying for a marriage license and a physician's statement that he is free from venereal disease.

Two drastic "eugenic marriage" bills were introduced in the House during the past week. That submitted by Rep. Dunn of Detroit provides in part: "No application for a license shall be received by the county clerk unless it is accompanied with a certificate from a reputable licensed physician, of the same county in which such application is made, that he has made a physical and mental examination of both parties to the marriage and found them capable of contracting marriage." Rep. Coleman of Calhoun, besides demanding a physical and mental examination would require that a certificate from the State Board of Health showing that such persons mentally unsound.

Sen. Amos's bill relative to consolidation of rural schools passed 3rd reading in the Senate and was sent to the House for their action.

Mrs. Hamilton, feminine senator from Kent, introduced a bill to raise the maximum mill tax for school purposes in cities having from 100,000 to 250,000 population. This bill is intended to relieve the situation which has developed in Grand Rapids where there is not enough money available for paying the teachers and other running expenses of the schools.

One of the most sensational developments of the week in the Senate was the introduction of a resolution by Sen. Henry Calhoun, demanding a report from the committee that has had the construction of the State Office Building in charge as to just what has been done with the $1,750,000 which has previously been appropriated for this building.

In 1917 the Legislature appropriated $800,000 to build this building. Then a special session of the Legislature in 1919 appropriated $950,000 additional for its completion. Sen. Henry's resolution is occasioned by the proposal of an additional appropriation of $1,140,000 which it is stated is necessary to complete the structure. The resolution calling for this report was adopted.

A resolution favoring no tariff on the importation of Canadian lumber into the United States was introduced in the House by Rep. Hopkins of Manistee. This resolution is similar to one adopted by the delegates to the annual meeting of the state farm bureau.

Two bills providing for county health officers were introduced in the House. Rep. Read of Kalamazoo would make the appointment of such an officer optional with the board of supervisors. The state health department's version of the bill, introduced by Rep. Townsend of Jackson, would require the appointment of such local health officers in all counties having 20,000 or more population. Their salaries would range from $3,000 to $4,500 depending upon the population of the county.

Action of the Michigan State Farm Bureau in relinquishing all claim to the $3,000 appropriated by the last Legislature for the use of this organization during the current year was reported to the Legislature by Auditor General Fuller.

The second movie censor bill proposed in this session of the Legislature, introduced by Sen. Smith of St. Clair, would create the Michigan State Board of Censors, consisting of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and two of his assistants to censor all films stereopticon views and movie advertising.

The bill to provide state aid for fighting grasshoppers, backed by the state farm bureau, was reported favorably by the Senate committee on Agriculture.

Additional property to the value of $76,000,000 would be placed on the tax rolls by the passage of a bill introduced some time ago by Rep. Lord of Wayne, and favorably considered by the House committee of the Whole. This bill would repeal the present exemption from state taxation of bonds and securities issued by other states and by municipalities outside of Michigan. Rep. Lord stated that while $1,000 invested in agricultural land in Michigan would pay an annual tax of about $24, the same amount of money invested in foreign bond running for fifty years would pay only 33 1-3 cents tax per year.

Tuesday evening many of the legislators and their wives were guests of the girl students of the Michigan Agricultural College at a dinner prepared and served by the co-eds at the Women's Building. The money for this banquet was earned by the girls serving lunches during the recent Farmers' Week. The girls would like a new home economics laboratory and are making tactful advances toward the coffers of the state via the stomachs of the law-makers. It is reported that the solons returned to the state house very kindly disposed toward the girls and the college in general.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Evangelist Kennedy preached two excellent sermons last Sunday and conducted a special service during the session of the Sunday school at which a large number of children and young people went forward for instruction in beginning the Christian life. Mrs. Kennedy presided over a meeting of the girls in the afternoon; the girls present enjoyed a fine talk. It is expected that the special meetings will continue several nights next week.

Subject for this Thursday night, February 24th, is, "Both Sides of the Question." Sunday program as follows: morning subject, "The Heart of the Gospel." This sermon is said by many to be the evangelist's best sermon. Subject for Sunday night at 7 o'clock, "The Handwriting on the Wall." At 3 p. m. Dr. Kennedy will address men only on the subject, "The Devil's Boomerang." Boys over thirteen may come at the same hour. In the Congregational church Mrs. Kennedy will talk to women only on, "Gifts for Service." All women and girls over thirteen invited.

Rev. Henry Conder has discontinued the meeting at Barnard next Sunday afternoon and invited the Barnard congregation to attend the services at Charlevoix.

The mischievous girl will be on "The Train for Podunk." Watch for further announcement.—Adv. 811.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

We respectfully invite all those who do not worship elsewhere to the services next Sunday morning. You will find rest, strength, a cure for care, a help to carry the load and something worth while to think about and live for. Come and join in the songs and worship. The minister will speak on "Forgiveness" at 10:30. Church school at 12:00.

The monthly missionary program will be given during the opening exercises. The special offering is for work in the homeland and goes to the American Missionary Association which ministers to Negroes, poor whites, Indians, Mexicans, Chinese, Japanese and Porto Ricans. Our school is growing in interest and numbers. Every teacher and pupil come prepared to make it a banner Sunday.

If some people's liberty depended upon their character they would not be at large.

A man is only as good as he is when in a happy city.

No man is a stranger unless his conscience is his friend.

To be able to look into the mirror and have respect for the one you see there, is a great satisfaction.

Don't you know yourself that you live a life no one else knows anything about? You may fool the world and deceive your friends, but God knows you at your worst.

There is no place where you can hide your sin from God. Everybody has an inner life good or bad, and usually the good is on the outside.

SWINTON IS THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE

DEFEATS BENTON FOR OFFICE OF MAYOR

Real Fight was for Office of Supervisor in First and Third Wards: The Vote Cast

The question as to who would be the people's choice for mayor of Charlevoix was most definitely settled Wednesday, when the returns showed a majority of 252 for Dr. A. A. Swinton over his opponent, L. E. Benton. The vote for the three wards was Swinton 418, Benton 166.

In the wards little interest was shown in the contest other than for supervisor in the first and third. In the first, Andy Ross opposed D. F. Meech but was defeated by 13 votes. In the third, Charles Carey opposed E. B. Ward, and when the votes were counted lacked 32 votes to unseat his opponent.

In the second ward it is quite apparent that the voters have no use for newspaper men, at least when it comes to holding the office of alderman. If the "pen pushers" of this city had any idea that a sentiment prevailed here as in Ohio, they were most sadly mistaken. The vote when counted showed Bergeon 170, Adams 101—69 short.

H. L. Oldham and R. C. Hummet were elected for park commissioners and Empire Stites for justice of the peace. The vote cast in each ward follows:

SHERIFF CAPTURES ESCAPED PRISONER

Wanted for Robbery and Jail Breaking by Emmet Officials

George Near, who escaped from the Emmet county jail in 1920, has been retaken by Sheriff Will S. Purple at Ft. Pike, Arkansas. Near had enlisted in the army and was stationed at Ft. Pike when the Emmet county sheriff arrived upon the scene.

Near and Robert Johnson escaped from jail by sawing the window bars with a hack saw. At the time it was believed that they were given outside assistance, and an investigation of escape resulted in one arrest. Johnson was later recaptured by Charles E. Miller, who was sheriff at the time, but for some time no clue could be obtained as to the whereabouts of Near.

In order to obtain the custody of Near it was necessary to secure consent of the secretary of war to release the enlisted man to the civil authorities, and also to secure the proper extradition papers from Governor Groesbeck which would be honored by the governor of Arkansas. The legal formalities were successfully complied with, and Sheriff Purple is expected to land his man in the county jail early the coming week.—Potoskey Evening News.

WOLVERINE HAS ANOTHER MURDER

BODY OF JAMES PRATT FOUND IN FARM HOME

Autopsy Reveals Large Quantity of Poison in Man's Stomach—Money and Watch Gone

A still deeper mystery Thursday confronted officers investigating the finding of the body of James Pratt, 24-year-old Wolverine resident, in an old building on the Judson Quick farm near Wolverine.

Lying crumpled across a disheveled bed, one leg crooked around a bed post and his face plainly showing marks of agony in an apparent death struggle; a disordered room and a quantity of poison on a table near where he died, are said to lead to the belief that Pratt met with foul play.

Pratt had recently sold a farm for $140, and when last seen wore a valuable gold watch, both money and watch being missing when his body was found, it was stated to the Daily Tribune of Cheboygan last Thursday. Two pillows recently given him by a relative for his room were also missing, it is said.

Residents of Wolverine stated on Thursday that Pratt was last seen on Thursday, February 17. It is believed that he had been dead several days when his body was discovered.

An autopsy held shortly after Pratt was found, revealed a large quantity of poison in his stomach it is said.

Pratt was said to have had the cash for the sale of his farm and his watch on his person when last seen.

HYEK RESIDENCE

A TOTAL LOSS

House and Contents Burn in Brisk Night Fire

Fire during the early part of the evening of Wednesday of last week completely destroyed the home of Frank Hyek on Potoskey avenue, and its contents were also consumed in the flames.

The family were away at the time and the fire was discovered by neighbors who immediately gave the alarm but before the fire department could arrive on the scene the building was a mass of flames from lower floors to the roof.

A few pieces of furniture were removed, but a majority of the contents were burned, with practically all the clothing of members of the family.

The loss will fall heavily on Mr. Hyek and family as little insurance was carried.

Historical Meeting Postponed

The regular meeting of the Historical Society, which was to have been held this week, has been postponed and will be held the evening of March 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bridge.

Thursday evening, March 3rd is the date for the next fortnightly dance at the Bank hall. All who received invitations please note. 911

STATE PHONE SERVICE BETTER

MICHIGAN STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY MAKES REPORT

Greater Co-operation Between Employees and Company and Public Brings Results

Telephone service in Michigan has been brought up to pre-war standard, according to a report submitted to the shareholders of the Michigan State Telephone company by President Franz C. Kuhn, which has just been made public.

The improvement in service noted was due to the easing of material and labor conditions, greater co-operation among employees and between the public and the company, increased production per employee, and a more complete understanding on the part of the public of the company's problems, the report states.

A program of intensive training put into effect for the purpose of speeding up the furnishing of efficient switchboard forces was adopted during the year, materially aiding in bringing up the grade of service. The company now has, the report says, a very well trained and efficient force of sufficient size.

Judge Kuhn's report also says that it has been possible to meet, generally, all demands for service and that, except in a few sections of some of the larger cities, facilities are available or planned for the immediate future. The company was enabled during the year, to greatly improve the transmission on its long distance lines.

During the last year the company became completely a Michigan organization, with the transfer of its accounting and finance departments from Chicago to Detroit. The executive offices are now located in Detroit. Financial relief was brought about with the granting of increased rates. The benefits to the company of its licensee relationship with the American Telephone and Telegraph company was forcibly illustrated during the year the report also declares.

Improved public relations brought about through the efforts of the company to place its problems before its subscribers, was one of the factors in the raising of the standard of telephone service. Judge Kuhn's report notes the value of the company's newspaper advertising campaign in this respect and says that during the year visits were made by the public to central offices to view the handling of telephone traffic, while commercial representatives of the company personally interviewed more than 18,000 subscribers in all parts of the state.

Judge Kuhn says that the company faces the future with every confidence that it will be able to continue to give service of the present high grade. Wherever it is possible further improvements will be made, the ambition of the company and all its people being to furnish as nearly ideal service as possible.

HIGH SCHOOL TO STAGE OPERETTA

"Windmills of Holland" to be Produced Friday Night

Posters and other advertising material is being distributed announcing the production of a two-act operetta to be staged at the Palace Theatre Friday evening, March 4, at 8:15, entitled "Windmills of Holland." The net proceeds of this play are to be applied to the high school dramatic fund.

As the name implies, the operetta is a light, musical extravaganza, depicting scenes in Holland and quaint old Dutch costumes will be featured by those who portray the individual characters as well as those in the chorus.

The music is under the supervision of the music teacher, Miss Oliver and the staging by Mrs. Rotert. Every effort is being put forth to make the operetta a success, and Friday evening the citizens of Charlevoix, will be given an opportunity to witness as good a production as their city affords.

PATRON'S ASSN. IN RURAL DISTRICTS

EVERY DISTRICT PRACTICALLY ORGANIZED

New Organization a Combination of Former Organizations of a Like Nature

Through the splendid co-operation of the teachers and interested taxpayers of the school districts of the county, a new organization has been made possible in practically every district. This new organization is a combination of the old-time Mother's Club, The Parent-Teachers Association and the old-time Literary club and more nearly resembles the modern Community Center. The work of the club is that of the first two mentioned, namely, bringing the home and the school closer together. The ultimate aim of the club is better schools. The aim is to be sought through a better understanding of school problems both in the process of instruction and in the building and equipment provided, and through team work for better school laws.

The following list of presidents has been reported ready for work, each working in his or her own way to meet conditions in their respective districts: North Bay, Mrs. Fletcher; Horton Bay, Albert West; East Bay, John Willis; Boyne Falls, E. S. Stacks; Sudman School, not organized; Robinson school, report not yet received; Harmon school was without a teacher and not yet organized; Glem school, H. S. AMERICAN LEGION SUPPER MARCH 17

Local Legion Planning On Having Enjoyable Event

The date of the annual American Legion supper has been set for March 17, and the boys have their arrangements for the evening's entertainment well in hand.

While it cannot be definitely stated what these will be, Charlevoix residents can rest assured that everything will be done to make the evening a pleasant one.

Hundreds of people attended this social function last year and were more than pleased with the treatment received, and this year will be as good if not better than the last. Make your arrangements right now to attend. The boys are deserving of your patronage.

LANDIS SUBJECT TO UNJUST ATTACKS

Cheboygan Tribune Utters a Mouthful of Truths

A lot of 2x2 senttors, lawyers and would-be politicians who seek to have the spot-light turned on themselves are attacking Judge Landis in one way or another for his having accepted a job of cleaning up organized baseball. Impachment proceedings have started against the judge and he has been the target of this class of small fry ever since his name was first connected with baseball. If anything in our country needs the honorable judge in it, it is organized baseball, that must either have his influence to get it back in the good graces of the public or it will not be very popular the coming year. We hope congress takes every one of these dinky little insects out in the woodshed and spans them for their antagonism against the good old judge. The judge has been so clean and so far beyond suspicion and such a foe of the wrong in high places as well as the low that he is a menace to the rabble of sharks that have been picking the pockets of Uncle Sammy for years. We only wish there were more like the judge and less of that stripe that are attacking him.—Cheboygan Tribune.

CABINET COMPLETED BY DENBY

HUGHES, HOOVER AND HAYES PROMINENT MEMBERS

Denby's Appointment as Secretary of Navy Big Surprise—Hoover Selection Popular

President Harding announces the list of appointments to his cabinet as follows:

Secretary of State, Charles Evans Hughes, New York;
Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew Mellon, Pennsylvania;
Secretary of War, John W. Weeks, Massachusetts;
Attorney General, Harry M. Daugherty, Ohio;
Postmaster General, Will H. Hays, Indiana.

Secretary of the Navy, Edwin Denby, Michigan;
Secretary of Interior, A. E. Fall, New Mexico;
Secretary of Agriculture, Henry C. Wallace, Iowa;
Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, California.

Secretary of Labor, James J. Davis, Pennsylvania.

The appointment of Edwin Denby of Detroit as Secretary of the Navy, is a big surprise as his name had not been mentioned in connection with the appointment. It is not a known certainty whether he will accept or not and the same is true of all the other members except Secretary of State and Attorney General, but it is probable there is some sort of understanding between the President and those who have been selected.

Generally speaking, it can be regarded as a strong cabinet. Secretary of Labor, James J. Davis, is a banker but he was formerly a worker in a steel mill. Hoover's selection will of course be popular. We believe the consensus of opinion will be that President Harding has made no mistake.

WOOD RECOVERS STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

Found by Members of Detroit Police Force

H. B. Wood local agent for the Dodge car, received word last week from Detroit Police Headquarters that they had in their possession a Dodge touring car, bearing the numbers of a car stolen from Mr. Wood on the 5th of June, 1919.

Mr. Wood who had just returned to the city from an extended visit in Chicago, left for Detroit Friday to prove his ownership of the car. Word received later states the car was the one stolen from him, and that it is in very good condition.

The car was stolen while he was about to leave Detroit with a string of cars direct from the factory. From then to the time he received the information from the Detroit police, no trace of the car could be found, and it was probably hid somewhere in the city.

DEATH CAME AS A SURPRISE

FEW KNEW OF ILLNESS OF MRS. BELLINGER

Community Shocked at Announcement of Her Death Shortly After Noon Sunday

Sunday, shortly after the noon hour, and almost without warning, came the announcement of the death of Mrs. Eleanor Bellinger, wife of W. C. Bellinger of this city, at the Charlevoix hospital.

On the Sunday previous, Mrs. Bellinger went to the hospital for a slight operation, which took place the following day. Reports of her condition from time to time gave her friends the understanding that no serious results were anticipated. Up to Friday her condition was favorable when the change came which resulted in her death Sunday about 1:00 p. m.

Eleanor Greenaway was born in Howell, Michigan, September 1, 1880. She spent her girlhood days there, graduating from the Howell high school in 1899, and from the Ypsilanti State Normal in 1904.

During the years of 1905-6 she was principal of the Charlevoix high school and during the last year of her work here was married to W. C. Bellinger. Four children were born to them, Charles Edward, James Hilton, Wilma Eleanor, and Adeline Kitty. She is survived by her husband, four children, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greenaway of Fowler, Michigan, and three sisters, Mrs. Herbert McCutcheon of Detroit, Mrs. A. L. Fitch of Charlevoix, and Mrs. L. E. Birdsall of Fowlerville, besides numerous other relatives; and friends without number.

The funeral will be held from the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday afternoon at 3:00, Rev. Henry Candler, officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

The sympathetic heart of Charlevoix is turned this week to the saddened home. Stricken in the flower of her young womanhood, she who was so faithful and devoted a wife and mother, has been called, leaving broken hearted her devoted husband and four young children. A few days ago in apparent good health, happy and full of the joy of living, today resting in the long sleep, awaiting the Judgment Day. The entire city extends sincere sympathy for the sorrowing members of the family.

B. P. O. ELKS ELECT OFFICERS

Charlevoix Members of Order Attend Meeting

Somewhere near thirty members of Potoskey lodge No. 629, B. P. O. Elks, of this city attended the annual election of officers and supper at the Elks Temple in Potoskey Tuesday evening. Officers elected were: Richard E. Miller, Exalted Ruler, Charles J. Gray, Est. Leading Knight.

Henry C. Lindig, Est. Loyal Knight.

Harry L. Brimmer, Est. Lecturing Knight.

C. C. Eddy, Secretary, Eugene L. Rose, Treasurer, Albert Gruler, Tyler.

Lou S. Darling, Trustee for three years.

The election of officers took place in the lodge room after supper had been served to over three hundred members. Following this was a program covering over two hours, which furnished all the excitement needed to make the meeting a huge success.

An Evangelist's Viewpoint

By W. A. ("Billy") Sunday

There is a disposition to gauge prophecy of the future by financial, social and industrial measures. Because unrest and change an innovation are apparent as never before in these circles the tendency is to look to them for the solution of abnormal conditions which exist today. But the trouble is deeper seated. The question today is a moral one. America has drifted away from her moorings. Her ideals of righteousness and rectitude, heritage from the Pilgrim Fathers, are not held in the same respect and esteem today that was true before the war. The great world upheaval and its consequent distortion and disruption of social and moral customs, political precedents and policies are more than anything else responsible for present-day unrest. And yet there were underlying and cumulating causes and influences which used the war as an excuse to break out in sores on the body politic.

The antidote and hope of the future lies in a revival of old-time religion. Strong men of the nation, whether in the pulpit or the political forum or the directorate of business interests, are crying out that this is the need of America today.

The heart of the community is no different than the heart of the individual. America can only continue her purity of heart, her unselfishness, and her world leadership by a renewed vow of loyalty to the Faith of our Fathers; a new consecration to the religion of Jesus Christ.—Leslie's Weekly of Jan. 18.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Dear Rev. Hewitt: You are doing a great work in the spreading of the Gospel in Boyne City and vicinity. I have been reading carefully your answers to the many questions that come to you, but somehow I can not just agree with you, that we can become perfect or Sanctified in this life. I know you are a brainy, scholarly man for your writing shows that you are, but it is possible that one as highly educated as you are can make mistakes. I do not believe in sudden conversion, reformation does not come in a minute, if we are to become perfect; if there is such a thing in this life, I believe it is reached by gradual growth. I believe conversion is a willingness to become better and grow to become like Christ. Can you refer me to passages in the Bible that contradict my right to such a belief? R. P. H.

A. Brother you can believe whatever you wish, but that does not make it so, or true. Its what the Holy Writ says; its what God says thins of worth and that counts in life and Eternity. What I don't know about the Bible would make a much larger book, than what I know, but what I give to the public through the Charlevoix Courier will stand the test in scriptural correctness in the best Biblical Colleges of the world. Now see here Brother lets get down to facts, perfection perfect the Hebrew and Greek words which are thus rendered means wholeness, completeness. If the great claim of our salvation Christ Jesus was made "perfect through suffering." (Heb. 2:10; 1 Cor. 2:6, 16. Please study the entire chapter of 1 Cor. 2, Eph. 4:12, 13.) It certainly indicated no defect in His character, but the completion of His sublime attributes and mission. "Perfection" is that state or quality of a thing in which it is free from defect or redundancy. Perfection says the great Writings in a scriptural sense is "perfection of sincerity whereby a man serves God without hypocrisy." Thes. 5:23.

There is a perfection of sincerity whereby man serves God without hypocrisy; and without this perfection you can never experience the riches in Glory to be found in Christ Jesus; without it you can never get through the gates of Heaven, Col. 1:27. "To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory." God would make known to you the riches of the glory, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory, Eph. 3:17. "That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye, being rooted and grounded in love." That Christ may visit your hearts? No! Christ in you, that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, being rooted and grounded in love. The glory is the indwelling Christ in the presence and power of the Holy Ghost. That is the positive side of sanctification. The "riches of goodness" represented the approach to justification; "riches of grace" represented justification fully realized in the pardon of sins; "exceeding riches of grace" the slaying of old Adam nature, the enemy, which is a negative side of sanctification; the "riches of glory," the indwelling presence of Christ, the positive side of sanctification; the immediate effect, you become rooted and grounded in love. See Eph. 3:18, 19; Rom. 1:20.

You do not believe in "sudden" conversion, you should remember that there must be a conviction before there can be a conversion. You point if you can to one conversion in all church history that was not sudden. Better still, I can challenge the scholarship of the world to point to one. They can't do it. The thief on the cross when he was convicted of his sins cried out, "remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom," and quicker than a flash King shot these words over to the thief: "This day shalt thou be with me in paradise." Paul on the way to Damascus was suddenly struck blind when he heard these words: "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me," Acts 9:4. How long did it take Paul to be converted? Just long enough to say the words, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do," Acts 9:6. You say "conversion is growth, willing to become better." "Gradually." It is nothing of the kind, it is unscriptural. God has no use for the man who will peddle that kind of trash as an excuse for his not coming out and acknowledging Christ before the world and following Him, and being in a church doing work for the master, where every christian should be. See Luke 17: 1, 2; Rom. 10:9, 10; Luke 12:8, 9; 11 Samuel 22, 31; Isa. 12:8; Prov. 12: 15. Oh, but the devil will just put the man on the back and say, that's just right, you must not try to get too good all at once, just grow gradually; don't try to get christianity all of a sudden; you must not commence living decent all at once you might hurt your family if you stop cussing all of a sudden. Just take it gradually; don't stop telling lies too sudden; just take a little time to grow out of it. If you put three barrels of cider in your cellar this year and soak your old skin on hard cider all winter, the devil says now that you are converted, just put two barrels in next winter. You must not become perfect all at once, just gradually. Don't be sudden about getting good, everybody will think you are crazy. The bank cashier made false entries; he stole five thousand this year; the devil says, now see here, you can't be perfect, we all sin every day and now that you are converted, don't steal but three thousand next year, and two thousand next, and finally you will get so you won't steal at all; its Gradual growth. Look here bank robber, says the devil, you have held-up six banks this year, you have no regard for human life, now you have gone and gotten this sudden conversion, its dangerous to be so sudden. Here, just rob three banks next year and be a little more careful about shooting people down in cold blood.

And so sinners go on just like a great big over-grown baby, nursing the Devil's Bottle; breaking some mother's heart, ruining the life of some wife, leading a life of shame and disgrace and sending their soul to Hell. When they might have had all the joy that comes to a law abiding citizen, and the sweet peace of a "home, sweet home" that comes through service to Christ and at last a home in Heaven. You say in your question, "reformation." Conversion is not reformation, no, sir. It is transformation. When the sinner says I am through with sin, I will sin no more come into my life blessed Jesus, cleanse me of my sin; I accept thee dear Jesus, then God will answer with a power that will transform that life and you will become a "new creature in Christ Jesus." Dear reader, will you do it?

Q. I desire to have you give me a little information which I feel with your knowledge of history and the Bible you can easily do. I am personally acquainted with a man who seems to be a good, moral man, pays his debts and has done many kind things and gives at times to the church. But I have heard him say that he questioned the divinity of Jesus Christ. Now what I would like to know is, can you tell me in what class does God put this man; what chances has such a man for Heaven?—W. D. A.

A. In my years of travel I have met but few men of the type to which you refer. They stand in a class by themselves, bought, owned and controlled by the devil. And yet God says, "you can spurn my love and trample the blood under your feet, but if you seek my pardon I will forgive you." That's love, is it not? God came down and revealed Himself as the Son of God through the Holy Spirit. If man sneers and says it is not true, then his sin may become unpardonable. If he don't settle it here he will never settle it anywhere else." Death and then the judgment." God has the man's name to whom you refer, just the same as He knew the name of Saul and Zacheus. God checks up man's account now, don't forget that. "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God." Most men have sense. Occasionally you will find a fool, or an infidel, who does not believe in Christ. If a man denies the divinity of our Lord and Saviour Christ Jesus, he stands in the presence of his creator, God, with his finger tips dripping with the filth of crime, his hands covered with the blood of Jesus; he stands shoulder to shoulder with those who crucified Christ, and he's equally guilty with them. No less than one hundred ninety-seven times the old testament prophecies of Christ, and every single prophecy has been fulfilled. The new testament is a fulfillment of the old. If any man denies the divinity of Jesus, and as you say pays his honest debts, lives a good, moral life, it's because he's got sense enough to know that the laws of the land in which he lives requires him to do that very thing. But take it from me, and I can say it on the authority of God, such a man is right at home with some other dirty infidel; he's right at home with the devil. And in politics, business or any other transaction which means personal gain, he will stoop as low, and stretch the truth, and he just as crafty in doing it to cover his slime, as the devil's own. But God has his measure. I am at loss to find words with which to express my opinion of such a man as you refer to. I pity him from the very depths of my heart. Instead of my words to express to you where such a man stands, I will use God's word. Ps. 14:1, 53, 1; Prov. 10:8, 10; Prov. 12:15; Eccl. 2:14; Jer. 17:11; Matt. 5:22; Luke 12:20. No less than one hundred eighty-one times, God says in His Holy Word, such a man is a "fool." And no less than eighty-two times a CHILD OF THE DEVIL.

Q. What are we to understand by the term, "Ye are not under the law, but under grace?" Does not God command us to live by the law, and did not Jesus Himself say, "One jot or one tittle shall in nowise pass from the law?"—H. K.

A. You have quoted from Matt. 5: 18. Why did you not go on with the rest of this verse? "Till all be fulfilled." The law was fulfilled in Christ Jesus. The whole difference between the law and grace is understood only as we come to really comprehend the new ground upon which grace lifts us, and to realize that life in this new realm is the spontaneous outcome of a new nature, imparted through the new birth, the dominant characteristic of which is love. This "new man" is not under the law, but under grace. Rom. 6: 14. The Holy Spirit becomes the enabling and the only enabling for a life of love, and of righteousness that includes all that the law demanded, and "the righteousness of the law is fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit." Rom. 8:4. The word "commandments" is used in the writings of John (1) in a general sense of the divine will, however revealed, "His word," (1 John 2:5) and (2) especially of "the law of Christ." Gal. 6:2; John 5; John 15:10, 12.

"If ye love me keep my commandments," said the Master, and He sums it all up in one word, "This is my commandment, that ye love one another as I have loved you," John 15:12. Again, through Paul, He tells us that "he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law," and then specifying some of the commandments, he goes on to say that they are all briefly comprehended in this, saying, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Take what commandment you will (aside from the ceremonial law, of course, which was for the Jew only) and apply it to this new principle of love, and it is evident that because love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. In those who keep this new commandment of Christ, John tell us is the love of God perfected (1 John 4:12). So long as a life is expressing the love of Christ, consciously or unconsciously, in that life is the law fulfilled in all its righteousness. Paul states the whole principle in the terms of experience in Galatians 2:20. Christ Himself, by His own life, imparted in the new birth, is living in us and through us this new love life. No effort on our part can accomplish this, as Romans 7:7, 24 demonstrates, but a continual reckoning, that the "old man" has been crucified with Christ, therefore we are dead to it; that we now have within us His own resurrection life, as a reality, not a mere doctrine; but that life is actualized by the Holy Spirit who dwells in our bodies; and as we "walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit," (Rom. 8:4) not only do we "not fulfill the lusts of the flesh" (Gal. 5:16), but "the righteousness of the law is fulfilled in us." (Rom. 8:4.) This is what Paul means in Rom. 3:31, "Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid. Yes, we establish the law." When a sinner confesses his guilt under the law, and his desert of death he "establishes" the law as a ministry of condemnation. Rom. 3:19; Gal. 3:10. When

Although the game at the Soo brought another disaster to the C. H. S., one of the "fellows" on our team preferred the Soo to Charlevoix and did not return until Monday.

"Buster" Bugbee, fearing that he would gain too much knowledge, has left school.

"The Windmills of Holland" will be presented at the Palace Theatre Friday evening, March 4th, at 8:15. The operetta is under the direction of Miss Oliver assisted by Mrs. Rortert, and judging from reports of the rehearsals, we are looking forward to a treat and a large attendance is expected.

Ernest Galloway substituted for Miss Verduin in Junior high Thursday. Mildred Howe took the same work on Friday.

Miss Bowman conducted an intelligence test in the high school and Junior high Thursday morning. For one hour the stillness of death prevailed while we painfully transferred our entire stock of grey matter from its place of residence to ten sheets of paper. Although no authentic reports of the results have been announced, it is rumored that in certain cases there was a great waste of paper.

Last week the senior english class competed with the county normal class in a spelling-contest. The seniors lost by 27 points.

Don't forget about the basket ball game, C. H. S. vs. E. J. H. S., which will be held at East Jordan, Friday, March 4th. We hope that Charlevoix will be well represented on the sidelines.

Benah Schweitzer substituted in the fifth grade Monday for Miss Hammet and Florence Spidel in the Kindergarten, Thursday for Miss Harrington.

A young lady went walking with a young man named Hatch. And he kissed her in the potato patch. The next day they were surprised when they learned that potatoes have eyes.

MICHIGAN STATE TEACHERS' ASSN.

Working for Better Conditions in Rural Schools

The Michigan State Teachers' Association is working for better schools, better teachers, equal opportunities for all, and a more democratic school.

In order to obtain better schools the association hopes to improve the rural schools through consolidation, a longer school term, closer supervision, and better school buildings. The village and small town schools are to be improved through consolidation and better school buildings and equipment. For both of the above better legislation is necessary.

In order to obtain better teachers it will be necessary to require higher minimum requirements for teachers' certificates, increased state aid for normal schools, together with legislation permitting the building of teacherages in the districts of the state.

To provide equal school opportunities, consolidation should be encouraged. At present the city schools have better facilities than the country school. The tax burden of the state should be equalized so that smaller areas and poorer sections of the country may be relieved of excessive taxation in performing their educational duties toward the state.

The school should be made more democratic by allowing all electors to take part in school control and by forbidding through more rigid laws the organization of "sororities" and fraternities.

1920 STATE TAX LESS THAN THAT OF 1919

Paid More Per Thousand But Claim Tax is Less

Increases of $30,000,000 since 1919 was paid into the city, county and state treasuries by the taxpayers of Michigan during the year 1920. The average tax rate for each property owner was increased from $24.50 per thousand to $26.40 for 1920.

Valuation of all property in the state was also increased last year from $4,503,980,981 to $5,319,702,886.

Of the total tax collected of $140,428,982.94 for 1920, the state tax was $17,379,244, the school tax amounting to $44,746,118.20, city taxes $39,915,999.

Though the total tax was increased in 1920 over 1919, it is pointed out that the state tax showed a slight decrease the reduction amounting to $53,268.04.

As divided between real estate and personal property, the valuations for 1920 show $4,123,254,366 in realty and $1,196,448,520 in personal property.

ANITA STEWART IN "IN OLD KENTUCKY"

At Palace Theatre One Day Only, Tuesday, March 8th

Never a more tense and gripping drama screened. It portrays with intense realism all the gigantic scenes that the stage could suggest.

The great Kentucky handicap race with a girl winning by a nose. Feudist battles between the clansmen of the hills where death is the inevitable end. Gun fights between moonshiners and U. S. revenue officers.

Masked night riders chasing outlaws at break-neck speed over the mountains. A girl on horseback leaping over a broken bridge above a yawning chasm to save her lover.

Scores of other intense, dramatic moments with a beautiful love story of a loyal clans-girl underlying it all. Remember the date—one night only. Next Tuesday, March 8th. adv.

After several hours deliberation, a jury in circuit at Traverse City brought in a verdict of guilty against Dr. Guy M. Johnson, and awarded the plaintiff $8,000 for damages said to have been the result of an operation performed by Johnson some time ago. Mrs. Dale J. Miley, the complainant, claimed $20,000 damages. All local court rules were set aside when Judge Mayne permitted the jury to go home for the night because one woman was listed as a member of the jury.—Elk Rapids Progress.

Especially Good Attractions For This Week

THURSDAY, MARCH 3—Paramount Artcraft presents Dorothy Dalton in "The Market of Souls," a Thomas H. Ince picture. A truly remarkable human drama. Superbly artistic and the best picture Miss Dalton ever made. A striking production in every respect, and we are sure you will not care to miss this one. Also a Rowland comedy, "Dear Departed."

SATURDAY, MARCH 5—Double attraction. Wm. Fox presents Tom Mix in "The Untamed." Tom Mix's first appearance on our screen, in a whirlwind tale of the wild and of three strange pals, a man, a horse and a dog, from the great novel of Max Brand, "By." And a two reel Jewel comedy, Joe Martin in his latest chin chuckler, "A Wild Night." Come and see this almost human monkey.

SUNDAY, MARCH 6—Paramount Artcraft presents Marguerite Clark in "Easy to Get," supported by Harrison Ford. She was all his until she heard him boast that women were "Easy to Get." Then WOW! Right through live acts of the lurid feminine fireworks you ever saw. Now he is a wiser man. A comedy romance of constant laughter.

TUESDAY, MARCH 8—First National present Anita Stewart in "Old Kentucky." The most thrilling drama of the time. Not just a picture, but a great show. The most spectacular and best known horse race story of a decade. See the genuine fox hunt in the picture. Can a fox climb a tree. A Kentucky fox can! See this in the picture. Don't miss seeing Miss Stewart in her Master production. Remember the date, next Tuesday, the 8th of March.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9—Goldwyn presents Louis Bannison in "The Road Called Straight," by Wilson Bagley. A drama of stout hearts and fighting fists.

COMING—Thursday, March 10, a Realart picture. Justine Johnstone in "Blackbirds."

COMING—Saturday, March 12, Bryant Washburn in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

he believes on Christ, the law is "established" as a "schoolmaster unto Christ." And then having received the divine nature (2 Peter 1:4) and the eternal life of Christ (John 3:14, 16) and the Holy Spirit as indwelling (John 14:1; 1 Cor. 6:19) hence the coming of Christ into ones life is a fulfillment of the law; a life dominated by love is established within.

Q. Mr. Hewitt—While attending the revivals being held in Charlevoix the evangelist said in substance that "sinners are lost," and he also stated that "there is a literal hell." Do you think he can make such statements on the authority of the Bible? I don't believe there is a literal hell, neither do I believe anybody is lost.

—V. A. C.

A. You do not give the words used by the evangelist which led up to him saying "sinners are lost." He no doubt said, "If you reject the plan of salvation for your soul, provided by God through the shed blood of His son Jesus Christ, you are lost," and he is absolutely correct in the statement he made. It's the word of God, "Lost," as taken from the original (Greek and Hebrew) means "shut out," "condemned." Condemned means guilty. You stand before the judgment bar of God a guilty sinner. God has offered you a full and complete pardon through the shed blood of His son Jesus; He has purchased for you a birthright into eternity; Heaven is yours through Christ Jesus only. Now you reject that offer and you are lost, "shut out" from Heaven; you have "lost the birthright;" more than that, you are guilty of a most heinous sin—you have trampled the blood of Jesus under your feet in rejecting him. God tells you no less than eight hundred sixteen times that you shall be punished; and that punishment is Hell.

Yes, the evangelist to whom you refer can say upon the authority of God's Holy Word, "there is a literal hell." You say this is not upon the very high authority of your own little flimsy self standard and that's all. It does not make one bit of difference what you think about it, you will find out that there is a hell before you have been there five minutes. The evangelist is giving you the straight goods, the pure Gospel; accept it quickly and get right with Jesus Christ. There's only one heart beat between you and eternity.

Early Insurance Company.
The insurance originated in its modern form immediately after the great fire of London in 1666. In 1620 the Hand in Hand—probably the oldest fire insurance company in the world and certainly the oldest in Great Britain—was established on the mutual principle.

Small Beginnings.
Michael Faraday, the famous physicist, made some of his famous discoveries while experimenting in an old apothecary shop with old bottles and tin pans. Eli Whitney had few tools and he worked for months in a cellar experimenting with his new cotton gin.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Wilful disregard of the eight hour day was manifested by the members of the legislature during the past week. Long regular sessions were supplemented by committee meetings held in the forenoon, late afternoons and evenings. The pent-up oratory and barrage of arguments which have been brewing under the big dome during the previous seven weeks boiled over during the past week and long and fiery debates resulted.

Patriotism vied the pressure of business in legislative halls on Washington's birthday. The serious attitude of the solons is indicated by the fact that they did not find in this legal holiday an opportunity to play hooky from work, but redoubled their activities. After important regular sessions in both branches, the senators were guests of the representatives in the evening at a patriotic program given in the house chamber.

Enactment of the entire program of administrative reorganization, as proposed by Governor Groesbeck and sponsored by the Michigan State Farm Bureau, appeared probable when the senate concurred in the amendments made by the house to the first two administrative bills, providing for the creation of a state administrative board and for uniform auditing of claims against the state. These bills have passed both branches of the legislature without a dissenting vote and have been signed by the governor.

The first real legislative battle of the session was fought over the "alien firearm bill," sponsored by Rep. Lennon of Genesee, which, though ostensibly intended to prevent the hoarding of game by unnaturalized aliens is really planned to prohibit the possession of firearms of any kind by unnaturalized, foreign-born residents.

Representatives from Detroit and the upper peninsula, who have a large foreign born population in their respective districts, attacked the measure with a heavy fire of amendments. Their attack was supported by members of the house judiciary committee who sought to have this bill referred to them. Under the aggressive leadership of Rep. Lennon, who spoke almost alone in favor of his bill, the measure finally passed the house in substantially its original form, by vote of 56 to 20.

Another pitched battle of almost equal intensity was waged over the constitutional amendment, proposed by Rep. Moore of St. Clair, to increase the number of signatures required to institute a constitutional amendment from 10 to 20 per cent of the voters at the last state election. After long and heated consideration, the measure fell three short of mustering the necessary majority of 51 votes, and lost by a score of 48 to 40.

The past week has disclosed further evidence of the determination of the senate to learn just what has been done with the money which has been appropriated for the construction of the state office building before granting the budget request of $1,140,000 which it is claimed is necessary to complete the structure.

A report on this subject was received by the senate, but was not considered satisfactory; so a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of three senators to get further information was adopted. Senators Henry of Calhoun, Ross of Livestock and Brower of Jackson were appointed.

Similar dissatisfaction with the report of the pardon board was evidenced by the house and a resolution providing for a joint committee of the House and the Senate to get further information relative to the activity of this board was passed by the House.

A very favorable report of conditions at the Michigan State Prison at Jackson was presented by the house committee on that institution. The report states that the honor system has worked well; commends the discipline of the institution, and shows that the committee was satisfied with the living conditions of the inmates. While the committee realizes the need of the institution for a new prison building, it does not feel that the condition of the state's finances warrants the expenditure of four million dollars for this purpose during the next two years.

Petitions still continue to come in in generous quantities. The question of the retention of the State Constabulary has caused the greatest display of interest on the part of the public in matters legislative. 71 per cent of the petitions on this subject have been favorable to the continuance of the State police and to granting them an enlarged scope of usefulness, as proposed by the state farm bureau.

Among the 76 new bills thrown into the legislative hopper during the past week, probably the most important legislative development was the introduction by Sen. McArthur of Eaton in the senate and Rep. Mosier of Allegan in the house of a proposed constitutional amendment which would allow the legislature to enact an income tax law in Michigan. With the appearance of this resolution, practically all of the measures advanced by the state farm bureau are receiving the attention of the lawmakers.

Among other important bills introduced during the week were: the "one buck" deer law, by Rep. Glaspie of Oakland; provision for the payment of "old age" pensions of $5.00 a month to indigent persons over 65 years of age, by Rep. Jensen of Delta; a six-day week for motor men and conductors on street and interurban railways, by Sen. Roppel of Wayne; increase to 30 miles per hour in the legal speed limit for auto vehicles, by Sen. Penney of Saginaw; a measure to require the licensing of garages and the employment of competent mechanics therein, by Rep. Lee of St. Clair; and a bill to prohibit the sale of tickets for more than the actual seating capacity of any theatre, athletic grounds and places of public amusement, by Sen. Bolt of Muskegon. A maximum penalty of $100 fine or 90 days in jail for each person so standing is specified.

Some of the most important bills reported favorably by the legislative committee are: The constitutional amendment allowing for the payment of state bonuses to ex-service men; the bill providing for Michigan's cooperation in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence-Tidewater project; bill to allow for the revocation of a teacher's certificate for breach of contract; and the bill prohibiting the state or municipal construction on the "cost-plus" basis. Several of the appropriation bills have been reported out by the institutional committees. All showed signs of having been severely cut and some were hardly recognizable.

Probably the most rapid fire legislation of the week was witnessed in the Senate on Tuesday morning when nine bills passed third reading in twice as many minutes. Among these were the bills to prevent bringing undipped sheep into the state during certain months and the measure to prohibit the marriage of a girl under sixteen. Rep. Lord's bill to repeal the tax exemption now enjoyed by bonds of other states and municipalities outside of Michigan, the bill to repeal the sections of the present highway law which provides the means by which a county may withdraw from the county road system, the bill to increase the witness fees in criminal cases to $2.00 and $3.00 per day, a bill embodying numerous amendments to the present Covert highway law, that to protect the wearing of the American Legion Badge; and the resolution to amend the constitution to allow townships to establish hospitals passed third reading in the House almost without a dissenting vote.

AT THE MOVIES

Tom Mix Wins in "The Untamed"

No picture in many months has given Tom Mix, the daredevil cowboy star working under the Fox banner, a better opportunity to display his daredevilry and horsemanship than "The Untamed," which comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday.

If the picture been written especially for Mix it could not have served its purpose to better advantage. "The Untamed" was adapted to the screen by H. P. Kellar, from the well-known novel by Max Brand and was made under the direction of Emmett J. Flynn, who worked with Mix for the first time. A most unusual angle of the picture is the appearance of a horse and a dog that were especially trained for the important parts they play. As persons who have read the book remember, the interest centers on a strange almost supernatural man, who spends his time in the solitary wastes of the far west; a fiery horse and a wolf dog. The man understands the language of all beasts, and through his nature runs a powerful strain of primitive wildness. His uncanny power gives him mastery over man and beast.

The leading woman for Mix is Pauline Starke, who has risen to high favor with the motion picture public through her work in many big photodramas. A startling romance lends charm to the story.

Watch for the unique production, "The Train to Podunk" to be at the Palace Theatre. Date to be announced later. 911

BUREAU FOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC

TO BE OPENED BY COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION

Will be Located at 311 Bridge Street
With Miss Addie Holly as Assistant Secretary

One of the best meetings ever held by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce took place in the Masonic Temple last Friday evening, where the regular monthly meeting and six o'clock supper was held.

Despite numerous other attractions and social functions, the attendance was up to the average and by the interest shown it is evident that a wonderful amount of good will result the present year from the association's activities.

One matter that has been made possible by the efforts of the Association of Commerce, is the opening of a public information bureau at 311 Bridge street about May 1st. This has been placed in charge of Miss Addie Holly, who will act in the capacity of assistant secretary of the association. Miss Holly's duties will be to answer all inquiries made by tourists, furnish road maps, locate those desiring rooms or boarding places, and in all manner possible furnish information regarding Charlevoix and vicinity to those who desire it. The bureau will be equipped with maps, guide books, time tables, etc., and those desiring the services of a stenographer will find one there capable of doing the work in a competent and satisfactory manner.

The aviation committee reported they had been requested by the Rose-sworth Aeroplane Co. of Grand Rapids to furnish a map of our local aviation field, that they may forward it to Washington, with the view of making this a government landing field. We might state here that it is rather difficult to state at present the outcome of the work along this line, but we predict a surprise within the coming year.

After routine business and committee reports had been taken care of, several excellent three-minute talks were given by members of the association. H. A. Craig called attention to the condition of our school buildings, stating that within the next few years the erection of a modern building would be necessary.

Other suggestions for the ultimate good of the community were made, with the result that unusual interest was manifested and the outcome will be for the betterment of Charlevoix-the-Beautiful.

ROAD PROPOSITION STILL IN THE AIR

No Solution of Matter at Thursday's Meeting

Thursday's meeting at the court house, called to discuss the proposed change on the Norwood road, resulted in practically no solution of the matter and the question is still in the air.

Norwood was well represented, as was also Banks township. A proposition was suggested that another meeting be held in two weeks, but whether this will be done or some other suggestion carried out, is not known at the present writing.

The situation is a peculiar one in many ways. Banks township insists that the new route, running north from Eastport, through Atwood to the county line be adopted, while property holders in and around Norwood maintain that it should follow the original route. The outcome of the matter is eagerly watched for by both factions.

TREASURERS MAKE ANNUAL SETTLEMENT

Tax Money Pouring in at County Treasurer's Office

The township treasurer settlement will occur at the court house this week. County Treasurer Charles Emrey reports that the tax returned for this year is practically the same as that of the preceding year.

There are 15 townships, 3 cities, and one village in the county, making a total of 19 townships, of which about one-half of the townships have made their tax reports. The city settlements will occur the 10th, 11th and 12th of the month.

REMAINS TO BE BROUGHT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shapton Notified by Government Officials

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Shapton of this city received the following letter from Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps, under date of March 1 relative to the shipment of the remains of their son, Leslie, killed overseas in the late world war:

"I am directed by the Major General Commandant to inform you that information has just been received from abroad to the effect that the remains of your son, the late Corporal Leslie Thomas Shapton, Marine Corps, have been disinterred and will be shipped to the United States in the very near future. Upon arrival of the body at Hoboken, New Jersey, you will be informed by telegraph."

The arrival of the remains will be announced and without doubt will be received here sometime within the month. While no plans have been so far made, they will undoubtedly be given a military funeral, in charge of the local American Legion.

LAUNCHING OF "MARQUIS ROEN"

NINETY-FOOT FREIGHTER WAS LAUNCHED THURSDAY

Ceremonies Under Direction of President of Association of Commerce—Large Crowd

The "Marquis Roen," a 90-foot freighter built in John Roen's shipyard on the south shore of Round Lake, was launched Thursday afternoon with many spectators from the city and vicinity in attendance.

The launching ceremonies were under the direction of E. B. Ward, president of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce. Schools and business places of the city were closed from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. and it is estimated that 400 people witnessed the event.

The "Marquis Roen" is ninety feet long with a twenty-four foot beam and approximately 100 tons. She is a staunch craft, being built of three-inch oak planking outside, two-inch inside oak liners and knees, and four and six-inch oak ribbing. She will be used in the coast-wise trade.

Her keel was laid April 1, 1920, and she was designed by Roy Rauger and built by Herbert Harac. She will be handled by the owner, John Roen as Master, and Augustus Sandberg, Engineer.

Promptly at 2:30, this latest testimonial to Charlevoix industry, had the chalks knocked out, and as she started down the ways on her first voyage, Mary Roen, wife of the owner, broke a bottle of champagne over her bows and christened her the "Marquis Roen."

HAVE EARMARKS OF GOOD PLAYERS

C. H. S. Youngsters Make Excellent Showing

The high school basketball boys invaded East Jordan last Friday night with several changes in their line-up but brought home the line never-the-less and report that the youngsters had the edge on the veterans in piling up the 61-20 score.

Pete Hallett, a freshman, in forward position, was the star of the evening, making eleven of the baskets as against Halverson seven, and Ackert six.

J. C. Marshall did good work at forward during his seven-minute trial. Cunningham, a promising youngster, went in at guard for Brown and gives promise of developing into one of our best guards.

Gunderson was the star for East Jordan, doing good floor work and making several spectacular shots from the middle of the floor.

Mills Wilbur of Boyne City referred the game.

The Historical Society will meet Friday, March 11th with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bridge.

The program will be as follows: Vocal Solo, Mr. Frank Poole. Paper, Mrs. Armstrong. Intermission. Instrumental duet, Mrs. A. A. Swinton and Katherine Fitch.

PYTHIAN GOLDEN JUBILEE YEAR

TO BE OBSERVED HERE EVENING OF MARCH 24

Members of Pine Lake Lodge No. 122 and Their Families to Observe the Event

An event that means much for the Knights of Pythias will be the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the order in Michigan, by Pine Lake Lodge No. 122 of this city, the evening of March 24. On March 14, 1871, the first Pythian lodge, Olympic No. 1, was instituted in Detroit, and in honor of the founding of this lodge it has been decreed that 1921 should be the "Pythian Golden Jubilee Year," and all over the state of Michigan the Knights are planning to properly celebrate their half-century existence.

The local lodge will observe the occasion the evening of March 24, their regular meeting night, and will hold a pot-luck supper at 6:30 for the members and their families, to be followed by a short program and cards and dancing. Committees have been named to take charge of the work and without doubt the event will be a big day in the history of Pythianism in Charlevoix.

The Knights of Pythias has a membership in Michigan of about 28,000 and in the Supreme Domain of nearly a million members. The first lodge of the order was organized in the city of Washington, on Feb. 19, 1864, by Justus H. Rathbone. It is a matter of history, however, that Rathbone first conceived the idea of a fraternal society to be based upon the historic friendship of Damon and Pythias when he was a young man teaching school at Eagle Harbor, in the upper peninsula of Michigan, and he wrote the ritual of the order at that time, so that Michigan Pythians claim our state as the real birth-place of their order. The Knights have purchased the schoolhouse at Eagle Harbor and are preserving it as a memorial to Rathbone, the founder of the order that has accomplished much in the way of bringing men closer together in the bonds of Friendship and Brotherhood.

Pythians have a right to be proud of their membership, for as a matter of fact the Knights of Pythias have been leaders in every movement that tends to better citizenship. The Michigan Pythian, the official organ of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, makes the claim that the Knights of Pythias has been first of all the great fraternities in these respects.

ONE AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON

Will Compensate Boys Who Served in World War

One amendment to be voted on at the spring election that is of interest to all is the amendment to the constitution whereby the state of Michigan will be authorized to borrow thirty million dollars for the purpose of compensating all persons who served in the late world war. The amendment submitted will read as follows:

"A proposed amendment to the Constitution will be submitted to the electors at the election to be held on Monday, April 4th, 1921, as follows:

"An added section (20) to Article X, the effect of which, if adopted, will be to authorize the State of Michigan to borrow thirty million dollars for the purpose of compensating all persons who served in the late World War and who were residents of this State at the time of entering such service."

SUFFERS FROM SPRAINED ANKLE

Mrs. James Saunders Falls While on Way to Hospital

Mrs. James Saunders is suffering from a badly sprained ankle, due to the light snowfall which concealed the ice and made walking a hazardous undertaking.

She was on her way to the hospital Saturday where Mr. Saunders is convalescing from a serious operation, when the accident happened. Dr. Armstrong was summoned and the painful member dressed, but it will be several days before Mrs. Saunders will be able to walk.

CHARLEVOIX CO. SALVATION ARMY

DETROIT FIELD REPRESENTATIVE MAKING SURVEY

Members of County Advisory Board Named—Great Results are Anticipated

Mr. Edward Tucker of Detroit, Field representative of the Salvation Army, was in the city last week organizing a Charlevoix county advisory board, whose duty it will be to make a survey of the social conditions of the county and report the results of their findings to the state board at Detroit.

The complete duties of the advisory board are outlined as follows: 1. To represent the Salvation Army as a non-sectarian board acting as the agent of the Salvation Army in the correction of local conditions.

2. To appoint representatives of the board in all small towns of the county. 3. To make a comprehensive study of county social and moral conditions.

4. To consider this study and advise with the Salvation Army as to corrective measures.

5. To make known to the public the fact that the board is prepared to serve the people of the county confidentially.

6. To act as the intermediary for the county in making use of the Salvation Army state, territorial and national functions.

7. To assume the responsibility for the presentation and securing of the proportionate county share of the annual state budget. Salvation Army budgets must meet the approval of the State Advisory Board as well as the representative of the county boards assembled in convention.

The information gathered by the county advisory board is to be of a strictly confidential nature. No publicity will be given to the findings except upon the recommendation of the advisory board. The work is to be conducted quietly, and with the exercise of the most diligent care that no offense may be given.

The field investigation will depend to some extent upon the characteristics of the county. But speaking generally, in every county there will be at least eleven subjects that should be thoroughly studied. For the purpose of distributing the work it is recommended that one member of the advisory board should be made responsible for each specific subject. The board is urged to appoint "correspondents" of sub-members of the board in every community center of the county. In making these appointments it is well to follow the school district lines or township divisions. By frequent meetings and conferences the board can co-relate and act upon the information secured by the individual members.

The following are names of members comprising the Charlevoix county advisory board of the Salvation Army:

President, F. O. Barden, Boyne City. Treasurer, L. R. Barnes, Boyne City. Secretary, Frank Thompson, Boyne City. Charles T. McCutcheon, Boyne City. J. S. Bergy, Boyne City. Geo. Hoaghton, Boyne City. $1.00 ROD TAX ON FISHERMAN

Bill Introduced Last Week for This Purpose

Senator Donald Osborn of Kalamazoo, Tuesday of last week, introduced in the senate a bill providing for a $1 rod tax on fisherman in Michigan. Fishing by bona fide property owners in lakes and streams situated on or passing through their property and fishing in the Great Lakes is exempted from the tax.

The rod tax as proposed by Senator Osborn will not cost the state $500,000 annually, he says, and the measure provides for the payment of this money toward the establishment of more fish hatcheries. This is a bill which should receive the support of every sportsman of the state. If some measure along this line is not taken soon, the fishing in our inland lakes and trout streams will be a thing of the past. Hundreds of people visit northern Michigan each year to enjoy a few days' fishing, and under the proposed plan it will take but a few years to bring our streams and lakes back to normal and there will be plenty of fish for us all.

ALLIES SIEGE GERMAN TOWNS

GERMAN PRESIDENT DECLARES PEACE VIOLATED

British, French, and Belgian Troops Occupy German Towns Without Resistance.

A dispatch from Mayence, Germany, states that British, Belgian and French troops entered Dusseldorf this morning. French and Belgian troops occupied Duisburg at noon. The allied Rhine flotilla took possession of the Ruhr.

Allied troops marched across the Rhine today. In the early morning when the river mists were just beginning to thin out, long columns of French, British, and Belgian soldiers equipped and rationed for war, tramped over the bridges and into the German cities of Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort.

Horse, foot and artillery, they advanced into the Ruhr valley, Germany's rich mineral basin. As they swung into the narrow streets of the old cities people peeped out timidly from windows and doorways. The rumble of wheels and the clatter of hoofs, the sound of shrill whistles giving orders and the steady shuff-shuff of thousands of feet over the cobble was the music to which the allied armies marched deeper into Germany.

BROOK TROUT FOR REPLANTING STREAMS

First Shipment of Season From the State Fish Hatchery

The president of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club, and other members of the club received word Wednesday from headquarters of the Michigan State Game Commission that the first shipment of trout fry would arrive here on the 16th of March. These will be planted in the creeks for which they were designated.

This work has been carried on each year by members of the local rod and gun club, with the result that instead of our streams being entirely fished out, one can make a fair day's catch. It is a movement that every citizen should be interested in, and if asked by those to whom the fry is being shipped to lend aid should not hesitate in doing so.

FIREMAN INJURED AT ADAM'S FIRE

Fall From Ladder Results in Badly Sprained Ankle

Guy Olney, member of Charlevoix's volunteer fire department, is making his way about the streets on crutches as the result of a severe fall while fighting the fire at the home of L. P. Adams last Thursday afternoon.

Olney was on a ladder and in some manner fell, badly spraining his right ankle and injuring the cords of his leg. He will be laid up for some time as the result of his unfortunate accident.

NOW OWNER OF AYERS ESTATE

G. VON PLATEN PURCHASES A BIG TIMBER TRACT

Deal Only Second to Henry Ford Purchase of Timber Lands in Upper Peninsula

An Iron Mountain dispatch says: "Negotiations which have been pending between the trustee of the Ayer estate, of Boston, Mass., and G. Von Platen, of Grand Rapids, Mich., for the purchase of the Military Wagon Road tract of timber lands in the upper peninsula, have recently been consummated, whereby G. Von Platen acquires the entire acreage."

Subsequently large parts of the tract have been purchased by the following concerns:

Wisconsin and Michigan Lumber Co., Eagle River, Wisconsin. Goodmun Lumber Company, Marinette, Wisconsin. Marathon Paper Mills Co., Rothschild, Wisconsin.

J. W. Wells Lumber Co., Menominee, Michigan.

East Jordan Lumber Co., East Jordan, Michigan.

Weidman & Son Co., Trout Creek, Michigan.

John Mallin, Winola, Michigan.

Von Platen-Fox Co., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

This transaction comprising 12,000 acres in Houghton, Iron, Gogebic, Ontonagon, and Keweenaw counties, places on the market a large body of timber and excellent farming lands available to actual settlers.

The several deals include the sale of 10,000 acres of land to the J. W. Wells Lumber company, 25,000 acres to the Goodman interests and 10,000 to the East Jordan Lumber company.

The Von Platen-Fox Lumber company, secures 65,000 acres of the pick of the lands. All the timber on these lands will be brought to Iron Mountain for manufacture. This insures a stock of logs for the Von Platen-Fox mills for many years to come.

Manager Fox also says that it means that his company will, in the near future, greatly enlarge their operations in Iron Mountain. This means a large flooring mill and plants accessory to the lumber manufacturing business.

The deal whereby Mr. Von Platen has become the owner of the Ayer estate lands involved an immense amount of detailed work. For the past several years several expert woodsmen were employed in estimating the timber on the lands, every acre being covered. As a result of this work Mr. Von Platen is now in possession of information relative to the amounts and kinds of timber on every acre of the tract as well as the general character of the soil.

The deal is second only to the Henry Ford purchase of the Michigan Land & Iron company lands in the history of upper peninsula land deals and the money involved will total several millions of dollars.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Lisle Shanahan Entertains in Honor of Mrs. Crouter

Announcement of the engagement of Mrs. Dorothy Crouter, eldest daughter of Mrs. H. L. Iddings of Park avenue, to Mr. John G. Clark of Toledo, Ohio, was made formally at a bridge luncheon given in her honor by Mrs. Lisle Shanahan at her home on Clinton street.

As befitting the happy occasion the rooms gave forth evidences of spring in a profusion of yellow daffodils and on the table they formed the chief adornment. The afternoon reached its climax when the news of the approaching marriage was cleverly disclosed by the hostess.

The following guests were present: Mrs. H. L. Iddings, Mrs. Constance Caskin of Chicago, Mrs. Ralph Price, of Ironton, Mrs. Will Mitchell, Mrs. Earl Young and Miss Addie Holly.

The wedding will take place early in the summer.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Doctor Hewitt: I have a relative that I am grieved about. His name is on a church book and when he is among Christian people he's a very religious man, says grace, etc. But when he gets out among the worldly class, he plays cards, drinks hard cider, and is as worldly as the rest. What would you do in such a case? I want to ask you to break one of your rules by answering my questions without having my initials. Will you please do this?

A. Yes, I will suppress your initials, and endeavor to answer your questions, for you certainly have my sympathy. First, does the pastor of the church of which your relative is a member, know of the life of sin he is living? If not, it is your duty to inform him at once; he will, if a Christian, pray with him and endeavor to convert him and if he doesn't succeed in his will, of course, have his name removed from the church books immediately. Second, in justice to yourself and to your relative inform the officers of the law regarding the cider; the sheriff can settle the "hard cider" business for him. I realize that when the devil gets a man so low that he can start a playing card-hard cider campaign for hell, he's a skunk, hidebound, mildewed, petrified proposition to deal with, and the best weapon I can recommend to whip the devil in such a case is prayer. Go to God in earnest prayer, Sister, and He will answer. I shall remember you before the throne of grace.

Q. Dear Doctor Hewitt: I have been reading every word of the "Gospel Question Box" for some time and have derived a very great good in so doing, but there are some things I cannot as yet agree with you. One is that Jesus was the Messiah; another is that the Jew will not be restored to Palestine. What evidence have you in the Old Testament to prove your claims?—A. R. A. I am at a loss to know how you could have formed the opinion from reading my answers in the Question Box, that I thought for one moment that the Jew would not be restored to Palestine; for such has never been my contention. The Jew will be restored to Palestine, but not until the second coming of Jesus. I believe I can answer your questions in such a positive concise manner that there will be absolutely no room left for doubt; at least none from a Scriptural viewpoint. Now see here, let's take up some of the examples of Prophecy and work them out.

Moses' prediction of Israel's history in Deut. 28, is an illustration in point. How improbable the Babylonian captivity, the Roman siege, the present scattered, persecuted, and yet expectant condition of that people, clearly indicated even before their inception as a nation. Take again the prophecies of Isaiah, Jeremiah or Ezekiel concerning the downfall and overthrow of the great capitals of Nineveh, of Babylon, the desolation of Tyre, and the debasement of Egypt, to say nothing of their predictions and those of others touching the personal history of the Messiah. See Isa. 19:23; Jeremiah 50; etc. Furthermore the Bible prophecy enters astonishingly into details. An examination of the subject shows that in each of the more prominent subjects of prophecy, there are from 30 to 40 particulars while in those concerning the Messiah, there are no less than 300 minutiae, making the chances of accidental co-incidence less than one in ten thousands of millions. Again think of the remoteness of time between many of the Bible prophecies and their fulfillment. In some instances a score of years, in others a score of centuries. The whole of the old Testament was in the hands of the Jews four centuries before Christ, and yet their predictions were not only borne out by events, but are still in the course of fulfillment before our very eyes. Consider, finally, the mysteriousness and obscurity of many of these predictions. What paradoxes they contain, adding greatly as they do to their supernatural character. Many of the events and circumstances foretold of Israel are as far as possible from being such as would have naturally occurred to the mind of a patriotic Jew endeavoring to forecast the future of his nation and country; indeed, they were so offensive to his pride, and contradictory to the fixed religious beliefs of his nation, that the prophets, as a result, were severely persecuted and sometimes put to death for giving utterances to such things. See Jer. 7:4; Ezek. 11:2, 3; Mich. 3:11. Now comes the Miracle of ages. The fulfillment of these prophecies concerning the Jew has been most literal and significant. To prove this, all we have to do is to lay them alongside current history. Under less than half of their calamities other peoples have passed away, leaving only a name; but the Jews have not passed away. For nearly two thousand years without a country, despised and even slaughtered; excluded from civil privileges, denied the exercise of their religion; they are still amongst us, solitary, but not secluded, distinct in character, indeed as when they dwell in Palestine. Arabians, descendants of Ishmael, half-brothers of the Jews are quite as ancient, but have no such experience. The Jew, in his imperishable race identity, is the standing miracle of ages. In Amos 9:11-15; Hosea 3; Isaiah 2; Ezekiel 37 and other pieces too numerous to indicate, it is prophesied that Israel shall be restored to Palestine, and ultimately, after her conversion to Jesus as the Messiah, become the head of nations. It may be premature to speak of the fulfillment of these prophecies today but such intimations may be referred to as the material awakening in Palestine, the tide of Jewish emigration to that direction, the rapid rise of individual Jews to power and eminence, their possessions of great wealth, their organizations for national ends as illustrated by "Zionism," the decay of Turkish power, the illegal owner and possessor of their lands, the increasing interest of Gentiles in their physical and political condition, the focusing of statecraft upon the international problems of the east, and the movements of the nations in that quarter of the globe, etc. Now, let's get down to the prophecy of the Messiah. This feature of the mysteriousness and obscurity in the prophecies is especially conspicuous in those concerning the Messiah, of which a large number are mentioned by A. T. Pierson in "The Gordian Knot." He was born of the seed of the Woman, itself an apparently contradictory expression (Gen. 3:15) of the stock of Abraham (Gen. 22:18) of the tribe of Judah (Gen. 49:10) of the family of David (Jer. 23:5) in the town of Bethlehem (Mic. 5:2) at a particular date (Dan. 9:24). The scene of His early ministry was foretold in Isa. 9:1; His suffering and death in Psa. 16:8-11, 68:18; His resurrection and ascension. To the Jewish Rabbis some of the prophecies concerning the Messiah seemed irreconcilable and suggested the idea of two Messiahs united in one great work. For example, He was to be a root out of dry ground, and yet a fruitful branch; a sufferer unto death, and yet not holden of death, without offspring, yet possessing numerous seed; condemned as a malefactor, yet justifying transgressors. These contradictions it has been truly said, present a problem no human wisdom was able to solve. And yet God meant the utterances to be obscure for later generations to decipher and interpret and in the doing of it, to bear all the stronger testimony to their unquestioned truth. Again I might speak of the later fulfillment in the history of the Gentile nations. In Daniel's prophecy of the four empires. The last of these empires was to be divided into ten kingdoms at the last, as symbolized by the feet and toes of the metal image. Chapter, 40:43. Biblical scholarship is practically a unit in applying this to the Roman empire in its present form. The precise division into ten kingdoms is not yet apparent indeed, but the political material out of which they shall be formed, the iron mixed with miry clay, monarchical institutions tempered with democratic policies, is so peculiarly a mark of the current age, as distinguishing it from every preceding one, as almost to compel conviction of its application.

Now, let's come down to the present age. Christ's prophecy in the 24th chapter of Matthew comes into view in the same connection, which gives a kind of panorama of the events occurring between His departure into Heaven and His return again, which the history of all the intervening years, as well as the present time, have demonstrated to be true. To this might be added Paul's words to Timothy in his second Epistle, 3:1-5: "The perilous" or grievous times coming in the "last days," of which he speaks, are evidently upon us. It is true that such ment as he there refers to have always been in evidence in the world, but the point is this, that according to the worldly notion of things, they should not have been expected to have been in evidence at this late period. A false and unintelligent, because uninstructed optimism has been looking for better things in the "last days," and yet these are the things we have just as the Bible predicted, which affords a strong confirmation of its absolute truth. Finally, I might speak of the later fulfillments in the history of the Church. I recall that Jesus asked, "When the Son of man cometh, shall He find the faith on earth?" Luke 18:8 R. V. Also I recall that Paul tells us in II Thessalonians, 2, that there shall come a "falling away," or an apostasy in the church, to be headed up in the "man of sin." Should anyone wish to see the fulfillment, in part at least, of these predictions in our own time, and an evident preparation for the fulfillment of all in the time to come, he has only to open his eyes and look about him without prejudice. Andrew's "Christianity and Anti-Christianity" will greatly strengthen his vision in this respect. The things to which he calls our attention - in that book are sometimes called or denominated "pessimism," but they are really a contribution to the strongest optimism. The fulfillment of the dark side of the prophetic future is a guaranty of the fulfillment of the bright side. "The night cometh, and also the morning." And the latter is very bright. It is simply a question as to whether the clouds and the tempest are already passed or whether the more dangerous costs are yet to be passed, and a possible storm to be confronted before we reach the desired haven. The prophetic word says that the latter is true, and the signs of the times point in the same direction. This is a reason for hopefulness rather than discouragement, and is, as has been said, a confirmation of the credibility of the Bible.

NOTICE—Please keep your questions within Biblical lines. There's a tendency of drifting away from theological questions. Several have come to me which I shall not answer.

FACTS ABOUT THE INDEMNITY.

It is easy to prate glibly about the "absurd" bill which has just been presented to Germany by the Allies, of its "enormity" and its "impossible" demands. It is a very different matter to consider the pertinent and fundamental facts in the case.

In the first place, as a reminder of the contrast between the spirit of the Allies and that of Germany, we must remember that Germany, at a time when she expected to win the war without having her territory invaded or the slightest loss inflicted upon her save what she sustained in fighting an aggressive war on foreign soil, purposed to exact from her conquered foes the sum of five hundred billion marks in gold; not at all as indemnity, for of course she would have been entitled to none, but simply as loot.

Now let us see what costs and losses she inflicted upon her adversaries, through her wanton aggressions upon them. Dr. Richard P. Strong of Harvard University, calculates that the total costs of the war to all the belligerents in expenses, damages, and what not, were $348,000,000,000. Working independently, another eminent authority, M. A. F. Franquib, editor of Le Drapeau Bleu, reckons them at 1,521,000,000,000 francs. That, since he reckons the franc at its former value in American currency, is equivalent to $307,000,000,000, showing that the French estimate is actually less than the American.

Taken, then, this lesser estimate of the war costs caused by Germany—three hundred and seven billion dollars, of which, according to the same conservative authority, $61,000,000,000 were borne by France alone, what reparation for it is asked of Germany? A sum, if now capitalized, of somewhat less than $20,000,000,000. That is equal to 6.5 per cent of the total war cost of the world. It is less than one-third of the costs and losses which Germany vainly inflicted upon France alone. It is considerably less than the costs imposed upon the United States. Yet this is all that "vengeful" France asks Germany to pay.

Even so, say some, it is quite impossible for poor "anemic" Germany to pay any such sum. As a matter of fact it is notorious that Germany is one of the least "anemic" nations in Europe today. But let that pass. It will scarcely be disputed that she could and should make at least as great an effort to repair the damage which she has done to others as those others are making to restore themselves. But that is precisely what she is not doing. Dr. Maurice Casenave, the eminent French publicist, cites on this point interesting testimony from the Secretariat of the League of Nations. According to that high authority the average per capita income of Frenchmen is 3,200 francs, of which the government takes in taxes 574 francs or 18 per cent. The average per capita income of Germans is 3,900 marks, of which the government takes in taxes 4.74 marks, or 12 per cent. Thus the Germans are taxed only two-thirds as heavily as the French.

What then? Dr. Casenave points out with remorseless logic that if the German tax levy were raised as high as that of France, the addition to the government's revenue would be more than twice enough to meet the full demands of the Allies for indemnity. That is to say, Germany might keep every copper of her present revenue for her own uses; but if she would only tax herself as France taxes herself, she would have enough more to pay the whole indemnity twice over. And yet she whines that she cannot possibly pay the indemnity, and her American apologists and sympathizers condemn the demand of the Allies as absurd, oppressive and impossible.

The facts are that Germany is perfectly able to pay all that the Allies now demand, without burdening herself nearly as much as she has burdened France, and that in denying her ability to do so she is simply lying and bluffing. But we have a cheerful anticipation that the Allies will call her bluff.

$10,000,000 PLANT FOR TRAVERSE CITY

Rail Car Concern Decides to Locate There

Announcement has been made that a $10,000,000 concern, the Worth Transportation and Products Co., manufacturing railway equipment, will locate at Traverse City. The company was formerly the Railway Motor Car Co., of America. It has been situated at Hammond, Ind., for years, but owing to commercial conditions the entire firm has undergone reorganization. Machinery valued at $350,000 is being sent to Traverse City. It is expected the concern will take over a local factory as a temporary home but if none is found a one-story saw-tooth roof plant will be erected immediately as the first unit of a new factory. John Moran, John Ott and W. P. Crother are among those men instrumental in securing the industry.

ROOF BLAZE DAMAGES HOME

Sparks From Chimney Cause Afternoon Fire

Shortly after one o'clock Thursday afternoon fire was discovered on the roof at the home of L. P. Adams, corner Bridge street and Huribut avenue and before the fire could be extinguished, the roof on the west end of the house was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

The fire is thought to have been caused from the burning out of the chimney earlier in the day, a spark lodging on the roof.

The fire department was at the scene of the blaze within a few minutes after the alarm sounded, and made short work of the fire.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The Sunday school under the superintendency of Dr. F. F. McMillan is meeting with such splendid success that it was found necessary at the board meeting last Monday night, to increase the Sunday school literature one hundred per cent. The school is enjoying the greatest prosperity in its history. A full orchestra is expected next Sabbath.

The official board, wishing to do everything possible for the boy life of Charlevoix, voted to give the Boy Scouts the use of the church one night each week.

During the recent evangelistic meetings over eighty persons signed cards affirming their intention to accept Jesus Christ as their Savior and to serve Him. At every public service from now on till Easter an opportunity will be given for these persons and others to unite with the church.

The church will have special services each night during Passion week. On Good Friday night the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

All members of the church are requested to pay their Centenary subscription for this year as soon as convenient.

Miss Lois Bowman will have charge of the Epworth League service next Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Topic, "Thy Kingdom Come."

Print your evangelistic hymn books to the prayer meeting next Thursday. A big attendance is expected.

Earthquakes.

The origin of earthquakes has been traced to two principal causes, the first of which is tectonic, and the second volcanic. The former refers to movements in the earth's crust known as faults, possibly caused by the shrinking of the interior of the earth by reason of cooling.

O. E. Hawkins, editor of the Manicoua Herald, has instituted a $10,000 damage suit against Don Layman. Last summer, Mrs. Layman, while driving her car, struck the editor. He was treated for bruises and weeks later a fractured hip bone was revealed, it is alleged. Seated in a wheel chair Mr. Hawkins reportedly has issued his paper. He is crippled for life he says.

A Manicoua news item says: "The entire woods camp force, known as No. 3 of the East Jordan company holdings, was arrested Monday afternoon by Deputy Game Warden Ed A. Nowack for killing partridges out of season. At a night session of Justice Lanes' court five men were fined $50.00 each. Six more will appear later."

A former citizen of Boyne City who is now driving a truck in Florida, says the sand is deeper in Florida than it is in Michigan. This may be true, but residents of Michigan's fruit belt have often declared there is no other sand in the world in which a Ford can drive so far with the engine up for air.

A Goldwater train during a Chicago road, east of that city, saw a man lying on the track ahead of him and slowed down, but when he spotted it was turned on a car from the back, he realized it was in for a hold-up, opened the throttle and bumped the man in the back so he could rise and jump to one side.

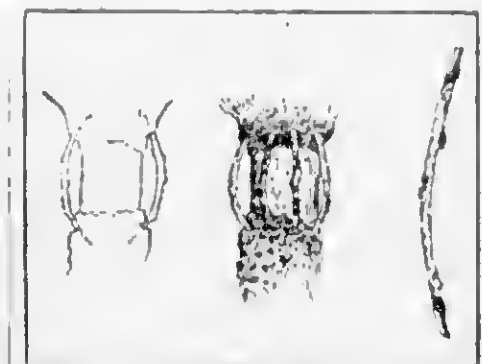

Since W. H. Brown, school director at Gibson, advertised that he would guarantee a diamond ring to the first young woman who took a position in his township, he has received an average of three applications daily, according to the Standard Independent. "Mr. Brown's only trouble now is to get schools for the applicants. He guarantees the ring, in fact he has supplied this little but valuable stone to teachers of this school for the past nine years. We're not saying he himself gets those rings, but the teacher does manage to be wearing one before she quits teaching at the Gibson school, so takes a young man of the community along with it. On one occasion it took Mr. Brown six years to fill his part of the voluntary contract, but it was complied with in every respect, and now everybody concerned is happy."—Detroit News.

Boyne City, through its Chamber of Commerce, is negotiating with Mr. C. S. Morrison of African, to lead and instruct the city band this summer. PLAN FOR BRIDGE GRAFTING Trees Girdled by Rodents Can Be Restored to Original Condition by Operation.

An old invention which it is claimed has recently been patented in the United States provides a process of bridge grafting by which trees that have been partially or completely girdled by mice, moles, rabbits, etc., can be restored to substantially their original condition as far as growth is concerned. It also provides a process by means of which crown girds may be bridged over or cut away and the bridge made over the wound. If a tree loses its roots on one side connections can be made from the roots on the other side of the trunk so the sap will be carried from healthy roots and evenly distributed through the trunk.

Oil Solves Problem

Sinking Sand Dunes Form Serious Obstacle to Improved Road Making in Northwest.

Sinking sand dunes which cover up a highway soon after it is completed have formed a serious obstacle to improved road building in some parts of the country, particularly in the Northwest. To remedy the evil, the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture has employed a more extensive application of the agency that has been used in the past to lay dust on ordinary highways.

Fifty-three miles of construction of one Columbia river highway from The Dalles to the coast has, through sandy country, in many places of a volcanic ash as light as flour. As fast as cuts are opened up and fills made in this light soil the wind whips out the fill slopes and sand dunes creep into rock cuts, completely blocking the road. Oil is the only agency yet found to stop the trouble. The equipment used to spray the grade consists of two supply tanks, or drums, in which the oil is carried from the storage tank at the highway siding, and a tractor, which draws the oiling rig and supplies the steam through a hose to the compressor tank, which is carried on a trailer. The oil is heated by the steam and forced through a hose with a nozzle consisting of a half inch pipe. The steam atomizes the oil and sends it in a fine spray for 100 feet or more, depending on whether the wind or the tractor is used. For obvious reasons, spraying is usually carried on in the direction of the wind.

When sufficient oil is used, this means of controlling the sand dunes is very effective, and it is believed that the cost will not be excessive, though exact figures are not obtainable at this time.

NEW AND GOOD ROADS BUILT

Needs of Commercial Interests, of Tourists as Well as Farmer, Have Been Considered.

Wonderful progress is being made in constructing a great network of good roads throughout the country. The needs of commercial interests, of tourists, as well as the farmer, have been considered in designing this system. It has long been a reproach that American roads were inferior to those of most European countries but this condition of affairs is now being corrected. In 1916 the government appropriated $75,000,000 to be spent in five installments, the last of which, amounting to $25,000,000, was to be released July 1, 1919, and this has since been increased by an additional $200,000,000. Up to May 1 plans had been approved for building 27,970 miles of road or nine times the distance from New York to San Francisco and of this 13,540 were actually under construction.—Bays' Life.

TEST DURABILITY OF ROADS

Government Bureau of Road Building Has Constructed Stretch of Roadway at Arlington.

In order to accurately determine the durability of the various kinds of roadways, the government bureau of road building has constructed a stretch of roadway at Arlington representing all the different methods of road building, and over this a heavy machine is drawn back and forth by cable. This is supposed to reproduce the action of vehicles passing over it and the results are carefully noted and compared. The result of the operations will be used as a guide to the expenditure of nearly $300,000,000 which will be made under government auspices.

Why Advertising Pays

If people did not move away and some die—
If new generations did not grow up—
If competitors did not compete—
If people were not receptive to new ideas—
Then—
And only then—
Would there be no need for advertising.
Because of changing business conditions—
Fluctuations in wages—
And the natural aggressiveness and progressiveness of the normal man—
He is your prospective buyer today who could not use or afford your product yesterday.
These were the reasons pointed out recently by a well known sales manager of a large corporation on why it is imperative that advertising be CONSISTENT AND REGULAR.

Basket ball Friday evening, Ellsworth vs. Alden. Two games. S. P. Baar and J. M. Elzinga were at Eltosey one night last week. Fred Schuler visited friends at Bellaire from Saturday until Monday.

Ray Gee of East Jordan was in Ellsworth on business on Monday of this week.

Albert Lalonde of Flint spent several days of last week at the home of his mother east of town.

Don't forget the basket ball game on Friday evening, March 11th and the mass meeting at the Blue hall on Friday evening, March 18.

William Cole is home again after undergoing a serious operation at Lockwood hospital, Petoskey. His condition is A-1 at present and if he has no set-back will soon be out.

Mrs. James Ruiz entertained at a miscellaneous shower given on Friday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Lena Drenth. About thirty ladies were present and many useful gifts were received by the young lady.

Miss Lena Drenth, clerk at the Wallace Weiss store for the past year has decided giving instead of receiving orders and severed connections with the store on Saturday of last week. Her place behind the counter has been taken by Miss Jennie Van Der Heide of Atwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Supernaw attended the funeral service of Will Supernaw at East Jordan Sunday. Deceased was the son of Albert Supernaw of Ellsworth and was himself a former resident of this place. His relatives have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

The Banks township board at a meeting held at the Blue hall on Thursday of last week voted to reconsider and declare null and void their action taken on September 27, 1920, in regard to the division of the township into two precincts. This action was taken by the board following a protest filed with them by the township committee which called the attention of the board to Sec. 3 of Chapter 4 of Act No. 203 of Public Acts of 1917. This sets forth that the division of a township must be decided by a vote of the people in case of less than a voting strength 600 qualified electors. The matter will no doubt be brought before the voters at the next election.

WILDWOOD

Several autos were through here on Sunday.

Ben Newman was in Central Lake on business Monday.

E. R. Wilson is buzzing wood for A. Speckman at Essex.

Alex Sinclair was home from Charlevoix where he is attending school.

Miss Catherine Crawford was "courting" in Bellaire a few days last week.

John Crawford is selling hay these days. Huson Ruggles got a load on Monday of this week.

Duncan Crawford was laid up a couple of days last week nursing a hard cold. He is better at this writing, however.

Duncan Crawford has purchased the Fred Mohrman house on the Wm. Mohrman farm in Lakeview and will move it to his own farm in the very near future.

Dr. Cullen was called from East Jordan on Saturday last to attend a sick horse belonging to Jay Fancher on the Jim Wilson farm. The horse is on the gain.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Fancher are rejoicing over a bright little eight-pound baby girl who arrived on Sunday March 6th. Mother and baby are doing fine but the father's condition is doubtful.

Jim Wilson found the air having anything but the flavor of a Thanksgiving dinner and upon investigating found the cause to be the capture of a couple of skunks in as many traps not far from the chicken coop.

ESSEX

Mr. and Mrs. Diepstra of Mitchell visited Mr. and Mrs. Jake Drenth last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Dekkenga spent last Friday evening visiting at the Tillotson home.

The Misses Emily and Beatrice Wieland drove Miss Beth Strehle to Atwood Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Wieland and George Drenth have purchased a small buzz saw and are cutting their summer's wood.

Jake Drenth went to Bellaire last week and received his naturalization papers. Now he is an American citizen.

Miss Beth Strehle who is teaching school at Atwood this winter was a visitor at the Wieland home Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Newson and Mrs. Newson's son, Ray Dennis, and family are moving back to their farm after three years' residence in East Jordan.

TWO TICKETS IN FIELD THIS SPRING

Names of Prominent Citizens Appear on Both Ballots

The regular Banks township caucus held at the Blue hall last Friday, March 4th, was attended by a fair crowd, a total vote of 142 being registered for supervisor. This office was copied by Ralph Wiltse by a vote of 72 to 70 polled by E. VanderArk.

Seventy-two votes were polled at the Citizens' caucus at Atwood on Monday, March 7th, and as a result of the two caucuses the voters of the township will have their choice of two tickets as follows:

Regular Ticket
Supervisor, R. Wiltse.
Clerk, T. E. Boss.
Treasurer, Geo. Heller.
Highway Commissioner, J. H. Elzinga.
Justice, August VanderArk.
Member of Board of Reviews, C. E. Beness.

ELLSWORTH WINS BY A SCORE OF 50-16

Local Teams Take Double-Header From Atwood

The basket ball clash at the old M. E. church building last Friday evening was a double victory for the Ellsworth teams, the boys winning 50-16 and the girls 9-8.

The boys' game was a walk-away and yet the score made by the Atwood team does not give them credit for the brand of basket ball they played. The Atwood team was on its feet and trying all of the time, but the team-work of the Ellsworth boys was unbeatable and would in fact, make any high school team in this part of the country extend themselves.

The girls' game was nip-and-tuck from start to finish and was anybody's game until the final second of play.

A good game is booked for Friday night of this week, when the two Alden teams come here to play. Ellsworth won from Alden by small scores on the Alden floor two weeks ago and Alden is out for revenge. Show by your attendance Friday evening that you believe in your town and your school.

WILL TALK ON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

Meetings to be Held at Ellsworth and at Peebles School

Any and all who are interested in better schools should not fail to hear Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction W. L. Coffey in his talk on consolidated schools, either at the Peebles schoolhouse at 3:00 p. m., Friday, March 18th, or at the Blue hall at Ellsworth at 8:00 p. m. of the same day and date; or better still at both places.

Mr. Coffey is conceded to be one of the best posted men on the school question in the state and will be ready and willing to answer any and all questions pertaining to the consolidated school question.

Don't forget the dates of the meeting. At the Peebles schoolhouse at three o'clock in the afternoon and at a mass meeting at the Blue hall at Ellsworth; both on Friday, March 18, 1921.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

By GENE BYRNES

AT THE MOVIES

Bryant Washburn will be seen at the Palace Theatre for two days commencing Saturday next, in the Paramount-Artcraft picturization of the famous stage farce, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

The story is a laughable mixture of jealous wives and husbands and is said to set a rapid pace. Mr. Washburn has the role of Jack Temple, intensely devoted to Clara, his wife, who in turn is excessively jealous of him. At a department store Jack encounters a coy young miss, who proceeds to "vamp" him in the most approved style. In the end they are locked on the roof-garden of the store for the night, and Jack is obliged to invent an ailing friend John Brown, in a neighboring town in order to explain his absence to his wife. Then he induces his pal, Frank Fuller, to assume the role of Brown. When Mrs. Fuller, Brown and the "vamp" all get busy at once and invade the Temple home, there is riotous excitement until matters are finally explained.

"For Better...For Worse"

In the good old days that meant for life. But today the American interpretation of those words seem to be "till the novelty wears off." At any rate that seems to be the "New York Idea" and what makes Reno the most popular resort in the world. Careless marriages make bumper divorce crops. Every thinking man and woman, whether married or merely thinking about it, ought to see "The New York Idea." Alice Brady and a big cast play this drama of married life. Here next Wednesday night.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How To Reach the Cause

Nothing is more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Charlevoix people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:

Mrs. W. L. Cowan, 210 Antrim St., says: "I was subject to severe backaches and pains through my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they brought me much relief."

GRANGE TO HOLD FAMILY SUPPER

Members and Their Families to Meet March 21

Charlevoix Grange is planning on having a real get-together meeting and family supper the evening of Monday, March 21, their regular meeting night.

The supper will be held at 6:30, and every member, their immediate family, and also members of the order from other granges are invited to attend. If you are a granger, the hand of welcome is extended, regardless of what grange you belong to. After the supper the evening will be spent in playing cards and dancing.

Comedy Will Be a Side-splitter from Start to Finish

One of the funniest comedies to be staged this season will be "The Train to Podunk" under the auspices of the Past Grand's Club of the local Rebeekah lodge, at the Palace Theatre, Tuesday evening, March 15.

The cast will be composed of 24 people, all members of the local lodge, who have a reputation of being about the best bunch of entertainers the city can produce.

The play will be staged at the Palace Theatre, the curtain to rise shortly after eight o'clock, and without a doubt the house will be filled to capacity.

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1921

REPLACE OUT OF DATE UNIT

CHANGE WILL INCREASE EFFICIENCY OF PLANT

Installation of New Wheel and Generator at Bellaire Gives Protection to City

A move long contemplated was consummated last Monday evening when the common council ordered the purchase of an 180 h. p. water wheel, made by James Lefel & Co., at a cost of $3,475, and a 150 K. V. A. electric generator made by the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., at a cost of $4,240, to be installed at the Bellaire plant owned by the city and to replace an old out of date unit.

The new units will be used in connection with the 225 K. V. A. water wheel generator purchased by the city in 1918, shortly after taking over the Bellaire plant, the installation of this new machinery being the first move on the part of the city to bring the plant up to its highest point of efficiency.

By the use of the new smaller unit just purchased, it is calculated that enough water can be saved during the hours of low load to produce additional power for the time when it is most needed.

Calculation, based on figures that have been made by experts, show that 75 h. p. for a period of four hours a day will be gained, or 150 h. p. for a two hour period.

Charlevoix is up against an electric proposition hard to equal in any part of the state, or other state for that matter. During the months of July, August and the first ten days of September, at least three times as much electric current is needed than during the remainder of the year. To handle the situation the city's plant must be equipped to produce during this period over double the amount of electricity needed during the balance of the year.

Thus, during what is called the "peak load," the Bellaire power plant is taxed to its utmost producing point. Every gallon of water must be conserved, and should it so happen that the load was greater than the amount of current the plant was able to produce, Charlevoix current users stand a good chance of being without current, and a steam plant, to help out during this period is about the only relief.

It is the expectations of the city officials that with the installation of the new unit, this difficulty will be overcome, unless something unforeseen should take place.

DEATH OF HORTON BAY RESIDENT

Arthur Sneathen a Life-Long Resident of That Vicinity

On Saturday evening March 12, at 9:30, Arthur Sneathen 36, a life-long resident of Horton Bay died at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. R. Denn of Boyne City.

Mr. Sneathen had been suffering from diabetes for about six years, and a week ago was taken to Boyne City that he might be near his attending physician.

He is survived by his wife, mother, Mrs. Fred Sneathen, a brother Guy, and the sister at whose home he died.

Prayer was held at the home at one o'clock Tuesday, followed by funeral services at the Horton Bay M. E. church the same afternoon at two o'clock. Interment in North Bay cemetery.

RAILROADS BOOST RATES IN STATE

Raise of Six Tenths of a Cent Goes Into Effect

It costs more to ride to Grand Rapids by train today than it did last week. The price has been increased from three to three and six tenths per mile and today's price is $7.43. The price before the raise was $6.19. This does not include seat in chair car, which is priced today at $1.22 per chair.

The price of a ride to Detroit by train is $12.30 and if one goes to Chicago the cost is $14.58.

Should a traveler wish to go to Grand Rapids aboard the sleeper the cost of a lower berth would be $3.24 and that of an upper $2.59.

The new rates were established by the Inter-state commerce commission some days ago and were ordered in effect at midnight last Wednesday.

LEGION CABARET SUPPER MARCH 31

Date Definitely Set for Annual Supper and Dance

The annual cabaret supper staged by the American Legion will be held in the Bank hall the evening of March 31 and the boys are busy in preparation for the big event.

Hundreds of Charlevoix people attended the supper last year and were more than pleased with the treatment accorded them. This year it is hoped that the attendance will be larger than last, and it is quite safe to say that everyone will be well cared for.

Just mark this date on your calendar and make it a point to be there. You will have a good time and also help in making a success of the event.

$30,000,000 BOND ISSUE ON BALLOT

LEGISLATURE SUBMITS STATE SOLDIERS' BONUS

Propose $15 For Each Month In Service; Takes in Men and Women From Michigan

Voters of Michigan will be asked to approve a $30,000,000 issue of state bonds at the coming election, the proceeds of which will be used to pay a bonus to the soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses who went from this state to serve in the World War, said State Senator G. E. McArthur of Eaton Rapids.

"The joint resolution to place the constitutional amendment on the ballot was passed by the house and senate last Wednesday with but one dissenting vote. The 'nay' vote recorded against the measure was that of Representative Case of Leelanau county, said Mr. McArthur, who explained his position by saying he believed that the payment of a soldiers' bonus to veterans of the late war was a matter for the federal government to handle and not a state question.

The resolution was introduced by Representative Frank B. Aldrich, of Cheboygan, early in the session. It provides for the payment of compensation to all classes of honorably discharged veterans and nurses of the war, payment to be made on the basis of $15 for each month of service given.

It takes in the men and women who went from the state into the military and naval service, including also the war nurses. The measure carries an ambling act, which provides for the distribution of the fund by a commission headed by the governor and composed of other state officials.

Before its final passage, the measure was amended so as to include the men who served on the Russian front, a large part of the force sent to Archangel being Michigan boys.

CHARLEVOIX VS. HARBOR SPRINGS

Local H. S. Team Wins by Score of 18 to 15

The Charlevoix high school basketball team won another fast and scrappy game last Friday night, bringing home the heavy end of a 18-15 score from Harbor Springs. The line-up was as follows:

Charlevoix	Harbor Springs
Halverson	L. F. Kneisley
Hallett	R. F. Thompson
Ackert	C. Zuber
Brown	R. G. Long
Hammet	L. G. Judd

Score

QUARREL ENDS IN STABBING

VERSAL SEYMOUR USES KNIFE ON COMPANION

Affair the Result of Ill Feeling Between the Young Lads Covering Over a Year

An affair which has caused a great deal of comment locally took place late Thursday afternoon of last week, when Versal Seymour, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seymour, knifed Eugene Newton, a lad of about the same age, inflicting a gash in his back about an inch wide and possibly of a like depth.

Conflicting stories are told of the affair, but from a thorough investigation we find that for over a year or more the two lads have been quarreling, and each were willing to scrap with little or no provocation.

The affair Thursday afternoon, as we have been told, took place near the Seymour residence when Versal was on his way home from delivering milk. A number of boys were present and young Seymour, when confronted by what he termed his enemy, young Newton, drew a knife and stabbed him in the back.

Complaint was made and young Seymour was placed in custody, later being taken before Justice Henry C. Cooper. The result was that he was placed under bonds amounting to $1,000 which were provided for and then he was released to appear on Friday of this week before the court, when a further disposition of the case will be made.

The affair is most unfortunate, especially in regard to the serious ending of the ill feeling between the lads.

W. C. T. U. MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Members Greatly Enjoy Program at Home of Mrs. Lewis

The March meeting of the W. C. T. U. held with Mrs. Richard Lewis last Friday afternoon was well attended. The treasurer reported $15 received for the famine sufferers and divided equally between European, Chinese and Near East Relief. A committee was appointed to circulate petitions asking the legislature to retain the State Police and to pass a bill relative to the movie business.

Plans were made for a local drive for members in accord with the National Jubilee plans for a million members and a million dollars. This Union has already completed its financial quota which was $305.00.

A committee with authority to render aid was appointed concerning several children reported in need of clothing.

The program was "alcohol in the medicine chest" and the readings were very instructive and fruitful of much discussion. Mrs. Simon's chart talk regarding the effect of alcohol on the brain cells was especially interesting.

The hostess served a dainty luncheon and a half hour was spent socially. The annual meeting for the election of officers will be held in April.

BELLAIRE GIRLS CATCH LARGE FISH

Capture 46-Inch Pike and 14-Pound Salmon Trout

Several large fish have been speared through the ice at Bellaire this winter but it remained for two local girls to break the record. Last week they captured a pike which measured 46 inches in length and tipped the beam at 20 pounds. They also caught a 14-pound salmon trout and a 32-pound muskellunge. The pike was shipped to Chicago where it is being mounted.

LAST HOME GAME FRIDAY EVENING

C. H. S. Basketball to Play East Jordan Team

The last basketball game of the season will be played at the rink Friday night of this week with East Jordan.

Although this is the first year the East Jordan boys have played, they have developed into a fast and scrappy little team and a good game is promised.

This will be the last chance to see our high school team on the local floor and a big crowd is expected.

MID-YEAR TEST IN RURAL SCHOOLS

REPORTS NOW IN HANDS OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONER

Jennie Kent of Clarion Has Highest Standing in County--Reports Run Well

Reports of the mid-year tests are at last all at hand and carefully checked. Naturally the report of a single test is not a criterion of the work of that school. The work cannot be judged by any single test. The daily work of the child, the oral recitations and the amount of work, as well as the general quality of work done, all mean much more than a single test. The teachers mark on different standards, some giving more credit for thought and originality and others being very exacting in demanding facts and data; some expect freedom and others mark closely with all questions considered of equal value, whereas some questions are more important than others; some mark spelling and penmanship in those subjects only while others mark off for ink blots or misspelled words in no matter what subject they may be found. This is as true of our marking system in city schools and colleges as it is true of our rural schools.

Nevertheless the reports are interesting as a study of tendencies and individual records. The highest mark recorded in the county is that of Jennie Kent, age 8, grade 2, in Clarion, Mona Bardwell teacher. Jennie's average was 98 per cent. The Clarion school had the highest average in the county; 91.6 per cent. Second came Greentown with an average of 91.2 per cent and third McKinley with 85.8 per cent average.

The percentage of failures would indicate a great deal of variation in the quality of work being done in the different subjects. Where the variation is slight the unevenness is probably due to the nature of the examination but in some cases the variation is very great. Only 4 per cent in the county failed in reading; 9 per cent in orthography and 9 per cent in grammar. 10 per cent failed in language, 11 per cent in spelling, 12 per cent in physiology and 12 per cent in arithmetic. Thus three times as many failed in arithmetic as failed in reading. But the irregularity is even more noticeable in the three remaining subjects. In civics 16 per cent failed, in agriculture 17 per cent failed and in geography 19 per cent failed. This would seem to indicate that more stress is needed in civics, agriculture, geography, physiology, and arithmetic.

It is exceedingly difficult for any teacher in a one-room school to teach 25 to 30 classes per day and give to all the emphasis needed. Many times the children will seem to know a lesson and there is not time to go over the entire lesson. Many times the children have a lesson but cannot drill under supervision unless thirty-minute or three-quarter-hour periods are possible. Longer class periods are possible only in the graded and consolidated schools and the teachers of the county are looking forward to the time when a system will be adopted which will enable them to do justice to their pupils.

SNEAK THIEVES AT WORK IN CITY

Make Forcible Entry Into Home of Edward Allen

The Courier is in receipt of a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Allen, who have been spending the winter in Winter Park, Florida, that during their absence from the city some person or persons broke the locks on their woodshed and kitchen doors and entered the house.

At present the extent of their loss, if any, is not known, nor will it be determined until the Allen family return from the south. Mr. Allen claims in his letter to suspect certain persons, and if when he returns, sufficient evidence is found, prosecution will follow.

STATE SYSTEM TO SAVE MONEY

Centralize Accounting of all Departments and Institutions.

A saving of thousands of dollars to the state of Michigan will result when the plans of the centralized state accounting department, in charge of Fred W. Griswold, are put into effect at the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1, says a Lansing dispatch.

Although a uniform accounting system and a state budget were introduced by the last legislature, practically half of the state institutions have continued using their own systems of keeping accounts, thus cancelling benefits of these innovations.

In place of these now will be the state accounting department located in Lansing. This office will keep all the accounts of all state institutions and boards except the accounts for the farms, stores and industrial plants connected with the institutions.

These accounts also will be under the inspection of Mr. Griswold at all times, however, so that the complete financial condition of all institutional industries will be known.

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

TRAIN HITS AUTO AT DANGEROUS CROSSING

Wilson Maxon Dies Instantly and David Maxwell Expires on Way to Hospital

Wilson Maxon of Brutus was instantly killed, David Maxwell was so badly injured that he died on the way to Petoskey hospital, and Ray Maxon, son of the man killed was badly injured when train No. 4 on the Pennsylvania lines, south bound last Wednesday afternoon, struck the Maxon car at the crossing just north of the brewery near Petoskey. The automobile was caught by the left side of the pilot of the railroad engine and literally torn to pieces. The dead man was thrown a considerable distance from the car. He was terribly cut and broken and death came instantly. The other men received frightful injuries, many broken bones and bruises.

The men were placed on board the train and taken to Petoskey, the injured men being taken to Petoskey hospital.

The party had spent Wednesday forenoon in Petoskey on business and after driving part way home discovered that a package containing goods purchased in Petoskey had been forgotten. The car was turned around and was being driven back toward Petoskey when the accident happened.

NORWOOD ROAD ROUTE UNSETTLED

No Definite Decision As Yet Arrived At By Commissioners

Charlevoix county road commissioners held their monthly meeting on Thursday of last week, with all members present, also two road commissioners from Antrim county, Messrs. Harding and Bowers.

The main issue was the discussion on re-routing the road to Norwood to meet the wishes of people in Antrim opposed to the present route of the Dixie Highway, which has been previously announced in these columns.

Charlevoix county bonded itself for a certain amount to build south to the county line, the route at that time being understood to run through Norwood. Charlevoix county commissioners fully realize this and are loath to make any changes in the route.

No decision was reached at the meeting and it was voted to hold the issue over to another meeting and a representative of the state highway department to be present.

DEMAND SLACK AND PRICES POOR

MICHIGAN FARMERS FACE SERIOUS LOSSES

Many Farmers are Holding Produce In Hopes That Higher Prices Will Prevail

The stocks of corn, wheat, oats and barley on the farms of Michigan on March 1, were relatively large. The estimates are based upon reports received from the regular correspondents of the joint state and federal crop reporting service and all other available sources, and are made public today by Charles J. DeLand, Secretary of State and Vernon H. Church, Agricultural Statistician, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. Good crops of each of these grains was produced last year, but a slack demand and unsatisfactory prices have been discouraging to farmers. These crops were grown at an abnormally high cost, and those farmers who were in a position to hold them have done so, hoping that better prices would be realized later in the season and mitigate their losses. An estimate of land and rental values is also included in the report.

CORN: Assuming that 34 per cent of the corn crop went into silos last fall, the amount of the remaining 66 per cent harvested as grain, that is still on farms is estimated at 15,144,000 bushels. This represents 36 per cent of the crop and is the highest per centage, except 1913, during the last 18 years. The quality is excellent, 85 per cent being merchantable as compared with 84 per cent one year ago, and 63 per cent the ten-year average. But few counties produce more than is needed for local consumption, and only six per cent of the crop is estimated to have been shipped out of the county where grown.

WHEAT: The per centage of the wheat crop remaining on farms is estimated at 28 the highest since 1916, and amounts to 3,997,000 bushels. The total crop of winter and spring wheat, including carry-over from the previous year was 15,206,000 bushels. As the estimated monthly marketings total 8,400,000 bushels, it is probable that these marketings have been slightly over-estimated, when account is taken of the seed and local flour consumption requirements. The estimated amount marketed during February was 640,000 bushels.

OATS: The crop of oats was much larger than that of the previous year, and the amount remaining on farms is more than double that of one year ago. The percentage is 48, as compared with 34 of last year, and a ten-year average of 38. The stocks are heaviest in the east-central and southeastern counties, which normally ship a greater percentage than other portions of the state. It is estimated that 26 per cent of the crop will be shipped out of the county where grown this year, as compared with 15 per cent of last year.

Barley: Barley is mainly grown for feeding purposes, and it is estimated that only 15 per cent of the crop will not be utilized in the localities where grown. 30 per cent of the crop or 1,872,000 bushels remain on hand as compared with 22 per cent last year.

VALUE OF FARM LANDS: For the year as a whole, farm lands show a slight increase in value of $91 per acre as compared with $87 last year, and unimproved farms, $59 as compared with $56 one year ago. Flow lands show about the same increase in value. However, the rapid decline in the price of farm products during the past few months has reduced the demand in many sections of the state, and while no material change in prices is noticeable, slightly lower prices may prevail for a time in some sections. In some localities the demand has remained fairly active through a considerable movement of people from the cities to the rural districts.

RENTAL VALUES: A special inquiry relative to rental value shows that approximately 18 per cent of the farms of the state are rented, 15 per cent being rented on shares and the other three per cent for cash. The average size of these farms is 88.5 acres, with a value of $7,750. The average cash rental paid is $475 per annum, or a little over $5.00 per acre.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Doctor Hewitt: Kindly tell me what, in your opinion, are the future chances of a preacher who will stand in the pulpit, as I heard a preacher but recently do, and preach against Sanctification, perfection, etc., and that there were parts of the Bible which were not fit to read, etc. What would you do were you in a church and heard such talk as that from the pulpit?—F. S.

A. If he is not mentally impaired, then he is a poltroon, a marplot, or a degenerate secondhand, and has thrown himself beyond the pale of God's mercy. "What would I do, were I in a church and heard such talk as that from the pulpit?" I would take my family and get out of that church as quickly as possible.

Q. Doctor Hewitt: I want to ask you a few questions and have them answered in the Courier. Do you consider it a sin for one who does or does not belong to a church to go to a dance once a week, or to go to a moving picture show?—G. R. P.

A. All who belong to church are not Christians; they should be true and loyal servants of Jesus. The wrath of God Almighty is upon every one whose name is upon a church record if they fail to measure up to the standard of true Christianity as given to this world by Christ Jesus. Matt. 22:37; Matt. 23:24. "Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," said Jesus. Matt. 23:23. "Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of Hell?" Answer the question of Jesus, "how can ye escape the damnation of Hell?" Going to church doesn't make you a Christian, any more than going to a livery stable makes you a mule, although I will admit some people, when it comes to religion, don't display as much good sense as a well-bred mule and your question would indicate that you are approaching dangerously close to that class. The dance is the scum floating on top of the Devil's mill pond, over the dam of this pond flows the shame of the unchaste, the result of which has left thousands upon thousands of fatherless and motherless children, brought thousands of divorces upon our court records, wrecked the lives of thousands of our virtuous girls, sapped the vitality and ruined young manhood. At the dance you will find the man who stinks of tobacco until the air becomes as foul as it would on a hot day were one near a polecat; the dirty tobacco-squirter; the hard cider boozier; and something stronger if he can get it; the foul-mouthed user of profanity; the dirty story teller; the card player; the slimy-tongued libertine; the old turkey buzzard gossip; the good morally who are there for the first time; and always a good sprinkling of hide-bound hypocrites; and so here they are, all mingled together. A fine bunch, aren't they? And this bunch is well-represented at every dance that ever was held or ever will be, and you know it. But, on the other hand did you ever hear the blessed name of Jesus, the sweet purity of childhood, or that which leads to a higher standard of character discussed? No, everything has a tendency to the downward standard, or none at all. Have you ever carried anything away from the dance that will place a rung in the ladder of life to take you one step nearer a better position or help you to develop a nobler character? Has the dance ever helped you to be a better mother, a better father, a truer son, or a more devoted daughter? Ah, how quickly your conscience flashes the answer to these questions, no, no, it never has. It does not matter whether you are a sinner in the church or out of the church; if you dance you are a sinner. I am giving you the straight goods based on the authority of God's Holy Word; if you continue in this sin and refuse to use the personality God has stamped upon you, refuse to throw every ounce of your influence against the dance—the devil's dirtiest piece of machinery this side of Hell—then you are, if death overtakes you before you are converted, lost. God gave you your feet, your hands, your eyes, your ears, your mental faculties for a higher and nobler purpose than to serve the devil with them. God keeps that wonderful little machine in your chest beating for one purpose only, that of a true representative of the righteous principles for which he gave His Son Christ Jesus. Will you do it? Washington did, Lincoln did, McKinley did, Roosevelt did, Bryan is, and Harding is, and will kiss God's Holy Bible when he takes his oath of office March 4th, as President of this greatest of all nations on the face of the earth. You can not give all you owe to the flag, that when it floats on land or sea, means more than any other flag in all this world. Old Glory. Unless you take Jesus into life with you, turn to the most illustrious characters in all history and you will find they were steadfast in service to the great Master, Jesus. Why does one name seem to stand out preeminently above all others in our great American republic? Why is that name dearer to us as the years go by and will ever be loved and cherished? Because he took Jesus into the White House with him, Lincoln, our Sainted and martyred Lincoln; how tenderly did he show forth the love of Jesus in his noble life. Lincoln hated the dance and abhorred all the evils that go with this, the devil's own device, the dance.

As to your question on the moving picture, I have fully expressed my views from a Scriptural standpoint in the Courier of previous issue.

Q. Doctor: What do you get out of Ruth 1:21, or what is the meaning of "The Almighty hath afflicted me"?—R. W. E.

A. "The Almighty hath afflicted me." This reference of her affliction to the hand of God contains no murmuring or repining, but the spirit of humble resignation to His sovereign will. She admits she deserved her affliction, and that it was a witness of God against her. Nothing so effectually lightens affliction as pious resignation to the will of God. But even unto him who striveth with his Maker. Isa. 45:9.

Q. Doctor Hewitt: Do you think one can belong to an order such as the Masons, Odd Fellows and the like, and at the same time be a Christian?—W. A.

A. Yes, they can. Such orders as you have referred to are founded upon the highest standard of morals in the world; that of brotherly love, fidelity, friendship, truth, etc. While morality will not save a man's soul, it is one of the necessary corner stones upon which to build a noble character.

Some of our good Christian characters as I have ever had the privilege of affiliating with, are members of lodges; and many of which are our most ardent workers in the church. The difference between the lodge and the church is, the lodge maintains a high standard of morals, the church builds Christian character. Were I a member of a lodge, I would never allow lodge meetings to interfere with church work. Luke 12:31. Christ first, and then God the Father will bountifully supply all your needs, not all your wants, for the man often wants many things that would not be for his good. But God will "supply all your needs." See Phil. 4:19.

Q. Doctor Hewitt: Do you think it necessary that one should have a college education and understand Hebrew and Greek before they should attempt to preach the gospel. Am I right in my belief that the work of a minister is to save souls and administer spiritually to humanity? And don't you think a minister should work just as hard in the discharge of his duties as his fellow man, as a common day laborer would to his employer in shop, factory or on the farm?—R. B.

A. No one in a moment of sanity would cast any aspersions at broad scholarship. Neither would he discredit learning on the part of a preacher. The minister needs the deep and strong foundations of intellectual for the fine structure of his later service; his scholarship can be none too thorough and none too accurate. But the scholar's besetting temptation is in the direction of coldness. He, I believe, often finds it difficult to keep human interest alive in the midst of his studies of antiquities or of abstractions of thought. Moreover, he is likely to give abnormal emphasis to points of microscopic value while the currents of truly great interest sweep past him unnoticed.

One who spends all his time digging in Greek and Hebrew roots, who exhausts his sympathies upon Egyptian mummies or ancient Hittites, or the inhabitants of buried Dohm, comes to feel that an iota subscript or a vowel point is a real factor in human destiny. Scholarship may adorn the pulpit as a queenly gown adorns a lovely woman, but scholarly activities should not overshadow all else. Let our learned ministers lay their scholarly attainments on the altar of the church, let them divide the time of digging between Hebrew and Greek and darkened haunts of vice and the fastering purities of the wretched all around them. Let them not exhaust their sympathies upon the entombed mummies of ancient cities, but save some portion of this slabster ointment for the weary heads, tired hands and crushed hearts of neighbors. Let them know that humanity in our day needs even more than erudition and intellectual brilliancy and the knowledge of encyclopaedic learning, the red blood of encouragement, and the warm fragrance of love is what is needed. Even a scholarly minister can take fire with holy passion for man, while a savant in the pulpit may incandescence with the white fervor of evangelism.

The minister should be a visitor throughout his parish, a caller on the sick, needy and afflicted. If the pastor will carry into his parish visits the strength of christian courage, the optimism of christian hope, the beauty of christian love, he will win the people to Christ. The minister is an organizer, a promoter, an executive, a man of administration and action. He must deal with plans and organizations, facts and statistics, property and finance. But no amount of mere hustle, no display of business genius, no power of administration can rescue from pathos the pastoral career of a man who wins nobody to Christ, the pastor who is not a soul-winner is a complete failure. No, by no means is it necessary for one to have a college education to become a successful soul-winning minister; neither is it necessary that they should be learned in Greek and Hebrew. Yes, you would stand 100 per cent as to the duties of a minister. II Tim. 4:5.

"But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry." Titus 2:7. "In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity." Heb. 13:6. "So that we may boldly say, 'The Lord is my helper, and I shall not fear what man shall do unto me.'"

AT THE MOVIES

A succession of hair-raising stunts, declared to be beyond belief until seen with your own eyes, feature "Terror Island," the Paramount-Artcraft screen melodrama starring Houdini, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre for two days commencing March 19 next. The exploits of the famous self-liberator before the camera are said to be even more baffling than those which he demonstrated on the vaudeville stage.

A well-developed story has been written around Houdini's feats by Arthur B. Reeve and John W. Grey. It presents Houdini as the inventor of a secret submarine device with which he hopes to salvage the cargo goes of wrecked ships. However, through his meeting with a girl whose father is held captive on a South Sea island, Houdini is forced to put his invention to work sooner than he anticipated. Clashes with the native islanders, in which Houdini makes all sorts of unbelievable escapes while under water from safes and packing boxes, a fight with a diver on the ocean bottom, as well as several feats of magic that mystify the audience as much as they do the South Sea natives on the screen are only part of the program of thrills.

THE UNIVERSAL FORD AFTER-SERVICE

The most reliable after-service which is ever behind Ford Cars, Trucks, and Fordson Tractors is positive assurance to the owners of Ford Cars of the constant use and service of their cars.

Our skilled Ford mechanics know how to adjust or repair Ford products so that they will serve to the maximum of their efficiency. They understand the Ford mechanism thoroughly, and can make adjustments or replacements quicker than other repairmen who lack Ford training. There is a standardized way for making every repair and adjustment on a Ford car. It is the quickest, surest way; and in all their work our mechanics follow the methods recommended by the Ford Service School at the Ford factory. The standardized repair jobs are covered by reasonable Ford charges. Thus you are assured of having your work done properly, promptly, and at a reasonable price. Genuine Ford parts, Ford mechanics, Ford special tools and machinery and Ford charges are an unbeatable combination.

LET YOUR TINKERING BE HARMLESS

The Herald wishes to register its emphatic protest against the amendment to the primary law by which is proposed to elect a set of professional delegates to conventions. The proposition is this—At the August primary when state officers are elected, to elect ONE SET of delegates who are to represent the township at ALL COUNTY CONVENTIONS for two years.

We protest against such a plan.

1. Because it is undemocratic and tends to create a set of professional delegates instead of distributing the honors around and giving all who care to do so an opportunity at some time to take part in the county conventions.

2. Because the primary method of electing delegates in practice is itself a farce and tends to foster rather than discourage machine politics. One of three things is sure to happen. Either a slate will be framed up and sprung quietly so as to shut out everyone not on the slate, or there will be two slates which would not be materially different from the case of a contested caucus where two slates were made up, or no attention would be paid to it and no attempt at a choice based upon merit or ability, in which case practically every delegate is a minority representative.

It might be well for the legislature to give time enough after one amending of the primary law to allow the people to become familiar with its provisions before it is again amended. Primary tinkering has become so confirmed a legislative habit that we fear our esteemed salons can hardly be expected to refrain from doing it; but if you must tinker Gentlemen, try to do harmless tinkering and not make the primary any more of a farce than it is.—Gratiot County Herald.

You are right, Brother McCall. There has been too much tinkering already.

A GOOD BILL TO KILL

A bill has been presented in the Michigan legislature to create the office of county health officer at a salary of $4,000 a year. The pay of the occupant of the position would represent only a small part of the expense connected with the inauguration of the proposed new department. It would be necessary to have sanitary and quarantine assistants, office help, laboratory, transportation facilities, and many other things that cost money. It is a safe prediction that $10,000 a year would be a conservative cost of the second or third year operation of a county health department. In addition many cities would have to stand the expense of a city health department and a school nurse. It is a good bill to kill.

CEMENT MAKING STARTED FRIDAY

Portland Cement Company at Petoskey Begin Operations

The manufacture of cement was started Friday at the new plant of the Petoskey Portland Cement company just west of Petoskey, and within a few days it is expected the plant will be in complete operation.

Process of sintering manufacture requires some days to work out before finished product is secured, and once this is commenced the machinery is kept in constant operation.

The first work is grinding the rock and shale for the slurry, the next being the mixing and baking process, and lastly the grinding of this into cement and storage in the great bins.

AFTERNOON TRAIN GOES OFF TRACK

P. M. Northbound Friday Over Five Hours Late

The Pere Marquette train due to arrive in Charlevoix at 4:00 p. m. was over five hours late Friday, due to the train running off the track at the sink hole about a mile south of Ellsworth.

The tender left the rails and tore up about one hundred feet of track. Section crews were ordered on the scene and after five hours or more of difficult work, the trouble was overcome. Outside of a slight shaking up of passengers, no serious damage resulted from the accident.

Peculiar London Street.

What is the most curious street name in London? It would be hard, perhaps, to find an older one than Crooked Lane, in Chelsea which in all probability recalls very ancient days when the place was the summer resort of the nobility. It has been suggested that the straight strips of grass between the various holdings of land were known as usages, and that we owe the name to the circumstance that one of these useways or usages was crooked. The history of London street names has endless fascination and interest.

Wild Geese in the British Isles.

The tribe of wild geese of Europe are birds of mystery. Their nesting grounds, and thus their true homes, are in the far north, in the wilds of Spitzbergen, and on the inaccessible island of Kolguev. It is only as visitors that they come to the British islands, for in the regions that approach the pole winter comes early, and thus all bird life is driven southward, flying at incredible speed on the wings of the north wind as they make for their winter quarters in more hospitable lands.

Capri.

I wish you could have walked down to the Florida Pavilion with me yesterday. It is down one of those wondrous roads down out of the side of the cliff which one grows used to here, and I came back up the old steps. Such views! The sea in afternoon light, the Faraglioni rocks below, so often painted and photographed, the solid cliffs of Capri to right and left. —Laurel M. Taylor (Left).

The Ant's "Parasol"

The so-called parasol ants of Brazil get their name from their habit of marching along in single file, each one with a piece of green leaf held over its head. These scraps of leaves are taken to underground chambers, well chewed, and allowed to ferment and decay in a mass, through which the mycelium of a fungus soon begins to run in white threads. When little mushroom buttons have started to develop the workers bring them off and feed them to the baby ants.

Every Great Book.

Every great book is an action, and every great action is a book. All who would study with advantage in any art whatsoever, ought to behave themselves to the reading of some sure and certain books attentively over, for to read many books promiscuously rather than learning like as those who do it everywhere are not yet wise at home. —Martin Luther

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, MARCH 19 and 20—Big double attraction. Paramount presents Houdini in "Terror Island," with Lila Lee and a mammoth cast. The world's master wizard in a fascinating romance of sunken treasure. Puzzling plots. Deadly encounters and miraculous escapes. They begin in the shop of a Yankee inventor and end on the shore of the south sea isle. Enough thrills for ten pictures crowded into six breathless reels. Also Pathe presents Harold Lloyd in one of his latest and best two reel comedies, "An Eastern Westerner." Best ever. Don't miss these two big attractions.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23rd—Realart presents Mary Miles Minter in her first 1921 picture, "Sweet Lavender." An all-star cast. A good clean picture.

COMING—Thursday March 24th Wm. S. Hart in "The Disciple."

COMING—Saturday March 26 Wm. Farnum in "Drag Harlan."

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Books in the legislative cloak rooms have been at a premium early in the forenoon, the lobby cigar stand has done a record business, the thick smoke of battle has curled to the lofty ceilings of the legislative chambers, where the hundreds of lights have burned late during the past week.

Realizing that there was no time to be lost if they were to reach the solution of the many perplexing problems now pending in the present session of the Legislature. Before April 14th, the tentative date proposed for final adjournment the lawmakers worked early and late during the past week.

Four important measures which received public hearings before various legislative committees during the past week were: the proposal for the creation of State Department of Agriculture, the resolution providing for the submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment to allow for legislative enactment of a state income tax, the "eugenic marriage" bill, and the bill to recodify 95 laws relative to corporations into one complete and inclusive corporation law.

Precedence was given by the House the bill providing for a State Department of Agriculture and for a State Department of Conservation. The rules were suspended in order to expedite action. On Wednesday the House unanimously passed the agricultural bill and sent it to the Senate. Similar action was taken on the conservation bill Thursday. The bills are almost identical with the recommendations of the state farm bureau.

The reorganization bill providing for the creation of a State Department of Labor and Industry, reported favorably by the House State Affairs Committee Wednesday, was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

No legislative week is complete unless some scandal is discovered or suspected. During the past week the House focused its scrutiny on the State House of Correction and branch of the State Prison at Marquette, where flagrant irregularities and inefficiency are said to have been discovered in the handling of prison accounts by Mr. West, who for 18 years has been the prison clerk. West admitted a defalcation of $12,000. An official audit of the books of the prison is being made and the House Committee on that institution has been empowered to conduct a complete investigation.

Rep. Coleman's bill to require all horse drawn vehicles to carry lights after darkness was the center of considerable discussion. Amendments restricted it to carriages, buggies and wagons, made the maximum penalty $5 and limited application of the measure to village or city streets and trunk line highways.

Home rule for counties, proposed in an amendment by Sen. Phillips of Bay, has not yet received the necessary two-thirds vote required for its passage by the Senate. In the Senate it fell three votes short of mustering the necessary 22. This vote was reconsidered and the Senate may yet pass the measure.

Sen. Engle's bill to provide for reimbursement by the state of one-half of the amounts spent by the counties for the destruction of grasshoppers, as so strenuously urged by the state farm bureau, passed the Senate with but one dissenting vote and was given immediate effect.

The proposal of Rep. Evans of Lenawee to require all legal papers to be made out by lawyers and to punish persons illegally representing themselves as lawyers was snowed under in the House.

Anxiety as to the disposition of the 130,000 quarts of whiskey and 300 barrels of alcohol, besides considerable moonshine, which is now in the possession of the State Food and Drug Commissioner, has led Rep. Robinson, Chairman of the House Committee on Liquor Traffic, to propose the appointment of a committee of three representatives to go to Washington and get permission from the federal authorities to dispose of this liquor in some legal manner. The House Committee on Liquor Traffic recommended that the duty of enforcing the prohibition laws be assigned to the State Police as proposed by the farm bureau.

Growing of milkweed in the state for fibre production was sanctioned by the House. However, the provisions of the bill to allow the growing of milkweed for forage and bee pasture were stricken out because of the general hatred of the ravous weed.

Bills which passed the senate almost unanimously include: Sen. Condon's bill making four years' study in a law office equivalent to a college education, if the applicant can pass the state bar examination; Sen. Vandenberg's bill to provide for Michigan's cooperation in the investigations relative to the establishment of a deep water way between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic; and Rep. Warner's bill which repeals the sections of the present highway law which provide the means by which a county may withdraw from the county road system.

Bills which passed the third reading in the House almost unanimously: Rep. MacDonald's bill to permit villages to regulate dance halls; Rep. Gowdy's bill to increase the compensation of supervisors and other township officers; Rep. Gettel's bill to authorize boards of supervisors to purchase county parks; Rep. Morrison's bill to allow townships to appropriate money for fire protection; Rep. Ladd's bill to require the registrations of stallions and to prohibit the use of grade stallions in Michigan; and Rep. Rowe's bill to require school districts sending 8th grade graduates to high schools in other districts to pay the actual per capita cost of such high school education.

Although the flood of new bills for the appointment by the governor has somewhat subsided, 79 new bills made their appearance. Of special interest among these proposed measures were: a "short form ballot" constitutional amendment providing for the appointment by the Governor of the Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Attorney General by Rep. Dunn of Detroit; $1,628,000 appropriation recommended by the state administrative board to meet the deficits of various state departments and institutions, by Senator Clark of Berrien; repeal of the present specific tax upon mortgages and the placing of such property upon the general tax roll by Rep. Rowe of Hillsdale; and the establishment of standard grades and tests for all coal sold at retail by Sen. Eldred of Ionia.

Childish Reading.
The child worships heroes and accepts the painted word as an oracle. Plausible action, for him, is not confined to the four walls of his home or to the street that he knows. And books in the first reading years do not seem to reflect common opinion, or make demands for life. The tale that unfolds from their pages is more real than reality. Never again, for most of us, will come that complete immersion in the atmosphere of a story that is the even mildly intelligent child's inalienable birthright.—Exchange.

Mesopotamian Language.
The characters of the language of Mesopotamia, like the Egyptian, were originally hieroglyphic, and the several hundred groups of wedges by means of which the language was expressed in writing, may now be traced to the original hieroglyphs. One of the early picture-words was a crescent and star, and the picture was employed to express an incantation or exorcism, or anything capable of driving the evil spirit from the body of which it had taken possession.

Proper Reading for Children.
It is in the home that the growing mind receives its most lasting impressions. Surround the child with good reading and you surround him with friends. An attractive title and good illustrations are no guaranty that the book contains good reading. If you have not time to read books yourself consult your librarian and let your choice be not only what will stimulate the imagination but above all something to warm the heart and huggess the great truths of life.—Youth's Companion.

"Soaked" Family Doctor.
After a Kentucky judge had fined his family doctor $50 and costs for speeding and had sentenced him to jail for three days, he went on to say: "You and I are friends. I am your lawyer and you are my doctor, but I am here to administer justice as I see it. And you will serve that sentence in spite of our friendship or who any of our friends may do." Just wait until it comes Doc's turn to sit in judgment on that judge!

For a New Umbrella.
Before using a new umbrella inject a small quantity of vasoline into the hinge portion of the frame. It put on carefully the vasoline will not spread and is a sure preventive against rust. Also, always stand wet umbrellas on their handle to dry. This allows the water to run out of them instead of into the part where the silk and ribs meet, thus causing the metal to rust and the silk to rot. Good Housekeeping.

Hunting Gazelles From Autos.
The speed of the gazelle has always made it exceedingly difficult to hunt them, but now it is a common thing to see gazelle hunters in motor automobiles chasing the desert antelope in chase of these speedy animals. The results of the hunt are invariably greater than when horses are used because the animals become tired out before overtaking the gazelles.

Roquefort Cheese.
Roquefort cheese has been successfully made in this country. Not content with making it in this climate, our scientists proved that goat's milk was unnecessary. Cow's milk will produce excellent cheese if it is properly ripened.

Had Warning Enough.
A West Norwood man who described himself as a poet told the magistrate that he had twice been knocked down by a motorcyclist. Our opinion is that he should have given up poetry when he was knocked down the first time.—London Punch.

Whence "Stentorian."
A Greek herald with the forces before Troy was blessed with a very powerful voice. In fact we are told it was as loud as those of fifty other men. The man's name was Stentor and from his name we derive our modern word stentorian.

Beauty's Advantage.
The best egg may not be inside the whitest shell, nor is the best bargain always to be found behind the most showy front, but the woman with a pretty face continues to inspire confidence.

Natural Result.
"Some men are foolish when it comes to meeting their obligations," remarks an exchange. This may be because they are financially shy.—Boston Transcript.

Resigned.
It may be, as a socialist says, that from a physical standpoint we are much inferior to prehistoric man; still, most of us would rather be inferior than prehistoric.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Referring to that general subject of salary increases, we can all appreciate the plight of the Michigan man who says he will have to demand an increase in order to pay his income tax.

A farmer who recently died near Big Rapids was known as "the man without an enemy." However, being a farmer, we suppose he had lots of city friends who came to visit him on Sunday.

"He seen his duty and done it." When the state police raided a soft-drink parlor in a Michigan town recently they caught the chief of police with a bottle of liquor on his hip, firmly and fearlessly keeping it out of the hands of the otherwise defenseless public.

"We understand," hisses an up-state paper, referring to Detroit hotels, "that ice water is served free of meals with all orders over 50 cents." For that matter, figuratively speaking, a dish of cold water is served free by the waiter with all orders under 50 cents.

"A cup of coffee," states the Marshall Chronicle, "may be used as a home barometer. Just drop a lump of sugar in the center of the cup of coffee. Watch the bubbles that rise. If they come straight up, remaining there until they dissolve, the weather is likely to be fair. If they rise at the side of the cup and stick to the china, the chances are for rain. If they rise all over the surface and dart about erratically, changeable weather conditions maybe looked for." Furthermore, if in the meantime the coffee gets cold, the housewife should prepare at once for a domestic storm.—Detroit News.

A Battle Creek barber is ill with the mumps. What are you laughing at?

There is a crime wave sweeping over our country, declares a Kalamazoo minister, and the dresses worn by American women "are in no little way contributing to its cause." Personally, though we still hear the effects of a careful upbringing, and can often see a pair of galoshes or even a V-neck without being moved to rob a bank or shoot a policeman.

Cheboygan may have the distinction of becoming the first mayoralty city in Michigan unless someone steps forward and announces his candidacy for the office. Mayor Martin J. Cain announced to the Daily Tribune of that city Wednesday that he had no desire that his name be placed on the ballots for reelection. His private business interests, he declared, kept him occupied. There has been no name mentioned on either the Republican or Democratic tickets. Election day is only a few weeks distant and unless some progressive citizens step forward and announce their willingness to run for mayor, the city will be without an executive.

For two weeks there has been no communication with the east end of Bois Blanc Island, owing to the hazardous condition of crossing. The Walker's Point coast guard crew, at least several members, are still in town waiting for Capt. Benson to come over from the station. The straits are full of drift ice, preventing the passage of the power boat.—Cheboygan Tribune.

Penalty of Coccyt.
Lots of failures can be traced to the belief that other people are not quite so smart as we are.—Boston Transcript.

Tree Stump Oil Valuable.
An oil obtained from stumps of red pine trees has been found to be valuable for recovering silver from pulverized ore by the flotation process.

Objectionable Flea.
"What I most object to," remarked the Alcide Pup, "is the flea who thinks he is doing me a favor to associate with me."

Their Diversion.
And Tankins says that some men who would seem to bet on a horse race play politics strictly as a game of chance.

Why Advertising Pays

If people did not move away and some die—
If new generations did not grow up—
If competitors did not compete—
If people were not receptive to new ideas—
Then—
And only then—
Would there be no need for advertising.
Because of changing business conditions—
Fluctuations in wages—
And the natural aggressiveness and progressiveness of the normal man—
He is your prospective buyer today who could not use or afford your product yesterday.
These were the reasons pointed out recently by a well known sales manager of a large corporation on why it is imperative that advertising be CONSISTENT AND REGULAR.

ELLSWORTH

E. H. Boss has been on the sick list for the past few days.

John Newland of Detroit visited friends here the first of this week.

M. R. Nelson made a business trip to Mt. Pleasant the first of the week.

Wm. Kettle of Bellaire was in town on business one day last week.

Albert Parsons sold a team to Elmer Arnold of Essex one day this week.

Harry Taylor purchased the John Stevens farm southeast of town one day last week.

Attorney P. C. Gilbert of Traverse City was an Ellsworth visitor on Saturday of last week.

Don't forget the lecture on consolidated schools by W. L. Coffey at the Blue hall on Friday evening of this week.

E. H. Boss was busy last week tapping trees and getting ready to make maple syrup and sugar as soon as the weather permits.

A. Speckman has sold his farm to John Hennip and was in Ellsworth last week looking for a house he could rent for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Turk of Petoskey spent on Thursday until Monday at the home of Mrs. Turk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isa Alward.

Ray Dennis of East Jordan is moving his household goods back to his farm west of town. Ray has tired of city life and has decided to get back to nature.

Arrangements are being made for a social and program at the schoolhouse on Saturday night of this week. The proceeds will be used as payments on the school piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palmer of Chicago passed through Ellsworth on Monday of this week enroute to Charlevoix where Mrs. Palmer's brother, George Liberty is very ill at the Charlevoix hospital.

George Liberty was taken to the Charlevoix hospital on Saturday of last week and underwent an operation for stomach trouble. The operation was performed by Drs. Parks and Armstrong. Reports from the hospital indicate that so far at least he is getting along as well as can be expected.

About forty of the friends of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Clark staged a surprise on them at their home on Monday evening of this week. The evening was spent in games and music and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were the recipients of numerous useful and appropriate gifts and an enjoyable time was had by both hosts and guests.

Miss Metta Rubingh and Herman De Young, both residents of Ellsworth were quietly married at the Christian Reformed parsonage at three o'clock last Thursday afternoon by Rev. H. K. Beute of that church. The young people are well and favorably known here and are already keeping house on the groom's farm two miles southeast of town. On the day following this wedding there was solemnized at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. E. E. Clark, the wedding of George Visscher of Remus, Michigan, and Miss Fanny Visscher of Ellsworth. They will make their future home at Remus. Both couples have the best wishes of the entire community for a happy and prosperous married life.

FAIRVIEW, BANKS

Something like winter again this week.

Will Goeling was in Phelps Wednesday on business.

Geo. Rubingh and John Osterbaan have been buzzing wood this week.

Harry DeGroot sold a cow to Eugene Best of Ellsworth this week.

Gerrit Essenburg of Atwood was in the neighborhood last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of Atwood called at H. De Groot's Friday.

S. Venema returned from Grand Rapids Monday for an indefinite stay here.

The Misses Bessie Prince and Anna Timmer were in Pleasant Hill Friday afternoon.

A lot of young people from here attended the basket ball game at Ellsworth Friday night.

MILES DISTRICT

Mr. Steenhagen bought a cow from Lon Shaw last week.

Harry Fowler of Lewiston spent Friday night in our neighborhood.

Clyde Strong of East Jordan worked for J. Walker one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Isaman called on their mother, Mrs. J. Isaman last Friday.

Miss Catherine Mobla of Charlevoix came up and spent Sunday at her home.

Albert Miles and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hillman Sunday in Rock Elm.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank the people of Ellsworth, both the individuals and organizations for their kindness and consideration during my illness at the hospital at Petoskey.

ANTRIM COUNTY FARM BUREAU NOTES

Farmers will be on the inside of the grain marketing system instead of on the outside when the Farmers' Marketing Committee of Seventeen, puts into operation the National Sales Association. Its plan to handle the surplus grain crops of the United States will go into effect to some extent in 1921.

Wool Pool

Arrangements are being made by the wool committee for the 1921 pool. It is planned to establish about 25 grading warehouses throughout the state.

Dairy

The committee of fifteen on dairy affairs in Michigan, meeting at State Farm Bureau headquarters in Lansing March 3 to devise means for improving dairy conditions and returns in this state, adopted the following resolution: "That this committee recommend that the dairy department of the Michigan State Farm Bureau promote and assist in establishing cream pools in the various dairy communities of this state for the purpose of collective marketing on a quality basis of the cream produced by the dairymen of a given community."

The success of co-operative pool and creameries operating on a quality basis was shown in that 3 to 9 of 13 cents a pound over the current market price of butter was paid producers by these organizations.

The present duplication of cream buying agencies was held to be an uneconomic tax upon the producer and responsible for the competitive conditions which are responsible for the lack of incentive to produce better quality cream.

It was deemed of fundamental importance that such unnecessary buying machinery be eliminated and the quality of Michigan butter be raised.

T. N. T.

WILDWOOD

S. H. Sherer was in Ellsworth on a business trip one day last week.

Emory Wilson and Laura Peebles were calling on friends here Sunday.

George Rozelle was renewing acquaintances here one day last week. Duncan Crawford had a sick cow the last of the week but she is better now, however.

Miss Cnukins spent Sunday with her friend Miss Potter at the James Hunt home at the Mitchell school.

John Stevens sold his farm last week to Harry Taylor who will occupy the premises in the near future.

"Uncle Dunk" Crawford returned from the north woods one day last week and reports a light winter but snow enough for sleighing up there.

Mrs. Charles Shaw has an even dozen of young chickens that hatched March 6th and 7th setting the record for the earliest chicks in this neighborhood.

PREVENT LOSS BY FREEZING

Test's Being Made by Department of Agriculture With Box Cars for Shipping Apples.

About 1,200 cars of boxed apples shipped in box cars were injured by freezing last year, and the fruit growers sustained a loss of approximately $1,000,000. Because of this and the fact that it is impossible to secure an adequate amount of refrigerator equipment, the bureau of markets, United States Department of Agriculture, is co-operating with the Winnetchee Valley Traffic association to ascertain whether an ordinary box car can be made to take the place of a refrigerator car when the latter is not obtainable. The tests are being conducted with four box cars, each equipped with a different method of ventilation and a refrigerator car under standard ventilation, to provide a means of comparison.

The first box car has a ventilator cut in each end. The second has the side doors open 8 inches. The third has one side door open with a cloth baffle to shoot the air into the car, and the fourth box car has no ventilation whatever. Delicate equipment records the air currents and temperatures and an accurate chart is kept. In publishing the preliminary report of the experiment, which is not entirely completed, the bureau of markets says that the use of ordinary box car equipment under any sort of ventilation will not prove satisfactory for shipping boxed apples. Such produce can be safely shipped in box cars only when the weather ranges from moderate to cool. The ordinary box car provides no protection whatever against changes in extreme temperature. The best method of ventilation is to open both doors 8 inches so fastening them as to prevent robbery.

HANG ANOTHER SCALP TO GIRDLE

H. S. BOYS DEFEAT CENTRAL LAKE—SCORE 23-9

Alden Game Postponed on Account of Epidemic of Mumps—The Girls' Game

The Ellsworth high school hung another scalp to its girdle last Friday night when the basket ball teams put one across on Central Lake at the local court. The boys won 23-9 and the girls 19-11.

Alden was scheduled for a game here but owing to an outbreak of mumps at that place the game was cancelled and Central Lake was secured at the eleventh hour.

Both the home teams started strong and at the end of the first half the boys led by an 18-4 score and the girls by one of 11-2.

The second half was closer and was by far the most interesting part of the game.

Elzinga of the visiting team made five baskets out of five chances on free throws, but the class of the two teams is shown by the number of field baskets made, Ellsworth getting 11 against 2 for the visitors.

The Ellsworth girls also piled up lead enough in the first half to enable them to take things easy at the finish. The basket shooting of Emily Johnstone was the outstanding feature of the game.

Mrs. Henry Candler entertained the Junior Epworth League at the parsonage last Friday evening. A pot-luck supper was served, after which singing, games and instrumental music furnished a very pleasant evening.

Under the leadership of Will Belinger the Sunday school orchestra rendered some inspirational music last Sunday. The Sunday school has classes for all ages under the direction of consecrated and experienced teachers. You are cordially invited to spend an hour with us next Sunday from 12 to 1 o'clock.

Miss Lois Bowman gave a helpful talk last Sunday at the Epworth League. Next Sunday Miss Blanch Oliver will have charge of the meeting. All young people are invited.

Next Sunday, being Palm Sunday, the services of the day will be appropriate for the occasion. Parents wishing to have their children baptized are requested to bring them to the service next Sunday morning at 10:30.

Passion Week services each night next week beginning at 7:30.

Every seat was taken last Thursday night at the prayer meeting. You are invited to be present every Thursday night at 7:30.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Morning worship and sermon at 10:30. Subject of sermon, "Peace, a Gift from God." This will be the last sermon the minister has been delivering under the general theme, "Our Needs," and he is very anxious that you be present to hear his conclusion in this matter.

Church school at 12 m. The introduction of a newly organized orchestra will be a feature of this service. The minister is highly pleased with his class of young men, who are studying the "Character of Jesus," the book so universally used during the war by men stationed in the camps throughout the United States.

Christian Endeavor at 6:00. Evening worship and sermon at 7. Pastor's training class Saturday afternoon at 2:00.

For the past several weeks this church has planned for special services during Passion Week. The general theme for this series of sermons will be "Life Lessons Through Sorrow and Grief."

Plan to be present at these services and bring your friends with you. A very cordial invitation is extended to all and a hearty welcome awaits you among friendly people. Come.

ROAD BUILDING

MOTORTRUCKS AND HIGHWAYS

Farmer Enabled to Secure Better Prices by Delivering Products Direct to Market.

There is a worthy movement on foot for better roads. Every business man, every home provider and every motorist should support it. Good roads benefit all classes of people in their everyday life.

This vast country has grown so enormously and so fast that its railroads cannot deliver the goods nor carry the people as the prosperity of the country and present demands require.

With good roads the farmer can deliver all his products direct to towns within a radius of fifty or more miles and though making more profit himself, he is reducing the high cost of living.

The merchant is able to take advantage of new sources of supply, to buy his stock under favorable conditions, and give it on sale to his customers in less time than he could have secured delivery by the slower and costlier railway express and freight service. With motortrucks he can then re-deliver to his customers and give better service over a larger territory. Automobile delivery will increase his business, lessen his costs and increase his profits.

Millions of dollars are lost every year through perishable goods spoiling on the railroads, because of freight delays and complications. Inter-city motortruck express over distances of 100 or more miles has already become a profitable business where good roads exist. Single large firms have actually saved over $100,000 yearly by using motortrucks and they will undoubtedly contribute largely to organized improvement of roads.

Good roads are a paying investment. Local authorities in cities, towns and counties should act without delay to meet the growing national and local demands before roads go in other directions. It is almost impossible to get back the lost advantage after other districts have won it.

This country has more than 6,000,000 automobile owners, one to every 15 of the population, and about 15 of those ride in automobiles.

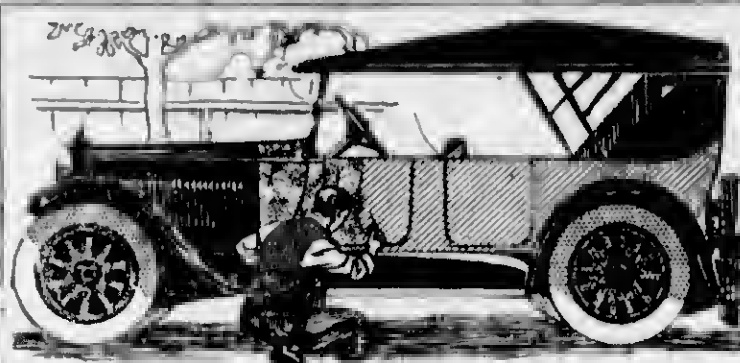

Owners will not go where bad roads exist and risk costly damage to their cars, not only to tires, but to the battery equipment used for starting, lighting and ignition. With ignition gone wrong a car cannot travel.—Southern Good Roads.

HAUL ON UNIMPROVED ROADS

Average Cost Per Ton Mile Estimated at 22.7 Cents—Average Haul Was 9.4 Miles.

In 1900 the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture deduced an average cost per ton mile of 22.7 cents based upon replies from inquiries sent to about 2,800 county correspondents. The average haul reported was 9.4 miles. Since at this time less than 8 per cent of the roads in this country were improved, these figures indicate the average cost of hauling on unimproved roads.

ALL READY FOR BIG TOURNAMENT

BASKET BALL TEAMS COMING FROM NORTH MICHIGAN

Boys will be entertained from Friday Noon to Saturday Noon by Petoskey Residents

Plans are about completed for the big annual high school basketball tournament to be played at Petoskey March 25 and 26. Schools in all parts of Northern Michigan are to be represented.

The following schools have sent entries: Class B, Gaylord, Rogers, Pellston, East Jordan, Elk Rapids, Harbor Springs, Alba, Frankfort, Charlevoix, Bellaire, Traverse City, Catholics, Manicla, Manton, Buckley and Onaway. Class A, Cheboygan, Cadillac, Soss and Petoskey.

Drawing for places for Class B teams will take place at 12:15 Friday in room 12 of the high school and will be in charge of C. A. Kuttler of the high school faculty. Owing to the late arrival of some teams the drawing for Class A will be held in the gymnasium at 4 Friday.

Entertainment will be furnished for eight players from Friday noon to Saturday noon inclusive. The six teams not eliminated at this time will be entertained until their train leaves Sunday. W. B. McClintock, of Marquette Normal; L. D. French, of Reed City; and C. H. Lee of Petoskey will act as referees.

All games are to be played with the tournament ball. This will go to the team winning the tournament.

The noon meal Friday will be served in the high school cafeteria from 11 to 12; announcement for the rest of the entertainment will be made to the players upon arrival at Petoskey.

Three teams from each class may go to the state tournaments. Class A meets at Lansing and Class B at Ann Arbor. These will be the three teams with the highest standings in the district tournaments. There will be but three teams from each district entered in the state meet this year from each class, and in case any of these teams fail to report no substitution will be made.

Petoskey people will assist in entertaining the visitors at this big meeting. Cards are being sent out to parents through the high school in an endeavor to locate the boys comfortably during their stay there.

McCANN MOVING TO NEW QUARTERS

Will Occupy Building at Rear of Express Office

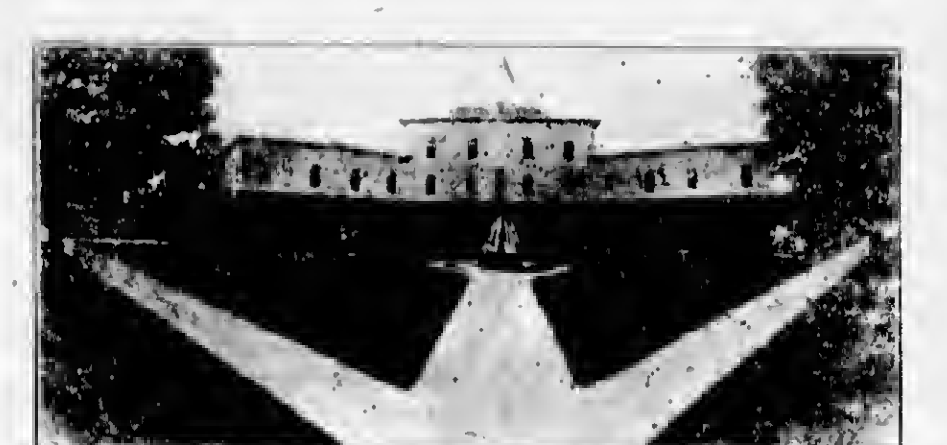

McCann's bakery began moving operations Saturday evening and by the latter part of the week will be nicely settled in their new quarters in the Brown building, corner of Bridge and Mason streets.

The main entrance to the new store will be on Mason street, just around the corner from the express office. Considerable more space will be occupied and the salesroom will be where the music store was located.

HOTEL MICHIGAN PURCHASED BY J. J. HALLETT AND SONS MONDAY

Name Will Be Changed to "Hallett's Inn" and Will Be Kept Open Summer and Winter—To Be Newly Furnished Throughout—Formal Opening June 1st

Hotel, Michigan now "Hallett's Inn"

A deal that was not consummated until Monday of this week although certain publicists would have us believe otherwise, was the buying by J. J. Hallett and sons Irving and John of the Hotel Michigan property at the corner of Bridge and Antrim streets.

For years this excellent hotel under the name of Hotel Elston, later re-named the Hotel Michigan, was a favorite with all commercial and touring travelers to Charlevoix—the beautiful. During the past three years it has been idle owing to a fire and subsequent litigation. This has now been cleared and once more its cool, vine-clad verandas will beckon to weary travelers.

"Hallett's Inn" is to be the new name and it will be managed by Irving Hallett, assisted by his father, J. J. Hallett, who will still continue the active management of the Hotel Hallett on Belvedere Ave. Irving is well known in Charlevoix, having attended school here and for the past year has been studying hotel management from the inside in some of the larger hotels of the east and this winter he has been with the Drake Hotel company of Chicago, owners of the Blackstone and Drake hotels. He brings to the hotel besides Hallett congeniality, an ability that ought to go far in placing Hallett's Inn in the front rank of Michigan's tourist and commercial hostilities.

It will be open not later than June 1st to the traveling public but there will be a formal opening, the date to be announced later. This will be an elaborate affair to which the public will not only be invited but requested to attend. The management feels that they can accomplish nothing without public good will and Charlevoix people should earnestly back this project with the best medium known to advertisers; viz, word-of-mouth publicity. A word dropped here and there in correspondence or in visits to outside relatives and friends will do a great deal to popularize this latest addition to Charlevoix's summer industry.

Mr. Hallett left the first of the week to join his son in Chicago and while there new furnishings throughout will be purchased from leading outfitters in that city. As the former furniture was sold several years ago new fixtures from the kitchen to the sleeping rooms will be required, and no expense will be spared in their selection.

The new owners will cater to the largely increasing automobile traffic, and without doubt hundreds of people touring the northern part of the state will make Hallett's Inn their headquarters while in the city.

Special inducements will also be made toward caring for conventions such as the city has in the past few years been unable to accommodate. The tennis courts will be placed in the best condition possible, thus providing a play ground for those who enjoy this manner of sport.

It is quite safe to say that the community, as a whole will extend the hand of welcome to Messrs. Hallett who on their part will conduct a hotel that will be a credit to the city.

News for the past seven years.

In November 1907, he was united in marriage to Alta Pelton, who died two years later. In the summer of 1911 he was married to Ruby Yettaw of Central Lake who survives him, besides three children, George Paul aged 8, Dorothy Mae aged 5, and Celia Rose aged 3; two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Fox of Iron Mountain and Mrs. Frank Metcalf of Charlevoix; and one brother, Hugh McCartney of Flint.

His body was brought home Tuesday by his wife and nephew, Abbott Fox of Iron Mountain. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the old home on Park avenue, Rev. Henry Candlish officiating. Interment in Brookside.

PASSES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

GEORGE MCCARTNEY DIES AT HOME IN MUNISING

Formerly Editor of Courier and Well Known in Newspaper Field—Will Be Buried Here

Friends and relatives paid their last respects today to George McCartney, a former resident of this city who died at his home in Munising on Saturday of last week.

George McCartney was born in Wisconsin, New York in 1870, and died at the Munising hospital after an illness dating from January 24th, to Saturday March 19th.

When 12 years of age he moved with his parents to Antrim, Michigan, where he lived three years before moving to this city. He attended high school here and worked in what is now known as the Courier office, then owned by Charles Strang and called the Charlevoix Democrat. He also worked for Willard A. Smith of the Sentinel.

Leaving this region he located in Kansas City, Mo., where he was connected with newspaper work for about three years, when he returned to Traverse City and enlisted in the regular army and served three years in the Philippines, re-enlisting and was stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky. After a period of two and a half years word of his father's death caused him to obtain a discharge from the army and he returned to Charlevoix and worked with W. E. Hampton in the Courier office. Later he leased the paper from Mr. Hampton and after managing it for two years it was sold to the present owners. He then took charge of the Central Lake Torch for a short time before going north to Munising, where he has edited the Munising

KNOWS SOMETHING ABOUT CHESS GAME

Alonso Powers Meets Nine Year Old Chess Wizard

Aside from being recognized as one of the famous resorts of the northern region, Charlevoix gained added prestige last week by the wonderful chess playing of Alonso Powers, one of our local business men.

Powers, when not occupied at his trade of plumbing, spends a large portion of his time playing chess. When Sammy Rzeschewski, a Polish boy, eight years, nine and one-half months old, recognized the world over as a wizard at the game, appeared in Grand Rapids Friday and Saturday of last week, Powers decided to meet him and find out for himself whether he knew the game or was a novice. The result was that he put up one of the best games played, and is heralded far and near as a wonderful player.

At the contest Friday, Powers was the ninth man to be beaten among ten players who faced the overseas wizard. But one player of the ten lasted longer. Hundreds witnessed the game and applauded the Charlevoix "wiz" for his wonderful showing.

HEALTH HEAD SWATS GERMS

HOUSECLEANING FIRST SPRING STEP TO KILL FLY

Housewives Urge to Attack Dormant Disease Breeders Immediately

Spring housecleaning as a preventive of disease and as a necessary step by housewives to safeguard the health of their own families should be thorough enough, not only to remove all the dirt, but also to eliminate all the germs, according to recommendations made by the state health department.

Among the things to be done if the spring housecleaning is to be scientific are including thorough renovation of all feathers and bedding, liberal applications of solutions to kill off fly larva and energetic use of soap and water everywhere to destroy germs.

Aside from the safety to be secured from renovation of feathers and bedding there are also advantages of comfort to be gained, health department officials say. The bureau of laboratories of the health department has conducted a series of experiments, and the findings have shown conclusively, it is said, that renovation of feathers and bedding restores elasticity to the articles mentioned and makes sleeping easier.

Unusually thorough housecleaning is urged this spring by the health authorities because of the fact that the population, the records show, is shifting rapidly. Consequently there is increased danger of infection because of the frequent removal and reoccupancy of houses by families.

Germs, the health department recommendations say, may remain dormant for long periods, especially during the winter months. The use of soap and water is prescribed as an excellent method of sterilizing the house. Scouring and scrubbing is also described as a means of preventing food from spoiling. Dust is said to be an ideal shelter for yeast like growths that transfer themselves to food at any opportunity and lower its keeping qualities.

A 2 per cent solution of chloride of lime is recommended as an efficient sterilizing agent for the destruction of fly larva. It should be liberally sprinkled around possible breeding places.

REWARDED FOR FAITHFUL WORK

Royal Neighbors Present Past Recorder with Pocketbook

The local order of the Royal Neighbors held a combined business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. D. J. Eckinger Friday evening March 18th. The ladies presented Mrs. M. R. Brady with a small pocketbook as a token of their appreciation of her faithful work as Recorder of the order. Mrs. Eckinger served a dainty luncheon and the later part of the evening was spent socializing.

There will be a dance at the Iron-Grange hall, Friday evening, April 1. Good music. Come and have a good time.

WOULD BEAUTIFY OUR HIGHWAYS

CITIZENS ARE URGED TO PLANT TREES AND SHRUBS

Bill Introduced to Provide for and Regulate Planting of Fruit and Nut Trees

Michigan highways may one day be more than mere facilities for people engaged in transporting themselves from one place to another. They may be objects of aesthetic merit, roads cut out of fairy books, shaded pathways, flower-bordered, shaded and sweet-scented, hung with fruit and nuts for the hungry traveler.

The state highway commission, under a bill Senator Penney has introduced in the state legislature, would be authorized to provide for and regulate the planting of "useful, ornamental, nut-bearing and food-producing trees and shrubs along the streets, highways and public thoroughfares" of the state, and also for their maintenance, care and protection. These trees and shrubs, the bill provides are to be planted in places suitable for shade along the state trunk line and federal aided roads and all other roads in the state upon which state reward has been paid or earned.

The variety of trees and shrubs so planted, Senator Penney's measure declares, shall be subject to the approval of the state Board of Agriculture. They are to be supplied by the Michigan Domain commissioner of the Michigan Agricultural College. The bill still further provides that the expense of the planting and care of these trees is to be paid out of any moneys in the state highway fund that may be available for trunk line and federal aided road maintenance purposes.

In addition to proposing this improvement by the state, the measure also authorizes counties, townships, cities and villages of the state to appropriate money to plant and care for similar trees and shrubs along public highways other than trunk line, federal aided and state reward roads.

Another provision of the bill allows every owner of property along public highways twenty cents on his highway repair tax for every tree he plants and cures for upon his own land so placed that the highway receives benefit from it.

All such trees and shrubs planted along public thoroughfares must be planted and cared for in accordance with the state highway commission's rules. The bill makes it unlawful for anyone to deface or injure these trees and shrubs.

LIGHTNING KILLS FARMER'S COW

Saturday's Evening Storm Causes Considerable Damage

During the storm of Saturday evening last, lightning struck the farm home of Fred Faltling, who lives about five miles south of the city on the Ellsworth road, and jumped from the house to the barn, entering the building and instantly killing a valuable cow. No other damage resulted.

Through a section south of the city a heavy downfall of rain took place during the night, flooding the entire territory and washing out deep gullies in the roads, especially on the steep hills. Farmers report the roads in an almost impassable condition throughout the county and similar reports come from all sections of Northern Michigan.

After Thorough Trial a Detroit, Mich., Man Endorses Pe-ru-na

The following letter written from Detroit, Michigan is no snap judgment expressed on the merits of Pe-ru-na, the well-known catarrh remedy, but rather a mature, sober opinion formed after a full year's trial.

This is the way Mr. Michael Fako of 103 East Palmer Avenue, in the Michigan Metropolitan, writes: "After using PE-RU-NA for about one year I have found it a very good medicine for catarrh. It has helped me a great deal and I am very well satisfied. I have gained in weight, eat and sleep well, my bowels are regular and better color in my face."

"PE-RU-NA has done wonders and to me is worth its weight in gold. I shall continue to use PE-RU-NA as long as I live and recommend it to my friends who are troubled with catarrh."

Nothing can be more convincing than an endorsement of this nature from an actual user. There are many people in every community whose experience, in using Pe-ru-na, has been identical with Mr. Fako's. It is the standard for coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and all catarrhal conditions. Put up in both tablet and liquid form. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

FARMERS' "MUD TAX" HEAVY

Slogan Adopted by Good Roads Advocates of Alabama in Campaign for Needed Funds.

"The mud tax" by the farmer pays is the mud tax."

This is the slogan adopted by the good roads advocates of Alabama in their campaign to put across a 12-year $40,000,000 road-building program. The farmers were shown that good roads would benefit them in a dollar and cents way besides bringing them many advantages which they never had before.

FORDSON

More and more every day the demand for the Fordson Tractor increases because the Fordson has demonstrated so much usefulness, so much economy, so much labor saving, so much money saving, along so many lines of activity. The farmer has discovered that not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, seeding, mowing, reaping, and threshing, but a multitude of other uses; cutting wood; feed; grinding feed; churning; washing; furnishing water in the house and around the barns; so that, as a matter of fact, there is hardly a job around the farm that they won't do. They make electric light possible in the house and around the barns so that of all the jobs the farmer has to face the Fordson steps in and cuts out the drudgery.

This is the Age of Machinery, the day when man plans the day's work, or the year's work, and then turns it over to the Tractor to execute. Get the book, "The Fordson at Work," because it is free. If you cannot call for it, write and we will mail it to you. The Tractor is not only a necessity to every farmer but is an established utility along a great many commercial lines. Our allotment is limited to so many each month. Let's have your order now.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. My dear Doctor: I wish to ask you a few questions. First, I will say, in our little village of _____ the pastor of our Methodist church is allowing crowds of people to gather in the church and play basket ball. In fact, I am told he leased the church building to be used for basket ball games; anyway they gather there and tear around and hllow in to the late hours of the night. Doctor here is what I wish to know: is not this kind of a thing forbidden? In God's word? Do you think the church should be given over to worldly amusements? Is there any way to stop such a thing? It is having a bad influence on the public in general. I believe the majority of people of our community, both church and non-church people, will thank you for an answer to the questions I have asked.—M. P. W.

A. Acts 20:28; "Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with His own blood."

In this passage of Holy Writ, is a direct warning from God, (take heed) hold up to all who chance to pass its doors, not (basket ball), not worldly amusements, but the righteousness of the Cross of Jesus Christ upon which He shed His blood to establish the church of the Living God. To "feed" the church with what? With holiness.

Ephesians 5:27; "That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having a spot or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish." Now, here we have it, "A glorious church." What is meant by this? That nothing shall ever take place within the sacred walls of the church, but what will glorify, praise, extol, honor and exalt Jesus Christ who "purchased the church with His own blood."

It is heathenish, it is a shameful disgrace to use a church building for anything other than Christian services. I pity from the depths of my heart the preacher, or board of trustees who will allow basket ball or a like worldly amusement to come past their church doors, for the wrath of Almighty God is upon their souls. The church is an utterly precious to Jesus Christ; it belongs to him.

I am not against basket ball; but to bring it into a church, is sidetracking Jesus Christ, and placing the devil's train on the main line. I might go on and sight you to Scripture something like 216 passages which tell us that the church must be used for one purpose only; namely, Christian worship, religious services, prayer services, the preaching of Jesus Christ and Him crucified, etc. I might take space to cite you to no less than 112 passages in God's Holy Word, which warns you against using the church for anything other than Christian worship and plainly says if we do so, we are full-fledged candidates for Hell. Now then see here, what are you going to do with Jesus Christ; what are you going to do with God's Holy Word? Jesus should be given over to worldly amusements? I will tell you, nay, but rather division." I tell you you cannot fool with Jesus Christ. He will not stand for hypocrisy; no sir. St. Luke 12:59, Jesus says, "I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last mite." I tell you if some spineless wabble-jointed preacher, or church member tries to bend the Scriptures to suit the convenience of the worldly, then Jesus at once separates such one from the righteous and sets him over to one side of the devil where he belongs and says to him: "See here, I gave 'my blood' for the church that you have disgraced by your actions. You clean up at once and repent of your sins, and if you don't, I will not plead your case before the bar of 'My Father in Heaven.' You confess to me by righteous living, says Christ and I will confess you before my Father in heaven; Christ represents us in heaven; He pleads our case before God. We represent Him here on earth; we plead His love, His saving power by righteous living here on earth. What splendid representatives we are with the 'basket ball' in His church, which He tells us must be used for Christian services only. I suppose the preacher opens the game with prayer, and at its close, prays and gives the altar call for souls to be saved, O what a shame, that the Blessed name of Our Lord and Saviour Christ Jesus is not glorified in that church."

You ask me, "Is there no way to stop such a thing?" Yes I believe there is. You join with me in most earnest prayer for the pastor, the board of trustees and every member of that church, I am not going to tell you how to pray; the Holy Spirit will direct, and I believe the result will come, and the name of Jesus will be glorified in that church. "Nothing is impossible with God."

Notice, Dear reader, I have been approached by personal interview; by letter and by telephone; regarding the basket ball games in this church. I at first hesitated to answer the question thinking that perhaps it was not my duty to do so, but Sunday morning a Christian gentleman while holding conversation with me over the phone said, "Doctor I want you to answer that question, I think you should. Those things in our church are having a tremendously bad influence on our young people," and so I have answered it purely from a Scriptural standpoint, as I felt God would have me do and leave the results with Him.

Q. Dear Doctor: Can you please tell me the date on which St. Luke's Gospel was written? Where St. Luke was at the time it was written, where was St. Luke's home, and in what language was this Gospel originally written?—M. R. II.

A. This Gospel was written by St. Luke, "the beloved physician," A. D. 63-64, while he was with St. Paul in Rome. St. Luke was a native of Antioch. He would appear from his intimate acquaintance with the Greek language, as well as from his Greek name, Aovkas, to have been of Gentile extraction. But from the Hebrew terms occurring in his writings, and from his accurate knowledge of the Jewish religion, ceremonies and customs, it is highly probable that he was a Jewish proselyte, and, having embraced the Gospel, he became a faithful and zealous companion of St. Paul in many of his labors and travels. Acts 16:10, 20:5, etc. We learn from Acts 28:15 and Phil. 24 that he was with the Apostle at the time of his first captivity in Rome; and from II Tim. 4:11 that, during his second imprisonment, St. Luke, alone remained by his side. Tertullian and Chrysostom call St. Paul St. Luke's master and teacher, and Ussubius says he was for the most part a companion of that Apostle. Though, like St. Mark he was not an Apostle, nor is he once mentioned in the Gospels, yet this does not diminish the credit due his narrative, because he himself has told us the sources of information to which the Holy Spirit directed him. While passing over various particulars mentioned by St. Matthew and St. Mark, he records many things not mentioned by them. His classical style, in both this Book and the Acts, shows him to have been a scholar, while his Gospel is certainly more of a regular narrative than either of the others, as he evidently preserved the chronological order of the main facts.

Q. Doctor Hewitt: Will you please answer through the Courier the following questions? What will be the way our Lord will return to earth? And is it of any importance as to how he comes?—M. N.

A. It might be held that the precise way in which our Lord will return to earth is a matter of minor importance, if it were not for the fact that the character of His second advent bears directly upon the purpose of His coming. When He made His first bodily appearance in the world it was as a helpless babe in the arms of an obscure peasant mother. When He comes the second time it will be as the risen, ascended, glorified and triumphant Lord of Angels and men. The scriptures are very explicit about this. Jesus said, "The Son of Man shall come in the glory of His Father with the Angels;" that he shall sit on the throne of His glory, and that He shall be seen "coming in the clouds of Heaven" with power and great glory. He drew a vivid picture of regal splendor in the words, "But when the Son of Man shall come in His glory," and all the angels with Him, then shall He sit on the throne of His glory; and before Him shall be gathered all the nations. It is as a King that He is coming. As befits royalty He will come with great publicity. As at the destruction of Jerusalem false prophets and false Christs, arose and as through succeeding ages similar deceivers have appeared, so in the days to come impostors will brazenly set up their claims to divine authority. But Jesus warns His disciples, "Behold, I have told you beforehand. If therefore they shall say unto you, 'Behold, He is in the wilderness,' go not forth, Behold He is in the inner chambers; believe it not. For as the lightning cometh forth from the east and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the coming of the Son of Man."

There will be no chance of a mistake. He will be revealed universally; not as at His first advent, when wise men came from the east, inquiring, "Where is He that is born King of the Jews?" When He returns, "Every eye shall see Him," If such people who are deceived by such avowed seers as "Pastor" Russell, and others who have professed, to usher in the new age by a spiritual second coming of Christ, had been better students of the Bible, they would have saved themselves from humiliation. Christ's return will be unmistakable and the fact of it will not be concealed from any creature.

Yet our Lord's coming will be so sudden and unexpected that the most frequent figure to characterize it is that of the "Thief in the night." This is the simile used by Christ himself and is adopted by Paul; by Peter and by the authors of the Apocalypse.

AT THE MOVIES

A good old western story in which the hero can draw his gun just a little ahead of all comers will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. This is "Drag Harlan" a William Fox production, starring William Farnum. "Drag Harlan" has departed clear out of the category of the stereotyped "Western." It contains all the elements that admirers of Western drama demand in this kind of picture, but it is blessed beyond all others of its kind by the personality of William Farnum. The only old stuff, so called, in the picture is the thing that simply cannot be excluded from any picture, play or story—that is romance.

The story concerns a mysterious personage, whose name is uttered with trembling lips by every man, woman, and child in the West—"Drag Harlan," whose strange "handle" was won by a peculiar trick in drawing his gun in a fight. There is enough gun-play to satisfy the most exacting spectator, yet there is none of that tawdry cheapness or luridness which so often creeps into this sort of picture.

Jackie Saunders is the leading woman. Others in the cast are Arthur Nelson Millett, G. Raymond Nye, Herschel Mayall, Frank Thurwald, "Kewpie" Morgan, Al Fremont and Erle Craze. J. Gordon Edwards directed the production from a story by Charles Alden Seltzer.

WHO ARE THE GREATEST?

Everybody has the right to select his own "greatest men and women." Probably no two would agree on the dozen "greatest." For "greatest" doesn't mean the same to each. There are some who would never include the first Napoleon; and there are others who could make up no list without him.

But there are many who will agree that a certain little boy comes about as near to picking the "greatest" as mortal ever came. The class at school was asked to write down the names of the dozen "greatest" men and women.

This little fellow was the first to hand in his paper. It read:

Mother, father, Uncle Henry, Grandma, Grandpa, Aunt, Blanche, Tris Speaker, George Washington, President Wilson, Pershing, Fatty Arbuckle, and Miss Geddes.

It may be explained, to the unknowing, that the Miss Geddes referred to, is the little fellow's school teacher. Mr. Speaker is a well known baseball player, his team won a world championship; Mr. Arbuckle occupies a large portion of the movie screen almost every night.

There may be some difference of opinion as to a few of these "greatest" men and women. There are those who would place "Baby" Ruth ahead of Mr. Speaker, and others would include Mary Pickford and exclude Mr. Arbuckle.

But who is there to say that mother and father are not the rightful leaders in any small boy's list of "greatest?"

This paper predicted when the last increase in railway rates was made that while increased operating costs created under government control, seemed to make the boost necessary, the higher chances would kill enough business to make them unprofitable; that effect of the higher rates is now admitted.

Of course it must be remembered by the Democratic editors and orators that their party leadership has done more damage in eight years than it can be reasonably expected the incoming administration will be able to repair in a few weeks.

It was hardly necessary to deny that President Harding was being represented by a "personal agent" in Mexico. The days of personal agents and personal government is over; the government will be treated hereafter as public and not personal property.

R. T. Barton writes to the New York World: "President Wilson is the greatest statesman whose foot ever trod the American continent." Why this continent only? Didn't Mr. Wilson tread on Europe or did Europe step on him?

The new administration realizes that the people voted for far more than a change in faces at Washington; they ordered a revolutionary change in methods, policies and tendencies in national government.

EASTER THEN AND NOW

When Old Sol nears the equinox
And Luna nears the crest,
When feathered folk are busy
With the lining of the nest;
When the early robin greets you
With his morning song and cheer,
When vernal winds blow soft and mild
And whisper, "Easter's here,"

We hark us back to childhood
And our Easter Sunday then.
Who wouldn't want to be a kid
At Easter once again?
Remember how we took the eggs
We found from day to day
And safely out of mother's sight
We hid them all away?

And then how proud we were to bring
Our treasure to the light,
While ecstasy was piled on joy
When we beheld the sight
Of the bowls of brilliant colors
Which mother had prepared,
That we might deck those eggs in hues
No painter ever dared.

But Easter now has come to mean
Another suit of duds,
An Easter bonnet for the wife
Or planting early spuds.
A day of feast and happiness;
We're through observing Lent—
Or else a day of reckoning
If we've not paid the rent.

Yes, Easter as we find it now
And as it used to be,
Are altogether different days,
Or so it seems to me.
O, give us back the other times
When you and I were small,
And Easter Rabbits brought the gifts
Most wonderful of all.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The second grade is studying Holland and is working it out on the sand table.

The fourth grade will give an Easter program Friday afternoon. Parents are invited to be present.

There are some very appropriate Easter decorations in the primary rooms, the fourth grade entertaining themselves by making pussywillows, rabbits and cats.

Judge Correll will address the Bible study class, April 5, Tuesday, at 3:30. His subject is the "Law of Moses."

Mr. Rice will attend a meeting of the Michigan Schoolmasters Club at Ann Arbor during vacation week.

Essays on Michigan history for the state contest will be submitted to the Charlevoix committee of judges, Friday, March 25.

Spring vacation will begin March 25 and end April 4. Undoubtedly many students will find this an excellent opportunity in which to see that their various note books are complete.

The second annual basket ball tournament will be held at the Petoskey high school March 25-26. It will be represented by 19 teams, the Charlevoix quintette being one of the most important. Our team is in better shape to play now, than at anytime before, and it is hoped that they will be winners of some of the prizes.

Mr. Hatch, mathematics teacher will spend spring vacation at his home in Horton, Michigan.

Miss Catton will spend her Easter vacation with friends at Benzonia.

Miss Bowman will spend spring vacation at the home of her parents in Battle Creek, Michigan.

Miss Oliver is going to Plainville to spend her vacation with her parents.

Rev. Smith of the Congregational church gave a very interesting address in the high school assembly room last Thursday.

The basket ball team added another victory to its belt by defeating East Jordan 49-19 Friday night.

The basket ball team goes to Petoskey Friday morning to compete in the tournament. Everyone go and root for the home team.

Baseball practice began Tuesday afternoon, twenty-four candidates being enrolled. Mr. Hatch will be the coach.

Closing out of Men's Work Shoes, at prices from $2.50 to $6.00 per pair, S. Orlovsky & Son. 1211

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Over 80 persons were present at the prayer meeting last Thursday night. Mrs. J. A. Auld and Mrs. William Poole had their Sunday school classes present, a splendid lot of young men and women.

The large orchestra under the direction of Will Bellinger rendered some good music last Sunday. Orchestra rehearsal every Wednesday night at the home of Mr. Bellinger.

Meetings every night during this week except Saturday. On Good Friday night we will commemorate our Lord's crucifixion by the administration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. It is earnestly hoped that every member of this church and congregation will avail themselves of this sacred and solemn service.

Easter Day services will begin with a sunrise service at 6:00. Sermon and reception of members into the church at 10:30; Sunday school with special exercises at 12 o'clock; Junior Epworth League with unique exercises under the leadership of Mrs. Candler at 3 o'clock; Epworth League with Miss Irma Cowan and Miss Stafford as leaders at 6:00; evening worship at 7:00.

Preaching at Barnard Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock; Sunday school preceding the preaching service.

There are three chief ways in which men co-operate with God—thinking, working and praying. No one of these three can ever take the place of another.

Why Advertising Pays

If people did not move away and some die—
If new generations did not grow up—
If competitors did not compete—
If people were not receptive to new ideas—
Then—

And only then—
Would there be no need for advertising.
Because of changing business conditions—
Fluctuations in wages—
And the natural aggressiveness and progressiveness of the normal man—

He is your prospective buyer today who could not use or afford your product yesterday.

These were the reasons pointed out recently by a well known sales manager of a large corporation on why it is imperative that advertising be CONSISTENT AND REGULAR.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

The rising tide of legislative activity which has been steadily increasing throughout the session reached a new highwater mark on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Consideration of many measures of headline importance produced sessions of unprecedented interest and intensity and, after long and heated debates, some of the most vital issues confronting the law-makers were settled.

Early in the week old-timers about the capitol began to sense some subtle change in the atmosphere and predicted that the week would see developments of unusual interest. In the legislative chambers and corridors little groups of men were engaged in earnest discussion whenever the legislature was not in formal session. There was a constant hum of intense conversations—mostly conducted in an undertone. The air was vibrant with the discussion of weighty issues and electric with suppressed excitement.

There is little wonder that such was the case, for into this short time was crowded consideration of such questions as the establishment of capital punishment, the creation of a State Department of Agriculture, "eugenic marriages," the "full-crew" railway bill, and the "alien firearm" proposal.

Foremost in its interest to farmers was the unanimous passage by the Senate of the bill to create a centralized State Department of Agriculture to take over the duties of the several scattered boards, commissions, departments, and offices now dealing with affairs of an agricultural nature. Several of the senators sought to delay the measure, but all delaying motions were without success and the bill passed in the same form in which it was received from the House by a vote of 29-0.

Far surpassing even this important legislation in its intensity of human interest and in the length and eloquence of the debates which it aroused was Rep. Hart's bill to allow for the imposing of the death penalty in Michigan. This measure won its first victory in the House committee of the whole on Tuesday when, after being considered as a special order for an hour or more, it was reported favorably without amendment. Proposals to strike out the section of the bill which prescribed electrocution as the means of inflicting the death penalty and the sections referring to the execution of women were not adopted.

Rep. Hart of Wayne, father of the bill, presented a mass of figures showing that states having capital punishment have a much lower crime rate than those where the death penalty is not imposed. He pointed out that 36 states have capital punishment. In several states capital punishment had been abolished but had soon been re-established due to the increase in crime. He stated that Detroit had five and a half times as high a murder rate as New York city. Some of the high spots of his speech were "execution is not murder," "dead men don't kill," something must be done to check the increasing crime wave, and "we have too much sympathy for murderers and too little for their victims."

This debate proved only to be a preliminary skirmish, for when the bill came up for its final passage on Thursday, the real battle broke loose. The closeness of the great debate which gripped the attention of the lower house for more than three hours is indicated by the final vote of 49 for and 45 against the measure. Capital punishment thus came within 2 votes of securing the necessary 51 required for its passage. The next morning, however, those in favor of capital punishment, were in the majority and the vote by which the bill had been defeated was reconsidered for the purpose of placing the bill on the table so that it might be taken up and passed at any time when all the friends of the measure were present.

Sen. Davis' "eugenic marriage" bill, requiring the filing of a physician's certificate as to the physical and mental qualifications of persons applying for marriage licenses brought forth a sharp debate when it came up for its final passage in the Senate on Thursday. The idea of the opponents of the bill might be summarized in Sen. Clark's phrase, "You can't legislate goodness," while the sentiment of the friends of the measure was aptly put by Mrs. Hamilton, lady senator from Kent, when she said, "we may not be able to legislate goodness, but we can legislate cleanliness. The purpose of this bill is to save innocent, trusting girls who are loath to believe anything wrong in the men they love from virtually committing suicide by marrying venereally afflicted men." Her remarks were greeted with prolonged applause. An amending motion to restrict the provisions of the measure to males passed 19-11, but on final passage the bill lost 14-16.

Another of the lively fights which developed in the Senate session Thursday afternoon centered around Sen. Hick's so-called "full-crew" railway bill, requiring an additional man in train crews in certain cases. The bill finally passed 18-12.

Rep. Lennon's bill to prohibit unnaturalized foreign born residents from hunting wild game or from having any firearms in their possession met nearly as strong opposition in the Senate as it had previously weathered in the House, but finally passed the Senate 23-3 after being amended to allow an alien to have firearms if he secured a permit from the sheriff.

Evenly divided over the issue of legislative establishment of religious holidays, the Senate defeated by one vote Sen. Hayes' bill to make Good Friday a public holiday.

Among the 80 new bills introduced during the week the following were of special interest: Rep. Nevlin's bill, "to compel common carriers owning stockyards in this state from which livestock is being shipped to construct and maintain covered yards;" Rep. Dunn's bill to abolish high school secret societies; Rep. Well's bill to repeal the act which created the Michigan Athletic Board of Control which regulates boxing and wrestling exhibitions in the state; Sen. Osborn's bill fixing the liability of parents for the support of their children; and Mrs. Hamilton's bills for the pecuniary relief of needy and deserving adult blind, and her teacher's retirement fund bill.

The following bills passed the Senate: Sen. Condon's bill to insure state-wide uniformity in the form in which constitutional amendments are submitted to the voters; Sen. McArthur's bill to repeal the provision of the present election law which requires the publication of the results of the election of state officials; Sen. McArthur's bill to reduce the minimum number of signatures required for placing of names of candidates for Governor and Lieut. Governor on the primary election ballots from 2 to 1 per cent of the voters; Sen. McNaughton's bill to provide a standard test and gauge of wire fence; Sen. Wood's bill to prescribe a required course of study in fire prevention to be taught in all the public schools; Sen. Baker's bill to provide a primary election system for the nomination of village officers in villages over 1,000 population; and Rep. MacDonald's bill to permit village corporations to regulate dance halls, etc.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

That Oxford boy who took ten skunks out of a fallen tree and sold their hides for $15 must have felt that his net profit was about $50 deficit.

It is really dangerous to go boating down the country road these days—one is so likely to ram a hole in the craft by striking the top of an automobile that caught on a reef and did not go clear down.

A man charged with violating the prohibition law pretended, when on trial in a Flint court, that he could not speak the English language, and was fined $10 extra. He couldn't deceive the judge, who listened when he was off guard, and twice heard him distinctly say, "Hi!"

Three young men of Flint have confessed to taking 26 automobiles in Flint and Bay City within a period of three weeks for the purposes of joy riding. Now that machines are getting cheaper, many people feel that they have to have a couple of scrambled on the boulevard every morning.

A traveling man living in Marquette has written the mayor complaining because a local taxi driver charged 50 cents for taking him from the hotel to the railroad station. This does seem rather hard to understand but perhaps the driver thought he looked as if 50 cents was all he had.

A Newberry man claims that the One Buck law proposed in the legislature would be effective because the average green hunter can't tell a buck from a doe anyway. However, the law would have its effect on expert hunters, and to regulate those green hunters we could have another law limiting them to one farmer's cow.

"A man recently told the Herald," says the paper of that name in Reed City, "that he did not want to subscribe right now as he might die and go to—and the Herald would not be sent there. 'Let us say,' said the Herald, 'that our paper is addressed to any point that a subscriber wishes. It is up to Uncle Sam if the paper is not delivered.'"

George Liberty, operated on for stomach trouble at the Charlevoix hospital on March 12th, is gaining rapidly and will soon be able to come home.

Henry Yettaw left for Manistique last week to visit relatives for a few days. Mrs. Yettaw who has been at Manistique for the past two weeks will return with him.

William Cole was able to walk over town on Friday of last week the first time since his operation on the fourth of February. His friends rejoice with him in his rapid improvement.

The high school basketball team defeated the Independent team in a hard fought game Saturday night by a score of 17-16 in which neither team felt safe until the final whistle.

The high school played without the services of Griffin which was a decided handicap and both teams were on their toes every minute of the game.

Ellsworth experienced the hardest rainstorm early Sunday morning which has visited this section for a number of years.

Culverts and tile were torn out, fields were badly torn and even solid gravel roads were damaged in some places.

The worst damage done in the village occurred at the Farmers' Warehouse where a trench six feet deep in some places was washed out at the southeast of the building and sand to a depth of from one to three feet deposited on the warehouse siding.

The cost of repairing the damages will probably exceed fifty dollars. The P. M. R.

COFFEY'S ADDRESS A REAL TREAT

Advantages of Consolidated Schools Fully Explained

Those who attended the meeting at the Blue hall last Friday evening to listen to the talk on consolidated schools given by Supt. of Public Instruction W. L. Coffey, received a real treat.

Mr. Coffey displayed a thorough understanding of the advantages of consolidation as well as the disadvantages, the latter being mainly in the matter of transportation.

He, however, gave figures showing how the transportation problem was being handled in Houghton county of the upper peninsula and at Buckley in Wexford county, either place having fully as many drawbacks to overcome as our own community.

Mr. Coffey was born and raised in northern Michigan and thoroughly understands the condition of the roads and weather with which the rural districts must contend.

Miss Kate Wilson, Antrim county's school commissioner and a teacher in Antrim county's schools for a number of years gave a short, pointed talk which made a decided hit.

The most enjoyable surprise of the evening, however, was a talk given by Miss May Stewart, commissioner of schools of Charlevoix county. Miss Stewart was present simply as a school official and a citizen interested in better schools and was persuaded to give a brief outline of her work in Charlevoix county, especially that part concerned with the organization of a consolidated school near Boyne Falls.

Consolidation at Boyne Falls is a success and what can be done there can be done here.

It is not yet known just what steps will be taken by districts surrounding Ellsworth leading to consolidation but no doubt some action will be taken in the near future.

50,000 Chevrolets "FOUR NINETIES"

The production schedule of Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" Models for the seven months from January 1st to July 31st, 1921, is 50,000 cars.

To each retail purchaser of a new model "Four-Ninety" car at present list prices, we will make the following cash payments:—"Four-Ninety" Touring $70; "Four-Ninety" Roadster $70; "Four-Ninety" Light Delivery Wagon $70; "Four-Ninety" Chassis $70; "Four-Ninety" Coupe $100; "Four-Ninety" Sedan $100; provided the Chevrolet Motor Companies manufacture and sell fifty thousand new Chevrolet Model "Four-Ninety" cars between January 1st, 1921, and July 31st, 1921. This offer to be subject to the terms as set forth in full in the refund certificate which will be delivered to each purchaser.

This refund represents savings in material prices under present re-adjustment conditions, which savings can be made provided Chevrolet factories continue to operate on the estimated average quantity production basis.

It is in keeping with the Chevrolet policy to make the price of its product as low as quality manufacture on a large scale will permit. It is in keeping with the Chevrolet purpose of providing quick, convenient, economical transportation at a cost within reach of those who want an automobile.

Fifty thousand cars is the minimum which Chevrolet engineers estimate will secure substantial savings in cost in manufacture. These savings will be passed on to the purchasers of these fifty thousands cars.

Each purchaser of a Model "Four-Ninety" will receive a certificate from his dealer, or from the Chevrolet retail store manager. This certificate will be redeemed as indicated on its face.

The entire plan is a straight forward business proposition presented in a straight forward way. Whether you are in the market for a new car or not, you must not fail to learn the details of this unique and simple plan. It offers to every man of sound business judgment an opportunity to take advantage of the best automobile value obtainable.

Retail purchasers of Model "Four-Ninety" cars since October 1st, 1920, will receive their certificates through their local dealers or retail stores on application to them.

Production results will be announced not later than August 10th, 1921. Certificates will be subject to payment according to their terms, up to September 15th, 1921.

MICHIGAN BEES ARE STARVING

Thousands of colonies in Michigan are dying

Thousands of colonies of Michigan bees are starving to death and Michigan bee keepers face a tremendous loss this spring unless they get busy at once, is a statement made to the Michigan State Farm Bureau by W. F. Kindig, state inspector of apiaries.

Mr. Kindig says that the present mild winter has permitted unusual activity within the hives and that the food stores are now very low. In many cases the bees are nearly starved. Brood rearing, going on out of season, is largely responsible for the rapid consumption of honey, according to Mr. Kindig, who is positive that great loss threatens before nectar is available again.

"The bee keeper who is onto his job," says Mr. Kindig, "will examine his colonies at once. If the honey is nearly gone, he will make up some hard candy and put it in on top of the frames on the first warm, mild day that occurs. The best substitute for hard candy is loaf sugar, but hard candy should be the first choice.

Figures in possession of the farm bureau show that there are 15,000 bee keepers in the state. They own 150,000 colonies of bees, which produce about ten million pounds of honey annually.

There will be a dance at the Iron-ton Grange hall, Friday evening, April 1. Good music. Come and have a good time.

GAYLORD LIGHT PLANT IS SOLD

Cheboygan E. L. & P. Co. Gets Ad- ditional Power and Equipment

The Cheboygan Electric Light & Power company has acquired the electric plant at Gaylord, the trans- action taking place late Monday of last week after waters of Gaylord had expressed their desire at the polls to dispose of the plant in that city. Power will eventually be supplied from Cheboygan.

Under the provisions of agreement the city of Gaylord and the Cheboygan Electric Light & Power company the company will not take charge of the Gaylord plant until August 1.

By the terms of the sale the Gay- lord lighting plant and pumping station will be turned over to the local company, the city of Gaylord retaining charge of the city's water mains.

With the new acquisition the Che- boygan Electric Light & Power com- pany will furnish power to the fol- lowing municipalities: Gaylord, Mul- let Lake, Long Point, Topinabee, Indian River, Wolverine, Mackinaw City, Carp Lake, Levering, Pellston, Brutus, Alanson, Oden and Conway.

The company is in good condition to take care of the business of the towns it has acquired as it has de- veloped water power and steam aux- iliary plants nearly 2,500 horse power, the Black river power dam alone developing over one-half.

2 BOYNE FALLS STORES BURNED

Loss in Early Morning Fire May Ex- ceed the $20,000 Mark

The two Grobaski stores at Boyne Falls were destroyed by fire early last Thursday morning. They were located on Center street and consisted of a hardware and implement store owned by Grobaski Bros., and a grocery store and meat market owned by D. Grobaski & Co.

It is believed that the fire started from the furnace or a defective chimney flue, and both the buildings and contents of the stores are a total loss. The property was partially insured, and the total loss may ex- ceed $20,000.

A barn owned by William J. Pen- sion, directly back of the burned buildings, was slightly burned, but no damage was done to the Pension residence directly north of the con- sumed property.

C. H. S. RECEIVES PLAY EQUIPMENT

Presented a Fine Lot of Equipment From State Commission

Superintendent Rice has succeeded in securing a consignment of athletic material from the State Department of Physical Education. This material is purchased by money collected by the State Boxing Commission and costs neither schools nor tax payers one penny. It is supposed to serve first the rural schools, then village schools, and last the city school. In view of this distribution, Mr. Rice was exceedingly fortunate in secur- ing a large consignment. Following is a list of the material received: 6 baseballs, 1 gasket ball, 2 footballs, 4 volley balls, and 4 soccer footballs. All of the material was of the high grade Wilson make and at retail prices would amount to $144.00.

FIREWOOD MAKES GOOD CASH CROP

Farmer Can Make His Farm Pay Substantial Profits by Producing Fuel.

USEFULNESS OF MACHINERY

Modern Apparatus Not Only Cuts Wood and Standing Trees, but is Used for Various Other Pur- poses About the Farm.

(Prepared by the United States Depart- ment of Agriculture.)

The farmer's problems appear, all of a sudden, to have become the lead- ing national problem. Congress is talking of little else than legislation aimed to help the agricultural inter- ests. The bankers are busy explain- ing why they can't lend the farmer the cash he needs. The plight of the farmer is the chief topic of discussion in railroad circles and among business men at all the big markets. Farmers themselves are organizing everywhere to force the prices of their products up to a point where selling will not mean a loss to them.

Meanwhile what the individual farmer needs is not talk, but cash. Certain things he must buy right along for himself and his family. He can't wait for the national debate to run down.

In this situation farmers who are hard pressed for cash may be over- looking the fact that all around them "money is growing on the trees," and the crop is just waiting to be picked. This is almost literally true. In other words the farmer can harvest an- other crop—his timber. All over the country thousands of farmers are turning to this immediate source of cash. In money value, firewood ranks as America's sixth crop. Government statistics show rank of crops in this order: Wheat, corn, cotton, hay, oats, firewood.

Money in Producing Fuel.

With one of the practical, low-priced power log saws now on the market, the farmer can make his farm pay substantial profits by producing fuel—a commodity that has held up well in price and for which there is an al- most unlimited demand. Then, too, there is always a steady market for ties, fence posts and timbers that can easily and quickly be cut with these lightweight, portable machines. In this way the farmer, with little work or expenses, can realize good profits and still hang on to his grain and live stock if he wants to, until prices get better.

On nearly every farm in most sec- tions of the country there is timber in more than sufficient quantities for home use. There are five trees that need to be taken out to give room for younger ones to grow, or to clear the land for cultivation; there are dead trees that are allowed to decay; and on thousands of farms, the banks of rivers and creeks are lined with great logs and other drift wood.

For many years the farmer has been interested in, and has readily accept- ed, machinery that would save him time, labor and money. Now he is setting upon a machine that actually makes money for him—as well as sav- ing him time and labor. Those who have used the 1921 Improved model log saws say these machines come near to being perfect sawing outfits. They do the work of ten to fifteen able-bodied men—cut down trees and saw up logs and branches of any size—at an average cost of about 1 1/2 cents a cord. Cutting 35 cords of wood is an easy day's work, and it is possible to cut as much as 50 cords in that time.

Machine Cuts Standing Trees.

One of the most popular log saws makes over 300 strokes a minute, and its engine pulls over four horsepower. This particular machine cuts down standing trees, too. By attach- ing this clever device, trees can be cut down with the level of the ground, so there will be no stump, or higher up as desired. By attaching a circular saw the outfit is quickly turned into a buzz saw, which rapid- ly zips up limbs and branches, those parts of the tree which usually go to waste, yet which produce fully one- third of the wood!

Circulation counts—we have it.

Delay Means Decay

M R. LATTA, the proud owner of the colonial mansion shown below believes in home beauty and protection. Were he to neglect to keep this property well painted he would be a good many dollars out, in a few years. He knows that the cheapest in the end policy is to paint when the need comes and to use paint that is thoroughly dependable—Heath & Milligan Paint. This insures him fewer gallons to start with and therefore fewer hours of labor to apply the paint—more years of wear, and an easy surface to repaint.

If you own good property that needs paint, don't delay. Decay won't wait for paint to get cheaper and look for the Heath & Milligan sign when you do buy. It's your guide—to a job which will prove to be the cheapest in the end.

Boys Promise Unique Entertainment for Those Who Attend

Something unique in the line of entertainment and a most enjoyable evening is the promise of the Amer- ican Legion to those who attend the annual Cabaret Supper at the Bank hall the evening of March 31.

It is the intent of the committees in charge to make this event one where the entire community will be present. No one is barred. The boys did their part in the recent trouble overseas, now they ask the people of Charlevoix and vicinity to meet with them at their headquarters and enjoy the supper and entertainment they have provided. Standing room should be at a premium the evening this event takes place.

Wait for the public auction of pure bred Shorthorn cattle, farm im- plements, etc., at the farm of Henry Hamlin about May 1st. 1212pd

WON SEVEN GAMES AND LOST FOUR

Record of C. H. S. Basket Ball Team for Past Season

The high school boys won the last game of their schedule last Friday night by smothering the East Jordan high 49-19. This makes the season's record 7 won and 4 lost, score, Charlevoix 262, opponents 204.

In estimating their chances at the tournament this week it is necessary to consider their success against Class B schools only. Their season's Class B record is 7 won, none lost, score Charlevoix 211, opponents, Class B, 96.

MICHIGAN DAY IN CALIFORNIA

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY REPRESENTED BY 15 PEOPLE

More Than Ten Thousand People From State at Large Attend Annual Picnic

"Michigan Day" as observed in California each year is most vividly portrayed by Miss Hazel Pearl in a letter received by the Courier. Miss Pearl has been in California since last October, and is teaching school in the eighth grade at Watts, having secured a position the day following her arrival there. Outside the information given in the letter published, she speaks of the many drives taken, also visits to orange groves, orange shows, tournament of roses and other interesting sights. The letter follows:

"Hello Wolverine!" was the slogan at the annual picnic of the Michigan Association of Southern California, which I attended yesterday, March 19, 1921. More than 10,000 former residents of Michigan basked under the brilliance of the California sunshine in Sycamore Grove.

Many came to enjoy a friendly handshake, to see an old familiar face, or to chat awhile about the folks back home in Michigan.

County headquarters were established by placards of each county on different trees and a tablet placed beneath the county poster where the name, old home town, and present address were written by each person from his respective county.

Charlevoix county was represented by fifteen people, a small number in comparison to the other counties which was due, no doubt, to the fact that Charlevoix has many more attractions and possibilities for its own people than California.

At the Charlevoix tree I found our small group eagerly conversing about Charlevoix news, weather, and people. Among those present were Mrs. Wiseman and son Mose, Mrs. Bowman and daughter, formerly of East Jordan. The Charlevoix city people were old residents I did not know personally. Among them was an old soldier, Mr. Hotelling; a former Charlevoix teacher, Josephine Litzan, and several others who had been out here a number of years.

Emmet county was well represented by about 50 Potoskey and Harbor Springs people.

Everyone had an enjoyable old-time picnic dinner; many old friends relatives and neighbors gathered in groups to eat, and also talk over old times, which made the lunch 100 per cent more desirable.

At one table I overheard two elderly gentlemen in a hot discussion regarding the superior virtues and qualities of Michigan and California beans. At the end of the debate a vote was taken around the table and Michigan won by a majority of the bean-eaters.

In the afternoon a special program was given in which Michigan received many favorable comments. Moving pictures were taken of the gay picnickers as they pursued their various pleasures.

While the band played, "Michigan My Michigan," the melody was caught by the throng and sung with all the ardor and enthusiasm that only Michiganders can bestow upon their own home song.

While the sun sank lower and lower, and the purple shadows crept between the giant sycamores; those native Wolverines with many hearty handshakes and good-byes, reluctantly departed with tender memories and visions of the old home and the folks back in dear old Michigan.

Miss Stacks Returns to Her Duties in Detroit

Miss Mayfred Stacks has been spending a week of vacation at her home in Boyne Falls.

Miss Mayfred returned Wednesday to resume her duties with the Young Women's Christian Association as one of the secretaries, managing the cafeteria at the Industrial Women's Service Center on East Grand Boulevard, Detroit. She extends a very hearty welcome to all of her northern Michigan friends, when ever they are in Detroit.

Henry Hamlin will sell all stock, farm implements, etc., at public auction about May 1st.

MARRIAGE COMES AS A SURPRISE

Edward Edwards and Miss Ethlyn Morrison Quietly Wed

The marriage of Edward Edwards of this city and Ethlyn Morrison of Menominee, critic teacher in the public schools of this city last year, came as a delightful surprise to their many friends in Charlevoix.

The ceremony, which took place in the Emmanuel Episcopal church of Potoskey, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Rev. Datson officiating, was announced to take place in June, but the participants, unknown to their friends had planned it for Easter. The bride and groom were attended by Bentrice Allen of Potoskey, also a former teacher in our city's schools, as bridesmaid and Arthur Edwards, brother of the groom, as best man. Mrs. Albert Edwards and Mrs. Arthur Edwards were the only witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are spending the week at their home on May street until Mrs. Edwards returns to Battle Creek to finish her school work at that place.

The Courier extends congratulations.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS FAMILY SUPPER

Over Two Hundred Enjoy Pot-Luck Supper Thursday Night

Knights of Pythias and members of their families to the number of over two hundred, observed the fiftieth anniversary of the order in Michigan, by a six o'clock pot-luck supper in their castle hall last Thursday evening.

The supper was served promptly and as fast as one table was filled and the hounteous supply of good things to eat disposed of, it was reset for another bunch of equally hungry members of the order. In all over two hundred plates were laid.

After the supper, A. L. Fitch in behalf of the lodge, gave a short talk on Pythianism, which was well received. The balance of the evening was thoroughly enjoyed, those wishing to dance occupying the dining hall, and those wishing to play cards, the lodge room.

The affair was one of the most enjoyable ever given under the auspices of the lodge.

WORLD'S FAMOUS SOCIAL DANCERS

Will Appear at American Legion Cabaret Supper

One of the special features to take place at the American Legion Cabaret supper Thursday evening, will be the first appearance in Charlevoix of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Harman, world famous social dancers, who will give several numbers. Other entertainment has been provided, which assures those who attend a most enjoyable evening.

Ticket selling by special solicitors resulted in the disposal of over a hundred the first two days of the week, and by the time the event takes place, the total sale will reach the five hundred mark or better.

Unusual interest is being shown by citizens of Charlevoix in the event, and without a doubt the Bank hall will be crowded to its fullest capacity.

REMINDED HER OF 13th BIRTHDAY

Young Friends of Miss Stintson Surprise Her

Miss Mary Stintson, a student in junior high school, was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening of last week when a number of her school friends met at the home of her brother, Edward Stintson, on the Norwood road.

Games and music were the main attractions until late in the evening when a pot-luck supper was served after which the guests departed, leaving Miss Mary many pretty gifts to remind her of her thirteenth birthday.

Mayor Moves Barber Shop

Mayor S. M. Rose, who has conducted a barber shop in the I. O. O. F. building for the past three years, will move within the next week to the south store in the Opera House block, and his present quarters will be occupied by a Potoskey concern. This will be the first time in over thirty years that this building will be occupied by a business place other than a barber shop.

C. H. S. BASKET BALL TEAM CLASS B CHAMPIONS OF NORTH MICHIGAN

Wins First Place in Northwestern Michigan's Second Annual Basket Ball Tournament Held in Potoskey Friday and Saturday—Played Phenomenal Ball

By playing superior basket ball and fighting with every ounce of energy through four gruelling games Charlevoix high school basket ball team won the championship of Class B in Northwestern Michigan's Second Annual Basket Ball Tournament held at Potoskey Friday and Saturday of last week.

The playing started Friday afternoon when Charlevoix eliminated Pellston by a score of 23 to 8. In the evening they met the Gnylord team and defeated them by a score of 16 to 6. In the Gnylord game the first half was a walk-away, and during the second half Coach Tuttle played two subs, reserving the strength of his players for other harder games yet unplayed.

Saturday morning Charlevoix experienced no trouble in winning from Onaway by a score of 28 to 6. The afternoon game with Harbor Springs, however, proved a different proposition and was a hard-fought battle resulting in a victory for Charlevoix by the close score of 15 to 14. During this game, Hallett, one of Charlevoix's forwards, sprained his ankle and was forced to leave the floor. His place was filled by J. C. Marshall, who displayed wonderful ability, it falling to his lot to throw the winning basket.

In Class A, Cadillac defeated Potoskey in the final game by a score of 19 to 18 in one of the hardest fought battles played on the court, thus placing this bunch of speedy players the winners of Class A.

Saturday evening to decide the championship of northern Michigan, Cadillac and Charlevoix met for the last game of the tournament, each being winners of their class. The result was that Cadillac defeated the local boys by a score of 31 to 12. At the end of the first half of this game

FIRE-ARMS' BILL GETS HOUSE O. K.

Prohibits Foreigners Having Firearms in Their Possession

Representative Peter Leonon's bill prohibiting the ownership of firearms by annaturalized foreigners was re-passed by the house late last Tuesday and has been signed by the Governor.

In the Senate the bill was amended to allow foreigners to possess firearms under a permit from the sheriff of the county in which the foreigner lives. This amendment was concurred in by the house.

The Leonon bill has caused as much debate in the legislature as any measure during the present session. It received strong opposition in the house and was also subject to attack in the senate.

While the bill was introduced as a game measure, its real purpose is to give the police authorities power to enter upon the premises of foreigners and search and seize firearms. It would give the police the right to make seizures without search warrants and Leonon believes it will go a long way toward stopping wholesale murders, especially in the foreign sections of Detroit, Flint and other cities.

OLD LANDMARK MOVED SATURDAY

Building One of the First Erected in Charlevoix

With the removal of the building on the lots west of the County Bank building, Charlevoix loses one of its landmarks, as it has stood there for many years and was also one of the first buildings erected in Charlevoix.

The building was for years occupied by O. W. Smith as an upholstering establishment and other lines of business he was engaged in. Since this death it has been unoccupied. W. E. Byers, the present owner has moved it to his home on Huribut avenue and will convert it into a garage.

Mrs. B. B. Blair Dead

Word comes from Royal Oak of the death of Mrs. B. B. Blair, at 7:00 Tuesday morning at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Blair will be remembered among Charlevoix friends as former owners of the greenhouse and the news of her death comes as a shock to her many friends here. She will be buried in Kalamazoo, Thursday.

the score stood 15 to 12 in favor of Cadillac, and during the last half Cadillac increased her score by 16 points, the local boys not being able to score at all owing to extreme fatigue.

In this final game there is little doubt that had the local boys been in playing condition, the score would have been more in proportion to the other games played. It was the third game played that day, and the players had worked far beyond their endurance.

During the five games the playing of the Charlevoix team was very speedy and brought repeated applause from the hundreds of fans who witnessed the game.

The standing of the teams in Class A were: First place, Cadillac; second place, Potoskey; third place, Soo. Class B: First place, Charlevoix; second place, Harbor Springs; third place, East Jordan.

Charlevoix and Harbor Springs teams left Wednesday for Ann Arbor to attend the state tournament to decide the state championship. Cadillac and Potoskey leave the same day for Lansing. M. A. C. to play the finals in the state tournament.

The winning teams were rewarded with cups, watch fobs and ribbons by the Potoskey organization handling the tournament. Cadillac and Charlevoix teams were presented beautiful loving cups, as winners in each class. Members of the Potoskey and Harbor Springs teams, winners of second place honors, received silver miniature basket balls, watch fobs. Ribbons were presented to members of the Soo and East Jordan teams, winners of third places.

The cup won by the local team is now on display in the show windows of the Central Drug Store.

COLLEGE GLEE AND MANDOLIN CLUB

Ralph B. Coulter Touring the State with Organization

Ralph B. Coulter of Charlevoix is a member of the Michigan Agricultural College Glee and Mandolin Club which is making its annual tour of the state this week. Coulter who is an agricultural student at the state school, is serving his second year with the musical organization and is known as one of its leading members.

The longest tour ever taken by an M. A. C. club was scheduled for this year, 12 towns being included in the itinerary. Opening at St. Johns on March 25, the boys moved to Saginaw the next day on the start of their long series of one-day stands. Flint, Bay City, Jackson, Benton Harbor, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, and Lansing are other cities to be taken in on the trip.

A variety of songs and instrumental selections, full of college life and enthusiasm, is being given at each concert. Reading by Prof. P. R. Brees, of the college English department, and special quartet numbers are among the features.

NEW VULCANIZING AND REPAIR SHOP

G. D. Light Installs New Equipment in Old Courier Building

George D. Light, formerly with the Northern Auto company, has leased a part of the old Courier building, located on the alley at the rear of the postoffice, and installed new equipment for vulcanizing and repairing automobile tires.

The name under which this new venture will be run is the City Vulcanizing and Tire Shop. The machinery is now being installed and Mr. Light makes a bid for a portion of that class of work. A free air station has also been installed. Read his announcement on another page.

Now Corporal VanDusen

The many friends of Irwin R. VanDusen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orton VanDusen, will be pleased to learn that he has been made a corporal in the U. S. Infantry Corps at Port au Prince, Haiti. Corporal VanDusen expects to be transferred to the U. S. sometime in April.

There will be a dance at the Iron-Tan Grange hall, Friday evening, April 1. Good music. Come and have a good time.

COUNTY NORMAL TEACHERS MEET

Hold Conference with Teachers of Adjoining Counties

"On March 24th in the Potoskey County Normal room, through the leadership of Miss May L. Stewart, commissioner of schools of Charlevoix county, a splendid conference of county normal teachers, county normal boards and school commissioners from Antrim, Emmet and Charlevoix counties was made possible.

The teachers and board members met in an informal round table gathering about a large table provided through the courtesy of the Potoskey schools, and took turns in lending discussions on topics pertaining to selection of pupils for the training room, adjustment of city and rural courses of study, training of the prospective teacher, placing and follow-up work, rural outlook, the present legislative program as it affects the county normal, the budget, and all problems arising from any one or from a combination of two or more of these problems.

Miss Ball, principal of the Emmet county normal, and Commissioner Washburn of Emmet county had arranged a dainty luncheon at the Inn for the assembled guests. This was a delightful social feature which added charm to the business proceedings of the day.

All voted the conference a splendid success and elected Commissioner Washburn to lead in a similar conference, for next year.

JOHN SLEZAK BUYS BEDFORD SHOE STOCK

Will Re-Open Store with Complete Line of Shoes

Another business deal of considerable importance to Charlevoix was put through last week whereby John Slezak purchased the Bedford shoe stock and will re-open the store about the first of May.

The store in the future will be conducted under the name of Mayer's Shoe Store, Mr. Slezak intending to carry a complete stock of the Mayer product, both in men's, women's and children's shoes. He also states he will continue the line of Walk-Over shoes, handled by Mr. Bedford for many years.

The shoe repair shop formerly conducted by Mr. Slezak has been sold to John Bronersky of Chicago, who will take possession May first.

In taking over the new purchase Mr. Slezak assumes control of a long established shoe business, also one that has enjoyed the confidence of the buying public. With the new line of shoes and a well established patronage, the new owner should make a success of the venture.

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF NEW GARAGE

Alfred Brown to Assume Management of Potoskey Garage

Commencing with Monday next, Alfred Brown, a well known auto repair man of this city, will take over what is known as the West Side Garage, Potoskey, Michigan, having closed a deal for the place the past week.

Mr. Brown has been in the employ of his brother, Benj. Brown, for the past eight years, having had charge of the mechanical end, and in leaving, the city loses one of its best "auto doctors" and a responsible citizen.

Mr. Brown will conduct a general auto repair shop and will also handle a full line of accessories. His many Charlevoix friends wish him every success in his new venture.

CLEAN-UP DAY IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

Work to be Done Under Direction of State

A splendid movement has been started in attempting the co-operation of public health and educational departments. Dr. R. M. Olin of the State Department of Health has asked that all the schools in the state of Michigan have a clean-up day this spring.

Charlevoix county will meet this request with one hundred per cent co-operation. The rural schools will choose the first nice day nearest to April 1st and on that day will work in the spirit of public health workers, as requested in a letter from Dr. Olin. School officers are requested to work with the teachers and schools in making clean-up day a complete success.

Paint one-half your house with DeVoe's Lead and Zinc paint, the other half with any other paint you choose. If it does not take less gallons, we will make no charge for the paint used. S. M. See & Sons, 131

MICHIGAN TARDY IN ITS ACTION

STATE OWES MUCH TO HER SOLDIER BOYS

Citizens of Charlevoix County Urged to Vote Yes on Soldiers' Compensation

The following amendment to the constitution will be voted on, on Monday, April 4.

"Section 20. The State shall borrow not to exceed thirty million dollars, pledge its faith and credit and issue its notes or bonds therefore, for the purpose of paying to each person who entered into the military forces of the United States between April sixth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, and November eleventh nineteen hundred and eighteen, and served honestly and faithfully therein during the late World War and who was a resident in this state at the time of entering such service, the sum of fifteen dollars for each month or major fraction thereof, of such service, up to and including August first, nineteen hundred nineteen."

Yes []
No []

The purpose of this amendment is clearly stated in the amendment itself, which is to give every person who served in the military, naval or marine forces of the United States after the declaration of war and up to the 11th day of November, 1918, $15 per month for each month or major fraction thereof.

This is only an act of justice. Michigan is tardy in its action. Many other states have already voted additional compensation. While other young men were working at home for the highest wages ever paid in the United States, completing their high school or college or university training and fitting themselves for the active duties of citizenship, these Michigan boys were facing the machine guns, the deadly gases and constant privations and dangers of war, not for the mere pittance the government paid but for the love of country, to save the nation and the world for civilization and freedom. Not one of them would have considered such a salary for such a job.

Michigan owes it to her brave self-sacrificing boys to make up to them as far as possible the enormous loss to which they have been in money, time and opportunity. Vote "Yes" on this amendment by putting your cross after "Yes" on the ballot. Be sure to vote. Men and women who stayed at home, we did our part, but nothing we did then or can do will make up to the brave boys of the great war for the splendid devotion to duty, their wonderful spirit of sacrifice. Let us do our best for them by giving them not a "bonus" but just a little more compensation for what they did. Our children and our children's children for many generations will enjoy the fruits of their sacrifices and drinking, let us show that we appreciate it by voting "yes" on the soldiers' compensation amendment.

REMAINS TAKEN TO CHICAGO FOR BURIAL

Mrs. Sarah Addams Dies at Advanced Age of 84 Years

Mrs. Sarah C. Addams, a resident of Ironton for a number of years died at her home on Thursday last.

Sarah Cherry Addams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cherry, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 28, 1836. She came to Ironton during the pioneer days of that village. Her brother, Robert Cherry, built the first iron furnace in that village about 1880, and about this time Mrs. Addams located there.

Deceased was a member of the First Congregational church of Chicago, and devoted much of her time to church work while a resident there. She is survived by one daughter and other near relatives.

The remains were taken to Chicago Saturday for interment. Short services were held at the home Friday, conducted by Rev. James A. Smith.

Fox, the Typewriter Man

E. Fox of Traverse City, announces in this issue of the Courier that he will be in Charlevoix Monday, April 4th, to do general repair work. Read his announcement on page 3.

Wait for the public auction of pure bred Shorthorn cattle, farm implements, etc., at the farm of Henry Hamlin about May 1st.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. Dear Rev. Hewitt: I infer from your writings, that if man rebels against God that he will be condemned to death; or that God will bring some great punishment upon him. What I would like to know is this: If God is all powerful and all love as the Bible teaches, that He doesn't use that power to save man without such great punishment as you refer to, or death?—R. B.

A. You cannot infer from any of my writings that the soul dies. The soul never dies. At physical death the soul returns to God who gave it. Previous to physical death or at any time during your natural life if you have refused to accept Jesus Christ as your Savior, if you have lived in open rebellion against Christ by refusing to believe in Him and live for Him, then your soul will be sent to eternal punishment. Could any greater love be shown than that of the shed blood of Jesus Christ? God did go to the depth, the length, the breadth of love in the gift of His son Christ Jesus. He died for you, what more do you want? He has been holding up that "old rugged cross" to a lost sinful world for over nineteen hundred years, and in love and pity has permitted mankind to live, in hope that they would come under His Holy Standard. Now see here, you reject the love of Almighty God and your soul will go to Hell, and why should you not go to Hell, if, by your rejection of that wonderful love, you are daily crucifying Christ anew? Every time you reject Jesus, you stand equally guilty with those who condemned, crucified, and spit upon Him. Ah, why should not one who is guilty of such a sin as rebellion against our blessed Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, after he died to redeem us from sin, be sent to Hell? God today stands ready to answer our prayers, there's nothing too hard for Him to do for us if we come in the name of Jesus. Jer. 36:17. "Ah, Lord God behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee." I think the Lord was pleased with this prayer from Jeremiah, for He responds to him in the 27th verse, "Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh. Is there anything too hard for me?" God likes to have his people believe that there is nothing too hard for Him. Now see here my friend: Don't tell God you can't; just say you don't want to be a Christian. That's the way to be a man. Just say, "I don't want to quit lying; I don't want to quit cussing; I don't want to quit getting money dishonestly; I don't want to quit telling dirty stories; I don't want to stay away from the dance crowd; I don't want to stop squirting tobacco juice. If I should be a Christian I should have to quit all these things and I don't want to do it. Tell God you are not man enough to be a Christian. Don't try to saddle it off on the Lord."

He who said, "Let there be light," and there was light can just as easily say, "Let there be life;" and there will be life. The man may be a gambler, a deist, an infidel; the woman may be a harlot, and her feet may begin to take hold on hell; but the Lord who created the heavens and earth, won't find it hard to save the chief of sinners if they will give their wicked hearts to Him. Let us get our eyes off one another and fix them on God. "And of His fullness have we received." It is a very common fault with Christians to forget the Lord's fullness. They are living on stale manna and trying to get happy over their past experience. They were converted twenty, thirty years ago; and they seem to think the Lord gave them a blessing which was to last them all their lives. Not so. There is an infinite "fullness in Christ" and they who believe in Him may receive it all the time. Ask Enoch. He received the "fullness" and so was able to walk with God. Now, some people think those old patriarchs and prophets were a different kind of men from what we have in these days. Not at all. They were men of like passions with us. You just let the ministers and Christian workers nowadays get filled with the Lord's "fullness" and they will be like giants.

O my dear reader. Obey God, and don't attempt to set up your own little self standard. Let me call your attention to a man who walked to the banks of the Seine in Paris to end his life. He walked to the banks of the Seine four times, but he did not plunge in. He filled a cup with poison three times and raised it to his lips, but he did not drink. He cocked a pistol, put it against his temple, but he did not pull the trigger. Listen. He heard the sweet story of Jesus, and dropped on his knees, and William Cowper wrote these beautiful words: God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform; He plants His footsteps on the sea, And rides upon the storm."

There is a fountain filled with blood, Drawn from Immanuel's veins; And sinners plunge beneath that flood, Lose all their guilty stains.

That's what William Cowper found my friend; and that's what you will find if you lay hold on Jesus promises. Will you do it? Could we go to Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer. She has written something like 6,000 hymns. She was born blind. If we could say to her, "Miss Crosby, tell us what you have found by trusting in the finished work of Jesus Christ? Tell us, Miss Crosby." This would be the answer:

Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine; Oh, what a foretaste of glory divine.

Pass me not O gentle Savior, Hear my humble cry—

Once I was blind but now I see, The light of the world is Jesus.

And I shall see Him face to face, And Tell the story saved by grace.

FORDSON

More and more every day the demand for the Fordson Tractor increases because the Fordson has demonstrated so much usefulness, so much economy, so much labor saving, so much money saving, along so many lines of activity. The farmer has discovered that not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, seeding, mowing, reaping, and threshing, but a multitude of other uses; cutting wood; feed; grinding feed; churning; washing; furnishing water in the house and around the barns; so that, as a matter of fact, there is hardly a job around the farm that they won't do. They make electric light possible in the house and around the barns so that of all the jobs the farmer has to face the Fordson steps in and cuts out the drudgery.

This is the Age of Machinery, the day when man plans the day's work, or the year's work, and then turns it over to the Tractor to execute. Get the book, "The Fordson at Work," because it is free. If you cannot call for it, write and we will mail it to you. The Tractor is not only a necessity to every farmer but is an established utility along a great many commercial lines. Our allotment is limited to so many each month. Let's have your order now.

Northern Auto Co.

Crosby, He can do for you my friend if you will but give Him your heart. Will you do it?

Let's go to the mighty Wesley as strolls along the banks of the river, while the storm raged. The birds were driven in fright from the boughs in the trees. A little bird flew and lighted on Wesley's shoulder. He caught it and gently, tenderly he held it. He took the bird home and put it in a cage. The next morning he carried the cage outside in God's free air, opened the door and watched the little bird as it circled around and flew away for its forest or mountain home. Then Wesley returned to his house and wrote:

Jesus, lover of my soul
Let me to thy bosom fly.

My dear reader: My friends, God will put a song in your heart, a cheer into your lives, a fountain of love that will never run dry; if you will anchor your soul in the arms of Jesus. Will you do it?

Now, dear readers: Because I have other labors that call me into another field of activity for a time, with this question answered I am closing the Question Box for now; with the hope that I may be able at some future date to carry it on again. I desire to thank the public for the many kind, cheerful, helpful and appreciative letters I have received and my prayer shall ever be that I have through the "Gospel Question Box," helped some soul to gain a full and complete knowledge of the wonderful saving power of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ; and keep this message beating continually at the very door of your heart and home: "Seek ye the Lord, while He may be found; call ye upon Him while He is near."

Sincerely,
C. W. Hewitt.

How About Your Furniture Wants?

If you are going to buy any new furniture this year—now is the time. We are informed by the Furniture Manufacturers that further declines in furniture prices this year are absolutely impossible, and further, there is a possibility that many factories will shut down for lack of business at prices which will warrant them proper returns on their investments. Should this happen it would mean a shortage of merchandise the same as we had in 1919 and 1920 and we all know the effect of a shortage, it means higher prices.

We have just unpacked a car load of bedroom furniture consisting of Oak, Walnut, Mahogany and Ivory Enamel pieces. We have priced them at the very lowest point and ask you to call and look them over. The patterns are the best and the workmanship and finish cannot be beaten by merchandise at much higher prices. This line of furniture was bought at not less than 35 per cent below last August prices. Remember, we back up every sale by a guarantee of Perfect Satisfaction.

We also guarantee prices against decline this season—should there be a further decline in prices we agree to refund to our customers amounts in comparison with such declines.

Remember we carry the only line of strictly pure paint in the city. Devoe & Reynolds is the name.

New Palace Theatre

Especially Good Attractions For This Week

THURSDAY, MARCH 31st—Metro presents Viola Dana in a 1921 special six reel production, "Blackmail." From the story by Lucia Chamberlain. A Saturday Evening Post story. A silk-stocking crook is the role Viola Dana portrays in this gripping play of the underworld when, as Flossie Golden she attempts to blackmail a rich young man. The young man's lawyer spikes Flossie's guns only to fall in love with her. What follows is thrillingly unfolded in this strong drama of love and crime. Also a Rowland comedy, "Park Your Car."

SATURDAY and SUNDAY, APRIL 2nd and 3rd—Wm. Fox presents Tom Mix in his latest 1921 picture, "The Texan." The strongest story in which Tom Mix has appeared. That is how some critics have described "The Texan." An absorbing drama of life in the great outdoors. Thrills, stunts, and hair-raising situations. A story with enough tense moments to make a dozen ordinary pictures—so real that one listens for the hoof-beats of the cowboys' horses. A thriller that shows Tom Mix at his best. Also Goldwyn presents one of Booth Tarkington's Edgar comedies, in two reels, "Edgar Catches Out."

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6th—Metro presents the brilliant young star, Bert Lytell, in his big seven reel 1921 production, "The Price of Redemption." From A. R. Wylie's gripping novel, "The Temple of Dawn." A powerful drama of a man's victory over himself. London high life and the shadows of India. Impressive contrast, superb in its mountings and detail displayed in reproducing the atmosphere of East India.

COMING—Saturday, April 9th: Harry Carey in his latest picture, "If Only Jim."

COMING—April 16th—D. W. Griffith's "Love Flower."

It's a Goodrich Shoe, the Brown 4-Buckle Gaiter, and it is All Rubber—no cloth top. Wear it right over your shoe, and when you come in from the field or barn, douse a bucket of water over it and it's cleaned. Then a click of the buckles and off she slips—and you go into the house clean and dry. But Wear is the big feature. some time and is at present undergoing extensive repairs preparatory to a rededication in June. Owing to this fact we thought it would do no harm to allow the young people to play a few games therein, in as much as there is no other place in town in which they can play.

The Scripture quoted does not in any way refer to buildings of stone wood or brick, but unmistakably to people who have accepted Jesus as a personal Savior, and are willing to abide by and conform to the teachings of His word.

I think it would be well to quote one of the references used by Mr. Hewitt; namely, Acts 20:28, and will also add the 29th and 30th verses which read as follows:

Acts 20:28, "Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which He hath purchased with His own blood."

29th: "For I know this, that after my departing, grievous wolves shall enter in among you, not sparing the flock."

30th: "Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them."

But then we suppose the Dr. is excusable for feeling grieved toward the M. E. people as the M. E. conference did not boost him into a high position at once as per his request.

Now as to our own spineless, wobbly-jointed preacher, we will say that he came to us 18 months ago, without any boasting whatever, and is still on the job, a tribute which we cannot pay to some of the preachers we have had in the past.

What a pity such talented people do not use their ability to the glory of God instead of trying to dictate to so great an organization as the M. E. church, and stirring up strife among its members.

ATWOOD

R. J. Vanderheide lost a valuable cow last week.

S. Bystra sold a beef to H. Klooster last Thursday.

Louis Marcus expects to raise his barn sometime next week.

Mrs. John Koster has been ill for a few days with a sore throat.

George Lord spent a part of last week in Charlevoix on business.

Ethan Jolliffe spent a few days in Charlevoix last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Klooster and family of Phelps spent Sunday at the Henry Klooster home.

Gerrit Essenburg had the misfortune to break a part on his car while on the way to church last Sunday.

We are sorry to report that no decided improvement is noted in the condition of the youngest son of James Heeres.

S. Veestra of South Dakota was in this vicinity last week looking for a farm. While here he stayed at the Henry Klooster home.

Henry Koster had the misfortune to lose one of his horses last week, caused by the horse getting a large splinter in one of its legs.

The threshing company of north Atwood got their grain separator from Ellsworth Friday which they purchased some time ago.

Graddus Petter was taken to the Charlevoix hospital last Wednesday to have his shoulder operated on which he injured playing basketball.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Bos left for Grand Rapids and Chicago the first of the week being called to the latter city on account of the serious illness of one of Mrs. Bos' sisters.

A. Bos and son spent most of last week hauling cars out of the mud south of their place. Con Klooster, Albert Elzinga and Albert Harwood, etc., etc. have done about the same.

Mud everywhere and the state road can lay claim to having more impassable mudholes in the two miles from Albert Harwood's place to that of Paul DeVries' than any road in Banks township. We are going to have a road through in order to let the people in and out of here and the time is not very far distant either.

FAIRVIEW, BANKS

Harry DeGroot was in Atwood Monday on business.

I. VanTill has sold his farm to a party from Holland, Michigan.

Andy Dunsmore, sheriff of Antrim county, was in this neighborhood one day last week.

Mr. VanHulzen of Rudyard, Michigan, was in this neighborhood this week looking after a farm.

George Rubingh left for the southern part of the state last Thursday to visit friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tjaphes of South Arm township visited Mr. and Mrs. William Dreath one day last week.

Mr. DeYoung and son Albert of Edgerton, Minn., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. Kuiper. Mr. DeYoung intends to buy a farm in this locality.

Rev. Beute and Elder Geo. Rubingh are in Muskegon this week to attend the Classis of the Christian Reformed church to be held in that city, March 29th and 30th.

Mr. I Postmus and Miss Dena Drenth were married Friday afternoon, Rev. Beute officiating. Both parties are well and favorably known in this neighborhood. They will make their home on the farm in this vicinity. We wish them a long and happy life.

Farmers in this locality are somewhat up a tree as to what to plant this year in order that the result will be money enough to make both ends meet. With potatoes at 25 and 30 cents, sugar beets 40 per cent less than last year, sweet corn and other produce 25 per cent less than last year, it certainly makes a decision a difficult matter.

Circulation counts—we have it.

ELLSWORTH

Mrs. A. L. Ely was a Petoskey visitor on Thursday of last week.

Miss Lena Martin of East Jordan visited friends here over Sunday.

N. P. Griffen of Phelps was an Ellsworth caller one day last week.

J. L. Warner of Elk Rapids was in town on business one day last week.

Henry Wagner of Charlevoix was in this vicinity on business the first of the week.

Ruel Chelles of Detroit arrived home last week to spend a few weeks with his parents.

Ed Moblo of Traverse City spent last week with his parents here, who have been quite ill.

The Grange met at the Donald Patterson home on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Miss Helen Boss of Charlevoix spent Friday and Saturday at the home of her parents here.

Several Ellsworth young people were at Petoskey Saturday of last week to attend the basket ball tournament.

Dr. Dickson of East Jordan was in town on Tuesday of this week having been called to the Adam Martin home where both Mr. and Mrs. Martin are seriously ill.

Mrs. John Ardema underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the Charlevoix hospital on Saturday of last week. The operation was performed by Drs. Parks and McMillan and her condition is reported as being as good as can be expected.

The farmers of Atwood who are interested in the community threshing association, received a new grain separator last week which was unloaded and taken home on Friday. Their old machine was destroyed in the Veenstra fire some time last fall.

Mrs. C. J. Addington of Rapid City was in Ellsworth on Thursday of last week with the members of the Albion college glee club officiating as pianist of their musical program. Mrs. Addington was formerly Miss Thelma Frink of Bellaire and was well known here.

George Frink of Bicknell, Indiana, spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Benj. Madill. Mr. Frink was Antrim county's register of deeds from 1912 until April of last year, at which time he resigned to go into the moving picture business at Bicknell, where he is now located.

Special meetings will start at the M. E. church on Sunday evening, April 3rd and will continue indefinitely. Rev. E. E. Clark will be assisted in the work by the Rev. G. I. A. Short, who with his wife and daughter will arrive some time this week from Dana, Indiana. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

WILDWOOD

Emrey Wilson is under the weather at present.

Duncan Crawford sold one of the horses, he has been advertising for sale.

Miss Kate Wilson of Bellaire was an Easter guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson.

Miss Potter of Mitchell school spent Saturday and Sunday with her friend, Miss Calkins.

A man named Veenstra from South Dakota was looking for a farm here the first of the week.

Emrey Wilson and Laura Peebles were dinner guests Sunday of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson.

Miss Ellen Crawford was home from Bellaire for the Easter week end and attended the senior play at Central Lake Friday evening.

MILES DISTRICT

Mrs. A. Miles visited a few days last week with Mrs. B. Madill in Ellsworth.

Our teacher, Mrs. Esther Miles, attended a teachers' meeting at East Jordan last Saturday.

Little Christina Withers of Charlevoix was visiting her grandmother Mrs. Anna LaLonde, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed and children of East Jordan spent Easter with Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mohlo.

Miss Esther LaLonde returned home last Wednesday from Charlevoix where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Chas. Withers.

Mr. Steenhagen and family of Grand Rapids came Saturday to take possession of the Albert LaLonde farm property purchased by Mr. Steenhagen recently.

ELLSWORTH TRIMMED TO QUEEN'S TASTE

East Jordan Takes Two Games From Local Teams

Jack Gunderson and eight young men came over from East Jordan on Tuesday evening of last week and proceeded to lambast both the high school and Independent basket ball teams, the former by 29 to 11 score and the latter by a count of 31 to 21. The Ellsworth boys put a badly crippled team on the floor to oppose the East Jordan team in the high school game, but it is an assured fact that even had Ellsworth been able to present their regular line-up the result would have been the same only not quite as much so. Gunderson, forward for the visitors and Griffen the Ellsworth center were the stars of the game.

In the clash of the Independent teams the Ellsworth boys went down to defeat by reason of there being too much Gunderson in the opposition. He, in fact, made 25 of the 31 points made by his team. East Jordan got away to a ten point lead in the first half and managed to hold this lead until the finish.

Carpenter work is expected to be resumed on the church building some time this week, so no more games are looked for this year.

YOUNG PEOPLE

QUIETLY WED

Nicely Located on the Jacob Drenth Farm

Miss Lena Drenth and Mr. August Postmus were quietly married on Friday afternoon of last week, the ceremony taking place at the parsonage of the Christian Reformed church and being conducted by Rev. H. K. Beute.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Drenth living one mile southeast of town and was until a few weeks ago employed as a saleswoman in W. Weiss' store here. The groom is also well known here although having spent the greater part of his time in Grand Rapids since his return from Russia where he served with the A. E. F.

The young people are nicely located on the Jacob Drenth farm south of Ellsworth which they purchased some time ago. Congratulations!

COMMUNICATIONS

Considerable discussion has been caused in this locality by a question asked of Dr. Hewitt and answered by him in the Courier issue of March 23rd, and in justice to those most vitally interested a few remarks through the columns of the Courier would not seem out of place.

In the first place the statement made by "M. P. W." whoever he or she may be, is at the best simply a half truth, which, in some cases is worse than a deliberate falsehood. He or she says: "The pastor is allowing crowds of people to gather in the church to play basket ball." The statement should have read: "The pastor, backed and endorsed by the board of trustees, 'M. P. W.' also says: 'I am told that he leased the church building to be used for basket ball.'" This part of the statement is true as far as it goes, but "M. P. W." should have added to this statement by saying that said church building had been closed to religious worship for at least two years and is at present being repaired and remodeled, is, in other words, simply a building in process of construction. "M. P. W." further says: "It is having a bad influence on the public in general." Just what does the writer mean by "it"? Does he mean that basket ball has a bad influence or is it simply meant that basket ball played in an old unused church building has a bad effect?

Now as to Dr. Hewitt's answer, Dr. Hewitt is, not doubt, well posted on the Bible and probably is better able to answer questions of this kind than the average run of humanity. Possibly Dr. Hewitt thought after making the question that church service had been discontinued during the basket ball season. We can assure him, however, that this is not the case.

When the question of a place for basket ball games for the school arose and the proposition was put before the pastor and board of trustees of the M. E. church, all good christian men, "spaceless and wab-ly-jon-ly" perhaps, but christians nevertheless, the matter was their own property and it was decided that a building could possibly be erected on the site of the old church, and I am sure that the work of repairing the church could not be given up. So far, at least, the pastor and the trustees have given their reason for

The production schedule of Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" Models for the seven months from January 1st to July 31st, 1921, is 50,000 cars.

To each retail purchaser of a new model "Four-Ninety" car at present list prices, we will make the following cash payments: "Four-Ninety" Touring $70; "Four-Ninety" Roadster $70; "Four-Ninety" Light Delivery Wagon $70; "Four-Ninety" Chassis $70; "Four-Ninety" Coupe $100; "Four-Ninety" Sedan $100; provided the Chevrolet Motor Companies manufacture and sell fifty thousand new Chevrolet Model "Four-Ninety" cars between January 1st, 1921, and July 31st, 1921. This offer to be subject to the terms as set forth in full in the refund certificate which will be delivered to each purchaser.

This refund represents savings in material prices under present re-adjustment conditions, which savings can be made provided Chevrolet factories continue to operate on the estimated average quantity production basis.

It is in keeping with the Chevrolet policy to make the price of its product as low as quality manufacture on a large scale will permit. It is in keeping with the Chevrolet purpose of providing quick, convenient, economical transportation at a cost within reach of those who want an automobile.

Fifty thousand cars is the minimum which Chevrolet engineers estimate will secure substantial savings in cost in manufacture. These savings will be passed on to the purchasers of these fifty thousands cars.

Each purchaser of a Model "Four-Ninety" will receive a certificate from his dealer, or from the Chevrolet retail store manager. This certificate will be redeemed as indicated on its face.

The entire plan is a straight forward business proposition presented in a straight forward way. Whether you are in the market for a new car or not, you must not fail to learn the details of this unique and simple plan. It offers to every man of sound business judgment an opportunity to take advantage of the best automobile value obtainable.

Retail purchasers of Model "Four-Ninety" cars since October 1st, 1920, will receive their certificates through their local dealers or retail stores on application to them.

Production results will be announced not later than August 10th, 1921. Certificates will be subject to payment according to their terms, up to September 15th, 1921.

not asking the advice of Dr. Hewitt in this matter. It may be because Dr. Hewitt is not a member of the Michigan Methodist conference and it may be that they realized that Dr. Hewitt was so busy at that time instructing the State Highway Department as to its rights and duties in regard to the state trunk line, or the trustees may have thought the matter concerned no one outside of the M. E. church, and they together with a majority of the people in the vicinity of Ellsworth look upon both question and answer as being the rolling thunder of a brainstorm and as such, worth scarcely more than passing notice.

Dear Mr. Usher:

Will you kindly permit me to take exception through the medium of your paper to some of the things which appeared in the Gospel Question column of last week?

Taking it for granted that the space will be forthcoming, I will say in reply to Dr. Hewitt's lamenting in regard to playing basket ball in a certain church building that we sincerely hope that he succeeded in getting it all out of his system otherwise the result might prove fatal.

The building referred to was not been used for church purposes for

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Signs of an early spring have not given rise to any indications of an early adjournment of the present session of the Legislature. There is small prospect that final adjournment can occur until the fore part of May, for new bills continue to make their appearance in generous quantities and the legislative mill is grinding rather slowly on its large and varied grist. The slowness with which the official wheels are moving is due mainly to the vital importance of the proposed legislation under consideration rather than to any lack of diligence on the part of the law makers, for they have worked early and late. Thursday the House had 68 bills on its daily calendar.

Marked progress on the various bills providing for administrative reorganization constituted the most important development which occurred during the past week. The measure providing for the State Department of Agriculture was signed by the Governor. The House passed the bill creating the new State Department of Industry and Labor, to combine into one department the present State Industrial Accident Board, Labor department, Commissioner of Labor and the Industrial Relations Commission. The Senate passed the proposal for a State Conservation Department to unify all the agencies for the conservation and protection of all the forests, fish and game, and other natural resources of the state. This measure has already passed the House and now goes to the Governor for his signature.

Two more of the Governor's reorganization bills were introduced during the past week. The first was presented in the House by Rep. Hyrum of Ingham and would create a State Welfare department to replace the present multiplicity of boards, with five unified commissions having an aggregate membership of 22 as against 69 now employed under the present system. The five proposed centralized commissions are: the State Hospital commission, the State Prison commission, the State Corrections commission, the State Institutional commission, and the Welfare commission.

The second new administrative bill to be introduced during the week was presented by Sen. Forrester of Sanilac. It provides for a State Department of Public Safety. The proposed department would take over the duties of the state police, the fire marshal's department, and the state oil inspector, and would supplement all local agencies for the preservation of the public peace and safety.

Juggling the capital punishment bill was a favorite indoor sport with the members of the lower house during the first part of the past week. The vote by which the bill had lost out on final passage by a bare margin of two votes had been reconsidered and the bill laid on the table so it was in an excellent position to be the subject of all sorts of jockeying—mostly on the part of the foes of the measure, who sought to get the bill off from the table and put to a final vote before the other two friends of the bill, whose votes were necessary for its passage, should return from Marquette where they were conducting an investigation of the Marquette prison.

Equally close was the margin in the case of Rep. Mosier's state income tax proposal. This being a constitutional amendment, required 67 votes in the House to secure its submission to the people. Wednesday the proposal lacked three votes of securing such a two-thirds majority. On motion of Rep. Mosier, the vote was reconsidered and the resolution laid on the table. He states that 4 or 5 of the absentees will vote for the measure and that it is sure to pass the lower House whenever there is a full attendance of the representatives.

"The right to petition" is not being disregarded by Michigan citizens during the present legislative session. Every day great quantities of petitions have been presented in both Houses. By far the greatest number of these have been in favor of movie censorship. Petitions on this subject have run into the hundreds and some of them have signatures running up into the thousands.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Passion Week services closed last Friday night with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. This service was one of deep spirituality in which the large number of participants were graciously blessed. This being Good Friday, in commemoration of the crucifixion of our Lord, the service had a special significance and made it a service of unusual sacredness.

Easter Day services began with a sunrise meeting at 6 o'clock. Those who attended were richly repaid for the self-denial necessary to attend service at this early hour. The Sunday school gave a greatly appreciated Easter program during the regular school hour. Will Bellinger's Sunday school orchestra rendered several special numbers.

Mrs. Candler had a special treat for the members of the Junior Epworth League in the afternoon service, and a large number were present. Miss I. Cowan and Miss Stafford presided at a very interesting and well attended young peoples' meeting in the evening. A class of new members were received into church membership.

The Ladies' Sewing club will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Edward Smith, Antrim street. Roll call will be answered with a quotation from favorite authors. Business meeting at 2:30.

More than 80 persons present at prayer service last week, let us endeavor to have as many this Thursday evening at 7:30.

BARNARD

Mr. and Mrs. James Block and children spent Sunday at the home of Peter Block.

The school entertainment will be given on Friday evening, April 8th. The proceeds will be used for the Near East Relief. The school quilt will be auctioned off for the cause and everyone is requested to help the school in this worthy object.

We are sorry that the report of our last community meeting was so badly mixed up in our last week's news. We advise our readers who are interested to try reading it backwards to get the meaning. Also we want to apologize to our good St. Patrick for the way his name was published.

A New Back for an Old One—How Charlevoix Resident Made a Bad Back Strong

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Charlevoix citizen.

Delay Means Decay

M. J. ATTA, the proud owner of the colonial mansion shown below believes in home beauty and protection. Were he to neglect to keep this property well painted he would be a good many dollars out, in a few years. He knows that the cheapest in the end policy is to paint when the need comes and to use paint that is thoroughly dependable—Heath & Milligan Paint. This insures him fewer gallons to start with and therefore fewer hours of labor to apply the paint—more years of wear, and an easy surface to repaint. If you own good property that needs paint, don't delay. Decay won't wait for paint to get cheaper and look for the Heath & Milligan sign when you do buy. It's your guide—to a job which will prove to be the cheapest in the end.

"UNCLE GEORGE" PRAISES HIS HOME TOWN

Pays Tribute to Charlevoix for Having Clean Rooms for Its Summer Tourists

Under the heading, "Uncle George's Sunday Morning Sermon," published in the Daytona Daily News, our former citizen, George H. VenPelt, has a lot to say about Charlevoix, besides giving Daytona a lot of good advice. He tells them what their city needs and what is due the tourists. The following excerpts are from his Sunday morning sermon:

"You may possibly think that I am meddling. Well, perhaps I am; for that's what the dirt and soft road builders used to say of me when I first began to talk concrete roads; but now they applaud me for it and say that I was right, and I surely feel that I am also right on the room question. In the early days we had the same experience in Charlevoix, Michigan, but little by little, and one by one, the householders began to see the advantage of having their rooms nice, sweet and clean with good up-to-date bath tubs, so that now Charlevoix has a national reputation of being the best little tourist city in America, and has more bath tubs in it than any other city of its size in the country. Tourists come there from all parts of the west and southwest; they pay good prices for such rooms and many of them rent and re-rent the same rooms year after year and eventually purchase them.

"One of the best things that I know of, aside from more up-to-date fire-proof hotels, fire-proof apartment houses such as they have in California, is a farming community. I wish to call the attention of capitalists to it, for it takes a good deal of time and money to clean up the land here. Many northern farmers express themselves in this way. You see, I haven't the money to buy land and build a house and wait a couple of years for a crop; it would also be very lonesome for me to go out there alone. But if some rich man would clear up the land and build a dozen houses or so, enough to make a little home-like colony, a lot of us would be glad to buy. We could pay from forty to sixty per cent down and mortgage the balance which we could pay off in equal yearly payments of three to five years. This would make a safe investment for them and easy for us.

A man said to me the other day, "You old fool, you ought to stop raring and tearing around and accusing and abominating at your time of life. It is not dignified, and you should be making your peace with God." I replied, "How old are you?" His answer was, "Forty-one." "Well," I said, "don't worry about me; you better begin yourself, for there are a great many more men who die at forty-one than at 81." He said, "Horse on me."

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The Methodist and Sunday school boards of the Methodist Episcopal church met last Monday evening in regular monthly session. All reports indicated the general work of the church in an encouraging condition. The trustees were authorized to proceed with the plans for the renovation of the interior of the auditorium in the immediate future. Mr. Edward Shapton was elected a delegate to a conference of laymen and ministers which is to convene in Traverse City the 25th of the present month. Bishop Henderson will preside. After the business session refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

The beautiful spring day brought out an unusually large congregation to the Barnard Methodist church last Sunday afternoon.

Members of the church choir who were away for Easter vacation have returned and the choir will be fully represented next Sunday morning.

Prayer meetings continue to be well attended, you are cordially invited every Thursday evening at 7:30.

CHARLEVOIX DEFEATED IN SPEEDY CONTEST

Losses to Fast Milan Quintette by Score of 15 to 11

Michigan's third annual interscholastic basketball tournament which was held in the Waterman gymnasium resulted in the defeat of Charlevoix in the preliminary game Thursday night, March 31st. The Milan-Charlevoix game was bitterly contested from whistle to whistle. Milan drew first blood when one of their players dropped one from the foul line. The game was fast during the first half; at the end of which period the score stood Milan 7, Charlevoix 5. The local boys fought hard the second half but were unable to stop the Milan offense. Captain Hammet put up a fine defense.

Those from Charlevoix who witnessed the game report that our boys were badly off from rather than being outclassed in any way. Had they showed the same class as in the Petoskey tournament the story would have been different. A good instance of what "might have been" was seen in the St. Joseph-Onaway contest. St. Joe, winners and state Class B champions, were lead by Onaway through three-quarters of the game and only by the rarest of good fortune were able to defeat them 16 to 13. It will be remembered that Charlevoix defeated Onaway 28-6 in the Petoskey tournament.

CABARET SUPPER GREAT SUCCESS

SUPPER WAS SERVED TO OVER 300 PEOPLE

The Special Entertainment Provided Made a Hit with Those Present—Dance Enjoyed

The Cabaret Supper given by Leslie Shapton Post of the American Legion last Friday evening was a success from start to finish. The supper was served promptly at 6:30 o'clock to about 350 diners and every table was taken, many being obliged to wait for second and third tables. The food was all that could be desired by even the most critical.

Entertainment began as soon as the crowd could be served and each number was greeted by loud applause and frequent calls for encores. The orchestra, composed of local talent, with the exception of Emma Lou Hoyt of East Jordan, furnished the music for those wishing to dance between numbers.

The duet with Alice Smith as a Holland youth, who aspires to the hand of his fair fraulein (Helen Mason) and sings, "I want a Girl," was well received as was also the Charlevoix Beauty Chorus, composed of the Misses Helen Mason, Margery Myers, Hilda Myers, Maxine Hansen, Kathryn Gaskin and Eleanor Finucan, supporting Ralph Price in his "Dream Girl" song.

The Legion was fortunate in securing the famous Hartmans, who gave an exhibition dance of the waltz, fox-trot and one step. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman came here from East Jordan without compensation for the benefit of the local post.

At nine-thirty the tables were removed and the floor cleared for dancing which continued until 11:30.

QUIETLY MARRIED MONDAY EVENING

Young People of Hayes Township Surprise Friends

Fred W. Willis and Alice R. Burns surprised their friends by being quietly married at Boyne City Monday evening, March 28th, by the Rev. R. W. Merrill of the Methodist church.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Cora Willis and one of Hayes' prosperous farmers. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burns and one of the county's rural teachers. They will reside on the farm of the groom after May 1st.

Entertained Thursday Afternoon Mrs. Archie Livingston entertained at her home Thursday afternoon of last week in honor of Mrs. Edward Edwards, an Easter Bride. A dainty luncheon was served at 4 o'clock to about thirty people. Out of town guests were the Misses Ethel Zipp and Beryl Niles of Petoskey.

SOLDIERS' BONUS ISSUE CARRIES

RETURNS SHOW 3 TO 1 IN ITS FAVOR

Vote in City on Amendment 234 For and 80 Against—Results From Townships

The soldiers' bonus plan, the most important state wide issue of Monday's election, carried in the state by a three to one majority. In the city the vote was 234 to 80, a majority of 154 in favor of the amendment.

On the city ticket, the vote cast was about the smallest in years, but 292 votes being cast for mayor, while on the amendment, 314 votes were cast in the three wards. The vote of the three wards on the amendment were as follows:

First Ward, yes 41; no 19.
Second Ward, yes 125; no 28.
Third Ward, yes 68; no 33.

In the state as well as in the city, the republican ticket carried, the democrats not even voting a single ticket of their own party.

In the townships, Eveline, Norwood, Hayes and Charlevoix gave the amendment a nice majority, while in Marion the proposition lost by 20 votes. Indications are that practically every other township will give the amendment a small majority.

In Marion township all candidates on Ticket No. 1 were elected with the exception of that of supervisor, Elmer Ingalls, whose name headed Ticket No. 2 defeating Fred Mason by a vote of 112 to 48.

Ticket No. 1 won out in Eveline township with the exception of highway commissioner, Joseph Kemp of Ticket No. 2 defeating William Gaunt of Ticket No. 1.

In Hayes township the ticket headed Township Caucus won to a man. In Norwood and Charlevoix townships but one ticket was voted on.

Banks township had two tickets but Ticket No. 1 won over their opponent by startling majorities. This township also gave the soldier amendment a majority of 29.

The vote cast throughout the state was small, and the returns came in slow and were almost impossible to obtain.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

A preliminary declamation contest to determine Charlevoix's representative in the sub-district, was held in the high school assembly, Thursday morning, March 24th. The contest was open to freshmen and sophomores. First place was accorded to the declamation entitled, "A Soldier of the Empire," given by Kathryn Gaskin. Second, "The Man in the Shadow," by Persis VanStreek and third, "Dessaint L'Ouverture," by Marjorie Brown. The judges were Rev. Henry Candler, Rev. James Smith, and Attorney A. L. Fitch. The excellent work of the contestants gave evidence of splendid effort on the part of the students and the coach.

Charlevoix is now a member of the State Oratorical association.

The various northern Michigan schools who are members of this association will hold a contest at Harbor Springs, Friday, April 8th, to determine who shall represent the sub-district in the district contest. The students of Charlevoix high school feel sure that their representative, Kathryn Gaskin, will carry first place in the sub-district contest. One member entered the oratorical contest. Kathryn Fitch who has written a splendid oration entitled, "The Wandering Jew." Judging by the ability that Kathryn has previously shown as a debater, we feel confident that Charlevoix should also receive the honor of first place in the oratorical contest.

A birthday and Easter party was held in the kindergarten room Friday afternoon, it being the birthday of Janet Livingston.

Audrey Staley, pupil of Miss Jarvis, has been transferred to the north side school.

Laverne Heise has been promoted to the sixth grade.

Caroline Hall substituted for Miss McNeil of the south side school, Monday afternoon.

JOHN SMITH A YOUNG HERO

RESCUES TOM FINUCAN FROM DROWNING

Hangs by His Toes From Dock Timbers and Lifts Drowning Lad to Safety

Tom Finucan, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Finucan, had a narrow escape from drowning Tuesday afternoon about 4:30, when he stepped on a loose board and fell into the water off the dock near the coal docks, just opposite the Lansing Shoal lightship.

Tom was accompanied by John Smith, son of Rev. and Mrs. James Smith, the boys having obtained permission from their parents to visit the dock in quest of minnows. We have been told that John warned Tom about the loose board, but in running about the dock he forgot the warning with the result that when he stepped upon it, he went through with a splash into the water.

Young Smith, without any hesitation ran to his rescue, and by hanging by his toes from the dock, grabbed his little friend just as he came up the second time. The hold he had, however, was such that he could not lift him onto the dock, and he again let Tom down into the water and regained a hold in such a manner that by exerting every ounce of strength, he lifted the almost unconscious boy to the dock and safety.

Then he removed his shoes, a part of his clothing and carried him onto the lightship where he was taken into the engine room where it was warm. Later young Finucan was removed to this home, and this morning shows no ill effects from his narrow escape from drowning.

Young Smith, however, did not escape so easily, for in some manner his leg was badly bruised and in places the flesh is badly torn from contact with the dock timbers when hanging down to reach the drowning boy.

His act in rescuing the little Finucan boy is one to be commended—an incident that is deserving of the very highest praise. In the eyes of the rescuer boy he is a hero—and he is in every sense of the word. This is the second rescue he has made along the same lines and Carnegie medals have been bestowed for acts of bravery of lesser importance than this.

MANY ATTEND MASONIC MEETING

Local Fraternity Entertains Many Visitors

It is estimated that over fifty visitors from Boyne City and East Jordan attended the regular meeting of Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A. M. Tuesday evening.

The work of the third degree occupied a greater portion of the evening, after which a fine supper was served. Every seat in the lodge room was filled and one of the best meetings since its organization is reported.

BROUGHT HOME FROM ARMY HOSPITAL

Gerald Parsons Now in Charlevoix Hospital

Gerald Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parsons, who has been in the U. S. Government Health hospital in Chicago for some months, was removed last week and brought to this city Friday by Dr. Wm. Thorn, one of its executive officers, and a private nurse, and placed in the Charlevoix hospital, where he will be given special treatment. Gerald is one of the unfortunate young men who answered the call in the late World War, and is now suffering from the effects of inoculation, given at the training camp where he was stationed.

His condition at present is very serious, and of such a nature that he was given a special escort from the army hospital to his present place of confinement.

Don't start running your car without having it gone over and put into shape. It will cost more later. Bring it in. Benj. Brown. 1411

THE LICENSING OF ANGLERS

A PRACTICAL PLAN SHOULD BE ADOPTED

Good Fishing is One of the Best Advantages a State can Have—Urges Its Passage

Taxing the fishermen and fishermen a dollar each after they have reached the age of 18, for fishing in Michigan waters, is a practical plan for securing the money with which to make the fishing better than it now is, and this is something every fisherman desires. Always the angler wants better fishing, and better fishing will only come with the more liberal stocking of the waters with fish-fry. The automobiles bring many more fishers to the streams than used to go before this ready means of conveyance was invented. It's an easy matter now to make a trip of 50 miles before breakfast to reach a certain place you think has fish waiting for you. Good roads and fast cars are a combination that's particularly hard on fish, and the only way to keep fishing good is to put more little fish in lakes and streams. And we can't put in more little fish unless we can hatch them, and we can't hatch them in sufficient numbers with our present number of hatcheries.

Good fishing is one of the best advantages a state can have and with our great wealth of water, we ought to be the best fishing state in the Union. And the fish of our cool waters are the very finest in flavor and the gamiest to catch. Any fish caught here is good to eat. More fish would build up our food supply and it's good food. It's good fun to catch it.

The dollar we would be asked to pay for the privilege of fishing would give the state fish commission all the money it would need for providing all the fry we needed. It would be money easily raised, a burden to no one.

The dollar wouldn't buy one good fish line, or a tip for your rod, or a good bait box, or two pounds of butter or more than six loaves of bread, or more than two pounds of coffee, or one-eighth pint of booze.

It would be no tax at all worth speaking about and every good fisher would be glad to pay it. By all means let it be voted that we may get busy making the fishing better.

DESPITE NUMEROUS OTHER SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Charlevoix Association of Commerce Goes on Record as Favoring Anglers' License Law

Despite numerous other attractions and social functions, the attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce last Friday evening was beyond all expectations, and the meeting resulted in much good for all.

The O. E. S. ladies served an excellent supper at the usual hour, for which they won the appreciation of those who so thoroughly enjoyed it.

After the tables had been cleared, President E. B. Ward called the meeting to order and the regular outline business was transacted. Several committee reports were made which showed that the men in charge were thoroughly alive and were producing good results.

A. L. Fitch chairman of publicity, presented a resolution favoring the passage of what is known as the Anglers' License bill now before the state law makers at Lansing. This bill calls for a license of $1.00 for all above the age of 18 years who desire to fish in the lakes and streams of Michigan. Owners of land are to be permitted to fish on their own property without payment of the license fee, as are also those under the age of 18 years.

The object of the bill is to raise sufficient funds to maintain a hatchery in each county, the $1.00 license fee amounting to something like $500,000 a year. This money will be expended through the state game commission for providing means of restocking streams and lakes, which will ultimately result in better fishing everywhere. Residents who enjoy this pleasure are asked to pay for their pleasure rather than spread a general tax on all residents of the state. The bill should receive the support of every sportsman in the state.

The Boyne City Chamber of Commerce was represented by eleven, the following gentlemen: W. F. Tindall, J. H. Parker, L. R. Barnes, J. E. Anstett, F. O. Barden, C. W. Wing, A. E. Watson, Alex Heller, E. Ormsby, Ray Scott, Frank Thompson, who were called upon during the evening for short talks. Many topics were discussed during the evening which proved of interest to all, and by this exchange of ideas matters of importance to Charlevoix and vicinity will be brought about.

MAJESTIC THEATER BEING REMODELED

Will Be Opened to General Public First of July

On Wednesday of last week work was started on the Majestic Theater recently purchased by L. A. Moon, which when complete will place this popular play house in splendid condition for the summer season.

Considerable remodeling will be done besides redecorating the interior, and when completed will be in as good condition as can be made.

Myron D. Corey Married

The following, clipped from the Gratiot County Herald, will be of interest to Charlevoix friends of Mr. Corey, who will be remembered here. For a number of years Myron was agent for the Grand Rapids Press and News.

"Miss Margaret Schieher of Detroit" and Myron Corey of Pompeii were quietly married Saturday by Elder C. E. Reeves at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kennett. They plan to locate in Ithaca but for the present will reside in Pompeii."

Remind Him of Birthday

About forty gathered at the home of Sam Alward in Norwood last Thursday evening to remind him of his birthday. The time was spent in visiting, singing and listening to Victrola music after which a bountiful pot-luck was served and the guests departed wishing Sam many more happy birthdays.

50,000 CHEVROLET "Four-Nineties"

The production schedule of Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" Models for the seven months from January 1st to July 31st, is fifty-thousands cars.

To each retail purchaser of a new Model "Four-Ninety" car at present list prices, we will make the following cash payments:—"Four-Ninety" Touring $70; "Four-Ninety" Roadster $70; "Four-Ninety" Light Delivery Wagon $70; "Four-Ninety" Chassis $70; "Four-Ninety" Coupe $100; "Four-Ninety" Sedan $100; provided the Chevrolet Motor Companies manufacture and sell fifty thousand new Chevrolet Model "Four-Ninety" cars between January 1st, 1921, and July 31st, 1921. This offer to be subject to the terms set forth in full in the refund certificate which will be delivered to each purchaser.

This refund represents savings in material prices under present readjusted conditions, which savings can be made provided Chevrolet factories continue to operate on the estimated average quantity production basis.

It is in keeping with the Chevrolet policy to make the price of its product as low as quality manufacture on a large scale will permit. It is in keeping with the Chevrolet purpose of providing quick, convenient, economical transportation at a cost within reach of those who want an automobile.

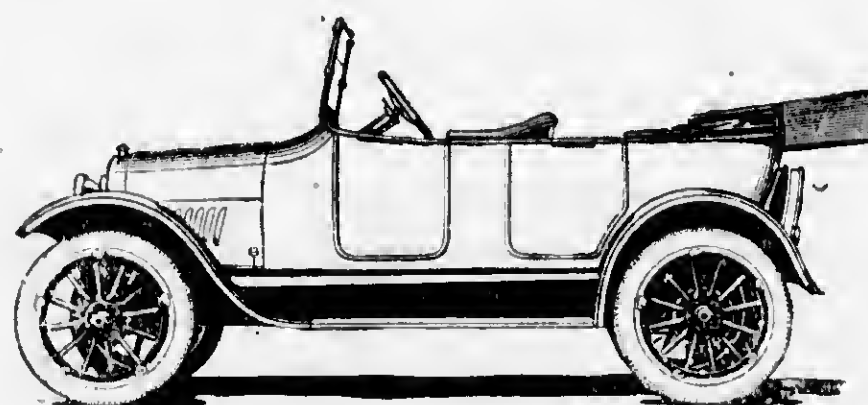

Fifty thousand cars is the minimum which Chevrolet engineers estimate will secure substantial savings in cost in manufacture. These savings will be passed on to the purchasers of these fifty thousand cars.

Each purchaser of a Model "Four-Ninety" will receive a certificate from his dealer, or from the Chevrolet retail store manager. This certificate will be redeemed as indicated on its face.

The entire plan is a straightforward business proposition presented in a straightforward way. Whether you are in the market for a new car or not, you must not fail to learn the details of this unique and simple plan. It offers to every man of sound business judgement an opportunity to take advantage of the best automobile value obtainable.

Retail purchasers of Model "Four-Ninety" cars since October 1st, 1920, will receive their certificates through their local dealers or retail stores on application to them.

Production results will be announced not later than August 10th, 1921. Certificates will be subject to payment according to their terms, thereafter, up to September 15th, 1921.

Chevrolet Model "Four-Ninety" Touring Car, $820

Additional Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" Models: Roadsters $795; Sedan $1,375; Coupe $1,325; Light Delivery Wagon (1 Seat) $820; Chassis $770. Trucks on the floor for demonstration. All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan.

STATE FARM BUREAU NOTES

Published for the Benefit of Charlevoix County Farmers

Farmer members of the Michigan law-makers. Another of these bills which have passed both branches of the Legislature is that providing for the creation of an Industrial and Labor Department to take over the duties of the present Industrial Accident Board, the Department of Labor, the State Labor Commission, and the Industrial Relations Commission. The Governor has signed the State Department of Conservation bill.

Governor Groesbeck's corporation tax bill introduced in the Senate by Sen. Vendenboom passed that body 27-1. It was rushed to the House in hopes that body would hasten action to secure a source of revenue to immediately replenish the state's depleted treasury.

Rep. Hart's capital punishment bill failed a second time in the House. It lacked two votes of securing the necessary 51 and lost, 49 yeas and 48 nays.

One of the best examples of the fact that even an august body like the House often has a rather hazy idea of just what is involved in the matter under consideration occurred in the House on Wednesday. A bill to allow cities of 50,000 population or over to appropriate a sum not exceeding $500 for the observance of Memorial Day lost out by two votes but was reconsidered and after a little explanation, passed 72-2.

Appropriation bills are being slashed lustily. Committees of both Houses are holding long evening sessions and present indications are that this year's appropriations will be kept down to those of last year.

The administration's policy of refusing practically all requests for new buildings is being followed closely.

An appropriation of $1,200,000 for 1921 and $1,500,000 for each year thereafter to pay the principal and interest on the highway bonds passed the House.

Provision for an eight-hour day with pay for overtime was snowed under in the House after a stormy session 85-8. An amendment to include farm labor under the provisions of bill was adopted. Its inclusion probably assisted in the defeat of the bill.

More stringent regulation of loan-sharks is provided by the passage of Rep. Liddy's uniform small loan bill. As introduced the bill allowed an interest rate of 3 1-2 per cent per month, but prohibited all fees and indirect extra charges. After an amendment to reduce the rate from 3 1-2 per cent to 1 1-2 per cent per month, Rep. Liddy sought to lay it on the table. His motion did not prevail and the bill passed as amended.

The first gun in the big fight which Wayne is preparing for greater representation in the legislature was fired when Rep. Liddy of Detroit introduced a constitutional amendment to remove the constitutional provision which provides that every county having more than half the number of voters which would naturally be entitled to one representative in the House, should have a representative of its own. The proposed constitutional amendment would allow for the grouping of two or more small counties into one representative district, thus allowing Wayne to secure greater representation. According to the present population of Michigan there should be one member in the Lower House for each 36,666 people. This would allow Wayne 31 or 32 representatives instead of 14 as at present.

Greater concentration of the powers and duties relative to pardons and paroles is proposed in a bill introduced by Sen. Phillips, providing for the abolition of the present Advisory Board in the matter of pardons and for the creation of the office of Commissioner of Pardons and Paroles. The Commissioner would keep the records, study the cases and make recommendations to the Governor, but the actual power to grant pardons and paroles would vest entirely with the Governor.

The proposal for the collection of agricultural statistics by the township supervisors at the time of making their annual assessments in the spring, as favored by the state farm bureau, was reported favorably to the House Committee on Agriculture while the bill to repeal the law requiring threshermen to send in figures regarding grain threshed by them has passed the House and is being favorably considered by the Senate.

Eradication of bovine tuberculosis would be promoted by the passage of a bill introduced by Rep. Read. This bill provides in part, "It shall be unlawful to offer any cattle at public sale for breeding, or dairy purposes except when the cattle shall have been subjected to the tuberculin test not more than 60 days prior to the date of such sale by a veterinarian approved by the state or federal government, and found to be free from any contagious or infectious disease. It shall be unlawful to offer any cattle at any public fair in this state for exhibition purposes except when a certificate of health, including the tuberculin test, for each head of cattle to be exhibited shall be attached to the entry blank and filed with the secretary of the fair."

The Community Council Commission, which has been the butt of considerable investigation and agitation during the present legislative session, will be abolished if the Senate agrees to a bill passed unanimously by the House to repeal the law which created this commission.

Among the bills which have passed the House during the week are Sen. Baker's bill to provide an optional primary election system for the nomination of township officers; Rep. Burnham's bill repealing the several laws authorizing the payment of bounties on noxious animals and birds; and Rep. J. E. Warner's bill limiting loads on the public highways to 12 tons and prohibiting any truck to carry a greater load than its indicated capacity, except in cases of trucks rated at two tons or less when equipped with pneumatic tires.

The Ford Coupe

More and more this fine enclosed car for two—but it will carry three—is growing in popular demand. Strongly built, the body rests upon that marvelous Ford chassis. It brings to its owner every modern-day convenience: easy riding—while sliding plate glass windows make it breezy and cool in hot weather; dust proof and water proof when the windows are closed—it is cozy and comfortable in inclement and wintry weather. Then there is the durability of the car, coupled with the low economy of first cost and the saving of money in operating expense. Behind it, and every other Ford car, is that unsurpassed "Ford After-Service" which is given by the army of Ford dealers scattered over the country, together with some 15,000 authorized garages, until the Ford owner is always within immediate touch of dependable, reliable service, where the genuine made Ford parts, and the genuine Ford methods are applied in the care of this car.

The Ford Coupe administers to a great variety of owners from the physician to the traveling man, from the engineer to the architect, and then for a pleasure car for two it is unbeatable. We ask your early order if you want a Ford Coupe, because we want to make a delivery as quickly as we can but we must have a little time. Come in and talk it over.

Drift ice driven to the shore of Mullet lake from Dodge point to the hotel is piled 35 feet high; has crushed several ice boats, damaged cottages and toppled over trees, according to a report given the Daily Tribune Monday. Only the fact the ice is honeycombed and not solid saved the cottages along the shore it was stated. The drifting ice has been driven in against the line of cottages on the shore and is now lodged against them, it is said. Several large trees were crushed by the impact of the wind-driven ice pack, and ice boats caught on the lake when Sunday's wind began to blow were totally destroyed it is stated.

at a glance to be spread over heavy foundations of limestone and to contain quantities of lime in the soil. Land of this description according to Mr. Smith, is capable of yielding copious crops. Much of it, never developed, bears heavy yields of wild clover. The descriptive title "Cloverland" as applied to the northern section of the state, is literally true, and could have been derived from scientific analysis as easily as from actual farming activities, Mr. Smith said.

Soil Analysis Also

According to Mr. Leverett's data which it was explained was secured in a reconnaissance survey which will undoubtedly be supplemented by a detailed analysis of the soils by the M. A. C. soils division, there are 7,153.8 square miles of good farm land in Michigan; 2,311 square miles of swamp land, much of which can be reclaimed and made into crop-bearing tracts, and 5,879.6 square miles of poor sandy land.

How much of this poor sandy land has already been sold for farming land is unknown. Mr. Smith estimates that it totals thousands of acres.

The poor land runs in weird contours the length and breadth of the state. It is confined to no one section, and few sections escape its presence. But the fact remains, according to the maps, that untillable lands are in a deplorable minority as compared to the good tracts and that there is room for much development and occupation without exploitation of worthless acreage.

Includes All Counties

As tentatively outlined two series of maps will be issued. One will consist of county maps, bound in sets and showing in colors the good and bad land in each county. Attached will be detailed information as to the chemical nature and soil analysis of the acreage. With these maps as reference, Mr. Smith believes, it will be impossible for anyone thinking of settling in Michigan to go far wrong if they care to take the trouble of looking up on the soil map the property they have in mind. The other series of maps would be comprehensive state soil guides. The sections most promising for agriculture development would be blocked off in distinctive colors. These maps in the opinion of Mr. Smith would be of inestimable value to the person seeking to settle in Michigan, but who is in doubt as to the best part of the state for his purpose, or to one who has been approached with a farm property proposition, and who because of unfamiliarity with the state or for other reasons, is not fully aware of just what or where his property will be if he buys.

Means Better Farming

The geological survey upon which the maps are to be based, are, according to Mr. Smith, the means to just one end—better farming in Michigan. Working in co-operation with the soils division of the Michigan Agriculture College, the geologists designate tracts of land, that judging from their basic formations and scientific structures, are good farm lands. The more intensive analysis of the soil itself is then taken up by the college soils division. Soils division surveys have already been made in a number of sections in the state. It is believed that three years will be required for the M. A. C. experts to complete a detailed survey to supplement the geological maps, but from the work already done it has been determined that the geological maps are exceedingly accurate. Given proper distribution they will do more than any other thing to end the sale of pine plains for farm lands and to settle the vast undeveloped tracts of good land. Mr. Smith predicts.

Bicycle repairing is our specialty. We have a man just for that work. Benj. Brown.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the performance of the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Albert J. Shockley and Ellen A. Shockley to B. P. Wilkinson, of Charlevoix, Michigan, dated April 22nd, 1918, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 23rd day of April, 1918, in liber 54 of mortgages, page 391, containing a power of sale, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice, the sum of Six Hundred Twenty-three dollars and fifty cents, and the sum of One Hundred Nine dollars taxes assessed against the lands described in said mortgage and paid by said mortgagee, and an attorney fee of fifteen dollars provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, the undersigned will on the 14 day of May, A. D. 1921, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the East front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place in which the circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held, sell at public auction to the highest bidder,

This is Battery Inspection Week

Free examination and unbiased advice at Prest-O-Lite Service Stations

DRIVE around to the Prest-O-Lite Service Station this week and let experts give your battery the once-over. Get ready for the motoring season just ahead.

No matter what make your battery is, the service station's job is to examine it and advise you intelligently and honestly. Maybe it doesn't need so much as a drink of distilled water.

Anyhow, it won't cost you a nickel to find out. And now's the time to do that. Some little five-minute adjustment NOW may save you the price of a new battery later.

You are careful to see that your car has gas, oil and water. Don't overlook that equally important element—battery-juice. Every Prest-O-Lite Service Station is a life-extension dispensary for batteries.

When you do need a new battery, you'll be glad to know that Prest-O-Lite is back to pre-war prices and that an allowance will be made on your old battery. Get that examination now.

REGULAR TICKET SWEEP FIELD

EVERY MAN ELECTED BY GOOD MAJORITY.

Soldiers' Bonus Amendment Carried by Majority of 29—The Vote As Cast

Three hundred and thirty-two votes were cast at the township election held last Monday, about sixty per cent of the total registered voters of the township.

One-half of one per cent was voted for the highway improvement fund and one quarter of one per cent for the highway repair fund.

On the state ticket there were 253 Republican, 13 Democrat, 16 Farm Labor, and 2 Prohibition votes east and the soldiers' bonus bill carried by a majority in the township of 29 with 27 ballots left blank.

The result on township officers was somewhat of a surprise. Nearly every one looked for the regular ticket to sweep the field, but not by such an overwhelming majority as was evidenced when the count was finished. The following is the result of the vote with the majorities of the winners:

SHIPPING BOARD JOB FOR SCOTT

SAYS POST HAS BEEN OFFERED TO HIM

Has Just Returned From Inspection of Panama Canal—Find Many Men Employed There

That Frank D. Scott, representative in congress from the Eleventh Michigan district, stands well at the national capital, is evidenced by the following article to the Chicago Tribune and Detroit Free Press:

"Norfolk, Va., April 4—Representative Scott, of Michigan, on arriving here today as a member of the congressional party of 125 which visited the Panama canal zone, said the chairmanship of the shipping board 'was suggested to me before we sailed for Panama.' He refused to confirm or deny the reports that the offer came from President Harding.

"I would prove an unusual appointee," he added, "in that I would endeavor to shorten my tenure of office rather than perpetuate it. I believe the sooner the government gets out of the merchant marine business and allows American ingenuity and initiative to come into its own in the operation of these ships, the better it will be for the country and business."

"The congressional party landed at the Lamberts' Point army supply base and went directly to Washington.

"It was the opinion of a number of congressmen that the canal can be operated more economically than at present. They found 18,000 men employed in the canal zone, with one boss for every five men."

Congressman Scott, who is well and favorably known in Charlevoix, has been state senator for two terms and is now serving his fourth term in congress.

The shipping board appointment is a distinct honor to the Eleventh district congressman.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION FORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

A dozen reputable citizens have testified that a white robin came north with the flight of birds and is making its home on one of the residential streets at Traverse City. The bird has most of the marks of a robin with the slate back and tinges of red on the breast. Its head and wings, however, are pure white. A resident now is communicating with the specimen collectors of the federal biological survey to learn more about this white robin.

It has been reported that a Battle Creek man has been sentenced to 15 years in prison for stealing 13 cents. Bad luck! He should have been patient and waited until the owner accumulated another cent.

When two automobiles crashed in Bay City last Sunday, according to the Tribune, the drivers jumped out simultaneously and approached each other. "I am at fault," one declared "and I'll pay for your expense." "Not on your life," replied the other. "I'm entirely to blame, and I shall pay for the damage." Question: Guess which one of these two drivers carried liability insurance?

AT THE MOVIES

Harry Carey Coming to Palace Saturday and Sunday

Harry Carey, Ace of the western drama, Carol Holloway, a new and unusually beautiful leading woman, a vigorous story of the out-of-doors and the appealing work of a new kiddie-actor are some of the features of "If Only Jim" which will begin its run at the Palace theatre next Saturday.

"If Only Jim" is a Universal photodrama filmed from "Bravver Jim's Baby," a novel by Philip V. Michaels. Jacques Jaccard directed it for the screen.

Coming: A Cosmopolitan Production "April Folly"

Seldom have the piquant talents of Marion Davies been given a more delightful expression on the screen than in "April Folly" the photoplay in which she appears at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday, April 13. The story is from Cythia Stockley's novel of the same name.

The ferry started last Friday. John Seiler is shipping a car of potatoes.

Jas. Wilson made a flying trip to Charlevoix last Saturday morning.

The thousand dollars promised the correspondent has not yet been called for.

Ask Mr. Wilson if he was ever waked up in the night by an April fool joke?

Mrs. Sanderson and son Bruce were visitors at the Mountain school one day last week.

The ladies of the Sunday school greatly enjoyed the thimble party given by Mrs. Seiler.

Last Thursday Mrs. Hosegood received a dispatch from Canada telling of the death of her mother.

Mrs. John Seiler taught the Bible class last Sunday. Next Sunday the class will be taught by Mrs. Jndine.

There was no school Monday and Tuesday on account of the election. Miss Metenif spent her vacation in Charlevoix.

Our Easter exercises were very successful though the storm threatened and kept several people away who intended to come. The children were delighted with the baskets of home-made candy and the egg dolls which the ladies had prepared for them.

COUNTY HAS MODERN JAIL

INSTALLATION OF FIXTURES IS COMPLETED

Will House Twelve Male and Six Female Prisoners—Steam Heated and Well Lighted

If any one in Charlevoix county cares to inspect a modern jail, they can easily do so by paying a visit to the new county structure just completed.

Built of brick and cement, light, airy rooms equipped with every modern convenience, the present structure stands as a monument to the builders and those who planned its construction.

The new building is located on Antrim street, just west of the court house. One can enter from the front or through the side door. The door you enter, however, depends largely for what purpose you are entering. If you are making a social call, you will enter the front door, but if you become a guest at the expense of the county, you will enter through the side door.

The south part of the building, both floors, is occupied by Sheriff Weaver and family. The living rooms are large and commodious, and the sleeping rooms on the second floor are so arranged that little improvement could be made.

The jail proper is at the north end of the building. One enters from the east door into the sheriff's private office. A steel door connects this room with the part occupied by the prisoners. On this floor are six cells three on the east side of the room and three on the west side. Each cell will accommodate two prisoners, and are equipped with two bunks, one above the other, hinged to the wall. Each cell also has a lavatory and toilet. In the corridor outside the cells is a shower bath, both sides being equipped alike.

The second floor, where female prisoners will be kept, is furnished the same as the cells below with the exception of the shower bath, a bath tub in a separate room completing the equipment. The stairway leading to the second floor is of steel construction, and entirely separated by closed doors from the first floor. The locking device is a marvel of ingenuity. Each cell has an individual door which can be closed independent of the other two, or all can be closed from the outside corridor. This is accomplished by the Pauly Interlocking device, operated from the entrance to the corridor.

The entire building is steam-heated, both the living rooms and the jail having hot and cold water, besides a specially constructed ventilating system. The plumbing in the jail is in a small compartment between the cell blocks, and will be kept locked at all times.

Outside the corridor, which occupies the center of the room there is room to walk around the cell blocks. Outside windows are protected by heavy bars of iron besides a steel screen, which is guaranteed to be too proof. The entire equipment is made of the same material. To test its strength, the members of the jail committee and the sheriff were asked to use hacksaws, files, etc., to satisfy themselves that it was an impossibility for a prisoner to escape by this method. This was done with the result that no tool used had any effect on the material used in its construction.

The building was constructed under contract by John Curtis of this city, and the jail equipment furnished by the Pauly Jail Building company of St. Louis, Mo. O. A. Bowman, representing the Pauly company, completed the installation of cells on Friday last. During his stay here he proved himself a very efficient man, and thoroughly instructed the committee and the sheriff in the handling of the many devices and complicated parts of the equipment.

Invest County Money

Members of the county sinking fund commission met at the court house last week in regular session. One transaction for which they deserve commendation was the purchase of $17,000 in federal aid road bonds and $15,000 in county road bonds. The money for the county road bonds will be expended on the East Jordan-Elmira road, giving them ready money to proceed with the work. By this action the county is saved considerable interest and is good, sound business.

WON FIRST PLACE FOR CHARLEVOIX

Miss Kathryn Gaskin Brings Honor to C. H. S.

In the sub-district contest of the Michigan High School Oratorical Association held at Harbor Springs, Friday evening, Kathryn Gaskin won first place for Charlevoix. Contestants came from Traverse City, Boyne City, Cheboygan, Harbor Springs, East Jordan, Kingsley and Charlevoix.

The M. H. S. O. A. was organized over twenty years ago for the purpose of encouraging public speaking in the schools of the state. This year every pupil in this local high school has received instruction in public speaking once a week with the privilege of entering the contests this spring. Hence it is gratifying that after but one year of instruction to have Charlevoix win first place in declamation and tie second place in oratory.

Kathryn Gaskin possesses a well modulated voice and her distinctness of enunciation, her naturalness, together with her inborn oratorical feeling and ability to control an audience easily convinced the judges Friday evening that she was the one to represent the first sub-district in the district contest in May. With Miss Gaskin as the representative Charlevoix has a fine chance of winning the state medal.

Harbor Springs came in second in declamation and our neighbor city East Jordan, third. In oratory, East Jordan won first place and Charlevoix tied with Harbor Springs for second place.

BOY ENDS LIFE WITH SHOT GUN

TIES STRING TO TRIGGER AND FIRES GUN

Lad of Twelve Years Ends His Life in Cellar of Father's Home—Formerly Lived Here

The following article given to the Courier tells of the tragic death of Kermit Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown, who formerly lived on what is known as the Brown farm south of the city. The family left about three years ago for Pontiac, where they have since lived:

"Kermit Brown, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Pontiac, who live on the Franklin Road, about a mile south of the city limits, this morning ended his life by shooting himself in the chest with a shotgun, in the cellar of the family home.

"The mother who heard the report of the gun almost under her feet while she was working in the kitchen hurried to the cellar and found the body of the boy huddled on the floor.

"The officers found that the boy had taken a shotgun belonging to an older brother, put the butt in a chair and the barrel through a rope handle on a box. He had then fastened a string to the trigger, leading it over the arm of the chair and carried to where he sat on another box. He apparently pulled the string, the charge of shot hitting him in the breast. He sat so close to the muzzle of the gun that his clothes were powder burned.

"As near as the officers could learn young Brown had risen with the intention of going to school early but found that his lunch had not been prepared for him as he expected. He spoke to his mother and then went out of the kitchen. His mother thought no more of the matter until she heard the shot in the cellar. The father was away working when the tragedy took place. The boy leaves besides his mother and father five sisters, Mrs. Guy Bunting, Detroit; Mrs. Ben Evans, Pontiac; Mrs. Mable Burkham, Pontiac; and two smaller girls who attend school. There are also two brothers, Harpourt, who works at the Bloomfield Country Club and Hershel."

Pleasant Surprise Party

Twenty friends of Miss Mildred Kline of Chicago who has been spending the past two weeks with her father, Roy Kline of Hayes township, surprised her last Wednesday evening, April 6th. The features of the affair were the dancing and cards which continued until late in the evening when the hostess served dainty refreshments.

HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH TAXES

DO NOT BE UNFAIR TO YOUR SUPERVISOR

He is Human, Usually Fair and of Usual Intelligence—and Gives Faithful Service

From the tone of the following article taken from the Boyne Citizen, someone has been uttering mean remarks concerning the general ability and work of a supervisor. Of course no one in or near Charlevoix would do this, but it might be well to read carefully the suggestions made herein and instead of making the work of our supervisor more difficult, give him a helping hand—or at least call his attention to your grievance before publicly abusing him and the tax making machinery in general.

The article referred to follows: "With the spring election, the tax payer begins to think of the township officers, and especially supervisor. He doesn't mean to be unfair; but he may be very unfair, if he charges up to the supervisor the responsibility for the size of the tax levied last December.

Now the supervisor has about as little to do with the amount of the tax levy as does any citizen who holds no office as we will show.

Take the state tax. That is made out at Lansing, and apportioned to each county. All the supervisors can do is apportion the tax.

Take the highway taxes. The state commissioner apportions for the trunk lines. The Covert law fixes the matter for practically all the others. The supervisor's only part in the deal is to spread the tax. He had nothing to do with creating it.

Take the county taxes. Salaries are fixed and fees are determined by law. Current bills have to be paid. The superintendents of the poor turn in their expense accounts, which have to be paid. The actual expense that goes into county taxes for which the supervisors are directly responsible would not exceed one tenth of one per cent.

Thus we see that the supervisor has nothing to do with the state tax, except to spread it. Nothing to do with the road taxes except to pay the bills that he cannot dodge.

With county taxes he has almost nothing to do. That brings us to the township taxes. If the taxpayer will look at his tax receipt he will discover that school taxes constitute the highest item. The supervisor has nothing to do with them except to spread them. The Covert road taxes are not his matter at all. The town tax which a supervisor has any share in creating is so insignificant that a taxpayer would scarcely notice the difference in his tax, if it were omitted all together.

The things to be considered about a supervisor are these: Is he honest? Is he intelligent enough to do the job right? Is he disposed to be fair? Will he think of the interests of his fellow townsmen as carefully as he does his own? If he is a prudent, careful, kindly man and has these qualities, the longer he serves the better services he can render.

NEW COUNCIL TAKES UP WORK

Newly Elected Officials Take Up Responsibilities

With Monday evening's meeting of the common council Charlevoix's newly elected officials took up the reins of city government with the best wishes of the outgoing members.

After calling the meeting to order and taking care of unfinished business, S. M. Rose, for the past four years mayor of Charlevoix, gave the official gavel to A. A. Swinton, who at once began his duties as mayor. The election resulted in few changes among the aldermen, but one new face appearing, that of A. Bergeon from the second ward. Members of the council by wards are as follows:

First Ward—G. C. Geneit, Charlevoix A. Wood.

Second Ward—A. J. Hamilton, A. Bergeon.

Third Ward—M. A. Levinson, Merritt Miller.

CO. AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION WORK

WILL MEET IN THREE PLACES THIS WEEK

Decide to Push Work in Bovine Tuberculosis Eradication During Next Two Months

The schedule for the Farm Accounting schools will be Thursday, April 14th. Court house, Charlevoix at 1:30 p. m., Friday, April 15 at the high school in East Jordan at 1:30 p. m.; county farm bureau office, Boyne City at 7:30 p. m. These are the places the majority of the answers received indicated would be the most convenient to meet. We are in hopes we will have a full attendance of twenty-five at each school.

The county agent has at his office a small supply of the Hubam sweet clover which was secured from the G. R. & L. experimental farm at Howard City. Several of our farmers are going to try a small acreage of this new plant this year. Great claims are being made for the annual sweet clover for pasture and forage crop and we are glad to see it given a thorough try-out throughout the county. The seed supply we have is for seed production only, and is obtainable for $1.00 per pound. Seed companies are selling the Hubam clover seed as high as $20.00 per pound this spring. The Farm Crops Department of the Michigan Agricultural College are furnishing Charlevoix county with enough seed to plant two acres to try out its value as a forage plant. This seed will be sown at the rate of eight pounds to the acre and one acre will be seeded alone and another with oats. We are sure this new plant will be watched with a great amount of interest throughout the county this year.

The executive committee of the county farm bureau were in session all day, Saturday, April 2nd. Among their important business transactions was the decision to push the work in bovine tuberculosis eradication during the next two months. Already there are some thirty-five herds in the county properly signed up and waiting to be tested. Meetings will be held in each township where the proposition will be thoroughly explained so that every owner of cattle in the county can see the advantages offered by this free testing in co-operation with the state and federal agencies. The executive committee also decided to give its support to the certified seed potato work. Our county can produce as good seed potatoes as are produced anywhere in Michigan and it was thought it should take the place second to none in this work. This will also be explained at the various spring meetings. Samples of Michigan virgin wool suitings are being manufactured for the wool department of the Michigan state farm bureau are now on display at the farm bureau office.

A. T. STEWART TO LEAVE THE CITY

Chosen Superintendent of State Fish Hatcheries

A. T. Stewart, for the past four years a resident of Charlevoix and foreman of the local government fish hatchery, has accepted the position offered him as superintendent of the fish hatcheries for the state of Michigan, and will leave Charlevoix about the first of May.

Mr. Stewart has been in the employ of the government during the past 28 years and prior to his leaving permanently here four years ago, was a frequent caller. He came here from Northville where he was engaged in similar work.

During his residence here Mr. Stewart has not only made a host of friends, but under his efficient management the local hatchery has proved a success in every way, and Charlevoix loses a man of ability to the extent that on frequent occasions his services has been sought elsewhere.

He assumes the position of state superintendent held for the past 30 years by Seymour Bowers. His headquarters will be in Lansing and while he will move from Charlevoix the exact location is as yet undecided.

If there is a small hole in that good tire you are using, have it repaired at once. It will last twice as long. Benj. Brown. 14tf

END OF SCHOOL YEAR APPROACHES

Promotion Test Questions Ready for Mailing

One of the rural schools has already closed, three more close the third week in April, and many more the first and second weeks in May. The promotion test questions are already printed and are ready for mailing, not to be opened, however, until the last week of school.

Special blanks are being printed for the teachers' final report to the director. The special blank is a copy of every bit of information which the teacher is able to furnish the director which will be of use to him when he is making out the triplicate report to the town clerk. In fact the special blank being printed is an exact copy of the details asked for at the head of the triplicate report blank furnished by the state and it is to be hoped that the work may thus be simplified for the school officers of the county. Fortunately this year the state reports are out early enough so that this step is possible.

Mounting board for the township school day exhibits will be mailed the first of the week to every rural school teacher. Many wish it early so that this part of the work may precede the final examination work.

Manual for judges and for teachers' use on township school day will also be mailed the last of the week. The manuals are similar in content to the 1920 manuals, with only such changes in regulations as have been made necessary by requests and experience.

PROGRAM FOR POMONA GRANGE

TO BE HELD WITH IRONTON ON APRIL 21ST

F. W. Taylor of the State Grange Extension Committee to Talk Afternoon and Evening

The regular meeting of Charlevoix Pomona Grange will be held with Ironton Grange on Thursday, April 21st, a fine program having been prepared for both afternoon and evening sessions.

F. W. Taylor of New Era, member of the State Grange Extension committee, will speak both afternoon and evening. Mr. Taylor is a stranger to the Grangers of Charlevoix county, and is considered to be one of the ablest speakers on the grange committee. The program follows:

Afternoon

Opening song.
Roll Call: To what extent have you been able to use the State Grange Suggestions for farm accounts? What percentage of loss do your accounts show during the past year?

Musical reading: Keep a Smilin' by Sidney Lumley.

Consideration of 1921 programs. Authorization by Pomona.

Address: Milk Substitutes, by Emil Nussan.

Solo: Walter Black.

Address: F. W. Taylor, State Grange Extension committee, New Era.

Selection: Pomona Orchestra.

Recess for supper hour.

Musical in interim.

Evening

Opening song.

Rock of Ages in pantomime by Misses MacNeill.

Address: The Cost of Milk Production by Elmer Ingalls.

Pantomime: That Old Sweetheart of Mine by the "Bnthers."

Address: W. F. Taylor, New Era.

Evening on the Farm in tableau by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Gross.

Question Box conducted by Lee Barnum.

Musical by Ironton Darkey Quartet.

Song by the Grange.

Near Drowning at East Jordan

Three East Jordan high school boys narrowly escaped death Saturday, when their canoe tipped over. Only the prompt action of Clark Little, who jumped into the water and swam to the boys' aid, saved their lives. Iva Nowland was in a serious condition when brought to the shore. The other boys were Ted Malfass and Raymond Love.

The Women's Relief Corps will serve a 15-cent tea at the home of Mrs. Swartz, Thursday, April 21st. Everybody welcome. Members please bring eats. 15tf

PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

DEATH RELIEVES GERALD G. PARSONS FRIDAY

Funeral Held From Father's Home Monday Afternoon—Members of Legion Pall Bearers

Gerald G. Parsons, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parsons, of this city died at the Charlevoix hospital Friday afternoon about five o'clock, after an illness dating almost back to the day of his discharge from the service in December, 1918.

Gerald enlisted and attended the Students Training Camp at Ann Arbor from October 1918 to December of the same year. Shortly after his return home he began to show signs of some peculiar ailment. As time passed and no relief was found, he was taken to Government hospital No. 32, Chicago, where he was given special treatment under the care of the best medical advisors obtainable.

After being there some weeks, he again returned to his home here, but later was taken back, his condition growing worse every day. Two weeks ago his condition became so alarming, he was brought to this city and placed in the Charlevoix hospital, where he remained until his death Friday.

Gerald G. Parsons was born in this city November 6, 1899. He grew to manhood here and received his education in the public schools. He leaves to mourn their loss a father, mother, two sisters, Marjorie and Helen, besides those of the younger set with whom he had associated and grown to manhood, thus forming ties of friendship that only death could terminate.

Funeral services were held from the Parsons home Monday at 10:00 a. m., conducted by Rev. James A. Smith of the Congregational church. Member of the American Legion acted as pall-bearers, and the remains were laid to rest in Brookside cemetery.

The entire community cannot express its sympathy in words to the father, mother and sisters of Gerald who would willingly have made the supreme sacrifice, and whose name will be forever recorded on the roll of honor with those who died in actual service.

MICHIGAN ANIMALS LEAVE FOR FRANCE

State to Furnish 100 Pure Bred Holstein Bulls

The train carrying Michigan's quota of the 1,000 bulls being sent by this country to France reached Charlevoix from the upper peninsula Saturday morning. Two animals were sent out of the upper peninsula and on arrival here ten more were loaded, furnished by the Loeb Farms. On the arrival of the train at Traverse City, two more were added from the Holstein herd at the State hospital farm, and the full quota was to be filled as the train proceeded south to the state line.

The animals will be shipped to the stockyards at Weehauken, N. J. and there transferred to the S. S. Belknap, sailing from that port April 14th.

This action of the Holstein-Friesian association and which has prompted the shipment, was taken several months ago after the return from France of Dudley E. Waters of Grand Rapids, who was sent over to investigate the conditions of the inhabitants of the devastated regions of France.

The animals furnished by the Loeb Farms were those truest to the Holstein type, and included among them were several of the best animals in the Loeb Farm herd.

MARRIED WEDNESDAY IN FLINT

Newly Weds will Make Home on the Ingalls Farm

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride, when Clarence Meggison of Marion township and Miss Sadie Bedell of Flint were united in marriage Wednesday, April 6. Only the immediate members of the family were present.

The young couple arrived in Charlevoix Monday and will make their home on the Ingalls' farm south of town for the summer.

If there is a small hole in that good tire you are using, have it repaired at once. It will last twice as long. Benj. Brown. 14tf

A MODERN AND COMPLETE BANK

DO YOU WORRY?

Most of the things we worry about never happen.

We can think our way out of most troubles.

Then why worry, it only makes matters worse.

Hard work and real constructive thinking will crowd out most of your worries.

An account with the Charlevoix State Savings Bank will help lessen them.

BARNARD

Farmers are busy these days plowing, planting, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph from Minnesota have moved into their new home recently purchased from Isaac Milla.

Mrs. William Monty and daughter Ethel of Flint are visiting Mrs. Monty's mother, Mrs. W. Helms. Mrs. Monty will return in a few days while Ethel intends to remain for the summer.

The school entertainment was a success in every way. The program was exceedingly fine and enjoyed by all. The receipts at the door were $13.10 while the proceeds from the quilt were $18.75. It was first auctioned to the highest bidder, Mr. John Smith getting it at $9.00. He in turn auctioned it off and Howard Gornell put in the highest bid at $5.50. He then sold it again to Mr. Smith who bid $4.25. The lighting expenses were $1.35, making the net proceeds of the evening $30.50.

Miss Robinson wishes to thank the people for their attendance and appreciation and we think many thanks are due her for her efforts in preparing the program also the expense of the quilt and the program which totaled about $5.00 and was donated to the cause by her.

Clarke School Notes

All of the classes are busy doing exhibit work for the contest.

We have four new scholars, Harvey and Julia Rebidew, and Bernard and Chester Blow.

Maggie Boss, who has been absent from school for some time because of illness, is back again.

The sixth grade geography class is making salt relief maps of the continents they have studied.

We are very glad to have a new hell rope. The old one broke last week and for several days we could not use the hell.

Next Friday, April 15th, there will be a "tue" social at the school house. We planned on having a social some time ago, but because of illness in the district it had to be postponed. Ladies bring supper for two. Everybody come and enjoy the evening.

A dollar spent on that tire right now will save you the cost of a new tire in a little while. We will make them almost as good as new. Benj. Brown. 14tf
